THE OLD FASHIONED WAY OF BANKING has been ours for twenty years. No matter what others may do we do not change. The old fashioned way of doing things in banking has always proven to be the best. The old time friendships, the old house, the old memories and the things we love, and the old fashioned bank we never can forget. Some folks change their ideas or methods from the old to the new once in a while, but somehow after a time they wander back to the old home where they feel acquainted, where the hand clasp is firm, the look from the eye is straight, and they feel secure. In these days of speculation and extravagance, of storm and stress, it behoves every man and woman to stop and think. Saving is but a habit, acquire it, and teach it to your children and your friends.

ROCHESTER TRUST & SAFE DEPOSIT CO.

Cor. Exchange and Main Streets — Rochester, N. Y

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are prompt and thorough and will in a very short time strengthen the weakened kidneys and allay trouble arising from inflammation of the bladder. They are recommended everywhere. Sold by all druggists.

To Whom It May Concern

Notice—I forbid anyone to trust or harbor my wife on my account.

G. H. Dewolf. Fulton, N. Y., June 9, 1908.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Edna Moore is visiting her sister, Mrs. Loomis, in Oneida.

Mr. N. L. Whittaker drives a handsome new Buick motor car.

The Conley block, Second street, has been greatly improved by a new coat of paint.

Mr. C. M. Haven of Chicago, Ill., is the guest of her father, Mr. Henry Partrick.

The interior of the engine house in First street has been newly painted throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. McKinstry have returned from their southern trip, improved in health.

The Webb Orchestra played at the Hannibal Commencement exercises on Monday evening.

Dr. William A. Hall of Minneapolis, Minn., spent a portion of Thursday with Fulton friends.

Mrs. B. C. Mitchell leaves on July 1, for Bainbridge where she will spend a brief vacation.

Mr. Orville Smith last week attended a birthday party in Hannibal at the home of Miss Katherine VanAuken, the occasion being a brilliant social event.

Mr. Leon Wells, who is a student in Tufts Dental College, Boston, is spending a vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C Giroux last week removed from this city to Utica where they will spend the Summer months with relatives and friends.

Mrs. D. A. Waterman, who is visiting her son, Prof. Frank Waterman, is gaining in health. The daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Waterman has been ill with fever.

Miss Anita Hunter has returned from Wellesley college and will spend the Summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunter.

A thunder storm of unusual severity visited Fulton early on Friday morning. During its progress a bolt of lightening struck the steeple on the First Methodist church, breaking through plastering but without doing serious damage. Several of the residents in the vicinity were badly shocked.

At the annual readjustment of the salaries of postmasters by the Postmaster General, the following changes were made in postoffices in this county: Pulaski is raised from $1700 to $1800, Phoenix from $1600 to $1700 and Sandy Creek is cut from $1100 to $1,000. These changes take effect the first of July.

Florist G. W. Perkins on Thursday endeavored to board the 9. 35 a. m., train for Syracuse at the Rochester street crossing. He was enroute to Phoenix with two boxes of flowers for a funeral and this was the last train he could make. The train was going at a pretty stiff gait and hampered with the packages, Mr. Perkins found it impossible to make the step after he had grasped the the rail, so he threw himself from the moving train, rolling away from the track. The engineer having seen the accident stopped the train, Mr. Perkins boarded it with his packages intact and without receiving serious injury and proceeded to his destination. He says it is an experience he would not like to repeat.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Rodeo, Ga. August 27, 1906.
Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co.,
Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—
In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1904 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.
May you live long and prosper.
Yours very truly,
C. N. CORNELL.

CONFORMS TO NATIONAL PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW

This is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by

Kodol for Dyspepsia.

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Mrs. Lena Dexter is the guest of friends in Central Square and Brewerton.

Mrs. Clayton J. Baker has been spending several days with Mr. Baker's parents in Scriba.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Wellwood of Fulton visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelsey, over Sunday.

Mrs. Melvin Wells is confined to the house by illness. Mrs. Gronmon of Bundyville is caring for her.

Mrs. Lulu Waterman was the guest of Mrs. Charles Hill Sunday.

Mrs. S. L. Baker of Earlville is spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Katherine Kerfien Frye of Buffalo is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Della McCulloch is visiting friends in Syracuse.

Mrs. Putnam of Syracuse recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Mr. Lloyd Herbert Wells and Miss Ethel Annetta Wager of Oswego, which will be solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Wells of this village, Wednesday evening, July 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Garriett Knapp and Mrs. Martha Hirt were at South Scriba Sunday.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

SOUTH GRANBY.

The severe rain storm we had here Sunday the 17th washed away a number of bridges in this section; also Hubert Cook's mill dam and put a number of telephones out of service. We had another storm of thunder and lightning, wind and rain on Friday night.

The L. A. S. held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Carrie Lampman on Wednesday.

Mrs. Tina Stewart entertained the Larkin Soap Club on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kelley are staying at High Banks this week. They are occupying Mr. Harvey McMurchy's cottage while superintending the building of their own.

Mrs. Soupner, Syracuse, visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Howard, over Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Dickinson attended the funeral of Mr. S. Williams in Ira on Wednesday.

Mrs. L. T. Austin spent a couple of days last week at Morseman's lock with her husband.

Mrs. Lottie Cook received a visit from her cousin, Mrs. Mary Simpson, of Watertoo, last week.

Auntie McKaslin entertained nine guests from Oswego on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dickinson visited her people in Ira on Sunday.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

CHURCH NOTES.

Zion Church.

Second Sunday after Trinity, June 28.

Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon, 10.30 a. m.

Evensong and sermon, 7.30 p m.

Sunday school at 12 o'clock.

The Friday evening service will be omitted this week.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

The Bethany class will hold a business meeting Wednesday evening at the church.

Friends and strangers are cordially invited to attend the services.

State Street M. E. Church.

Rev. F. A. Miller, Pastor.

The services of the Junior League have been discontinued until September 1.

The Brotherhood is to hold an outing with their families and friends July 4.

The Crusaders will hold an Ice Cream festival Friday evening on the church lawn.

The official Board will hold an important meeting Thursday evening at 8:30.

Sore Nipples.

Any mother who has had experimay be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the babe to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with best results. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

SOUVENIR

Saturday, June 27

Decorated China PLATE

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

In addition to usual checks with

Spices, Extracts, Chocolate, Cocoa, Teas, Coffees, Etc.

SUGARS AT COST

28 East First Street — Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 — F. A. RUDD, Manager

The Companies that Paid Lossess in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT
WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are All represented in the office of

STREETER & PLATT

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y

Legal Notices

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.

10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D., 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.

10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.

11-9

He Kept Count.

A famous animal trainer was talking to a reporter in New York. He said: "The secret of animal training is gentleness. Nothing sudden or brusque must be done. An unexpected caress may anger an animal more than a kick in the ribs. Sudden, brusque, unexpected things never go, no matter how well they are meant. Once I was showing in Scotland. We trainers supped one night with a Scotch admirer. The old man was the soul of hospitality, but I admit I was rather startled when he leaned toward me and said: "'Stick in, man Conklin, stick in. Yer frien' Coot's twa muffins abeid o' ye.'"

No Need of Suffering from Rheumatism.

It is a mistake to allow any one to suffer from rheumatism, as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes sleep and rest possible. Even in cases of long standing this liniment should be used on account of the relief which it affords. Do not be discouraged until you have given it a trial. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

FULTON BUSINESS

We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

The

1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and, Fridays 8:30 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17, Olcott Beach July 7th.

9-12

Fair Warning.

He—I shall speak to your father tonight. How had I better begin? She—By calling his attention to the statutes governing assault, manslaughter and murder. Papa is so impulsive, you know.

If a man wishes to marry a woman forty years old, should he ask her father for her?—Atchison Globe.

Citizens National Bank
Of Fulton, New York

Pays
Interest on Certificates of Deposit
No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1832, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

Republican Conventions.

The Republican County and District conventions will be held in Pulaski tomorrow. A number of the delegates and candidates will leave for that village this evening.

Mr. F. L. Smith of Phoenix, candidate for Assemblyman, is unopposed and will undoubtedly be nominated by acclamation. He is exceedingly popular with all classes of voters and has been a careful, painstaking official in whatever position of trust he has been placed.

District Attorney W. B. Baker will be nominated with great enthusiasm for County Judge, it is predicted, and Special County Judge Freelon J. Davis will receive practically every vote cast by the many delegations, in his quest for the District Attorneyship. Mr. G. S. Stone is unopposed for Superintendent of the Poor. In the fight for Sheriff strenuous times are predicted, although a careful summary of the delegates gives C. W. Taft the preference. Every candidate will have friends in the convention and but one candidate can win. Not even the most astute student of political affairs can as yet pick the winner. Attorneys B. E. Parkhurst, Albert T. Jennings, and G. M. Fanning are aspirants to the office of County Judge and it is an open fight. It is expected that Hon. M. S. Stowell will be accorded the privilege of naming the Congressional delegates.

Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease.

A powder for swollen, tired, hot, smarting feet. Samples sent FREE. Also Free Sample of the Foot-Ease Sanitary Corn Pad, a new invention. Address, Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y. 7-1

Children's Day in the Presbyterian Church.

Children's Day was fittingly observed last Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church. The pulpit and choir rail were artistically decorated with roses, tulips, ferns, a rich variety of cut flowers and potted plants. At the appointed hour the children of the Junior classes marched into the church from the Sunday School rooms, led by Mr. John Hunter and the infant class, the organ and cornet playing "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the children and audience joining in singing the martial hymn.

The following infants were baptised: William Gilbert Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Morton; Eleanor Watson Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter; Clifford Herbert Irving and Frances Kelly, children of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kelly.

After an interesting program rendered by the scholars, Mr. John Hunter gave the audience some statistics of what the Juniors of the School had accomplished along the line of Christian work during the past year. His address was listened to with rapt attention and was an inspiration to the children of larger growth, who were delighted with the excellent showing made.

Baseball Matters.

The Fulton Baseball association has decided to make good old debts of the association and to that end ten men will be appointed to dispose of benefit tickets at $1 each. The team is at the head of the list and local fans are greatly encouraged. It is alleged that $400 will be necessary to liquidate the present indebtedness.

Excursion Rates to Pine Camp.

Account Military Encampment, the New York Central will sell special excursion tickets Saturdays and Sundays, June 20, 21, 27, 28, July 11 and 12, at very low rates. Good on date of sale only. See Ticket Agents for detailed information. 7-1

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. A. M. Roe.

For The Times:

Polly Catherine (Seelye), wife of the Rev. Austin M. Roe of 510 Academy street, departed this life June 16 at 5:40 p. m. Successive attacks of the grip may be assigned as the prime cause of her death, though the approach to the culmination was gradual. One year ago, she was about her home, assisting in its work and writing regular letters to her sons. Her final day from home was last Thanksgiving, spent at the home of her granddaughter, Mabel, Mrs. Norman Harding, with son, grand and great-grandchildren. After that, the range of her activities narrowed rapidly till for several weeks she hardly left her room.

The daughter of Col. George and Polly Catherine (Shepard) Seelye, she was born in Rose, Wayne Co., August 29, 1827. Her grandparents on both sides were among the earliest settlers in the town, then a part of Wolcott, planting their homes there in 1812 and 1815 respectively. Her girlhood, owing to the early death of her mother, was spent largely with her maternal grandmother, attending the local school and that of the neighboring village of Clyde.

March 2, 1843, she was married to Austin M. Roe, the son of a near neighbor, and with him she journeyed through more than sixty-five years of married life, the most of them in the capacity of a Methodist minister's wife. After many years in the itineracy, they made their home in Fulton, just back of the Falley Seminary structure, whose advantages in its active days had drawn Mr. and Mrs. Roe to Fulton for temporary residence on their children's account.

Always active in temperance and every good work, Mrs. Roe was an ideal help-mate for her husband, when he was preaching, and a valued member of the First M. E. Church since coming to this place. Possessed by rare strength of body and mind, she was a careful mother of the four children who grew to love and revere her. She saw them, long ago, placed in homes of their own; one of them, Addie, as Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, she followed to the tomb in 1893 and her home was for years the vacation resort of loving children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

When the ordeal was over and her wearied body was at rest funeral services were held in her late home Friday, the 19th inst., conducted by the Revs. F. A. Miller and John Richards of the local Methodist churches, the latter giving the address, one admirably adapted to the occasion. Excellent singing was had by Mrs. R. B. Crockett and Mrs. W. F. Haskins, who rendered sympathetically "The Home of the Soul," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God to Thee." While the majority of those present were immediate relatives, neighbors and friends, there were also her nephew, Merwin S. Roe and wife from Syracuse; her sister, Mrs. L. E. McKoon of Rose; her grandson, Edmund Roe Johnson from Milwaukee, and her sons, Charles M. of Johnstown, Penn., and Alfred S. of Worcester, Mass. Accompanied by her sorrowing husband, sister, sons and grandson, the body was borne to her native town for burial. His distant residence in Long Beach, California, prevented the presence of George Mortimer Roe, once a Fulton boy and for more than thirty years a newspaper man in Cincinnati.

This then, in brief, is the life story of one who early learned the principles of the Golden Rule and for more than four score years practised them. She was a faithful wife, the tenderest of mothers, a diligent worker in every sphere of life entered by her, and an obliging neighbor, she seemed to fill to the full the ideal of Christian living

Alfred S. Roe.

Fulton, June 21, '08.

All the good qualities of Ely's Cream Balm, solid, are found in Liquid Cream Balm, which is intended for use in atomizers. That it is a wonderful remedy for Nasal Catarrh is proved by an ever-increasing mass of testimony. It does not dry out nor rasp the tender air-passages. It allays the inflammation and goes straight to the root of the disease. Obstinate old cases have yielded in a few weeks. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Don't go home to supper. Hire a boat at the Manhattan Boat livery, meet wife or sweetheart at the landing and the simplest lunch combined with the magnificent scenery and the cool air, will suffice.

June Weddings

Morgan still has some Plain Gold Band Rings left.

Every bride, every groom, will be pleased with a bridal gift bearing the Morgan imprint on the box. It is a guarantee of quality, style and exclusiveness.

Every purchaser of a bridal gift will find it to his or her advantage to purchase from Morgan. He bought heavily when the market was dull and can offer you unusual price advantages. His stock is very complete. No trouble to show goods. You will be treated courteously whether or not you purchase.

Let us Correct Your Defective Vision.....

Wm. C. Morgan,
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN
113 Cayuga St., Fulton

OVER-STOCKED SALE

On Men's, Young Men's and Boys' Suits

Copyright 1908 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

We find we have entirely too many Suits on hand for this time of the year and these must be reduced within the next ten days. Lots of Pretty Gray Suits, plenty of Fine Blue Serge Suits and enough of Black Suits to suit anyone. These must be reduced and we have cut the prices to fit the times so that you can get your new suit now just as cheap as later and get the benefit of it. Prices just as low as after the Fourth of July.

One lot of Men's Blue Serges and Fancy Gray Suits, strictly all wool, extra well made, nicely trimmed, all new goods that we sold at $20.00. For the next ten days we will sell them at..... $16.50

Every one of our $18.00 Suits, in neat mixtures, hand tailored and nicely trimmed, about 40 suits in this lot, all sizes to fit the tall or short man, the lean or fat man, to go at..... $15.00

Every $16.00 Suit in the store, a lot of neat patterns all this springs goods, will go at..... $12.50

Here's a good chance to buy your Fourth of July Suit at a greatly reduced price. All our goods are made by the leading makers of the country. We carry nothing but the best, and are all guaranteed.

$20 Suits 16.50 $18 Suits $15 $16.00 Suits $12.50

Think of it! We are over-stocked and must sell a lot of these suits. Come and see!

Men's Underwear Bargains

Its hot and you need Warm Weather Underwear. We have all the new styles and all sizes to fit any size, and our prices are lower than the other fellow, quality considered. Here are a few specials.

50c Blue Shirts and Drawers, at..... 39c
B. V. D. Underwear, coat shirts, knee drawers..... 45c
Men's $2.75 Combination Suits, mesh..... $2.25
Men's $2.50 Combination Suits, fine lisles..... $2.15
Men's $2.00 Combination Suits in fine yarns..... $1.75
Men's $1.50 Combination Suits..... $1.39
We carry all sizes, short and long sleeves, and knee lengths
Men's 50c Porosknit Shirt and Drawers, short sleeves..... 39c

Lots of Specials Throughout the Store---Every One a Money Saver

Men's Black Shirts, regular 50c value, reversible collar..... 37c
Boys' 50c Knee Pants, sizes 4 to 16, for only..... 39c
$1.25 Dress Suit Cases, good size..... 95c
25c Shield Bows, neat paterns..... 15c, 2 for 25c
Boys' Blouses, sizes 5, 6 and 7 only, neat patterns, no collar, 50c value, at..... 29c
Men's Colored Work Shirts, good cloth..... 33c
$6.00 Cow-Hide Dress Suit Cases, the best in town..... $4.98

Big Bargains in this Sale on Men's Pants

We have too many pants on hand and we must sell a lot of them and they will sell at these prices.
Men's Pants, $1.75 Value, a lot of neat patterns..... $1.40
Men's Pants, $2.25 value, Havilines, good and strong..... $1.90
Men's Pants, $3.50 value, neat patterns, to go at..... $2.45
A lot of New Spring Weights in Worsteds and cassimeres, regular $4.00 value..... $3.00
All sizes and good goods; you can't go wrong with our line.

See our big line of Boys' Wash Suits and Rompers at 48c, 69c and 98c. Its worth while.

This week only, they won't last long Men's Fine Black Hose, 12 1-2c quality at 9c, or 3 for 25c. They're good.

We carry Trunks and cheaper than any of them.

Large line of Bathing Suits for men and boys, 50c to $1.50

Blue Serge Knickerbocker Pants, all wool $1.50 value at $1.35.

Straw Hats, all the new styles, 55c to $3.00

Our usual guarantee goes with every sale: "Money refunded if goods are not as represented.

S. LIPSKY & SON

"The House That Makes Good"

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

The New Wash Day!

A Motor Driven Washing Machine makes washing easy and drives away Blue Monday. The outfit is simple, always ready, and the power costs only a few cents for a washing. The wash washes itself and does not interfere with other work. Let us show you the benefits.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Miss Mary Dugan left on Saturday for her home in Geneva.

Mr. G. L. Wells has returned from a business trip to New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Gayer have been entertaining Miss Davies of Utica.

Dr. A. L. Hall was in Rochester last week as an expert in a gun shot wound case

Mr. Floyd Newton of Williams College has returned home for the Summer vacation.

Mrs. J. C. Harrington of Washington D. C., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Noah Morriam.

Mrs. George Carner is visiting her brother, Dr. J. A. Anderson, in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bread have been enjoying a visit from Mrs. LeGrande Moore of Auburn.

Mrs. Henry Kendall and Maude Kendall of Old Forge, N. Y., are the guests of Mrs. M. H. Brando.

Miss Ruby Partrick of Chicago will become the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Partrick, next week.

Mrs. Augustus Carhart and daughter of Philadelphia, Pa., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carhart.

Miss Lena B. Merriam is attending Commencement at Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio from which institution of learning a cousin graduates in the class of '08.

Mrs. F. A. Summerville will entertain a number of friends at No. 102 West First street on Thursday evening in farewell to Mrs. F. T. Payne who leaves for California on July 5.

Mrs. E. S. Noblin and daughter, and Miss Francis Forsyth, who have been spending several weeks with Mr and Mrs. W. L. Forsyth of Rochester street, expect to leave next week for Virginia, where they will visit some of the mountain resorts near Mrs. Noblin's home in South Boston, Va.

Manicuring Done.

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 342Y.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Burhans of Utica street are entertaining their uncle and aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Brighton of Utica street are moving to the eastern part of the State.

Mrs. D. E. Spencer and Mrs. Mortimer Rust visited Syracuse friends on Thursday.

Miss Kathrine Gilkey of Broadway broke her arm Saturday while attending a picnic.

Miss Louise VanWagenen is spending the Summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. VanWagenen.

Mr. W. J. Bradford contemplates leaving in the near future for Old Mexico, where he will accept a position.

Miss Ada Boorman has closed her school in Granby and will spend the Summer at her home in this city.

Mr. Ingersol, one of the most popular of the barge canal office force, has been transferred from this city to Rome.

Mrs. W L. Wallace of Syracuse and sister, Mrs. Blakeslee of New York city, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wells of Broadway.

The Crusaders of the State Street Church will hold an ice cream festival on the church lawn, Friday evening, June 26, for the benefit of the piano fund.

Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve on Friday evening entertained the Senior Class and the High school faculty at their home in Fourth street in a very delightful manner.

Mr. A. J. Eller, foreman in the Times office, has purchased this week a six-horse power, two cylinder naphtha launch, "The Truce," for use on the Oswego river.

Mr. Clarence Partrick, son of Mr and Mrs. J. C. Partrick, who has served in the United States navy for three years, is expected to become the guest of his parents the last of this month.

Past Commander Grove H. Dutton and Commander Stephen Buck attended the G. A. R. State Encampment in Buffalo last week as delegates from Post Schenck, G. A. R.

Miss Edna Youngs is slowly convalescing from the painful injuries which she received as the result of a fall two weeks ago. Her physicians are confident of her ultimate recovery.

Letters have been issued to the Gilbert-Nichols Company, as a creditor, on the estate of Frank Keeney, who died in Fulton on June 1, 1905. The estate is valued at $1,000 real and $600 personal.

Mr. F. W. Cole of Fresno, Cal., in remitting for the Times, writes that he and his family are prosperous and enjoying good health. That the weather is fine and crops are above the average in quality and quantity.

A certificate of incorporation of the Fulton Botanical Gardens was filed last week. Its capital stock is $10,000 in shares of 100 each and the company is to cultivate and sell seeds and flowers. The incorporators are Dr. Ira Curtis; and Messrs Arthur G. Gilbert, Edgar J. Penfield, Seymour Shaff and George E. True.

Mayor Quirk has appointed Manager L. Achilli of the Nestle Food plant, a member of the Board of Education from the Third Ward to succeed Richard Carr. Mr. Achilli has been a resident of this city since the location of the Nestle factory in Fulton. He is a man of superior mental attainment and deeply interested in educational affairs.

Mr. Robert B. McCully of New York city spent Saturday with his brother, Mr. W. McCully, in this city. Mr. McCully was en route home from a visit with his son at Union Springs, a visit with his sister in Ohio; the State encampment G. A. R., at Buffalo and a visit with relatives in Oswego. He is enjoying the best of health and spirits. Mrs. McCully will visit in this vicinity in August.

The best Refrigerators at right prices Fulton Hardware Co., 18 South First street.

Miss Edith Barnes is in New York city.

Miss Hazel Gardner continues to gain in health.

Miss Ida Kelley is spending a week with her parents in this city.

Miss Ida Patton has been ill with rheumatism at her home in Mexico.

Mr. John McKay of New York city has been spending some time with Fulton friends.

Mr. Fred Ure has resigned his position in Philips' drug store to accept one with Lee Edgarton.

The city schools have closed and instructors and students will enjoy a well earned vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Snell of Baldwinsville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Gardner of Worth street this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Carney have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Merry who were united in marriage in St. Mary's church, Batava, on June 17.

There is a rise in the egg market, occasioned by the great demand for them by the government for egg powder which is very popular and beneficial for the soldiers in the army.

The members of the Salvation Army Sunday School enjoyed a ride in a carryall on Saturday. The children all carried flags and presented quite a patriotic appearance.

A very young man smoking, evidently, his first cigar, fainted on Friday evening at the corner of First and Cayuga streets about 7.30 o'clock. His identity was not ascertained.

Fulton was visited by the most severe thunder and wind storm of several years on Friday evening. Limbs of trees were broken and the streets were flooded by the rain which almost amounted to a cloud burst. Hail fell in some sections of the city.

Mrs. Ralph Lamson who fell upon a West side walk recently and sustained severe injuries is still far from well, suffering a great deal all of the time with her knee. It is understood that an action will be commenced against the city for damages in the near future.

Meat Dealer John Reynolds alighted from a carriage at his Oneida street market on Friday upon returning from a ball game. He stepped upon a stone and fell, sustaining a fracture of the thigh bone. Mr. Reynolds is a very heavy man and the injury is a painful and serious one.

The School Board has decided to accept bids for the addition to the State street school, subject to the sale of the bonds, which sale has been authorized for that purpose. Gordon A. Wright of Syracuse is the architect. Plans and specifications may be obtained from him.

Dr. H. P. Marsh has erected a cottage this Spring upon his property at the Windrow, adjacent to his other cottage, and at present Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stanley and family are occupying the former cottage and Mrs. Marsh and children the other one. The spot is one of the most delightful on the river.

A slight change has been made in the Lackawanna time table but sufficient to cause one to miss the train unless one is posted. The 11:17 a. m. train is a vestibuled train and runs through to New York city. The former 4:17 p. m. train leaves Fulton at 4:22 now and the last train to Fulton which formerly left at 9 p. m., leaves at 8:55.

Mr. Bert Randall, one of Morrill Brothers most valued employes, enjoys the unique distinction in these days of unrestful conditions between employer and employe, of having spent eighteen years in his present position of trust and responsibility without having once been laid off and with only three weeks loss of time during that interval from illness, marriages or deaths.

Phoenix Register: This week will practically complete the trolley bridge across the river at this place. It has been erected in a remarkably short time and is a model structure of its kind. The paving question has been settled at Baldwinsville and nothing now stands in the way of the Syracuse, Lake Shore and Northern road to this village. It is expected that it will reach this village by September first.

Buy your hat for Fourth of July this week. We have a large line of beautiful trimmed hats, at Young's, Cayuga street.

Complete Protection

Fire Insurance

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Mrs. Fred B. Simons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa B. Sanford of Third street, returned to Albany last week.

Miss Alice Dyer is very ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dyer.

Mr. Victor Lewis hopes to open his cigar store in Cayuga street within ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parker of Wichita, Kan., are spending some time in Fulton.

Miss Ruth Adams will attend the Intercollegiate races at Poughkeepsie on Saturady.

Mr. Wooster has resigned his position as manager of the Fulton Hardware company's store.

Mr. Charles Currier of West Second street drives a superb new Stevens-Duryea automobile.

Next Sunday's Vesper services in the Presbyterian church will be the last evening services held until September.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe have returned to their home in Denver, Col., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howe in this city.

Mrs. Mary J. Harper of Buffalo street was re-elected treasurer of the Department of New York, Ladies of the G. A. R., at their convention in Buffalo last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds, Miss Ida L. Brooks, Miss Mildred Dunham and James Brooks, Jr., have been camping up the river three miles at Bakers Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner McDonough and sons of Washington, D. C., will this week become the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McDonough and Mr. and Mrs. William MacNamara.

Mrs. Clara N. Sawyer of Maine, National President of the Ladies of the G. A. R., and Mrs. Mary E. Hancock of Syracuse visited Mrs. F. E. Waugh Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The Rev. A. C. Sawtelle of Oakryn Pa., a brother of the Rev. W. L. Sawtelle, has accepted a call to the North Presbyterina church, Binghamton, and will commence his pastorate on July 5.

City Chamberlain O. S. Bogardus will leave on Friday, July 3, for New York city from where he will sail on Saturday, July 4, for New Orleans enroute to Dallas, Texas, to the national convention of Elks as a delegate from the local lodge.

The Bethany Class of the First M. E. Church will hold a business meeting Wednesday evening in the church parlors. All the members are requested to be present to assist in making preparations for the picnic Friday.

Mrs. Janet B. Kelley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. Brainard, in Syracuse. Her daughter, Mrs. John C. Peach of Newport News, Va., who has been very ill, is also in Syracuse enroute to Fulton where she will spend the Summer months.

The J. C. O'Brien block in Cayuga street is being completely remodelled and will be ready for occupancy about July 30. It will be occupied by The Theatorium when completed and with the new front it will be an ornament to that section of the street.

The Oswego canal is to close this Wednesday evening for an indefinite period, to permit the contracting company to rebuild their coffer dam. This will seriously interfere with the Battle Island business of rushing pulp logs through during the season.

On Sunday a party of Syracusians occupied Camp Ruth at Phoenix. In the party were Miss Henrietta Brown, aged 17, and Miss Ruth Knox, aged 8. While fishing within thirty feet of each other the girls simultaneously hooked each an 8-pound red fin sucker which they managed to land without difficulty.

The steamer Arudell, plying for years between Charlotte and Alexandria Bay, went upon the rocks near the Bay on Thursday and it has been impossible as yet to release her. There was a small party of passengers on board and considerable freight. The owners are endeavoring to charter another steamer to take care of the traffic this season.

Columbia Circle entertained Mrs. Clara N. Sawyer of Maine, National President of the Ladies of the G. A. R., Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sawyer has been visiting the different departments since last March and has traveled from Maine to California, has visited Texas, Florida and several other southern states. She will visit the Department of New Jersey this week; then home. Columbia Circle feels highly honored by her visit.

Special prices on Refrigerators. Fulton Hardware Co., 18 South First street.

Kodaks from $1.00 up to $75.00. "If it isn't an Eastman, it isn't a Kodak." At Lasher's Book Store.

UNCOMMON SHOE BARGAINS

...AT...

Stranahan & VanBuren's

Having purchased several dozen of Men's Always-Wear-Sample Oxfords at a great sacrifice, we will sell same Well at the following low prices:

One lot of Men's $5.00 Grade at.....$3.50
One lot of Men's $4.00 Grade at.....$3.15
Cut prices on Men's solid every-day working shoes.

WOMEN'S OXFORDS

One lot of Edwin C. Burts Sample Oxfords in tans, $3.50 grade at.....$2.98
One lot of Women's Sample Oxfords, P. J. Harney's make, worth $3.50, sale price.....$2.69
One lot of Women's Patent Colt and Tan Russia Calf Oxfords, at.....$1.98

Don't Pay High Prices for Footwear. Let us fit you.

Stranahan & VanBuren

The Store with a Red Front
116 Oneida Street Fulton

Fourth of July Sale

Commencing with tomorrow, Thursday, morning and continuing for ten days, my FOURTH of JULY SALE will prove an eye opener to men and boys who need Summer garments. Especially in the suit department you will find rare bargains. Here are a few sample prices but the quality must be seen to make the price mean much.

All $10 Suits at $8
All $12 Suits at $10
All $15 Suits at $12
All $16 Suits at $14
All $18 Suits at $15
All $22 Suits at $18

Everything in Summer Underwear, Soft Shirts, Nifty Ties and Belts, Straw Hats, Suit Cases, &c.

at correspondingly low prices. Your money will buy double the quantity at this store during the next ten day. Put us to the test. We will prove our statements.

Harry A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street

The man who wants a safe place to keep his money, a place where he can leave it with the certainty of getting all or any part of it at any time, is an appreciated patron at this Bank.

We do a general commercial banking business—we co-operate with and assist our customers in the up-building of their business.

We are constantly gaining new patrons and shall be pleased to number YOU among them.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, FULTON, N. Y.

What is so rare as a day in June and a trip on the historic Oswego river in one of the light boats or canoes belonging to the Manhattan Boat Livery?

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., June 24, 1908.

Charles J. Putnam, care Hotel Fulton. (2); W. S. Parker, Fulton House; F. W. Perrin, Ben Owens, Route 5; M. C. Meagher, Loren Legalt, R. 4; Rev. Charles Fulton Jones, Charles Howard, Eck Haynes, R. 1; C. F. Franklin, Helen Ryan, Mrs. Charlotte Lockwood, Harry Shaft, N. D. Pickard, Mrs. Deck Worden, R. F. D.; Mrs. W. R. Stewart, R. 2.; Mrs. Matie Stanley, Mount Pleasant, N. Y. William E. Hughes,

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
929 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
Special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 00
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
TEL. 142. Residence over store, No. 46 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870 member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bunions, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblains and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

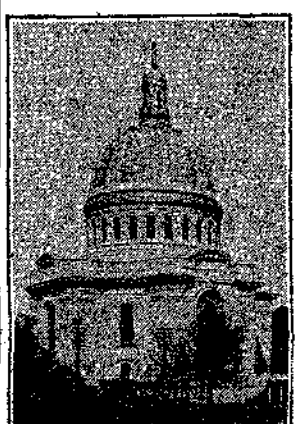
Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the

CLAYTON I. MILLER,
Surrogate

A Reliable Remedy for CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm
is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

HAY FEVER



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

A Splendid Group.

New Buildings of the Naval Academy at Annapolis Which Have Cost the Government Over $10,000,000.

THE dedication of the new chapel of the Naval academy at Annapolis on May 24 marked the practical completion of the group of splendid buildings for the use of the institution whose construction was begun about ten years ago. Nowhere in the world may be seen a collection of structures of this character so impressive and beautiful and so harmonious in architectural design. Uncle Sam has spent over $10,000,000 in providing suitable shelter and equipments for the young men who study at Annapolis about the art of naval warfare, and it is the general opinion that he has obtained the worth of his money. The chapel which was recently set apart for its sacred purpose was built at a cost of over $500,000 and was the last of the group of academy buildings to reach completion with the exception of the power plant, which is nearly finished.

It was when the country was filled with enthusiasm over the new navy and its triumphs in the Spanish war that the reconstruction of the Naval academy was begun. The plans for rebuilding on an enlarged scale had been under consideration for several years, and the actual work commenced about the beginning of 1899. The architectural scheme is the design of the noted New York architect, Ernest Flagg, and has been praised often as combining in an exceptional degree utility and convenience with structural harmony and impressiveness. The buildings are arranged in three general groups. These line three sides of the campus, and the latter is bounded on the fourth side by the Severn river. The main entrance to the academy grounds is on the side opposite to the river, and on this side are grouped the chapel, superintendent's residence and administration building, with a long line of officers' quarters forming a supplementary group. To the right of the campus is Bancroft hall, the midshipmen's quarters, a splendid building with a most imposing entrance. On the other side of the campus is the third group, chief of which are the academic building and that devoted to marine engineering. The chapel is the most elaborate structure in many respects of all those composing the Naval academy group and forms, as it were, the culminating architectural note. It is in the form of a Greek cross and has a dome which rises to a height of 210 feet. Under the chapel is a crypt, and it is here that the remains of John Paul Jones are to be placed. The chapel contains a great organ with more than 2,000 pipes, and over the altar is a window in memory of Admiral David Porter. The chapel as a whole is a memorial to the dead heroes whose names are on the roll of graduates of the academy at Annapolis.

CHAPEL AND ENTRANCE TO BANCROFT HALL.

Bancroft hall is six stories in height and contains 750 suits of two rooms each, thus affording living quarters for 1,500 midshipmen, more than twice as many as could be accommodated at the academy under the old conditions. It also contains a mess hall that will seat 2,000 persons, recreation room, laundries, kitchens, bakeries and other adjuncts similar to those of a big modern hotel. The building cost about $3,500,000 and is accounted without a rival of its kind in the world.

The academic building contains 100 class rooms and is the largest structure in the United States devoted to educational purposes. There are over 100 instructors at Annapolis, and the handsome structures in which they are housed form quite a village of themselves and a most interesting part of the general architectural scheme.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better plan, it does both for curing and preserving the non-intoxicating virtues used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

The Grandest.

"What is the grandest thing in the universe?" asks Victor Hugo. "A storm at sea," he answers and continues, "And what is grander than a storm at sea?" "The unclouded heavens on a starry, moonless night." "And what is grander than these midnight skies?" "The soul of man"—a spectacular climax such as Hugo loved and still, with all its dramatic effects, the picturesque statement of a vast and sublime and mighty truth.

Stomach troubles are very common in the summer time and you should not only be very careful about what you eat just now, but more than this, you should be careful not to allow your stomach to become disordered, and when the stomach goes wrong take Kodol. This is the best known preparation that is offered to the people today for dyspepsia or indigestion or any stomach trouble. Kodol digests all foods. It is pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

Forest of Strange Trees.

The most extraordinary forest in the world occupies a tableland some six miles in width between 300 and 400 feet above the sea near the west coast of Africa. The peculiarity of the trees of this forest is that, though their trunks are as much as four feet in diameter, they attain the height of only one foot. No tree bears more than two leaves, and these attain a length of six and a breadth of two feet. The flowers make gorgeous crimson clusters.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is the one that children like so well to take as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. It is different from the others as it does not constipate, but on the other hand it acts gently yet freely on the bowels and thereby it drives the cold out of the system. It is sold by all druggists.

Missed the Job.

Molly—I just dote on Uncle Sam's brave sailor boys. Cholly—I wath thinking of joining the navy at one time. Molly—Oh, why didn't you? Cholly—Why, I w'ote to the secretary of the navy for a position as admiral, but he did not weply.—Judge.

Literature's Lost Legion.

"There's a legion that never was listed" among books as well as among men; books that have been contemplated, but never written—a literary regiment of wraiths and ghosts.—Book Monthly.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

TAFT'S BIRTHPLACE.

Secretary of War Was Not Born in a Log Cabin.

Secretary Taft was not born in a log cabin, like so many aspirants for the presidency in the past. As his father was a leading citizen of Cincinnati, the Taft home in that city was naturally one of elegance and culture, and the secretary of today was accustomed to the refinements of such a home from youth up. Judge Taft was fat even as a baby, and a smile has always been ready to part his lips. But, though big and jolly, he has never been indolent and lazy, for as a boy at school and as a student at college he kept high up in his classes, and since he has been in the public eye it has been remarked that he has a wonderful capacity for hard work and transacting a multitude of things in a comparatively short time.

SECRETARY WILLIAM H. TAFT AND HIS BIRTHPLACE IN CINCINNATI.

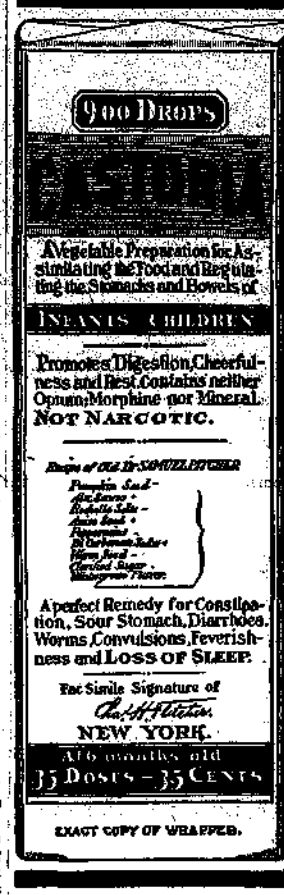
CHARLES P. TAFT.

Brother of War Secretary, Who Has Financed Latter's Campaign.

It is often remarked as a coincidence that William H. Taft, the secretary of war and the best known member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, should be the son of a man who was prominent also as a cabinet member. His father, the late Judge Alphonso Taft, held the identical post the son now holds and was also attorney general of the United States. All this was in the time of President Grant. Believers in heredity find a good deal of support for their theories in the history of the Taft family. The late Alphonso Taft was noted both as a diplomat and as a jurist, and Secretary William H. Taft has won eminence upon the bench, while his qualities as a diplomat have caused him to be spoken of as "the great pacificator" and have led to the suggestion that he should be called secretary of peace instead of secretary of war. The elder Taft handed down to his sons a natural bent toward the legal profession and inculcated in them the idea that it was their duty as well as pleasure to attend Yale college. So it came about that the Taft brothers are Yale men and lawyers. Not all of them have stuck to the law as a profession, however. In fact, the only one of them in active practice now is Henry W. Taft, who is a leading member of the bar of New York state. One of the younger brothers, Horace Dutton Taft, born in 1861, is now an educator, though he studied law and was admitted to the bar. The eldest brother, Charles P. Taft, is best known as an editor, although he has been lawyer and congressman. He was born in Cincinnati in 1843 and, graduating from Yale in 1864, studied law at Columbia, taking his degree from that institution in 1866. Later he continued his studies at Heidelberg university, at Berlin and in Paris. He practiced law in Cincinnati from 1869 to 1879 and in that year bought the Cincinnati Times and a year later consolidated it with the Star. He served in congress from 1895 to 1897 and was a presidential elector in 1904. He married Miss Annie Sinton.

CHARLES P. TAFT.



Charles Taft is fourteen years older than his brother, the secretary of war, and naturally had considerable to do with guiding the latter's footsteps as a young man in the paths which led to eminence in politics and in the legal profession. The elder brother had much to do with Judge Taft's decision to take the field for the presidential nomination also, and, being a man of means, he has spent money freely in promoting the campaign of publicity undertaken to acquaint the country with Secretary Taft's qualities and achievements as a public servant.

A Woman to Fear.

A gentleman who was trying a horse with a view of making a purchase noticed that after driving the animal three miles he pulled pretty hard, requiring a steady rein and constant watching.

"Do you think this is just the horse for a lady to drive?" he asked.

"Well," answered the owner, "I must say I shouldn't want to be the husband of the woman who could drive that horse."—London Scraps.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

REPUBLICAN ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the several towns and wards of Oswego County are requested to send the number of delegates to which such town or ward is entitled to an Assembly District Convention to be held at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, N. Y., at one o'clock p. m. June 25th, 1908, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Congressional and Senatorial Conventions, hereafter to be called; and to nominate a Member of Assembly, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The towns and wards of the county are entitled to representation in said convention as follows: Albion, 6; Amboy, 5; Boylston, 5; Constantia, 9; Granby, 7; Hannibal, 7; Hastings, 8; Mexico, 12; New Haven, 6; Orwell, 5; Oswego, 9; Palermo, 6; Parish, 6; Redfield, 5; Richland, 14; Sandy Creek, 8; Schroeppel, 11; Scriba, 10; Volney, 8; West Monroe, 5; Williamstown, 5; Oswego City—First ward, 8; Second ward, 5; Third ward, 10; Fourth ward, 8; Fifth ward, 5; Sixth ward, 8; Seventh ward, 5; Eighth ward, 5; Fulton—First ward, 5; Second ward, 6; Third ward, 5; Fourth ward, 5; Fifth ward, 6; Sixth ward, 6.

Dated Oswego, N. Y., May 5, 1908.

JOHN T. MOTT,
Chairman District Committee.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of The Kind You Have Always Bought Chas. H. Fletcher.

Republican County Convention.

The Republican electors of the several towns and wards of Oswego county, are requested to send delegates to County Convention hereby called to meet at Betts' Opera House, Pulaski, N. Y., Thursday, June 25, 1908, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for County officers to be supported at the next election and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The towns and wards of the County are entitled to representation in the convention as follows:

Albion, 6; Amboy, 5; Boylston, 5; Constantia, 9; Granby, 7; Hannibal, 7; Hastings, 8; Mexico, 12; New Haven, 6; Orwell, 5; Oswego, 9; Palermo, 6; Parish, 6; Redfield, 5; Richland, 14; Sandy Creek, 8; Schroeppel, 11; Scriba, 10; Volney, 8; West Monroe, 5; Williamstown, 5; Oswego City—First ward, 8; Second ward, 5; Third ward, 10; Fourth ward, 8; Fifth ward, 5; Sixth ward, 8; Seventh ward, 5; Eighth ward, 5; Fulton city, First ward, 5; Second ward, 6; Third ward, 5; Fourth ward, 5; Fifth ward, 6; Sixth ward, 5.

F. E. SWEETLAND,
Chairman.

W. E. LEWIS,
Secretary.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE — NO PLASTER — NO PAIN. The MASON METHOD, indorsed as the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer cures not wait. We give proofs of cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway cor. 54th St., N. Y.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON."
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St., 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 5.10 P. M.
" New York, West 42d St., 5.30 P. M
" New York, Desbrosses St., 6.00 P.M
Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Debrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 4c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. C. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND
5.48 a. m. ..... Train No. 335
8.10 a. m., Daily ..... " 337
11.51 a. m. ..... " 301
3.31 p. m., Daily ..... " 351
6.10 p. m. ..... " 303
10.10 p. m., Daily ..... " 315
SOUTH BOUND
8.04 a. m. ..... Train No. 302
9.30 a. m., Daily ..... " 316
2.14 p. m. ..... " 350
5.09 p. m., Daily ..... " 328
7.04 p. m. ..... " 342
9.34 p. m., Daily ..... " 336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect Jan. 19th, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND
*Chicago Limited for all points West...n 5.47 AM
†Express for Oswego..... 11 00 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego..... 7 20 PM
SOUTH BOUND
†Express for New York..... 7 05 PM
*Limited for New York..... 12 30 "
†Express for Norwich..... 8 22 AM
n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, G. A. PAUL,
Traffic Manager, Traveling Agent,
58 Beaver St., New York, Oneida, N. Y.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
958 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA·SNOW & CO.

HOW TAFT WAS NOMINATED FOR PRESIDENT

Proceedings of Republican Convention.

James S. Sherman For Vice President.

Chicago, June 19.—With the appointment of committees to notify William Howard Taft of Ohio and James Schoolcraft Sherman of New York of their nomination respectively for the presidency and the vice presidency of the United States, the fourteenth Republican national convention adjourned.

Both candidates were nominated on the first ballot. Mr. Taft's nomination took place Thursday afternoon and Mr. Sherman's Friday morning. The vice presidential candidate is a resident of Utica, N. Y., and has been a member of congress for nearly twenty years. Mr. Sherman was chairman of the congressional campaign committee for the Republican party in 1906. In the convention he received 815 votes, and his nomination was made unanimous.

Three features of the great convention stand out above the rest in human interest. One was the remarkable demonstration of applause evoked by the mention of President Roosevelt's name in a highly complimentary way by the permanent chairman, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. This demonstration lasted forty-six minutes and is said to have broken the time record for such things in American politics. The cue for the enthusiastic outbreak was Senator Lodge's remark during his opening address as chairman when he said, "The president is the best abused and the most popular man in the United States today."

Another signal feature was the committee fight on the anti-injunction plank, otherwise the proposed plank for the platform which was designed with a view to expressing the administration's disapproval of hasty court injunctions against the presumed rights of labor. The struggle resulted finally in a compromise, both sides yielding in part, so that harmony might be preserved and the party go before the people with a plank on this subject calculated to conciliate the labor interests and at the same time not to be construed as an unwarranted attack upon the federal judiciary.

The third feature in the group here set forth as markers to posterity for the big Chicago convention was a negative one—something that didn't happen, though it was expected to happen by many persons throughout the country and by not a few of the delegates in the convention. This was the absence of the "stampede" for a renomination of President Roosevelt against the president's express declaration that he would abide absolutely by the unwritten law that no president shall serve more than two terms. Mr. Taft's nomination proceeded along smoothly to ultimation, the nation was preserved from any present peril of the third term bogy and the president's name preserved to future ages as one who, with a further extension of power within his grasp, was patriot enough to put aside the proffer for his country's good. While, as stated, a negative feature, this cannot be passed by as one of the few matters of paramount force in the history of the 1908 convention.

Ambassador Bryce's Views.

It was an inspiring convention from start to finish. Partisanship aside, such an event is of thrilling interest to every American. But in this convention there were represented many of the nations of Europe and of South America by their ambassadors and ministers, who sat upon the platform as guests. Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, author of "The American Commonwealth" and said to know more about America than the average educated American knows, for the first time attended a national nominating convention. "This machinery of conventions," said the ambassador after watching the proceedings closely, "as you have it in this country, is the most complete, full recognition of the rights of the people to which any country has attained, because people not only at elections say who shall be their officers, but in these party conventions they determine on the men who ought to be put forward as the representatives of parties."

Harry S. New of Indianapolis, chairman of the Republican national committee, called the convention to order in the immense Coliseum Tuesday noon. Mr. New introduced the temporary chairman, Senator Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan, after a devout prayer by Bishop P. J. Muldoon of Chicago. The bishop concluded with the Lord's Prayer, in which many of the 10,000 persons present joined. Just prior to Mr. New's announcement of the temporary chairman the call of the national committee was made by John R. Malloy, the secretary, whose mighty voice is one of his qualifications for that job. Mr. Malloy created a little amusement by pronouncing Hawaii as if spelled "Hawwaugh," the proper pronunciation being like the words "How are you" with the "r" left out of the second word.

Senator Burrows read a long address in which he reviewed ably the affairs of the nation and the achievements of the Republican party in both the executive and legislative branches of the government. The paper was largely statistical, but despite this fact it was followed with interest by the audience. At the first mention of Roosevelt's name there was hearty handclapping in the galleries and upon the delegates' floor. Congressman Nicholas Longworth and his wife, President Roosevelt's daughter, sat in the space reserved for diplomats and other distinguished visitors. Mrs. Longworth started a whirl of applause when the speaker referred to "the matchless secretary of state, Elihu Root."

Another burst of applause followed Senator Burrows' declaration that ultimately the American flag would go down over the Philippines, but would give place to no other except that of an independent Philippine republic.

A further outburst greeted the declaration that the speaker had "no sympathy with any movement that would restrict the constitutional power of the courts," and when Mr. Burrows interpolated in his written speech the words, "The courts are the conservators of government; if constitutional government and civil liberty are ever to be placed in jeopardy and peril they will take their final stand in the impregnable fortress of the supreme judiciary," the approval of the delegates, especially from New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, found enthusiastic expression, the first outbreak of handclapping being followed by prolonged cheers. On being asked after he had concluded his speech if he intended his interpolation as an attack on the proposed anti-injunction plank Mr. Burrows replied, "It was not an attack, but merely as strong a statement as I could make against it."

"Anti-injunction" Plank.

Routine business of organization followed. The main thing of interest in connection with the convention's first day was the struggle of the committee on resolutions, the duty of which was to present a platform over the anti-injunction plank. Three drafts of a plank on the injunction issue were proposed to the committee. The first considered was from the tentative platform prepared by Wade H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, under the guidance of President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft; the second was the plank demanded by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, while the third was the plank finally agreed on by the committee.

The chief difference between the tentative plank and the one adopted is that the former called for amendments to the present law to provide for "proper consideration" of applications for restraining orders, while the latter is a declaration of belief that unless there is immediate danger of injury to life or property a court should not issue a temporary order except after the defendant has had a chance to oppose the motion.

The tentative plank read:

We declare for such amendments of the statutes of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the use of the writ of injunction as will, on the one hand, prevent the summary issue of such orders without proper consideration and, on the other, will preserve undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their process, to the end that justice may be done at all times and to all parties.

The plank requested by Mr. Gompers was worded as follows:

We pledge ourselves to the enactment of a law to prohibit the issuance of injunctions in cases arising out of labor disputes when such injunctions would not apply when no labor disputes existed and that in no case shall an injunction be issued when there exists a remedy by the ordinary process of law, and which act shall provide that in the procedure for the punishment of contempt of court the party cited for contempt shall, when such contempt was not committed in the presence of the court, be entitled to a trial by jury.

The plank finally accepted and made a part of the platform reads:

The Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their processes and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rule of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice except irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

Opposition to the plank at first proposed was started by a memorial to the convention signed by President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university and several other distinguished citizens of New York, urging that the platform contain nothing which could be construed as an attempt to weaken the federal courts. This matter immediately became the main issue in the resolutions committee. President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft, the prospective nominee, each took a hand. A telegram from Mr. Taft was read to the committee in executive session as follows:

I am heartily and earnestly in favor of the adoption of the judicial procedure plank. I am the last man who would seek to impair the power of the courts. I would rather cut off my hand than do so. But this proposed statute will not do so; neither will it satisfy the extreme labor agitator but it is right. It will make obligatory that which is right, and if we are right we can make a good fight. Mr. Roosevelt and I are agreed on the absolute justice of this plank, and I hope it will be adjusted.

Every member of the subcommittee on resolutions appointed to adjust this ticklish plank received from Mr. Taft a personal telegram urging the adoption of an emphatic anti-injunction expression as essential to Republican success at the polls next November. The plank as finally adopted, though denounced by some as a "straddle," received the approval of the president and secretary of war.

"Four, Four, Four Years More!"

Wednesday was "Roosevelt day" in the convention. It was in the midst of Senator Lodge's ringing speech as permanent chairman that the outburst took place. The senator had to wait forty-six minutes, pacing the platform floor, before he could proceed with his address.

The unofficial part of the convention—the Republican pew holders, the "plain people" in the galleries, in the rear of the convention hall and in the out of the way places where the vast audience of 10,000 was packed away—paid its own tribute in its own way, had its own stampede and shouted itself hoarse for forty-six minutes with the slogan, "Four, four, four years more!"

But the demonstration, prolonged and enthusiastic as it was, gave no sign of any movement in the convention to nominate Roosevelt. It was the tribute of the throng to the president's popularity and the emphatic answer to the vicious campaign waged against him by selfish interests. Delegates, alternates and spectators joined heartily in the cheers, which broke in wave after wave over the assemblage, but the purpose to respect his wishes so emphatically stated by Senator Lodge was in no respect disturbed.

Various national committeemen sitting near the speakers' platform proffered kind advice as to how they would calm the galleries if they had the gavel. The senator shrugged his shoulders, looked at them pityingly and took another stroll up and down. He caught sight of Mrs. Longworth forty feet away on a raised platform, and, smiling over the unexampled tribute to her father, gallantly threw her a kiss. The salute was returned, and the unterrified and unexhausted in the galleries, just to show that they liked that sort of thing, cut loose with redoubled vigor. The band, the willing band, came to the fore with "The Star Spangled Banner," hoping it would soothe some of the patriotic shouters in the galleries. It did nothing of the sort. They "let out some more links." "Four, four, four years more!" was the answer to the chairman whenever he raised his hand.

Enter the Teddy Bear.

Then came the Teddy bear. Just who it was that was inspired to lug one of those large sized playthings on to the stage is not recorded as yet by the faithful historian, but there he was (let it be remembered that it was just 2:20 o'clock on the afternoon of June 17), raised aloft, his bearship folded down in front like a jackknife without a spring. That didn't matter. The Republican Indians liked it that way. Then Mr. Teddy Bear was tossed through space into the middle of the Iowa delegation. The intrusion of bruin was apparently resented, and in efforts to keep him moving he was swiftly hurled into the midst of the Californians and tossed along the row where the Oklahoma patriots sat with Bird McGuire, national committeeman, in command. By this time the convention was on the verge of a good natured riot. Mr. McGuire saw that if the bear went the rounds the police would be needed. He showed rare discretion and did credit to the new state by sitting down hard on the bear and fighting off those who tried to get it away.

"It was not out of disrespect to the president, but because I was afraid of a riot," said Mr. McGuire.

When the crowd finally exhausted itself, Chairman Lodge turned ice water on the "stampede" by saying:

"That man is no friend to President Roosevelt and does not cherish his name and fame who now, from any motive, seeks to urge him as a candidate for the great office which he has finally declined. The president has refused what his countrymen would gladly have given him. He says what he means, and he means what he says."

"So do we!" yelled an unreconciled shouter from the gallery.

"And his party," continued the chairman, "and his country will respect his wishes as they honor his high character and great public service."

Lodge's Tribute to Roosevelt.

Immediately the "third term bogy" vanished utterly and forever. Chairman Lodge paid this tribute to President Roosevelt before the conclusion of his speech:

The president, who has led his party and the people in this great work, retires by his own determination from his high office on the 4th of March next. His refusal of a renomination, dictated by the loftiest motives and by a noble loyalty to American traditions, is final and irrevocable. Any one who attempts to use his name as a candidate for the presidency impugns both his sincerity and his good faith, two of the president's greatest and most conspicuous qualities, upon which no shadow has ever been cast. That man is no friend of Theodore Roosevelt and does not cherish his name and fame who now from any motive seeks to urge him as a candidate for the great office which he has finally declined. The president has refused what his countrymen would gladly have given him. He says what he means and means what he says, and his party and his country will respect his wishes as they honor his high character and great public service.

PERMANENT CHAIRMAN HENRY CABOT LODGE.

But, although the president retires, he leaves his policies behind him. To those policies the Republican party stands pledged. We must carry out as we have begun, regardless alike of the radicals of reaction and the radicals of revolution. We must hold fast to that which is good while we make the advances which the times demand.

The convention then got down to actual business. One of the most important acts of the day, and one having great significance, was the adoption of the report of the committee on credentials, seating the Taft delegations practically in toto. If there had been any lingering doubt of the Taft strength it disappeared before this decisive action, which in effect placed upward of 700 delegates in the Taft column. Next in importance and most remarkable was the final acceptance of this result by the allies without the formality of a dissenting minority report and without carrying the question to the floor of the convention for the open fight which had been long threatened. Instead of this, all further opposition seemed to crumble. Those who had promised trouble quietly accepted the inevitable, and thus the path was cleared for the fulfillment of plans already well matured for the nomination of the head of the ticket.

Nomination of Taft.

The third day of the convention was "big Thursday" for "Big Bill" Taft, for the session closed with his triumphant nomination for the presidency on the first ballot, the vote being made unanimous. Secretary Taft's victory was foreseen, of course, many weeks ago. Two months ago his political manager, Frank H. Hitchcock, predicted that Taft would receive more than 700 votes on the first ballot. Hitchcock hit it exactly, for Taft got 702 votes. In all 979 votes were cast, one delegate being absent. "Favorite sons" of half a dozen other states received the non-Taft votes merely out of compliment. Theodore Roosevelt got three votes from Pennsylvania, though his name was not placed before the convention.

The others nominated and the number of ballots cast were: Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, 68; Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York, 67; Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, 58; Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, 40; Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin

JAMES S. SHERMAN.

25; Senator Joseph B. Foraker of Ohio, 18.

Mr. Taft was nominated by Representative Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland, and the nomination was seconded by George A. Knight of California. The motion to make the nomination unanimous was made by General Stewart L. Woodford of New York, manager of the Hughes boom.

Taft's Fitness For Presidency.

In the course of his speech placing Taft in nomination Congressman Burton said:

Again Ohio presents a candidate to the Republican national convention. In seven stubbornly contested presidential campaigns sons of her sacred soil have led the embattled Republican hosts to victory. The Buckeye State has assuredly contributed her share of statesmen and generals for the upbuilding of the nation. But that of which we are prouder still is her stalwart citizenship, the mightiest bulwark of the republic in every commonwealth, made up of America's free yeomen, ever ready to respond to the tocsin of alarm in days of peril or to crush corruption whenever it raises its menacing head. From this citizenship Ohio in the supreme emergency of the civil war sent forth more than 300,000 soldiers for our country's defense, a formidable array easily surpassing in numbers the world conquering legions of imperial Caesar and even larger than any army ever mustered by Britain for the tented field. But transcendent above all is the fact that Ohio is one of a matchless union of states linked together in everlasting bonds of amity and constituting an empire wonderful in power and almost immeasurable in extent. Each sovereign state alone would occupy but a subordinate place the great current of the world's events, but when represented by one of forty-six bright stars on a field of stainless blue every one forms part of an emblem of union and of strength more beautiful far than the most brilliant constellation in the heavens.

The most perplexing questions of today arise from the bountiful development of our material wealth. Such a development cannot occur without the creation of inequalities and dangers to the social fabric. I most strenuously deny that the American business man or the American citizen cherishes lower standards than the citizens of any other country. The American people are by no means depraved. But by reason of their busy absorption in varied pursuits and of the glamour which attends success in great undertakings questionable methods have been able to engraft themselves upon the business of the country. Rich rewards have too frequently been gained by some who are none too scrupulous. Monopoly, dishonesty and fraud have assumed a prominence which calls for the earnest attention and condemnation of every man who truly loves the republic.

Against all these abuses and in the work for restoring old ideals of honesty and equality, as well as for higher standards of civic duty, one man has stood pre-eminent, and that man is Theodore Roosevelt. Against corruption in every form he has set his face with grim determination, prompt and fearless in action and with that intelligent leadership which has assured the establishment of a better era in which the strong and the weak alike must submit themselves to the impartial execution of the law. There was need of a strong, courageous spirit to restrain those destructive forces which have asserted themselves in this time of growth and plenty. The story of his achievements will make up one of the brightest pages in the history of this or any age and will prove that today, as in any critical hour of social unrest or of danger, the man will appear who can grapple with the emergency.

Who so fit to take up the tasks which this wondrous generation demands should be wisely and impartially performed as his great war secretary? Since the day when in Benjamin Harrison's administration these two first met—the one as solicitor general, the other as a member of the civil service commission—they have been bound together by like ideals and aims, by close ties of friendship and by the exchange of mutual counsel, each with his own individuality and characteristics keeping constantly in view the ennobling vision of a better and a greater America. They have not been satisfied that the temple of prosperity should be decked alone by the jewels of the fortunate and the opulent, but have insisted that it should still more abound in trophies which commemorate the enforcement of even handed justice and the maintenance of that equal opportunity which spreads hope and blessing even to the humblest home. Since the day when, less than thirty years of age, Mr. Taft denounced with burning words a member of his profession who had been guilty of flagrantly vicious practices and had demoralized the community he has ever been associated with the cause of true reform—with that reform which will not content itself with academic dissertation or hollow words. He has been imbued with the spirit of action. His advocacy of sounder conditions has never arisen from a desire for the exploitation of himself. It has always been based upon unswerving integrity and the courage to speak the truth as he understands it on all occasions, no matter how influential or powerful the evils which he may attack.

No one has ever yet assumed the presidential chair who had received a more ideal preparation for the duties of that great office. As judge in state and federal courts, as solicitor general, as governor of the Philippines, as secretary of war, which has included the work of colonial secretary and director of national public works, he has received his training and has always shown himself master of the situation and competent to make more honorable and beloved the American name. There have been no years of inaction in his career. He has been continuously engaged in weighty tasks, and each successive service has been characterized by an increasing influence upon most vital questions.

In our domestic affairs, in whatever position he has held, he has displayed the rare union of a judicial temperament with an unsurpassed gift for administrative management.

More than any other of our public men he has had to do with our outlying dependencies and colonial relations. It was he who took in charge the prosecution of that colossal enterprise on the isthmus, the canal uniting the lesser and the greater oceans, and under his directing hand the completion of this most stupendous of public works is no longer a vague and distant hope, but an imminent reality. With his ever ready skill as a pacificator he restored tranquility in the fertile island of Cuba, so often distracted by civil strife. In the far off Philippines, under a blazing tropical sky, he found a people of many races and tribes, degraded by centuries of misrule and oppression, and there, too, he not only established the rule of law and local control in place of confusion and bloody strife, but showed the way to self government and a new recognition of the rights of man.

Secretary Taft has exceptional familiarity with conditions in the distant orient—in Japan, in China. We may rest assured that our traditional friendship with Japan will continue. Moreover, the future promises that the slumbering millions of China will awake from the lethargy of ages, and she then will realize that the morning dawn of fresher life and wider outlook comes to her across the broad Pacific from free America, her truest friend and helper. We covet no portion of her territory. We desire from her, as from all nations, increased good will and that mutual respect which knows neither bluster nor cringing on either side. Thus in this new era of larger relations Secretary Taft, with his comprehension of national and international subjects, would furnish a certainty of peace and sustained prestige. Under him at home and everywhere this mighty people would have an assured confidence in the secure development and progress of the country and would rest safe in the reliance that a chief executive was at the helm who in peace or in war would guide the destinies of the nation with a strong hand and with a gentle, patriotic heart.

And so today in the presence of more than 10,000 and with the inspiring thought of the well nigh 10,000 times 10,000 who dwell within our borders I nominate for the presidency that perfect type of American manhood, that peerless representative of the noblest ideals in our national life, William H. Taft of Ohio.

Demonstration For "Big Bill."

When Representative Burton ended his eloquent speech nominating the secretary of war with the name of Ohio's favorite son there occurred the real demonstration of the day. When the name of Ohio was reached in the roll call of the states the delegates started a cheer which lasted for two minutes, but they desisted to listen to the forceful address of the distinguished Ohioan. As he finished the Ohio delegation gave a cheer which started the ball rolling, and one delegation after another joined in. Texas led the shouting and displayed a banner consisting of a huge pair of trousers labeled "As Pants the Hart For Cooling Streams, So Texas Pants For Taft."

The Taft banner of the Blaine club was produced, the Philippine delegates raised a little girl to their shoulders and cheered like mad, and finally the Ohio delegation started a "march around," headed by ex-Governor Herrick, Charles P. Taft, half brother of the candidate, and Governor Harris.

The galleries caught from the Ohioans the refrain, "Taft, Taft, Big Bill Taft," and marked time with it as the march proceeded, while other delegations joined in. Mr. Burton, who had just received a large bouquet of pink peonies from Mrs. Henry W. Taft and Miss Louise Taft, niece of the nominee for president, waved it aloft as he marched, while Miss Taft, an exceptionally handsome young woman, clad in white, with a large red hat, was a conspicuous figure in a side gallery, where she waved a large silk flag in unison with the refrain. Mrs. Longworth and her aunt, Mrs. Robinson, stood on their chairs, just above the press section, and waved blue banners at the cheering crowd.

It was not until the delegates had exhausted their energy by twenty-six minutes of continued cheering that Chairman Lodge succeeded in restoring comparative order, a task in which he was materially assisted by the extraordinarily powerful voice of George A. Knight of California, who had taken the platform to second the nomination of Mr. Taft and who spoke with force and eloquence.

Vice President Fairbanks was placed in nomination for the presidency by Governor Hanly of Indiana and seconded by Mayor Bookwalter of Indianapolis. The other nominating and seconding speeches were made as follows: For Speaker Cannon, Representative Boutell of Illinois and Representative J. W. Fordney of Michigan; for Governor Hughes, General Stewart L. Woodford of New York and H. T. Adams of Virginia; for Senator Foraker, C. B. McCoy of Coshocton, O., and W. O. Emery of Macon, Ga., the latter a negro; for Senator La Follette, Henry F. Cochems of Milwaukee and C. A. A. McGee of Wisconsin; for Senator Knox, Lieutenant Governor John T. Murphy of Pennsylvania and James Scarlet of Danville, Pa.

Main Points in Platform.

The adoption of the Republican platform for the campaign of 1908, which preceded the nominating speeches, was by a viva voce vote. The main points in the platform may be condensed thus:

Unqualified indorsement of the policies advocated by President Roosevelt.

Indorsement of the emergency currency legislation.

Unequivocal declaration for a revision of the tariff by a special session of congress following the inauguration of the next president.

Development of a permanent currency system.

Establishment of a postal savings bank system.

Indorsement of the Sherman anti-trust law and a recommendation that it be further strengthened by legislation.

Indorsement of the railroad rate law and the laws against rebating.

Indorsement of the employers' liability law.

Modified anti-injunction plank.

Equal justice for the negro.

Favoring ship subsidies.

More liberal administration of the pension laws.

NOMINATED

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

ROOSEVELT LAUDS TAFT.

White House,
Washington, June 18, 1908.

I feel that the country is indeed to be congratulated upon the nomination of Mr. Taft. I have known him intimately for many years and I have a peculiar feeling for him, because throughout that time we have worked for the same objects with the same purposes and ideals.

I do not believe there could be found in all the country a man so well fitted to be president. He is not only absolutely fearless, absolutely disinterested and upright, but he has the widest acquaintance with the nation's needs, without and within, and the broadest sympathies with all our citizens. He would be as emphatically a president of the plain people as Lincoln himself, yet not Lincoln himself would be freer from the least taint of demagogy, the least tendency to arouse or appeal to class hatred of any kind.

He has a peculiar and intimate knowledge of and sympathy with the needs of all our people—of the farmer, of the wageworker, of the business man, of the property owner. No matter what a man's occupation or social position, no matter what his creed, his color or the section of the country from which he comes, if he is an honest, hardworking man who tries to do his duty toward his neighbor and toward the country he can rest assured that he will have in Mr. Taft the most upright of representatives and the most fearless of champions.

Mr. Taft stands against all privilege, and he stands preeminently for the broad principles of American citizenship which lie at the foundation of our national well being.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

SPECIALS THIS WEEK
AT THE FAIR

25c Granite 6-qt Pan.....9c
500 Yards Toweling, yd....4c
Men's Fast Black Shirts...23c
Ladies' Ribbed Vests.....10c
500 Boys' and Girls' Trimmed Hats, value 45c.....19c
200 Boys Caps.....10c
Men's 50c Caps.....19c
Men's Shop Caps.....9c
300 Pairs Boys Pants, 3 to 15 years.....19c
Boys' $1.39 Washable Suits 98c
Ladies' Merry Widow Sailors 49c
58 Skidoo Hats, worth $1..49c
50c Ladies' Sailors.....25c
Remnants Lawn.....5c
Table Oilcloth, 46 in. wide.17c
Turkey Red Handkerchiefs..3c
1000 Yards Matting, remnants, worth 30c, sale price.....9c
Men's Overalls...39c and 45c
200 Children's Trimmed Hats.....25c up
$1.25 Shirt Waist.....98c
15c Shambrys, yard.....10c

Summer Muslins, remnants, large enough for shirtwaists and Dresses, worth 12 1-2c a yard, sale price.....8c
Summer Silks, make elegant dresses.....19c
Radium-Hand Cleaner, worth 10c, box.....8c
10,000 Comic Post Cards....1c
500 Parlor Matches.....4c
10c Scythe Stones and Whe Stones.....4c
25c Cuspidor.....15c
Men's Working Suits...$3.98
500 White Curtain Poles with fixtures, this week only...4c
30 Dozen Minetto Oil Shades, for this week.....2½c
200 10-inch Granite Pie Plates.....8c
50c Granite Water Pail....29c
10c Folding Fans.....2c
2-Burner Oil Stoves.....69c
20 Dozen Window Shades with fringe.....10c

S. WALDHORN---THE FAIR
WALDHORN BLOCK

Local and Personal

Mrs. L. J. Whitaker and daughter are visiting Hamilton relatives.

Mrs. Irving Galusha and daughter are the guests of Oneida relatives.

The ordinances adopted since Fulton has become a city are to be printed in book form.

Mr. Alexander Wise and grandson, Floyd Allport, of Cleveland, Ohio, are the guests of Fulton friends.

Mrs. G. G. Chauncey and Mrs. G E. Mason will spend Saturday at the Country Club, Syracuse, as guests of Mrs. Fred Rogers

It is reported that Miss Helen Parmenter, instructor in drawing and music in the local schools, has resigned her position to devote a year to study in New York city

Mr. D. Brainard Salmon, Syracuse, a brother of the late Henry and of Mr. Kirk Salmon, sustained a serious fall last week receiving an injury to his hip.

The Odd Fellows observed decoration day on Sunday when they assembled in a body at their temple in Oneida street and proceeded to Mt. Adnah where they decorated the graves of deceased comrades.

Read the books in the Lasher Reading Club at 2c per book per day, and no red tape to prevent your taking as many as you please The latest works of fiction are to be found on the shelves at all times.

During the electrical storm on Friday night the semaphore signal post at the Lackawanna station was struck by lightning and all light in the signal and in the station were put out of commission. Fortunately no one was injured.

Mrs. James Morrow and Mr. Ray Loveless while in Buffalo last week purchased a magnificent 60-horse power Thomas touring car, one of the finest machines in the county. With it they made the run from Buffalo to their home in this city in less than eight hours. Any one interested in a Thomas proposition should talk with R. M. Loveless of this city.

On Monday morning early as Dr. H. L. Lake was fishing for bass near the coffer dam by the mills he was delightfully surprised when he pulled out a beautiful brook trout weighing one pound. The strange fact can only be accounted for by the high water in the brooks tributary to the river, caused by the late heavy rain falls. Whatever the cause, the doctor had a most satisfactory breakfast resultant therefrom.

Syracuse Herald: Mrs. William B. Fuller entertained informally at her home in University avenue on Monday afternoon and evening in honor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newell Dada. The reception celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. Dada married Miss Olive P. Wells in 1853. They have made their home with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Fuller for several years. Among the out of town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Dada's daughter, Mrs. L. E. Storms of Minneapolis and Mr and Mrs. Arvin Rice, Mrs. Herbert L. Lake and Mrs. Cora Carlisle of Fulton.

Framed Pictures for Weddings and Commencement Gifts, at Lasher's Book Store.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. ea16

Mrs. Emory of Stamford, Conn., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Forsyth.

Miss Florence Skeel, who has been ill for a week, is again able to be out.

Mr. Willis Morin of Boston, Mass., is the guest of his mother, Mrs. S. E. Morin

Miss Helen Brown of Albany is the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown.

Miss Ada Wright leaves on Saturday for Dwight, Ills. She will be accompanied by Mrs. E. P Ryther.

Mr. Newton Johnson and family of the west side are occupying their cottage at Sylvan Beach for about ten days.

Mr. Neil Moore of Williams college is spending the Summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McMurchey.

Miss Imogene Paddock of Dana Hall, Wellesly college, is spending the Summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Paddock, in this city.

The several dry goods and shoe stores in the city will remain open on Friday evening, July 3, and will close at noon on Saturday, July 4.

Miss Abbie Morton on Monday entertained the Kings Daughters of the Baptist church at Pathfinder Island, the trip being made in Mr. F. W. Richardson's launch.

Mr. Gilbert Benedict was a member of the class of '08, Amherst college. He will reach his home in this city within a few days where he will be the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Benedict.

Mrs. L. E Storms of Minneapolis, Minn., will spend Friday and Saturday of this week with Mrs. H. L. Lake at her home in Fourth street. Mrs. Storms, who was formerly Miss Hattie Dada of this city, will be gladly greeted by her former friends.

Mr Elmer E. Morrill has returned from Lake Mohonk and Meriden, Conn. Mrs. Morrill who accompanied him is remaining for a time longer with friends in Connecticut. Mr. Morrill is most enthusiastic in urging his friends to visit Lake Mohonk on their Summer vacation trip, declaring it to be one of the most beautiful spots he ever visited

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Mason informally celebrated their nineteenth wedding anniversary at their home in First street, the guest of honor being Mr. Warren Hubbard of California, who is visiting in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Mason received several very handsome gifts in cut glass and silver, beside many congratulations.

John C. Gillespie, of Fulton, was the only resident of Oswego county who took the Grange scholarship examination conducted in the Normal school last week. The scholarship is for the short Winter agricultural course in Cornell University and is worth $50, to which Oswego county Pomona Grange has added $10 and the Master $5, providing one of the six scholarships goes to Mr. Gillespie.

One of the points of interest in this section is an island which a week ago did not exist in Lake Neahtawanta, but which was discovered on Saturday morning covered with verdure and capped with full grown trees. Investigation showed that a piece of the main land at North Bay, about quarter of an acre in size, had broken away and was seeking a new world. It is now anchored on the lake near the Fair ground shore, apparently pleased with its new home.

Books in fine bindings for Commencement Gifts at Lasher's Book Store.

MT. PLEASANT.

The Rev. Pullen of Beaver Falls was in town a few days last week to officiate at the Streeter-Bartlett wedding. Mr. Pullen also called on a few friends. He reports a very pleasant charge and the general good health of his family, which news is gladly received by his friends here.

Edward Durfey spent last week in Buffalo attending the State G. A. R. Encampment.

Mrs. Skeel is spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Alonzo Rowlee.

Mrs. Al. McCarthy was called to Madison county last week by the sudden death of her father, Mr. Marshall. This makes three deaths in her family in about one year, her mother, sister and father. She certainly has the sympathy of her many friends in this community in her bereavements.

Misses Elsie and Lizzie Hunn entertained last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Lydia Sherman of Palermo.

Miss Florence Austin spent Friday in Fulton.

Mrs. Helen Howard is spending a few weeks with her grandson, Chas. Howard.

The prettiest home wedding of the season occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs E. B. Bartlett on Thursday, June 19th, at 3 p. m., when Miss Ethel Bartlett became the bride of Mr. Willis Streeter, both popular young people of this community. The Rev. Mr. Pullen pronounced the words which made them one, and after a dainty wedding supper they left for a short trip. They will be at home to their many friends after July 1 at their new residence near the Baldwin School house.

Bernice and Mark Osborne are spending a few days in South Scriba.

Lillian Sherman Grant and Fred Armour attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Pettis, in Hannibal last week.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills, are sold by all druggists.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Pleasant.

Mistress—Now, remember, Bridget, the Joneses are coming for dinner. Cook—Leave it to me, mum. I'll do me worst! They'll never trouble yez again!—Illustrated Bits.

Her Choice.

"What would you do, dear, if I were to die?" asked Mrs. Darley fondly.

"I don't know," replied Darley thoughtfully. "Which is your choice—burial or cremation?"—London Mail.

For a Sprained Ankle.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may be effected in many cases in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation. Try it for a sprain or a bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

A Hard Stunt.

Mamma—Good gracious, Georgie! What is the matter with Freddie Jones? Is the child having a fit? Georgie—No, mamma. You know Freddie stutters, and we bet he couldn't say "altitudinosity" before Bobbie ran twice around the block.—Puck.

Ponderous.

Evelyn—He's a very learned man. You wouldn't think so, would you? Natica—Oh, yes! I suspected it at once. Evelyn—Indeed? Natica—Yes. He makes me so tired!—Illustrated Bits.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change. . . .

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

No Wonder He Fled.

A tall, solemn looking young man entered the restaurant with a mild, apologetic air and seated himself at a vacant table near the middle of the room. It was evident that he dreaded to intrude. He wanted to get as far away from other people as possible. He even blushed painfully when he gave his order, and the most casual observer could have told that he was bashful. Just as his dinner was brought to him a buxom looking woman with seven small children entered the place. The head waiter swept the field with his eye, pounced down upon the table where the young man had sought solitude, motioned to the mother, who clucked to the chickens, and a moment later they were all around that one table.

That young man's face was a serial story.

Other people entered the restaurant, glanced at the group, smiled significantly and seated themselves.

"He doesn't look it, does he?" queried a pleasant faced old lady in an audible whisper.

"She looks at least ten years older than he," murmured a girl at the next table.

He flew to the hatrack, tossed a half crown to the waiter and tried to go through the door without opening it.—London Telegraph.

A Wasted Opportunity.

"Ole Bill" Foote and "Ole Bill" English were political traveling companions, and many stories were told of their joint journeying.

The two hardy Democratic campaigners were doing southern California one election time and got into the country at the back door of Los Angeles. One night they reached a farmhouse where they had expected to find lodgings. The farmer had nothing but two armchairs. Foote and English pleaded for beds—cots, trundle beds, anything that looked like a bed. Nothing doing.

The campaigners, like Napoleon or Grant or like Washington at Valley Forge, slept in their chairs.

When the first advance agents of dawn scudded out of the west, the politicians laboriously got out of their chairs and went out for fresh air. They met the old farmer milking the cow with the crumpled horn.

"Do you know, gentlemen," he said blandly and without contrition, "you could have had a bed, after all? I was expecting two Democratic orators here last night and saved the beds for them, but somehow or other they never showed up, daug 'em."—San Francisco Call.

The King Had Rights.

Once when Macready was performing at the theater at Mobile, Ala., his manner at rehearsal displeased one of the actors, a native American of pure western type. This Claudius in "Hamlet" resolved to "get even" with the star for many supposed offenses, and in this way he carried out his purpose. When in the last scene Hamlet stabbed the usurper he reeled forward and after a most spasmodic finish stretched himself out precisely in the place Hamlet required for his own death. Macready, much annoyed, whispered fiercely:

"Die farther up the stage, sir."

The monarch lay insensible, upon which in a still louder voice the Hamlet growled:

"Die farther up the stage, sir."

Hereupon the Claudius, sitting up, observed:

"I believe I'm king here, and I'll die where I please."

The tragedy concluded without more ado.

Broke Up His Speech.

Judge Norton was solemn, stern and dignified to excess. He was also egotistical and sensitive to ridicule. Judge Nelson was a wit and careless of decorum. He did not like Judge Norton. At a bar supper Judge Norton in an elaborate speech, referring to the early days of Wisconsin, described with tragic manner a thunderstorm which once overtook him in riding the circuit. The scene was awful, "and," said the judge, "I expected every moment the lightning would strike the tree under which I had taken shelter."

"Then," interrupted Nelson, "why in thunder didn't you get under another tree?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Snow Hurricane.

The buran, or snow hurricane of the Pamirs, is a meteorological phenomenon of great interest. Even in midsummer the temperature during a snow buran frequently falls to 14 degrees F., while in one winter it dropped to 45 degrees below zero at the end of January. The buran comes with startling suddenness, the atmosphere growing dark with whirling snowflakes where scarcely a minute before the sky was perfectly clear.

One of Life's Little Tragedies.

He seized her, drew her to him and deliberately struck her. She made no sound. Again and yet again the brute repeated the blow, and still she gave no sign of suffering, but when, with rapidly growing anger, he struck her for the fourth time she shrieked aloud, and her head flew off. She was only a match.—Bohemian Magazine.

Wrong Way Around.

"Mr. Pursington says he believes a man should pay as he goes."

"Judging from the way he gets in debt, he must be accustomed to traveling backward."—Washington Star.

It Couldn't Be.

Denham—I wish you would talk English to the baby, Mrs. Denham—Do you think my baby English is any worse than your baseball English?—Exchange.

Tears in mortal miseries are vain.—Homar.

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

Board of Public Works.

The Board of Public Works on Monday evening ordered Oneida street paved from Second street to the west line of Sixth street with macadam pavement consisting of a cobblestone foundation with a trap rock and crushed stone top dressing and cement curbs and gutters. The same quality of pavement will be used in improving North street from the west end of the lower river bridge northwesterly to the east line of West First street; Hannibal street from West First street to West Fourth street and Cayuga street from South Second street to South Third street.

Provision was also made for the commencement of paving operations in Oneida street and in connection with this resolution the City Clerk was directed to serve a notice on each property owner in each of the sections affected to the end that they may appoint two representatives from their own number to act with the board relative to the proposed paving; such appointment to be certified to the board in writing signed by a majority of the interested property owners, on or before July 5th.

Born in Iowa.

Our family were all born and raised in Iowa, and have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (made at Des Moines) for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it. In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the prompt use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the merchantile business at Narcoossee, Fla., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful and is constantly growing in favor.—Ennis Bros. This remedy is for sale by E. A. Putnam.

Refrigerator sale this week. Fulton Hardware Co., 18 South First street.

Translated.

"Habiliments For Infants" is a sign in a clothing store in Boston. A western visitor, seeing it, stopped in amazement.

"What does that mean?" he asked his better acquainted fellow westerner.

"That?" said the other. "Oh, that is Boston dialect for kids' duds."—Housewife.

Silenced.

Dad (severely)—And look here, Ethel, you mustn't encourage that young man to stay so late every night. It's disgraceful. What does your mother say about it? Ethel—She says men haven't altered a bit, dad.

Stomach Troubles.

Many remarkable cures of stomach troubles have been effected by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One man who had spent over two thousand dollars for medicine and treatment was cured by a few boxes of these tablets. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at E. A. Putnam's drug store.

A Big Snowfall.

The heaviest fall of snow that ever took place in England occurred in 1615. The snow commenced falling on the 16th of January, 1615, and continued every day until the 12th of March following. It covered the earth to such a depth that passengers, both horse and foot, passed over gates, hedges and walls, which had been obliterated by the white sheet. On the 12th of March it began to decrease and so by little and little consumed and wasted away till the 28th of May.

A heavy fall occurred in Scotland in 1620, the snow falling thirteen days and nights with little or no intermission.

One of the heaviest falls on a single day occurred on the 21st of February, 1762, the snow in some places being from ten to twelve feet deep.

Nature has provided the stomach with certain natural fluids known as the digestive juices, and it is through these juices that the food we eat is acted upon in such a way as to produce the rich, red blood that flows through the veins of our body and thereby makes us strong, healthy and robust, and it is the weakening of these digestive juices that destroys health. It is our own fault if we destroy our own health, and yet it is so easy for any one to put the stomach out of order. When you need to take something take it promptly, but take something you know is reliable—something like Kodol for Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Kodol is pleasant to take; it is reliable and is [illegible] by all druggists.

CIRON, No. 24005
[REGISTERED]

FRENCH PERCHERON

Black—Weight 1700 Pounds
A Prize Winner Whenever Shown

$10.00 CASH SERVICE FEE

Usual Return Privilege

SCOTTDALE FARM

Henry Elbare, Mgr. Minetto, N Y.

Knowledge of Values

Is one of the most essentials of success in Wall street. Another essential is the ability to apply the effect of momentary conditions on the future course of prices. Write for our book.

"Success in the Stock Market"

which contains the essentials necessary for successful speculation. OUR MARKET LETTERS analyse existing conditions, contain timely suggestions bearing upon the most inviting opportunities of the hour, and are of invaluable assistance in forming opinions on coming price movements. Both publications mailed free upon request

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.
STOCK BROKERS
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange of Phila.

Oswego Office

No. 6 Neal Building

C. J. BELLINGER, Mgr.

Phone No. 1208

Securities Bought and Sold for Cash or on Moderate Margins.

New York Office, 53 Broadway

What's In a Name?

"Come here, Bates!" roared Dr. Bigwig, head and only master of the Cranton village school. "I have today received—ahem!—a letter from Mr. Johnson informing me that his son is unable to attend school in consequence of a thrashing you yesterday inflicted upon him. Is this a fact, Bates?"

"N-n-no, sir!" quailed Bates. "I never touch 'im."

But Dr. Bigwig did not believe, and two minutes later Bates was asking for permission to stand up in class, the benches being of wood.

On the following day Johnson returned, and Dr. Bigwig sought justification of his act before the whole class.

"Did you tell your father that Bates thrashed you?" he asked.

"No, sir," piped the youth.

The master's countenance clouded.

"But your father wrote to me, saying that Bates did it!" he thundered.

"I know 'e did!" sniveled Johnson. "It were Billy Beauchamp did it, sir, but father couldn't speel Beauchamp, so he wrote Bates."—London Answers.

Don't try to take up all the room in the middle of the road. There are numerous travelers on the highway who need a little room themselves.—Atlanta Constitution.

FOR SALE

For Sale—Ideal gas range in good condition. Will sell cheap. Can be seen at No. 415 Oneida stree.

FOR SALE—A gasoline launch in excellent condition. 1 1-2 horse power engine. Inquire of V. C. Lewis, 133 S. First street. tf

For Sale—Rowboat, 15½ feet long by 3 feet wide. Inquire at home of Jeth Miller, 12 miles north of Fulton on the west river road. je17

For Sale—Automobile. A high powered runabout newly painted and fitted with brand new set of Fiske detachable tires. The car cost $900; used but one season. This car is as good as new and does not look like a second hand car. A bargain one half its original cost. Car can be seen at 312 Rochester Street and a demonstration will be given.

TO RENT

To Rent—Ground floor rooms, suitable for small family; rent reasonable. Inquire of Mrs. M. J. Sweet, 323 Emory street. je8-tf

TO RENT—House on Seventh street; also, a suite of rooms. Inquire of Fred Miller, 518 Cayuga street. tf

TO RENT—Rooms for a small family on ground floor. City water and use of gas range if desired; pleasant location on corner. Terms, $2.00 per week. Inquire at No. 53 North Third St.

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868. FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1908 VOL. 41: NO. 8

THE TRUSTEES
OF THE
FULTON SAVINGS' BANK

have voted to pay a dividend to each depositor at the rate of 4 per cent. on all deposits for the six months ending July 1st.

This Dividend Will Amount to Over $25,000. Have You a Share in it?

COUNTY AND DISTRICT NOMINEES

Republicans in Convention Name Ticket Which Is Sure of Success at the Coming Fall Election---The Candidates.

William B. Baker.

Promotion should come to the faithful who serve and tire not. It was in this spirit that the Republicans of this county tendered to District Attorney W. B. Baker the unanimous nomination for County Judge, in County Convention last week. Mr. Baker is fitted by temperament, education, training and inclination to fill the high office and it is sincerely believed that his majority at the polls in November will be a record breaking one. He is a politician in as far as every good citizen should be a politician and he is a Republican because that party stands for progression and prosperity. He will allow no personal issue to cloud his judicial judgment and come friend or foe, justice in his decisions will be done. Mr. Baker's nomination will bring strength to the entire ticket.

Freelon J. Davis.

As Special County Judge Freelon J. Davis of Orwell is known to most of the electors of the County. As an able lawyer and a faithful guardian of whatever trust is reposed in him, he is known to his friends and clients. Mr. Davis may well be looked to to administer the duties of the responsible office in an irreproachable manner and to labor diligently against the miscarriage of justice.

FREELON J. DAVIS,
Nominee for District Attorney

Frank L. Smith.

Mr. Frank L. Smith of Phoenix, in the District Convention in Pulaski last week was unanimously nominated to represent this county in the Assembly and his election is a foregone conclusion. Mr. Smith holds the respect of all classes of citizens and he will be a conscientious, painstaking representative. As a successful farmer, a successful business man and a good citizen he is known throughout the county and if elected, he will make a record for himself in the lower legislative house.

George M. Fanning.

There was a late but good natured contest for the office of Special County Judge, Attorney George M. Fanning of this city winning out on the fourth ballot. Mr. Fanning has the distinction of being the only Fulton aspirant for office this Fall and he will be given a large complimentary vote here as well as elsewhere in the county. An amusing condition incident to Mr. Fanning's nomination is the fact that the Democratic leaders are discussing his brother and law partner for the Democratic nomination for the same office.

Hon. Merrick Stowell.

Oswego county will present the name of Hon. Merrick Stowell in the Congressional convention yet to be called, as her choice for Congressman from the district comprising the counties of Oswego, Jefferson and Lewis. Oswego's candidate is a sternly uncompromising Republican with the highest ideals of the Republican party as his watchword. He has been perhaps the hardest fighter in this State for the protection of those ideals and his fights have been winning ones. If nominated and elected he will as certainly fight for the protection of the district which he will represent, as he has fought for his party in years past.

Charles W. Taft.

Mr. Charles W. Taft, who received the nomination for Sheriff last week, after one of the most stubbornly yet fairly conducted campaigns ever known in this county, has kept himself singularly free from factional alliances and his side of the case was won on its merits. Mr. Taft is a native and almost life long resident of Oswego county and beyond question are his integrity and ability to administer the duties of the office to which he has been nominated and to which he will undoubtedly be elected by an immense majority in November. It will be impossible for his opponents to find a man to match him in popularity and it will be equally impossible for any of the "jail gentry" to escape his vigilance, once he is appointed their keeper.

C. A. STONE,
Nominee for County Superintendent of Poor

HON. MERRICK STOWELL,
Delegates to Congressional Convention Instructed for Him

C. Adelbert Stone.

In nominating Mr. Stone for the office of County Superintendent of the Poor the electors have displayed excellent judgment. He is a painstaking business man, humane in his theories and thorough in his practices. He is indeed an ideal candidate.

Proposals for Federal Building Sites.

The sealed proposals for sites for new Federal buildings were opened in Washington, D. C., at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Two committees were appointed to open them and the work consumed about two hours. No information is given at the department as to how many bids have been received. As a matter of fact, proposals to sell sites may be entered up to the moment of the opening, and even after that. The formal opening of bids does not exclude the department officials from considering other offers. It simply gives them something to work on in the selection of tracts of land suitable for the public building in prospect.

The following proposals were received at Washington for Federal building sites in Fulton: Marie A. Katz, Second and Rochester streets, $8,500; J. M. and C. E. Foster, Cayuga and Second, $26,000, and I. C. Curtis, Oneida and Third, $14,000. The Oswego Falls Paper and Pulp Company offer two different sites at South First street and Broadway—one for $8,000 and one for $10,000.

The lowest of prices in shoes and Oxfords. S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Pathfinder Field Day.

A tempting menu has been arranged for Field Day at Pathfinder Island on Friday of this week, as follows: Philadelphia Chicken Pie, Creamed New Potatoes, Tomato Salad, Brown and White Bread, Cherry Pie, Cheese, Tea, Coffee, Milk.

The carry-all will leave the City Hall at the usual hours and games and sports will be enjoyed during the afternoon.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

When in Syracuse don't fail to visit the big stores of the Palmer-Reeve Company, 418-420 South Salina street, where you will witness the largest sale of up-to-date millinery in this part of the State.

We have ten thousand bargains to offer and quote a few prices below:

1,500 yards of 19-inch silk at 14 cents a yard.

Pattern hats from 25 cents to $5.00; former price, $2.50 to $14.00.

Flowers, 9 cents a bunch. Untrimmed hats, 16 cents. Children's hats, from 10 to 98 cents; former price, 90 cents to $4.50.

Change of Time, N. Y., O. & W. R. R.

The New York Ontario & Western Railway announce the adoption of their Summer schedule effective June 21.

Important changes.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

W. W. Spencer.

One of the busiest men at the convention in Pulaski last week was W. W. Spencer, Jr., clerk of the Board of Supervisors for several years and an all around favorite throughout the county. Mr. Spencer took this occasion to announce that he was a candidate for County Clerkship to succeed Mr. Simpson, and he did not care who knew it. Mr. Spencer found glad hands extended him on all sides and his boom assumed quite proportions before it was many hours old.

School Commissioner's Convention.

The School Commissioner's Convention for the Third Oswego District was held in Pulaski last Thursday afternoon and resulted in the nomination of Herman W. Kandt of Altmar for a second term as said Commissioner. The Committee named for that district was as follows: V. D. Pierce, Albion; A. E. Olmstead, Orwell and F. S. Bosworth, Sandy Creek.

Meeting Held

On Tuesday evening a meeting was held in the City Hall for the purpose of discussing suitable sites for the proposed new Federal building. Mr. J. H. Howe was chairman of the meeting and he appointed a committee composed of Messrs. G. G. Chauncey, T. D. Lewis and J. A. Morrill to draw up a petition to be circulated among the residents asking the Government that the site be selected within the territory bounded by the following streets: Oneida street on the north, South Third on the east, Rochester on the south and South First on the west. Those present at the meeting decided that $10,000 was perhaps not sufficient and the request is to be made for an additional appropriation, if necessary, to purchase a desirable site.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Battle Island Paper Company will be held in the office of the Hunter Arms Company on July 15th, at 2 p. m., for the election of directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may come regularly before this meeting.

JOHN HUNTER, Sec'y.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN
112 ONEIDA STREET

We Wish to Call Your Attention to our
Fancy New Japan Tea
Price 50c Per Pound
This is the best value in Tea that we have ever offered and will please you.
We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries
Call Us On 'Phone 32

Public Cautioned

Chief of Fire Department, Harry L. Waugh, warns the public that every care should be exercised against fire during the nights of July 3 and 4, and requests that wherever practical windows should be closed in dwelling and public buildings during the days named.

Framed Pictures for Weddings and Commencement Gifts, at Lasher's Book Store.

Fraternal Organizations, Attention!

The Times is in receipt of the following communications which are self explanatory. It would be an excellent feature for several of the local fraternal organizations, all if possible, to arrange to participate in the parade. The thousands of Fair visitors who have not yet heard of Fulton would thus learn that she was on the map and doing business. The letters follow:

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 25, 1908.
Mr. Geo. E. McNally,
Syracuse, N. Y.
My dear Indian:—

If you intend to visit Fulton in the near future, it would be a great favor to me if you would visit some of the organizations there and get them to put a float in our Fraternal Float Parade.

We are sending invitations to a number of organizations there, and hope that we can secure a good representation from that city.

Very Truly Yours,
J. A. GRIFFIN,
President Mystique Krewe.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 28, 1908.
Editor Times:—

I will be in Fulton July 4 and 5, and would be pleased to meet any and all committees who are interested in Syracuse Float parade to be held during the State Fair week. Will be at the Clark House Sunday, July 5, at 4 p. m., and will explain the aim and object of the Mystique Krewe Fraternal Float parade. Please make mention of this in your paper and oblige.

GEO. E. McNALLY.
(Nee Mello.)

Books in fine bindings for Commencement Gifts at Lasher's Book Store.

What is so rare as a day in June and a trip on the historic Oswego river in one of the light boats or canoes belonging to the Manhattan Boat Livery?

Eastman Kodaks and Supplies at Lasher's Book Store.

MARRIED

In Oneida on June 23, Miss Eva Palen of this city was united in marriage with Mr. Linn Petrie of Oneida.

In Syracuse on June 24, the Rev. John Yates officiating, occurred the marriage of Mr. Elmer Harper and Miss Emma Wilcox and Mr. Fred Parkhurst of Oswego and Miss Alma Seeley of this city.

On Wednesday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception occurred the marriage of Mr. James Mehegan of the local barge canal corps and Miss Agnes Murphy, the Rev. J. L. Lindsman officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mamie Mahan of Wichita, Kan., and the best man was Mr. Frank Culkin of this city. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Hannibal street and they left on an eastern bridal trip. Among the out-of-town guests present were: Miss Mahan, Mr. and Mrs. John Mahan, Mrs. William Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parker of Wichita, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mehegan and their daughter of New York.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. J. W. Johnson, in Phillipsburg, N. J., occurerd the marriage of Miss May Endora Johnson and Mr. Mark Dee Ewell. After a bridal trip which will include New York city, Buffalo, Rochester and Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell will return to this city where after July 13, they will be at home to their friends at No. 161 South Second street. Mr. Ewell is a leveller in the field party of the local barge canal force and has many friends in this city who will extend congratulations.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

CHARLES W. TAFT,
Nominee for Sheriff

BUTTS SHOE SHOP

FOURTH OF JULY SALE

Our store will be open Friday night, July 3rd, and close at noon, July 4th, for the balance of the day. Many people will need shoes this week and we are planning to help them save money. We will not quote many prices but a visit to our store will convince you that we can take care of your foot troubles and not ruin you financially.

Women's Gun Metal Oxford Ties, were $2.50, now $1.98. These are both stylish and durable.

Women's Oxford Ties on our bargain counter at $1.49. Many of these sold formerly for $2.50 and $3

Misses' Patent Oxford Ties, were $1.50, now $1.25.

Children's Patent Oxford Ties, were $1.25, now $1.00.

Men's Gun Metal Oxford Ties, were $2.75, now $1.98

Your Choice of Our Boys' $2.50 Oxford Ties at $1.98

New Lot of Women's House Slippers on Bargain Counter at 39c.

"Our Shoe Prices Make Times Easier"

110 Oneida Street W. A. BUTTS Fulton, New York

Local and Personal

Mabel and Orton O'Brien are spending the Summer in the Adirondakes

A daughter was born on Sunday to Station Agent and Mrs. C. L. Davis.

Miss Hazel Lamson and spent Sunday with her uncle, Mr. George Blakeman.

Mrs. W. B. Hollingsworth has been entertaining Miss Emma Best of Herkimer.

Mrs. Roy Reynolds has been entertaining her sister, Miss. Hattie Schmeize of Syracuse.

Mrs. Henry Nichols of Syracuse has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Goodjon.

Dr. E. A. Gladman is entertaining a brother who is a student in Magill University, Canada.

Dr. Norman G. Russell of Buffalo spent Sunday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Russell.

The Misses Rice on Friday evening entertained a small party at tea at their home in Third street.

Rev. and Mrs. A. H Grant will return this week from their honeymoon, spent at Selkirk-on-the-Lake.

Mrs. William G. A. Pelley leaves this week for an extended western and southern business trip for the Fulton Toilet Paper Company.

Mrs. R. S. Nobin and daughter Frances, and Miss Frances Forsyth left on Tuesday for Virginia, after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Forsyth.

The local stores will remain open on Friday evening of this week and until noon on Saturday, closing at 12 o'clock for the remainder of the day.

A unique experience was encountered by engineer Mott of one of the engines used on the barge canal work on Thursday. He ran under a guy wire and the cab in which he was sitting was torn loose by the contact and placed on top of the smoke stack.

Joseph Farrell and Floyd Halstead have been appointed official dog catchers at a compensation of $12 per week. The men are making a systematic canvass of the city and will report all dogs not tagged. Such dogs will be taken to the pound and it will cost $1 to recover them and $1 for a license.

Mrs. Mary L. Osborne has been entertaining friends from Salmon River.

Mrs. C. T. Lynch of Geneva is the guest of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCormack.

Arthur and Florence Harding spent Commencement week in Central Square as guests of their cousins, Lena and Ethel Harding.

Mrs. C. J. Bacon's friends will be pleased to learn of her convalescence at her Summer home at Sylvan Beach. Dr. Bacon spent Monday at the Beach.

Cards have been received from St. Louis, Mo., announcing the birth of a daughter, Virginia Burton, to Mr. and Mrs. George Allport, on June 24. Mrs. Allport was formerly Miss Mabel Parmalee of Fulton.

The Girls Friendly society of Zion church will hold an ice cream festival in the park this Wednesday evening. Music will be furnished by the Odd Fellows band. In case of rain the festival will be held on Thursday evening.

It is reported that the Rev. Mr. Miller, formerly a pastor of State Street church, will not longer remain in Old Mexico where he removed with his family some months ago. He expects to locate in the west.

The steam shovel which was used in the barge canal excavation work near Rochester street all the Spring, was taken by First street route on Friday to the northern end of the work where it will be put in commission.

A certificate of incorporation of the Coville Company, of Central Square, has just been filed with the Secretary of State. It will conduct a general mercantile store with a capital of $10,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The company will begin business with a capital of $6,000. The direrters for the first year are: Myron Coville, Henry D. Coville and George H. Devill, of Central Square.

The high School exercises, both Class Night and Commencement, last week, were of an unusually high order and were appreciated, by the immense audiences each evening. In the play the actors carried their several roles like professionals and admiration for their interpretation of the various characters has been expressed. The address by Dr. William G. Bagley, Ph. D., of Oswego on Commencement night, was most interesting and instructive.

Miss Eleanor McCully is in Cleveland, Ohio, attending the National Teacher's Association. She will spend the Summer months in this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McCulley.

Attorney D. P. Morehouse, has commenced an action against the city in the sum of $15,000, for his clients, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lamson. Mrs. Lamson sues to recover $10,000 damages sustained by a fall upon a west side sidewalk, and Mr. Lamson sues for $5,000 for nurses hire, doctors bill, loss of his wife's services &c.

On Thursday evening Mrs. F. A. Summerville entertained about forty friends in farewell to Mrs. F. G. Payne who leaves on July 15, for San Diego, Calif., to spend some time with her son. The home was decorated with cut flowers, and music, games and social intercourse were enjoyed. Just before leaving her room for the scene of the festivity, Mrs. Payne picked up her watch and found attached thereto a handsome gold chain with pearl set charm. Mrs. Payne was indeed mystified as to the source from whence it came and it was not until she had charged her many friends with its presentation that she found it had been presented her by her co-workers in the W. H. Patterson store. During the evening Mrs. Payne was presented with a boquet of roses by a young guest and hailed as the "June bride." Soon after, one of the older "boys" present availed himself of the privelege accorded by brides, and saluted her to the merriment of the assembled group. Ice cream and cake were enjoyed during the evening and at a late hour the party dispersed to their homes.

Our Mid-Summer shoe sale will give the people what they are looking for—Bargains in foot wear. S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Surrogates Court.

The will of Sullivan F. Williams, a well known farmer, of Granby, who died on June 14, has been probated. The petition placed the value of the estate at $8,000 real and $15,000 personal. By the terms of the will a life use of the property is given his wife, Malissa F. Williams. After her death $500 goes to the trustees of the Baptist church society of South Hannibal, $200 to his niece. Ella L. Newton Weller, a farm of 140 acres in Granby to his friend, Mr. Arnold, and the residue to the children of his niece and Mr. Arnold.

FIRST FIFTY IN SCHOLARSHIP.

In the honor list published recently, of those who had been neither tardy nor absent during the school year, the name of Ethel Whitcomb was inadvertently omitted.

The following is a list of the first fifty in scholarship in the High School Department for the second half year:

Grace Lynch	95.4
Alfred Edgarton	94.3
Lena Jennings	93.6
Lena Crockett	91.5
Maria Achilli	91.1
Mills Carr	90.6
James Newton	90.6
Ethel Whitcomb	90.4
Theodosia Meagher	90.3
Ada Aylesworth	90.2
William Jennings	90.
Ruth Anderson	89.4
Vera Cordonnier	89.1
Isabella Diamond	89.1
Dorothy Gage	89.
Harold Perkins	89.
Lawrence Perkins	88.9
Florence Johnson	88.2
Harry Andrews	88.
George Paddock	88.
Doris Barnes	87.6
David Carroll	87.2
Foster Simpson	87.2
Harold Sylvester	87.2
Ruth Earnshaw	87.1
Benjamin Earnshaw	87.
Merrell Wells	87.
Lola Crandall	86.8
Zulma Allen	86.8
Anna Frawley	86.5
Ethel Dann	86.4
Alfred Draper	86.2
Ellen Frawley	86.
Marie Rogers	86.
Eva Rude	86.
Mary Farley	85.7
Doris Devendorf	85.6
Dorothy Webb	85.6
Ronald Allen	85.6
Warren Marvin	85.6
Rachel Lake	85.2
Gertrude Whitaker	85.2
Elsie McIntosh	85.1
Vivian Connelly	85.
Helen Marvin	85.
Helen Rolfe	85.
Knibloe Royce	85.
Harold Evans	84.8
Ruth Nelson	84.6
Helen Gillespie	84.4

Correction

It was natural that I should make a mistake in regard to Robert Lawrence, there being a Robert Lawrence in Fulton who was in the 81st and lost a leg at Cold Harbor, and another Robert Lawrence of New Haven, that went in the 110th and was severely wounded in one of his legs at Port Hudson, but didn't lose it. The former is dead but the latter is living.

S. D. GARDNER

Notable Guest

Messrs E. E. Hart and J S. Moss are entertaining their uncle, Rev. Stephen Harris Taft of Sawtelle, Calif., who is a delegate to the Prohibition National convention to meet in Denver, Col., soon Mr. Taft was at one time pastor of the Gilberts Mills church but during the past sixty years he has enjoyed a national reputation. He was instrumental in the founding of Humboldt college and the city of Humboldt was practically organized through his efforts. Mr. Taft is now past 80 but there is no appearance of weakening in mind or body. His alert mind and wonderful store house of knowledge and memory are delights to all with whom he comes in contact.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Spirited Repartee

In making a sharp turn, the rear end of a street-car struck an express-wagon laden with jugs of whiskey. Nearly all the jugs were precipitated to the pavement, with the natural disastrous result. The driver of the wagon alighted, and, pointing at the pile of demolished earthenware, said to a bystander, "That's hell, ain't it?"

The spectator, who happened to be a minister, replied, "Well, my friend, I don't know that I would say that, but it's at least the abode of departed spirits."

—July Lippincott's

Twenty-Five Cents is the Price of Pence.

The terrible itching and smarting, incident to certain skin diseases, is almost instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

A Good-Wish Rose.

"A clever idea was carried out a recent 'shower' for a bride-to-be," s July Woman's Home Companion. the invitation each guest was reque to send in, prior to the party, a wish the bride. The hostess made a bea ful large white paper rose, and be putting it together she wrote on e petal a wish and the name of the wis As is usual in most cases, some of guests forgot to send in a wish brought one with them, and ot wrote them after they arrived. For purpose a large paper rosebud had made, into which the wishes slipped, and the bud twisted up ag The guest of honor was charmed the rose and rosebud, and said that should always keep it as a reminde her friends, whom she was soon to l for a new home in a distant city."

Critical Eye for Babies

The five year-old daughter of a Br lyn man has such a large experienc dolls that she feels herself to be sc thing of a connoisseur in children.

Recently there came a real live b into the house.

When it was put into her arms five-year-old survived it with a cri eye.

"Isn't it a nice baby?" asked the m

"Yes, it's nice baby," answered youngster hesitatingly. "It's nice, its head's loose."

—July Lippincot

CIRON, No. 24065
[REGISTERED]

FRENCH PERCHER

Black—Weight 1700 Pounds
A Prize Winner Wherever Shown

$10.00 CASH SERVICE

Usual Return Privilege

SCOTTDALE FAR

Henry Elbare, Mgr. Minetto,

A Rare Opportunity

is presented for you to

Invest With Cash Papworth

Our mail order department is young; still we are doing business in over twenty-five states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer you the preferred stock in

Cash Papworth Premium Co.

at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to

Draw 7% Dividends Annually

and said dividends are payable on January 10th each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest, would say, that any person who buys this stock can, at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to five hundred. Not more than five hundred shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to

CASH PAPWORTH

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Keep Cool!

Cook With Gas

Heat, soot and ashes are inseparable from the use of a coal or wood range. Do away with these terrors of the housewife.

Perfect comfort, cleanliness and convenience can only be attained in one way—cook with Gas.

No worry about kindling or ashes, no muss on the floor, no coal or wood to carry and a saving of time and money—when using gas. Are these points not worth considering? If they are—send for our representative—a postal card or phone will get him, fully prepared to give complete information as to merits and workings of the Modern Gas Range.

A large and complete stock of the latest improved gas ranges on display at our office. Call and see them.

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Phone 188

THE OLD FASHIONED WAY OF BANKING has been ours for twenty years No matter what others may do we do not change. The old fashioned way of doing things in banking has always proven to be the best. The old time friendships, the old home, the old memories and the things we love, and the old fashioned bank we never can forget. Some folks change their ideas or methods from the old to the new once in a while, but somehow after a time they wander back to the old home where they feel acquainted, where the hand clasp is firm, the look from the eye is straight, and they feel secure. In these days of speculation and extravagance, of storm and stress, it behoves every man and woman to stop and think. Saving is but a habit, acquire it, and teach it to your children and your friends.

ROCHESTER TRUST & SAFE DEPOSIT CO.

Cor. Exchange and Main Streets — Rochester, N. Y

Legal Notices

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibble & Frances Kibble.

By virtue of an execution against the property of Frances Kibble, in the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, I, Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 15th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall, in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibble had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to, all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton, now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 150 of said City.

Dated June 30th, 1908.

HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.

BY JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.

A. T. Jennings, attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor. Office and Post Office Adress, No. 9 So. First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-12

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D. 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.
10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April A. D. 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Legal Notice

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 266 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.

11-9

Expected Reduction.

Grandpa Macpherson—How many do two and two make, Donald? Donald—Six. Grandpa—What are you talking about? Two and two make four, Donald—Yes, I know, but I thought you'd "beat me down" a bit!—London Punch.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

COUNTY AND DISTRICT CONVENTIONS

Republicans Place in Nomination a Winning Ticket Which Is Sure of Success at the Coming Fall Election—Appropriate Resolutions Adopted.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican County Convention, which was held at Pulaski last Thursday, has passed into history. The keenest interest was manifested in the selection of candidates—a very stubborn contest being waged in the Shrievalty nomination, resulting in the selection of Charles W. Taft of Williamstown on the ninth ballot. The contestants for this office were Messrs. Taft, Tooley of Palermo, Simons of Redfield, White of Richland, Dennis, Dempsey and Moran of Oswego City, and Carl Chiler of West Monroe. The struggle finally narrowed down to Taft and Tooley—the vote on the final ballot being—Taft, 137; Tooley, 87.

The convention was called to order at 11:30 o'clock by County Chairman F. E. Sweetland. After the roll call and substitutions H. D. Coville of Central Square was chosen chairman and J. S. Parsons, Oswego, and Dr. F. B. Foote, Parish, secretaries and Dr. H. L. Lake, Fulton, and Frank Whittemore, of Scriba, tellers.

After the adoption of appropriate resolutions endorsing the results attained by the Republican National administration, endearing itself to the great mass of people under the bold leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. Commending the wisdom of national representatives in the choice of William H. Taft as a nominee of the Republican Party for President and James S. Sherman for Vice-President. Endorsing the wise procedure of Governor Charles E. Hughes in the discharge of his duties as chief executive of the Empire State; also, giving expression to the appreciation of the manner in which Colonel John T. Mott discharged the duties of State Committeeman, who was ever watchful, sagacious and politic in guarding the interests of this district. The most hearty support was pledged to all the nominees of the Republican party on the assurance that the interests of the people would be best conserved by the continuance of Republican administration. In conclusion it was resolved that the counties of Oswego and Jefferson, composing the 35th Senatorial District, should have equal representation in the Senatorial Convention, and it was strongly recommended that the committees from this county, having the matter in charge, should insist upon such representation.

The following County Committee was selected for the ensuing term: Albion, James Buckley; Amboy, W. E. Lewis; Boylston, W. F. Ridgeway; Constantia, E. A. Blair; Granby, K. D. Pierce; Hannibal, J. B. Burt; Hastings, H. D. Coville; Mexico, W. L. Buck; New Haven, Frank Stevens; Orwell, S. J. Olmstead; Oswego Town, Frank W. Thorpe; Oswego City, First Ward, John S. Parsons; Second, Edward Chatterton; Third, Edward Hanna; Fourth, James H. Cooper; Fifth, James Smith; Sixth, F. E. Sweetland; Seventh, N. J. Schuler; Eighth, F. D. Culkin; Palermo, George Jackson; Parish, W. C. David; Redfield, George S. Thompson; Richland, J. W. Parkhurst; Sandy Creek, P. G. Hydorn; Schroeppel, T. C. Sweet; Scriba, C. I. Kingsbury; Volney, A. A. Dean; West Monroe, Charles Feickert; Williamstown, C. W. Taft; Fulton, First Ward, Fred Smith; Second, J. W. Stevenson; Third, Charles Lockrow; Fourth, B. W. Bennett; Fifth, E. Dyer; Sixth, H. Putnam Allen.

William B. Baker was placed in nomination for County Judge by J. H. Cooper of Oswego and the nomination was warmly seconded by Alfred Moran and others. The nomination was unanimously made.

George Loomis of Orwell named Freelon J. Davis for District Attorney and C. I. Kingsbury presented the name of C. Adelbert Stone of Scriba as Superintendent of the Poor. Both nominations were unanimously made.

The nomination for Sheriff was then called for. The name of Charles W. Taft of Williamstown, was presented by the Rev. F. W. West of Williamstown, and warmly seconded by H. C Lafflgraff of Constantia. John Wilson presented George G. Simons of Redfield as a candidate. N. B. Smith of Pulaski made the seconding speech.

L. W. Baker offered the name of W. J. Dempsey of Oswego, F. A. Glynn seconding. F. E. Sweetland named John Dennis and W. D. Streeter presented Frank W. White of Richland. The name of Minard F. Tooley of Palermo was presented by George Jackson of Palermo and seconded by B. W. Bennett of Fulton. Michael O'Connell of Oswego made the nominating speech for Alfred Moran and Lewis Traub of Hastings for Carl Chiler.

The nomination for Special County Judge aroused more than usual interest. There were several candidates, but the contest narrowed down to A. T. Jennings and George M. Fanning, both residents of this city. On the fourth ballot, however, Mr. Jennings very gracefully withdrew in favor of Mr. Fanning, and he became the choice of the convention for the office.

WILLIAM B. BAKER
Nominated for County Judge

After F. E. Sweetland had been elected chairman of the county committee and W. E. Lewis secretary and treasurer, the convention adjourned.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The District Convention was called to order by Col. John T. Mott, Chairman of the District Committee, at 1 o'clock on Wednesday in the Court House. After roll call by W. M. Richardson of Mexico, the chairman announced that the committee had decided upon the following organization of the convention: Chairman, Elisha B. Powell, Oswego; Secretaries, W. M. Richardson, Mexico; Dr. W. Wetmore, New Haven; Tellers, E. A. Blair, Constantia, and F. D. Culkin, Oswego.

Frank L. Smith of Schroeppel became the unanimous choice of the convention for Member of Assembly. He is one of the best known Republicans in the county, having represented his town for several years on the Board of Supervisors. He will make an admirable representative.

Mr. Smith was placed in nomination by Clarence A. Larned of Schroeppel, and the nomination was warmly seconded and unanimously made by the convention.

Judge Stowell was given the privilege of naming his own delegates to the Congressional Convention on motion of Col. John T. Mott, and he announced the selection of the following

Frederick G. Whitney, Richland; William B. Baker, Oswego; Don A. Colony, Sandy Creek; W. C. Richards, Parish; Samuel G. Mattison, Albion; E. E. Frost, Harry M. Stacy, Torrey A. Ball, Oswego; H. Putnam Allen, Fulton; Gerard Taft, Volney; A. B. Simpson, Scriba.

The following State delegates were named:

John T. Mott, Merrick Stowell,

(Continued on Page 7.)

SOUVENIR

Friday, July 3 and Saturday, July 4
Until Noon

China Oat Meals

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

In addition to usual checks with

Spices, Extracts, Chocolate, Cocoa, Teas, Coffees, Etc.

SUGARS AT COST

28 East First Street — Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 — F. A. RUDD, Manager

The Companies that Paid Lossess in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are All represented in the office of

STREETER & PLATT

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y

GENEROUS INVITATION

Joseph H. Francis of Chicago Extends Courtesies of Democratic Convention Hall to Fultonians who contemplate visiting Denver.

Should anyone from Fulton or vicinity be in Denver, Colo., during the Democratic National Convention they will be extended the courtesies of of the convention hall if they will make themselves known to Joseph H. Francis, a former Fultonian, who is a member of the Chicago delegation to the convention. His son, John W. Francis is also an assistant sergeant-at-arms and can easily be found. The Chicago delegation will leave for Denver July 4, and including their friends, will have a party of about two hundred of the leading Democrats of that city. They will be accompanied by a band of sixty pieces and travel in a special train. On Sunday, July 5, they will be tendered a reception by Mr and Mrs. Jennings Bryan at Lincoln, Nebraska. Silk hats, black suits, white gloves and ties, and a silk umbrella will constitute the uniform. They will parade at Omaha, Lincoln, Denver and other important points going to and from the convention Roger C. Sullivan has presented each of the Chicago delegates with a most elaborate and expensive badge.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol for Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 26 pounds; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity may be benefitted. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by all druggists.

The July American Boy.

Young America and the glorious Fourth is well depicted on the handsome colored front cover of the July American Boy, and the contents of the magazine will surely satisfy every reader, in variety, interesting, and instructive reading. How Tony Leavitt Kept Independence Day in 1777 tells of how the coolness and courage of an American boy saved the colonial troops from disaster. Among the larger articles are: To American Boy Graduates; The Boyhood of Successful Men; The Olympic Champions; The Editor Wants to Say: Some Strange Birds and their Nests; Training the Baby Elephant to Carry Babies, and First Congress of Chinese Kite Flyers amaze the American boy. The usual departments are filled with matter interesting and instructive. In addition there are over 80 illustrations. $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

The

1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:30 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$3.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17.
Olcott Beach July 7th.
9-12

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 68 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

After the local correspondents finish deciding upon the site for the new federal building for Fulton, perhaps they will permit the government's accredited representative who will later be sent here to investigate the different proposals, to have some say in the matter. He has been locating sites for Federal buildings for some time and may be able to decide judiciously and to the satisfaction of Post Office patrons. At any rate he will permit neither politics nor religion to have any part in the decision but will consult simply and only the vital points. It is amusing to an intelligent reader to learn anew each night through the medium of the daily press, the most impossible situations anent the proposition. The sealed proposals were opened at Washington on Tuesday.

Grover Cleveland's death on Thursday morning removed the only living ex-president of the United States and the biggest man claimed by the Democracy. He never sought notoriety and his burial services were in keeping with his modest tastes. At the bier President Roosevelt, in the presence of a very few personal friends, and prior to the simple services, paid a tribute to the good qualities of the dead and the body was laid away with as little pomp and circumstance as might attend the burial of a plain citizen.

The ticket placed in nomination in Pulaski on Thursday, looks very much like a winner. There are some contests for nomination but the disappointed parties are not of the calibre to knife the winner because he won out. They are all broad enough men and good enough Republicans to stand by the ticket and bide their time until the whirl-a-gig of fate brings a like honor to them.

The National nominees are way and ahead of any candidates yet suggested by their opponents as possible standard bearers. The only W. J. Bryan demands the lime light once more and again his party will play the funeral march to his political grave, if he insists upon the nomination, which he has strength enough to force.

It is reported that Secretary of State Root is President Roosevelt's choice for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to fill the vacancy that will be caused by the retirement of Chief Justice Fuller. There is no question that the legal ability of Elihu Root would add greatly to the weight and dignity of the Supreme Court. Mr. Root is sixty-three years of age and in the prime of life. The question is not whether he is big enough for the place but whether he would make the sacrifice his acceptance would entail. Secretary Root is not a wealthy man, as wealth is measured these days, and had he followed his own inclinations would have retired from the Cabinet some time ago to resume the active practice of law. The distinguished honor of being Chief Justice of the United States is one not to be thrown lightly aside and many hope that Secretary Root will decide to accept the offer the President has made.

Republican discipline has again triumphed over Republican discontent. Before the extras were on the streets in Chicago announcing the nomination of Secretary Taft, his apponents were telegraphing their felicitations. Senator Foraker, most prominent of the allies, wrote immediately to Mr. Taft, extending "heartiest congratulations and best wishes for success in November"; while Mr. Taft thanked the Ohio Senator "from the bottom of my heart", and adds, "I have never ceased to remember that I owe to you my first substantial start in public life, and that it came without solicitation." When the convention met in Chicago there were many signs of a revolt, but they have all disappeared now.

Secretary Loeb has announced that there will be a change in the inaugural ceremony at Washington next March. Heretofore it has been the custom for the inaugurated President and his predecessor to ride together to the White House, after the oath of office has been administered at the Capitol. President Roosevelt has decided, no matter whom his successor may be, he will not accompany him to the White House, but will, immediately after the ceremony at the Capitol, go to the Union station and take the train for Oyster Bay.

A New York contemporary has pointed out some interesting facts, among which is that for the first time since 1864, the Republican party presents for the suffrages of the American people a man without military record or title. Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Harrison, and McKinley were officers of the Civil war, while Roosevelt received his colonelcy in the war with Spain. Taft is a civilian. His victories have been victories of peace.

Mr. Roosevelt's attitude in declining to permit under any circumstance, the use of his name before the Chicago convention, fixes beyond appeal as the unwritten and forever to be unbroken law of the republic that no President under any stress of circumstances shall be given a third successive term. This decision of Mr. Roosevelt has added to his fame, and to the high estimation in which he will be held by posterity.

However it is looked at, either by itself or in comparison with preceding platforms, the new declaration of the principles of the Republican party is a record of progress and no less a promise of further progress. The fact that both Mr. Gompers and Mr. Bryan are dissatisfied with the platform will cause the majority of people to feel sure that it must be a good one.

Mens, Ladies and children 2-Buckle canvas Oxfords one year a head of the rush at S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Local and Personal

Miss Hazel Gardner continues to gain in health.

Miss Rachel Lake is convalescing from an attack of tonsilitis.

Mrs. C. E. Denton of Phoenix spent Sunday with Fulton Friends.

Mrs. W. B. Fuller of Syracuse spent Sunday with Mrs. F. E. Goodjon.

Mrs. Ward Dow of New Haven spent Sunday with Mrs. W. H. Patterson.

Miss Fanny S. Reynolds has returned from a visit with her brother in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Nichols have sold their recently erected house near New York city.

Miss Helen Gillespie spent a portion of last week in Mexico, a cousin graduating from Mexico Academy at that time.

Miss B. Hall is in Warsaw, attending a house party at the home of a bride-elect, the wedding festivities to occur this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Tetley of Albany will arrive in Fulton on Friday and become the guest of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lake entertained as over-Sunday guests Mrs. Elden Storm of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Stiffey of Greeley, Col.

Mrs. D. E. Mason has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. P. Osborne in Dryden. Mr. Osborne has re-entered business after two years vacation.

The Misses Mabel Chesley and Lucile Townsend who are well known in Fulton, sail on Friday for England, where they will spend the Summer months.

Messrs. F. E. Sweetland and William E. Lewis have been re-appointed chairman and secretary of the Republican County Committee.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Lee are entertaining Miss Helen Case of Wichita, Kan. On Monday afternoon, Mrs. Lee entertained a party of young ladies in honor of her guest.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Munger and Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. H. E. Wismer and son of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fish of Phoenix were the over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright of Hawks District.

While playing with his little grandson Friday afternoon Veteran William Watson sustained a stroke of paralysis. He had been in apparently perfect health up to the moment he was stricken.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter were in Oswego on Wednesday, attending the wedding of Miss Meda Maynard Van-Horne and Mr. Richard Hayes Hobbie Mr. Hobbie is a member of the Kitts Manufacturing company of Oswego.

Attorney and Mrs. Albert T. Jennings are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a 9-pound son, born on Sunday. Mrs. Jennings and son, who are at the home of the former's parents in Jamesville, are doing nicely.

Miss Jane Waugh on Monday evening entertained a number of girls who formerly comprised the Young Ladies' Whist club, at a lawn tea at her home in honor of Mrs. R. S. Noblin of South Boston, Va., and Miss Mary Nichols of Syracuse.

Situation Wanted

A first class accountant and office man, thoroughly familiar with up-to-date methods of cost accounting, wants position with manufacturing concern. Address X, Times office, Fulton. tf

If your eye-sight is giving you trouble call it to Morgan, 116 Cayuga street.

Clothing Values...

For Men . . . . .
For Young Men
For Boys . . . .

That you cannot afford to pass by. Clothing at the same prices before the 4th of July as after

We are overstocked owing to the financial condition and are selling our Suits at 1-4 OFF price, same as we do at the end of the season. Dress up for the 4th with Up-to-Date Clothing at 1-4 off our regular price---That means:

You buy a $22 Suit now for $16.50
You buy a $20 Suit now for $15.00
You buy a $18 Suit now for $13.50
You buy a $17 Suit now for $12.75
You buy a $16 Suit now for $12.00
You buy a $15 Suit now for $ 11.25
You buy a $12 Suit now for $ 9.00
You buy a $10 Suit now for $ 8.00

All our clothing is made by the leading makers of the country. They are made and trimmed properly. Come and be clothed now and get the use of it at August prices.

Our usual guarantee—"Money refunded if goods are not as represented"—goes with every sale.

S. LIPSKY & SON

First Street — Lewis Block — Fulton, N. Y.

The First Methodist society has sold the parsonage, corner Third and Oneida streets, to Mr. S. Waldhorn. Consideration $2,800. Mr. Waldhorn will remodel the house and convert it into one of the most desirable residences in the city, and with his family he will occupy it. The church society will undoubtedly at once rent or build a parsonage

Mrs. Alta Holden, teacher in the Luddington school, whose husband is employed nights every other week in one of the paper mills in this city, was aroused one night last week by the peculiar antics of a pet cat that slept in the room with her, and upon going to the window she was grabbed by a man who entered her room She endeavored to beat off the intruder but failing, ran to a front window and called for help. Neighbors came to to her assistance and the man made off. He was apprehended by the police later, Mrs. Holden's home is about two miles east of Fulton.

Last Saturday a most enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. H. L. Lake in Fourth street when seventeen out of twenty-four former school mates and life long friends were invited to her home. Seven years ago a like gathering was held at Mrs. Lake's and this is the first meeting enjoyed by many of the friends since. The guests present were Mrs. Belle Maynard Stiffey, Greely, Col., Mrs. Gertrude Dada Fuller, Mrs. Puss Stewart Baldwin, Mrs. Minnie Salmon Frazer, and Miss Ada Thayer, Syracuse; Mrs. Alice Jennison Dowd, New Haven; Mrs. Hattie Dada Storms, Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Grace Smith Dutcher, Phoenix; Mrs. May French Willard, Mrs. Julia Kimball Steele, Mrs. Cora Foster Carlisle, Mrs. Abbie Stevens Foster, Mrs. Lillian Hall Foster, Mrs. Bertha Lee Royce, Mrs. Frank Lake Patterson and Mrs. Hattie Bradshaw Barlow. In all the years that have elapsed since the ladies were children together the death of Mrs. Allie Waterman Goodyear, which occurred this Spring, was the first break in the chain. Mrs. Lake served tea to her guests on the lawn at her home, and the good byes were reluctantly spoken at a late hour.

The annual outing of the Ministers Association of this city took place on Monday afternoon. The party numbering sixteen, sailed as far as Phoenix on the Richardson launch "Vesta" and returned for supper at High Banks. Enough of the brethren had experience as weather makers to hold back the copious showers of the morning and late evening, the dust of the river was well laid and the star products of parsonage cooking so beautifully provided by the ladies, furnished ample opportunity to prove that "them pious eats awful." It was here that the proposed race of heavy weights showed remarkable staying qualities. The real contest seemed to lie between Calvinists and Arminians but as some had a special handicap after slight casualities in disembarking, the relative ability of contestants was not determined. The ornithologists indulged freely in their favorite pastime until birds as well as bathers withdrew, feeling themselves outstripped by the melody of the evening songs. There were many motions looking toward a sort of moving and continuous performance of the troupe, but what was exacted will be best revealed by the future rather than the records of the occasion. The condition of a pail which was no longer pale may suggest the future course. "Whose pail was it?" is the question at stake.

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Works held on Monday evening, a resolution was presented and adopted, instructing City Engineer Breed to furnish profile maps of Worth street, from the end of the river bridge, and Hannibal street from First street to Worth to Hannibal, to the city line; also Oneida street, from Second to city line, and Cayuga street from Second to Third street, for the purpose of building sewers and paving above named streets. The City Engineer was also instructed to make an accurate measurement of all undivided frontage on Oneida street, between Second and Sixth streets.

A resolution was also adopted authorizing a settlement for $7,500 of the action against the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland to recover $10,000, the amount of the bond executed by that company and Frank Pidgeon to the City of Fulton for the construction of the West Side sanitary trunk sewer. On payment of said sum ($7,500) by the trust company all proceedings were to be discontinued without costs to either party.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system and at the same time it allays inflammation and stops irritation. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.

DIED.

Louis Spaulding Phelps, aged 46, a native and life long resident until last year of Fulton, died on June 17, at Banks, Oregon, at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Ezra Wright. His widow, one daughter, Marion, and two sons, Homer of Fulton and Harry of Portsmouth, N. H., and one brother, Homer of this city survive. Interment was made at Banks.

On Monday, in the Hospital of the Good Shepherd, Syracuse, occurred the death of Horatio S. Coates, aged 56, he having been removed to Syracuse on Sunday. The deceased had resided in this city nearly all of his life and for several years past he had managed the Hotel Fulton. He was a member of Hiram Lodge, F. & A. M. The deceased is survived by two daughters, who reside in the West.

Charles Alonzo Clark, aged 33, died on Monday morning at the parents' home in Emery street after a six months' illness. The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, and his widow, Mrs. Emma Clark. The funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this Wednesday afternoon, Hiram Lodge, of which the deceased was a member, having charge of the funeral.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Sold by all druggists.

New Malay Opium Cure

Being Distributed Free by a New York Society.

Co-operating with missions in Malaysia, the Windsor Laboratories of New York have secured a supply of the wonderful combretum plant, which has done so much to revolutionize the treatment of the opium habit.

A generous supply of the new remedy, together with full instructions for its use, and United States consular reports bearing on the subject will be sent to any sufferer. To obtain a free supply of this remedy and the consular reports, address Windsor Laboratories, Branch 20, 134 East 28th Street, New York City.

Great Clearance Sale

—AT—

THE FAIR STORE

Sale Commences Friday, July 3 and Continues 15 Days. :: ::

While in New York for one solid week hunting for bargains, we secured several thousand dollars worth of nice, clean merchandise far under price and our intention is to put these goods on sale for the people of Fulton and vicinity at prices which they have never heard before. It will be nothing but bargains at The Fair Store. Our prices cannot be duplicated---we do not know of any other store in Fulton that advertises as many price reductions for any one sale and lives up to the advertising.

READ! Underwear, Hosiery, Notions, Dress Goods, Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Graniteware, Woodenware, all kinds of Fire-Works, Flags, Carpet Sweepers, Etc. Read big bills for prices.

You cannot afford to miss this sale as there is money in it for you. Thanking you for past patronage and awaiting your future trade.

S. WALDHORN

18 First Street — Waldhorn Block — Fulton, N. Y.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

....JULY SALE....

Startling bargains for this week

15c Wash Goods in White and Colors, at 8c
19c Wash Goods in large variety of patterns at 10c
25c Summer Goods, all are extra good style at 19c
8c Apron Ginghams, at 5c
10c Hamburg, at 5c

Great Clean-Up-Sale in all Departments

O. Henderson & Co.

H. A. Waldorf, Manager
109 Oneida Street — Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

The New Wash Day!

A Motor Driven Washing Machine makes washing easy and drives away Blue Monday. The outfit is simple, always ready, and the power costs only a few cents for a washing. The wash washes itself and does not interfere with other work. Let us show you the benefits.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Charles Upson of Palermo was in town over Sunday.

Mrs. O'Grady of Third street has been ill but is now improving.

Gardner Dunham of Pratt Institute is the guest of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopper of Hannibal Center were in town over Sunday.

Rev. Ernest Hopper of Mexico preached at Zion Church last Sunday.

Miss Florence Distin is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Distin.

Mrs. Chauncey Wolever of Broadway returned from a visit to Buffalo last week.

Mrs. Carver of Skaneateles is visiting her son, E. J. Carver, of South Third street.

Mr. Will Tucker of New York city is the guest of his sister, Miss Grace J. Tucker.

Miss Lucy Kelly has resigned her position in the telephone office at Canandaigua.

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

The work of re-decorating the Catholic church has been commenced.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones of South Third street have returned from a vacation at Mexico Point.

Mrs. George Palmer of Worth street is spending a few days with Mrs. S. F. Williams in Granby.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Bishop and daughter of Syracuse have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Porter.

W. Maurice Dunham has accepted a position with the Maxwell Brisco Automobile works of Tarrytown.

S. B. Wells of Park street was at his farm at South Hannibal last week to superintend the building of a silo.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Connell of Oneida street attended the Connell reunion at Long Branch last Friday. There were thirty present.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Fulton Hospital will be held in the Citizen's club rooms, Thursday, July 2, at 4 p. m.

The grocers and meat dealers will keep open stores on Friday evening and until noon on Saturday, closing at noon for the remainder of the day.

Charles Thompson left the cover partly off one night last week of his brooder to admit the air and the rats killed 85 White Rock chicks a week old.

Dr. Fred W. Cary of New York city, who graduated this Spring from a New York Dental College, is located at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cary, No. 361 Park street, for the Summer.

From all sources comes the information that many from this city will attend the Fourth of July celebration at Mount Pleasant. The program arranged for the day's entertainment gives promise of many interesting events and the prizes are of sufficient value to warrant many participating in the events. It will certainly be a great day for Mount Pleasant.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. F. T. Payne, a Times representative has been permitted to see a copy of The New England Weekly Journal, of Monday, April 8, 1728. The paper is of two pages, 9x12, and is framed in a gilt frame with glass on both sides so that it is possible to read every word. There are four advertisements in the paper; the deaths chronicled for the town of Boston since the last edition being five whites and one black; a thirteen year old negro girl is offered for sale; a negro woman aged 22 years is offered for sale; coffee is quoted for sale at 8 shillings per pound; a man announces his intention of opening a school for the instruction of negroes in reading, catachizing and writing. The valuable document has been in Mrs. Payne's family for many years.

Canvas Shoes for outing wear. S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

Fred Harper of this city has this week received naturalization papers.

Mr. Charles Currier, Jr., of New York city, is the guest of his parents on the west side.

Mr. Harvey Wiley of Camillus is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Moody.

Mrs. E. G. Cary on Friday afternoon delightfully entertained a party of friends at her home on Third street. Following the dinner an automobile trip to Oswego was enjoyed by the guests and supper was served upon the return home. The out-of-town guests left on the late train for their homes.

County Treasurer Moore has received a check for $13,455.66 from the State Highway fund to be placed to the credit of the eight towns of the county operating under the money system as follows: Hannibal, $2,034.22; Mexico, $2,467.71; New Haven, $1,675; Orwell, $1,047.53; Oswego, $1,711.78; Palermo, $1,555.21; Parish, $1,385.91; Sandy Creek, $1,578.26.

Two very pleasant recitals were given at the home of Mrs. N. H. Hayland on Saturday afternoon and Monday evening. About forty pupils were present at each recital. Miss Edna Smith of Syracuse being present and rendering the Sonata Pathetique by Beethoven in a delightful manner. Prizes were given for good work and regular attendance to Mabel Hubbard, and for regular attendance to Lena Hatch, Ruth Molty and Gertrude Rowlee, after which dainty refreshments were served.

The Wise family reunion was held on Tuesday at the home of Mr. Harvey Wise near Mount Pleasant. The date was also the 87th natal anniversary of Mr. John Wise and he was the recipient of hearty congratulations. The dinner was served at noon upon the spacious lawn and was partaken of by Mr. Wise and his fifteen grandchildren, thirteen great-grandchildren, his brother, Alexander Wise of Cleveland, Ohio; his grand-nephew, Harold Allport of Cleveland, Ohio, and seventeen invited guests. Following the dinner recitations were enjoyed. A letter was also read from Mr. Ovid Taft, aged 76, congratulating Messrs. John and Alexander Wise upon their length of years and thanking them for their kindnesses to him when he was a boy. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Clarence Smith; vice president, Wesley Goodfellow; secretary, Florence Darling. The next family reunion will be held on June 23, 1909, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Allen in Palermo.

Morgan's glasses make the world seem brighter.

Complete Protection

Fire Insurance

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Landseer's Persistent Wooer.

Charles Landseer was a brother of Sir Edwin "and for some years," says the writer of "Leaves From a Life," "was the victim of the most extraordinary persecution that I should think any man ever met with. An eccentric woman fell desperately in love with him and used to pester him first with the most extravagant love letters and then by lying in wait for him whenever he left the house. Finally she issued invitations to the wedding, prepared breakfast and an enormous cake and called for poor Mr. Landseer in a carriage and pair, the horses decked out with white satin streamers and she herself dressed most gorgeously as a bride. But that was the end of the persecution. Her friends took her away, and Mr. Landseer remained a bachelor to the day of his death."

There is one preparation known today that will promptly help the stomach. This is Kodol. Kodol digests all classes of food, and it does it thoroughly, so that the use of Kodol for a time will without doubt help anyone who has stomach disorders or stomach trouble. Take Kodol today and continue it for the short time that is necessary to give you complete relief. Kodol is sold by all druggists.

His Desire to Reform.

Discussing poverty on one occasion, the Dutch poet and economist Van Eeden said, "We want reform, and we want it about as badly as a Dutch student I knew in my youth.

"This student's chum said to him:

"'Look here, I'm tired of the life I've been leading for the past two years. I'm going to reform. This morning I shall attend a lecture.'

"My student, a confirmed idler, yawned, put down his pipe and answered:

"'Yes; it would be splendid to reform, and yet the beer is very good here this morning, isn't it? I tell you what we'll do. We'll let my dog Wilhelm decide whether we reform or not.'

"'Wilhelm decide! How will he do it?'

"'Oh, it is very simple. We'll tell the waiter to bring a piece of sausage. We'll set the sausage before Wilhelm, and if he eats it we stay where we are. If he doesn't, we reform and go to lectures.'"—Washington Star.

The Supposed Life on Mars.

Not only do the observations we have scanned lead us to the conclusion that Mars at this moment is inhabited, but they land us at the further one that these denizens are of an order whose acquaintance was worth the making. Whether we ever shall come to converse with them in any more instant way is a question upon which science at present has no data to decide. More important to us is the fact that they exist, made all the more interesting by their precedence of us in the path of evolution. Their presence certainly ousts us from any unique or self centered position in the solar system, but so with the world did the Copernican system the Ptolemaic, and the world survived this deposing change. So may man. To all who have a cosmo-planetary breadth of view it cannot but be pregnant to contemplate extra mundane life and to realize that we have warrant for believing that such life now inhabits the planet Mars.—Professor Lowell in Century.

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.
STOCK BROKERS
Oswego Office—No. 6 Neal Block
Phone 1208 C. J. Bellinger, Mgr.
Securities bought and sold for cash or on moderate margins.
New York Office—53 Broadway

Great 4th of July Sale at Stranahan & VanBuren's

Store will be open Friday night, July 3, and close at noon, July 4, for the balance of the day. We have set off some of the snappiest low shoes in our store at a great reduction in price.

Women's Patent Colt and Plain Kid $2.50 Oxfords at.....$1.98
Misses' Patent Colt Oxfords, were $1.50; sale price.....$1.25
Children's Patent Colt Oxfords, regular $1.25 kind, at.....98c
Men's Always-Wear-Well Sample Oxfords, formerly sold at $4 00 and $5.00; sale price.....$3.00
Men's Patent Colt Shoes and Oxfords, were $2.50 and $3.00; sale price.....$1.98
Boys' Patent $2.50 Oxfords at.....$1.98

Stranahan & VanBuren

The Store with a Red Front

116 Oneida Street Fulton

Norm G. Cooper writes The Times from Oberlin, Ohio, that he expects to celebrate the greatest event in American history on July 5, his seventieth birthday. Mr. Cooper's many friends in this city will tender him sincere congratulations upon having found the fountain of perpetual youth and extend to him hearty wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Special prices upon trimmed Hats and all Millinery Goods for the Fourth of July at Young's, Cayuga street.

Advertised Letters.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., July 1, 1908:

W. S. Darling, George Conger, Jos. DeDeyn, Wm. Judson, John Huftle, J. Earl Snyder, Mr. Healy, Leon Hall, 3671, Mrs. Mae DeCaire, Mrs. E. N. Mitchell, Mrs. Frank Hammik, Mrs. Margaret Martin, Mrs. Frederick Duntap, Jessie M. Gaffey, Miss Carrie A. Helmer.

WILLIAM E. HUGHES, Postmaster.

Buy your outing Oxfords at S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

The man who wants a safe place to keep his money, a place where he can leave it with the certainty of getting all or any part of it at any time, is an appreciated patron at this Bank.

We do a general commercial banking business—we co-operate with and assist our customers in the up-building of their business.

We are constantly gaining new patrons and shall be pleased to number YOU among them.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, FULTON, N. Y.

GREAT WALDORF SALE!

The Name "Waldorf" Stands for Satisfaction in Style, Quality, Fit and Price

Waldorf Remnants

Hundreds of yards of Wash Goods from Waldorf Shirt Waist Factory, worth as high as 35c a yard, for 6c and 8c a yard

Waldorf Shirt Waist Suits

175 Sample Waldorf Shirt Waist Suits, some worth as high as $7.50 each, for $2.98 and $3.98 each. Less than the cost of making.

Waldorf Separate Skirts

167 White Separate Skirts from Waldorf factory at wholesale prices. Value $1.50 to $7.50 each, will sell from 98c to $3.75 each. These are as choice a line of skirts as was ever offered Fulton ladies.

Waldorf Black Silk Waists

50 Beautiful Black Silk Waists, Waldorf samples, worth $5.00; $5.50, $6.00 to $7.50 each; your choice for $3.98. Not a great many of these, but the choicest styles of the whole lot.

Fancy Silk Waists to sell for $2.98 to 3.98 each.

This is positively a great opportunity as proven by the way the suits were sold before they were marked down and ready to offer to customers.

This Store will be open Friday evening, July 3, and close Saturday, July 4, at noon

Oneida Street W. H. PATTERSON Next to P. O.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
357 UNIVERSITY BLDG. SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
Special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON.
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 143. Residence over store, No. 40 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet, Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bunions, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblains and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego.
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego.

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogate's Court.

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in the city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in atomizers 75 cts.
Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

On to Quebec

The Invasion of the Historic City on the St. Lawrence by Those Who Will Celebrate Its Foundation Three Hundred Years Ago by Champlain.

PERHAPS no city on the American continent has such a picturesque location and such romantic associations as Quebec. The celebration of the tercentenary of its foundation in 1608 by Samuel de Champlain brings to mind the majestic promontory on which is located its once formidable citadel and recalls a long train of remarkable events. From the voyage of Jacques Cartier up the St. Lawrence in 1535 to the capture of the city by the British in 1759 and the American attack upon it in 1775 under Montgomery and Arnold these happenings were not only of great interest in themselves, but important also for their bearing upon the evolution of free institutions and an advanced civilization upon the northern half of the hemisphere. The ceremonies planned in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the establishment of Quebec will cover a period of about twelve days and will consist in part of a series of pageants the most magnificent ever given in this part of the world. These historical shows will begin with the arrival of Cartier in the St. Lawrence 373 years ago and take the spectator on through the centuries while the great historical personages whose deeds are interwoven with the annals of Quebec and New France pass in review, the most impressive pageant of all being a reproduction of the ever memorable battle on the heights west of the citadel, the Plains of Abraham, in which Wolfe and Montcalm were the foremost figures. It is not to be conducted in such a way as to magnify the victory of the British under Wolfe at the expense of the feelings of the French, for the province of Quebec is still chiefly French in language, religion and racial traditions and associations, and it was because the British in the government of this part of Canada recognized and conceded this fact and molded their policies accordingly that they gained and maintained the loyalty of the people of this important part of the Dominion. That there is no bitterness now in the reflection that Wolfe's victory meant the loss to France of her most important colony in the new world is seen in the fact that the French government is taking official part in the centenary and is sending a special delegation and a squadron of warships to represent France in ceremonies in honor of the achievements of one of her most heroic sons. Australia and other parts of the British empire are to send delegations bearing fraternal greetings. The United States will dispatch to the scene an imposing naval squadron, and President Roosevelt has designated Secretary William H. Taft as his representative at the tercentenary. The British sovereign himself will be represented by his eldest son, the Prince of Wales, who is to sail across the ocean and up the St. Lawrence in one of the most formidable of the new English battleships, the Indomitable, while the Atlantic fleet of the British navy will cruise to Quebec in advance of the prince and welcome him with its great guns when he arrives on July 22. Next day, the 23d, the scene of the landing of Champlain will be reproduced, those taking part wearing the costumes and bearing the arms of his era and the man personating the explorer himself disembarking from a ship constructed so as to look precisely as did the Don de Dieu, with its lofty poop and quaint tackle, on that memorable day in July, 1608, when Champlain went ashore from it and began the foundation of the capital city of New France.

THE CHAMPLAIN MONUMENT, QUEBEC, AND THE ST. LOUIS GATE.

The United States navy department has ordered the New Hampshire, a new battleship of 17,570 tons, to proceed to Quebec to participate in the naval parade which the Prince of Wales will review.

One of the principal events of the tercentenary will be the dedication of the battlefield on which Wolfe and Montcalm fought as a national park.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made druggards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper — no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

A Candle Trick.

Let a candle burn until it has a good long snuff, then blow it out with a sudden puff. A bright wreath of white smoke will curl up from the hot wick. Now, if a flame be applied to this smoke, even at a distance of two or three inches from the candle, the flame will run down the smoke and rekindle the wick in a very fantastic manner. To perform this ceremony nicely there must be no draft or "banging" doors while the mystic spell is rising.

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

No Heredity About It.

Gerald—My father was an old salt. Geraldine—That's funny. You are a young fresh.

A covetous man makes no friends.—Singalese Proverb.

Driven to Drink.

Artist—My next picture at the academy will be entitled "Driven to Drink." His Friend—Ah, some powerful portrayal of baffled passion, I suppose? Artist—Oh, no: it's a horse approaching a water trough!

Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, pleasant little pills that are easy to take. Sold by all druggists.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is good for cuts, burns, bruises and scratches. It is especially good for piles. Recommended and sold by all druggists.

The Ugliest Beast.

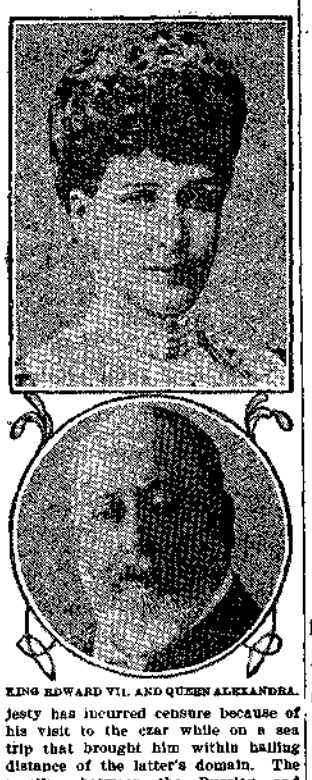
Probably the ugliest beast in the world is a monkey, a grewsome looking animal called the bearded saki. This is so utterly grotesque a beast that it would scarcely be safe to let a child or nervous person see it. The ugliness is not of an amusing kind, but of an evil, sinister nature. The beast has a sort of beard and a countenance unlike anything else in shape and lines. The monkey itself is not particularly savage, but is so hideous that the natives of its country, South America, say that no beast of prey, however hungry, will tackle it. Even a hungry jaguar will starve in a cageful of sakis.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.



When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

RULERS OF BRITAIN.

Their Majesties King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra.

King Edward VII. of England has been very successful, as a ruler, in conducting himself since his coronation in such a way as to escape being criticised. But in connection with his appointment of Mr. Asquith as premier and his recent call on the czar at Revel he has been charged by some with departure from a wise and politic course. It was his action in creating a new cabinet head while outside his empire that occasioned criticism a little while ago. More recently his majesty has incurred censure because of his visit to the czar while on a sea trip that brought him within hailing distance of the latter's domain. The meeting between the Russian and British monarchs aroused harsh censure in a section of the German press which affected to see in it a conspiracy against the welfare of Germany. On the other hand, many of the English papers regard it as having promoted international peace by strengthening the bonds of friendship between the empires represented.

KING EDWARD VII. AND QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

As may be seen in the accompanying picture of King Edward, he is beginning to show his age. His gentle and popular queen, however, retains that well-groomed and youthful aspect which makes her seem a comparatively young woman, although she has been a grandmother these many years.

"LITTLE JOE" BROWN.

Georgian Who Won In Governorship Contest Over Hoke Smith.

Various causes have been given for the defeat of Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia in the Democratic primaries by Joseph M. Brown, but one thing is significant. In the race for the nomination of his party for governor Mr. Brown pinned his faith to the plan of circulating his ideas among the voters by means of the press. It is said that he did not make a single speech or conduct a personal canvass of the usual kind at all. He stayed at home and wrote things for the papers.

"Little Joe" Brown, as he is familiarly known, comes of Scotch-Irish ancestors who arrived in this country in the seventeenth century, and his father, Joseph Emerson Brown, was war governor of Georgia and later United States senator. Joseph M. Brown was born in Canton, Cherokee county, in 1851, but when he was six years old his father, who had just been elected governor, moved to Milledgeville, then the state capital, and that was his home until his family removed to Atlanta in 1865. He is a graduate of Oglethorpe university, Atlanta, and studied at Harvard, and he took a law course and entered the bar, but made his mark as a railroad man rather than as lawyer. He worked his way up from brakeman and freight conductor to that of general traffic manager. He has done much to aid the agricultural and industrial development of his state. Besides being a railroad man, farmer and lawyer, he has dabbled quite a little in literature. He has written a historical romance entitled "Astyanax" and a history of the Georgia campaign in the civil war.

JOSEPH M. BROWN.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

COMMON COUNCIL

Fulton, June 16, 1908.

Adjourned meeting Common Council. Present, Mayor Quirk, Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Moved to adjourn till Wednesday, June 24, 1908.

W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk.

Fulton, June 24, 1908.

Adjourned meeting Common Council. Present, Aldermen, Marvin, Crahan, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That Joseph Farrell and Floyd Halstead be appointed by this Board as dog catchers for the city of Fulton, and to enforce Chapter 5 of the City ordinances at a weekly salary of $12.00 each, and it is expressly understood that the above named persons may be removed at any time by this Board, and the city clerk is hereby authorized and directed to draw orders for the salaries of the above named persons at the end of each week of their employment.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Dwyer, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Z. Wolever introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the claims of Ralph W. Lamson and Harriett A. Lamson be referred to the Claims Committee and City Attorney and the summons of Gilbert E. Spencer be referred to the City Attorney.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Dwyer, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman John Crahan introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized and directed to advertise in the official newspapers of the city for bids for the construction of an eighty-foot shed to be built in the yard in rear of City Hall, according to plans and specifications to be examined at the coal office of T. H. Marvin, and that this Council will meet at 8 p. m. July 7, 1908, to consider said bids.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Dwyer, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

CITY OF FULTON, ss:

I hereby certify that the above resolutions were duly adopted at a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Fulton, held at the City Hall, on the 24th day of June, 1908.

W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk.

Approved this 24th day of June, 1908.

THOS. H. MARVIN,
Acting Mayor.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain (inconvenience, or leaving home.
NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed as the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure.
Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer can not wait. We give proofs of cures.
Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway cor. 34th St., N.Y.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo, for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us.
625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW & Co.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908

Leave Albany, Hamilton St..	8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St..	5.10 P.M
" New York, West 42d St.,	5.30 P.M
" New York, Desbrosses St..	6.00 P.M

Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 125 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. C. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND

5.48 a. m.	Train No.	335
8.10 a. m., Daily	"	337
11.51 a. m.	"	301
3 31 p. m., Daily	"	351
6.16 p. m.	"	303
10.10 p. m., Daily	"	315

SOUTH BOUND

8.04 a. m.	Train No.	302
9.39 a. m., Daily	"	318
2-14 p. m.	"	350
5.09 p m., Daily	"	328
7.04 p. m.	"	342
9.34 p. m., Daily	"	336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND

*Chicago Limited for all points West	n 3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	11 00 "
*Local for Oswego	5 10 PM
§Local for Oswego	8 45 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego	7 39 "

SOUTH BOUND

†Express for Norwich	3 22 AM
§Sylvan Beach Special	8 53 "
*Local for Sidney	9 15 AM
*Limited for New York	‡2 30 PM
†Express for New York	7 06 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
§ Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers. Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 66 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. EAGE, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT CONVENTIONS

Continued from Page 3

FRANK L. SMITH
Nominated for Member of Assembly

Frederick G. Whitney, Thomas D. Lewis, P. W. Cullinan, Thomas M. Costello, Cadwell Benson, John S. Parsons; J. W. Burt, Hannibal; Edward Quirk, Fulton; F. D. Corse, Sandy Creek; E. E. Frost, Oswego.

Alternates—W. C. Richards, Parish; Harry Waugh, Fulton; A. H. Mowry, Oswego; F. A. Looker, Volney; W. G. Babcock, Constantia; S. G. Mattison, Albion; Clayton I. Miller, Mexico; C. I. Kingsbury, Scriba; L. P. Taylor, Oswego Town; C. A. Larned, Schroeppel; Leroy F. Hollis, Sandy Creek; D. H. Trimble, Palermo.

The following Senatorial delegates were elected: W. A. Robbins, Mexico; David S. Burleigh, Schroeppel; W. G. Babcock, Constantia; E. B. Powell, Oswego; D. O. Whitney, Albion; H. D. Coville, Constantia; H. M. Stacy, New Haven; H. W. Short, Redfield; J. W. Parkhurst, Richland; Francis D. Culkin, Oswego; M. Prouse Neal, Oswego; M. C. Worts, Oswego; I. H. Worden, Scriba; W. B. Acker, Hannibal.

Alternates—E. A. Howard, Palermo; William Hunter, Fulton; Charles Boyd, Fulton; Levi Salmon, Oswego; Thomas W. Hamer, Boylston; J. H. Tollerton, Richland; W. H. Merriam, Schroeppel; D. E. Wilds, Sandy Creek; George L. Webb, Hastings; Eugene Besanson, West Monroe; H. A. Wilcox, Oswego; T. C. Sweet, Schoeppel; A. L. Aldridge and Joseph Cogswell.

A resolution was adopted that the delegates to the Senatorial Convention be ordered and directed to vote as a unit on all matters that might arise before the Senatorial Convention or elsewhere and was directed to consider very carefully the question of whether an Oswego County Republican should be presented as a candidate for the nomination as State Senator in the new district and in case the delegation should deem it advisable to present such a name before the convention they were authorized to do so.

W. A. Robbins of Mexico presented resolutions renewing allegiance to the grand old party which had been foremost in every great advance made by our country. Endorsing President Roosevelt's administration which would go into history with the record of a greater advance having been made than in any similar period of our country's history. Appreciation of the faithful services of Congressman Knapp to Oswego County were placed on record. The citizens of Oswego county believed the time had come when it should be accorded the Representative in Congress.

The nominations of Taft and Sherman for the high offices of President and Vice President met with hearty approval.

It was further resolved that the Counties of Oswego and Jefferson composing the 35th Senatorial District cast in each county, so nearly the same number of Republican votes, that in justice to all interests we insist that the representation from each county should be the same. We hereby instruct our committee to demand that Oswego County be accorded the same number of delegates in that convention, and Merrick Stowell, John T. Mott and H. Putnam Allen were named as a committee to confer with Jefferson as to representation in the convention and to make arrangements for the convention.

The District Committee selected was as follows:

Albion, S. S. Mattison; Amboy, R. Stanton; Boylston, John Dungey; Constantia, W. S. Babcock; Fulton, First Ward, Charles Stewart; Second Ward, George M. Cook; Third Ward, G. G. Whitaker; Fourth Ward, Geo. C. Webb; Fifth Ward, William Hunter; Sixth Ward, M. F. Lewis; Granby; George F. Hallock; Hannibal, J. W. Burt; Hastings, John P. Benedict; Mexico, W. M. Richardson; New Haven, W. L. Wetmore; Orwell, F. J. Davis; Oswego City, First Ward, J. T. Mott; Second Ward, Warren Vandish; Third Ward, H. R. Carrier; Fourth Ward, M. P. Neal; Fifth Ward, C. M. Austin; Sixth Ward, M. Stowell; Seventh Ward, Levi Salmon; Eighth Ward, George Greenfield; Oswego Town, A. A. Perkins; Palermo, M. F. Tooley; Parish, W. B. Harter; Redfield, John R. Warren; Richland, F. G. Whitney; Sandy Creek, J. J. Hollis; Schroeppel, C. D. Ash; Scriba, J. H. Worden; Volney, Gerard F. Taft; West Monroe, George Rupracht; Williamstown, Jesse Laing.

The best goods for the lowest prices at our Mid-Summer Shoe Sale at S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

A Book on Wrestling.

There has just been issued from the press of Richard K. Fox, Franklin Square, New York, one of the most valuable and comprehensive treatises on wrestling ever published. World's champion wrestler, Frank Goth has written a book about the art, which contains everything that is of interest to enthusiasts. A special chapter is devoted to training and another to the career of the conqueror of Hackenschmidth. It contains fifty excellent half tone illustrations, showing all his principal holds, including the famous toe hold. Portraits are shown of the best known mat artists. It is No. 20 of Fox's Athletic Library, and will be sent to any address for 10 cents; postage 3 cents extra.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

We share the profits with the people. S. D. Wells Cash Store.

Restores Life

Professor Poe's Artificial Respirator Which Prevents Death In Cases of Drowning and Asphyxiation. Recent Experiments on Dogs, Rabbits and Human Beings.

THE possibilities in the machine known as the artificial respirator, invented by Professor George Poe of Virginia, are almost boundless. At any rate, it is difficult to say what seeming miracles might not be wrought by its use. While its inventor does not claim for it the powers of Gabriel's trumpet in the awakening of the dead, he does maintain that it is possible through its timely use to resurrect people who but for its aid would never again show life. In other words, where there is suspended animation that ordinarily would end in death the restoration of normal breathing through the application of the respirator brings the person who has apparently lost life back to activity and usefulness. Many successful tests have been made with the respirator on animals, and it has now been used in several instances where human life was in jeopardy. It has even been applied for the purpose of promoting respiration in cases of premature birth where the infants came into the world asphyxiated, or born dead, as would ordinarily be said. One such baby, which had no life seemingly when the doctors first saw it, was alive and kicking after the respirator had been applied to its lips for a time. The mother's life was in jeopardy, too, but she and the child are both doing well now—in fact, the latter has developed into a fine, healthy youngster.

Although Professor Poe makes no miraculous pretensions, he is sometimes asked to perform acts which, could he do them, would indeed proclaim him a miracle worker. For instance, a little eight-year-old girl, daughter of a Virginia miner, wrote him preferring the request that he bring back to life her baby brother, who had been dead six months. She had read of his raising the dead by a "machine" and thought he would take pity on her mamma and herself. "Mamma has $1.50 we made by picking berries and her washing," she wrote, "and you can have it all if you will only help us. I know you must charge much more for doing such a wonderful thing, but that is all the money we have."

RESUSCITATING AN ASPHYXIATED RABBIT.

At a test given in New York before a branch of the Red Cross society recently Drs. William Harrison and J. P. Jackson "killed" a dog and then brought him back to life by the use of the respirator. The audience watched the convulsive twitching of the dog's muscles as he was slowly deprived of air, and every person present leaned forward eagerly when one of Dr. Harrison's assistants lifted the limp body in the air to show the watchers that no sign of life remained. A physician in the audience accepted an invitation to examine the animal and declared that, while there was life yet in the body, the dog would die without the aid of artificial respiration. Then the machine was attached to the dog's mouth again and oxygen pumped in. The chest began to heave, a little more working of the handles and the dog kicked once or twice feebly, and in about ten minutes staggered to its feet, tottered as though suffering from a drug and finally ran away. In another experiment upon Socrates, a pet rabbit from the Poe farm, Dr. Harrison administered to the animal two grains of morphine, enough to kill a man, and after that four ounces of ether. The machine was applied, and after three minutes the effects of the poison and anaesthetic were drawn off, and Socrates jumped from the table and hopped away.

A humorous experiment in restoring a drunken man to his senses by drawing the alcohol from his system suggests the idea that it might be a good thing if wives whose husbands occasionally take too much would supply themselves with the machine and use it at the proper times in place of the time honored curtain lecture.

This might prove a more popular method with the neighbors than the more noisy way of domestic reform.

The respirator is a combination of suction and pump and alternately exhausts the foul air in the lungs of a person or animal nearly dead and pumps in fresh air or oxygen. Professor Poe, who is now blind and a paralytic, but who was for many years a government chemist, conceived the idea of the apparatus when he saw a relative suddenly revive within two hours of the time set for his burial. He worked for thirty years on his invention before perfecting it.

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50 All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

The usual monthly business meeting of the Ladies Aid society was held at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon. A ten cent tea was served from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Thursday evening June 25, Miss Nellie Cunningham and Mr. Edward Potter were united in marriage in Oswego by Rev. T. B. Shepherd. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. G. McCarthy. The young people have many friends who wish them a long and happy life.

Mrs. Melvin Wells, who has been very ill the past week, is improving.

Mrs. Ross Hill visited relatives near West Granby last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meeker of Oswego visited in Minetto Wednesday.

Several from Minetto attended the Republican convention held in Pulaski Thursday.

Mr. Cecil Hill was one of the delegates from the Bundyville lodge, I. O. G. T., to the county lodge held at Hannibal last week.

The Commencement exercises of the Minetto Union school were held in the M. E. church on Thursday evening, June 25.

Mrs. Clara Rawson of Fulton was a visitor in Minetto last week.

Mrs. S L. Baker left on Saturday for Earlville.

Mrs. Charles Bothwell, Oswego, recently visited her mother, Mrs. Mary Hill.

A food sale will be held in the Reading Room, Friday afternoon, July 3, under the direction of the Ladies Aid Society.

Misses Belle Thompson and Beulah Hamilton spent Saturday and Sunday in Fulton.

We are now adding the Waldorf $2.50 Shoe to our stock. The Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to to mean Chronic Bronchitis. The most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggist for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Niagara Falls Illustrated.

The literature descriptive of Niagara Falls has been enriched by a booklet just issued by the New York Central Lines, on our world famous cataract.

The booklet is handsomely illustrated and contains beautiful maps in colors of the entire region.

Anyone contemplating a trip to Niagara Falls should secure a copy of the book as it is full of valuable information concerning the points of interest that should be visited, not only at the Falls proper but in the historic region round about.

A copy will be sent free to any address on receipt of a two-cent stamp by the Advertising Department, New York Central Lines, Grand Central Station, New York.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

CHURCH NOTES.

Zion Church.

Third Sunday after Trinity, July 5.

Holy Communion 7:30 a. m.

Holy Communion and sermon, 10:30 a. m.

Evensong and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

Service Friday at 7:30 p. m., followed by Choir rehearsal.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

You are cordially invited to share in any of these services.

If you have no regular place of worship we should be glad to have you make this your church home.

State Street M. E. Church.

Rev. F. A. Miller, Pastor.

Public worship at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.

Sunday school at 11:45 a. m.

Prayer service Thursday evening at 7:30.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society will meet with Mrs. E. Wilcox, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

The Brotherhood picnic which was announced for Saturday has been postponed.

A class will be received into full membership July 12.

The Standard Bearers will hold their monthly meeting Monday evening, July 5.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctor's fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by E. A. Putnam. Samples free.

Fourth of July Sale

Commencing with tomorrow, Thursday, morning and continuing for ten days, my FOURTH of JULY SALE will prove an eye opener to men and boys who need Summer garments. Especially in the suit department you will find rare bargains. Here are a few sample prices but the quality must be seen to make the price mean much.

All $10 Suits at $8
All $12 Suits at $10
All $15 Suits at $12
All $16 Suits at $14
All $18 Suits at $15
All $22 Suits at $18

Everything in Summer Underwear, Soft Shirts, Nifty Ties and Belts, Straw Hats, Suit Cases, &c.

at correspondingly low prices. Your money will buy double the quantity at this store during the next ten day. Put us to the test. We will prove our statements.

Harry A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street

Why Don't You Bring in Those Mother's Oats Coupons?

We are still paying money, trade or stamps for them. The following prices ought to fetch the coupons as well as the people:

3 qts. Best Kidney Beans for.....25c
Best Salt Pork, per pound.....10c
Headlight Oil, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.....9c
10 lbs. Sal Soda.....10c
Whole Georgia Banks Codfish, per lb.....7c
Jumbo Blueing, and $1.00 in stamps, per bottle.....10c
Best Lemons, per dozen.....20c
We are still giving $15.00 in stamps with each ton of Coal.
1 lb Best Shredded Cocoanut and $2.00 in stamps.....19c
Pure Lemon and Vanilla Extracts, $1.00 in stamps, bottle...10c

In fact we give stamps in abundance with everything. This is stamp week, so come now—delays are dangerous. Watch the Syracuse Journal and Herald, Wednesday evening, for the greatest Bargains yet.

CASH PAPWORTH

51 EAST FIRST STREET, PHONE 464 FULTON, N. Y.

MT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Isaac Hale was seriously injured by a fall in the barn last Saturday while hunting eggs. Dr. Keller was called and at last reports Mrs. Hale was resting easy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheffield are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter at their home.

Earl Rowlee is confined to his home by an attack of tonsilitis and quinsy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ives and children were recent guests of Mrs. Ives' mother in Vermillion.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings of Palermo and Orin Bogardus and family of Fulton, recently.

Ralph and Loren Foster of Fulton are guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Foster.

The Wise family reunion was largely attended at Harvey Wise's on Tuesday of last week and a general good time was enjoyed.

The W. F. M. S. will meet at the parsonage this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Many from this place watched the eclipse Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Johnson is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ernest Rowlee.

Mrs. Lydia Osborne is enjoying a short vacation.

Mrs. Charles Osborne is entertaining her mother and sister of Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Osborne spent a day near Mexico recently in the home of Mr. Samuel Collins, a former resident of this place.

The Epworth League meetings are being better attended each Sunday evening. Rev. Summers will be the leader next Sunday evening and he cordially invites every one to come.

Several new phones are being placed in this community.

Of course you are coming to Mt. Pleasant the Fourth and if you have a Granger in you family you'are expected to bring scalloped potatoes or beans and cake, as dinners and lunches will be sold all day. Come in the morning and stay and see the fireworks.

An entertainment is being arranged for the hour between 8 and 9 o'clock consisting of a mixed program which will be interesting yet not tedious. At the close of the program the fireworks will be set off.

We are selling our goods on small profit. Call and look them over. S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

No Golden Crown

can compensate for loss of sight. Not long ago a man offered a million dollars to any one who could restore the sight he once had.

YOUR EYES ARE JEWELS

beyond price. Take care of them. If you have the slightest difficulty with yours come here and have us examine them. The right glasses now will save you many a day of sorrow later on. Our glasses will be right in every particular.

Wm. C. Morgan,

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

213 Cayuga St., Fulton

SOUTH GRANBY.

A heavy thunder shower last Tuesday night and the lightning killed three cows for Mr. Oliver Paine.

Mrs. Meda Whipple of Fulton visited in this place Tuesday.

Mr. Washington Whipple is very ill. Dr. Wells attends him.

Mrs. Fred Lindsey has returned home from Bridgeport; her sister, Miss Gibbs, came with her.

Miss Tillie Winklestein and Miss Anna Marks of Syracuse are visiting at Elmer Fisher's.

It was an ideal day on Saturday when the Blakemans held their annual picnic, and there was a good attendance. It was held at the home of Mr. Bert Ware.

Miss Mabel King has gone to McGraw.

Mrs. Losey has returned from a visit in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Cynthia Lampman is entertaining her brother, Mr. Aaron Blakeman and wife.

Milo Austin made a short call on his parents Sunday.

The Lamson ball team went to Warner Saturday and beat the Warner team 15 to 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Greenfield of Syracuse visited her sister, Mrs. Carrie Hannum, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Fisher and little daughter of Oswego and Mr. Charles Fisher and his bride were at Elmer Fisher's Sunday.

There was no preaching Sunday, as our pastor was away.

Some in this place viewed the eclipse of the sun Sunday forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rumsey visited at Frank Garrett's in Warner, Saturday and Sunday.

CASTORIA. Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

NORTH VOLNEY.

The ice cream social Friday evening was a success in every way.

Francis C. Smith returned from his visit in Jefferson county Wednesday of last week accompanied by his cousin, Miss Frances Squires.

The L. A. S. is to meet with Mrs. Charles McDougall on Wednesday of this week. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Miss Leah Davis of Oswego is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Smith Wright.

Misses Ella Stevens and Alice Hall visited Mrs. Maud Umbeck of Phoenix Saturday and Sunday.

CASTORIA. Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

WHITAKER ROAD.

Miss Clara Howard is home from Ithaca where she has been attending school the past year.

Miss Ruth Calkins left for Otsego county on Monday where she expects to spend the Summer.

Mrs. Burr Howard entertained Mrs. Nelson Montague of Syracuse several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Earl have returned to Auburn where they will reside.

Mrs. Ray Dunsmore and Mrs. Coats are home from a two weeks' visit in Syracuse.

Almon Osborne is home from a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Jessie Larrabee, in Lewis county.

Mrs. Hannah Austin of South Granby will spend the week of the Fourth at Delos Distin's and Jasper Rowlee's.

Mrs. Walter White spent Tuesday with Mrs. Cass Hill in the Rowlee District.

Those who took regents in this vicinity feel well repaid for their trouble, as nearly every one passed.

Short Tales of Big People

Henry W. Taft's Adroitness—Governor Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota.

Gompers and Cannon. J. Adam Bede Met His Match as a Punster. Thomas L. Lewis.

HENRY W. TAFT.

HENRY W. TAFT, younger brother of Secretary Taft and a leading member of the bar of New York city, is a tall, broad shouldered man, with deep chest and fine figure, but none of the leaning toward avoirdupois of the famous cabinet member. At the Chicago convention he was usually surrounded by a crowd of men who seemed to think him a good person to cultivate. One day he was introduced to a delegate who apparently did not exactly apprehend his identity.

"Whom are you for?" asked the new acquaintance.

"I'm for the winner," answered Mr. Taft, smiling and adroitly sidestepping.

"Why don't you come out openly for Taft?" asked the questioner.

"Well, didn't I?" was the response. And then a friend of the questioner "put him on."

William Dean Howells' daughter when a very little girl made a childish literary venture in the form of a book of verses. The lines were copied out in a round, uniformed schoolgirl hand and the sheets sewed together, a labor of weeks. The volume was put on sale at a church fair. The day after the fair the little girl sought her father to tell her experience with heartbreaking sobs. She had stood all the day watching the book. A few had glanced at it, but no one had bought it. Mr. Howells soothed her.

"My dear," said the distinguished novelist compassionately, "you are becoming acquainted too early with the woes of authorship."

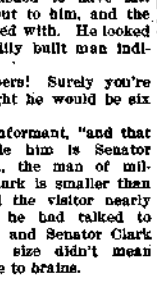
In the talk about candidates for the vice presidency on the Democratic ticket the name of Henry Watterson of Kentucky has been suggested. But "Marse Henry" is a pessimist on the subject of his own qualifications for this post, for when the Omaha Bee asked, "What is the matter with Bryan and Watterson for the Denver ticket?" Colonel Watterson's paper, the Louisville Courier-Journal, replied:

HENRY WATTERSON.

"Nothing except that he doesn't want it and that nobody wants him and that because he wore a gray jacket his nomination would defeat the ticket and at the same time disgrace him by giving the lie to his profession of disinterestedness."

On the subject of Prohibition in the south the colonel is also pessimistic since he heard the returns from the primaries in Georgia, which showed a little reaction against "dry" legislation. Mr. Watterson's paper remarks:

"'The new south,' says the Washington Star, 'turns its back upon the toddy and the julep.' True, alas, too true! In Georgia they are drinking straight from the jug at present."



As president of the United Mine Workers of America, successor to John Mitchell, Thomas L. Lewis is waging war against child labor in the mines, and he knows what he is talking about. He went to work in the coal mines himself at the tender age of seven. Ambition to mount higher than the average digger of coal caused him to obtain an education, and he got it in the face of big obstacles, mostly by study at night. He went to night school while other boys of his age were playing, and from his small wage he saved $105, with which he obtained seven months' instruction in the National university at Lebanon, O. Thus meagerly equipped, Lewis began reading law. His friends seldom heard him talk about his "mission" or ambition, but the ambition existed to such an extent that he has never been content to remain at a stationary level.

THOMAS L. LEWIS.

Lewis neither drinks, uses tobacco nor swears. His honesty in official positions with the United Mine Workers has never been questioned. He is of Welsh parentage. His father was Thomas John Lewis, who before he came to this country to work in the mines was a miner in the Dowlais district, in south Wales. His mother was Mary Jones, also Welsh. The elder Lewis on coming to this country began working in the anthracite region in Northumberland county, Pa., and there knew John Siney and other pioneers in the labor movement. Into the Lewis family came fourteen children, well balanced, seven boys and seven girls. Tom was born in Northumberland county in 1865. Starting as a breaker boy, he worked up to be mule driver, track layer and pick miner. He early became prominent as an organizer of mine workers and in 1900 was chosen vice president of the body which he now heads.

Governor Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota, who has defeated Senator Kittredge in the primary elections in his state to determine who shall be chosen to the United States senate by the legislature, figured in the contest at Chicago over the adoption of the Republican platform, being on the resolutions committee. The governor is the sixth executive of his state and was born at Volney, Ia., in 1858. He graduated from the law department of the University of Iowa in 1882 and the next year removed to Pierre, S. D., which is still his home. He was successively a state attorney, member of the lower house of the legislature, state senator and attorney general. In 1906 he was elected governor on a platform declaring for a primary elections law and regulation of corporations. Under his initiative the legislature of 1907 passed a primary law, anti-lobby law, anti-pass law and several other acts affecting railways.

COE I. CRAWFORD.

With two big political conventions on his hands it has been a busy time for President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. He has been fighting to get as much as possible in the interest of members of his organization from the platform builders at both Chicago and Denver. At the former city he went up against Uncle Joe Cannon, who, though usually good natured, can get swearing mad when anybody essays to lay down the law to him.

Though head of a big organization, Mr. Gompers is not imposing in physique. One time at a gathering of reformers and philanthropists in New York a delegate asked to have Mr. Gompers pointed out to him, and the request was complied with. He looked at the small, sturdily built man indicated and said:

"That Mr. Gompers! Surely you're mistaken. I thought he would be six feet high."

"Yes," said his informant, "and that man sitting beside him is Senator Clark of Montana, the man of millions." Senator Clark is smaller than Mr. Gompers, and the visitor nearly collapsed. When he had talked to both Mr. Gompers and Senator Clark he admitted that size didn't mean much when it came to brains.

J. Adam Bede, humorist of congress, met his match at the Republican convention at Chicago in the person of Cy De Vry, custodian of the things that walk and crawl and fly and creep in Lincoln park. Cy wandered into a leading hotel and mixed in with a few genial souls who love him for his prowess in his old field of endeavor. He was telling a story about the zoo hyenas when Mr. Bede drifted up and was introduced.

J. ADAM BEDE.

"First," said Cy, "we'll have to understand that a hyena is the meanest thing that grows—meaner 'n a chicken hawk, meaner 'n smartweed, meaner 'n—well, a hyena is so blame mean that we don't even give him a name. Just call him the 'hy' and let it go at that. Well, on the day I was speaking of"—

Here the irrepressible J. Adam saw his chance. Why should any one be talking of hyenas on a day when the elephant was supposed to have the center of the stage?

"Excuse me, Mr. De Vry," broke in the congressman, "but, as an expert in animal matters, can you tell me why the pachy derms?"

Cy caught his breath, blinked, gulped twice, then, quick as a flash, shot this back:

"For the same reason, as every one ought to know, that the ele phants."

Then it was Mr. Bede's turn to blink, and he did so copiously.

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.
THE FULTON GARAGE.
Telephone 491.

The Mule's Delusion.

The pack mule is quite as much an institution as the team mule and is absolutely indispensable in the mountains. Mule packing is a fine art, and with a well trained animal and a skillful packer you can safely transport anything from a piano to a bag of oats. When the packer has finished his job in an artistic manner, the animal may buck or back, kick or rear or roll, but he cannot rid himself of his burden, and he finally gives it up in despair. After two or three experiences he will submit to his destiny and fall into line with the rest of the train every morning to receive his load from the packer. A well trained pack mule is always proud of his load, and if by any means it gets loose he will step quietly out of line and wait until the packmaster comes along to tighten it.

The most serious objection to the mule, which you sometimes find in human beings also, is the delusion that he can sing. One who has never heard a mule solo cannot appreciate the extent of his mistake; but, like everything else about a mule, his song is strictly original. It belongs to no other animal. No one can describe and no one can imitate it.—New York Mail.

Mixed Pickles.

Bishop Knox once explained that "Mr. McKenna's sword was an overloaded pistol which, being hung up in a tight corner lest it should burst, pretended to be dead until it got up and trotted home on the friendly back of the bishop of St. Asaph." But it is in political debate, especially in the house of commons, that the mixed metaphor flourishes most luxuriantly. "The floodgates of irreligion and intemperance are stalking arm in arm throughout the land." "This bill effects such a change that the last leap in the dark was a mere flea bite." "That is the marrow of the educational act, and it will not be taken out by Dr. Clifford or anybody else. It is founded on a granite foundation and speaks in a voice not to be drowned in sectarian clamor." "The question of moisture in tobacco is a thorny subject and has long been a bone of contention."—Manchester Guardian.

The Left Twin.

The survivor of twins is sometimes credited with curious powers. In folklore he takes his place with the seventh son and with the child born with a caul. All these are supposed to have either special powers of healing or in some cases to be gifted with the mysterious power of second sight. "In Essex, England," says W. G. Black in his book on "Folk Medicine," "a child known familiarly as a 'left twin'—i. e., a child who has survived its fellow twin—is thought to have the power of curing the thrush by blowing three times into the patient's mouth if the patient is of the opposite sex." This is folklore, pure and simple. Another country notion generally held is that if twins are boy and girl the latter will never become a mother. The physiology of the subject is obscure, but there is probably ground for the belief. Another idea not infrequently met with is that the intelligence of twins is below the average. It is always difficult to prove a negative, but it is very doubtful whether facts support this notion of limited intelligence to any extent whatever. It is much more probable that their physical strength is likely to be something less than normal.

What He Did Know.

St. Thomas' Episcopal church, in Fifth avenue, has under its jurisdiction an east side chapel. One of the features of the chapel is a gymnasium, in which boys are trained in all of the branches of physical culture. Some of the boys are quicker in this sort of training than they are in the more polite talk of the west side boys.

The rector of St. Thomas', the Rev. Dr. Stires, visits the chapel frequently and is fond of talking with the lads about their work. He said to one little fellow who hails from near the East river:

"Well, my son, they tell me you won quite a victory in your last contest with the boys of a rival school."

"I don't know 'bout that, but w'en we went up ag'in dat bunch from St. Pat's we put it all over 'em, and dey ain't never peeped since."—New York Sun.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change. . . .

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

A Great Artist Enraged.

Alma-Tadema has told a story of the fate of two unsuccessful pictures of his student days. One of them was returned unsold by the committee of the Brussels exhibition in 1859. The subject was a house on fire, with people rescuing the victims. The artist's fellow students were asked into Alma-Tadema's studio and were invited to jump through the canvas, the owner of it leading the way by leaping head first through the oily flames.

The other unsuccessful effort was a large sized square picture that came back again and again to its creator's easel until at last it was cut out of its frame and given to an old woman to use as a table cover.

The picture was praised by at least one person who appreciated its excellence, so Alma-Tadema used to declare, for the old woman was wont to remark that it was much better than those common oilcloth things that always let the water through, as the picture of Alma-Tadema's making was a good thick one, with plenty of paint on it.—Minneapolis Journal.

How Long Do Dreams Last?

How long do dreams last? A German savant is investigating the matter. But there is scarcely a dolt who could not give him points and has not dreamed centuries in seconds. The dream, it may be stated, comes in the few seconds before the awakening and has no relation to time or space. This is clear enough to the man who has ever been placed under an anaesthetic for a short while and found time and space eliminated.

As an experiment this writer was placed under a whiff of chloroform by a doctor. Absolute unconsciousness supervened, then a return of consciousness, the questions of the universe, up through layers of consciousness, with always the feeling, "Now I have solved it," and the "No" and the "Yes" alternating through centuries of thought, and then the quizzical face of the doctor, remembered after a million years. "How long have you been under?" The experimenter struggled up and saw the doctor with his watch in hand. "Ten seconds," the doctor said, and the dreamer had been outside time for a time that has no measure.—London Chronicle.

His Fate.

The race of consequential vergers is not yet extinct. Dean Pigou has a story about one of them, who, when a bishop asked him at what point he was to make his appearance, replied:

"First I take the choir people to their places, and then, after they are seated, I return for you, my lord, and conduct you to the halter."—London Telegraph.

Missed a Chance.

"But, Tommy," said his mother, "you asked for two cakes and I gave them to you. Aren't you satisfied?"

"No, I ain't," growled Tommy. "You was so easy I'm kickin' meself now 'cause I didn't ask fur four."—Philadelphia Press.

Fair Warning.

He—I shall speak to your father tonight. How had I better begin? She—By calling his attention to the statutes governing assault, manslaughter and murder. Papa is so impulsive, you know.

If a man wishes to marry a woman forty years old, should he ask her father for her?—Atchison Globe.

FOR SALE

For Sale—Heal gas range in good condition. Will sell cheap. Can be seen at No. 415 Oneida stree.

FOR SALE—A gasoline launch in excellent condition. 1 1-2 horse power engine. Inquire of V. C. Lewis, 133 S. First street. tf

For Sale—Rowboat, 15½ feet long by 3 feet wide. Inquire at home of Jeth Miller, 12 miles north of Fulton on the west river road. je17

FOR SALE—Model F Buick car, top and full equipment; new tires on rear and two extras; perfect order. J. C. Gaskill, Oswego, N. Y. 7-8

TO RENT

To Rent—Ground floor rooms, suitable for small family; rent reasonable. Inquire of Mrs. M. J. Sweet, 823 Emory street. je3-tf

TO RENT—Rooms for a small family on ground floor. City water and use of gas range if desired; pleasant location on corner. Terms, $2.00 per week. Inquire at No. 52 North Third St.

LOST

Lost—A pair of rimless eye glasses in case, near the Post Office. A suitable reward will be paid for their return to G. C. Webb, 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 9

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

Assets July 1, 1908

Over One and One-Half Million Dollars

Surplus

Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars

Money deposited by July 10th and remaining to December 29th will draw interest for full six months.

This bank has paid 4% on all deposits since October 1, 1907.

SUNDAY BASEBALL

Vigorous Protest Against and Plain Statement of Fact Regarding Action of Committee Representing Men's Bible Classes of This City.

To the Editor:

Because of certain misleading statements made in the Fulton items of the Syracuse Herald of Monday, July 6, we, the undersigned members of the Ministers' Association of Fulton, wish to make the following statement:

On Saturday, July 4, the circulation of handbills announced a baseball game scheduled for Sunday afternoon, July 5, appraised the citizens of Fulton that a deliberate violation of the Sabbath had been planned. At 12 o'clock, Sabbath noon, a joint meeting of the Men's Bible Classes of the First Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, State Street Methodist and the Congregational Churches, was held in the Brotherhood rooms of the First Methodist Church, about 250 men being present. At that time the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Brotherhood Class of the First Methodist Church, the Men's Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church, the Baraca Class of the Baptist Church, the Methodist Brotherhood of the State Street Methodist Church and the Bethany Class of the Congregational Church, do put ourselves on record as unalterably opposed to Sunday baseball in our city, and that we do urgently petition our city authorities to enforce the laws of the State of New York in regard to Sabbath observance, and furthermore that we pledge to them our hearty support in the discharge of their official duties.

A committee consisting of Thomas Hunter, Russell Draper, J. H. Howe, Charles R. Bennett and C. C. Benedict, was named to wait upon Chief of Police Ross, asking him to prevent the game scheduled for the afternoon. Chief Ross acknowledged that Sunday baseball was a misdemeanor, but refused to act unless so ordered by his superior officers. This committee then sought Mayor Quirk, but failed to find him.

The meeting then instructed H. L. Paddock to get in telephonic communication with District Attorney Baker. As a telephone was installed in the church, this was quickly effected. The District Attorney instructed the meeting to confer with the Chief of Police and with the Mayor. Upon being informed that the Chief of Police had refused to act and that the Mayor could not be found, he then instructed the meeting to call upon Deputy Sheriff John W. Youngs of this city to stop the game. Deputy Sheriff Youngs was summoned before the meeting and at once communicated with the District Attorney for the confirmation of his authority, and upon further communication with Sheriff Hilton he informed the meeting that the Sheriff had promised to come with deputies for the purpose of preventing the game of ball.

It was then voted by the meeting to inform Manager Donovan of the Fulton team that Sheriff Hilton had promised to prevent the ball game.

The meeting was marked by enthusiasm and unanimity, and in full confidence that the Sabbath was not to be desecrated and that the law was to be enforced the meeting was adjourned.

(Signed)
JOHN GERALD YORK,
FREDERICK A. MILLER,
JOHN RICHARDS,
WILLIAM L. SAWTELLE,
CHARLES OLMSTEAD,
Ministers' Association of Fulton.

STATEMENT OF COMMITTEE

In view of the printed statement on Sunday baseball appearing in the Syracuse Herald on Monday evening, we desire to state that we were solely a self-appointed committee and did not represent in our action the Men's mass meeting.

On our own initiative, and because we wished to recognize his authority, we visited Mayor Quirk on Sunday last at one o'clock, and requested him to stop the game scheduled for that afternoon.

We assured him that all good citizens were interested in and friendly to good, clean baseball without Sunday games, and that we as individuals had always supported the team in the past and if they now needed further assistance we were ready to do what we could to help them and as evidence of this, three of our number proposed to subscribe $10.00 each and further stated that we would raise at least $100.00 more.

We, therefore, did not agree to "raise an amount sufficient to liquidate the present deficiency in the exchequer of the local team."

Before going to see the Mayor we had the assurance from the Sheriff at Oswego that he and his deputies would come here and stop the game and we did not consider that the pledge to help out the team was a bargain to stop Sunday baseball.

H. L. PADDOCK,
THOMAS HUNTER,
J. H. HOWE,
CHARLES R. BENNETT,
Committee.

July 7, 1908.

Fulton has had a team in the Empire State Baseball League for three years and she has seen stormy and tempestuous times. But the past storms should be no comparison to the storm about to break, as they have not cleared the financial atmosphere surrounding the conduct of the team.

Like a thunderbolt from a clear sky came the information this week that the local team is involved to the sum of $623, this amount, according to President Cary, includes every cent of outstanding indebtedness for lumber for grand stand, lumber for fence, salaries, etc., up to and including, Monday, July 6. So far as The Times can learn, each year the indebtedness was supposed to have been cancelled, the Chamber of Commerce having contributed money to that end and season-end assessments having been levied upon stock holders, as well as benefit games having been played and voluntary contributions having been solicited. The Times brings no graver charge than that of mismanagement and keeping from the public the true status of affairs, against the men empowered each year to conduct the affairs of the association. A condition has now arisen which must be met. It reflects discredit upon this city of ours and a rigid, business like investigation should be conducted. A statement of receipts and disbursements should be demanded before one penny toward liquidating the indebtedness is subscribed. When this accounting has been secured Fulton will be public spirited enough to make the sacrifice and pay up the debts incurred perhaps.

When the season opened this Spring, many of the heretofore most liberal patrons of the baseball association were given to understand, figuratively, that there would not be "any Sunday school" in the baseball this year and that Sunday ball would be played, regardless of the fact that it is in direct defiance of the State law, section 265 of the Penal Code prohibiting "All shooting, hunting, fishing, playing, horse racing, gaming or other public sports  upon the first day of the week." The men who made the "anti-Sunday School" statement have had a try at making good without the co-operation of this element. They have failed and they now stand ready to accept succor from the men at whom they sneered.

The Times will endeavor to furnish a verified statement of local team conditions to all who are interested and begs that all action upon the part of our citizens be deferred until such a time as business-like methods can be employed. President Cary will do all in his power to enlighten the public and to assist in bringing order from existing chaos.

MARRIED

In Oswego on Wednesday occurred the marriage of Mr. Edward O'Hara and Miss Catherine Otis, both well-known in Fulton.

Announcement has been received in this city of the marriage of Mr. Thomas Coleman, a former popular deliveryman for H. P. Allen, and Mrs. Killam of Utica, formerly of this city.

At the parsonage at the First Methodist church, July 6th, at 7.30 p.m., Mr. Earnest M. Doty of Newark, N. Y., and Miss Lulu J. Hewes of this city were united in marriage by the Rev. John Richards. They were attended by Mr. George A. Greenwood and Miss Isabella Van Scoy. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Doty will make their home in Newark, N. Y.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Annetta Wager of Oswego and Mr. Loyd Herbert Wells of Minetto was solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Wells in Minetto, Wednesday evening, July 1. At eight o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor and took their places in front of a bank of ferns and underneath a prettily trimmed arch, where the young people were made man and wife by the Rev. B. DeForest Snyder, the beautiful ring service being used. The bride's dress was of white embroidered swiss; she wore a long veil and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid, Misses Ada Wells and Cora Nichols, were prettily attired and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by Messrs. Arthur Baker and Charles Brower. During the entrance of the bridal party a vocal solo was given by Mrs. George Blodgett of Watertown. After the congratulations, a wedding supper was served by Caterer O'Hara of Oswego to the fifty invited guests. The house was decorated with ferns and cut flowers, the color scheme being green and white throughout. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. Guests were present from North Scriba, Oswego and Watertown. Mr. and Mrs. Wells left on Thursday for a wedding trip to Watertown, after which they will be at home at No. 56 East Fifth street, Oswego.

Gardner Re-Nominated.

The School Commissioners convention for this district was held in the City Hall on Thursday when Commissioner Warren C. Gardner of Volney was re-nominated to succeed himself, having served successfully and satisfactorily for one term. Prof. C. H. Lockwood of Hannibal became Chairman of the convention and the nomination was without opposition. The following District Committee was named: Beardsley of Granby; Burt of Hannibal and Lindall of New Haven.

Body Floating in Canal.

On Sunday morning the body of Amie Belisle of Oswego was found floating in the canal back of Gage's mill. The man had not been seen since the night of July 3, at which time, it is supposed, he fell into the canal. He was at one time employed on the railroad. The man was about 30 years of age and is survived by his widow and one child. Coroner Marsh viewed the remains and gave a verdict of accidental drowning.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

We Wish to Call Your Attention to our

Fancy New Japan Tea

Price 50c Per Pound

This is the best value in Tea that we have ever offered and will please you.

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

NEW CIGAR STORE.

On Saturday morning, July 4, Mr. Victor C. Lewis opened his beautiful new cigar store in Cayuga street to the public. It is strictly metropolitan in every particular as regards equipment and stock. The store has a steel ceiling, embossed green leather side walls and mahogany fittings throughout. The cases are of heavy French plate and electric fans cool the atmosphere delightfully. A Colonial pillar of brass forms the cigar lighter, which is gas lighted. The floor is of blue and white tile and the entire effect is cool, clean and inviting.

All the "worth while" cigars are to be found in the new stock, as are faddy pipes and choice tobaccos for the fellows who prefer the pipe or the self-made cigarette. Mr. Lewis spent three weeks among the cigar dealers in New York city recently and has made a study of tobacco, both as a buyer and as a seller, for the benefit of his patrons. The new store has already found a cordial welcome in this city and is destined to grow although it would be impossible for it to improve.

Common Council

The regular meeting of the Common Council was held last evening. The contract for erecting the shed in the rear of the City Hall, for storage purposes, was awarded to E. R. Foster for $662, the work to be completed within sixty days.

Alderman Marvin was empowered to secure a room to be used as a dog pound.

"Take a Kodak with you" on your vacation, it doubles your pleasure: no dark room troubles now, daylight all the way through. Full stock of Kodaks and Supplies, at Lasher's Book Store.

Valuation of Special Franchises.

The valuation of special franchises in this State have been fixed by the State Board of Franchise Commissioners. An increase of $5,000,000 is due to the passage of a bill providing that crossings shall be assessed as special franchises. The figures for 1907 in Oswego county were $817,340; 1908, $930,515.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system and at the same time it allays inflammation and stops irritation. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.

New County Jail.

The new county jail soon to be erected at Oswego will be equipped with eighty cells of size and construction to meet with the approval of the State Prison Association. In all probability when the jail is completed the commission will demand that all prisoners be confined in the new jail, the old one at Pulaski having been frequently condemned. It will be an economical measure, too.

Estimating the cost of the new jail at $80,000, the county will issue bonds for that amount running through a series of years and in that way the cost to taxpayers each year will not be large. The city of Oswego must pay $29,346.66 for the construction of the new jail and the city of Fulton must pay $11,286.08 of the total cost, the two cities paying over one-half of the total estimated cost. The towns of the county will pay as follows: Albion, $1,210.40; Amboy, $446.40; Boylston $425.60; Constantia $1,256.64; Granby, $2,716; Hannibal, $2,430.08; Hastings, $2,353.12; Mexico, $3,493.89; New Haven, $1,634.16; Orwell, $1,005.44; Oswego Town, $3,236.80; Palermo, $1,288; Parish, $1,067.20; Redfield, $604.52; Richland, $4,036.80; Sandy Creek, $2,228; Schroeppel, $3,759.20; Scriba, $2,332.96; Volney, $2,256.08; West Monroe, $613.28; Williamstown, $884.80.

Fourth of July.

Saturday was without incident or accident in Fulton, and "Dad" Mead put forth earnest effort to make the day a memorable one in celebration of Liberty's birth. Two ball games, an industrial parade, band concerts and other events were scheduled to make the hours pass pleasantly for residents and strangers within our gates. So far as the elements permitted, these were carried out, but the heavy storm of the early afternoon put a damper on the ball game and soaked the players and spectators. The evening was clear and cooler and and young America indulged in fire crackers and fire works to their heart's content.

The night of the third of July was noisy and a deplorable fact was the number of youths drunk, in fact on Friday night and Saturday there was a notable lack of drunken adults around the streets but an unusual number of drunken boys. Some one must have violated the law relative to selling or giving liquor to minors, judging from the extreme youth of the intoxicated boys.

Eastman Kodaks and Supplies at Lasher's Book Store.

75c Colored Shirt Waists on Sale Now for 49c

O'BRIEN'S

$3.98 Silk Shirt Waists on Sale Now for $1.98

Come to the July Clearance Sale

Its cool shopping here. Absolute necessities for these hot July days are what we are offering you. Throughout the store there prevails that air of comfort, and suggests to you at once the need of cool and comfortable apparel. We start the list with about 100 White Duck and Shrunk Cotton Skirts that sell regularly at $1.50 and $1.75, for 98c; all sizes.

Cool Shirt Waists of figured and barred muslins, batistes, lawns, beautiful patterns, all sizes, each.....$1.25

July Clearing of Wash Goods

5,000 yards white and colored lawns, batistes, muslins and fancy weaves, that sold to 25c a yard, now.....11c

3,000 Yards worsted-finished colored cottons, 27 inches wide, regular 15c grade.....11c

Summer Notions

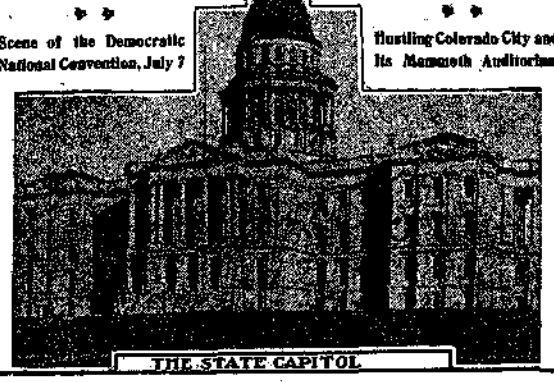
1 lot 39c Stock Collars.....25c
1 lot 25c Stock Collars.....14c
1 lot Men's Summer Neckwear, each 10c, 3 for 25c
5c Sanitary Wash Cloths for.....3c
1 lot Embroidered Muslin Ties, each.....5c
1 lot Fancy Summer Belts, each.....25c
25c Wire Hair Puffs, each.....15c
Colored Laundered Embroidered Collars, each 10c
Regular 35c Fancy Pillow Tops, each.....19c
1 lot Long Kimonas that sold for 98c, cooling off price.....59c

Cool Wear for Men

Fine Dress Shirts for.....35c
Boys' 50c Blouse Waists.....35c
Boys' 25c Blouse Waists.....19c
Men's 50c Balbriggan Underwear.....23c
Men's 25c Fancy and Black Hose for.....17c
Men's 50c Colored Underwear for.....39c
Men's 69c Night Shirts for.....50c
Men's 50c Summer Negligee Shirts, collars attached, for.....35c
Children's Blouse Waists.....49c
Children's Seersucker Dresses.....33c

Things U Need in Other Departments

98c Jap. Kimonas.....50c
Ruffled Muslin Curtains, 2 1-2 yards long...29c
1 lot Lace Curtains, worth up to $2.50 pair, one and 2 pair of a kind, pair.....$1.00
98c Rajah Silk, natural pongee shade, yard...39c
Men's $2.98 Black Umbrellas for.....$2.00



Solid Comfort in these Muslin Gowns

that sold regularly during the sale for $1.00 and $1.25, very special, each.....69c
All those gowns that sold for 75c and 89c for 59c

DENVER, A MILE HIGH

Scene of the Democratic National Convention, July 7

Hustling Colorado City and Its Mammoth Auditorium

THE STATE CAPITOL

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

[Copyright, 1908, by Robertus Love.]

IGNATIUS J. DUNN.

DENVER is a mile high. This may be one reason why the delegates, alternates and others attending the Democratic national convention which meets there July 7 may expect a high time. A tablet on the side of a building in the Colorado metropolis sets forth the interesting fact that the altitude at that point is exactly one mile above sea level. Never before has a national political convention selected to hold itself so high up in the world, and never before has such a convention been held so far to the westward. In 1900 the Democratic national convention met in Kansas City, that being until the present year "far-thest west" for all national nominating conventions.

Denver is pardonably proud of its distinction in securing this great convention, where will assemble 1,008 delegates from all the states and territories to nominate candidates for the presidency and the vice presidency of the United States. This will be the twentieth national nominating convention of the historic party, but the first to meet in a city the site of which was a barren plateau when the Democratic party nominated in 1856 its last successful candidates prior to the great political changes brought about by the civil war.

The first settlements upon the land now comprising the thriving city of Denver were made in 1857. Originally the place was called St. Charles, but a little later the name was changed in honor of General James W. Denver, territorial governor of Kansas, which at that time included the Colorado country. In 1859 the city received its charter, and in 1868 the first railroad connection with the rest of the world was made. In forty years Denver has grown from next to nothing to undisputed greatness. American energy, the precious metals and the Colorado climate have made Denver the metropolis of the Rocky mountain region and one of the most enviable cities in the world. It is practically impossible to discover anybody who once having been Denver will speak ill of the city. To most persons Denver and delight spell the same thing.

Denver and determination also might be said to spell the same thing, for the hustling representatives of the Colorado capital were so determined to secure this convention that they pledged the Democratic national committee $100,000 to help defray convention expenses, and the money was in sight before the national committeemen could say Jack Robinson. Denver also pledged the construction of a convention hall, to be called the Auditorium, which should be the biggest of its kind in the United States. The city has fulfilled that pledge, having put up a splendid stone, steel and brick structure, with a seating capacity larger than that of Madison Square Garden, in New York. The Garden seats 12,135, to be exact, while the Denver Auditorium seats 12,500. This capacity is far in excess of that of the great Mormon tabernacle at Salt Lake City, the Cincinnati Music hall, the Metropolitan Opera House in New York or the Auditorium or the Coliseum in Chicago.

The Denver Auditorium is built for generations, as Denver hopes to get many more big conventions. It is situated in the business center of the city. The structure contains 4,500,000 cubic feet of space and is lighted by 5,000 sixteen candle power electric lights. Three million brick and 1,500 tons of steel were used in the construction. The 12,500 seats are all opera chairs, no cheap wooden affairs, and there is room for the placing of a considerable number of extra chairs in the immense hall when occasion calls for them. As to exits, this hall has the rest of the United States gasping for air. Within two minutes the entire building can be emptied of its human throng. As to ventilation, the Denver Auditorium seems to surpass every known predecessor, for it has two great fans, each ten feet in diameter, midway in the house, to send cold air through the building, while there is an exhaust fan to eliminate the foul air. Each fan has a coil of 12,000 feet of pipe to be filled in summer with cold water, thus establishing a cooling plant, and to be filled with steam in winter, thus heating the building.

The Denver promoters, however, declare that the July climate is so pleasantly cool that every delegate will be able to sit comfortably in the hall with his coat on instead of being compelled, as at most conventions, to go "in shirt sleeves" and with a handkerchief under his collar.

Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha is the man selected by the Nebraska delegation to nominate William J. Bryan for the presidency.

Nothing in American life is so interesting, so dramatic, so full of thrills, as a national political convention. Denver fully realizes this fact and has determined to supply the delegates and the thousands of visitors to the convention of 1908 with an extra series of thrills. This being, as stated, the first time that the Rocky mountain plateau has had the privilege of entertaining a national body of such importance—of world importance, it may be said—Denver proposes to let slip no opportunity to prove to the rest of the United States that the city is a pretty good place to visit in the good old summer time.

There are, first of all, the "Seeing Denver" cars. On these electric coaches the visitor may observe under the tutelage of a scholarly and humorous lecturer with a megaphone most of the sights of the city—the broad, clear business section, the wholesome, happy residential areas, the parks, the state capitol building, the city's public library and the state library and, in fact, everything to be expected in a modern city except slums. Denver has no slums.

Visitors from the far eastern sections of the United States who may have become accustomed to looking upon western cities as the resorts of footpads and other kinds of holdup men will discover that there are no dark streets in Denver where a footpad may operate. Perhaps in no other city of the nation is electric light employed as a permanent police force. Of course there are living policemen, too, but the city fathers of Denver some time ago put in operation a unique lighting system with a particular intention toward making robbery a difficult and perilous pastime. Even the alleys are brilliantly lighted, so that the crook finds little chance to operate. As a result of the electric police force nocturnal robberies and assaults are scarcely known in Denver.

If the visitor to whom the "seeing" car lecturer points out the mile high sign is not satisfied with that unusual altitude he need not go home without going higher. Let him take a train for the famous Georgetown loop and beyond to Silver Plume, which is two miles high. The trip is a matter of only about three hours and is as full of thrills as the fretful porcupine's exterior is full of quills. Past gold mines prodigiously rich the train climbs up the mountains, the track winding around and up so that at Georgetown it crosses over itself twice.

In case two miles high is too low for satisfaction, there is still higher climbing by rail. The road which climbs Gray's peak, not far from Denver, is the "highest up" railway in the world. In a zigzag fashion the train crawls up the mountain wall until all around the amazed tourist lies perpetual snow and within his range of vision are 182 mountain peaks of the mighty Rocky range. This high line is something new, having been in operation but two seasons. The altitude reached by this railway is 14,000 feet, considerably more than two and a half miles.

Should further thrills be sought after these the passenger may make a one day trip into the Royal gorge and return. Another trip is that into the wonderful gold fields of Cripple Creek and their vicinity, which, in the language of an enthusiast, is "a one day trip that bankrupts the English language." A night's ride from Denver is Glenwood Springs, the beautiful watering place. A similar distance is the Pike's Peak region, with Colorado Springs, Manitou Springs and the cog road up Pike's Peak and the drive through the astounding Garden of the Gods.

Denver itself is about fifteen miles from the mountains, though the marvelously clear atmosphere causes the stranger to imagine that he can walk to the mountains and get back before breakfast. Gold and silver are by no means the only products of Colorado. In the delightful little valleys and on the plateaus around Denver one may see the prettiest of farms, agriculture being made possible and profitable through irrigation.

Denver is at the junction of the South Platte river and Cherry creek. Along the banks and in the bed of Cherry creek, right in the city, used to be placer gold in paying quantities. For that matter, anybody in Denver today may go down to the creek with a pan and wash out $1 or $2 worth of gold dust in a day's work.

"Is that so?" exclaimed an excited tourist who recently visited Denver and heard this fact casually mentioned. "Why, I don't see anybody down there looking for gold. Why don't you folks take advantage of your opportunities and pick up gold if it is lying around loose?"

The informant, a Denverite, smiled softly.

"Why," he replied, "there's nobody in Denver poor enough to have to work for $2 a day, so what's the use?"

Colorado is the only state in the Union which has a preacher for governor. The Rev. Dr. Henry A. Buchtel, chancellor of the University of Denver, is the chief executive of the state. Another interesting political fact is that women vote in Colorado on equal terms with men for any candidate, from the man who runs for justice of the peace to his fellow citizen who seeks the presidency. Never before has a national convention met in a state where the enthusiastic ladies in the galleries of the convention hall will vote in November for or against the candidates nominated at the convention.

Colorado is called the Centennial State because it was admitted to the Union in 1876, just a hundred years from the promulgation of the Declaration of Independence. It is the most mountainous of all the states and by far the richest in mineral wealth. Denver has the largest smelting works in the world, but for all its furnaces it is a remarkably clean city, with a pellucid atmosphere and no trace of coal smoke smut on the walls of the buildings.

Denver has four high schools and sixty-five graded schools and no less than 180 churches. As proof positive that the town is altogether up to date the fact may be mentioned that the public library shortly is to be housed in a Carnegie building.

But the Auditorium, built primarily for the Democratic national convention and secondarily for all other big conventions, shows and spectacles which are expected in the next two or three generations, is built exclusively of Denver funds.

JOHN A. JOHNSON AND WILLIAM J. BRYAN, LEADING CANDIDATES FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

Local and Personal

Uncle Sam was 132 years old on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McRae spent July 4 with friends at Clifton Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Southerland and family of Canada, are in this city.

Miss Julia Gilbert continues to gain in health although still far from robust.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Tetley of Albany are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Lake.

Dr. A. J. Gilmour of New York city is the guest of his mother, Mrs. M. J. Gilmore.

Mrs. Maude Highriter and children, of Meriden, Conn., are the guests of Mrs. Helen Boomer.

The Misses Chloe Searles and Sarah Hillick have been the guests of Mrs. Stoddard in Scriba.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gaylord of California are spending some time with friends in this section.

Mr. Virgil McConnell of the barge canal office force is enjoying a vacation at his home in Maysville.

Mr. James Mellonough last week had a contracted tendon in his finger clipped and the finger straightened.

President E. G. Cary of the Fulton baseball association, returned last week from an extended western trip.

The Presbyterian parsonage is to be improved by the addition of spacious porches. D. E. Wadsworth has the contract for the work.

The total receipts at the County Clerk's office during June were $1,311.67 of which amount $446.73 was from mortgage tax department and $448 searches.

The Common Council has leased a portion of the Morin lumber yard at a price of $25 for six months, for use as a public market and cart stand.

Miss Mildred L. Murphy of Phoenix has secured the Cornell scholarship, five candidates from Oswego county trying the examinations this Spring.

Mrs. Belle Corbin Mitchell will be away during the month of August but the school will be conducted by one of her pupils who is thoroughly competent.

There is an unusually brisk demand for space on the Fair grounds this season and especially in the main building. It is estimated that within ten days the space will all be taken.

Clinton Dorien, while engaged in carrying bags of lime into a cellar last week unfortunately, allowed a quantity of the lime dust to fly into his eyes and face, painfully burning the eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patterson on Thursday evening entertained the employes in the W. H. Patterson store at their home in honor of Mrs. F. T. Payne, who leaves soon for California.

The Mary and William McCaffrey properties have been appropriated by the State for barge canal purposes. The State pays William McCaffrey $350 and Mary A. McCaffrey $1,300.

Health Officer Russell secured from the State Board of Health a quantity of anti-tetanic serum which he distributed among the local druggists to be used in case of gun powder accident during the Fourth of July frolics.

Mr. Clarence Partrick is the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Partrick, after three years absence with the United States navy, during which time he has visited many foreign countries and enjoyed varied experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Loomis of Palermo, left last week for Denver, Col., for the benefit of Mrs. Loomis's health. Mr Loomis is well known in this city and his friends are hopeful for the speedy restoration of his wife's health.

The fourth annual reunion of the Seeley family was held on June 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram McGann in Pheonix. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crandall of this city were among the guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Wells leave on July 8, for St. Paul, Minn., where they will attend the National convention of Shriners, Mr. Wells being a delegate from Media Temple. They will also visit relatives in Fargo, Dakota, before they return home.

The Democratic organ, the Palladium, thus editorially speaks of the ticket nominated by Republicans at the conventions held in Pulaski recently: "Personally the Palladium has nothing to say in regard to the candidates placed in nomination by the Republican party Thursday. In their respective towns and cities they are known to be men of good character and ability."

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Rare Opportunity

is presented for you to

Invest With Cash Papworth

Our mail order department is young; still we are doing business in over twenty-five states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer you the preferred stock in

Cash Papworth Premium Co.

at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to

Draw 7% Dividends Annually

and said dividends are payable on January 10th each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest, would say, that any person who buys this stock can, at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to five hundred. Not more than five hundred shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to

CASH PAPWORTH

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

While in the store buying some of the above stock, take advantage of the following prices:

Delicious Butter, per pound	25c
Headlight Oil, Thursday, Friday and Saturday	9c
3 Quarts Best Kidney Beans	25c
Best Pig Pork, pound	18c
Granulated Sugar, pound	6c
XXXX Sugar, pound	7c
10 Pounds Sal Soda for	10c

And thousands of other articles that you use every day, comparitively low in price and of a superior quality. Bring in your "Mother's Oats" coupons; we give Salt City Stamps with every sale of 10c and upwards. We are still giving $15.00 in stamps with each ton of Coal at the old price.

CASH PAPWORTH

31 EAST FIRST STREET, PHONE 464 FULTON, N. Y.

THE BURNING QUESTION:

WHAT FUEL IS BEST FOR USE IN THE HOME?

Modern needs demand modern methods. Advancement is the order of the day. Twentieth Century folks want Twentieth Century comfort especially at home. Easy to get much of it if you do as thousands of others are doing:

BURN GAS.

Saves temper, time and trouble; worry, wealth and weariness. Is ready when you want it; can be shut off as quickly.

Cooks and bakes better than any other fuel; costs less; gives more satisfaction.

Phone us and our representative will call at your house

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Phone 198

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

Sacrificed to the Nile.

The ancient Egyptians, if they did not worship the river Nile, held it in great veneration and even dread. The Nile had its appointed priests, festivals and sacrifices, and if its rising was delayed for a single day a beautiful young girl was thrown into its waters and drowned in order to appease the god's anger and secure his favors.

Taking No Chances.

A farmer who took much pride in the looks of his fattening pigs once purchased a pair from a neighbor. Upon delivery at the usual age of eight weeks they seemed to him rather small.

Eying them dubiously, he remarked dryly, "Guess I had better keep the cat shut up for a few days."

Quick Change.

"Who," she asked, "is that scrawny, bowlegged, ridiculous looking person talking to Miss Rockingham?"

"That is Count Briszpicksnitzel."

"Oh! What an aristocratic, noble bearing he seems to have now that he has shifted his position so that the light strikes him properly!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Surprise.

When a woman calls her husband up by telephone without his knowing who she is, she is always surprised to see how politely he addresses her at first.—Somerville Journal.

Since time is not a person we can overtake when he is gone, let us honor him with mirth and cheerfulness of heart while he is passing.—Goethe.

The Great Clearance Sale
AT
The Fair Store
Will Continue Until July 18

While in New York hunting for bargains, we secured several thousand dollars worth of nice, clean merchandise far under price and we put these goods on sale for the people of Fulton and vicinity at prices which they have never heard before. It is nothing but bargains at The Fair Store. Our prices cannot be duplicated. We do not know of any other store in Fulton that advertises as many price reductions for any one sale and lives up to the advertising.

READ! Underwear, Hosiery, Notions, Dress Goods, Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Graniteware, Woodenware, Carpet Sweepers, Etc. Read big bills for prices.

You cannot afford to miss this sale as there is money in it for you. Thanking you for past patronage and awaiting your future trade.

S. WALDHORN

18 First Street — Waldhorn Block — Fulton, N. Y.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION
OF THE
ROCHESTER TRUST & SAFE DEPOSIT CO.
ROCHESTER, N. Y.
at the close of business June 30, 1908

RESOURCES

Real Estate	$ 475,000.00
Bonds and Mortgages	2,750,197.22
U. S. State, County, City and other Bonds	9,466,786.74
Overdrafts	.00
Time Loans	.00
Demand Loans	6,843,675.80
Cash in Banks	878,082.45
Cash on Hand	779,875.55
Total	$21,193,617.76

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in	$200,000.00
Surplus (earned)	903,710.66
Deposits	20,089,907.10
Total	$21,193,617.76

State of New York, County of Monroe, ss.

I, Robert C. Watson, Secretary of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Co., do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

ROBERT C. WATSON, Secretary.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of June, 1908.
T. D. BIDWELL, Notary Public.

Legal Notices

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibbie & Frances Kibbie.

By virtue of an execution against the property of Frances Kibbie, in the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, J. Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 13th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall, in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all the right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibbie had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to, all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton, now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 156 of said City.

Dated June 30th, 1908.

HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.
By JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.
A. T. Jennings, attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor. Office and Post Office Adress, No. 59 First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-12

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 21st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D. 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.
c9-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 30th day of April, A. D. 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 256 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
11-9

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

FOR SALE

For Sale—Ideal gas range in good condition. Will sell cheap. Can be seen at No. 415 Oneida stree.

FOR SALE—A gasoline launch in excellent condition. 1 1-2 horse power engine. Inquire of V. C. Lewis, 133 S. First street. tf

For Sale—Rowboat, 15½ feet long by 3 feet wide. Inquire at home of Jeth Miller, 12 miles north of Fulton on the west river road. je17

FOR SALE—Model F Buick car, top and full equipment; new tires on rear and two extras; perfect order. J. C. Gaskill, Oswego, N. Y. 7-8

For Sale—One top delivery wagon and one top buggy in good condition for sale cheap. A. L. Warner, 105 Oneida street. 7—15

TO RENT

To Rent—Ground floor rooms, suitable for small family; rent reasonable. Inquire of Mrs. M. J. Sweet, 823 Emory street. je3-tf

TO RENT—Rooms for a small family on ground floor. City water and use of gas range if desired; pleasant location on corner. Terms, $2.00 per week.

Inquire at No. 52 North Third St.

LOST

Lost—A pair of rimless eye glasses in case, near the Post Office. A suitable reward will be paid for their return to G. C. Webb, 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

Wanted

Wanted—Several second hand bicycles with out tires. Good makes. Inquire of James Bogue, Oneida street. 7-15

Home Memories
A Good Old Dark State Story by
Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Mr. M. Clock of Lansing visited friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hill entertained Oswego friends Sunday.

Mr. William Ringland has gone to Ireland for a several months' visit among relatives. He was accompanied to Boston by his mother, Mrs. John Ringland, who returned home Saturday after spending a week with friends in that city.

The hall team held an ice cream festival Thursday evening, July 2.

Station Agent and Mrs. F. J. Beadle and children were guests of Mrs. Beadle's parents in Scriba, July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hirt and daughter, Neva, and Mrs. Martha Hirt, visited in Pennellville, July 4.

Mrs. Chas. Osborne of Oswego was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hill Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ricker of Syracuse visited Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Ricker over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hirt are entertaining Pulaski friends.

Miss Emma Pero of Syracuse, was the guest of Mrs. M. Bunker over Sunday.

Mrs. William Young has been entertaining her brother, Mr. William Wiley of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Tompkins of Syracuse have been guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tompkins.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will serve ice cream on Mrs Gurlich's lawn, Wednesday afternoon, July 8.

Mr. John Wells is reported to be improving.

Mrs. Jessie Onyan of Greene, N. Y., has returned home after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Beadle, at Walnut Lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mack visited their daughter, Mrs. Belle Thompson, at Baldwinsville, on Sunday.

Messrs. Claude Bacon and Lee Thompson spent Saturday in Syracuse.

School Commissioner Warren S. Gardner and family spent July 4 at Mount Pleasant.

Miss Ethel Jones recently spent a week in Poultney, Vt.

Messrs. Charles Jones, Ray Brooks and Harold Seymour, who have been attending school in Poultney, Vt., are spending their vacation with their parents.

Mrs. M. Jenne was the guest of Minetto friends last week.

A special meeting of the L. A. S. was held in the parsonage, Tuesday, June 30.

Everything for the Amateur Photographer, at special low prices, at Lasher's Book Store.

Bovine Tuberculosis

Prof. Theobold Smith, in charge of the department of comparative pathology of Harvard Medical school, and formerly in charge of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, in his address before the Massachusetts Medical society, said that as the result of a careful and close study of the subject he personally did not believe in the transmissibility of bovine tuberculosis to mankind. Furthermore, that the bovine bacilli and those found in man are different, and of that very important fact he is convinced.

The Herald already has set forth the views of the discoverer of the tubercle bacilli, the famous Dr. Robert Koch, the German physician and pathologist. Dr. Koch has taught consistently and persistently that the disease is not transmissible to man by milk.

Dr. Theobold Smith's opinion will be very welcome to our people, particularly to our State farmers.—New York Herald.

Petition Filed.

The following petition from Oneida street residents has been filed with the Board of Public Works;

Fulton N. Y. July 1, 1908. To the Board of Public Works, of the city of Fulton.

Sirs—We, the undersigned people, owners of property fronting on that section of Oneida street, from the head of the Oneida street sewer to the East city line, respectfully request and petition the Board of Public Works to extend or build a sewer on said section of Oneida street, before the proposed macadamising of such street as it is the natural course for the construction of such sewer and seems proper and fitting at this time.

Respectfully — W. J. Sharp, J. W. Distin, F. C. McCoon, H. L. Crane, S. Coleman, Katherine Bryant, Stella S. Howard, J. M. Piper, W. H. Merriam, S. F. Hill, Esther Coit, C. C. Ketcham

Hunters Licenses Necessary.

Commencing July 1, it will be necessary for hunters to secure licenses or run the risk of fine and imprisonment, if caught hunting without. The first license issued in Oswego county under the new law was secured by County Judge M. S. Stowell. A description of the one taking out the license must be secured by the one issuing same and Deputy Clerk W. E. Lewis described Judge Stowell as "a handsome old sport." Licenses to resident hunters cost $1.10 and $20.20 to non-resident hunters.

CHURCH NOTES.

Zion Church

Fourth Sunday after Trinity, July 12—Holy communion, 7.30 a. m.; morning prayer, litany and sermon, 10.30 a. m.; evensong and sermon, 7.30 o'clock.

The Parish Aid Society will meet for work at the parish room in the rectory on Thursday afternoon of this week.

First M. E Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

If you are indentified with no church in this city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

State Street M. E. Church.

Public worship at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Sunday School at 11:45 a. m.

Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.

Prayer service, Thursday evening at 7:30.

The Primary Department of the Sunday School will have a hay ride on Friday afternoon followed by a picnic supper on the church lawn. Teams will leave the church at 3 p. m. for the ride.

A class will be received into membership in the church next Sunday morning.

Next Sunday evening a twilight service will be held. The church will not be lighted, but old hymns will be sung and a short sermon preached.

What is a cold in the head? Nothing to worry about if you treat it with Ely's Cream Balm. Neglected, the cold may grow into catarrh, and the air-passages be so inflamed that you have to fight for every breath. It is true that Ely's Cream Balm masters catarrh, promply. But you know the old saying about the ounce of prevention. Therefore use Cream Balm when the cold in the head shows itself. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros, 56 Warren Street, New York.

A Bibulous Lord Mayor.

Any one with a love of queer names should study the names of past lord mayors of London. Besides one or two that are merely uncommon and did not belong to men of any distinction, such as Sir Richard Spaa, mayor in 1482, there are some that deserve notice also for the sake of those who bore them. There was Sir John Brugges in 1520, whose ancestor fought at Agincourt, when, curiously enough, the name had the more modern form of Brydges. There was Alderman Micajah Perry in 1739, who laid the first stone of the Mansion House, and Sir Benjamin Hamet, who was fined £1,000 in 1797 for refusing to act as mayor—positively a cheap way of getting out of it.

The most appropriately named lord mayor seems, however, to have been the cheerful Sir Robert Viner, who entertained Charles II. and drank the king's health so often as to become unduly merry. The king tactfully sought to retire, but Viner plucked him by the sleeve and vowed he should "stay and take the other bottle!" Charles II., never at a loss, complied, murmuring, "He that is drunk is as great as a king."—St. James' Gazette.

The Flight of a Great Nebula.

One of the most striking spectacles revealed by telescopes is that of the great nebula in Orion. In the complexity of its glowing streams, spirals and strangely shaped masses, intercepted by yawning black gaps and sprinkled over with stars arranged in suggestive groups and lines, it has few rivals in the heavens. The impression of astonishment made by the sight of this nebula is heightened by knowledge of its enormous size. The entire solar system would appear as a tiny speck beside it. Yet this tremendous aggregation of nebulous clouds and starry swarms has been proved by the researches of the astronomers of the Lick observatory to be flying away from the earth and the sun at the rate of eleven miles in every second. But so vast is its distance that a hundred years reveal no visual effects of the great nebula's swift retreat. If it were near by it would seem to become rapidly smaller.—Chicago Record Herald.

The Artless Red Indian.

The influence of the fur trader and the mission schools has had a marked effect upon the Ontario Indians. They have to a large extent adopted modern dress, and many of the young men can be found at work in the sawmills and as river drivers. The women, too, manage to keep step with their lords in this march toward civilized appearance. I have seen moccasined feet peeping from beneath the folds of velvet gowns of royal purple. On the bank of Rainy river I came upon a community of wigwams and tepees. About an open fire crouched three old hags, filthy and hideous, but in the door of a tepee not ten feet away stood a young squaw, perhaps a daughter of one of the hags, doing her hair with a curling iron.—Wide World Magazine.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Inexpensive to try. Cancer does not wait. We give remedy at cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway cor. 8th St., N. Y.

SOUVENIR
Saturday, July 11th
Decorated China
Cup and Saucer
THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.
In addition to usual checks with
Spices, Extracts, Chocolate, Cocoa, Teas, Coffees, Etc.
SUGARS AT COST
28 East First Street — Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 — F. A. RUDD, Manager

The Companies that Paid Lossess in
"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT
WERE LIMITED
No matter how limited, they are All represented in the office of
STREETER & PLATT
"Why Not Have the Best?"
Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

Spinning on the Common.

That historic bit of ground known to the world as Boston Common has been the background of many a strange and picturesque scene. Surely not one of the varied events which have been acted upon it presents a quainter picture than one which took place about 1750. Mr. Francis Drake describes the occurrence in his article in "The Memorial History of Boston" on "Life in Boston In the Provincial Period."

In 1720 an attempt was made in Boston to encourage the art of spinning and to establish schools where the process could be taught to the poor. It was recommended that twenty spinning wheels should be provided by the town for the use of children sent from the almshouse and a premium allowed of £5 for the first piece of linen spun and woven.

In 1747 a society was organized for the encouragement of the industry, and the fourth anniversary was publicly celebrated.

"In the afternoon," says an old account, "800 young female spinsters, decently dressed, appeared on the common with their spinning wheels. The wheels were placed in three rows, a female at each wheel. Weavers also appeared in garments of their own weaving. There was an immense number of spectators."

Chivalry and Fatness.

Have you never noticed that great personal bulk and chivalry go almost always together? Well, they do, and I am reminded of a circumstance that happened long years ago. There was in congress from the state of Alabama a gentleman named Dixon Lewis. He was notorious for his stoutness as well as for his courtliness and abilities. This gentleman was a Virginian by birth, but removed early to Alabama, which state he represented during several terms of congress and was in the senate at the time of his death in 1848. Biographers relate of him that one time after the adjournment of congress he was on his way home in a steamer that was wrecked and while he had an opportunity to do so refused to take a seat in a small boat because his great weight would jeopardize the lives of others in the boat, and, although for a time he was in great danger, he was at last rescued. There was a noticeable combination of chivalry and fatness.—Washington Post.

Rule of Three.

"Well," said a persevering governess, "I will put it in another form. If it takes one servant nine hours to do the entire housework of a family how long will it take three servants to do it?"

Tommy—Oh, I know, teacher. I heard mamma speak of it only this morning.

Governess—Well, how long will it take them?

Tommy—Three times as long.—London Tatler.

Earthquakes as Warnings.

The belief that earthquakes are signs or warnings owes its origin in part to prophecies in the Bible, where, for example, we read that "there shall be famines and pestilences and earthquakes" as portending future calamities. Earthquakes have led to the abolition of oppressive taxation, the abolition of masquerades, the closing of theaters and even to the alteration of fashion. A New England paper of 1727 tells us that "a considerable town in this province has been so far awakened by the awful providence in the earthquake that the women have generally laid aside their hooped petticoats."—Nature.

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

The
1000 Islands
Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight
Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 3:50 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17. Olcott Beach July 7th.
p-12

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

FROM present appearance that compact little army sent by the United States to Panama will have nothing more serious to do than to act as a reserve police force for the isthmus. So much the better for Panama and for the United States. This country cares little who may be elected president of that little toy republic, but all the world is interested in the peace of the zone through which the canal is building. That can at least be kept free from political earthquakes and no doubt the presence of a small United States army had influence in this direction.

THIS is the season of great suffering for that most patient of all servants, the horse. Give him water often. Let him stand in the shade when possible. See that his harness is comfortable. Try to put yourself in his place. Remember the golden rule and broaden the words "others" and "them."

"WHAT's the matter with Kansas?" may be answered by saying that she lacks twenty-five thousand men to harvest her wheat crop. One reason of the lack of men is that the Kansas farmers are too busy riding in automobiles to do such sweaty work as harvesting.

MANY writers in the newspapers are now telling how to know a mad dog, but most of us do not care to know a mad dog. A sensible man will avoid his acquaintance.

GEN. Luke Wright, Ex-Confederate soldier, will be the first Secretary of War from the South since his predecessor, Jefferson Davis, held the same office.

IT is curious to observe how little is known of the distinction, wit and charm of a presidential candidate's family before he is nominated.

THE White House is vacant, but the President can still launch his policies and his big stick from Sagmore Hill.

HOSPITAL DONATIONS.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Fulton Hospital Association expresses gratitude for the following contributions for June:

Charles Wetherby, plants for flower beds.

G. W. Perkins, plants for flower beds.

Mrs. Sweeney, berries.

A friend, 3 cans fruit, 5 lbs sugar, 4 lettuce, 5 lbs mutton, peck peas, 3 quarts berries, 2 bunches radishes, 6 lbs beef, 2 lbs graham crackers.

Miss French, Mrs. Livingston, Miss Nelson, Mrs. Thomas Hunter, Miss May Gardner, basket of groceries.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Sold by all druggists.

SUNDAY BASEBALL.

Fulton is a lawabiding community and her citizens are ready to maintain the law, as was evidenced when an attempt was made to play baseball here on Sunday last. The meeting which was held to protest against the defiance of law was composed of earnest men from every walk in life. There was no display of temper or vindictiveness on the part of anyone present. These men were determined to uphold the law, to prevent the desecration of the Sabbath and they proposed to proceed legally to secure the enforcement of the law. The local officials were first asked to do their duty. Failing to secure their co-operation the District Attorney and the Sheriff were pressed into service with the result that the game was abandoned. There was no intention upon the part of our city officials to demand compliance with the law. They permitted the law to be obeyed when they found that its violation would not be allowed. An opportunity was thus lost to establish a reputation and record in favor of law as opposed to law breaking.

In the face of the facts which must be known to him, the Syracuse Herald correspondent, who is also president of the Ontario Baseball League, persists in giving out erroneous information. He knew that the men who called upon Mayor Quirk were there solely in a friendly capacity, preferring that he should exercise his duty and carry out the terms of his oath of office, than that the Sheriff should interfere. They gave him the opportunity. Arrangements other than that he should stop the game had already been perfected when they saw him. In fact it is hinted that Quirk called up the Sheriff and found that he was already to start for Fulton, before he agreed to interfere. The Herald's correspondent falsifys his every report of the matter but when the statements of the Herald's correspondent and the appended statements are read it will not take a man long to decide wherein the truth lies.

BOARD OF FIRE AND POLICE.

A few weeks ago The Times announced that there was a rumor to the effect that Chairman Brannan of the Board of Fire and Police had resigned his position as a member of the Board, but the statement was vigorously denied by several in positions to know the truth. An investigation of the members present at subsequent meetings of the Board will prove The Times information accurate, and at the last meeting of the Board held on Tuesday evening Commissioner James L. Jones was appointed Chairman to succeed Mr. Brannan. The cause for Mr. Brannan's resignation will not be discussed by himself but the belief is current that broken promises and political injustice are resented by Mr. Brannan and his resignation was voluntary and on account of these conditions.

The patrolmen were granted a 10-days vacation.

The following bills were paid from the Police Fund: E. J. Schem, $23.-50; G. B. Perkins, 50 cents; W. H. Ross, $8.53; Fulton Light, Heat and Power company, $1.00; W. H. Ross, $10.70; J. H. Murphy, $9.33; U. C. Adams, $22.50; Thomson and Bogardus, $10.50. Fire Fund, F. D. Van Wagenen, $84.87; R. B. Carhart, 65 cents; John B. Follan, $9.11; W. G. Gage & Company, $36.75; Charles Allen, $1.00; D. E. Roach, $10.20; S. F. Hayward & Company, $10.50; Utica Fire Alarm Tel. Co., 75 cents; Joseph LaLonde, $11.95; E. H. Nodyne, $1.00; W. H. Geyer & Company, $26.30; H. R. Goodelle, 90 cents; George Johnston, $4.30.

Advertised Letters.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., July 8, 1908.

Johnie Tiff, James J. Roche, Carl Smith, Norman Baulch, Patrick A. McMahon, Yan Misiasek, Mrs. Johnes Allan, Mrs. H. B. Burtin, Mrs. B. B. Billings, Mrs. Pirl Guernsey, Mrs. John Richardson. Cards, Mrs. Warran Troup, Mrs. Hattie Palmer, R. 6.

William E. Hughes,
Postmaster.

BOND SALE UNSUCCESSFUL.

The sale of bonds for the enlarging and improving of State Street school house, to conform with the demands of the State Board of Education and for the accommodation of the increasing number of children of school age, gives promise of being a perplexing one, before the sale is successfully consumated. The only proposition received by the Council was one which they are powerless to accept inasmuch as the city charter provides for the rate of interest at which bonds may be issued and also provides that bonds may not be sold at less than par. Edmund Seymour & Company, bankers of No. 45 Wall street, New York, submitted a proposition to find a customer for the bonds at par and accrued interest and a premium of $15, provided they be allowed a commission of 5 per cent for their services and for furnishing the lithographed bonds.

By this means, the city would receive only $9,515 cash.

The bankers offered a second proposition which was to find a customer at par, interest and $15 premium, without commission, for the bonds if the interest on the same is made 4½ per cent. The proposition was accompanied with a certified check in the amount of $1,000 as a guarantee of the banker's good faith.

The law relative to the proper housing of students is mandatory and it is a recognized fact that Fulton does not comply with the law and is liable to lose the State school funds as a result.

Stanley Dry Plates, 4x5, only 38c per dozen, at Lasher's Book Store.

VERY TRUE.

A feature of the Republican convention at Pulaski was that the Republican organization, or machine, did not seek to control the nomination for sheriff. It was a free race and though Charles W. Taft had a large number of votes pledged to him it had been freely predicted the nomination would go elsewhere. This is not to be construed to indicate that the organization lost control of the convention, but it was simply "hands off."

Another point to be noted is that the personnel of the candidates nominated is not materially changed by the fact that there was no interference on the part of Judge Stowell. The facts are that the organization represents the sentiment of the county and thereby reflecting the wishes of the majority of the Republican voters maintains its strength. The query arises in this connection what would become of the Republican party of Oswego county, without a strong directing hand? Oswego county has been for many years controlled by our ablest citizens, men above reproach, and so long as this condition is maintained, so long will the party in power command the united support and strength of the party and the respect of its opponents.—Sandy Creek News.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

This Day and Time.

"Dis yer day an' time," said Brother Williams, "is too much fer me. Ef dar wuz a Joshua livin' who could make de sun stan' still he do it so he could save on de gas bill, an' ef Jonah wuz livin' now an' a whale didn't have any mo' sense than fer swaller him he'd lan' dat whale high an' dry an' sell him ter de tie trust, an' ef Lot wuz gwine 'long wid his wife an' she wuz turned into a pillar er salt he'd buil' a fence roun' her an' 'lect hisse'f president er a salt trust! Hits de rushin'est, grab all age I ever wuz in. Dey not only rides de lightnin', but dey done staked off de stars, an' dey knows des how many hours a day de fireman in de sun works, an' dey is slick enough ter tie tin cans ter de tails of de comics what go blazin' roun' de sky! We is so wise on our own account dat wisdom itse'f looks foolish. Whar we'll fetch up I dunno. All I does know is dat we gwine fast enough ter make yo' head swim!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Size of Great Men.

The Iron Duke has always been a mystery. I have read that he was six feet four inches tall. I have read also that he was only five feet six inches. Historians tell us he was anywhere from five feet six inches to five feet eleven inches. There are some things seemingly very simple which it is impossible to establish. This is one of them. Historians are still guessing the height of Julius Caesar, the size of Hannibal's head, the weight of Alexander the Great and the general dimensions of Solomon. Why, we are not even sure of the stature of George Washington. It might be believed that Napoleon, Alexander the Great and Jay Gould were of the same size, three bumptious little chaps. And it is common belief that Charlemagne, Erling the Bold, Frederick the Great, Robert Bruce, Sir William Wallace, General Winfield Scott and Richard Coeur de Lion were all top notchers, "Old Fuss and Feathers," formed in the prodigality of nature, leading in girth and weight.—New York Press.

Our Semi-Annual Clearance Sale Has Commenced

We are overstocked owing to the financial condition and are selling our Suits at 1-4 OFF price, same as we do at the end of the season---That means:

You buy a $22 Suit now for $16.50
You buy a $20 Suit now for $15.00
You buy a $18 Suit now for $13.50
You buy a $17 Suit now for $12.75
You buy a $16 Suit now for $12.00
You buy a $15 Suit now for $11.25
You buy a $12 Suit now for $9.00
You buy a $10 Suit now for $8.00

All our clothing is made by the leading makers of the country. They are made and trimmed properly. Come and be clothed now and get the use of it at August prices.

Our usual guarantee—"Money refunded if goods are not as represented"—goes with every sale.

S. LIPSKY & SON

First Street — Lewis Block — Fulton, N. Y.

SOUTH GRANBY.

We are having the nicest hay weather imaginable.

Miss Mabel King, who has been visiting her people in McGraw, returned Sunday night. Her brother Ray is there now.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cook and family visited friends in Mt. Pleasant and attended the Fourth of July celebration.

Mrs. L. T. Austin spent nearly a week in Mt. Pleasant. She attended the Missionary meeting at the parsonage and visited her brother and sister and also attended the 4th of July doings at the new grange hall that is being built there.

Mr. Albert Haywood, New York, stayed over Sunday at Elmer Fisher's.

Miss Ethel Sperbeck visited Ontario Beach the Fourth.

Miss Bessie Garrett and her friend Miss Francis Griffin, Warners, visited at Harlow Sperbeck's last week.

A family reunion picnic was held at E. E. Fisher's the Fourth of July. Mr. George Fisher and sons, Rev. Charles Fisher and bride of California, Mr. Hosea Fisher, wife and daughter, Warren Fisher, Miss Bertha Whitney of Oswego, Mr. C. J. Fuller, wife and son Harlow, Mr. Isaac Rumsey, wife and daughter Jennie of Phoenix, Mrs. Henry DeGraff, Mrs. Evans and two children and Miss Minnie Gerber, all of Syracuse, Mrs. Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huntington and son of Plainville, Henry Huntington and family, Mrs. Mary Blakesley and Mr. Warren Clough and wife, and Miss Hazel Pare constituted the company of guests, besides Miss Marks and Miss Winklestein, also Fred Fisher and wife of Baldwinsville, who are spending a couple of weeks there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ketcham spent Sunday at Mr. John Dickinson's.

Mrs. Anna Dickinson entertained her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Terpening, of Ira, her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Carter, Lysander, and her brother, Doctor Terpening and family of Fulton Sunday.

The L. A. S. will meet for supper at Mrs. John Dickinson's Wednesday, the 15.

The Fisher picnic, I am requested to say, was in honor of Rev. Charles Fisher and bride, who will return west next week and expect to make their future home in California.

Canvas Shoes for outing wear. S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

Notice of Completion of Assessment Rolls

Notice hereby given that the assessment rolls for the east and west tax districts of the city of Fulton for the year 1908 have been completed and filed with the city clerk and all persons interested may examine the same at the city clerk's office, city hall, Fulton N. Y., until the first Tuesday of September, 1908.

Notice is hereby further given that on the 1st day of September, 1908, that being the first Tuesday in September, the Assessors of the city of Fulton will meet at the Common Council room in the city hall, Fulton, N. Y. to review said assessments.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., July 2, 1908.

GEORGE FOSTER
JOHN M. HEWITT
8-5 O. O. HANNIS

Buy your outing Oxfords at S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

NOTABLE CAREER.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace N. Gilbert recently entertained at dinner Rev. S. H. Taft of Sawtelle, Calif., who came East as a delegate to the World's Temperance Congress which was held at Saratoga Springs the 14th of last month. He is also a State delegate to the National Prohibition convention to be held in Columbus, Ohio, July 15-16. During the fifties Mr. Taft and Mr. Gilbert were students in the New York Central College at McGrawville and they became acquainted. Soon after Mr. Taft's graduation he entered the ministry, preaching a brief time at Gilberts Mills, prior to entering upon a larger field of labor at Martinsburg, Lewis county. Early in the sixties he removed West settling in Humboldt county, Iowa, where he purchased ten sections of land in the upper DesMoines Valley. In the Spring of 1863, he returned to Lewis county and took back with him a colony of twelve families. He proceeded to lay out a village with side streets and generous parks, donating sites for school houses and church. A society was at once organized and regular services held each Sunday. A dam was constructed across the DesMoines river and soon after was built a sawmill and gristmill for the benefit of the surrounding country. In the Fall of 1869, Mr. Taft visited the East to solicit funds to establish a liberal college, visiting Gerritt Smith and many of his anti-slavery and reform colleagues. The result was the founding of Humboldt College, a fine building and costing nearly $50,000. The school gained a fine reputation; for three years students were admitted without tuition, being supported by the liberality of Eastern men and women.

Mr. Taft is spending the interim between conventions with his sister in Palermo and his nephews, Messrs. E. E. Hart and Joseph Moss, of this city.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Eye-Glasses!

You may be afflicted with stomach trouble, liver trouble, dizziness, chronic headache, nervous exhaustion and dozens of other painful and uncomfortable symptoms, and all caused by defective eye-sight.

Let us examine your eyes. It will cost you nothing if you need nothing. If you need glasses we can fit you scientifically, correctly and reasonably. Is not this a fair offer?

Wm. C. Morgan,

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

113 Cayuga St., Fulton

Prohibition National Delegates.

The National Prohibition delegates selected from this district to the convention to be held on July 15-16, are C. E. Pitts, G. D. Harger, C. W. Richards, Oswego; George B. Blount, Lacona; George W. Rogers, Hannibal. The alternates are: The Rev. S. L. Kennedy, Altmar; J. Stevenson, Hannibal; C. W. Hobbie, Fulton; George Ford and W. R. Lewis, Oswego.

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert
tf Fulton, N. Y.

CUT PRICES ON SHOES AND OXFORDS

Buy early while we have all sizes

$4.00 Kind, $3.49
$3.50 Kind, $2.98
$3.00 Kind, $2.59
$2.50 Kind, $1.98
Boys' $2.50 Oxfords at $1.98

Men's Work Shoes at Reduced Prices

Stranahan & VanBuren

The Store with a Red Front

116 Oneida Street — Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

Going Away for A Little Vacation?

If you are, and want comfort, look for hotels with Electric Light. It is the best at all times but it is the Perfect Light for warm weather. No heat, dirt, smoke or smell. Just pure comfort.

An Electric Fan is Fine! Electric Flat-Irons are Better!

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Mrs. Della Richards returned from a visit to Oswego this week.

Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Revels of Syracuse are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead.

Mrs. Fred Vine of Onondaga Hill visited Mrs. E. J. Carver of South Third street recently.

Fred Cable of St. Paul visited his grandmother, Mrs. N. R. Crosby, of Erie street last week.

Miss Francis McCully is spending the Summer vacation in New York city with her uncle, Mr. Robert L. McCully.

The Misses Mace, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mace, are spending the Summer vacation with their grandparents in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Scofield of Syracuse and Mr. Calvin Taylor and children of Scriba have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Searles.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Knofler have returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Baltimore, Md. They were accompanied home by Mr. Knofler's father, Mr. A. Knofler, who will spend the Summer months here.

Demster Grove camp meeting will be held Aug. 25 to Sept. 2, inclusive. The famous evangelists, Rev. and Mrs. M. S. Reese of Rochester have been engaged to take charge of the evangelistic services.

The report of the Board of Health for June showed eight deaths and nine births in Fulton. But two cases of contagious disease were reported. The Board has decided to summon all violators of the sanitary code before them.

The steamer Arundell, which went on the rocks several days ago, was floated on Thursday and taken to the dry-dock for repairs. The owners expect that she will be ready within a week to resume her trips between Charlotte and Alexandria Bay.

An exchange says: There is much complaining by persons who have been in the habit of finding the time table of trains on the various roads in the local papers. In the year 1907 the railroads were not doing the advertising in the papers that they usually have done, reciprocal or otherwise, and as the publisher's space is his stock in trade, he is not throwing it away. Some of the railroads which heretofore advertised liberally, are sending notices of their improved equipment or other attractions, asking the publishers to use them as "space fillers" But they are, as is ascertained by a careful canvass of a large number of papers, promptly consigned to "space" in the waste basket. Not one of the railroads referred to would allow an editor to ride as a space filler in its train, no matter how many empty seats there might be.

Brownie Enlarging Cameras, size 6 1-2 x8 1-2, only $3.00, at Lasher's Book Store.

Mr. L. M. Moore of Buffalo is spending a few days in this city.

Mrs. Mary Suydam and family are enjoying camp life down the river.

Mrs. Walter Bradley and Miss Jessie Bradly are at Thousand Island Park.

Mrs. John C. Peach of Newport News, Va., is the guest of Postmaster and Mrs. W. E. Hughes.

The Misses Lucia Emerick and Belle Brando have been confined to their homes by illness.

Mrs. Barryman of New York city is a guest in the family of Druggist and Mrs. W. J. Watson.

Mr. William Livingston of Brooklyn is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Livingston, of First street.

The Presbyterian Sunday school is enjoying a picnic at Eckert's grove today. The trip was made by canal boat.

Mrs. Rogers of Hannibal Center is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Bidwell, on Second street.

Monday found the mercury hovering about 94 in the shade, a breeze from the west, however, made living possible.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Brien and family will leave on July 15 for Old Forge where they will occupy a cottage for several weeks.

Miss Alice Tucker on Friday evening entertained a party of friends informally at tea at Pathfinder Island in celebration of her birthday.

Mrs. George W. Palmer and daughter Wava of Worth street went Monday to Thousand Island Park for a couple of months.

Mr. Hull, a graduate of Fulton High school and also of Hamilton college, is a guest in the family of his uncle, Attorney Arvin Rice.

Mr. Edward F. Kelley, manager of the Woolworth store in Westerly, Rhode Island, spent Sunday with the family of Postmaster Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Nichols, of New York city, Mrs. Emma Stiles and Miss Francis Stiles of Philadelphia, Pa., are spending a month in Yellowstone Park.

George W. Perry, a member of the Fulton team, 1907, and this year playing with Oswego, was taken to the city hospital on Saturday suffering with typhoid fever.

C. M. Walton and Martin Mulcahey of South Third street went to Rochester last week in the employ of James Fanning, the Third street contractor.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Snell and Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Gardner of Worth street were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Gardner of South Third street Saturday.

Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. DeWitt Gardner, Mrs. S. D. Gardner, Mrs. Wesley McCully, Mrs. N. H. Haviland, Mrs. W. W. Wells, Mrs. W. D. Edgarton, Mrs. A. J. Cowles, Mrs. I. R. Osborne, Mrs. William Palmer, Mrs. M. S. Bailey and Miss Martha Adkins attended the South Hannibal meeting of the W. C. T. U. last Thursday in Hannibal, held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. E. G. Wells, President of the South Hannibal Union. The meeting is reported as being a great success.

Henry Crane of Oneida street had his Jersey cow condemned recently by the veterinary surgeon. On opening her he found a piece of her stomach as large as a man's hand stuck full of small nails, carpet tacks, and one safety pin, besides having in it a number of small stones, the largest being the size of a man's thumb, and some twisted wire from baled hay. She was fat and Mrs. Crane was making every week from her eleven and twelve pounds of butter. The last month of her life she brought twenty dollars and sixty cents ($20.-60.)

The lowest of prices in shoes and Oxfords. S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

If your eye-sight is giving you trouble ell it to Morgan, 113 Cayuga street.

Situation Wanted

A first class accountant and office man, thoroughly familiar with up-to-date methods of cost accounting, wants position with manufacturing concern. Address X, Times office, Fulton. tf

Charles Easton will spend some time in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Emeny have been entertaining Miss Catherine Jenkins of Iowa.

Miss Ruby Partrick of Chicago is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Partrick.

Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. James Hunt of New York city.

Miss. Jessie VanAuken of Oswego is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Adin Drake of No. 312 Walradt street.

Dr. Paul Titus of Syracuse was the Monday guest of Fulton friends.

Mrs. Charles Burke of Cleveland.

Mrs. C. M. Haven, who has been the guest for several weeks of Mr. and Mrs. John Partrick, left on Tuesday for her home in Chicago.

George Baker, clerk for S. Lipsky Son, was the first one to present the correct list of misspelled words in the Oracle to Laskaris, and he received a 60-cent box of chocolates.

Miss Ida Patton has not sufficiently recovered from a severe attack of sciatica to resume her duties in the F. W. Lasher store. She has been at her home in Mexico for two weeks and is gaining in health.

City Chamberlain Orrin Bogardus is in attendance at the National Convention of Elks in Dallas, Texas Mr. Borgardu will learn something of extreme heat this week while a guest in the sunny south.

Miss Daisy E. Thorp of Albany will on Saturday become the guest of Mrs. T. R. Tetley at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Lake.

Ohio, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelsey.

Mr. John Reynolds is recovering as well as could be expected from a recent fall in which he sustained a fractured hip.

Mr. Sumner McDonough and friend, Mr. O'Keefe, both employed in the Government printing office in Washington, D. C., are enjoying camp life at Lake Neahtawanta.

reward.

Albert, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry, suffered a wound in his hand on July 4, as the result of discharging a pistol containing a blank cartridge. Dr. Anderson dressed the wound and administered anti-tetanic serum.

Rev. Irving Galusha closed his pastorate of Bristol Hill church the Sunday prior to the calling of the game of base ball in this city. It was a singular coincidence and one which has occasioned considerable comment. Mr. Galusha is president of the Ontario Baseball League.

Mr. J. C. O'Brien has spared no expense in fitting up his block in Cayuga street into one of the finest play houses in this section of the State, the same being occupied by Messrs L. F. Cornell and George Pomphret with a moving picture show, Mr. Walter Miles having sold the Theatorum interests to them. The place is cool, clean and beautifully equipped and a very successful season is prophesied.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Parsons entertained at dinner at their home in First street in honor of the natal anniversaries of Messrs. Orrin Henderson, T. D. Lewis and Thomas Hunter. The event is an annual affair and is enjoyed to its fullest extent by the "boys" who are truly years young, Mr. Henderson admitting to 85 Summers but wearing his years so lightly as to seem many years younger.

The Summer goods in the O'Brien store have got to go and the prices put upon them this week will prove sufficient leverage to start them. The Summer is all before us and you can keep cool and comfortable if you are properly dressed. You can be properly dressed at very little expense if you buy at the O'Brien store under the new schedule of prices. Read the advertisement on page 1, this issue, and see for yourself. The stock is new and fresh. No old timers in the lot.

Mens, Ladies and children 2-Buckle canvas Oxfords one year a head of the rush at S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Mr. Louis W. Emerick, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Manager of the Fulton Light, Heat & Power company's plant in this city, is receiving congratulations upon his engagement to Miss Mary Bowman of Syracuse.

Mr. A. W. Austin of Jersey City is the welcome guest of friends in this vicinity. Mr. Austin removed from this section twenty one years ago but he delights to wander back again each year and visit the scenes of his boyhood.

This Wednesday President and Mrs. Thomas Hunter and Cashier and Mrs. L. C. Foster of the First National Bank and Teller Webb G. Cooper of the Citizens Bank will leave for Frontenac, St. Lawrence river, where they will attend the State Bankers' convention.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage of Miss Amy Muller and Dr. C. Floyd Haviland of New York City, the event having taken place on Friday, June 26. Dr. Haviland has many friends in Fulton who will extend congratulations.

"The Bishop's Emeralds," which has just been added to the Lasher Reading club shelves, is exciting enough to make one forget the extreme heat. There are several other works of fiction of equal merit and the July supply of new books will be of a high order. 2 cents per day per book while you are reading it, is the only requisite.

The Butts Shoe Shop mid-Summer sale of fashionable foot wear starts to-morrow, Thursday morning. The shoes offered are of the best makes, new lasts and first class leathers. There is not an undesirable shoe in the lot, but they are Oxfords and must be cleared out to make room for the Fall stock. Beside, business has been rather quiet this season and Mr. Butts is determined to bring the year's sales up to that of last year, even though he has to give you three-quarters of the profit. Read big bills for prices.

Awed by the Beau.

When Beau Brummel, the celebrated dandy, was, in consequence of his fallen fortunes, residing at Calais, he had occasion to visit Paris. Through the kindness of the consul at the former place he was enabled to accompany a king's messenger to the capital and thus travel free of expense. When the messenger returned, the consul was curious to know how he and his aristocratic companion had fraternized upon the road. "What kind of a traveling companion did you find Mr. Brummel?" asked he. "Oh, a very pleasant one, indeed, sir; very pleasant," replied the messenger. "Ah! And what did he say?" "Say, sir? Nothing! He slept the whole way." "Slept the whole way! Do you call that being pleasant? Perhaps he snored!" The messenger acknowledged that Brummel did so, but immediately, as if fearful of casting an improper reflection upon so great a personage, he added, with great gravity, "Yet I can assure you, sir, Mr. Brummel snored very much like a gentleman!"—Argonaut.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Battle Island Paper Company will be held in the office of the Hunter Arms Company on July 15th, at 2 p. m., for the election of directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may come regularly before this meeting.

JOHN HUNTER, Sec'y,

Twenty-Five Cents is the Price of Peace.

The terrible itching and smarting, incident to certain skin diseases, is almost instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

For Sale.

A first class automobile for sale at a bargain. A runabout with new tires of the best quality, newly painted, has two vertical engines of 18-horse power. This car is as good as new in every particular. A demonstration will be given. Inquire at the Oswego County Independent Telephone Company.

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

Making a Sweeping Clearance of Wash Goods

You will surely find exactly what you are wanting and at a great saving to you at this sale.

Choice of all our 19c High Class Wash Fabrics at 10c

A fine lot of 10c Wash Goods go at 5c

$1.50 White Dress Skirts at $1.00

$2.50 White Dress Skirts at $1.50

O. Henderson & Co.

H. A. Waldorf, Manager

109 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

Complete Protection

Fire Insurance

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

DIED.

The sudden death of Eveline O., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Deneeba, occurred on Wednesday morning.

James Fitzgibbons, aged 64, died on Friday at the County Home in Mexico. No relatives appearing to claim the body it was interred in Mexico.

Elsie, P., aged 72, wife of Mr. Byron D. Read, died on Wednesday at the home of a son, Mr. B. D. Read in Oneida street. The husband and three sons survive, Messrs D. J., D. C., and D. B. Read all of this city

The death of William Ayles, for fifty years a resident of Fulton, occurred on Saturday and the funeral, which was strictly private, was held on Sunday from the home, corner of Broadway and Third streets, the Rev. Charles Olmsted officiating. Interment was made in Mt. Adnah. The widow and one son, Harry, of Syracuse, survive.

Hazel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs Fred Scudder, of Palermo, N. Y. died at St. Joseph's hospital, Syracuse, N. Y., June, 17, 1908. In spite of everything that skill could do, the naturally frail constitution of this one, so dear-loved and tenderly cared for, gave away in the twentieth year of her life. This premature departure comes as a severe shock to the family and to her many friends, and is a great loss to the home circle and to the community, but our loss is her gain, and with His grace to sustain us, we bow to the will of the Infinite, and rejoice in the hope of Immortality. Hazel was a good girl, devoted to her home and loved ones, an accomplished musician, true and sincere as a friend and greatly loved by all who knew her. The stricken family deeply appreciate, and wish to express their gratitude for the kindness shown them, and for the many handsome floral gifts. The largely attended funeral service was held from the family home in Palermo, June 20 after which the remains were taken to Fulton and laid to rest in the beautiful Mt. Adnah Cemetery.

To the Public.

It is my desire to inform my customers that on and after July 11, 1908, I will conduct my business on a strictly cash basis. In doing so I believe it to be for the best interests of both my customers and myself.

I will continue to carry the same high grade of goods and will sell at the lowest possible prices.

All orders received either by telephone or at the store will be delivered free.

I would ask that all accounts now outstanding due me will receive prompt attention, and trust you will continue your patronage as in the past.

Thanking you kindly for past favors, I am

Very truly yours,
A. L. WARNER.
105 Oneida St.
Fulton, N. Y.. July 1, 1908.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This Kind You Have Always Bought

LOST

LOST—On Tuesday on R. F. D. 5, a pair of gold bowed, double vision eye glasses. Finder will please return to Carrier No. 5, Post Office, Fulton.

LOST—On Monday on Cayuga or First streets, a pocket book containing $22. Finder will please return to the Clark House and receive

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.

STOCK BROKERS

Oswego Office—No. 6 Neal Block

Phone 1208 C. J. Bellinger, Mgr.

Securities bought and sold for cash or on moderate margins.

New York Office—53 Broadway

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change. . . .

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, FULTON, N. Y.

Capital and Surplus, $100,000.

The first consideration of the officers and directors of this bank is the security of the funds intrusted to our care by depositors.

Our past record is an absolute guarantee of sound and safe banking methods. On this evidence of stability and strength we respectfully ask for your banking business.

Beginning July 10, Specials Every Day During July

Monday, July 13		Tuesday, July 14		Friday, July 10		Saturday, July 11
10c Vegetables	7c	10c Lamp Burners	6c	10c Wash Boards	21c	35c Tea Pots	29c
60c Tumblers	58c	5c Lamp Burners	3c	10c Clothes Lines	7c	Large Straining Pails, worth 35c, for	25c
40c Tumblers	34c	Special Price on Lunch and Picnic Baskets		50c Preserving Kettles	39c	Granite Milk Pans, worth 38c, for	29c
Large Water Jugs, worth 25c, for	20c	Water Jug and 6 Glasses, worth 45c, for	34c	60c Preserving Kettles	48c	8 Rolls Toilet Paper	25c
Large Extra Heavy Galvanized Pails	39c	Many reductions in Glassware not mentioned here.		33c Sauce Pans	25c	Men's 25c Underwear	19c
10c Cream Pitcher	7c			Berry Sets, worth 40c, for	35c	Souvenir Plates	9c
				Seven 5c Boxes of Matches	25c

Watch all these columns for Specials this month at the

Bee Hive Store

J. H. St. Louis & Co.

24 South First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Call and See the Specials We Will Offer Every Wednesday

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
328 UNIVERSITY BL'K, SYRACUSE, N. Y
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD.S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
cial attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 40 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Mile B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:
First Monday in March, Court House, Pulaski,
Fourth Monday in May, Court House, Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski,
Fourth Monday in November, Court House, Oswego
I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.
Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.
Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.
Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.
MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.
On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.
Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the CLAYTON I. MILLER,
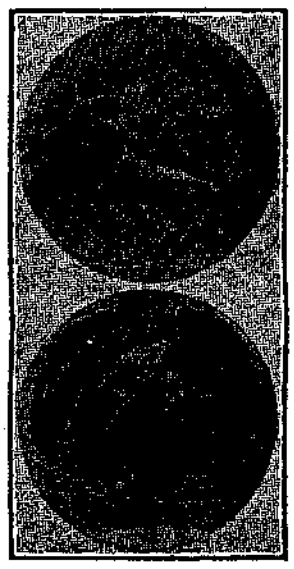
Surrogate

A Reliable Remedy for CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.



Restores and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

Olympic Laurels.

The Great Games In the Stadium at London In July—Commemoration Medals—American Team and Its Prospects.

In the athletic world no event can compare in interest this year with the Olympic games which are to be held in London in July. From nearly all the countries of the globe amateurs representing the muscle and endurance and skill of their respective nations will gather at the British capital to battle for the world supremacy in the way the Greeks did in the days of their pristine vigor. When the Olympic games were established, some hundreds of years before the Christian era, the Greeks thought themselves the only people worth taking into consideration and other nations only "barbarians." Since that time a good many other nations have come to count for something, but the Greeks are still in many respects a great nation, as those who attended the Olympic games held at Athens in 1906 discovered.

The United States will send a splendid team to contest with the other athletes in the various events of this year's games. It will be made up largely of men from the colleges, in this respect being different from the team sent to Greece two years ago, for then the games were held at a time which made it difficult if not impossible for college men to compete. July is a month when they can easily take part, being right in the middle of the usual college vacation. The games form part of the Anglo-French exposition which is being held in London this summer and are to take place in a great stadium which has been erected for the purpose and which cost $300,000. It will hold 70,000 people and will be opened by King Edward VII. on July 13. The games begin the next day and continue until July 25. There will be 105 events, the most popular of which will be the twenty-five mile Marathon race, which is to start in the king's palace at Windsor and end at the stadium. There would be 25,640 entries in the games if all the countries entitled to representation in each event sent men to fill the allotted places. Of course they will not. Nevertheless the contestants will form a very large and distinguished looking lot of men. Great Britain will spend a great deal of money in entertaining the visitors. The medals alone will cost $12,500. They are now on exhibition at the London Royal academy and are the work of the noted sculptor Bertram Mackennal. The prize medals are struck in gold, silver and bronze for first, second and third prizes respectively and the commemoration medals in silver and bronze. The inscription on the obverse commemoration medal gives the name of Ellis, where the ancient Greeks held their games and the places at which they have been held since their revival in 1896. The design represents a Greek runner returning home from victory. The reverse of each medal, designed for use on the occasion of the London Olympiad only, is a beautiful figure of Fame, typifying the modern revival of the games. On this side are the words, "In Commemoration of the Olympic Games Held In London, 1908."

OBVERSE AND REVERSE OF COMMEMORATION MEDALS.

It is fortunate that the American Olympic committee has been able to secure the cream of the college talent for the London meet, for it will make it certain that America will have even a stronger team than was sent to Athens two years ago. It will be particularly strong in field events. Star athletes will be furnished from all parts of the United States, and there is every reason to hope that they will bring back laurels of which their countrymen may well be proud.

A Knotty Point.

"Mister," said Broncho Bob as the traveling man got off the railway train, "are you a lawyer?"

"No."

"Do you think there's a lawyer on board?"

"I don't think so. What is the trouble?"

"Well, Crimson Gulch has been puttin' on some style lately, and it's gettin' us plumb confused. What we want to find out is whether it's legal to lynch a man for stealin' an automobile the same as for stealin' a hoss."—Washington Star.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, pb hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

His Criticism.

Robert Louis Stevenson once took an eccentric acquaintance of his to hear Sir Charles Halle play the piano at St. James' hall, London. Sir Charles was a musician of the most correct and severe British type, though a German by birth. After the concert was over they walked as far as the Marble arch, neither having spoken. Arrived there, the friend stopped and delivered himself thus: "The manner of the elderly statesman at the piano was somewhat austere and chilling." And then they walked on.

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Some Meteors.

One of the earliest known meteors fell in 204 B. C. in Phrygia, where for a long time it was worshiped. It was carried to Rome and was supposed to be a messenger from the gods. Livy describes a shower of meteoric stones. The people were greatly alarmed, and the senators were demoralized and declared a nine days' festival to propitiate the gods. There is at Mecca a meteorite which fell in 600 A. D. and is still worshiped by the faithful.

Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, pleasant little pills that are easy to take. Sold by all druggists.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is good for cuts, burns, bruises and scratches. It is especially good for piles. Recommended and sold by all druggists.

Waiting.

Jack—By the way, how is your suit with Miss Cashleigh progressing? Tom—Slowly. I'm playing a waiting game just now. Jack—A waiting game? Tom—Yes; I'm waiting for her to change her mind.

Punishment.

"Pop!"
"Yes, my son."
"Did mamma ever punish you?"
"Well, she married me, my boy."—Yonkers Statesman.

The fool who is silent passes for wise.—French Proverb.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHŒA REMEDY.

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhœa.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhœa and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

THE TOKYO FAIR

Frederick J. V. Skiff and the Commission to the Japanese Exposition.

When the bill appropriating $1,500,000 for representing the United States government at the Japanese International exposition of 1912 was up in the house of representatives its advocates urged that a more effective expenditure for preserving peace between Japan and the United States could not be made. Representative Rodenberg of Illinois, chairman of the committee on expositions, argued that a peace offering of this kind would be a guarantee of friendship. The idea was advanced by some that generosity toward the Tokyo fair would be in line with the president's policy, which has been defined as "speak softly, but carry a big stick." It would also show the Japanese masses, said advocates of the measure, that Americans are a very rich and powerful people, with whom it would not be well to have any trouble.

FREDERICK J. V. SKIFF.

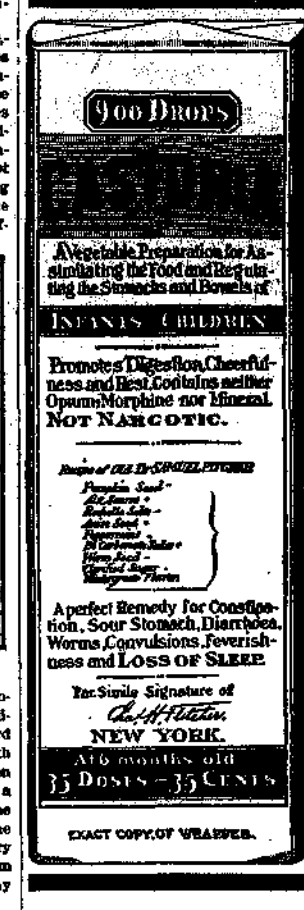
The American commission to the Japanese exposition of 1912 is composed of Francis B. Loomis, formerly first assistant secretary of state; Frederick J. V. Skiff, director of exhibits at the Louisiana Purchase exposition, and Francis D. Millet, the well known artist. Mr. Loomis was prominent during the controversy between him and Minister Bowen, resulting in the latter's dismissal from his post as United States representative in Venezuela. Mr. Loomis came out of the controversy better, as he was not dismissed, although his conduct was criticised in the report on the incident. He has had a varied experience in the diplomatic field.

Mr. Skiff is director of the Field museum at Chicago and was prominently connected with the Columbian exposition as well as the St. Louis fair. Mr. Millet is especially noted as a mural painter and has won fame also as illustrator and war correspondent. The Japanese exposition is under the auspices of the government and will present Japan the opportunity she has wanted to show that in peace as well as in war she can achieve great things. It is remembered that when the St. Louis exposition occurred four years ago the war between Russia and Japan was in progress, and Russia withdrew from participation on that account. But little Japan made an appropriation of $400,000 and had one of the best displays of any nation.



NELLIE MAY BREWSTER.

Actress Who Will Star in New Comedy This Fall.

Nellie May Brewster, who will star in Richard Carle's new musical comedy, "The Boy and the Girl," next fall, is an Iowa girl and sang in the role of Lady Vivian in the revival of "Robin

NELLIE MAY BREWSTER IN AN IMITATION OF FRITZI SCHEFF.

Hood" two years ago. She has a remarkably sweet and powerful soprano voice and was a pupil in singing of Marie S. Bissell of New York. The pose in the picture is an imitation of Fritzi Scheff.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

One Fish Didn't Grow.

A number of men were telling of remarkable catches off Atlantic City, and one of them said that one day he caught a very small cod, and, not caring to take home such a little fellow, he took a piece of copper wire, ran it through the tail of the fish, and on one end of the wire he attached a copper tag with his name scratched upon it. "The next year when I was off there," continued the man, "I got a heavy pull on the line, and after five minutes' fighting landed a twelve pound cod, and there on its tail was my tag."

"That reminds me of a similar experience off there," said another man. "I caught one of those small cod, and I wanted to hang some sort of identification on it, but I couldn't find anything in the copper tag line from one end of the boat to the other. I did find, however, a little tin whistle in one of my pockets, and, running a wire through the tail of the fish, I hung on the whistle and threw the cod back into the water.

"The following year I got a most peculiar bite on my hook, and after pulling in the line I got the surprise of my life. There was the same little cod. He hadn't grown an inch, but hanging on his tail was a long fog horn."—Philadelphia Press.

A Telephone Opiate.

The elder's wife was seriously ill, and the doctor advised rest and quiet. But the lady was very devoted to church work and worried herself into hysteria because she could not attend services and hear her favorite pastor preach.

"She must not leave the house," warned the doctor, "but you can easily arrange to have her hear the sermon by telephone."

The elder grasped the suggestion and made the necessary arrangements for transmitting the sermon into his wife's room.

At noon on the Sabbath the doctor called and asked, "How did it work?"

"Fine," declared the elder, rubbing his hands gleefully. "Ten minutes after the sermon began she fell sound asleep."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Mysterious Gegenschien.

There is visible in the night sky, under favorable circumstances, a faint light, rounded in outline and situated always exactly opposite to the place of the sun. It is called the "gegenschien" and is one of the most inexplicable objects known to astronomers. According to a scientist, it may be a sort of cometary or meteoric satellite attending the earth. He supposes it to be composed of a cloud of meteors, situated about 1,000,000 miles from the earth and revolving around it in a period of just one year, so that the sun and the meteors are always on opposite sides of the earth. He estimates that the size of this ghostly satellite may be nearly the same as that of the planet Jupiter—viz, about 86,000 miles in diameter.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON."
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St.. 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 5.15 P. M
" New York, West 42d St., 5.30 P. M
" New York, Desbrosses St., 6.00 P. M
Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Debrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 4c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 32d Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. O. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND
8.48 a. m. ..... Train No. 333
8.10 a. m., Daily ..... " 337
11.51 a. m. ..... " 301
3.31 p. m., Daily ..... " 351
6.16 p. m. ..... " 303
10.10 p. m., Daily ..... " 315
SOUTH BOUND
8.04 a. m. ..... Train No. 302
9.39 a. m., Daily ..... " 318
2.14 p. m. ..... " 350
5.09 p. m., Daily ..... " 328
7.04 p. m. ..... " 342
9.34 p. m., Daily ..... " 336

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND
*Chicago Limited for all points West....8 47 AM
†Express for Oswego..... 11 00 "
*Local for Oswego..... 5 16 PM
aLocal for Oswego..... 6 45 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego..... 7 39 "
SOUTH BOUND
†Express for Norwich ..... 3 22 AM
§Sylvan Beach Special..... 8 58 "
*Local for Sidney ..... 9 18 AM
*Limited for New York..... 12 30 PM
†Express for New York ..... 7 06 "
a Stops to leave New York Passengers.
§ Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Pullman Buffet Sleepers, Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 55 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAUL, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

DEMOCRATS IN DENVER

Twentieth National Convention of the Party of Jefferson and Jackson on July 7. Two-thirds Vote Needed to Secure Nomination.

JEFFERSON

Bryan and Johnson the Leading Candidates. Conventions of the Past. "Old Hickory" and "the Little Giant." Tilden vs. Hayes.

By ROBERTUS LOVE.
[Copyright, 1908, by Robertus Love.]

ANDREW JACKSON IN SILHOUETTE.

IN the new Auditorium at Denver, capital of Colorado, on the 7th of July the twentieth national convention of the Democratic party will begin its work of nominating candidates for president and vice president of the United States. A two-thirds vote of the 1,008 delegates, or 672 votes, will be required to nominate. In Republican national conventions a mere majority is sufficient. The Democrats adopted the two-thirds rule at their first national convention, seventy-six years ago. Of the candidates for the presidential nomination at Denver may be mentioned William J. Bryan of Nebraska, John A. Johnson of Minnesota, David R. Francis of Missouri, George Gray of Delaware and Lewis S. Chanler of New York. The convention will be called to order by Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The first Democratic national convention opened in Baltimore May 21, 1832. Its chief duty was the nomination of a vice presidential candidate. President Andrew Jackson, then near the close of his first term, was so universally popular with his party that no other name was considered for the presidency. A resolution indorsing Jackson in about a hundred words was the only platform adopted. Martin Van Buren of New York, Jackson's own selection, was named for the vice presidency.

Prior to 1832 presidential candidates were nominated by mass meetings, caucuses, legislative resolutions and in other ways not national in character. In the Baltimore convention all the states except Missouri were represented by delegates. Since 1832 the Democrats have held quadrennial conventions, and eight of them, including the first, have met at Baltimore.

At President Jackson's instance the convention which named candidates for the election of 1836 met May 20, 1835, nearly eighteen months prior to election day, thus giving Martin Van Buren and Richard M. Johnson, the nominees, the longest campaign in the history of America. This convention adopted no platform. Andrew Jackson was the Democratic platform. The whole power of Jackson's administration was exerted toward the election of Van Buren in order to overthrow John C. Calhoun, with whom "Old Hickory" had quarreled.

President Van Buren was renominated in 1840, the convention meeting May 5, as the unanimous choice of the party. The convention refused to renominate Vice President Johnson, making, in fact, no nomination for that office. Nevertheless Van Buren was badly defeated in the election by William Henry Harrison, while Johnson was elected vice president by the United States senate. The convention of 1840 adopted a platform, the first ever adopted by any national convention. It declared that the federal government is one of limited powers, which should be strictly construed by all the departments.

The convention of 1844 met May 27 and nominated James K. Polk of Tennessee for president and Silas Wright of New York for vice president, but Wright refused to accept the nomination. George M. Dallas of Pennsylvania was placed on the ticket in his stead. Wright's refusal was because of pique at the defeat of Van Buren, who tried to break down the two-thirds rule and secure a renomination for himself. Polk was the first "dark horse" nominee in our history. He had not been mentioned for the presidential nomination prior to the convention.

Lewis Cass of Michigan was nominated for president at the 1848 convention, with William O. Butler of Kentucky as the vice presidential candidate. The convention met May 2.

The convention of 1852, which opened June 1, was a battle royal, and in the end another dark horse, Franklin Pierce of New Hampshire, was named for president. The fight was between Cass, nominated and defeated four years before, and James Buchanan of Pennsylvania. Finally Pierce was voted for on the thirty-fifth ballot by the Virginia delegation, which persisted in voting for the New Englander until on the forty-ninth ballot nearly all the other delegates swung over and nominated him. William R. King of Alabama was named on the second ballot for vice president.

In 1856 the Democracy finally broke away from Baltimore and met in Cincinnati on June 2. During all of President Pierce's administration James Buchanan had been absent from the country as minister to England and thus had escaped the fierce conflict on the slavery problem and the incidental anarchy in Kansas. Buchanan, Douglas and Cass were candidates before the convention. Pierce sought a renomination and received a substantial vote, but his attitude in having favored the repeal of the Missouri compromise rendered him a weaker candidate than Buchanan, whose absence had been his political salvation. Buchanan received the nomination, with John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky as the vice presidential candidate. The platform adopted at this convention approved the course of the Pierce administration in repealing the Missouri compromise and thus giving slavery a chance to intrench itself in the new territories north of the southern line of Missouri.

The convention of 1860 met at Charleston, S. C., April 23. This was the fiercest Democratic convention ever held, slavery extension being the bone of contention. Stephen A. Douglas was by far the strongest presidential probability. The convention voted fifty-seven ballots without casting the necessary two-thirds vote for one man.

Finally the convention adjourned to meet in Baltimore June 18. Before adjournment several southern states withdrew, being opposed to the Douglas platform. The seceding delegates held a convention in Charleston, adopted a platform for which they had contended in the regular convention, then adjourned to meet in Richmond the first Monday in June. On this date the seceding delegates met and again adjourned to the 21st of June. Meanwhile on the 18th the "regulars" met in Baltimore and nominated Douglas for president and Benjamin Fitzpatrick of Alabama for vice president. Fitzpatrick declined, and the national committee named Herschel V. Johnson in his place. Some of the "regulars" bolted the Baltimore convention and nominated for president John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky and for vice president Joseph Lane of Oregon. The "seceders" sitting in Richmond accepted this ticket.

At Chicago in 1864 the Democratic convention, which met Aug. 29, was national only as it related to the northern states. The eleven southern states then in the Confederacy, of course, were not represented. General George B. McClellan was named for the presidency on the first ballot and George H. Pendleton of Ohio for the vice presidency on the second ballot. The platform pronounced the war a failure.

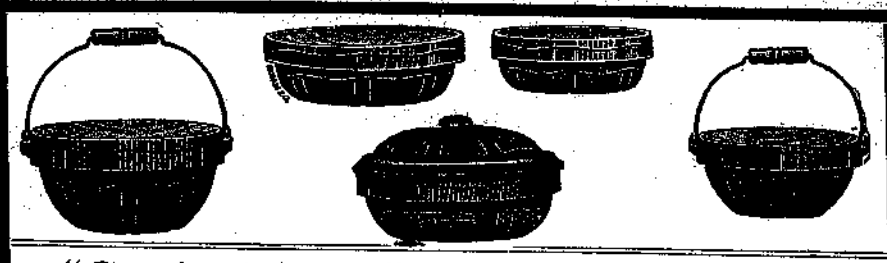
The only time the city of New York ever entertained the national convention was in 1868, when the body met there on the Fourth of July and nominated for president Horatio Seymour, governor of New York, and for vice president Frank P. Blair of Missouri.

In 1872 the Democracy as then constituted returned to the first love of the party, Baltimore, meeting in convention July 9, and nominated for the first and second offices in the land two Republicans, Horace Greeley of New York and B. Gratz Brown of Missouri. This anomalous situation was brought about by a prior convention of "Liberal Republicans" at Cincinnati, led by Carl Schurz, which nominated Greeley and Brown. The only hope of defeating President Grant for re-election was in a combination of the Democrats and the Liberal Republicans, who had declared violently against the Grant administration. The Baltimore convention simply swallowed the Cincinnati convention product—ticket, platform and all. Greeley and Brown were defeated overwhelmingly in November.

St. Louis was the Democratic convention city in 1876, June 18 being the opening date. Samuel J. Tilden of New York and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana were named for president and vice president. Tilden, who was governor of New York, was a master politician and had planned his campaign with marvelous ability. Governor Hendricks of Indiana was his chief opponent. Hendricks accepted the second place on the ticket with some reluctance. Tilden was elected in November, according to the best knowledge and belief of all Democrats and many Republicans, but a special commission created to decide electoral contests voted his opponent, Rutherford B. Hayes of Ohio, into the presidential chair. The electoral commission was made up of eight Republicans and seven Democrats. The final vote on the matters in contest was eight Republicans for Hayes and seven Democrats for Tilden.

In 1880 the Democrats met June 22 in Cincinnati. Tilden declined a renomination. General Winfield S. Hancock of Pennsylvania was named for president and William H. English of Indiana for vice president.

Grover Cleveland of New York, the first Democrat elected president since 1856 and thus far the only one, was the presidential nominee of the three conventions of 1884 in Chicago, 1888 in St. Louis and 1892 in Chicago. His running mate in 1884 was Thomas A. Hendricks, in 1888 Allen G. Thurman of Ohio and in 1892 Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.



When the convention of 1896 met in Chicago the leading candidate was Richard P. Bland of Missouri, but William J. Bryan of Nebraska, then only thirty-six years old, delivered in the convention his famous "cross of gold" speech, and in the ensuing whirlwind of enthusiasm he was nominated for president. Arthur Sewall of Maine was named for vice president. Bryan was renominated by acclamation at Kansas City in 1900, with former Vice President Stevenson in second place.

At the convention in St. Louis in 1904, of which Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri was permanent chairman, Judge Alton B. Parker of New York was nominated for president, with former Senator Henry G. Davis of West Virginia as running mate.

At the nineteen Democratic national conventions already held fifteen individuals have been named for the presidency. Of these six have been elected. The successful candidates were Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, James K. Polk, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan and Grover Cleveland. Van Buren was elected once and defeated once. Cleveland was elected twice and defeated once. Andrew Jackson was president two terms, but was the nominee of a national convention only once. Tilden was elected at the election and defeated by the electoral commission. Bryan has been defeated twice and is now again the leading candidate for the nomination. In 1904 he was not an aspirant for the honor.

DENVER AUDITORIUM AND CHAIRMAN THOMAS TAGGART.

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2 qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50
All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

A Cool Thief.

One summer afternoon an exceptionally well dressed stranger was seen to enter the front gate of a house in a wealthy neighborhood. He walked to the door and tried to open it with a key. As he could not do so he went around to a window and, pushing it open, climbed in through it. It was a suspicious proceeding, but as the man was dressed in the height of fashion the officer on the beat thought that it was the owner of the house, who, having forgotten his key, had used the window as his means of entrance. However, the officer thought it best to watch the place for awhile to see if anything out of the way might occur. A short time later, emerging from the front door, the stranger stopped as if some one had spoken to him from within, and, saying "Yes, Bess, I have my key this time," he lifted his hat and walked slowly away. Some hours later, when the real owner of the house returned, the policeman learned that his first suspicions had been correct, for the well dressed stranger had walked off with the jewelry and everything of value that he could lay his kid gloved hands upon.—Chicago Tribune.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Milking the Cow.

"Milkmen have different ways of managing their cows, but generally they feed each cow and begin milking as soon as the cow begins to eat," says a dairyman. "The milker hurries to get through, too, because if the cow finishes her breakfast before the milker has done his work she extorts more feed by holding back her milk, so must be fed again to keep her in good humor. Some milkmen do their milking first and then feed immediately, and cows that are accustomed to this treatment generally give down their milk cheerfully, for they know that milking is a prelude to the feeding. It all depends on habit and the way the cows are treated, for a cow is much smarter than she looks and more grateful than most persons would believe. So long as the cows know they are not going to be struck or beaten they will neither kick nor hook. An experienced milkman will never allow any loud talking or excitement about his barns, for the quieter the cows are kept the greater the quantity of milk and the easier the work."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

We are now adding the Waldorf $2.50 Shoe to our stock. The Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctor's fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by E. A. Putnam. Samples free.

The Greater Danger.

There was never a more conscientious young man than Eben Soule, and when he found how much absorbed he had become with the mere idea of playing in the town band he consulted his minister. "Do you reckon I could give up all that time to music without falling from grace?" he asked anxiously.

The good old Methodist had a saving sense of humor. He saw that his parishioner was much distressed between his wishes and his conscience, but the minister smiled on him nevertheless.

"It's the horn you're asked to play, I hear," he said. "Ever had much experience with it, Eben?"

"Never tried it but once, but I like the sound of it first rate," said the young man.

"M'm!" said the minister. "Well, I think you needn't be afraid of falling from grace on account of it, but I do hope you'll manage things so your family and neighbors won't have to pass through the fiery temptation of hearing you practice too often, Eben."—Exchange.

The Cowslip.

"I saw a cowslip by the river's brim," said the long haired boarder who had just returned from a stroll.

"I hope 'twan't one of my cows," said the practical farmer. "Did she slip clear in?"

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol for Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 pounds; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity may be benefitted. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by all druggists.

Put Through His Paces.

The wealthy Briton is confessedly the most fastidious man living as to the quality of his personal domestic service. The concentrated energy with which an Englishman will rebuke his servant for an offense so slight that the average American fails to observe it bears out the above statement. Those who propose changing servants are not content with references and a perfunctory interview with the man or maid under consideration, but insist upon a full dress rehearsal of both manners and appearance. The servant in livery is put through all his paces, must display the ease of his calves, the haughtiness of his pose as well as breeding in handling a card, announcing a guest or serving at the table. Nothing is taken for granted. The master and the mistress sit by and discuss the points of groom or butler as they would those of a high priced horse or valuable dog. Domestics are taken with great seriousness by the upper class Englishmen, and for that reason nothing is left to luck in peopling the servants' hall.

CIRON, No. 24005
[REGISTERED]

FRENCH PERCHERON

Black—Weight 1700 Pounds
A Prize Winner Wherever Shown

$10.00 CASH SERVICE FEE

Usual Return Privilege

SCOTTDALE FARM

Henry Elbare, Mgr. Minetto, N. Y

Wink at Some Things.

"When you have mastered the gentle art of winking," said Lord Beaconsfield, "you hold the key to success in your hands."

Every one's personality is made up of trivial failings and trivial talents. Foster the good qualities in your friends and subordinates and wink at those failings so dear to their possessors. Not to see everything is a rule which will strengthen friendships and help you to get the best results from your fellow workers.

"He is no good," said the great Napoleon of one of his officers. "He is continually looking into the privates' stew pot!"

"I want a man who can keep his eye on the ultimate result and ignore little failings, never mind how aggravating," said Nelson. And General Gordon once remarked that the man who lost his temper because a private's boot lace was tied loosely on the day of a battle did more to lose the day than all the enemy's guns.

No Accent.

French Professor—Ah, yes, mademoiselle, you spick ze French wizout ze least accent. Miss Breezy—Do I, really? French Professor—Oh, yes—zat ees, wizout ze least French accent.

For Coughs and Colds

Nearly all other Cough Cures are constipating, especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup moves the bowels. Contains no opiates.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard."

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious action of the bowels.

Conforms to National PURE FOOD & DRUG LAW

BUTTS SHOE SHOP

Great Clearance Sale!

Necessity Knows No Law!

¶ Our stock of Spring and Summer Footwear must be closed out immediately. Summer is flying---the selling time for our present stock is short, and price is not the consideration. :: :: :: ::

The Shoes Must Be Sold!

¶ This is not a sale of shop-worn, unsaleable shoes, but a regular closing out of Men's, Women's, Boys', Misses' and Children's Shoes. Its a sale that no one who wears shoes can afford to turn his back upon. An opportunity which does not confront you every day. Here are a few price inducements.

Women's Oxford Ties

Wine Calf, were $3.50, now	$2.48
Russet Calf, were $3.50, now	$2.48
Brown Kid, (H. H. Gray's) were $3.50, now	$2.98
Brown Suede, were $3.00, now	$1.98
Russet Calf, were $3.00, now	$2.48
Russet Calf, were $2.50, now	$1.98
Brown Kid, were $2.50, now	$1.98
Gun Metal, were $3.50, now	$1.98
Patent Welt Soles Button, were $3.00, now	$1.98

Misses' Brown High Shoes, button and lace, were $1.50, now	$1.23
Children's Brown High Shoes, were $1.25, now	$1.00
Children's White Canvas Button Shoes, were 85c and $1.00. Your choice at	50c
Women's White Canvas Oxfords and Sailor Ties. All of our $2.00 and $1.50 ones. Your choice	$1.00
Boys' Patent and Brown Oxfords, were $2.50, at	$1.98
Little Gents' Brown Oxfords, were $1.75, now	$1.39

Men's Oxfords

Choice of our $5.00 ones for	$3.48
Brown or Black Calf Buckle Oxfords, were $4, now	$2.98
Your choice of our $2.50 and $2.75 Oxfords, at	$1.98
Men's High Brown Shoes, were $3.00; sale price	$2.48
Boys' High Brown Shoes, were $2.50; sale price	$1.98

This sale will not last long and first buyers will have the best opportunity of finding their exact sizes in the best styles.

W. A. BUTTS

110 Oneida Street — Fulton, New York

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 10

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

Assets July 1, 1908

Over One and One-Half Million Dollars

Surplus---Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars

Money deposited by the third business day of any month and remaining until any one of the last three business days of September, December, March or June, will receive the dividend for the full months.

This Bank has paid 4% on all deposits since October 1, 1907

New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

About $9,000 Contributed Toward Purchase of Proposed Site for the Albert Lindley Lee Memorial Hospital.

The Fulton Hospital Association has secured pledges sufficient to purchase the site for the new hospital. All the property at the west end of the lower bridge and bounded by Worth, Schenck and West First Streets, has been purchased excepting one parcel, and it is believed that negotiations now under way will secure this, so that the whole plot, bounded by streets above mentioned, can be turned over to the City for Hospital and Park purposes. About ten thousand dollars will be required to purchase this site, remove buildings and do necessary grading, and while this sum has not been reached as yet, enough pledges have been made to assure success and it is confidently believed that the balance required will soon be secured. All pledges were made on condition that at least $7,500.00 was raised, and as about nine thousand dollars have been pledged, these subscriptions are now effective and payments can be made at any time to Dr. Chas. R. Lee, Treasurer, at the Citizens National Bank. The only thing that now remains to secure the proposed Albert Lindley Lee Memorial Hospital, is a favorable vote by the taxpayers at the next annual election in November.

Following is the list of contributors to date:

Hunter Arms Co.	$1000.00
Women's Auxiliary Fulton Hospital	1000.00
Dr. C. G. Bacon Estate	1000.00
Dr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Lee	600.00
Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Paddock	600.00
F. A. Gage	300.00
J. A. Foster	300.00
Edward Quirk	300.00
American Woolen Co.	250.00
G. P. Wells	200.00
General Swiss Chocolate Co.	200.00
Henri Nestle Co.	200.00
Morrill Brothers	150.00
Henderson & Thomson	150.00
J. C. O'Brien	150.00
J. W. Stevenson	150.00
Ditts Machine Works	150.00
J. H. Howe	150.00
Victoria Paper Mills Co.	150.00
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Tooke	100.00
N. H. Haviland	100.00
H. E. Case, Wichita, Kans.	100.00
George Johnston	100.00
Giles S. Piper	100.00
Fort Stanwix Canning Co.	100.00
Mrs. J. H. Langdon	100.00
R. E. Sullivan	100.00
M. J. Gilmour	100.00
McRae & Son	100.00
J. W. Rigley	75.00
Wm. J. Lovejoy	75.00
Arvin Rice	75.00
G. L. Wells	75.00
T. H. Webb	75.00
F. W. Lasher	75.00
W. H. Langdon	75.00
Geo. B. Palmer	75.00
D. E. Wadsworth	75.00
E. G. Cary	75.00
N. L. Whitaker	75.00
H. L. Stout	50.00
J. R. Sullivan	50.00
Thomas H. Marvin	50.00
A. W. Wiltsie	50.00
F. J. Switzer	45.00
R. B. Carhart	37.50
Wm. E. Hughes	30.00
E. A. Putnam	30.00
J. L. Jones	30.00
F. C. Wolever	30.00
J. Pearman	30.00
W. J. Boomer	30.00
J. M. Caffrey	30.00
Conley Brothers	30.00
W. A. Butts	30.00
G. E. Mason	30.00
Morton & Shattuck	30.00
H. B. Collins	30.00
Frank E. LaPorte	30.00
E. J. Carver	30.00
F. H. French	30.00
Earl S. Brown	30.00
George E. True	30.00
G. B. Farley	30.00
Ed. P. Cole	30.00
T. DeBarber	30.00
D. L. Lipsky	25.00
W. E. Warren	10.00
H. A. Nichols	10.00
F. T. Watson	10.00

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Board of Public Works met on Monday evening and transacted a large amount of important business. City Engineer Bread was instructed to prepare plans, specifications and estimates for laying sewers in Hannibal street from West First street to the D. L. & W. tracks, in West First street from Hannibal to Worth street, in Worth street from the end of the bridge to First street, and in Hannibal street from the D. L. & W. tracks to such a point as can be drained into Tannery Creek, also West Third street from Broadway to the American Tobacco Company's plant, and for disposal plants of suitable size to be located in Hannibal street at Tannery Creek.

The estimates and plans when completed will be submitted to the State Board of Health for approval. When approved, work on the disposal plant will be commenced.

Superintendent Flynn was authorized to purchase lots of suitable size to take care of the leakage from the old dry docks.

COUNTY FAIRS.

ALBANY, July 13.—The policy of the State towards town and county agricultural societies has not changed, notwithstanding the decrease in the revenues from the race track. Commissioner R. A. Pearson announced to-day that the State will assume its proportion of the premiums the same as in previous years.

Efforts have been made to have it appear that town and county fairs will lose support through the enactment of anti-betting laws and the agricultural interests will be seriously injured. Although the Legislature at the last session provided an annual appropriation for the support of the fairs, there was much opposition to continuing the appropriation, many believing that the rural interests should support their own fairs and the State should not be called upon to support practically private enterprises. It is argued that the State might just as well offer premiums to stimulate interest in every branch of trade.

"There seems to be considerable misunderstanding in some quarters regarding State appropriations for the benefit of county and town agricultural societies," said Mr. Pearson to-day, "so far as I have been able to learn there has been no change of policy on the part of the State."

"At the last session of the Legislature $250,000 was appropriated for apportionment to agricultural societies under the provisions of section 88 of the agricultural law, and this money has already been sent out to reimburse societies throughout the State for premiums paid last year. This matter has been handled in exactly the same way every year since 1895. The apportionment to the different societies is always based upon the amount of premiums paid during the previous year and the law provides that no society shall receive more than $4,000.

"Chapter 283 of the laws of 1908 contains the following statement:

"'All such county agricultural societies, town or other agricultural societies or fair associations, organized under the laws of the State of New York, which have received moneys from the State for premiums paid for the promotion of agriculture and domestic arts, for the promotion of education along agricultural lines, or for the promotion of the improvement of the breeding of cattle, sheep, horses and other domestic animals, shall be deemed as agents for the State in disbursing such moneys and shall be entitled to be reimbursed for such moneys paid as provided in this act from an annual appropriation which shall not be less than $250,000 a year.'"

Are you going away?

Are you well supplied with Cigars, Pipes and Tobacco?

If not, call and see my stock at 109 Cayuga street.

Victor C. Lewis.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Battle Island Paper Company will be held in the office of the Hunter Arms Company on July 15th, at 2 p. m., for the election of directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may come regularly before this meeting.

JOHN HUNTER, Sec'y.

A "RED LETTER" DAY.

A happy and expectant crowd gathered at the home of Miss Mattie Vant in Oneida street Friday afternoon. The occasion was the fourth meeting of the Home Department Visitors class of the Baptist Bible School under the leadership of Mr. C. W. Streeter. These gatherings have always been very enjoyable but this time unusually so because the Bible class of Deacon Prentiss were their guests. The Home Department reported at 3 o'clock but the afternoon interest centered in the opening of the envelopes containing money for the new church building fund for which both classes had been working as individual members since March.

They felt well repaid for their self denial and hard work when they found that $130 had thus been secured. A short program was rendered and a picnic supper was served on the lawn to the fifty guests present. Among the interesting features of the program was an original poem written for the occasion by Mrs. C. W. Streeter which was so excellent that permission has been secured for its publication. It was as follows:

The Baptist Church in Fulton town,
Was old, in fact, near falling down.
The minister to preach began,
"A new church now we all must plan."
Some bonds were issued, very nice,
Five thousand promised in a trice.
Then every one on money bent
Began to scheme with good intent.
One class,—who's speedier than they—
Had hundreds raised by first of May.
Another group, which never lags,
Sold several dozen High School flags.
The Junior boys, despite their capers,
Made many a dime from gathering papers.
The Bible School its aid now offers
And puts one-sixty in the coffers.
At length the Deacon's earnest clans
For the new church fund matured our plans.
We felt this work is all God's own,
He should be honored in each stone.
So plans and schemes we laid aside
And God's own rule for giving tried.
For we are sure God's honored
For we are sure God's honored more.
If gifts are made from one's own store.
God honors those who honor Him.
He blesses those who seek to gain
By self denial and by labor
Instead of begging from a neighbor.
So each to God for blessing came
Asking for guidance in His name.
Our hope was God, our prayer to Him,
His presence sought, no vision dim
Vouchsafed He us, but day by day
He surely guided all the way
And now we've gathered here to show
How wondrously God did bestow
On us His blessing and the power
To work and save until this hour.
With faith we saw it from afar.
It lured us on like morning star.
With joy we greet it now it's here,
Red letter day of all this year.

For Sale.

A first class automobile for sale at a bargain. A runabout with new tires of the best quality, newly painted, has two vertical engines of 18-horse power. This car is as good as new in every particular. A demonstration will be given. Inquire at the Oswego County Independent Telephone Company.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

We Wish to Call Your Attention to our

Fancy New Japan Tea

Price 50c Per Pound

This is the best value in Tea that we have ever offered and will please you.

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

DIED.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Reese died on Friday at the family home in North First street. The funeral was held on Saturday, Rev. John Richards officiating.

The Woonsocket, R. I., Evening Call of July 11, contains the following obituary mention of a former well known Fultonian: James E. Fox, a well known resident of this city, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. P. Donahue, 21 Orchard street, this morning at 4:30 o'clock after a lingering illness which, however, did not assume serious proportions until a few weeks ago. Mr. Fox was born in Fulton, N. Y., 35 years ago and resided in this city for the past two years. He was employed at Washington, D. C., previous to his coming to Woonsocket, being employed by the Government Printing Department while at Washington. He was employed by the Evening Call Publishing company while in Woonsocket and was universally liked by all who worked with him. Mr. Fox was of a quiet disposition and all who came in contact with him found no difficulty in liking him. He was of a genial disposition and the news of his demise will be read with sincere regret by all who knew him. Deceased leaves five sisters and three brothers. The sisters are Miss Sarah Fox of Boston, Mass., Mrs. T. P. Donahue of this city, Mrs. J. W. Scott of Philadelphia, Miss Rose and Miss Bessie Fox of Fulton. The brothers are Charles of Syracuse, Patrick of Fulton and Frederick of Philadelphia. The remains will be taken to Fulton on the 6:35 train to-morrow evening. Mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at that place Interment will be made in St Mary's cemetery.

With the exception of Mrs. Scott, the sisters and brothers were all in attendance at the funeral services which were held on Monday morning from the church.

Your Opportunity.

A seven passenger, sixty horse power touring car may be rented by the trip the day or the hour. A competent chauffeur in charge. Inquire of R. M. Loveless, phone No. 1331.

If your eye-sight is giving you trouble tell it to Morgan, 113 Cayuga street.

POSTAL MATTERS

Excellent Showing in Local Office Notwithstanding Stringency in Financial and Commercial Circles.

There may be some satisfaction to the patrons of the post office and public-spirited citizens of Fulton to learn that the business of the local office is increasing constantly in volume, notwithstanding the stringency in commercial and financial circles which has been prevalent throughout the country. The receipts at the office at the close of the fiscal year show a gain of about $500 over that of the year previous. The revenue is derived from the sale of stamps, stamped paper, envelopes, etc., but does not include the sale of money orders, and the total exceeds $27,000. In conjunction with the foregoing statement it might be well to add that the number of domestic money orders issued from March 31, 1907, to March 31, 1908, was 12,486; international money orders, 262. It might also surprise our readers to learn that at least $23,000 was sent by foreign patrons of the local post office to the small Italian banks in Syracuse, Rochester, New York and Brooklyn and abroad, mostly for savings purposes. This should be a strong argument in favor of the establishment of postal savings banks, for without doubt a large percentage of the money might have been retained here had such a bank been in existence, as there appears to be an aversion on the part of immigrants from southern Europe to our savings institutions.

Through the recommendation of Postmaster Hughes, which has been approved by the postal department, the following clerks have been promoted from a lower to a higher grade, meaning an increase in salary of from $100 to $200 per annum in each case: The Misses Fassell, Tucker and Hewitt, and Messrs. Jennings, James and Perkins. The letter carriers' salaries have also been increased from $900 to $1,000 per annum, the increase being effective on July 1 of this year.

The prosperity of this city is certainly equal to that of any city in the Empire State of same size. This is abundantly testified to by the steady increase in postal receipts at the local office.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sept. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

We Sell Centimeri Kid Gloves Only

O'BRIEN'S

Sole Agents for Butterick Patterns

July Clearing of White and Colored Piece Goods

Thousands of yards of Summer fabrics right from the mills, in white and colored goods for Summer dresses, suits and separate pieces that don't do any more than pay for the raw cotton. While other stores are "quiet" O'Brien's hums with activity. There are no dull days at this store---the reason---real, positive, superlative bargains

3,000 yards White and Colored Summer Fabrics, per yard 11c
White Dress Skirts, worth up to $2.50, now 98c
Lingerie Waists, worth up to $3.50, now..$1.25
Waldorf Waists, worth up to $2.50, now....98c
Muslin Gowns, worth up to $1.25, now.....69c
Muslin Gowns, worth up to $1.00, now.....59c
Black and Black and White Underskirts, worth up to $2.00, now..... 98c
1 lot Sample W. B. Corsets, worth 50c and $1, now..... 25c
Boys' Blouse Waists, 25c quality, for 19c
Men's Summer Shirts, 50c value, now..... 35c
Mens 50c Work Shirts now..... 39c

Men's 35c Work Shirts, now..... 23c
Men's 50c Sample Leather Belts, now 23c
Children" 50c Seersucker Dresses, now.... 25c
Colored Tub Waists, worth up to 75c, now..49c
Sale this week of Ecru and White Lace and Muslin Curtains, worth up to $2.50, pair....$1.00
Boys' Summer Sweaters, 50c kind, now.... 24c
Ladies Gauze Pants, lace trimmed, pair...12 1-2c
Ladies' Sample Gauze Vests 10c
Apron Gingham, yard..... 6c
Yard Wide Percales, yard 12 1-2c
Sheer White Lawn, yard..... 12 1-2c
Turkish Bath Towels, each 12 1-2c

Silk Specials

27-inch and 34-inch Black Taffeta Silk, worth up to $1.50 a yard, now..... 75c
Colored Silk Pongee (rough) sold regularly at 69c a yard, now..... 39c

Specials in Underwear

Men's 50c Balbriggan Underwear, now..... 23c
Men's Jap. Silk Underwear in colors, now ..50c
Men's Night Shirts, now..... 50c
Men's 25c and 50c Half Hose, now..... 17c
Men's Working Socks, now..... 5c

Boys' Skull Caps, worth 25c, now..... 19c
Police and Firemen's Suspenders..... 19c
Silk Waists, worth up to $4.00, beautiful colorings, now..... $1.98
Ladies' Colored Laundered Collars, each..... 10c
Children's Ribbed Hose, black & brown, 2 pr..25c
Ladies' Black, Full Seamless Hose, 2 pair....25c
Ladies' 25c Grey and Brown Seamless Hose..15c
25c Pillow Cases, each..... 18c
Fruit of the Lawn Cotton, 12 yards for...$1.00
Ruffled Muslin Curtains 2½ yds. long, pair 49c

...Vacation Excursion...

....to....

New York City

Via Lackawanna Railroad

Friday, July 31, 1908

Fare only $8.30 for Round Trip

Make arrangements for your vacation at this time. See the many attractions in and around New York. Visit Coney Island, Asbury Park, Manhattan Beach, Long Island, or take a short sea trip.

Tickets good going on all regular trains on that day and to return on or before August 14, 1908

Scenery alone at this time of the year is well worth the trip

Ask Lackawanna Agents for full information, or write J. L. SMITH, Division Passenger Agent, Syracuse, N. Y. Secure Pullman Reservations Early

Local and Personal

Mr. Charles Bradford had a cow killed by lightening last week.

Messrs George and Louis Rice are enjoying camp life in the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Joseph Goodrowe is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Merton, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. F. E. Sutherland has accepted a position as book-keeper in the George Johnston store.

Miss Janet F. Kelley was the over-Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pratt in Oswego.

More campers than usual are occupying Reynolds Woods and other convenient places on the Oswego river.

Mrs. M. J. Gere and daughters are spending some time in Lysander with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Julia Steele and Mrs. Elmer Morrill on Friday evening entertained a few friends at a lawn tea.

Mrs Frederick Wolcott and daughter are spending some time with friends in Providence, Rhode Island.

Master David Edward Brainard of Syracuse has been spending several days with hisgrandmother, Mrs. Janet Kelley.

The citizens Bank will pay 4 per cent on certificates of deposit, as per their advertisement on page four of The Times.

Miss Alexander, who has been the guest of Miss May Rosenbloom, returned last week to her home in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A Halstead have been entertaining Mrs. Taylor and her daughter, Mrs. Shelhouse, of St. Paul, Minn.

Veterinarian E. H. Nodyne was in Rochester last week attending a meeting of the Genesee Valley Veterinary society.

Mr. Virgil McConnell has returned to his duties in the barge canal office, after spending a week with relatives at Mayville.

Mr. C. D. Lathrop has been the recent welcome guest of Fulton friends, returning to his home in New Rochelle last week.

Mrs. Alice Blakeman and son and Miss Eva Smith of Little Utica have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Summerville.

Miss Priscilla Myers of New York city is spending the Summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myers, at Oak Spring Farm.

Mr. F. A. Summerville reports the first home ripened tomatoes for the season, having picked several beauties from his garden on Friday.

Dr. and Mrs E. H. Nodyne have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker and other Syracuse friends.

Mr. S. B. Whitaker of the local post office force, was in Albany last week on the case of the Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co., vs. the State of New York.

Letters have been issued to Mary Meagher, Fulton, on the estate of her mother, Catherine Meagher, who left $250 personal and $8,500 real property.

Miss Anna Rice returned on Sunday to Detroit, Mich., after a two weeks vacation spent with her parents, Attorney and Mrs. Arvin Rice, in this city.

The deaths in Fulton during June were 12; the rate per 1,000 population being 15.8; Oswego and Fulton having the same per cent.

Mrs. Clark, instructor in the High school and her sister, Miss Anna Kimber are spending the Summer vacation in European countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark D. Ewell have returned from their bridal trip and are housekeeping in a suite at the home of Miss Grace J. Tucker.

The banns of matrimony between Miss Sarah Gordon and Mr. William LaPorte, both of this city, were read in the church of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday.

Recently the following Fultonians have been registered at the club houses, Pleasant Point: Mrs. W. S. Royce, Mrs. R. B. Hunter, Frank Royce, Elizabeth Royce.

The Public Library will observe closing hours during July and August, being open daily from 10 until 1 o'clock, and Monday and Saturday evenings only, from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Several Panama canal commissioners visited Fulton last week for the purpose of investigating the manner in which barge canal laborers were housed, the information to be used in improving the same conditions at Panama.

The floating island in Lake Neahtawanta has no fixed abode but wanders from point to point at the mercy of wind and wave. Last week it took a position in the immediate vicinity of the boat house, making it almost impossible to get a boat out. The freak is heavily timbered and it may be necessary to blow it up with dynamite to remove the annoyance.

Mrs. Arnold Bishop on Wednesday put her two little children to sleep and left them while she went to a berry field near by. Soon after, while looking toward the house, she discovered it in flames. She frantically rushed home and managed to save the children by supreme effort. When leaving the burning building for the last time she fell exhausted but was ministered to by kind neighbors. Mr. Bishop lost about $1,500 in notes besides many other valuables in the fire.

Architects Revels & Hollenbeck, Syracuse, have prepared the plans for the new parsonage about to be erected by the First Methodist society. The residence will be erected on the lawn adjacent to the church and will be a handsome, commodious, brick structure of English Gothic design. The architects are working upon the detail at present that the contractors may offer bids for the construction work. As early as possible work will be commenced. This firm of architects designed the new Carnegie library. Mr. Revels is well-known in this city having been the frequent guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead.

Let us show you how simple it is to make good pictures with the Eastman "Kodaks." With the tank developing machines it is "Daylight" all the way through, no more "Dark Room" troubles with the Eastman way. "Kodaks" all the way from $1.00 up to $75.00. Eastman films are the only reliable ones; you cannot afford to use poor films. For sale at Lasher's Book Store.

MEN'S

SUITS

All new styles, not an out-of-style one in the lot. Come early and have a choice.....

Former Price.....$15.00

This Week

$10.00

Straw Hats at Half Price for this week. . . . . .

H. A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street

COMMON COUNCIL

Fulton, July 7, 1908.

Regular Meeting Common Council: Present, Mayor Quirk, Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Moved by Alderman Crahan, seconded by Alderman Lockrow, that Alderman Marvin act as a committee of one to secure room for a dog pound.

Carried.

Alderman John Crahan introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following salaries of city employees be paid from the different funds:

General City Fund.

C. E. Guile	$25 00
O. S. Bogardus	52 33
W. A. Harrison	60.00
L. F. Cornell	30 00
O. O. Hannis	10.41
J. M. Hewitt	10 41
George Foster	10.41
E. H. Nodyne	20.83
John W Youngs	25.00

Poor Fund.

A. W. Stoneburgh	29 17
S. A. Russell	29.17

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Marvin introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following bills be paid from the General City Fund:

F. M. Cornell	$ 21 52
J. J. Little	5.00
Herman Rees	5.00
E. H. Nodyne	1.50
David Chetney	20 00
H. G. Fletcher	1 85
Daniel Brannan	5.00
L. E. Taggart	6.00
Henderson Thomson Co	12.00
A. P. Bradt	14 11
George Johnston	7.78
J. H. Donovan	30.00
Morrill Bros.	55.60
C. W. Streeter	3.25
C. W. Streeter	8.60
N. Lester	1.00
W. H. Harper	14.40
F. W. Lasher	14.40
Emanuel Lapoint	35.50
W. A. Gifford	1 00
Pneumatic Stamp Co.	5 02
J. B. Buell	20 00
Matthew Bender Co.	1.00
F. G. Spencer	34.75
Fulton Toilet Paper Co.	2.00
Fulton Savings Bank	125.00
Oswego County Ind. Tel. Co.	.20
C. H. David	34 75
Burrill & Co.	.45
E. H. Nodyne	2.00
W. H. Harper	12.20
J. W. Youngs	4.75
E. H. Nodyne	.45

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the Commander of Post Schenck G. A. R. be requested to make monthly reports to this Council of amounts paid to individuals for relief.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman L. VanBuren introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized and directed to draw an order in favor of Stephen Buck, Commander of Post Schenck, G. A. R., for $150 for the relief of indigent soldiers and sailors.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Dwyer introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Chamberlain is hereby directed to pay interest on east side sewer bonds due August 1, 1908, amounting to $1,350

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman L. VanBuren introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the monthly reports of Chamberlain O. S. Bogardus and Commissioner of Charities A. W. Stoneburgh be accepted and placed on file.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Z. Wolever introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to draw an order in favor of Arvin Rice, Secretary Fulton Public Library Association for $375.00, which is $125.00 per month for the months of April, May and June, 1908.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye; Alderman Dwyer, no.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following bills be paid from the Poor Fund:

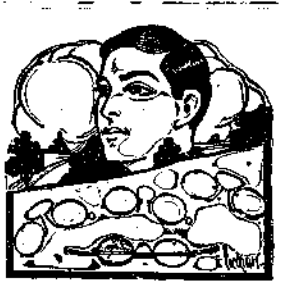
Mrs. H. Sherman	$ 4.00
Stranahan & VanBuren	5.75
Stranahan & VanBuren	1.90
Stranahan & VanBuren	1.50
Millard Devendorf	5.25
Little & Baker	24.49
S. D Wells	1.50
A. W. Stoneburgh	1.60
H. Pollard	.30
John Follan	4.62
Clint Nichols	13.62
F. L. Porter	7.98
Oswego Orphan Asylum	6.54
Oswego County Ind. Tel. Co.	.20
R. Rosenbloom	3.70
Chas Calkins	3.00
Mrs. Wm. Ingamells	3.90
Oswego Orphan Asylum	6.42
P. E. Fox	5.00
W. J. Pelley	1.00
E. A. Putnam	5.75

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman L. VanBuren introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the contract for building the shed in the yard in rear of City Hall be awarded to E. R. Foster at a price of $662.00. The shed to be built according to plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk, said shed to be completed within sixty days from this date.

Alderman Marvin, Crahan, VanBuren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.



CITY OF FULTON, ss:

I hereby certify that the above resolutions were duly adopted at a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Fulton, held at the City Hall, on the 7th day of July, 1908.

W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk.

Approved this 7th day of July, 1908.

EDWARD QUIRK,
Mayor.

Grounds for Glasses

are many. Your sight may be perfect as to quality, but weak. You need glasses to strengthen it. You may be subject to nervous headaches. Nine chances out of ten they can be stopped with

The Right Glasses

Have us examine your eyes any way. If glasses will better your sight or your health our examination will disclose the right kind.

Wm. C. Morgan,

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

113 Cayuga St., Fulton

Mysterious Disappearance.

Arthur J. McLean, who has been engaged in driving an oil wagon in this city for some time, was visiting with his family in Oswego on Tuesday of last week, having driven from Port Ontario, the home of his wife, the day previous. On Tuesday morning Mr. McLean complained greatly of the heat and a pain in his head and left the house without breakfast between 8 and 9 o'clock. Since that hour no trace of him has been found although the family and police have searched diligently for him.

The belief is that the extreme heat affected his mind and that he wandered away. Mrs. McLean has returned to her sister's home at Port Ontario.

Suggested by a Lady.

"Let me have five two-cent stamps, please," said a lady to the polite young man behind the counter in the postoffice.

"Yessum," he said, handing them out.

"Can't you let me have them in one piece?" she added.

"Certainly, ma'am," said the young man. "Can I send them home for you?"

"Oh, no; I don't live far away, and I am going straight home. I wouldn't put you to the trouble."

"No trouble at all," said the polite official. "I haven't very much to do today, and I could easily spare an hour."

"Very much obliged," said the lady, smiling sweetly. "Dear me," she added, putting on a stamp, "what a bother it is to stamp letters! Why can't we send letters and let the postoffice send in their bill once a month?"

"They might just as well," said the obliging young man sympathizingly. "I'll mention the fact in my next report to Washington."

"Will you? How nice! But you mustn't mention my name. Say the idea was suggested by a lady."

Catching a Bride.

Among certain Siberians the bridegroom is not permitted to have a wife until he can catch her. But they do not give him a fair race in the open. The bride, surrounded by her female friends, awaits him in a big tent. As soon as she sees him she runs off. He follows like Hippomenes after Atalanta. But instead of obstacles being thrown in the way of the bride they are thrown across the path of the bridegroom. The pursuing groom falls over old women, chairs, tables, stones and fishing rods or is tripped up by ropes. Only when it is feared he might give up and sulk and go away without the fleeing lady is he permitted to overtake her. Then as she falls into his outstretched arms it may be imagined she utters some equivalent of "This is so sudden!"

Leaving Home.

I would give a few words of encouragement to any young man who may hesitate about leaving home. There is nothing in the world so good for a man, say, between twenty-five and thirty-five years of age, especially if unmarried, as a visit to distant countries, to learn other tongues, to see new sights and to experience strange adventures, such as he may readily encounter by throwing aside the restrictions of home life and taking up work abroad.—Frederic Shelford, B. Sc., in Engineer.

THE BURNING QUESTION:

WHAT FUEL IS BEST FOR USE IN THE HOME?

Modern needs demand modern methods. Advancement is the order of the day. Twentieth Century folks want Twentieth Century comfort especially at home. Easy to get much of it if you do as thousands of others are doing:

BURN GAS.

Saves temper, time and trouble; worry, wealth and weariness. Is ready when you want it; can be shut off as quickly.

Cooks and bakes better than any other fuel; costs less; gives more satisfaction.

Phone us and our representative will call at your house

FultonFuel & LightCo.

48 South First Street. Phone 198

Charlotte Bronte's Last Tribute.

"He will not separate us—we have been so happy!" These were the last words of Charlotte Bronte when, having become Mrs. Nicholls and having lived with her husband only nine months, death came to snatch the cup of domestic felicity from the lips of the happy pair. A low, wandering delirium came on. Wakening for an instant from this stupor, she saw her husband's woe worn face and caught the sound of some murmured words of prayer that God would spare her. "Oh," she whispered, "I am not going to die, am I? He will not separate us—we have been so happy!"

The Words That Won.

In London one of the weekly papers offered a prize for the best list of strong words to number ten. The announcement specified that but ten words would be considered from any one person and a committee of literary men would select from the numbers offered the ten strongest words in the English language.

These are the words that won: Hate, blood, hungry, dawn, coming, gone, love, dead, alone, forever.

Do you think of any stronger, fuller of suggestion?—Exchange.

Not Herself.

Farmer (to medical man)—If you get out my way any time, doctor, I wish you'd stop and see my wife. I think she ain't feelin' well. Doctor—What makes you think so? Farmer—Well, this mornin', after she had milked the cows, an' fed the pigs, an' got breakfast for the men, an' washed the dishes, an' built a fire under the copper in the wash 'onse, an' done a few odd jobs about the house, she complained o' feelin' tired-like. I fancy she needs a dose o' medicine.—London Scraps.

Charity.

Clara — At Jennie's wedding last week, owing to a misunderstanding she had to wait at the church thirty minutes for the bridegroom. Maud—Oh, well, thirty minutes isn't anything to a woman who has waited thirty years.

Anxious.

Professor Stone—To the geologist a thousand years or so are not counted as any time at all. Man in the Audience—Great Scott! And to think I made a temporary loan of £2 to a man who holds such views!—London Telegraph.

Progress Reported.

"Did you have any luck fishing?"

"Yes."

"How many did you catch?"

"I didn't catch any. But I thought up some mighty good stories to tell the folks at home."—Washington Star.

Poker and Bridge.

Knicker—I was sitting up with a very sick friend last night, I tell you. Mrs. Knicker—Yes, I sat up with his sick wife all this afternoon.—Harper's Bazar.

Conceit.

Conceit is that attitude of the mind which convinces a man that if he had only lived soon enough he would have been the author of the Bible.—Detroit Free Press.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by

Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher

194 Boylston Street, Boston

Dictionary Users Modest.

"Men are never so modest as when they go to use a dictionary," remarked an attendant at the public library. "As a rule, when you see a man go to a public dictionary or one in any place where other people are around you'll see him look about furtively as if in fear somebody might see him. Men who make no pretensions at having any great amount of knowledge nevertheless seem to be embarrassed to have any one think that they do not know the pronunciation or meaning of some English word. The next time you see a man looking up a word in the dictionary just ask him what it is he is looking up and see if he will tell you. You'll find in at least nine cases out of ten that he won't tell you. He's afraid you'll know it and have the fun of enlightening him."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Only One Alternative.

A cynic was smiling at the extravagant attentions that are lavished by the rich upon pet dogs. He spoke of the canine operations for appendicitis, the canine tooth crownings, the canine wardrobes, that occur in New York, and then he said:

"How servants hate these pampered curs! At a house where I was calling one warm day the fat and pompous butler entered the drawing room and said:

"'Did you ring, madam?'

"'Yes, Harrison. I wish you to take Fido out walking for two hours.'

"Harrison frowned slightly. 'But Fido won't follow me, madam,' he said.

"'Then, Harrison, you must follow Fido.'"

Pitched It.

A boy was asked what Moses did with the tabernacle in the wilderness when the people murmured.

He replied, "He chucked it away."

When asked to explain he read the seventh verse of the thirty-third chapter of Exodus, "And Moses took the tabernacle and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp."—Liverpool Mercury.

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.

Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.

Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.

Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.

Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 431.

The Great Clearance Sale

AT

The Fair Store

Will Continue Until July 18

While in New York hunting for bargains, we secured several thousand dollars worth of nice, clean merchandise far under price and we put these goods on sale for the people of Fulton and vicinity at prices which they have never heard before. It is nothing but bargains at The Fair Store. Our prices cannot be duplicated. We do not know of any other store in Fulton that advertises as many price reductions for any one sale and lives up to the advertising.

READ! Underwear, Hosiery, Notions, Dress Goods, Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Graniteware, Woodenware, Carpet Sweepers, Etc. Read big bills for prices.

You cannot afford to miss this sale as there is money in it for you. Thanking you for past patronage and awaiting your future trade.

S. WALDHORN

18 First Street — Waldhorn Block — Fulton, N. Y.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION
OF THE

ROCHESTER TRUST & SAFE DEPOSIT CO.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

at the close of business June 30, 1908

RESOURCES

Real Estate	$ 475,000.00
Bonds and Mortgages	2,750,197.22
U. S. State, County, City and other Bonds	9,466,786.74
Overdrafts	.00
Time Loans	.00
Demand Loans	6,843,675.80
Cash in Banks	878,082.45
Cash on Hand	779,875.55
Total	$21,193,617.76

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in	$200,000.00
Surplus (earned)	603,710.66
Deposits	20,089,907.10
Total	$21,193,617.76

State of New York, County of Monroe, ss.

I, Robert C. Watson, Secretary of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Co., do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

ROBERT C. WATSON, Secretary.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of June, 1908.
T. D. BIDWELL, Notary Public.

Legal Notices

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibble & Frances Kibble.

By virtue of an execution against the property of Frances Kibble, in the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, I, Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 13th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall, in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all the right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibble had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton, now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 150 of said City.

Dated June 26th, 1908.

HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.

By JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.
A. F. Jennings, attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor. Office and Post Office Adress, No. 9 So. First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-12

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
10-28 Administratrix.

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D. 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS.
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS.
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
91-2

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Advertised Letters

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., July 15, 1908:

Wm. Burrows, George Fulton, W. H. Van Heuren, Bert Satterlee, Arthur Bidwell, F. Cleveland, Pember Gnock, care Martin Guinup; Mrs. G. C. Pringle, Mrs. Julia Green, R. 1; Mrs. Fish, nurse; Mrs. Walter Fraser, Mrs. John Cousineau, Miss S. Reynolds, Miss Lenia Norton, Miss Florence Allen.

Cards—Mrs. Matilda Case, Mrs. Maud Reynolds, Miss Eva Payne, Ed. Williams, R. D. King, Ray Thompson, Pelter McClees Co.

William E. Hughes,
Postmaster.

One More Star Added.

Hereafter the American flag displayed at all army and navy posts and on government buildings will have 46 stars instead of 45 as heretofore. The additional star follows the the admission of Okla. home to the family of States, an act of Congress, in the early part of the 19th century, requiring that on the admission of a new State, one star is to be added to the Union of the flag, to take effect on the forth of July next succeeding such admission. Oklahoma became a State by act of Congress November 16, and its recognition on the flag took place Saturday. The official order directing the change to be made in the flag says the 46 stars are to be in six rows, the first, third, fourth and sixth rows have eight stars, and the second and fifth rows seven stars each.

Live Mule, Dead Boar.

An odd hunting adventure recently befell a British officer in India. He was mounted on a fleet mule and was running down a wild boar, intending to lance it, when the animal turned, bit the mule's leg and then fled again. The mule screamed savagely, and in a minute she had deposited the officer on the ground. Then, kicking out vigorously five or six times, as if to see that her legs were all right, she started after the unfortunate pig at lightning speed, with fury in her eyes and vengeance in the crook of her ears. The race was not long, and the wild boar soon realized that he had exasperated a relentless enemy. He was soon winded, and the mule, coming up with him, caught him by the backbone with her teeth, crunched it and threw him to the ground and then, before he could rise, kicked him so viciously that he was a dead boar in less than no time. Then the mule returned to her master and gave utterance to a "heehaw" of triumph.

SOUTH GRANBY.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rumsey visited at Ed. Blake's in Syracuse over Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Edith Brown, who visited her cousins here last week, returned to her home in Baldwinsville Friday. Mrs. Roma Degroff and daughter Fern accompanied her home.

Mrs. Rose Neider and sons Leon and Marvin of Syracuse visited a short time with Mrs. L. T. Austin on her way to her uncle's, Mr. David Marvin's, in Ira.

Miss Ethel Sperbeck expects to start for Buffalo for a two weeks' vacation Monday.

Miss Winklestein and Miss Marks spent a couple of days in Oswego with Miss Wilda Fisher last week. They returned to their home in Syracuse Sunday morning.

Mrs. Birdsall of Fulton was in this place last week.

Mrs. Toa Blake of Syracuse visited friends in this place last week.

Mrs. John Dickinson and Mrs. Floyd Dickinson visited at Silas Carter's Wednesday.

Mrs. Hannah Austin spent Wednesday and Thursday at Grove Dutton's.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Troup and family spent Sunday at E. Whipple's.

Fred Andrews was called to Bloomfield, N. J., by the illness of his father, Mr. Walt Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paine and baby visited in Fulton Sunday.

Willis Lampman was home over Sunday. Mr. Hoag of Syracuse accompanied him.

Miss Lena Whipple visited friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Andrews and children are spending a few days with her mother.

Miss Ina Hannum visited her brother Sunday.

For Sale—Incubator and brooder in perfect condition, for less than half cost. It has hatched 178chicks from 200 eggs. Inquire at 161 S.Second street. tf

Everything for the Amateur Photographer, at special low prices, at Lasher's Book Store.

Volney Center.

The L. A. S. will have another ice cream social in the Town Hall, Wednesday evening, July 15.

Mrs. Myers returned home last Friday after a few weeks visit with relatives in Fulton.

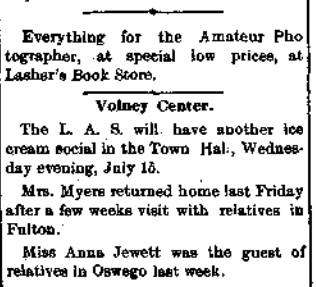
Miss Anna Jewett was the guest of relatives in Oswego last week.

Dr. and Mrs Charles Baldwin of Brooklyn are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Vant.

Mrs. Stanley Bateman entertained the L. A. S. last Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Addie Gardner entertained the G. L. B. C. club and other friends, Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Vant entertained Mr. and Mrs Horace Burdick of Fulton Sunday.



Merited Promotion.

Lackawanna District Passenger Agent Smith, who has been located on this division with headquarters in Syracuse for several years, and who has labored earnestly and successfully in the interest of the road and its patrons, has been transferred to another division of the line, with headquarters in Newark, N. J. The change comes in the line of promotion as the division is one of the most important on the road. Mr. Smith has made many friends during his sojourn in this locality who congratulate him upon his appointment.

Arundell Resumes Trips.

The steamer Arundell resumed her regular trips Monday, having been thoroughly overhauled and repaired since going on the rocks on the United States shoals a few weeks ince.

Full supply of Dry Plates, Developers, etc., at Lasher's Book Store.

GIRON, 24065

[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of JULY and AUGUST at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street — Fulton

HOW IT LOOKS TO JEFFERSON.

With Judge Stowell conspicuous by his absence from his usual haunts in Oswego and no reward offered, with Congressman Knapp holding conferences with "Sunny Jim" Sherman, the Republican nominee for Vice President, at the latter's home in Utica, and the Hunt men pursuing the usual tenor of their way—their thumbs in their vests and their minds still made up and all of the same mind—the three-cornered fight for the job in Washington representing the Jefferson-Oswego-Lewis district goes merrily on.

Jefferson and Oswego are now all agog over Mr. Knapp's going down to see Jim. He and Jim are pretty close. They go shucks on office expenses at the nation's capital and pretty thoroughly understand each other. What if Jim should get in the game? That's what bothers the Hunt men, although they won't admit it. Admit it or not they are uneasy and don't know what move to expect or how to block any move that might be made in the way of intervention by the Vice Presidential nominee.

Over in Oswego there is some agitation on this point. They try to console themselves with the thought that Sherman will not take a hand in the game and, if he should, Oswego says his efforts would be unavailing. The determination of the Hunt and Stowell men seem to be of about the same degree, while the Lewis county crowd is not saying much; only sawing wood.

Mr. Cullinan of Oswego is still silent on the subject of a date for the Congressional convention, a silence that is wearing on the nerves of the Cobb faction, because the Oswego Senatorial crowd will not meet with the Jefferson committee on the question of representation in the Senatorial Convention. It looks as though the Congressional matter would be thrashed out before a conference on the other matter is held or before the debatable question is thrown into the hands of the State committee.—Watertown Times.

Between Supper and Breakfast.

Many persons, says a well known doctor, though not actually sick, keep below par in strength and general tone, and he is of the opinion that fasting during the long interval between supper and breakfast, and especially the complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep, adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness we so often meet. It is logical to believe that the supply of nourishment should be somewhat continuous, especially in those who are below par, if we would counteract their emaciation and lower degree of vitality, and as bodily exercise is suspended during sleep, with wear and tear correspondingly diminished, while digestion, assimilation and nutritive activity continue as usual, the food furnished during this period adds more than is destroyed, and increased weight and improved general vigor are the results.—London Globe.

Famous Epicures.

In the ceiling of the dining room in Nero's "golden house," on the Palatine hill, were compartments inlaid with ivory which revolved, showering perfumes and flowers on the guests. Flowers were presented to the guests by slaves. They were crowned with wreaths. Usually after one course the tables were removed and others placed before the guests. Throughout the meal drinking continued until the banqueters fell under the table stupefied. In those days men lived to eat. Great generals spent fortunes accumulated in years of warfare in gratifying their appetites. Lucullus on one dinner with Cicero and Pompey spent 50,000 drachmas, or $7,000. Pithylus, who was famed for the delicacy and originality of his dinners, wrapped his tongue in linen when not using it. That he might better appreciate flavors of the viands he had it cleaned with fish skin before dining.

She Wanted to Know.

A little woman with wilton carpet floral designs on her hat came into the uptown Pennsylvania ticket office the other day and bought a ticket for a point down the state.

She gathered up her ticket and asked for a little folder because it had a picture on it in colors of a girl waving goodby to somebody from the end of a train. Then she placed her ticket inside her purse and the purse inside a little satchel and put the satchel inside her shopping bag, which she carried in a small alligator traveling bag. Just before she started out she inquired of City Passenger Agent Dillon, who had been waiting on her, "How long before my train starts?".

"You'll just about have time to make it," Dillon told her. "It leaves the Union station in about seventeen minutes."

"Seventeen minutes," she repeated, "and is that by central time or eastern time?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Point Not Well Taken.

"I observe," said the editor of the magazine, looking over the manuscript that had been submitted to him by the aspiring author thereof, "that you have used the phrase 'lean hours.' How can there be such a thing as a 'lean' hour?"

"Why not?" demanded the other. "There is such a thing as a spare moment, isn't there?"—Chicago Tribune.

SOUVENIR

Saturday, July 18th

Decorated China

PLATE

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

In addition to usual checks with

Spices, Extracts, Chocolate, Cocoa, Teas, Coffees, Etc.

SUGARS AT COST

28 East First Street — Fulton, N. Y.

Telephone 184 — F. A. RUDD, Manager

The Companies that Paid Lossess in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are All represented in the office of

STREETER & PLATT

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y

A Horse's Toe Nails.

Few persons realize that a horse's hoof is really the same thing as the toe nails of human beings or of animals having toes. The horn of a hoof grows just as a toe nail does. The hoof grows more rapidly in unshod horses than in those wearing shoes, and it grows faster in horses which are well groomed and well fed. But on an average the horn grows about a third of an inch a month. Hind hoofs grow faster than fore hoofs. The toe of the hoof being the longest part, it takes longer for the horn to grow down there than at the heel. For instance, the toe will grow entirely down in from eleven to thirteen months, while the heel will grow down in from three to five months. As the new horn grows out any cracks or defects in the old gradually work down to where they can be cut off, just as with human finger nails you can watch the progress of a bruise from the roof to the tip.—New York Sun.

A Theater Dialogue.

The curtain had fallen on the first act at a Broadway theater when a man, correctly attired and apparently of refinement, leaned toward a woman occupying a seat directly in front of him—a woman who had naturally removed her hat, but whose hair was arranged in the extreme of fashion, aided by "boughten" puffs.

"I beg your pardon, madam," said the man in an audible whisper, "but if you would remove your hair and substitute your hat I believe I would be able to see something more of the stage."

The woman didn't scream. She didn't even faint. She merely turned around and replied:

"Jack, if you weren't my brother I'd slap your face."—New York Globe.

A Long Dance.

The longest dance on record is probably that of William Kemp, an actor of some celebrity in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He was a comedian and danced all the way from London to Norwich.

He was attended by a taborer, a servant and an overseer, and it was doubtless a good thing for him that there were no omnibuses or police then for they would probably have imposed more impediments in the way of his progress than did the country people.

He started with several presents of groats and crooked sixpences for luck, and, laden with these, he danced to Stratford with out rest.

Subsequently he went in for early rising to avoid market people, and, though suffering from a sprain of the hip which he received, he danced it well again, to the delight of the crowd which accompanied him, some 200 in number.

When he reached Norwich he had to dance in and out of the city twice, for his overseer missed him in the crowd and made him do the distance over again to avoid any possibility of error.—London Graphic.

A Live Steak.

"It is a mistake," said the president of the New York Waiters' club, "to think that an Englishman always wants his beef excessively rare. As a matter of fact, the English like their beef better done than we do. I once saw a waiter," he continued, "serve an English duke with a cut of very, very rare sirloin. The duke looked closely at the slice of bright red meat. Then he said:

"'Waiter, just send for the butcher, will you?'

"'The butcher, sir?' the waiter stammered.

"'Yes,' said the duke. 'This beef doesn't seem to be quite dead yet.'"

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank

Oswego, N. Y.

The

1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:50 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write:

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17.
9-12 Olcott Beach July 7th.

Citizens National Bank
Of Fulton, New York

Pays
4%
Interest on Certificates of Deposit
No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

WEST SIDE POST OFFICE.

The residents of the Upper Falls have been considerably alarmed during the past week over the rumor that the Washington postal authorities were seriously considering the advisability of changing the office into what is technically known as a contract station. This would mean that part of a store would be rented, or the privelege obtained, of selling stamps, stamped paper and envelopes, issuing money orders and registering letters and packages. If this should be decided upon all mail would be received and dispatched at the Fulton Post Office.

A petition has been circulated and signed by the business firms at the Falls, protesting against the contemplated change.

The situation, we understand, has been created by the owner of the property in which the West Side office is located, demanding an increased rental of $100 per year, and as Congress failed to make appropriation necessary for such contingencies, the matter will be settled entirely by the Federal authorities. It is reported that a representative of the Postal Department will soon visit Fulton for the purpose of making a thorough investigation and reporting to the Federal authorities before any definite action is taken.

Showing Our Monkey Blood.

The batsman, congratulated on his home run, slapped himself proudly on the chest and began to boast of still finer home runs that he had made in the past.

"Did you see that gesture, the stricken breast?" said an ethnologist of Harvard. "Whenever we make that gesture in our vanity we prove the Darwinian theory up to the hilt.

"You know the gorilla. Kipling and Du Chaillu describe him—an enormous ape that in his indomitable bravado beats his breast with a sound like the rolling of the muffled drums of Memorial day.

"As big as a bull, as swift as a cat, as powerful as an elephant, the gorilla believes himself unconquerable, and in the vain glory of that belief he inflates his lungs and beats his swollen breast till the jungle rings like a gong.

"We in our moments of foolish and excessive vanity inflate our lungs and slap our swollen breasts.

"Thus, alas, we show the monkey blood in us."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Bert Barber, of Utton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Sold by all druggists.

Baseball Matters.

President Galusha has returned from Ogdensburg and Watertown and announces that on Thursday he hopes to open a new schedule of games with Watertown and Ogdensburg in the league. These are excellent baseball towns and will permit Sunday ball.

Mr. Galusha was anxious to transfer the Fulton franchise to Watertown but was unsuccessful. Fulton preferring to hold on a while longer, hoping all the time for better things. It has been impossible to strengthen the team owing to the financial stringency caused by poor attendance, but some aid locally is expected this week which will bridge over the present difficulties and permit Fulton to play ball until the end of the season.

Notice of Completion of Assessment Rolls.

Notice hereby given that the assessment rolls for the east and west tax districts of the city of Fulton for the year 1908 have been completed and filed with the city clerk and all persons interested may examine the same at the city clerk's office, city hall, Fulton N. Y., until the first Tuesday of September, 1908.

Notice is hereby further given that on the 1st day of September, 1908, that being the first Tuesday in September, the Assessors of the city of Fulton will meet at the Common Council room in the city hall, Fulton, N. Y. to review said assessments.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., July 2, 1908.

GEORGE FOSTER
JOHN M. HEWITT
O. O. HANNIS

8-5

Buy your outing Oxfords at S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

To the Public.

It is my desire to inform my customers that on and after July 11, 1908, I will conduct my business on a strictly cash basis In doing so I believe it to be for the best interests of both my customers and myself.

I will continue to carry the same high grade of goods and will sell at the lowest possible prices.

All orders received either by telephone or at the store will be delivered free.

I would ask that all accounts now outstanding due me will receive prompt attention, and trust you will continue your patronage as in the past.

Thanking you kindly for past favors, I am

Very truly yours,
A. L. WARNER.
105 Oneida St.
Fulton, N. Y., July 1, 1908.

Too Much Music.

"I like churches to provide fine music at all times," said a prominent clergyman, "but there are cases on record where the music has been given too prominent a place.

"An eloquent brother divine from South Carolina once told me that going to preach at a strange church he was taken aside by a deacon, who whispered:

"'Beg pardon, sir, but I must ask you not to preach longer than ten or twelve minutes. It's the music that the people come here for.'

"That was wrong. But worse still was the case of a supply preacher in a church famous for its anthems and choruses. The stranger, not noticing the scraping and tuning of fiddles rose and began to preach, when the choir leader jumped up and shouted angrily to him from the choir loft at the other end of the church:

"'Sit down, man! When it's your turn we'll tell you.'"

English as Sung.

I live opposite to a school where music is carefully and constantly taught. The children have acquired the difficult art of dropping a semitone a minute. But the accent employed is even more interesting than the tone system. Here is a favorite school song:

Flahrs, lavly flahrs, in a garden yeh may see,
The rowses there with their reuby lip,
Perks the 'unny by 'oves teh nip,
Teulips, teulips, gy as a butterfly's wing,
Merrygoids rich as the crahn of a king,
Rich as the crahn of a king,
But none seh fair teh me,
None seh fair teh me,
As these wildwood flahrs,
Sweet wild flahrs.

—London Academy.

Twenty-Five Cents is the Price of Peace.

The terrible itching and smarting incident to certain skin diseases is almost instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

A Wash Twice a Year.

A charming Hungarian countess once said to me, "What is so nice about the men from England is that they look so clean, as if they had just come from a swim." Of course we pride ourselves on our morning tubs, splash and splutter and shiver and polish up with rough towels. "What dirty people those English are," remarked an Italian, "when they find it necessary to wash all over every day! Why, I only wash twice a year!" I have met Chinese who regard washing all over as a proceeding decidedly improper. A Chinese is washed when he is born, and he has no other altogether wash till he is dead. But we British people have adopted cleanliness only of recent years. Small houses have their bathrooms, but very few houses built over half a century ago were provided with bathrooms. I suppose those must have been the days of the Saturday night wash in the kitchen. Certainly our gay cavalier ancestors in silks and ruffles must have been a dirty gang. Handkerchiefs were not invented, and the velvet cloaks must often have been greasy. The rollicking old times were very dirty old times.—"Baths, Pleasant and Otherwise."

The Don't Worry Theory.

The usual advice given to the worrier is, "Don't worry." This advice is foolish because impractical. No one can stop thinking one type of thought except by substituting for it another. Besides, it is dangerous advice, for, even supposing one could mechanically put an end to a worrying state of mind, he would simply be like an engineer who should plant himself on the safety valve of his engine. The energy expended in worry, turned toward on itself, would tear the mental mechanism to pieces. No! What the worried man or woman needs evidently is to be taught how to find a healthful outlet for his or her nervous power thus going to waste. If we say "Don't worry," let us also be careful to add, "But work," and let us also point out what kind of work should be undertaken and the spirit in which it ought to be done. In other words, what the worrier needs is re-education.—Rev. S. S. McComb in Harper's Bazar.

Jefferson Davis' Ambition.

Jefferson Davis was a man of most sincere conviction and courageous action, and when the Southern Confederacy was about to be organized his single ambition was the command of the Confederate army. This I had from his own lips at his residence at Beauvoir, Miss., some fifteen years after the war. He told me that when he started for Montgomery, Ala., when the movement began for the organization of the Confederacy he hoped to be called to the command of the army, but before he reached Montgomery he was advised of his election as provisionary president. When he reached the new capital of the Confederacy he found it impossible to change conditions, and he was compelled to accept the presidency, and he entered upon that duty as conscientiously as any public man ever entered upon an official career.—Colonel A. K. McClure in "Confederate Veterans."

A Yoga Story.

For fourteen years Bava Lochman Dass received from the priests of the Black Caves of central India the necessary education in order to become a yoga, as a yoga must be capable of taking the forty-eight postures of the Hindoo idols. Perhaps the greatest trick consists in balancing himself on the ends of his fingers while the whole of his body is in the air. Bava stated that in order to obtain the rank of yoga in the Black Caves of India he had to continue in this position on the ends of his fingers under the eyes of the judges, without a second's interval, for seven days and nights!—Strand Magazine.

Low Necked Dresses.

In the early days of Pennsylvania there was a law, as we learn from documents in the state department, which stated as follows: "That if any white female of ten years or upward should appear in any public street, lane, highway, church, courthouse, tavern, ball, theater or any other place of public resort with naked shoulders—i. e., low necked dresses—being able to purchase necessary clothing, she shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200."

Not For His.

The Boston Teacher—Waldo, would you like to have lived in ancient Greece?

The Boston Pupil—No, ma'am.

B. T.—And why not, pray?

B. P.—As I understand it, Greek mothers wore wooden sandals and Greek boys didn't wear any trousers.—Cleveland Leader.

Her Compliment.

"Uncle Jehosophat, I'm goin' to name my kitten after you."

"Well, well, that is nice of you"—

"Oh, it's all right. Mother says I've got to drown the thing anyhow."—Illustrated Bits.

An Anomalous One.

"Pop, wot's an anomaly?"

"An anomaly," answered the chauffeur, "is a man who keeps an automobile without kicking about the cost of repairs."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Some Doubts.

New Curate—How's your wife, Jabez? Jabez—'Er's very doubtful, measter. 'Er doubts as 'er won't get better, and Oi doubts as 'er will.—Punch.

Seldom is a smooth tongue without a sting behind.—Irish Proverb.

Our July Clearance Sale

Offers Astounding Values in High Class Summer Suits

For Men and Young Men

This is the bargain event of the season and you simply can't afford to miss it. For us the Summer is practically over—for you it has just begun. As it is our rule to begin each season with new goods we don't hesitate to cut prices to the lowest point.

Men's and Young Men's Smart Summer Sack Suits at 1-4 Off the Regular Price. :: ::

$20.00 Suits will be sold at $15.00
$18.00 Suits will be sold at $13.50
$16.00 Suits will be sold at $12.00
$12.00 Suits will be sold at $9.00

Values like these will go quickly; the sooner you buy the greater will be the selection of styles, sizes and patterns :: :: ::

50c Fancy Half Hose at.....39c
25c Wash Ties at.....19c, 3 for 50c
$1.00 Underwear in Lisles and Balbriggan at.....79c
50c Blue Underwear, Shirts and Drawers, at.....37c

S. Lipsky & Son

The House that Makes Good

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N.Y.

CHURCH NOTES.

Zion Church.

Fifth Sunday after Trinity, July 19:

Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.

Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon, 10:30 a. m.

The Parish Aid Society will meet at the rectory for work on Thursday at 2 p. m.

State Street M. E. Church

Public worship at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.30 p. m.

Prayer service on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The Official Board will meet on Thursday evening after the prayer service. Important business will come before the meeting.

Another class will be received into the church next Sunday morning.

Baptist Church

The pastor will preach next Sunday morning. The Rev. H. H. Barstow of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak in the evening.

A meeting of the Bible School teachers, to plan for a picnic, will be held on Thursday evening after prayer meeting.

The pulpit supplies for August will be as follows: Aug 2, Capt. Jordison of the local Salvation army; 9th, 16th and 23d, the Rev. E. V. Babcock of Eau Claire, Wis.; 30th, the Rev. W. B. McNinch of Camillus, N. Y.

The pastor will be absent from the city during August.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

The first meeting of the Mother Jewel's Society will be held next Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. in the primary rooms. Mothers of the members are expected and any ladies interested are invited.

The president of the Y. P. S. C. E. would like to meet all of the officers and chairmen of Committees, Thursday after prayer meeting.

Friends and strangers are cordially invited to attend these services.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Joys of the Interne.

"If you could see some of the vicious home treatment applied to cuts," the young interne at Bellevue said, "you'd wonder at the comparatively few cases of tetanus. If a playful mongrel pup snaps at you, the east side knows that the only thing to do is to put some of the hair of the dog that did the biting—the hair must be from that particular dog—into the cut. They come with incisions reeking with all the filth imaginable—the dirtiest cobwebs from the garret, for instance, which are even more popular as a poultice than those made of a chew of tobacco. Two boys came in recently the same day with cuts to which cigar butts had been bound down because, they explained, they don't chew tobacco. You can't convince the east side that it's wrong. Don't waste time, but clean the wound scientifically, pray for good luck and yell 'Next!'"—New York Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

Captain Dan Rix of Fulton.

In August, 1862, a bright, young man of fine manners and address, was clerk in Asa Watson's store at South Hannibal. He was taken sick and returned to Fulton. He soon after came back for a day, stating that he had enlisted in the 81st Regiment, which was being raised at that time and in which, I think, he received a Lieutenant's commission. I never knew what became of him until reading William H. Brackett's experiences in the 81st, I learned that Captain Dan Rix of Fulton was killed near Fort Harrison on the James River, in September, 1863.

S. D. Gardner.

Canvas Shoes for outing wear. S. D. Wells Shoe Store.

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert
tf Fulton, N. Y.

Stranahan & VanBuren's

Big Shoe Sale

On Thursday, July 16, We Begin

The greatest Clean-up Sale in the history of our business We are overstocked, and must reduce our stock.

Therefore, we are taking no account of profits, simply converting the goods into cash.

Men's $4.00 Oxfords, . . $2.98
Men's $4.00 Sample Oxfords, . $2.75
Men's $3.50 Tan Oxfords . . $2.75
Men's $2.50 Oxfords . . $1.98
Boy's $2.50 Oxfords, all styles, $1.98
Women's Edwin C. Burt $3.50 Tan Oxfords, ... $2.65
Women's P. J. Harney's $2.50 Oxfords, $1.98
Women's P. J. Harney's $3.00 Oxfords, $2.48

Misses' Tan Shoes and Oxfords were $1.75 now . . $1.48

Children's Tan Shoes and Oxfords, were $1.25, now . 98c

Do not underestimate these Offers---They are MONEY-SAVERS!

Stranahan & VanBuren,

The Store with a Red Front Phone 473 110 Oneida Street

ELECTRICITY HELPS

Make Your Store Comfortable

and attractive to customers—don't wait for your competitor to lead.

A cool, light store attracts business, and electricity is the means to adopt. A hot store means tired clerks and poor service.

Electric Fans pay dividends, and large ones.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Miss Chloe Searles is visiting Syracuse friends.

A son was born on Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Luke Clearwater.

Miss Carrie Seymour is entertaining Mrs. Gardner of Oswego.

Mrs. P. Murphy continues very ill at her home in Second street.

Freeman Mosher, corner of Seventh and Emory streets, is ill.

S. D. Wells of Park street visited in South Hannibal on Monday.

Miss Alice Reagan is entertaining the Misses O'Brien of New York city

Mrs. E. G. Wells and daughter of Hannibal visited friends in town this week.

Mrs. Ward Reynolds and children of Mt. Pleasant are visiting relatives at Jordan.

Miss Cora VanBuren has been entertaining Miss Phillips and Mrs. Pitman of Oswego.

Stanley Dry Plates, 4x5, only 33c per dozen, at Lasher's Book Store.

Worth's Cushion Sole

COMFORT and service are the two essential qualities that most people want in their footwear.

Always buy Worth's Cushion Sole and you will have comfort, because the soles bend with every motion of the foot, and the insoles are perfectly smooth with not a tack or nail to hurt your feet.

They are sure to be serviceable, because only the better grades of leather can be used in the manufacture of Worth's Cushion Sole shoes.

Morton & Shattuck
Sign of the Big Boot
9 South First Street

Mrs. Whiting of Rochester street is very critically ill.

Mrs. Witherspoon of Washington D. C. is the guest of her mother Mrs. Thomas Poole.

Miss Helen Cavanaugh of Boonville, N. Y., is visiting her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Fassell.

Mrs. H. A. Waldorf will return this week from a visit with relatives and friends in Albion, Mich.

Mrs. N. J. Taft of Binghamton is spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Jerry Wise.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Neusbaum, fell from a tree on Saturday, breaking a leg.

Dr. Francis Dunn of Sherburne is the guest for a few days of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn.

Mrs. William G. A. Pelley and daughter left on Monday for Springfield, Mass., to visit with friends.

Mr. H. P. Allen has greatly improved his Oneida street residence by the addition of porches and paint.

E. J. Carver and family of South Third street went to Hannibal this week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. G Wells.

Manager J. W. Stevenson of the local woolen mills is driving a handsome 60-horse power Stevens-Duryea car

Mrs. Hastings of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, is the guest of Mrs Frank Sears and other friends in this city.

Robbie Crockett of Highland street is spending a few weeks with his uncle and aunt in Boston, having the time of his life.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Sawtelle will leave on Friday for Scranton Pa., where Mr. Sawtelle will preach for Rev. J. H. Odell.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V Connell of Oneida street have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Otis W. Kipp of Hannibal.

On Friday some one stole a number of potted plants from Mrs. Clinton Hall's porch. No clue has been found to the guilty parties.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crockett and daughter of Highland street drove to Pleasant Point recently.

Dr. Ross Haviland of New York city is the guests of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. H. Haviland. Dr. Haviland is a physician in the Manhattan State Hospital.

Miss Charlotte Bostwick left yesterday to visit friends at Saratoga Springs. Later she will go to Skaneateles Lake, where she will spend the remainder of the Summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gibson of South Scriba are receiving congratulations on the birth of an 11½ pound daughter, born on Tuesday morning.

Willis Matson of Ira has a fine flock of four hundred White Leghorn hens and a large flock of chickens and is selling at his door ninety dozen eggs per week for twenty cents per dozen.

The fifth annual convention of the Woman's Suffrage Union will meet on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Church, corner of Oneida and Sixth streets. Miss Harriet May Mills of Syracuse and other prominent speakers from Syracuse and Oswego will be present. All members of the Anthony Club and any others interested are cordially invited to be present.

Try a Waterman "Safety Fountain Pen" for your Summer vacation. At Lasher's Book Store.

Complete Protection

Fire Insurance

Whitaker & Lovejoy
44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y

John Reynolds, Jr., is visiting friends in Oswego.

Miss Hazel Gardner is convalescent from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

Editor A. P. Bradt is attending the Prohibition National convention in session in Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. R. N. Hoff of Buffalo will spend sometime in the home of Druggist and Mrs. W. J. Watson.

The Lasher Reading Club is fully stocked with the best of the new novels; you can have any one for 2 cents per day at Lasher's Book Store.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Katz and daughter Ruth leave on Thursday for Sacandaga Park, Adirondack mountains, where they will spend August.

A health lecture is to be given in the Universalist church this afternoon by a Miss Martha Barner of Syracuse. The ladies of this vicinity are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, who have occupied a suite of rooms in Mrs. Mary Butler's home, have leased the A. M. Seymour house, Cayuga street, and will occupy it.

Miss Ethel Patterson entertained at a thimble party at her home in Oneida street on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. T. R. Tetley of Albany and Mrs. Charles Burke of Cleveland, Ohio.

The Theatorium, Cayuga street, is proving very popular with the residents of this vicinity. The immaculately clean and cool room, the comfortable seats and excellent pictures are proving most attractive. Good music is in attendance during the show hours.

Two graduates of Fulton High school have completed their four-years college course this Spring: Miss Florence Hunter, graduating from Wellesley and Mr. Gilbert Benedict from Amherst, the latter with an A. B. degree. Mr. Benedict and Miss Hunter graduated in the same High School class.

President E. R. Redhead and Teller Webb G. Cooper of the Citizen's Bank and President and Mrs. Thomas Hunter and Cashier and Mrs. L. C. Foster of the First National Bank, have returned from the State Banker's Convention, held at the Frontenac, St. Lawrence River, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kelley were in McGrawville last week attending the funeral of Neil, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley. The young man, while racing with some friends a few weeks prior to his death, fell upon a projection, causing a perforation of a vital organ and death resulted.

It was currently reported last week that some one was lost in the canal, and Coroner Marsh was importuned to demand that the water be drawn off, the supposition being voiced that one George Lott, who had disappeared, would be found under the watery deep. In fact, it was announced on Saturday that his body had been found. Lott was later found alive and well in Oswego. An umbrella mender's kit was found in the canal and that gave color to the story that a man had fallen into the canal.

Mens, Ladies and children 2-Buckle canvas Oxfords one year a head of the rush at S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Are you going away?

Are you well supplied with Cigars, Pipes and Tobacco?

If not, call and see my stock at 109 Cayuga street.

Victor C. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sylvester and sons are camping at Fair Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Halstead are entertaining Mrs. Louisa Dines and Mrs. Cora Woodin of Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Wells and family left on Thursday for Ha-Ha Bay, Can., where they will spend the Summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne and family and Mrs. F. T. Payne were the over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Summerville of the west side.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilson are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilson and daughter of Utica and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilson of Detroit, Mich.

Oswego's tax rate for 1908 has been fixed at $1.78. Last year it was $1.44, but the new bridge bonds, water bonds and other improvements are to be taken care of this year.

The exterior of the engine house in First street is being vastly improved by the application of coats of paint. The firemen are doing the work during leisure hours, showing the pride which they take in their quarters.

E. G. Wells, Commissioner of Highways of the Town of Hannibal, was in town yesterday, enroute for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the National Prohibition Convention. He had just returned from Buffalo, where he attended the Good Roads Convention as delegate from his town. He was accompanied by his son, Loren, a lad of ten years. They included Niagara Falls in their trip.

The Fort Stanwix Canning Company has extended the time when the coupons cut from cans of their goods will be redeemed by them for the benefit of the Fulton hospital. The Woman's Auxiliary to the hospital association has been given cards upon which the coupons are to be pasted to the number of 50. When filled, the Fort Stanwix Co. will redeem them, paying to the association 50 cents in cash for each card. Several cards have already been redeemed by the company

On Friday Lon Wood received a check for $85 from the State to reimburse him for the loss of a horse which was killed in April by the State veterinarian, supposedly suffering from glanders. Mr. Wood had the horse appraised before it was killed and he also sent the lungs and vital organs to the state laboratory for analysis and his supposition is that the animal was killed unnecessarily by the check forthcoming.

The Citizens Whist Club of this city and the Fortnightly Whist Club of Oswego met in combat at the club house, Pleasant Point on Wednesday, and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the scalps of the Oswego contingent adorned the belts of the local players by a score of six to three, the points in favor of Fulton being eight. The men were accompanied by their wives, the following being present: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Allen, Mr and Mrs. R. D Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Van Wagenen, Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Faircfere, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Chauncey, of Fulton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox, Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Bullis, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Peebles, Mr. and Mrs F. O. Gaylord and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pulver, Oswego.

For Bargains attend the Clearance Sale of trimmed hats and millinery goods at Youngs,
Cayuga street.

REMEMBER !

that I am now selling goods for Cash and am prepared to give you bargains. I can and will save you money on

All Staple Groceries

Now is the season for PEANUT BUTTER which I will sell for 16 cents per pound, in one pound lots or over. It can be used in many ways---as a nut cream, nut butter gravy, sandwiches, salad dressing, pie crust, hard sauce, layer cake filling and peanut fudge.

I will sell you a COFFEE at 19 cents per pound that you cannot duplicate elsewhere for 25 cents. All of my goods are of the highest order.

Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

A. L. WARNER

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jenkins, Hotel Lewis, a son.

The Rev. S. H. Taft left on Wednesday for Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. F. L. Dunlap, Picton, Ont, Canada, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Jenkins at the Hotel Lewis.

Mrs. Henry VanNote and son of Atlantic Highlands, are spending the Summer months with Miss May Gardner.

"De real resourceful man," said Uncle Eben, "when some one hands him a lemon is ready wif de sugar and other fixin's to make it tol'able to take."—Washington Star.

On Tuesday of last week during the severe storm, lightening struck the flag pole at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne near Ingalls Crossing. Mrs. Payne and daughter who were standing in the doorway received severe shocks.

Mr. J. A. Bishop of Mt. Pleasant wishes to thank his friends and neighbors for their efforts in his behalf during his absence from home on Wednesday noon when his house was destroyed by fire. The out buildings were saved by their efforts as were some of the household goods.

Brownie Enlarging Cameras, size 6 1-2 x8 1-2, only $3.00, at Lasher's Book Store.

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.
STOCK BROKERS
Oswego Office—No. 6 Neal Block
Phone 1208 C. J. Bellinger, Mgr.
Securities bought and sold for cash or on moderate margins.
New York Office—53 Broadway

Situation Wanted

A first class accountant and office man, thoroughly familiar with up-to-date methods of cost accounting, wants position with manufacturing concern. Address X, Times office, Fulton.

We apologize for all mistakes made in former issues, and say they were inexcusable, as all an editor has to do is to hunt news and clean rollers and set type, sweep the floor and pen short items, and fold papers, and write wrappers, and make the paste, and mail the papers, and talk to visitors, and distribute type, and carry water, and saw wood and read the proofs, hunt the shears to write editorials, and dodge the bills and dun delinquents, and take cussings from the whole force, and tell our subscribers that we have money—we say that we've no business to make mistakes while attending to those little matters, and getting our living on hoppertail soup flavored with imagination, and wearing old shoes and no collar and a patch on your knees and obliged to turn a smiling countenance to the man who tells us our paper ain't worth a dollar anyhow, and he could make a better one with his eyes shut.—Ex.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar
Fits properly around the neck.
Try our work for a change.
Modern Way Laundry
E. D. PARK, Proprietor
Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton
West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, FULTON, N. Y.

Capital and Surplus, $100,000.

The first consideration of the officers and directors of this bank is the security of the funds intrusted to our care by depositors.

Our past record is an absolute guarantee of sound and safe banking methods. On this evidence of stability and strength we respectfully ask for your banking business.

The Great Waldorf Sale

of Suits and Skirts continues with unabated interest

A Good Assortment Still Left---All Sizes:

The $4.00 to $5.00 Suits for $2.98 each
The $5.00 to $7.50 Suits for $3.98 each
The $2.50 to $3.00 Suits for $1.49 each
The $3.00 to $4.00 Suits for $1.98 each

A beautiful line of white Skirts for less than the Dressmakers bill.

A few of the waist bargains left! This sale will continue till every Suit is sold.

Next To P. O. W. H. PATTERSON, Fulton, N. Y

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
UNIVERSITY BLK. SYRACUSE, N. Y
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD.S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON.
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE.
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 148. Residence over store, No. 46 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointment:

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:
First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego
I hereby designate the same terms for the trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.
Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.
Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego
Dated, Oswego, Oct. 16, 1907.
MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until othe wise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in the city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.
On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.
Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the CLAYTON J. MILLER
Surrogate

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in atomizers 75 cts.
Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

President's Sons.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and His Brother Kermit — The Latter's Luck In Being Invited on That African Trip.

MOST boys would think that Kermit Roosevelt got the best of his elder brother, Theodore, in obtaining the consent of his distinguished father to accompany him on that trip to Africa in search of lions and elephants and other big game. While Kermit is helping his sire to shoot or capture wild beasts in the jungles of the dark continent "Teddy junior" will have to content himself with climbing up the ladder which leads to fame in the world of engineering, for young Theodore's ambition is to make a name for himself in a field quite different from that in which his father has become eminent so that the world cannot taunt him with insinuations that his rise is due to the president's influence rather than his own merits. He graduates from Harvard next year, and this summer instead of loafing, as so many college students do during vacation if their parents are wealthy, he proposes to get all the experience he can by working as a laborer at the mines. He is willing to work his way up from the bottom of the ladder, and his career at Harvard shows that he has grit enough for strenuous tasks.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, JR.

Kermit, who is now eighteen, is willing to forego completing a college course, if necessary, in order to have the benefit of the adventurous life the president purposes to pursue when he casts aside the cares of state. He is a tall, loose jointed youth with clear eyes, soft voice and pleasant manners.

It was Kermit who perpetrated a prank in his younger days that is still the subject of laughter in the diplomatic corps at Washington when recalled. Before its renovation and enlargement President Roosevelt found the White House rather cramped quarters for a large family. With one or two of the little Roosevelts off at boarding school, there were enough beds to go round, but none to spare. The president once entertained a foreign envoy of age and rank at the White House over Sunday. He was put in Ethel's room, and Ethel, when she came back from school Saturday, went up to sleep with Alice, but unfortunately Kermit did not know of it.

So when early morning came, mindful of his strenuous inheritance, he crept to Ethel's room with a pitcher of water and, softly opening the door without awakening the slumbering ambassador, dashed forward and threw the icy water over the bed, shouting:

KERMIT ROOSEVELT.

"Get up, you old lazy bones; get up!"

Then, when a gray head was lifted from the pillows, dripping and alarmed, the astonishment was mutual and the departure of the youngster instantaneous, without his pitcher.

Kermit is somewhat taller than his brother Theodore, though both are well "put up" and have followed their father's plan of developing their physiques so as to make the most of nature's endowment. Theodore is very manly and decisive in his looks and bearing. Kermit is only a boy still, but a boy with an adventurous spirit like that of his distinguished sire, as shown by the fondness he has developed for the rough life of the hunter's camp and the success he has met in shooting bears. He showed some of the skill he possesses as a hunter and horseback rider when a guest over the Fourth of July at the home of Major W. A. Wadsworth at Genesee, N. Y. He participated in the sports of the Genesee Valley Hunt club and in the manikin race, which his father won fourteen years ago. He sustained a bad fall, but pluckily picked himself up and went on with the sports.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. In Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

A Bibliophile's Reply.

Mandell Creighton, who was bishop of London, had a horror of lending his favorite books. A fellow clergyman once visited the bishop and took a fancy to an old edition of Shakespeare. He borrowed the volume and did not think to return it for several months. Finally the minister returned it with a letter, saying, "My Dear Bishop—I have great pleasure in returning the volume you lent me."

The bishop answered, "My Dear Brother—All the joy is mine."

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Her Little Confidence Game.

"We're playing railroad train," she said as she pulled her father's paper away, "and I'm the conductor. Tickets, please."

He took a card from his pocket and handed it to her. She looked at it intently for a minute and then handed it back. "That was issued yesterday," she said, "and isn't good today. You'll have to pay cash or get off the train."

He gave her a dime. He knew he had been "worked," but what else could he do?

Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, pleasant little pills that are easy to take. Sold by all druggists.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is good for cuts, burns, bruises and scratches. It is especially good for piles. Recommended and sold by all druggists.

Her Progress.

"The last time I saw you you were complaining about your servant being so slow."

"Oh, she's progressing now."

"Is she really?"

"Yes. She's getting slower and slower."—Exchange.

Hot Retort.

The Writer—Ah, laugh at me if you will, but I will write of you in my journal that which will make you sick! The Artist—Everything that m'sieur writes makes me sick.—Life.

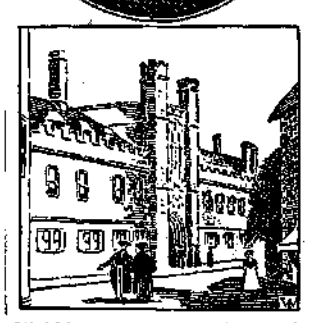
What ripens fast does not last.—Shakespeare.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHŒA REMEDY.

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhœa.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhœa and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.



When reduced with water, and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it NOW. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

MILTON TERCENTENARY.

Celebrations In Honor of the Great English Poet.

The tercentenary of the birth of John Milton, which is being celebrated this summer in England, serves to call attention to the difference in the financial rewards of a literary career in the time of this great poet and in our own era. Milton received £5 from his publisher for "Paradise Lost" and a promise of £5 more when the sales should have reached 1,300. Yet there is perhaps no greater name in English literature than his. Milton was born in London on Dec. 9, 1608, but some of the principal observances in connection with the tercentenary are taking place this month, Cambridge university being the scene of several of the most important. Cambridge is intimately associated with the name of Milton, for it was at Christ college, Cambridge, that he studied the higher branches of learning, and in a venerable, musty volume the entry of his name can still be found. In his honor the fellows and masters of the college planned this month the performance of the masque "Comus" in the Fellows' garden, which contains the famous Milton mulberry tree to which so many pilgrimages have been made by admirers of the poet. One day in the programme of the Cambridge celebration has been devoted to the memory of his second wife, Catherine Woodcock, to whom the poet was passionately devoted and to whom he dedicated one of his most beautiful sonnets. She is the subject of a memorial window erected by the late George W. Childs of Philadelphia in St. Margaret's, Westminster.

JOHN MILTON AND CHRIST COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

Milton at the time of his graduation from Cambridge was a very handsome young man. It was not until he was about thirty-two years old that his eyesight began to fail. After blindness finally overcame him his two daughters became his eyes.

VISCOUNT KATSURA.

Veteran Warrior and Statesman at Front Once More in Japan.

General Viscount Taro Katsura, who has come to the front in Japanese politics again in consequence of the recent reorganization of the cabinet, has several times been prime minister of Japan and is one of the greatest soldiers of the empire. He has the reputation of being a strong friend of America. The viscount was born in 1849, is of samurai family and belongs to the Choshin clan, hailing from the province of Nagato—the birthplace of about nine out of ten of the country's great men. He began his fighting career in 1867 in the civil war which resulted in the overthrow of the old order of things and the adoption of western civilization. He was only a subaltern then, but Japan rang with stories of his remarkable skill and courage in leading men. After the civil war was over and Japan had begun to adopt western ways his government sent him to Germany to study military matters, and thus it came about that he had a great deal to do with putting the mikado's army on a modern basis. He rose rapidly until he reached the rank of lieutenant general, and in the war with China commanded the third division of the Japanese army, marching through Korea and Manchuria. His name became a terror to the Chinese, who called his troops "the ever victorious army."

GENERAL VISCOUNT TARO KATSURA.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A Substitute.

Mrs. Millsap's new girl, who never had gone out to service before and had had scarcely any experience as a cook, appeared to be willing and industrious and was quick to learn. In view of her inexperience she had readily agreed to work for $3.50 a week. Mrs. Millsap, who was an expert cook, had taken much pains with her education in that line, and at the end of five or six weeks Jemima was equal to any demands upon her in the line of kitchen work. The mistress was greatly surprised, therefore, when the maid one morning gave her a week's notice.

"What does this mean, Jemima?" she asked. "Haven't I treated you fairly?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered the girl, "but I've learned how to cook now, and I've found a place where I can get $5 a week right at the start."

"You didn't ask me to raise your wages. Do you think you are acting fairly with me?"

"Oh, I'm going to do the square thing with you, Mrs. Millsap," said Jemima. "I've got a sister about a year younger than I am, and she's perfectly willing to come here and work for $3.50 a week—till she learns cooking anyhow."—Youth's Companion.

Trivial Cause of a Bloody War.

In the year 1654 a Polish nobleman became obnoxious to the laws of his country by reason of his having committed a crime. He fled to Sweden, whereupon John Casimir, king of Poland, wrote to Charles Gustavus, king of Sweden, demanding the surrender of the criminal. The king of Sweden on reading the dispatch noticed that his own name and titles were followed by two "et ceteras," while the name of the king of Poland was followed by three. The missing "et ceters" so enraged the king of Sweden that he at once declared war against Poland. The war was carried on with great bitterness until 1660, when a peace was signed at Oliva, near Danzig. A contemporary writer (Kochowsky) poured out his lamentations on the war in these terms: "How dear has this 'et cetera' been to us! With how many lives have these two potentates paid for these missing eight letters! With what streams of blood has the failure of a few drops of ink been avenged!"

The Realistic Actor.

"Does he believe in realism?"

"Yes. But he carries it to excess. In the second scene he is severely wounded, and he has a doctor issue bulletins between the acts."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Night Rates For a Horse.

"Hicks, the hotel man, has a new scheme. He serves Welsh rabbit free to his guests evenings."

"What's his idea?"

"Well, they have nightmare, and then he charges them for the use of one horse."—Boston Transcript.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA·SNOW &C.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON."
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908

Leave Albany, Hamilton St.,	8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St.,	5.10 P. M
" New York, West 42d St.,	5.30 P. M
" New York, Desbrosses St.,	6.00 P.M

Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Debrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 5.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 5c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. C. & W. Station

NORTH BOUND
5.48 a. m.	Train No. 335
8.10 a. m., Daily	" 337
11.51 a. m.	" 301
3 31 p. m., Daily	" 351
6.16 p. m.	" 303
10.10 p. m., Daily	" 315
SOUTH BOUND
8.04 a. m.	Train No. 302
9.39 a. m., Daily	" 318
2-14 p. m.	" 350
5.09 p m., Daily	" 328
7.04 p. m.	" 342
9.34 p. m., Daily	" 330

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton

NORTH BOUND
*Chicago Limited for all points West	8 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	11 00 "
*Local for Oswego	5 10 PM
§Local for Oswego	6 45 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego	7 30 "
SOUTH BOUND
†Express for Norwich	8 22 AM
§Syl van Beach Special	8 55 "
*Local for Sidney	9 15 AM
*Limited for New York	2 30 PM
†Express for New York	7 05 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
§ Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full cafe Buffet Sleepers, Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 56 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAGE, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

At Denver With the Democrats

Some Figures in the Convention—Judge William J. Gaynor of New York. Treasurer O'Brien.

National Committeeman Norman E. Mack—The Youngest Bryan Generation—Augustus Thomas.

WILLIAM J. GAYNOR.

NEW YORK'S vice presidential candidate, William Jay Gaynor, is one of the most eminent jurists in the United States, and his opinions on public questions have been widely quoted. He is a justice of the appellate division of the supreme court of New York state and was born at Whitestown, Oneida county, N. Y., in 1851. He was educated at the Whitestown seminary and in Boston, and in 1873 settled in what was then the city of Brooklyn, working on Brooklyn and New York papers and in the meantime studying law. He was admitted to the bar in 1875. He became judge advocate on the staff of General McLeer, Second brigade, national guard, in 1890, and shortly afterward became nationally known for his work in breaking up rings within the Democratic party and his action in securing the conviction of John Y. McKane of election frauds. He has declined proffers of nominations for the court of appeals of the state of New York, for mayor of New York and for governor of the state. Judge Gaynor has given much study to the subject of railway rate reform and has made many addresses on the subject.

He supported Mr. Bryan in his two previous campaigns.

Judge Gaynor married Miss Augusta Cole Mayer and has several children. He lives in the fashionable residence district of Brooklyn borough known as the Park Slope, where he has a handsome and tasteful home.

One of the prominent figures at the Democratic national convention and one of William J. Bryan's closest friends, Norman E. Mack, proprietor of the Buffalo Times, has occupied a post of responsibility in the party management for the past eight years as member of the national committee, representing the state of New York. The Times stood by Mr. Bryan in 1896 when his journalistic supporters were few and far between, and the Buffalo editor has been with him ever since, through thick and thin, and enjoys the confidence of the Nebraska statesman in an unusual degree. He and Mrs. Mack were entertained at Fairview by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan on their way to Denver, where Mr. Mack was among those who were talked of in connection with the vice presidential nomination, and it is predicted he will occupy an important post under the administration in case of Mr. Bryan's election. Mr. Mack celebrates his arrival at the half century mark this month and next year will celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the establishment of the Sunday Times in Buffalo. The Daily Times came into the field four years later.

NORMAN E. MACK.

Mr. Mack has attended in an official capacity every national convention of his party since that of 1892 and in late years has wielded no small influence in the party councils.

William H. O'Brien, who, as treasurer of the Democratic national committee, handles the coin collected for use in the canvass, succeeded August Belmont in that post last January. Mr. O'Brien was chairman of the Democratic state committee of Indiana for several years and is an intimate friend of Thomas Taggart. Lawrenceburg, Ind., is his residence, and as he is a banker by occupation he is considered to have the proper qualifications for acting as custodian of the funds of the committee.

WILLIAM H. O'BRIEN.

Augustus Thomas, who prepared a most eloquent tribute to Mr. Bryan to deliver when the latter's name was placed in nomination for the presidency at Denver, but who gracefully gave way to other orators, is perhaps better known as playwright than as politician. He has for some years been one of Mr. Bryan's most ardent admirers and will take the stump for him in the coming campaign. He was prominent in the welcome given the Nebraska statesman on his homecoming from foreign travel two years ago. Playwriting is his profession and politics his pastime. In his latest success, "The Witching Hour," one of the leading characters is a newspaper reporter, and the role is true to life, for the playwright was once a reporter himself. His first success in drama was "Editha's Burglar," and a child who played the baby part in this pretty composition took his fancy. Later on he saw that she obtained a good education, and after she had graduated from Vassar college he married her.

AUGUSTUS THOMAS.

Among Mr. Thomas' best known plays are "Alabama," "Arizona" and "The Earl of Pawtucket." He was in Washington one day while the capital contained a delegation of statehood boomers from the territory of Arizona and ran against one of the party.

"So you are the author of 'Arizona,' are you?" asked the man from that territory.

"I am," said Thomas.

"Well," commented the boomer, "'Arizona' is a purty good play, a purty good one. I saw it once. But I want to say to you it has one great fault."

"Is that so?" asked Thomas. "What is it?"

"Why, it ain't true to nature."

"Not true to nature? I am surprised at that. Where does it lack?"

"Lack?" shouted the critic. "Lack? Why, cuss it all, man, they ain't an argument for or against statehood in the hull blamed caboodle."

The trip to Denver taught the New York delegation one thing—fame in New York does not mean fame west of the Mississippi. A New York man dining with J. Sergeant Cram, Lewis Nixon and Daniel F. Cohalan asked the manager of the restaurant who Charles F. Murphy was.

"I don't know who he is," was the reply. "He has been eating here for four or five days, and I think he is from Wyoming."

"Have you got any Tammany Hall men here?"

"Any what?"

"Tammany Hall men—men from Tammany Hall."

"No such place as that around here," was the innocent reply.

When William J. Bryan was first nominated for the presidency at Chicago in 1896 he was but thirty-six years old and in the campaign which followed was often called the "boy orator of the Platte." That was twelve years ago, and now that he is running for the presidency a third time he is still in the full vigor of manhood, but he is getting baldheaded and is a grandpa. There will not be many references to the "boy orator" in this campaign. Mr. Bryan wears his honors as a grandparent gracefully. He is never happier than when trotting on his knees Ruth and Bryan Leavitt, children of his daughter Ruth, now Mrs. William H. Leavitt. The two youngsters are not quite old enough yet to appreciate the honors their grandpa has received, but they are very bright and interesting children and are at present the most lively members of the Bryan family, and their popularity is not altogether bounded by party lines.

MR. BRYAN'S GRANDCHILDREN, BRYAN AND RUTH LEAVITT.

Her Sunday Knitting.

"Years ago," said an Auburn woman eighty years young, "it was counted a sin among the good wives of the little Maine town where I was born to waste a single moment of time. I have heard my grandmother tell the story of one dame who much scandalized the church people on one never to be forgotten occasion. People who went early to church were surprised one Sabbath morning to see Aunt Betsy sitting away up in front, gray yarn stockings in her hands and her knitting needles clicking merrily away as she worked. The minister stopped in surprise as he passed her on his way to the pulpit, but the old lady was not one whit disturbed by his disapproving air. Smiling serenely, she said complacently: 'Thought I'd knit a stitch while the people are gathering. I never was one to waste a minute, elder.' And the good dame continued to click her needles, while the horrified minister hastened to his desk. Not till he began his sermon did Aunt Betsy lay aside her Sunday knitting work."—Kennebec Journal.

Carlyle Was a Terror.

The domestic infelicity of the Carlyles is common knowledge, but it is not inappropriate to give Mrs. Carlyle's view of her husband. "If he would only be satisfied!" she used to sometimes complain of Carlyle. "But I have had to learn that when he does not find fault he is pleased, and that has to content me."

On one occasion when Carlyle was away from home Mrs. Carlyle busied herself to get all in perfect order for her husband's arrival, and when all was complete—his dinner ready, his armchair in its usual position, his pipe and tobacco prepared, all looking as comfortable as possible—Mrs. C. sat down at last to rest and to expect him with a quiet mind. He arrived, and "after he had greeted me, what do you think he did? He walked to the window and shook it and asked, 'Where's the wedge of the window?' And until we had found that blessed wedge nothing would content him. He said the window would rattle and spoil all."

Hard and Soft.

"What," asked the teacher, "does anthracite mean?"

"That's a kind of coal," said little Willie.

"Yes. Anthracite coal is what we call hard coal. So 'anthracite' must mean 'hard.' Now, can you tell me what 'bituminous' means?"

"That's coal, too," Willie replied.

"But it isn't the same kind of coal that anthracite is, is it? Bituminous coal is what we commonly refer to as soft coal. Now, Willie, let us see if you can form a sentence containing the words anthracite and bituminous."

Willie thought the matter over for a minute and then said:

"Here's one: 'This morning before pa started downtown ma wanted $5 for groceries and things, and she tried to get it by saying bituminous words, but pa gave her an anthracite look, and when he disappeared around the corner she was weeping bituminously.'"

She Investigated.

What Elsie's sister wanted to know was where Elsie got that beautiful silver mounted walking stick. But Elsie didn't want Elsie's sister to know, so Elsie's sister got Elsie's father to ask Elsie.

"I found it," Elsie poutingly informed her father, "floating like a schooner on the waves one day when I was bathing."

But two days later Elsie's sister said to Elsie:

"Come—tell me! What is his name?"

"Name!" repeated Elsie blankly. "What do you mean?"

"I mean, dear," said Elsie's sister, "that last night I tried to make that stick of yours float in the bath, and—well, darling, it sank!" — Pearson's Weekly.

A Metaphor With a History.

To "know a hawk from a hernshaw" is a metaphor with a curious history. It is a comparison drawn from falconry. "Hernshaw" is a corruption of "heronshaw," or young heron, a bird which was a common prey of the falcons. To know a hawk from a hernshaw is therefore to be able to distinguish the falcon from its prey. A further colloquial corruption crept into the phrase—"to know a hawk from a handsaw," a form used by Hamlet in one place. Possibly the distinction between a hawk and a hernshaw was found not to be strong enough for the purposes of the proverb.—Manchester Guardian.

Agreed With the Lecturer.

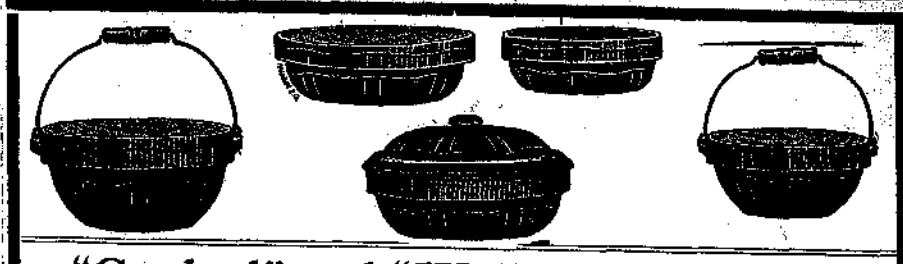
During a lecture at one of the schools on the subject of "Ventilation and Architecture," the temperature of the room rose to a very high pitch.

"And now we will turn to Greece," said the lecturer.

"So we will," said one of the audience, wiping his brow, "unless you open some of the windows."—Pathfinder.

Out of It.

"Yes, he makes a big hit with her. He has a green automobile, and it matches her dress."



"Well, why don't you take her driving?"

"I ain't got no green horse."—St. Louis Republic.

It Is Odd.

Gyer—Isn't it queer that the bump of benevolence is located exactly at the top of a man's head? Myer—What's queer about it? Gyer—Why, it's as far from the pocketbook as possible.—Chicago News.

Happiness consists of thinking so and sticking to it.—Manchester Union.

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50
All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

Africans and the Locomotive.

The children of the desert were filled with awe when first the silence of the primeval solitude was broken by the puffing of the steam engine. Down at the other end of the Cape to Cairo line the simple Matabele, when first confronted by a locomotive, were certain that the strange machine was worked by the labor of an indefinite number of oxen, which they assumed were shut up inside; hence, when the engine stopped, they gathered in curious crowds, waiting to see the door open and the oxen come out, nor could they for many days be persuaded that the power of the locomotive could come from other than the strength of the ox.

The Arabs of the Sudan, more imaginative than the Matabele, saw in the fire horses of the railway one of the Djinns of the "Arabian Nights" harnessed by the magic of the infidel to the long train of cars. The steam engine was to them a living, sentient being, of which belief there is curious evidence in the fact that on one occasion a sheik made an impassioned remonstrance against the cruelty of making so small an engine draw so huge a train.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Composite Names.

"One of the differences between the east and the northwest," said a Puget sounder, "is the names of places, and the Skikomishes, the Snohomishes, the Snoqualmies, the Wahkiakums and the lot of them give a man funny feelings, and when he runs across Bucoda, on the Northern Pacific railroad in Pierce county, Wash., he doesn't know whether it is Chinook or Siwash or what. But it is none of them—like Kenova, in West Virginia, which is near the junction of Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia, or Delmar, where Delaware and Maryland come together. Bucoda is a composite name, and its story is simple enough. When the Northern Pacific came in a town sprang up, and it must have a name. There were Indian names in plenty, but something more novel was wanted, so Messrs. Buckley, Coulter and Davis, all Northern Pacific officials, put their heads together first and their names later, and the name Bu-co-da was evolved, with an etymology very apparent to any one who is at all informed in terminology. Bucoda it has remained, and it is not half bad as names go in the Puget sound country."

We are now adding the Waldorf $2.50 Shoe to our stock. The Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctor's fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by E. A. Putnam. Samples free.

Beggars on Horseback.

"'Whoa, thar,' he says, pullin' up his hoss, and then he whines:

"'For the love o' charity, kind gent, would ye be so good as to gimme a crust o' bread for meself and a handful o' oats for the old mare?'"

The sailor smiled thoughtfully and stirred his ice cream soda with a long spoon.

"Yes, Hal," he resumed, "there's actual beggars on horseback in Russia. They travels from town to town in caravans. They beg grub for themselves and fodder for their nags, just as I been tellin' ye.

"O' course, in the Argentine, where a hoss don't cost a song, it's only natural ye should see beggars on horseback, and I ain't sayin' nothin' about that. But in China they ride, too, while there's a Maltese beggar down Malta way what even drives a spring wagon an' takes his gal along. Interrupts his canoodlin' to ask you for a copper to stave off starvation, then starts right in again where he left off."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Getting Along.

Miss Goodley—Miss Hussle goes in for everything. She's constantly doing something. Miss Knox—Yes, but the one thing she is doing most steadily she won't admit. Miss Goodley—What is that? Miss Knox—Growing older.—Catholic Standard and Times.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol for Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 pounds; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity may be benefitted. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by all druggists.

An Unaccountable Failing.

It was a severe trial to Mr. Harding that his only son's memory was not all that could be desired. "Where in the world he got such a forgetful streak from is beyond me," said the exasperated father to his wife on one occasion.

"What has he forgotten now?" asked Mrs. Harding, with eyes downcast and a demure expression.

"The figures of the last return from the election on the bulletin board." And Mr. Harding inserted a finger in his collar as if to loosen it and shook his head vehemently. "Looked at 'em as he came past not half an hour ago, and now can't tell me.

"As I said to him, 'If you're so stupid you can't keep a few simple figures in your head, why don't you write 'em down on a piece of paper, as I do, and have done all my life, long before I was your age?'"

Tommy's Lesson.

Tommie—But, mamma, fingers were made before forks. Mamma—Yes, my boy, and dirt was made before pie, but you prefer pie, don't you, Tommie!—Yonkers Statesman.

Longest Will on Record.

What is called the longest will on record is that of Captain Robert Keayne, founder of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston.

It contains about 50,000 words. Printed and bound, it would make a good sized volume, comparing favorably in length with many a novel of the present day.

In its voluminous proportions this will is in striking contrast to one probated in New Orleans a number of years ago, in which the testator disposed of its earthly possessions in five words—namely, "Mistress Roper is my heiress."

The original of Captain Keayne's will is carefully preserved in the vaults of the register of probate of Suffolk county. In volume 1 of the record of wills probated it covers 140 pages, and it is recited in the will that the document was drawn up in the handwriting of the testator.

While Captain Keayne, who was originally a merchant tailor in London, left a fortune of fair proportions for his day, it is of interest to note that at the present day fortunes of millions of dollars are frequently disposed of in complicated trusts by only a few hundred words.—Boston Post.

Court and Witness Agree.

An amusing incident occurred in one of the New York courts the other day. The lawyer for the defense was making a very lengthy cross examination of an old lady when he was interrupted by the judge with the remark, "I think you have exhausted this witness."

"Yes, judge," she exclaimed, "I do feel very much exhausted."

Treason and Reason.

Archbishop Ryan once concluded a brilliant defense of the Irish cause when a listener shouted:

"But the Irish are guilty of treason."

"Perhaps," replied the archbishop, "but please remember that what is treason elsewhere becomes reason in Ireland because of the absentee."—Cleveland Leader.

Too Much of It.

Greene—How does it happen that you don't trade at Cleaver's any more? You used to brag about the nice cuts of meat he always sent you. Is it because he wouldn't give you credit? Gray—On the contrary, it is because he did.—Boston Transcript.

Wants All To Know—

Roding, Ga., September 12, 1906.
MESSRS. E. C. DE WITT & CO.,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:—Yours of the 8th to hand. In reply will say, most assuredly use my letter in any way you see fit for the benefit of the suffering. I will answer all correspondence as to my own case. I recommend KODOL to all I hear grumbling about their stomachs, and have bought many their first bottle. All that is required is a trial of KODOL. It talks for itself.

Yours very truly,
C. N. CORNELL.

Kodol for Dyspepsia.

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

CONFORMS TO NATIONAL PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW

Digests What You Eat

Beginning July 10, Specials Every Day During July

Monday, July 20

10c Vegetable Dishes	7c
8 Rolls Toilet Paper	25c
50c Preserving Kettles	39c
30c Wash Boards	24c
10c Glass Dishes	7c
5c Tooth-Pick Holders	3c
Souvenir Plates	9c

Tuesday, July 21

10c Sink Strainers	7c
5c Tin Basins	3c
25c Foot Tubs	19c
35c Foot Tubs	29c
39c Foot Tubs	33c
Large Extra Heavy Galvanized Pails	39c

Watch all these columns for Specials this month at the

Bee Hive Store

J. H. St. Louis & Co

24 South First Street — Fulton N. Y.

Friday, July 17

Men's 25c Underwear	19c
10c Towels	2 for 15c
15c Towels	2 for 23c
6c Toweling, per yard	4 1-2c
10c Clothes Lines	7c
Ladies' 15c Hose	2 pair for 23c
Ladies' Gauze Vests	9c

Saturday, July 18

Ladies' 15c Vests	2 for 23c
Ladies' and Children's 15c Hose	2 pair for 23
Ladies' Gauze Pants, worth 19c, for	14c
2 pair for	25c

Next Wednesday and Thursday will be Tumbler Day. Lemonade and Table Tumblers at Cut Prices

Local and Personal

The Misses Lillian Fitzpatrick and Irene Kuntz of Syracuse have been the guests of Miss Leontine Porter.

Mr. Elmer Morrill, chairman of the committee appointed to organize a law and order league for Fulton, informs The Times that nothing has as yet been done toward organizing but that immediate steps will be taken toward that end.

Officers have been elected as follows by Stars and Stripes Council, O. U. A. M.: C., M. Foster; V. C., W. Hackett; R. S., W. Thompson; assistant R. S., H. Cain; E. X., E. Guyer; T. P., I. Hackett; O. P., G. Spencer. Following the installation, a banquet was served, the committee of arrangements being R. Parks, C. Draper, H. Caswell, W. Taliman and C. Hoisington.

The bids for the construction of the new county jail will be opened at Clerk Spencer's office on Wednesday, June 22. Bids will be received on five materials, Gouverneur marble, Grenadier Island granite, pressed and plain brick and cement bricks The committee has not the authority to award the contract. When the bids are received and tabulated they will be presented to the Board of Supervisors at a special session to be called. The contract will be executed by order of the Board.

Postmaster Hughes has received from his brother in Old Mexico four busts made by an Indian of that country. The busts are made from clay with the crudest instruments and are baked in a very primative manner. One is a likeness of Mr. Arthur Hughes, taken from life, and the others are of Roosevelt, Bryan, Diaz and Yarez, copied from newspaper cuts, but all are perfect as to detail and are marvelously well executed. Without instruction, without opportunity the Indian accomplishes what many men and women have given years of study and yet not been able to accomplish.

The first step in the action of the Fulton Light, Heat & Power company against the State of New York has closed, with the exception of arguments by the attorneys. The first step taken was to establish a title and if the local company can prove its title the next step will be to determine the damages. As The Times understands it, the settlement of the matter hinges upon whether or not the Oswego river is a navigatable stream. The keenest legal minds in the State have been called into the action, as the decision seriously threatens the further improvement of the canals and upon the decision also depends much from a financial standpoint for the local company. The action was to recover on the part of the local company the sum of $3,200,000 damages to their plant and property in this vicinity.

The Democratic National Convention was held in Denver, Col., last week and W. J. Bryan of Lincoln, Neb., and John Worth Kern of Indiana became the nominees of the party for president and vice-president respectively. The Democracy is split more widely apart than ever upon this action of their representatives and instead of healing the breach and presenting a solid front to the opposing party, new deflections are almost hourly reported. American citizens admire backbone. They hate and distrust men who are willing to barter principle for power and they cannot reconcile the Bryan of the two previous campaigns and the Bryan of to-day. No man of stern enough stuff to guide and guard this Nation could flop so persistently as Bryan has done. The day Bryan was nominated he was a defeated candidate. The day he pressed his nomination upon the Democratic party he led it to defeat. A Radical cannot over night become a Conservative. The opposite might be accomplished, but not this. Where does Bryan stand to-day upon the vital questions such as the gold standard, the government ownership of railroads, the tariff? He has already occupied three different positions on these same questions. Can anyone accurately locate him?

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of — The Kind You Have Always Bought
Chas. H. Fletcher

Mr. C. Earl Foster is in New York city.

Mr. Fred Stoddard has returned to Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bache and daughter, Clara, are at Sylvan Beach.

Mrs. Janes of Graneville is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stevens.

Messrs. James Cole and Willis Morin took out the first hunter's licenses for Fulton.

Mrs J. H. Brooks has been called to Picton, Ont., by the serious illness of her sister.

Miss Daisy Thorpe of Albany is a guest in the family of Dr. and Mrs. H L. Lake.

Miss Alethia Halladay of Wappingers Falls is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dunham.

Miss Angie Fralick has returned to Fulton from Albany and is now at Mrs. William Hunter's

Attorneys Udelle Bartlette and E. J. Mizen were guests of F. A. Gage on Tuesday.

Mrs. Martha Bailey has gone to Big Moose Lake where she will spend the Summer.

Miss Addie LaLonde will leave today for old Forge, where she will remain for an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C O'Brien, children and maids, leave tomorrow for Old Forge for the Summer.

Messrs. Willis Morin and James Cole are enjoying a hunting and fishing trip at Eighth Lake.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry McRae. The young lady has been named Margaret.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Congregational church will serve ice cream on the church lawn on Saturday evening of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Pierson of Endicott, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Eastman of Syracuse and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wetherby of Auburn, were the over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Goodjon.

Mrs. B. W. Skeede of Hayward, Wis., and Mrs. Mary Willis of Lafayette, Ind., are the guests of Mrs Edward Smith of West Broadway. The ladies are sisters and this is the first time Mrs. Smith has seen either of them in thirty six years.

Attorney D. B. Morehouse has declined to become a candidate for county judge against Attorney W. B. Baker. Mr. Morehouse was urged by the Democracy to run on an independent ticket with Democratic endorsement, but he declined the offer.

When a man axes me for advice, said Uncle Eben, "I doesn't throw out my chest an' feel flattered. De chances is dat de man who axes for advice is simply goin' around to everybody he knows trying to celebrate hisse'f as a topic of conversation."

A telephone alarm on Wednesday evening called the fire department to the Tucker block where a kettle of meat and potatoes on a gas stove had boiled dry and ignited, causing a fearful smoke and odor. The kettles were tossed into the canal by the firemen and the rooms aired, the occupants being absent.

It is gratifying news that The Times lays before its readers this week in the matter of subscriptions toward the purchase of the site for the Albert Lindley Lee Memorial Hospital. No project strikes a more responsive cord throughout the city than that of the hospital and much gratitude is due those who have made a surety of what a year ago seemed an utter impossibility. The preliminary arrangements as requested by Mrs. Lee are now practically compiled with and but a majority vote of the people at the Fall election is necessary to secure the $30,000 building for Fulton.

MT. PLEASANT.

The Up-to-date club's baseball team will play the South Scriba nine at South Scriba, Saturday, July 18.

LADY AGENTS WANTED!

YOU can make excellent money devoting your whole or spare time to taking orders for my DAINTY line of baby goods and children's suits. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, permanent work. No competition. Send TO-DAY for

Mrs. Ella James Dep't D. Syracuse, N.Y. 6-5

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system and at the same time it allays inflammation and stops irritation. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.

In Forbidden Places.

A very large mastiff at one end of a leash and a very small girl at the other end formed a combination which attracted the attention of a casual pedestrian in a quiet side street.

The little girl doubtless thought that she was taking the dog out for an airing, but the big animal himself appeared to have the impression that he was the leader of the expedition, and, beyond question, the balance of power was entirely on his side. He dragged the girl along despite her scolding and expostulations at a pace which kept her breathless.

Suddenly, either from a whim of his own or because somebody had been in the habit of taking him there, he darted through the swinging doors of a corner saloon. The girl looked horrified; but, clinging determinedly to her end of the leash, she followed her charge, and as the doors swung shut behind her the casual pedestrian heard this exasperated remonstrance:

"Oh, darnfound it! Don't you know ladies don't go there? It's only a place for men!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Queer Feeding.

"Come and watch me feed my starfish."

The curator of the aquarium led the reporter to a tank where a half dozen starfish tripped over the sandy bottom on slim brown fingers.

"Grub time, boys," he said, and he dropped into the tank six mussels.

The fish ran to the mussels. Each applied his stomach to the hinge at the back of the shell. Silence and immobility ensued.

"The gastric juice of the starfish," said the curator, "is now melting the hinges of flesh that hold the mussel shells together. Ah, look, there's one melted now. There's another. It's the most powerful gastric juice in the world."

One by one, their hinges destroyed, the mussel shells opened, and into the openings the starfish thrust their stomachs. More silence, more immobility.

Then, a little plumper at the heart, the starfish went tripping daintily off, but the mussel shells lay open and empty on the sand.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Old Time Drunkenness.

In reviewing "The Early Married Life of Maria Josepha, Lady Stanley," the London Spectator comments on the light in which drunkenness was regarded at the beginning of the nineteenth century. There was a christening of twins and rejoicing among the neighbors, tenants and laborers. "All the guests," says Maria, "were as drunk as I ever had the pleasure of seeing any one." Among the laborers, however, "that extent of intoxication was not reached which causes men to be swine."

Lady Sheffield, who received this account of the festivities, replies: "I would have given a great deal to be present. There is nothing I love so much as such sort of festivities, where one has the satisfaction of knowing that one makes one's friends happy as well as drunk." In London, she declares, "when you give a ball you affront many people, please a few, make many drunk and yourself miserable."

Clay and the Salary Grab.

"Quinn," said an old member one day, "I heard you worrying about the mileage. Did you ever hear the story of Clay and the salary grab?"

"No," I replied.

"When Clay was speaker," he continued, "along about 1816, the crowd raised their salaries to $1,500 a year. There was a great howl all over the country, and when Clay reached home in Kentucky he found old one armed John Pope, a Federalist out after his scalp to beat the band and all the Clay adherents ominously silent. Worried and anxious, Clay sought out his old barber, who had always been enthusiastic in his advocacy and who happened to be an Irishman. 'I trust I may count on your hearty support, as usual?' Clay asked. 'Faith, Mr. Clay,' said the Irish barber, 'I think I shall vote at this time for the man who can get but one hand into the treasury.'"—Success Magazine.

The U. S. Government, in its "Pure Food Law," does not "indorse" or "guarantee" any preparation, as some manufactures in their advertisements would make it appear. In the case of medicines the law provides that certain drugs shall be mentioned on the labels, if they are ingredients of the preparations. Ely's Cream Balm, the well-known family remedy for cold in the head, hay fever and nasal catarrh, doesn't contain a single injurious drug, so the makers have simply to print the fact that it complies fully with all the requirements of the law.

Unwise Combination.

To the mind of Mrs. Abigail Jennings there was a sort of disloyalty in admitting to any outsider that a native of Willowby could be really eccentric As for anything beyond eccentricity Mrs. Jennings would never have admitted it, even in the case of Miss Rachel Gregg, who was frankly called crazy by the summer visitors.

"Now, Mrs. Jennings," said one of the boarders, "do you really mean that you've never known Miss Gregg to do anything that you'd call crazy?"

"No, I haven't," said Mrs. Jennings with a firm and unyielding expression about her prominent chin.

"Why, what do you think of her sending that bag of eggs over to the Corners to Mrs. Cole right in the box with her laundry work and never telling the stage driver and letting him throw the box right off?" inquired the summer boarder. "Mrs. Cole says there's one shirt waist she'll never be able to wear again."

"Well," said Mrs. Jennings calmly "I should say about that as I have about a number of little things Rachel does and has done. She may lack in wisdom and forethought now and again. But, then, who doesn't, I'd like to know?"—Youth's Companion.

Carried Out Instructions.

Every sailor has his story of the mistakes which landlubbers make over the names of things at sea, which always seem to be exactly the opposite of what they are on land.

A new boy had gone on board a West India ship, upon which a painter had also been employed to paint the ship's side. The painter was at work upon a staging suspended under the ship's stern.

The captain, who had just got into a boat alongside, called out to the new boy, who stood leaning over the rail, "Let go the painter!"

Everybody should know that a boat's painter is the rope which makes it fast, but this boy did not know it. He ran aft and let go the ropes by which the painter's staging was held. Meantime the captain was wearied with waiting to be cast off.

"You rascal!" he called. "Why don't you let go the painter?"

"He's gone, sir," said the boy briskly. "He's gone—pots, brushes and all!"—London Standard.

Good Advice.

Never forget the advice of Themistocles. Said that ancient, "I would bestow my daughter upon a man without money, but not upon money without a man." Just change money for title and see the different reading: "I would bestow my daughter upon a man without title, but not upon title without a man."—New York Press.

Needed a Big Dose.

The president of the Waiters' club of New York in a recent argument on tipping said to his opponent sharply:

"Your reply is altogether beside the point and irrelevant. It reminds me of a woman's reply in a German court. This woman was accused of poisoning her husband. The prosecuting attorney said to her:

"'You have heard the evidence. The body contained enough arsenic to kill ten persons. What have you to say?'

"'My husband,' the woman answered, 'was a big eater.'"

Trouble Ahead.

Parke—Old man, we've known each other for years, and it does seem strange that our wives have never met. Don't you think it would be a good idea to bring this about?

Lane—Seems to me that's rather a hard way of doing it.

"Doing what?"

"Getting rid of each other."—Life.

Throw a Brick on It First.

Arctic Explorer's Wife — Goodby, John, dear. Arctic Explorer—Farewell, my love. Arctic Explorer's Wife—And, John, be sure that the ice is perfectly safe.—Judge.

A Ducal Estate.

The park in which Chatsworth stands is a dozen miles in circumference. The facade of the house is a length of 1,500 feet.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Whether riches really have wings or not, they certainly are hard to overtake on foot.—Dallas News.

Beezlumbots Bad as Dialect.

Southern people have much to bear—the articles in the magazines, for example, in which northern contributors try to put out negro dialect! It's enough to give one the beezlumbots.—Galveston News.

There is none made so great but he may both need help and service and stand in fear of the power and unkindness even of the meanest of mortals.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of — The Kind You Have Always Bought
Chas. H. Fletcher

FOR SALE

For Sale—Split bamboo fly rod, automatic reel, collapsable landing net, 6 or 8 dozen flies, never used; also leaders, lines, etc., made by Abbey and Imbrie, New York. All the above for less than half cost. Inquire at 161 S. Second St. tf

FOR SALE—A gasoline launch in excellent condition. 1 1-2 horse power engine. Inquire of V. C. Lewis, 133 S. First street. tf

For Sale—Rowboat, 15½ feet long by 3 feet wide. Inquire at home of Jeth Miller, 12 miles north of Fulton on the west river road. je17

FOR SALE—Model F Buick car, top and full equipment; new tires on rear and two extras; perfect order. J. C. Gaskill, Oswego, N. Y. 7-8

For Sale—One top delivery wagon and one top buggy in good condition for sale cheap. A. L Warner, 105 Oneida street. 7—15

TO RENT

To Rent—Ground floor rooms, suitable for small family; rent reasonable. Inquire of Mrs. M. J. Sweet, 823 Emory street. je3-tf

TO RENT—Rooms for a small family on ground floor. City water and use of gas range if desired; pleasant location on corner. Terms, $2.00 per week.

Inquire at No. 53 North Third St.

To Rent—A suit of six living rooms to rent at reasonable price. Inquire at Langdon's Studio, 61 First street, Fulton.

Wanted

Wanted—Several second hand bicycles without tires. Good makes. Inquire of James Bogue, Oneida street. 7-15

LOST

LOST—On Tuesday on R. F. D. 5, a pair of gold bowed, double vision eye glasses. Finder will please return to Carrier No. 5, Post Office, Fulton.

LOST—On Monday on Cayuga or First streets, a pocket book containing $22. Finder will please return to the Clark House and receive

Lost—A pair of rimless eye glasses in case, near the Post Office. A suitable reward will be paid for their return to G. C. Webb, 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

The Tip Terror.

"Give me a penny, sir, for something to eat."

"But you've got sixpence in your hand now. What's that for?"

"Oh, that's to tip the waiter, sir."—London Globe.

Willing to Help.

Tramp—Can you assist me along the road, mum? Lady of the House—Personally I cannot, but I will unchain my dog, and I know he will be most pleased to do so.

Gifts from the hand are silver and gold, but the heart gives that which neither silver nor gold can buy.—Beecher.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of — The Kind You Have Always Bought
Chas. H. Fletcher

Pure Foods At Wholesale Prices

This week we will introduce four combinations which will fit the purse of all, and then give to you the purest foods at practically cost.

		Stamps
3 lbs. Granulated Sugar	12c	1
1-2 lb. Unexcelled Tea red package	20c	10
1-2 lb. Combination Java Coffee, an excellent drinkee	13c	10
2 Bars Master Soap	5c
1 Can Dirt Cleanser	10c	10
For the combination	60c	31

		Stamps
3 Cans Red Cross Condensed Milk	20c	2
1 Bottle Prize Vanilla Extract, guaranteed triple strength, 2 oz. size	25c	20
1 Can Gd. Penang Nutmeg	10c	10
1 Large Can Chipped Beef	25c	10
2 Bars Fels Naptha Soap	10c
For the combination	90c	33

		Stamps
3 lbs. Granulated Sugar	12c	1
1 lb. Fancy Dust Tea	15c	10
1-2 lb. Guaranteed Blend Coffee	10c	5
1 lb. Fancy Carolina Rice	8c	5
2 Boxes Sunlight Matches	5c
For the combination	50c	21

		Stamps
3 Pkgs. Uneeda Biscuit	9c
1-2 lb. Finest Mocha and Java Coffee sold in the city	14c	10
1 pkg. Pure Corn Starch	10c	10
1 Bottle Cash Catsup	10c	10
1 pkg. Mothers Oats	7c
For the combination	50c	30

7% Dividends Guaranteed

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y.

Extra Specials

Butter, extra fancy, none like it in the city, 3 lbs. the limit for ..... 26c lb.
Toilet Paper, the finest quality 7 rolls for 25c
Prunes, finest quality, medium size, thin skinned and meaty, 7c, 4 lb. 25c
Bacon, fancy, lean, sugar cured, finest quality, per lb. 11 1-2c
Corn Starch, Archers brand, regular 10c package 5c
Rolled Oats, freshly milled, wholesome eating, 3 lbs. for 13c
Flour, a solid car of the finest Minnesota flour, none to equal it, 1-4 bbl. sack $1.49
Lemons, bright, juicy stock, 17 1-2c doz

Canned Goods Sale

1 can Sara Cuse Early June Peas, sold regularly for 12c
1 can Fancy Sweet Solid Creamy Sugar Corn .....
1 can Southern Packed Tomatoes ..... } 25c

We sell more crackers than any other store. Why? Because they are always fresh and wholesome. This week we will sell Papworth's Graham Biscuit, Soda Crackers or Cream Biscuit, regular 10c package, 3 packages for 20c.

Cash Papworth

51 East First Street — Phone 484 — Fulton, N. Y.

...6 Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 11

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

Assets July 1, 1908

Over One and One-Half Million Dollars

Surplus---Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars

Money deposited by the third business day of any month and remaining until any one of the last three business days of September, December, March or June, will receive the dividend for the full months.

This Bank has paid 4% on all deposits since October 1, 1907

New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

CATHOLIC PICNIC

To Be Held on The Fair Grounds, Saturday, August 1—List of Committees—A Good Time Guaranteed.

On Saturday, August 1, the annual picnic of the Catholic church will be held on the Fair Grounds in this city. The following officers and committees have been selected and the event will be most enjoyable, given fair weather:

President, Mr. George White; Vice President, Miss Nellie Bray; Treasurer, Mr. James Flynn.

Printing Committee—John Gillard.

Music Committee—A. E. Kraus.

Ticket Sellers—D. M. Sullivan, Patrick Coleman, Lawrence Ranger, David Hartigan, John Goss.

Gate Tenders—Orla Corell, Edward McCaffrey, Thomas Kennedy, Sr., Thomas Brosnehan, Sr.

In charge of Nigger Dolls—A. E. Kraus, Will Church, assisted by Frank Matthias, Timothy Sullivan, J. Theodore Boutin.

Sporting Committee — Maurice Conley, Bert Dykeman, George Palmer, B. J. Cranan, Bernard Buelow.

Soft Drinks and Cigars—John McGinnis, David Culkin, Joseph Challoux, John Watson, Peter Bok, Fred Snyder, Harry O'Brien, Ray Briggs, Joseph R. Murphy, Joseph H. Murphy, Otto Malone, George Moore.

Soliciting Committee—First Ward, Mrs. Edward Conley, Mrs. Leon Hammond, Miss Satie Somers.

Second Ward—Miss Nellie Bray, Miss Hanna McKenna, Mrs. Boutin.

Third Ward—Mrs. Frank Barnes, Miss Kittie Connors.

Fourth Ward—Mrs. James Flynn, Mrs. John Moore, Miss Margaret McNamara.

Fifth Ward—Miss Margaret Barry, Mrs. George White, Mrs. John Partrick

Sixth Ward — Mrs. Alexander Youngs, Mrs. Olive LaPorte, Mrs. A. Perchaway, Mrs. Falardeau.

Dinner Committee—Mrs. James Caffrey, Chairman; assisted by Mrs. John McGinnis, Mrs. John M. O'Brien, Mrs. Fred Barnes, Mrs. John Follan, Miss Anna Sullivan, Mrs. George White, Mrs. James Carroll, Mrs. John Carroll, Mrs. Simon Frawley, Mrs. Louise Ranger, Mrs. Thomas Fox, Mrs. Thomas Gordon, Mrs. Thomas Brosnehan, Mrs. John Rafferty, Mrs. Michael O'Brien, Miss Anna Dunn, Mrs. James Flynn, Miss Mary Bray, Mrs. Edward Cavanaugh, Miss Eva Frawley, Mrs. John Hopkins, Mrs. Alice Barnes, Mrs. Wm. Halloran, Mrs. John Bowman, Mrs. Rose Veeder, Miss Julia McCarthy, Mrs. Emma LaBeef, Mrs. Thomas Ryan, Mrs. Fanny Davenport, Mrs. A. Perchaway, Mrs. Leon Hamond, Mrs. Mason Andrews.

Ice Cream Booth—Mrs. John Carroll, Chairman; assisted by Miss Margaret Culkin, Mrs. Martin Diedrich.

Charge of Tables, First Ward—Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. Ed. Connelly, assisted by Miss Satie Somers, Miss Ellen Mehegan, Miss Emma Chetney, Miss Hannah Allen, Mrs. Joseph Murphy.

Second Ward—Mrs. James Mehegan, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald, assisted by Miss Mayme Caywood, Miss Lulu Allen, Miss Zita Dwyer, Miss Pearl Mahar, Miss Cordelia Christian, Miss Melina Christian, Miss Mollie Sullivan, Miss Mary Sweeney.

Third and Fourth Wards—Miss Kittie Connor, Miss Margaret Barry, assisted by Miss Clara Dunn, Miss Alice Reagan, Miss Mary Carroll, Miss Lorelia Cavanaugh.

Fifth and Sixth Wards—Mrs. Alexander Youngs, Mrs. Simon Coleman, assisted by Miss Ethel Ryan, Miss Anna Brannan, Miss Edith LaLonde, Miss Nellie Rafferty.

Cake Cutters—Mrs. Kate McDonald, Mrs. James Gordon, Mrs. Olive LaPorte.

General Committee—Simon Frawley, James Campbell, Mr. Boutin, Mason Andrews, Edward McCaffrey, John White, Leon Lenmore, Simon Reynolds, Sr., John Welsh, Thomas Brosnehan, Peter Quirk, James Tyrell, Leon Hammond.

The program of sports has not yet been arranged, but the list of events will be published next week.

Do you use an atomizer in treating Nasal Catarrh? If so, you will appreciate Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, the quickest and best remedy for this disease. In all curative properties it is identical with the solid Cream Balm, which is so famous and so successful in overcoming Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in the head. There is relief in the first dash of spray upon the heated sensitive air-passages. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St, New York.

HOW IT LOOKS IN CALIFORNIA.

The following letter from a Californian, in response to the question propounded by a local resident as to how the nomination of Bryan and Kern was viewed in California, will be read with interest:

Well, the Democrats have completed their work at Denver and gone home. They discounted the agony of cheers for Roosevelt by an hour or more, but I believe the ticket will be defeated by a more emphatic vote than at any previous time. In my opinion the Gompers plank alone will do the job. The greater majority of the people believe in fair play and equality before the law for all, and I believe the greater majority of voters in November next will register their verdict against any special favors to the labor Trust or any other Trust. We must all stand together or fall together under a common law. They nominated Kern to the vice presidency to insure Indiana to the Democratic ticket. He has, like Bryan, been twice defeated for elective office, both times for Governor of Indiana, and the last defeat was by a majority of 88,000. Great politics were certainly played at Denver. They held an all night session to try to avoid nominating Bryan, but on Friday, (hangmans day) they were forced to accept him. He is his party's fatality and again I believe that the American people will rise to the emergency and place an emphatic stamp of disapproval upon the whole Denver transaction from start to finish.

Handed Him a Lemon.

One is often astonished to learn that in Shakespeare is found the origin of much of our most expressive slang. For instance in Act V., Scene II, of Love's Labor Lost is the following:

Armado—"The armipotent Mars, of lances the almighty, Gave Hector a gift,—"

Dumain—A gilt nutmeg.

Biron—A lemon.

And yet, how many laugh over our latest expression, "hand him a lemon," or its other forms, would think of looking in Shakespeare for it.

A Unique Leap-Year Dance.

An attractive leap-year dance is described in Woman's Home Companion for August. Each girl sends to the gentleman she has chosen to be her escort, an invitation to the dance, stating at what time he should call for her.

The girls agree among themselves to exchange places, and each girl is masked and dressed to represent some distinguished character. When the guests have all arrived at the hall, each man is given a slip of paper and a pencil, to guess who each girl is. A prize may be given to the one guessing most correctly.

Before unmasking, each man has the first dance with the girl with whom he came. Afterward comes the unmasking, and the surprise—if the girl has played her part well.

Have You A Phonograph?

Write us about Indistructable Records. Greatest hit of the phonograph world. You can't break them. Send for lists. Records mailed at our risk. Great bargains this week in Edison and Columbia machines.

PHONOGRAPH EXCHANGE,
Over Western Union Telegraph,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

ABOUT A FORMER FULTONIAN.

The Chicago Daily Tribune of July 10, contains the following skit about a former Fultonian, Alderman Joseph Francis of Chicago. In its story relating to happenings at the Democratic National convention:

Former Alderman Joseph H. Francis of Chicago was "recognized" as David R. Francis of Missouri, who has a lovely vice presidential boom, and had the nerve to get away with it.

He received more attention and made a bigger noise in the afternoon in the lobby at the Brown Palace hotel than at any time since the arrival of "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and the other untamed democrats from Oklahoma.

Francis was edging his way through the crowd wishing he was back in Chicago and wondering if he'd get any sleep when Ald. John Powers spied him from the opposite side of the hotel.

"Hello, Francis," he shouted at the top of his voice. "When did you get in?"

Francis, much pleased at the recognition, yelled back: "Hello, John, glad to see you." Then from all parts of the lobby came shouts of "Francis! Francis! Hurrah for Francis!"

The delegates and the convention visitors had mistaken the former alderman for David R. Francis, the former governor of Missouri. Mr. Francis was nothing loath to accept the honors thrust upon him. It is doubtful if he was aware of the fact that he had been mistaken for another man slightly more prominent than he. He bowed his acknowledgments. He shook scores of people by the hands while the crowd continued to shout: "Francis! Francis! Speech! Speech!"

The former alderman was not backward. In the hands of his new found friends he was gently pushed over to the principal stairway of the hotel. He put out his hands in approved oratorial fashion to silence the hundreds who were shouting for him. Some in the crowd loudly cried for order. Then Mr. Francis made a ten minute speech. It was not a bad speech, and it was punctuated by frequent applause and cheers.

"Gentlemen and fellow democrats," said Mr. Francis, "I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for this splendid ovation. I am glad to be with you.

"You see before you a former gold democrat, but in this present glorious campaign there are neither gold nor silver democrats. We are all fighting together against the common foe.

"I am for a bigger navy, gentlemen. We want more battleships and more men. Then we need never fear the little Japanese.

"I am for a conservative plank on anti-injunction in the democratic platform. Bryan will sweep the country, and Illinois, with her great army of voters, will head the list."

Having finished his address Mr. Francis, bowing gracefully, fled upstairs and into the rooms of the Illinois headquarters, where he hid behind the door in a bathroom, where there are all sorts of wet goods—lemons, sugar, and cool bottles on ice. He did not immediately emerge and the crowd went away satisfied that they had heard the former governor of Missouri.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

FOR CAMP, PICNIC or EXCURSION

We Have Everything You Need in the

LINE of SUPPLIES

Goods properly Packed for Transportation

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

POSTAL MATTERS

Action Taken by Washington Officials—Proposition Submitted to Department by Agent of Station Property.

Under instructions from the postal authorities at Washington, Inspector Kyle visited Fulton last Friday in order to investigate the condition which has arisen through the owner of the property now occupied by the Oswego Falls station refusing to renew the lease at the former rental.

Inspector Kyle obtained all the facts regarding the income and expense of maintaining the station; in fact, every detail of the service was gone into in a thorough manner. He also listened to a committee representing west side merchants, who earnestly advocated the retention of the independent station.

The owner of the property occupied by the station having demanded either a renewal of the lease at an increased rental of $100 per annum or immediate possession of the property, it was thought advisable to first look for another place, and Mr. Kyle, accompanied by Postmaster Hughes and Mr. Frank Preston, visited a vacant store on Broadway, between Third and Fourth streets, but it was thought to be too far from the business section to receive favorable consideration.

Under the exigency which had arisen the postal officials considered the advisability of establishing a contract station, as Congress had failed to make an appropriation to meet such expenses—the station here is not the only one involved; there are hundreds of similar cases throughout the country.

A contract station could be established in any retail store where the privilege of selling stamps, envelopes, stamped paper, issuing money orders and registering letters, is accorded, the government paying the owner of the store for the privilege. The city and rural carrier service would be continued from the main office. This method has been adopted in larger cities and Oswego now has such a station.

It can not be stated how Inspector Kyle reported the matter, or what conclusion he reached. But whatever decision is arrived at by the postal officials, there is no disposition to cripple the service and no desire on the part of any to discriminate against the merchants or residents of the west side. The service promises to be equally efficient on both sides of the river.

On Monday, Attorney Rice, agent for the property in which the station is located, having received satisfactory assurances of increased rental from the merchants and patrons of the station, forwarded to the Washington authorities a proposition to renew the lease for a term of five years on the same conditions and for the same rental as heretofore. It is sincerely hoped that the government will accept and thus furnish a happy solution of the vexatious problem.

BASEBALL.

The Ontario Baseball League, after suffering throes which threatened total annihilation, has been reorganized, Lyons and Geneva being dropped and Watertown and Ogdensburg taking their charters. The meeting held in Syracuse on Friday to accomplish the change was a very stormy one and the outlook for baseball in this territory for another year is not bright. Irving Galusha was elected president, secretary and treasurer of the newly arranged organization and a new schedule was adopted.

Mr. Maurice Conley has resigned from the directorate of the local team, his resignation having been formally presented on Monday. Work on the raising of the $140 pledged by the committee of citizens to E. Quirk, is progressing and it is expected that the total amount will be forthcoming this week.

The Clearance Sale of trimmed hats and Summer millinery at Young's still continues. The best of bargains are offered for your inspection.

Pathfinder Field Day.

The following menu will be served at the Club House on Friday. An orchestra will be in attendance.

Spring Lamb and Green Peas
Tomato Salad Radishes
Creamed Potatoes
Raspberry Pie Cheese
Tea Coffee Milk

Supper at 6:30 o'clock, 35 cents.
Dancing at 8 o'clock, 25 cents.

Are you going away?

Are you well supplied with Cigars, Pipes and Tobacco?

If not, call and see my stock at 109 Cayuga street.

Victor C. Lewis.

Wanted—To Buy or Rent

Four copies 1854 map of Village of Fulton, made by Peter Schenck. L. W. Emerick.

$2.00 Waldorf Waists for $1.25

O'BRIEN'S

Men's $1.50 Union Suits for 75c

Mid-Summer Stock Reducing Sale

Clearing prices prevail at O'Brien's this week. All the new Summer goods must be reduced to the limit---all the stock must be cleaned out. We need the room, that's the reason we offer you extremely notable bargains. Come and see.

In the Men's and Boys' Department

Men's 50c Summer Underwear 23c
Men's 50c Negligee Shirts 35c
Men's 50c Work Shirts 39c
Men's 39c Work Shirts 29c
Men's Double Seam Overalls and Jumpers 45c
Men's 25c Half Hose, pair 17c
Men's 25c Suspenders 19c
Men's 50c Leather Belts 23c
Men's Night Shirts 50c
Boys' Summer Sweaters 23c
Boys' Blouse Waists 19c
Boys' 25c Skull Caps 19c
Children's Seersucker Aprons 25c

Dress Goods Department

All White and Colored Summer Fabrics, worth to 35c a yard, now 11c
$1.50 Black Taffeta Silk, per yard 75c

Underwear Department

$1.69 Muslin Underskirts $1.13
$1.25 Muslin Gowns 69c
$1.00 Muslin Gowns 59c
15c Gauze Vests, now 10c
Black Sateen Underskirts 98c
Muslin Drawers, hamburg trimmed, now 49c

Hosiery Department

Full Seamless Black Hose ..... 2 pair for 25c
Black Silk Lisle Hose ..... 3 pair for $1.00
Tan Mercerized Gauze Lisle Hose, pair 25c
Children's Tan and Black Hose .... 2 pair for 25c

In the Notion Department

Embroidered Muslin Ties 5c
25c Stock Collars 14c
50c Fancy Belts 25c
The "Top Knot" Comb 25c
Laundered Collars in colors ..... 3 for 25c

Curtain Special

Ruffled Muslin Battenberg edge and inserting, five rows of tucks, 2 1-2 yards long, pr ... $1.00
Ruffled Muslin Curtains, 2 1-2 yards long 19c
All Odd Lace Curtains that sold up to $2.50 per pair, now $1.00

Silk Glove Special

All Long Silk Gloves that sold to $1.50 a pair, white, black and colors, now 95c

Miscellaneous

12 Yards Fruit of the Loom Cotton for $1.00
Apron Gingham, per yard 6c
36-inch Plaid and Check Suitings, yard 15c
White Curtain Poles and Fixtures, complete .. 5c
Curtain Scrim, yard 5c
Values to $2.50 in White Dress Skirts 98c
All $1.50 and $1.69 White Lawn Waists 98c
Colored Wash Waists 49c
Lot of W. B. Sample Corsets, worth up to $1.25, now 25c
Colored Silk Waists, worth to $3.50, now $1.98
3-yd. Door Panels 19c

...Vacation Excursion...

....to....

New York City

Via Lackawanna Railroad

Friday, July 31, 1908

Fare only $8.30 for Round Trip

Make arrangements for your vacation at this time. See the many attractions in and around New York. Visit Coney Island, Asbury Park, Manhattan Beach, Long Island, or take a short sea trip.

Tickets good going on all regular trains on that day and to return on or before August 14, 1908

Scenery alone at this time of the year is well worth the trip

Ask Lackawanna Agents for full information, or write J. L. SMITH, Division Passenger Agent, Syracuse, N. Y. Secure Pullman Reservations Early

A Few Names

Guffey of Pennsylvania—Rear Admiral William S. Cowles and the New Hampshire.

JAMES M. GUFFEY.

THE controversy between William J. Bryan and Colonel James M. Guffey, ex-member of the Democratic national committee from Pennsylvania, recalls the fact that it was Mr. Guffey who was largely instrumental in bringing about the nomination of Judge Alton B. Parker for president in 1904. Colonel Guffey is one of the best known oil producers in the world. He has been so successful in discovering new oil territory that oil men used to say, "If Jim Guffey dropped out of a balloon he'd light on top of a new oil field." He was instrumental in the discovery of the great Beaumont oil field in Texas. He is interested in gold mines as well as oil, and a Colorado town not very far from the meeting place of the Democratic national convention is named after him. Colonel Guffey is of Scotch ancestry and is descended from William Guffey, who came to America in 1738 and fought at Fort Duquesne.

Rear Admiral William Sheffield Cowles, chief of the bureau of equipment of the navy, who represents the United States navy at the Quebec tercentenary, is a brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. His cruise to the waters of the St. Lawrence to participate in the Canadian festivities marks the first important voyage of the battleship New Hampshire, which conveyed him thither. She is the newest, largest and fleetest vessel of the American navy now on the Atlantic coast. Admiral Cowles married Miss Anna Roosevelt, elder sister of the president. He was a favorite at the navy department through half a dozen administrations, but has naturally come into frequent notice since Mr. Roosevelt became president. Five years ago this month he celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his entrance into the navy, and he has seen a great variety of service. He was in command of the gunboat Topeka during the Spanish war and made a notable record in connection with the operations against Spanish vessels in West Indian waters. About fifteen years ago he was appointed naval attache at the United States embassy in London, and it was while serving in this capacity that he met the lady who is now his wife and who was at the time visiting the British capital.

REAR ADMIRAL COWLES.

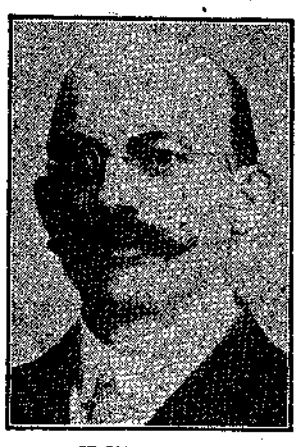
The New Hampshire lay at Newport when Admiral Cowles boarded her previous to the start for Quebec. He was received with honors due his rank. The ship's company was called to quarters, and the rear admiral read his orders from the navy department. His pennant was then run up and saluted. When it comes down the military mast of the New Hampshire after she returns it will not be raised again, as he retires next month. Captain Cameron McR. Winslow is in command of the New Hampshire.

Senor Don Jose Domingo Obaldia, the newly chosen president of the republic of Panama, was minister to the United States from Panama and so is well known at Washington. Judge Taft's first visit to Panama to straighten out differences between the government of the canal zone and the government of the republic was undertaken in his company, and the Latin American diplomat and statesman has always been a warm admirer of the man who won a reputation as secretary of peace while at the head of the war department.

SENOR OBALDIA.

At the recent election for president in Panama Senor Obaldia had no opponent, the other candidate, Senor Ricardo Arias, withdrawing previous to the casting of the votes in order to avoid any conflict at the polls, which might have imperiled the reputation of the young republic for maintaining good order in its bounds.

Notwithstanding this, a large number of voters registered their choice and demonstrated the overwhelming majority of Senor Obaldia's supporters. The elections were carried on in an orderly manner, and Senor Obaldia received all the votes cast.



At the conclusion of the balloting enthusiastic crowds, headed by a band of music, paraded the streets of Panama, cheering continuously for the newly elected president. There appeared to be an absolute lack of ill feeling between the former supporters of Senor Arias and the adherents of Senor Obaldia. Never before had such a friendly spirit been shown so quickly after an election.

It is an interesting coincidence that both the Democratic and Republican on Tip of Tongue

Ambassador O'Brien and His Views—William J. Bryan's Brother Charles—Senor Obaldia.

candidates for president have brothers named Charles and that they were each active in the conventions at Denver and Chicago in behalf of the interests of their respective relatives. Charles P. Taft was a prominent figure in the convention which nominated Judge Taft for president, and Charles W. Bryan was conspicuous at Denver during the preliminaries to the naming of Mr. Bryan for the presidency. Both men are rated as good politicians. Mr.

CHARLES W. BRYAN.

Charles Bryan is not an obtrusive man, but he is not a bit slow in the game of politics despite his seeming modesty and is a pastmaster of conciliation. He tried his hand at this with excellent results during the gathering of the Democrats in Colorado. Mr. Bryan does not greatly resemble his more distinguished brother. He has aided much in carrying out the political plans and policies of the latter and is apt to figure quite a little in the campaign now beginning.

He is business manager of Mr. Bryan's paper, the Commoner.

Thomas J. O'Brien, ambassador to Japan, who is home on a leave of absence, is very emphatic in asserting that he has found no feelings of hostility toward Americans in the land of the mikado. Congressman Hobson's speech at the Democratic convention predicting war with Japan, the resolutions adopted on the subject of Asiatic exclusion laws by the convention and the report that Brazil is having warships built with the view of selling them to Japan, have combined to renew public interest in the question of our relations with the Yankees of the orient. Ambassador O'Brien said on landing at San Francisco: "So far as my personal experience goes, I have never received the slightest demonstration of ill feeling on the part of the Japanese toward Americans. There is no anti-American feeling. Complaints have been made by Americans that the Japanese management of the Manchurian railroad has indulged in a system of robbing and of rebating detrimental to American traders. The Japanese do practice rebating, just as we did up to a recent date, but the Americans have not been particularly discriminated against because they were Americans.

THOMAS J. O'BRIEN.

"There is a great deal of talk about the reception to be given the fleet. Its coming cannot but help to do a great deal of good for both countries. The Japanese fleet will be mobilized in Tokyo waters all the time of the visit. This action of the Japanese should not be looked upon in any other light than as a courtesy to the visitors. In fact, the visit of the fleet coincides with the period set aside for the annual review of the Japanese warships. England intends to mobilize her ships in Asiatic waters in the same manner when the fleet visits Australia for the purpose of escorting Uncle Sam's fighting machines into Sydney."

Speaking of emigration, Mr. O'Brien said he believed that Japan was sincere in its desire to preserve the home policy of discontinuing immigration of its citizens to America.

Benjamin F. Butler of Massachusetts was a tireless worker when he started on anything. He and his secretary, Clancy, oftentimes sat in the library until almost daylight when the general wanted to finish up anything.

During the night sessions of the senate toward the close of congress a senator called on General Butler one morning at 5 o'clock. The same senator called again when the senate adjourned the following morning at daybreak and found the general and Clancy still at work.

"Don't you ever stop?" the senator asked.

"No," General Butler said. "Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do."

"General, I never knew before just [illegible]" Clancy said, bowing.

THE BURNING QUESTION:

WHAT FUEL IS BEST FOR USE IN THE HOME?

Modern needs demand modern methods. Advancement is the order of the day. Twentieth Century folks want Twentieth Century comfort especially at home. Easy to get much of it if you do as thousands of others are doing:

BURN GAS.

Saves temper, time and trouble; worry, wealth and weariness. Is ready when you want it; can be shut off as quickly.

Cooks and bakes better than any other fuel; costs less; gives more satisfaction.

Phone us and our representative will call at your house

FultonFuel & LightCo.

48 South First Street. Phone 98

Local and Personal

City Judge Spencer is at Mt. Clemens.

Mrs. W. S Hillick is visiting her parents in Cortland.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morton are at Canandaigua Lake.

Miss May Brooker has returned from the North Woods.

Miss May Rice, who has been very ill, is slowly convalescing.

Mrs. F. D. VanWagenen is confined to her home by illness.

Mr. Frank Breed of Phoenix has been the guest of Mr. O. C. Breed.

Attorney Albert T. Jennings has been visiting his parents in Earlville.

Mrs. Wm. C. Morgan and daughters' Muriel and Hilda are visiting Watertown and vicinity.

Mr. Raymond Butts of Sodus was the over-Sunday guest of his brother, Mr. W. A. Butts.

Mrs. Mary Kerr and daughter Margaret of the west side are visiting relatives in Worcester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Scott of Baldwinsville, spent Thursday with their son, Dr. R. C. Scott of this city.

Miss Florence Dexter is enjoying a two weeks vacation from her duties in the W. H. Patterson store.

The Misses Jane Waugh and Manette Webb have returned from a weeks outing at the Webb cottage, Mexico Point.

Deputy Postmaster and Mrs. J. T. Hargrave left on Tuesday for a weeks sojourn with friends in Watertown and Waddington.

Mrs. H. R. Goodelle has returned from a visit with relatives in Weedsport. While there she enjoyed a very successful fishing expedition.

Father Lindsman announced on Sunday that the annual picnic of the Catholic church and Sunday school would be held on the Fair grounds on Saturday, Aug. 1. A splendid program of sports will be arranged.

Mr. Frank Coleman has resigned his position in the H. P. Allen grocery store to accept one as electrician with the Franklin Automobile works in Syracuse. His many friends wish him the best of success in his new work.

Mr. Glenn Streeter has accepted a position in the H. P. Allen grocery store where he will be pleased to meet all of his old friends and to make many new ones. The girls and boys find it difficult to sell "Prunes" but he takes to selling prunes like a veritable veteran at the business.

Mr. H. G. Fletcher, contractor and builder, of No. 201 North Sixth street, secured the contract for the mason work on the new shed in the city hall yard for the storing of the city implements. Mr. Fletcher has also secured a contract to lay a cement walk around the Comstock property, Sixth and Erie streets.

The contract for the foundation of the proposed new building of the Minetto Shade Cloth company has been awarded to Wadsworth and Carver, of this city. The figures are not given. It is to be of concrete three hundred feet long and one hundred and sixty seven feet wide. Messrs. Wadsworth and Carver are establishing an enviable record for the excellence and dispatch with which they execute all contracts entrusted to them and they are very busy all the time.

The Times acknowledges with thanks the receipt from Mr. George P. Wells of a copy of the Shriner's souvenir edition of the St Paul Dispatch, containing the news of St. Pauls reception to the Shriners who held there convention there last week. A complete review of the weeks doings are chronicled. Mr. Wells attended the convention as a delegate from Media Temple, Watertown. The paper is most creditable to the wide awake city.

The teachers in the local schools who are in the city at present, enjoyed a basket picnic on Monday evening on Miss Jane Waugh's lawn. The occasion will long be remembered for the unconfined wit and humor which enlivened it. It is rumored that no stale jokes were allowed to pass unnoticed and that all discussions were along the line of how to teach the young idea to successfully use a bean shooter in school without the teacher's knowledge. There were about twenty present.

Let us show you how simple it is to make good pictures with the Eastman "Kodaks." With the tank developing machines it is "Daylight" all the way through, no more "Dark Room" troubles with the Eastman way. "Kodaks" all the way from $1.00 up to $75.00. Eastman films are the only reliable ones; you cannot afford to use poor films. For sale at Lasher's Book Store.

Take Your

Watch and Jewelry Repairing

to

W. C. Morgan

113 Cayuga Street Fulton

Prompt, Efficient Service

Reasonable Charges

The King's Cock Crower.

In the good old time there was an English court official known as the king's cock crower. It seems a strange office. Why did the king require a cock crower, and why could not the common barn door variety serve his majesty's purpose? The reason, as you shall see, was that the barn door variety cannot be depended upon for times and hours, and he has never been persuaded to observe Lent. Now, this was a pious custom and a religious duty. All through Lent the king's cock crower crowed instead of calling the hours of the night in the palace. He began on Ash Wednesday, when he entered the hall in which the king's supper was served, and then crowed the hour in the presence of the royal party. The meaning of the custom is obvious. It was only one of the many ways in which the history of the Christian religion was brought home to the minds of people before the reading of the gospel in the vernacular. The office was continued down to the year 1822.—London Queen.

Mysterious Disappearance.

Arthur J. McLean, who has been engaged in driving an oil wagon in this city for some time, was visiting with his family in Oswego on Tuesday of last week, having driven from Port Ontario, the home of his wife, the day previous. On Tuesday morning Mr. McLean complained greatly of the heat and a pain in his head and left the house without breakfast between 8 and 9 o'clock. Since that hour no trace of him has been found although the family and police have searched diligently for him.

The belief is that the extreme heat affected his mind and that he wandered away. Mrs. McLean has returned to her sister's home at Port Ontario.

Judgment Was Confirmed.

A certain old time justice of the peace, wishing to bring suit against a citizen, consulted the statutes and found that suits of such a character might be brought before any justice of the peace.

"Well, then," thought he, "I'll just try the case myself."

Straightway he made out a writ against his adversary and signed it.

On the day set for trial the defendant appeared with counsel. Both gentlemen not unnaturally objected to the constitution of the court.

"Why," demanded the justice, "do you deny that I am a justice of the peace?"

The lawyer would not contest this point, but argued that such a construction of the law was against all sense and reason.

A vigorous altercation ensued, and then the judge remarked that not for the world would he have two gentlemen suppose him governed by any personal considerations. "I will therefore," he added gracefully, "render judgment against myself and then appeal to the supreme court."

"But the mischief of it was," said the justice, relating the story afterward, "that when my judgment got to the supreme court it was unanimously reaffirmed."

The Dog's Tail.

A prominent citizen was on trial charged with harboring a vicious dog.

The attorney for the defense had been consulting a dog expert and had learned that if a dog holds his tail up over his back when he barks he is not angry, while if he holds it straight out behind him he is in a belligerent, bloodthirsty frame of mind. Anxious to air his newly acquired information, the lawyer began cross questioning the prosecuting witness thus:

"Now, did you notice the position in which this dog's tail was held when he came at you?"

"I did not," said the witness, "for that was not the end from which I anticipated injury. I had another end in view. Now, if the dog had been a hornet"—

"No levity, sir!" thundered the attorney. "Answer the question. In what position was the dog's tail when he came at you?"

"I believe, sir," faltered the terrified witness, "that it was behind him."—Chicago News.

"The Greatest Widower."

This is said to be the title of a genuine essay evolved some years ago by a boy in a Welsh board school:

"King Henry VIII. was the greatest widower that ever lived. He was born at Anno Domini in the year 1066. He had 510 wives besides children. The first was beheaded and executed. The second was revoked. She never smiled again. But she said the word 'Calais' would be found on her heart after her death. The greatest man in this reign was Lord Sir Garret Wolsey. He was sir named the Boy Bachelor. He was born at the age of 15, unmarried. Henry VIII. was succeeded on the throne by his great-grandmother, the beautiful and accomplished Mary, queen of Scots, sometimes known as the Lady of the Lake!"

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

Lord Penzance's Acquaintance.

When the late Lord Penzance was plain Mr. Wilde, he once took an early morning stroll round Covent Garden market. There he entered into conversation with an old man of genial aspect who had just made a purchase of a geranium. Mr. Wilde soon found that the stranger was an enthusiastic amateur gardener, and the pair had an interesting chat on horticultural topics as they walked toward Oxford street. Suddenly the fare in a passing hansom cab signaled to the driver to pull up, and within the vehicle Wilde saw his friend, Sergeant Ballantine. Bidding the old man adieu, Wilde entered the cab.

In surprised accents Ballantine exclaimed, "How on earth did you come to know that man?"

"Picked him up just now in Covent Garden market," said his companion.

"Well, Wilde," the sergeant remarked, "your new acquaintance is Calcraft, the hangman!"—London Academy.

An Omission.

Magistrate—What is the charge against you this time? Boggs—They 'otched me a-stealing oranges, yer worship. Magistrate—Didn't I tell you when you were here before not to steal anything more? Boggs—No, yer worship; you said not to steal any more lemons, but yer didn't say a word about oranges.—London Graphic.

Apothecary's Weight.

"I'm sure," whispered the gossip, "that Mr. Pillsbury, the druggist, takes a dram occasionally."

"Yes," replied the bright girl, "I believe he has no scruples in that direction."—Philadelphia Press.

Quite the Contrary.

The Sympathetic Friend—It must be very hard to lose money at the races, Smith (a plunger)—Hard! Hang it, old chap, it's the easiest thing in the world!—London Opinion.

There is no use running. To set out in time is the main point.—La Fontaine.

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

Men's Suit Sale

For Two Weeks Only

The following low prices on Men's Suits will prevail:

$ 10.00 Suits for $ 7.50
$ 12.00 Suits for $ 8.68
$ 14.00 Suits for $ 9.89
$ 15.00 Suits for $ 10.68
$ 18.00 Suits for $ 13.98
$20.00 Suits for $ 14.97
$25.00 Suits for $ 17.89

Everything in the line of Men's and Boys' Furnishings at correspondingly low prices.

Harry A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street — Fulton, N. Y.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION
OF THE

ROCHESTER TRUST & SAFE DEPOSIT CO.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

at the close of business June 30, 1908

RESOURCES

Real Estate	$ 475,000.00
Bonds and Mortgages	2,750,197.22
U. S. State, County, City and other Bonds	9,466,786.74
Overdrafts	.00
Time Loans	.00
Demand Loans	6,843,675.80
Cash in Banks	878,082.45
Cash on Hand	779,875.55
Total	$21,193,617.76

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in	$200,000.00
Surplus (earned)	903,710.66
Deposits	20,089,907.10
Total	$21,193,617.76

State of New York, County of Monroe, ss.

I, Robert C. Watson, Secretary of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Co., do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

ROBERT C. WATSON, Secretary.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of June, 1908.
T. D. BIDWELL, Notary Public.

Legal Notices.

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibbie & Frances Kibbie.

By virtue of an execution against the property of Frances Kibbie, in the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, I, Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 13th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall, in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all the right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibbie had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to, all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton, now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 160 of said City.

Dated June 30th, 1908.

HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.

By JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.

A. T. Jennings, attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor Office and Post Office Adress, No. 9 So. First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-12

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 21st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D. 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.

10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 21st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D. 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.

10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.

11-9

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Advertised Letters

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., July 22, 1908:

James M. Bogan, L. C. Platt, Capt. Wm. Hoag, Charles Hough, George Steavens, Gearold Wallace, E. Kaso, George Fuller, J. R. Williams, John H. Henderson, W. H. Young, Frank Cooper, Chas. Gardner, Mrs. Emma Wells, Mrs. Emma Wells, care W. H. Wells: Mrs. H. L. Woodcock, Mrs. Charles Sherman, Miss Louise Begley, Miss Lela B. Lake, Nued. 627 W. N. 3rd. St. W. W. Green.

WILLIAM E. HUGHES,
Postmaster.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The Sea Serpent.

When fourteen miles off the coast of Brazil M. J. Nicoll, author of "Three Voyages of a Naturalist," observed a sea serpent which came within about fifty yards of the ship. "All that we could see was a dorsal fin about four feet long sticking up about two feet from the water. The fin was a brownish black color and much resembled a gigantic piece of ribbon seaweed. Below the water we could indirectly see a very large brownish black patch, but could not make out the shape of the creature. Every now and then the fin disappeared below the water. Suddenly an eel-like neck, about six feet long and of the thickness of a man's thigh, having a head shaped like that of a turtle, appeared in front of the fin, lashing up the water with a curious wriggling movement. This creature was an example, I consider, of what has been so often reported, for want of a better name, as the 'great sea serpent.' I feel sure, however, that it was not a reptile that we saw, but a mammal."

Australian Cadets.

All children in Australia are drilled, but the elder boys are attached to the Australian military forces by means of the cadet corps. Almost every large school has its band of cadets, who wear neat khaki uniforms and are armed with light rifles, in the use of which they are frequently instructed. Every year those boys have shooting matches, and the scores prove that among the youngsters there are many who have already become skilled marksmen.—London Standard.

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Mrs. Charles Hill visited relatives in Granby on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Rowlinson have been entertaining friends from Hastings.

Mr. N. W. Riker spent Monday in Oneida.

Miss Bessie Thompson returned to her home in Fulton Monday, after visiting relatives here. Her cousin, Miss Beulah Hamilton, accompanied her home.

Mr. William Tidd and Mr. and Mrs. Norris spent Sunday in Cleveland.

Miss George Riker is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Central Square.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held in the chapel on Tuesday, July 28. A large attendance is requested.

Mr. Ira Thompson, son of Mrs. Belle Thompson of Baldwinsville, met with quite an accident recently. While working in the hay field he fell and fractured his arm just below the shoulder. Mr. Thompson is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mack, and, with his parents, formerly lived in Minetto, where they have many friends who extend sympathy.

Mr. Floyd Rumsey has been spending a few days in Fulton.

Mr. A. D. Mack spent Friday and Saturday in Baldwinsville.

Miss Lulu Crouch of Fulton visited Mrs. A. K. Hill on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Katherine Frye, who has been the guest of relatives and friends here the past six weeks, returned on Monday to her home in Buffalo.

Miss Ella McCann has been visiting relatives in Munnsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Withers and children of Phoenix are the guests of relatives here.

Mr. George Hamilton has had the misfortune to fracture his arm just below the elbow.

Mrs. John Hill visited friends in Fulton recently.

Little Miss Gladys Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, who has been seriously ill for the past week, is now improving in health.

Mr. Edmund Sheldon and sister Mildred of Rochester, arrived here on Saturday to spend several weeks with their grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mack.

Lloyd Wells and bride of Oswego were callers here on Sunday.

Miss Hettie Hill visited friends in Syracuse recently.

Mr. Sylvanus Peterson, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, died at his home on Friday morning. Mr. Peterson had been in poor health for over a year, but not seriously so until about two months ago. The deceased was well known, having conducted a hotel at Minetto for the past thirty years. He is survived by four daughters—Mrs. Emma Perry, Mrs. William Meyers, Mrs. W. Peterson and Mrs. Henry Pereau, all of this village. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from his late home, the Rev. Mr. Widrig of Bundyville officiating. Burial at Riverside.

For Sale—Incubator and brooder in perfect condition, for less than half cost It has hatched 178chicks from 200 eggs. Inquire at 161 S.Second street. tf

Everything for the Amateur Photographer, at special low prices, at Lasher's Book Store.

Arundell Resumes Trips.

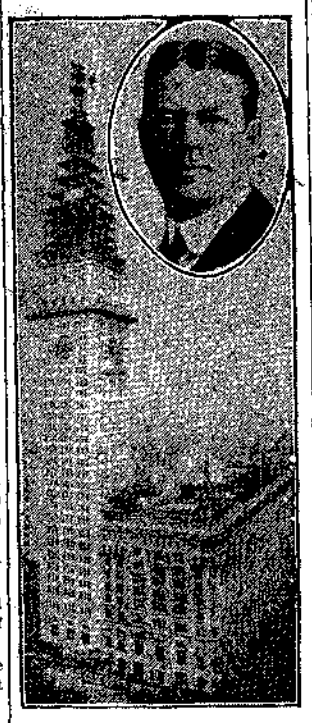
The steamer Arundell resumed her regular trips Monday, having been thoroughly overhauled and repaired since going on the rocks on the United States shoals a few weeks since.

Full supply of Dry Plates, Developers, etc., at Lasher's Book Store.

GIRON, 24065
[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of JULY and AUGUST at the stable of



E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street — Fulton

VERY MUCH IN THE AIR.

Chairman Frank H. Hitchcock and Republican Headquarters in New York.

The Republicans have chosen the tallest office building in the world, the Metropolitan Life building on Madison square, New York, for the location of the headquarters where Frank H. Hitchcock, as chairman of the Republican national committee, will prosecute the canvass for the election of Judge William H. Taft to the presidency. Chairman Hitchcock and his staff will hold forth on the tenth floor of the building, which is the first floor of the tower. The latter has forty-eight stories on a liberal count and soars to about 700 feet above the street level. The framework of the tower is now complete, but the stonework which will cover the steel skeleton is not in place yet on the upper part of the structure. However, the lower floors of the new portion of the building have been rented without waiting for the completion of the tower.

THE METROPOLITAN LIFE BUILDING AND FRANK H. HITCHCOCK.

Until the Equitable Life Assurance company completes its proposed new sixty-two story skyscraper on lower Broadway the Metropolitan Life building on Madison square will enjoy the honor of being the highest office building not only in New York, but anywhere in the world. Mr. Hitchcock and his assistants will be able to get a pretty good view of the situation by taking the elevator to the upper stories of the tower. They can see how the land lies around New York at any time, and if their political vision is proportionate in scope to the view they can obtain from such a lofty height they will be at quite an advantage in laying their campaign plans.

MRS. PHILIP N. MOORE.

The New President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Philip N. Moore, the new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, was chosen to that office as successor to Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker at the recent ninth biennial session of the federation in Boston.

Mrs. Moore defeated Mrs. May Allen Ward of Boston, the candidate named by the nominating committee, receiving 516 of the 906 votes cast. She was vice president of the General Federation and is prominent in society and musical circles in St. Louis. Mrs. Moore was one of the most active members of the board of lady managers of the Louisiana Purchase exposition of 1904.

PHOTO BY STRAUS.

MRS. PHILIP N. MOORE.

Edgar Jepson.

Edgar Jepson, author of "Tangled Wedlock," is a writer of the day whose youthful experiences have undoubtedly helped him in the art of the romancer. In a little tin pot of a steam yacht he and two of his college friends, in order to "see the world," coasted along the shores of the Mediterranean and in six months had as many narrow escapes from drowning as the average seaman enjoys in thirty years. Then came a year as schoolmaster in a primitive Welsh village and after that three years in the West Indies, from all of which, quite naturally, was accumulated enough experience for the demands of romance.

SOUVENIR

Saturday, July 25th

FREE

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

In addition to usual checks with

Spices, Extracts, Chocolate, Cocoa, Teas, Coffees, Etc.

SUGARS AT COST

28 East First Street — Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 — F. A. RUDD, Manager

Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, pleasant little pills that are easy to take. Sold by all druggists.

An Acrobat's Dilemma.

The acrobats of the music halls have no end in view except to cause amusement. But suppose one should meet them in ordinary life? Mr. Berkeley, the proprietor of a London hotel, was in his office about 6 o'clock one evening when he heard a knock at the door, while a voice, which seemed to express pain, cried "Open!" Mr. Berkeley obeyed, but a cry of horror escaped him, and he almost fell backward. He saw before him, rolling on the ground, topsy turvy, a kind of human ball which was walking upon its hands, with the head twisted round, eyes protruding and neck contorted.

"I did not wish to alarm my neighbors," gasped this extraordinary being—it was a contortionist from a circus who had been practicing in his room—"but I cannot unhook my leg from behind my neck, and unless you can help me I am afraid it is all up with me."

Mr. Berkeley disentangled the acrobat, who fell exhausted on a chair. He had descended twenty stairs upon his hands in this position.

A Bedouin's Idea of a Locomotive.

It is interesting to know that the railroad between Jaffa and Jerusalem was made possible by locomotives from Philadelphia. They were originally made, writes Professor H. W. Dunning in "Today In Palestine," for a road in Central America which unfortunately could not pay for them when they were ready for delivery. They happened to be just right for the Jaffa-Jerusalem line and were at once purchased and shipped.

I happened to be in Jerusalem, he writes, the day the first locomotive arrived there, Aug. 20, 1892. Not only the people from the city, but many from the villages, came to see the new wonder. Among them was a Bedouin from beyond Jordan. He carried back the report to the tribe:

"It is like a big iron woman. It gives one screech and then runs away."

This ingenious description spread rapidly through the ancient land of Moab.

The Lion and the Child.

The strange spectacle of a lion playing with a child is reported to have been witnessed at Vryheid. A Dutch farmer, accompanied by his wife and little boy, was out shooting game. Suddenly the attention of the parents was drawn to the child, who had toddled a short distance away to gather wild flowers. Crowing with delight, the little fellow was pulling the hair of a full grown lion, and the animal appeared to be enjoying the operation. Spellbound, the farmer and his wife stood gazing at the scene. The farmer, even if his gun had contained a shot, could not have fired because of the child. The lion skipped sportively round the boy until, startled by loud shouts from the parents, it walked quietly away, followed by a lioness, which up to then had lain concealed in the long grass. A hunt was afterward organized, but the lions had disappeared into the thick bush.—East Rand Express.

What Is Education?

Herbert Spencer tells us in one short, pregnant sentence that the function of education is to prepare us for complete living.

A true chord is touched by Sydney Smith when he urges the importance of happiness as an aid to education. He says, "If you make children happy now, you make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of it."

Equally wise are the words of Sir John Lubbock: "Knowledge is a pleasure as well as a power. It should lead us all to try with Milton to behold the bright countenance of truth in the still air of study."

Half the Battle.

"If I were you," said the old bachelor to the benedict, "I'd either rule or know why."

"Well," was the reply, "as I already know why, I suppose that's half the battle!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Not by levity of floating, but by stubborn force of swimming, shalt thou make thy way.—Carlyle.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bought His Own Work.

To come across a bit of one's own work in print is an experience not ordinarily exasperating to an author, but a Washington writer on scientific matters was recently not very agreeably surprised by such a development.

It appears that the writer was collecting material for a monograph on electro magnetism when word came to him of a valuable paper on the subject not long before published in a Berlin journal devoted to science. Thinking that the paper would be of use to him in the work in hand, he had it translated. When the English version was laid before him, together with quite a bill for the translator's labor, what was the disgust of the writer to find that the article was nothing more or less than a German reproduction of an article of his own published the year before in an English journal. And he had paid twice as much for the translation as he had received for the original article!—Washington Star.

FULTON BUSINESS

We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

The
1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:50 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 27.
9-12 Olcott Beach July 7th.

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No 668outh First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 10

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

AT IT AGAIN.

The staunchest advocate of the present municipal regime is the Patriot and it fairly foams at the mouth whenever anyone insinuates that there have been other mayors than E. Quirk. The latest visible spasm of the afore mentioned sheet was occasioned by the very true statement in The Times that Chairman Brannan of the Board of Fire and Police had resigned "on account of broken promises and political injustices." The Times reiterates the statement and can produce the evidence if it deems it necessary.

To make good its contention that The Times prevaricated, the Patriot publishes Mr. Brannan's letter of resignation to the mayor. The letter was a courteous, dignified document and one which when filed with the other city papers will reflect no discredit upon the writer. No man, in writing an official document, does other than as did Mr. Brannan.

But when pledges are violated and justice is outraged a man may confront another and tell him to his teeth what he thinks of him. Whether or not Mr. Brannan held any unofficial conferences with the mayor, The Times is not prepared to state. But as between the Patriot and the mayor, The Times and Mr. Brannan, "it will not take a man long to decide where the truth lies."

Oswego County stands appalled at the apparent selfishness of her neighbor, Jefferson county. With but a fraction over 800 more Republican votes cast at the last State election than were cast in Oswego county, and the maddest partisan for his county not claiming more than 1000 more Republican voters than Oswego, Jefferson fain would gather into her borders the Congressman, State Senator and deny to Oswego county even the right of equal representation in the senatorial convention that she requests. Jefferson quotes the flimsy pretext for her attitude that Oswego would not grant the concession to Madison county. This contention is absurd and the facts do not warrant Jefferson's attitude. Madison cast 3000 fewer Republican votes than Oswego and her claim was promulgated for the purpose and only for the purpose of creating a campaign issue to hide the gold standard maintained throughout. Oswego stands very ready to treat Jefferson with fairness and consideration but she refuses to be buncoed out of her birthright. If Jefferson wants a twenty year fight she can commence it by continuing her present attitude. Oswego but asks justice and fair play and many of Jefferson's citizens have pledged themselves to see that she receives it.

The question of Sunday observance so far as the mill owners of Fulton are concerned (or at any rate the large majority of them) resolves itself into this. If there is an honest and sincere desire upon the part of our city officials to promote Sunday observance in such a way that the moral and physical well being of all classes of citizens will be conserved thereby, they will be only too glad to co-operate in any and every way to bring about this greatly to be desired result. The question is, do our city officials want this kind of Sunday observance and will they do all in their power to bring it about?

Congresional Convention Called.

The Congressional Committee for the district composed of Jefferson, Lewis and Oswego counties, met in Watertown on Tuesday and called the Congressional convention for Wednesday, Aug. 12, in Oswego. This is the first time in many years that a congressional nominating convention has been held in Oswego and there was no opposition to its being held there, although Candidate Hunt of Jefferson expressed a desire that it be held on July 25, a date too early for arrangements to have been perfected for holding it. With each county pledged to its candidate, the fight gives promise of being a pretty one, with the result far removed from a certainty.

Before the meeting of the Congressional Committee, an adjourned meeting of the special Senatorial Committee was held. None of the Oswego members of the committee were present, but the Jefferson contingent adopted a resolution to the effect that the representation of the two counties in the Senatorial convention should be—Jefferson county, 14 delegates; Oswego county, 12 delegates.

Workers Who Want Work.

The Free Labor Bureau of The Bowery Mission, has within, the past four months, sent over 1,300 men to country districts in response to the appeals to farmers for field laborers, but still has on hand many hundreds of common laborers, farm hands, general handy men, and mechanics skilled in almost every branch of industry.

The Bowery Mission carries on this important work absolutely free of charge and without regard to creed or nationality. All who are in need of workers for the harvesting should at once communicate with John C. Earl, Financial Secretary of The Bowery Mission, 54 Bible House, New York City.

The Companies that Paid Lossess in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

MAYOR QUIRK'S LETTER.

A letter of considerable length, signed E. Quirk, was last week given publicity through the medium of the Patriot, The Herald and The Observer. The author of the voluminous epistle is unknown to the writer.

The letter in question reveals the fact that pique, because the citizens of this city would not stand for so rank a violation of the laws of the State and so clearly a desecration of the Sabbath, as Sunday ball had caused E. Quirk to become active against alleged violations of the law for the first time since taking his oath of office. In the assemblage of 250 citizens who met and protested against Sunday ball in Fulton were four manufacturers, the remainder being men from the different trades and professions. Yet it was against the four manufacturers that all his pique and rage is hurled. E. Quirk has been Mayor of Fulton since January. The paper and pulp mills of the city have for many years and all through his term of office, maintained the same work hour schedule, and it was not until public indignation and the law openly opposed a matter of interest to him, that he made one move toward changing the order of things. In his claim that the present schedule of hours is in violation of the law, he has interfered with the comfort, convenience and desires of all, or practically all, of the mill employes, and yet he has not caused the employers the slightest inconvenience nor loss.

Early on Sunday morning, July 12, E. Quirk accompanied by two policemen, visited the Oswego Falls Pulp & Paper mill, the Ditts machine shop, the Victoria and the Granby mills, making some trivial excuse for the visits at each place to hide the real motive which had been talked throughout the city ever since the Sunday ball was forbidden. Every mill knew of the proposed visitation, but the even tenor of their way was not interrupted. He found matters as they had been during his entire administration. On Saturday, July 18, at midnight, the Victoria and Oswego Falls Pulp and Paper mills closed. The Ditts shop was open on the occasion of the midnight ride of E. Quirk, to permit one of the proprietors to charge his automobile preparatory to a long drive on Sunday.

The Granby mill did not close on Saturday night, nor until 6 o'clock on Sunday morning of this week, nor did E. Quirk mention the Granby mill in his letter nor did he interfere in any way with its liberty. Why? The president of the Granby company is Mr. J. Harroun Howe, member of the Board of Public Works, and it might not be wise to interfere with him as he is a very determined man when aroused. Does not it seem to be a perfect mania of administration to let the contracts for paving Fulton before the administration changes? The paving can be attended to years hence when the city has money to pay for it. Mr. Howe intends to maintain the present work hour schedule.

Interviews with proprietors of the various pulp and paper mills in the city regarding the hour schedule and why adopted, brought out the information that a number of years ago the pulp and paper mills throughout the country ran until midnight Saturday and resumed operations at midnight on Sunday. Now the pulp and paper mills throughout the United States, with hardly an exception, run from 7 a. m., Monday, with night and day shifts, until 5 or 6 o'clock on Sunday morning. The pulp and paper mills of Fulton but follow the almost universal schedule, and this has been in vogue for years.

It is not a matter of rumor or recent occurrence but has been the open practice for years.

The change in the hour schedule here was made primarily because the employes demanded it. They said that they would get far more benefit from the Sunday rest by the new than the old methods.

The mills gain no more hours of work by the new than by the old schedule, and it is thus not a question of greed or greater profit on the part of the employers, as is falsely charged in E. Quirk's letter.

If the employes do not gain decided advantage out of the plan of working until 5 or 6 o'clock Sunday morning and not commencing until 7 o'clock on Monday morning, there is no good reason why it should be followed. Some of the mills only consented to adopt the new schedule after the employes had repeatedly petitioned for it and had convinced their employers that the change would be a great boon to the workingmen. If they do not, almost to a man, desire the new schedule to continue, we do not believe that there is a mill owner in Fulton who would not be willing and very glad, on account of the misinterpretation of their motives, to return to the old schedule of work hours.

DIED.

Eliza Fitzpatrick, aged 16, daughter of Mrs. Alonzo Wood, died on Monday at her home in Volney.

William W. Fuller, aged 70, and a brother of Mrs. Marcia Keeler of this city, died last week at his home in Oswego after an illnes of three weeks.

Mrs. Lois Ferris died on Monday at the home of her son, Mr. Clinton Ferris in First street. Beside the son, one daughter, Mrs. VanEpps of Savannah, survive.

James Rebeor, aged 58, left his place of business on Tuesday evening in his accustomed health and on Wednesday morning early he passed to rest. The funeral services were held on Friday from the Catholic church, the Rev. J. L. Lindsman officiating and interment was made in St. Mary's. Beside the widow, three son's, George, James J and Loren, and three daughters, Mrs. Albert Best, Mrs. Herbert Ernshaw and Mrs. Theodore Wilson, all of this city, survive.

Wonderful Newspaper Advancement.

A copy of the St. Louis Republic of July 12, celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of its establishment, has reached this office. It is a mammoth sheet containing 192 pages of which 676 columns are devoted to paid advertisements and 500 columns to reading matter. It is a wonderful edition, the culmination of one hundred years of vigorous growth whose history reads like a romance. It was the first newspaper to be published west of the Mississippi, evoluting from a four page, 10x12 sheet, printed by hand on a screw press not unlike the cider press of today, on which 75 copies could be printed on one side in an hour, to a demand which made necessary the installation of a press to turn out 144,000 complete papers of large size per hour. The Republic stands to-day as an example of what ability and grit combined can achieve.

Notice of Completion of Assessment Rolls.

Notice hereby given that the assessment rolls for the east and west tax districts of the city of Fulton for the year 1908 have been completed and filed with the city clerk and all persons interested may examine the same at the city clerk's office, city hall, Fulton N. Y., until the first Tuesday of September, 1908.

Notice is hereby further given that on the 1st day of September, 1908, that being the first Tuesday in September, the Assessors of the city of Fulton will meet at the Common Council room in the city hall, Fulton, N. Y. to review said assessments.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., July 2, 1908.

GEORGE FOSTER
JOHN M. HEWITT
O. O. HANNIS

8-5

It will pay you to take a stroll through O. Henderson & Co.'s store and get acquainted with their special offerings for this week.

First Silver Wedding.

The first silver wedding dates back to the time of Hugues Capet. The servants, says Home Chat, belonging to him had grown gray in his service, a man and a woman, and what could he do as a reward? Calling the woman, he said: "Your service is great, greater than the man's, whose service is great enough, for the woman always finds work harder than a man, and therefore I will give you a reward. At your age I know of none better than a dowry and a husband. The dowry is here—this farm from this time forth belongs to you. If this man, who has worked with you five and twenty years, is willing to marry you, then the husband is ready."

"Your majesty," said the old peasant, "how is it possible that we should marry, having already silver hairs?"

"Then it shall be a silver wedding." And the king gave the couple silver enough to keep them in plenty.

This soon became known all over France and raised such enthusiasm that it became a fashion after twenty-five years of married life to celebrate a silver wedding.

Journalistic Revenges.

The curious boycott of the press in the Berlin parliament had a precedent in the mother of parliaments, the British house of commons. A writer in Harper's Weekly recalls that the person involved was no less a celebrity than the late Daniel O'Connell. He condemned the inaccuracy of the parliamentary reports, but he forgot to make allowance for acoustic difficulties and the buzz of intervening conversation. He charged the reporters with the malicious suppression of his speeches, and the gallery then refused to report him at all. Dan stormed and thundered in vain, even moving that the ringleaders be brought to the bar of the house. Finally he apologized, and all was well. Lord Lyttleton in 1871 fell foul of the press in the same way, and the late Lord Monteagle had his name omitted from London newspaper reports for two years because he said something the reporters did not like.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

...LIPSKY'S...

Specials for this Week

Every $15.00 Suit in the house for.....$10.00
Straw Hats at.....1-4 Off Price
Men's 50c Blue Underwear.....35c
$4.00 Men's Pants at.....$3.00
Good Working Shirts at.....33c
B. V. D. Underwear, Coat Shirts, Knee-length Drawers.....39c
$5.50 Boys' Knickerbocker Pant Suits at.....$3.98

We clean your Old Straw Hat in good shape for 15c

Agents for Guarantee Hosiery for Men, 6 pairs for $1.50, and a new pair for everyone you wear a hole in within six months.

S. Lipsky & Son

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N. Y.

CHURCH NOTES.

Zion Church.

Sixth Sunday after Trinity, July 26: Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m. Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon, 10:30 a. m. Evensong and sermon, 7:30 p. m. St. James's Day, Saturday, July 25: Holy communion, 10 a. m.

State Street M. E. Church

Public worship at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.30 p. m.

Prayer service on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will hold a lawn social at the home of Mr. Dunham on Third street this Wednesday evening.

Presbyterian Church

Services next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday school at 12 m., Vesper service discontinued until September.

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Twenty-Five Cents is the Price of Peace.

The terrible itching and smarting, incident to certain skin diseases, is almost instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Growth of Pity.

No one formerly looked on with any pity or even horror at punishments which are now found too dreadful for description. Men were broken on the wheel, were burned at the stake, were racked, were cut up alive. No one seems to have felt any pity for their agonies. Men were put into noisome prisons, where, with bad air and insufficient food, they died unnoticed and unpitied. It is very different now. Human hearts are more tender.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Sold by all druggists.

She Voted.

"What was the topic of debate in our club today?" asked one member of the feminine society.

"The topic of debate," was the response. "Why—er—let me see—I can't remember what the topic was. But I voted on either the positive or negative side of the question. I forget which."—Washington Star.

Do You Shave?

A fine Aluminum Frame Safety Razor, mailed to you for 25c. Money back if not satisfactory. Write us today about it.

Gem Manufacturing Co.,
17 Monroe Building Syracuse, N. Y.

1178

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

Citizens National Bank

FULTON, N. Y.

at Fulton in the State of New York, at the close of business, July 15, 1908.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$479,154.42
Overdrafts secured and unsecured		169.41
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		75,000.00
Due from National Banks (not reserve agents)		2,888.62
Due from State Banks and Bankers		172.68
Due from approved reserve agents		26,718.83
Checks and other cash items		336.20
Notes of other National Banks		500.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		457.42
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz:
Specie	$15,564.60
Legal-tender Notes	6,892.00	22,456.60
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		3,750.00
		$611,624.18

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$125,000.00
Surplus fund	100,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	20,444.31
National Bank notes outstanding	75,000.00
Due to other National Banks	1,573.59
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	30,000.00
Individual deposits subject to check	180,932.65
Demand certificates of deposit	22,768.59
Time certificates of deposit	24,666.97
Certified checks	1,020.00
Bills payable, including certificates of deposit for money borrowed	20,000.00
Reserved for taxes	1,215.07
	$611,624.18

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF OSWEGO, } ss:

I, E. R. Redhead, President of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief

E. R. REDHEAD, President.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of July, 1908.

WEBB G. COOPER, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:

JOHN C. O'BRIEN,
J. C. HUNTER,
A. G. GILBERT,
Directors.

A Misplaced Pin.

"I was in an uptown tea room where the scenery is all out of proportion to the amount served you," said a New York clubman. "I was dallying with some ice cream when my spoon struck a common, everyday pin in the bottom of the frozen stuff. I gave a little wave, and a waiter slipped to my side. 'See, a pin in this ice cream,' I said. 'Why, I might have swallowed that.' He took the glass and disappeared. When he returned he reminded me of an undertaker, he was that solemn. 'That pin has lost a man his job, sir,' he said. 'Well,' I replied, 'I am sorry for that, but it might have cost me my life, when you come to think of it.' 'Yes, sir,' said the waiter meekly. Then, 'You see, sir, most of the folks that eats here just sips their ice cream and don't chew it.'"—New York Times.

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 342r.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

Genasco Asphalt Roofing

Genuine Asphalt Nothing Better
Prices Right Come and See

Gilbert & Nichols Company

ELECTRICITY HELPS

SEA-SHORE !

Pleasant and enjoyable if everything is well arranged, but usually uncomfortable quarters and hot nights, and flies. Why not have your as pleasant and comfortable, and more so? Electricity makes it possible. Electric light is cool, clean and odorless. A fan will drive away the flies and make nights comfortable. A flatiron makes work easy, and with a motor-driven washer, removes the drudgery of wash day. Try it!

HOME

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

To Advertisers

If you ever stop a minute
A tooting of your horn,
Not a critter in the village
Remembers you were born.

Mrs. Jennie Barnes has returned from New York city.

Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Sawtelle are occupying their cottage at Oscola.

The 75th natal anniversary of Senator T. C. Platt occurred on Wednesday.

Mrs. William H. Ross is visiting her sister, Mrs. West of Gloversville.

Miss Hazel Lamson, Times office employe, is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. John C. Peach has returned from a two weeks visit with friends in Pulaski.

Miss Ethyle Rogers of New York is visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. Chapman of First street.

The Time and Tide club on Thursday enjoyed an outing at the home of Miss Cora VanBuren.

Mr. J. C. O'Brien has returned from Old Forge where his family is spending the Summer months.

Mr. Wilbur F. Hill on Saturday took his son, Irving, to the mountains for the benefit of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of the west side have been entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Brown of Woonsocket, R. I.

John Doyle of Manhattan Avenue raised on Wednesday the first Bryan and Kern banner in Oswego county.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stout and Miss P. D. Woodin left on Monday for a two weeks visit with friends in Melbourne, Ont.

The sudden changes from extreme heat to extreme cold, this year, make it very uncomfortable for residents of this locality.

Assistant District Attorney and Mrs. Don A. Colony of Lacona are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Irene Bethyl.

A new tennis club has been organized in Oneida street with a court on Mrs. G. E. Church's property, corner Sixth and Oneida streets.

Brownie Enlarging Cameras, size 6 1-2 x8 1-2, only $3.00, at Lasher's Book Store

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change.

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis'

Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Miller are spending a vacation at Bernards Bay.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Payne entertained Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Losey, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rowlee and Mrs. F. T. Payne at their home.

The W. F. S. C. E. of the First Methodist church will hold a social on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dunham, this Wednesday evening.

On Friday Mrs. Harry W. Payne entained at her home near Ingalls Crossing, Mrs. Cora Woodin and Mrs. Louise Dines of Rochester, and Mrs. F. T. Payne of Fulton.

City Chamberlain Orin Bogardus has returned from Dallas, Texas, where he attended the National convention of Elks. The next convention will be held in LosAngeles, Calif.

Letters on the estate of Sarah H. Simmons, Palermo, have been applied for by her husband, John Simmons, Oswego Town. She left $250 and $179 personal property.

Mr. John Reynolds has closed his Oneida street meat market until he recovers from the recent accident in which he sustained a broken hip. He has not been as well during the past week.

Men are to be made gallant by law in the State of Michoacan, where Governor Mercado has issued regulations requiring male passengers in street cars to give their seats to ladies or go to jail.

Willis P. Gregg, Phoenix, has applied for letters of administration on the estate of his sister, Ella V. Gregg, who died in Phoenix June 16th, leaving $2,600 real and $1,700 personal property.

Mr. George Pettingill, who has been for several months editor of the Central Square News, has mysteriously disappeared, leaving his wife and a two months old child. The paper has been re-purchased by Mr. W. H. Vrooman of Central Square.

Whitaker & Lovejoy have sold to Mr. Watson A. Butts for Mrs. C. M. Humphrey, the beautiful property at the corner of State and South Fourth streets. Mr. Butts will remodel the house and grounds into one of the finest residences in the city for his own occupancy.

Justice DeAngelis has granted an order permitting the Battle Island Paper company to settle the claim of Richard J. Cullen. Mr. Cullen secured a verdict of $15,000 against the company for alledged using of plans belonging to him. How much he accepted in settlement is not known.

Mr. W. J. Pentelow, of Corona, Calif., has been elected president of the Pacific Coast Carbon Paper Manufacturing Co., of that city, with a capital of $50,000. Mr. Pentlow is one of the busiest men in the land of sunshine and his co-operation and advice are eagerly sought by business men and politicians.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Munger of Fifth street entertained in honor of a party which left on Tuesday for California. Games, music and refreshments were enjoyed. The guests of honor were Mrs. C. E. Benton of Phoenix, Miss Carrie E. Denton of Brooklyn, who will visit Mr. E. J. Denton of Riverside, Calif., and Mrs. F. T. Payne who will visit her son, John, in San Diego, Calif. Among the guests present were several from Mt. Pleasant as well as this city.

George Potts of Asbury Park, N. J., has contributed the money to erect a soldiers' monument at that place. A committee of C. K. Hall Post proposed the grounds given by James A. Bradley. Cannon were loaned to the Post by Admiral Sampson. Mr. Potts will be remembered as the pioneer in building the Phoenix railroad from its connection with the Ontario & Western south of Fulton to Syracuse. After the road was graded, bridge built at Three Rivers and bed made ready for the iron, it was completed by the New York Central Company.

Stanley Dry Plates, 4x5, only 33c per dozen, at Lasher's Book Store.

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.

STOCK BROKERS

Oswego Office—No. 6 Neal Block

Phone 1208 C. J. Bellinger, Mgr.

Securities bought and sold for cash or on moderate margins.

New York Office—53 Broadway

Mr. T. H. Webb has been on a western business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howe have been at Pleasant Point.

Mr. Maurice Conley has been confined to his home with a severe cold.

Mrs. Starr Hill and son spent last Thursday at Cass Hill's in Volney.

Miss Bertha LaLonde is at Blue Mountain Lake, Adirondack mountains.

Mrs. Elmer Morrill and Mrs. Julia Steele entertained at tea on Tuesday evening.

Louis and George Rice have returned from a camping expedition in the Adirondacks.

Miss Florence Benedict of New York city is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Benedict.

Mrs. Orsaville LaDu of Syracuse is visiting Mrs. Charles Johnson on Sixth street.

The marriage of Mr. William LaPorte and Miss Sarah Gordon will take place this Wednesday.

Mrs. Lydia Osborne is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Charles Bacon at Sylvan Beach.

Miss Florence Buell was the guest of Miss Gertrude Rowlee at Mt. Pleasant over Sunday.

Charles Perry is spending a few weeks at the home of Frank Mack near Mt. Pleasant.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Floyd Haviland have returned to New York city after a visit with Dr. and Mrs. N. H. Haviland.

The What-so-ever society of the First Methodist church will enjoy a picnic on Wednesday at the home of Miss Lorano Fuller.

Mr. Alexander Wise and grandson, Floyd Allport, who have been visiting local friends, have returned to their home in Cleveland, Ohio.

The query had often been made as to the price paid for the new street cleaner for use on the paved streets. The Times was informed at the office of the Department of Public Works that the price paid was $200.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Inman, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Inman, Mr. and Mrs. E. W Emory and son, George, of Oswego; Mrs. Mary Suydam, Misses Jessie and Helen Suydam and Mr. Floyd Suydam, are spending a month at "Camp All-In" in Reynolds Woods.

Miss Helen S. Osborne has been granted a years leave of absence by the Board of Education that she may attend the Normal school in Oswego for that length of time to pursue a special course of study. Miss Cecelia Rohner of Dansville will take her place.

The Times announced several weeks ago that Miss Helen C. Parminter, instructor in music and drawing in the local schools, had resigned her position to study under the best teachers in her especial line, in New York City. Miss Parminter will enter The Teachers College of New York City and she will be succeeded in Fulton by Miss Ada L. Thompson of Glenns Falls, a graduate of the Albany Normal School. Miss Parminter's resignation and contemplated departure from Fulton is regretted by her many friends who never-the-less congratulate her that she is, by the step, to fulfill a life long ambition.

A new eighteen-inch cylinder Oliver typewriter has been installed in the local post office. It is one of the best made, containing all the up-to-date improvements, and it is not only a thing of beauty, but a joy forever, to Assistant Postmaster Hargrave, who manipulates the keys for the weekly money order report. The machine's usefulness does not stop there; it is unique in its simplicity, and can also be used for all correspondence with the Department and elsewhere. Mason Brothers are the agents for the Oliver in this city, and the United States Postal Department's selection of the machine for the service, speaks volumes for its quality and practicability.

Situation Wanted

A first class accountant and office man, thoroughly familiar with up-to-date methods of cost accounting, wants position with manufacturing concern. Address X, Times office, Fulton.

Mrs. Joseph Sloan will spend the Summer in the Adirondacks.

Mrs. H. C. Abbott of Oneida street is visiting friends in Oswego and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Kenyon of Hannibal street are recovering from illness.

Rev. John Richards and family go to Chautauqua Friday for a three weeks' vacation.

Rev. F. M. Harvey of Boston will conduct the services at the First M. E. Church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Conley and son Maurice called on friends near Mt. Pleasant recently.

Mrs. William J. McKnight and two sons of South Third street are visiting friends in Sterling.

Undertaker Earl S. Brown of Third street has just returned from a business trip to Michigan.

Mr. Ralph Dutton has returned from Montana after a visit on the ranch belonging to his brothers.

George Palmer and his two sons of Worth street are spending the week at the Thousand Island Park.

Prof. and Mrs. James R. Fairgrieve and family will spend some time at Pleasant Point club house.

Mrs. Foster and her two sons of Second street are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hannum of South Granby.

The Times is in receipt of the year book of the Sandy Creek Fair Association for 1908. The Fair will be held August 25-28 inclusive.

Mr. Thomas D. Lewis will dispose of his household goods at private sale at his home, No. 133 South First street, on Monday, July 27, commencing at 10 o'clock.

Elizabeth Chapter, O. E. S., will hold a picnic at Long Branch on Friday, July 24, the round trip tickets being 75 cents. The special train will leave the Cayuga street depot at 9:10 on Friday morning and the return trip will be made in good season.

The residents of Oneida street between Second and Sixth streets, have selected Mr. Maurice Conley and Dr. E. J. Cusack, to represent them before the Board of Public Works in the matter of paving Oneida street. Nothing definite has been decided as yet regarding cost, width of street, etc.

Messrs. F. J. Switzer, J. W. Rigley and Wells Hannum compose a committee to solicit funds for the proposed new pipe organ for the Congregational church, Andrew Carnegie having promised to donate one half the necessary amount when the first half shall have become secured. The work is progressing satisfactorily, a considerable sum having already been pledged.

For Bargains attend the Clearance Sale of trimmed hats and millinery goods at Youngs,
Cayuga street.

She Hated Garrick.

Mrs. Clive was eminent as an actress on the London stage before Garrick appeared, and as his blaze of excellence threw all others into comparative insignificance she never forgave him and took every opportunity of venting her spleen. She was coarse, rude and violent in her temper and spared nobody.

One night as Garrick was performing "King Lear" she stood behind the scenes to observe him and, in spite of the roughness of her nature, was so deeply affected that she sobbed one minute and abused him the next, and at length, overcome by his pathetic touches, she hurried from the place with the following extraordinary tribute to the universality of his powers: "Hang him! I believe he could act a gridiron."—T. P.'s Weekly.

Giving Them Credit.

"You know," said the distinguished oriental who manifests much curiosity, "that the Chinese discovered the art of printing from type thousands of years ago?"

"Yes," replied the man who was being interviewed. "And incidentally I don't doubt that they were the original inventors of the interrogation point."—Washington Star.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se 16

REMEMBER !

that I am now selling goods for Cash and am prepared to give you bargains. I can and will save you money on

All Staple Groceries

For picnic and camping parties I have two sandwich specials, very choice and delicious—CANNED LOBSTER PASTE, and POTTED SHRIMPS. Beside these I have a full line of all desirable grocery supplies.

Try my SPECIAL BREAD FLOUR at $1.45 per one-fourth barrel. Your money refunded if it is not satisfactory.

Fine selected Early June Peas at 10c per can.

I will sell you a COFFEE at 19 cents per pound that you cannot duplicate elsewhere for 25 cents.

Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

A. L. WARNER

Are you going away?

Are you well supplied with Cigars, Pipes and Tobacco?

If not, call and see my stock at 109 Cayuga street.

Victor C. Lewis.

A Cruel Insinuation.

Stern Old Lady—They tell me, madam, your husband is continually smoking dreadfully—

Young Woman (bursting into tears)—I don't believe it, your horrid old thing!

Old Lady (astounded)—What's the matter with the woman?

Officious Bystander—Her husband's dead.—Baltimore American.

Hard to Decide.

Smithers—I am going to have my picture taken. A good deal depends upon the pose, don't you know. Now, what kind of a position do you think would be the best for me? Brownrig—Well, I don't know. I was going to say with your back to the camera, but then your hair is rather thin behind.—Boston Transcript.

The $1,500 Kind.

"Ah, that's pretty!" said Mr Snooks, looking over a number of architectural designs. "What is that?"

"That," said the architect, "is a $1,500 bungalow."

"What will it cost to build it?" asked Mr. Snooks.

"About $8,000," said the architect.—Judge's Library.

It Was Tantamount.

"Has she told you that she loved you?"

"Not in so many words. She merely asked me what life insurance I carried."

Fortune gives too much to many, but to none enough.—Martial.

The Secret.

Blobbs—There is only one thing a woman loves better than to be told a secret. Slobbs—What is that? Blobbs—To find it out for herself.—Philadelphia Record.

Beautiful this thought and beautiful the language wherewith Sir Philip Sidney gave it expression, "They are never alone who are accompanied by noble thoughts."

Try a Waterman "Safety Fountain Pen" for your Summer vacation. At Lasher's Book Store.

Complete Protection

Fire Insurance

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y

968

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

First National Bank,

OF FULTON,

at Fulton, in the State of New York, at the close of business, July 15, 1908:

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts		$295,291 34
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		562 88
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		57,500 00
Bonds, Securities, etc.		2,046 98
Banking house, furniture and fixtures		3,210 12
Due from National Banks (not reserve agents)		471 39
Due from approved reserve agents		44,807 71
Checks and other cash items		120 70
Exchanges for clearing house		650 62
Notes of other National Banks		2,769 00
Fractional paper currency, nickles and cents		505 91
Lawful Money Reserve in Bank, viz:
Specie	$10,417 50
Legal-tender notes	6,237 00
		1,654 50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,875 00
Total		$428,066 15

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$57,500 00
Surplus fund	42,500 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	10,518 34
National Bank notes outstanding	57,500 00
Due to other National Banks	728 80
Due to State banks and bankers	26 26
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	22,000 00
Dividends unpaid	64 00
Individual deposits subject to check	183,736 86
Demand certificates of deposit	37,459 99
Certified checks	500 00
Bills payable, including certificates of deposit for money borrowed	15,000 00
Reserved for taxes	543 90
Total	$428,066 15

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF OSWEGO, } ss:

I, L. C. Foster, cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

L. C. FOSTER, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of July, 1908.

CLAUDE E. GUILE, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:

F. A. GAGE,
L. W. EMERICK,
THOMAS HUNTER, } Directors.

The First National Bank

IS PAYING

4%

INTEREST

Beginning July 10, Specials Every Day During July

Monday, July 27

30c Wash Boards	25c
Large Extra Heavy Galvanized Pails	39c
60c Lemonade Tumblers, per dozen	50c
85c Wash Tubs	65c
70c Clothes Basket	60c
10c Glass Dishes	7c
10c Fruit Dishes	3 for 25c

Tuesday, July 28

5c Box Tooth Picks	3c
10c Toasters	7c
10c Granite Pie Tins	6c
10c Towels	8c
15c Towels	2 for 23c
10c Potato Masher	8c
5c Tea Strainers for	3c

Watch all these columns for Specials this month at the

Bee Hive Store

J. H. St. Louis & Co.

24 South First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Friday, July 24

8 Rolls Toilet Paper	25c
5c Lamp Burners	3c
10c Lamp Burners	6c
15c Towels	2 for 23c
Ladies' Gauze Vests	9c, 10c, 13c
Ladies' 19c Gauze Pants	13c
10c Cream Pitchers	7c

Saturday, July 24

50c Preserving Kettles	39c
35c Foot Tubs	29c
60c Tumblers, per dozen	50c
Tumblers, worth 40c, per dozen	30c
Water Set, worth 48c, for	39c
Some Underwear and Hosiery at reduced prices.
Ladies' Handkerchiefs	3c up

We do not say these prices cannot be duplicated, but these goods cannot be at these prices.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
218, First St. Fulton N Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
122 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD.S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
Special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 60
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EST. 1862. Residence over store, No. 40 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.

Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosities treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

MILLARD STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in the city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

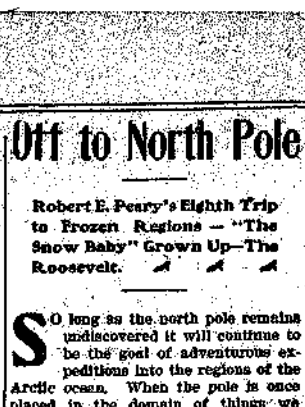
When ever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the

CLAYTON J. MILLER,
Surrogate

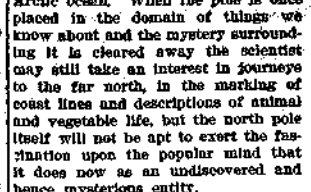
A Reliable Remedy for CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

HAY FEVER

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling.



Off to North Pole



Robert E. Peary's Eighth Trip to Frozen Regions — "The Snow Baby" Grown Up—The Roosevelt.

So long as the north pole remains undiscovered it will continue to be the goal of adventurous expeditions into the regions of the Arctic ocean. When the pole is once placed in the domain of things we know about and the mystery surrounding it is cleared away the scientist may still take an interest in journeys to the far north, in the marking of coast lines and descriptions of animal and vegetable life, but the north pole itself will not be apt to exert the fascination upon the popular mind that it does now as an undiscovered and hence mysterious entity.

Commander Robert E. Peary, who has just started on what he declares will be his last trip to the polar regions, is as enthusiastic as ever in his quest. "If I do not make a successful dash," he said before leaving, "I do not think I shall try again—not because I have failed, but because I am growing old. I have the same enthusiasm, but the years are piling up on me."

Commander Peary was fifty-two years old in May last. It is thirty-one years since he graduated from Bowdoin, twenty-seven since he entered the United States navy as a civil engineer and twenty-two since he went on his first arctic trip and made his reconnoissance of the inland Greenland ice cap. It is just a score of years since he married Miss Josephine Diebitsch, who went with him on his expeditions of 1891-2 and 1893-4 as far as winter quarters in Greenland and who was the first white woman to winter with an arctic expedition. It was while her parents were in the arctic that Marie Ahnighito Peary, famous as the "snow baby," was born. She is now a young lady, or almost one, at any rate. "On September 12, 1893," wrote Commander Peary, "an interesting event occurred at Anniversary Lodge in the arrival of a little nine pound stranger. This little, blue eyed snowflake, born at the close of the arctic summer day, deep in the heart of the white north, far beyond the farthest limit of civilized people or habitations, saw the cold gray light of the arctic autumn once only before the great night settled upon us. Then she was bundled deep in soft, warm arctic furs and wrapped in the stars and stripes." She kicked and crowed in a crib made out of a soap box in a little frame house thickly covered and bound together by a glittering sheeting of ice.

BUST OF ROBERT E. PEARY BY WILLIAM ORDWAY PARTRIDGE AND THE SHIP ROOSEVELT.

This is Peary's eighth journey to the far north. He came within 200 miles of the pole in 1906, when he reached 87 degrees 6 minutes, the farthest point north that any white man has ever been and lived to tell the tale. Speaking of this expedition, the explorer said: "I should have reached the pole if the supplies had not fallen short at the psychological moment. There was the distance reduced to a minimum that could have been covered in a few days. For a moment I was half inclined to hazard the chances, to risk all now that the pole seemed to be within my reach. I weighed the chances in my mind. Then I came back."

Commander Peary thinks the lesson of that journey will be a help in winning success in this expedition. He has taken every possible precaution against accident, failure of supplies, etc. The steamship Roosevelt, which was equipped for this expedition by the Peary Arctic club at a cost of about $50,000, contains a splendid outfit. President Theodore Roosevelt boarded her when she dropped anchor in Oyster Bay on her way north and bade the explorer and his party godspeed. He is much interested in the success of the expedition to the frozen circle.

The bust of Peary by the eminent sculptor William Ordway Partridge gives a good idea of the strength and determination which have enabled the explorer to win his way in the frozen north despite the overwhelming character of the hardships he has so often encountered.

It was executed by the sculptor for the Peary Arctic club.

Do You Open Your Mouth

like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and vouches for it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Half of the Pleasure.

The youngest girl of a Baltimore family was recently much distressed at dessert to discover that there was ice cream for dinner.

"Oh, papa," exclaimed the youngster reproachfully, "why didn't they tell me this morning that we were going to have ice cream?"

"What difference would that have made?"

"Lots!" sighed the child. "I could have expected it all day."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Strolling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Wanted a Pusher.

"What did the new neighbors come to borrow now?"

"They wanted the lawn mower."

"Is that all?"

"That was all they spoke about, but I think from the way they stood around they would like to have borrowed my husband to run it."—Nashville American.

A Keen Business Man.

Noah landed on Ararat.

"Fine," he cried—"a mountain and seashore resort in one!"

Herewith he started to build a summer hotel.—New York Sun.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is good for cuts, burns, bruises and scratches. It is especially good for piles. Recommended and sold by all druggists.

Helping the Burglar Out.

"John," she whispered, "there's a burglar in the drawing room. He has just knocked against the piano and hit several keys at once."

"I'll go down," said he.

"Oh, John, don't do anything rash!"

"Rash! Why, I'm going to help him. You don't suppose he can remove the piano from the house without assistance!"—London Throne.

Far Fields Are Greener.

A boy always brags of what he will do when he's a man.

And when he becomes a man he always boasts of what he did when he was a boy.—Pick-Me-Up.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

GEORGE R. SHELDON.

Newly Elected Treasurer of the Republican National Committee.

George R. Sheldon, the new treasurer of the Republican national committee, is a New York banker and is president of the Union League club of New York, one of the most influential social organizations in the country and containing a large number of representative Republicans in its membership. Mr. Sheldon's choice for the post of treasurer of the national committee was in part due to the fact that in the campaign of Charles E. Hughes for the governorship of New York in 1906 he raised a fund of $333,623.60 and made a public accounting of every cent of it under the new publicity law of New York state. Mr. Sheldon was himself a leading candidate for his party's nomination as lieutenant governor several years ago. He was born in New York in 1857 and educated at St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., and at Harvard university, graduating from the latter institution with the degree of A. B. in 1879. He married Miss Mary P. Seney in 1881. Mr. Sheldon was a member of the Republican national committee in 1903 and 1904, was treasurer of the New York county committee from 1899 to 1903 and became treasurer of the New York state committee in 1906. He is a director in a number of banking and industrial corporations and in several street railway companies.

GEORGE R. SHELDON.

HOMELESS JUDGE TAFT.

The Republican Presidential Nominee Is Used to Being on the Move.

Since he resigned his post as secretary of war and gave up his Washington residence William H. Taft has been, as he himself put it, "a candidate without a job, a man without a home." The residence in the nation's capital which for some years past has been pointed out as the home of the ex-war secretary is a substantial looking and well appointed house, but is not at all palatial. Judge Taft himself is not a rich man, for he has been serving his country since early manhood in posts of responsibility and importance, the income from which was little if any more than sufficient to support the incumbent and his family in a manner becoming their station. The Tafts have always regarded Cincinnati as their home city, but it is a long time since Judge Taft has kept up an establishment of his own there. It is over eight years since he first went to the Philippines, and Manila was his headquarters for more than four years thereafter. Even after he became secretary of war he was on the jump from one part of the world to another to settle problems connected with the insular possessions of the government or the Panama canal or Cuba. This summer he and Mrs. Taft will make their headquarters at Hot Springs, Va., but his movements will be governed largely by the exigencies of the campaign just as in the past eight years they have been governed chiefly by the interests of the government as interpreted by the administration at Washington. Judge Taft and his clever and accomplished helpmeet have learned to take things as they come and enjoy life in whatever clime they may chance to be.

ENTRANCE TO THE FORMER RESIDENCE OF JUDGE TAFT IN WASHINGTON.

They will not mind having been on the move a good deal for the past few years if their next home should be the White House.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Family Secrets.

A father complains that his little six-year-old girl is too talkative. He says: The worst of it is when we have visitors she is continually making mistakes of the worst sort, mistakes that tend to rattle the dry bones of the family skeleton in the cupboard. Recently she allowed her tongue to run away with her, as usual, the result of which was that she very much embarrassed both her father and mother, although the guests seemed delighted.

I had a very serious talk with her and impressed upon her, or tried to that she must not tell any family secret. The next time we had company she was permitted to come to the table only by promising that she wouldn't utter a word.

She behaved beautifully and had nothing to say until the dessert was about to be taken away. Then her lips began to quiver, and finally she burst into tears.

"Why, what's the matter, darling?" her mother asked.

"I—I want some more ice cream, but that isn't a family secret," she wailed between sobs.—London Telegraph.

An Unexpected Burns Lecture.

John Augustus O'Shea used to be in considerable request as a lecturer on his military experiences. Once, at Dumfries, he came upon the platform wearing in his buttonhole a daisy which he quietly removed and held up.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began, "I hold in my hand a 'wee modest gowan' I plucked this evening from the grave of Robert Burns." The audience was interested and became enthralled as the lecturer went on to speak of the national poet. Then suddenly recollecting that Burns had nothing to do with his subject, he stopped abruptly. "And now," said Mr. O'Shea, "I will proceed to relate my experiences in the war."

But by this time he had thoroughly engaged the sympathies of his listeners, who would not hear of another subject. "Never min' the war, sir," they vociferated: "gie us Robbie Burns!" And he did. This extemporation afterward became one of the most popular of Mr. O'Shea's lectures.—London Chronicle.

Annoying the Passengers.

"There used to be in one of the southern states," said a military man, "a railroad that was notorious for its slowness. This line was so slow that the people took to lampooning it in the press. Thus one Memorial day a planter wrote to the Rapier, the leading paper of his district:

"The Editor of the Rapier:

"Dear Sir—Is there no way to put a stop to begging along the line of the railroad? For instance, yesterday an aged veteran with a wooden leg kept pace with the afternoon express all the way from Paint Rock to Nole Chucky and annoyed the passengers exceedingly, going from one open window to another with his importunate solicitations.

"VOX POPULI."

—Washington Star.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St. ..... 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St.. 5.10 P. M
" New York, West 42d St., 5.20 P.M
" New York, Desbrosses St.. 5.30 P.M
Stopping stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music; cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. C. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND
5.48 a. m. ..... Train No. 335
8.10 a. m., Daily ..... " 337
11.51 a. m. ..... " 301
3.31 p. m., Daily ..... " 351
6.16 p. m. ..... " 303
10.10 p. m., Daily ..... " 315
SOUTH BOUND
8.04 a. m. ..... Train No. 302
9.39 a. m., Daily ..... " 318
2.14 p. m. ..... " 350
5.09 p. m., Daily ..... " 328
7.04 p. m. ..... " 342
9.34 p. m., Daily ..... " 336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card In Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND
*Chicago Limited for all points West ... n 3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego ..... 11 00 "
*Local for Oswego ..... 5 18 PM
*Local for Oswego ..... 8 45 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego ..... 7 30 "
SOUTH BOUND
†Express for Norwich ..... 3 22 AM
eSylvan Beach Special ..... 8 55 "
*Local for Sidney ..... 9 18 AM
*Limited for New York ..... 12 30 PM
†Express for New York ..... 7 00 "
n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
e Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers, Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, G. A. PAWS, Traveling Agent, 96 Beaver St., New York. Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Interesting to day. Cancer grows fast. We have proofs of cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway cor. 27th St. N Y

John W. Kern

The Hoosier Statesman Who Runs on the Ticket With William J. Bryan—His Record, His Family and His Party Service.

INDIANA has the vice presidency now, and it was with the view of keeping the office in possession of the Hoosier State that the national Democratic convention at Denver named John Worth Kern of Indianapolis to run on the national ticket of the party with William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska. Of course that was not the only reason for the choice. There were many others, and good ones, too, but the leaders thought it would be a good thing to make an appeal to state pride in Mr. Kern's commonwealth by naming him to run for the office now held by that other eminent Indiana statesman, Charles W. Fairbanks. Some surprise has been expressed at the nomination of Mr.

JOHN W. KERN AND HIS HOME.

Kern for vice president in view of the fact that he was twice a candidate for governor of Indiana and was twice defeated, but in these campaigns, although defeated, he each time ran about 12,000 ahead of his ticket, and his record made him the leading Democrat of his state.

The Kerns came originally from Germany, but that was a good while ago—considerably over a hundred years. Adam Kern, great-grandfather of the vice presidential candidate, was born in the fatherland. He came to America before the Revolution. Mr. Kern's father and grandfather were born in Virginia, and the former, in obedience to the sentiment that westward the sway of empire takes its way, moved to Indiana and became one of the pioneers of the commonwealth. That was in 1838. John Worth Kern was born at Alto, Howard county, Dec. 29, 1849. When he was five years old his father, Dr. Jacob Kern, removed to Warren county, In., and remained ten years. When the Democratic statesman was in his early teens his mother died and his father took him and his sister back to their old home in Indiana. It was about this time that young John began attending the State Normal school in Kokomo, riding on horseback ten miles each way every day. He began teaching school himself as soon as he was old enough, and with money earned in this way he went to the University of Michigan and took a course in law, being graduated in 1869. He hung out his shingle in Kokomo as soon as he was of age, and he was only twenty-one when he was first nominated for the state legislature. He was not successful in that canvass, but in 1878 was elected city attorney of Kokomo and held the office for six years. In 1884 he was chosen official reporter of the state supreme court and to discharge the duties of the post removed to Indianapolis, which he has since made his home. In 1892 he was elected a member of the state senate, serving four years, and from 1897 to 1901 he served as city attorney of Indianapolis. His first nomination for governor of Indiana was in 1900, when he ran against William T. Durbin and was defeated, and in 1904 he was defeated by Governor Hanly.

COPYRIGHT 1908 BY WALDON FAWCETT

WILLIAM COOPER KERN AND JOHN W. KERN, JR.

Mr. Kern has a reputation not only as an eloquent speaker, but as a lawyer who understands constitutional questions. He received the complimentary vote of his party for the United States senatorship in 1905. Mr. Kern belongs to the Knights of Pythias and the Order of Elks and is a thirty-second degree Mason. He is president of the Commercial club of Indianapolis and belongs to the University and Century clubs. He is not wealthy, but has enjoyed a comfortable income from his law practice. He and Mr. Bryan have been close friends for over a dozen years, and Mr. Kern delivered many eloquent speeches in behalf of the election of the Nebraskan to the presidency in the two campaigns in which he ran for the office before.

COPYRIGHT 1908 BY WALDON FAWCETT

MRS. KERN AND MISS JULIA KERN.

The Kern home is a hospitable looking mansion at 1380 North Pennsylvania street, Indianapolis, and as the Kerns have long been prominent in the society of the Indiana capital the residence of the vice presidential nominee has become known as a social center. The family consists of Mrs. Kern, a daughter, Miss Julia, about twenty-three, and two sons, John Worth Kern, Jr., aged eight, and the baby of the family, William Cooper Kern, aged four. Mr. Kern has been twice married, and Miss Kern is a daughter of the first wife. The present Mrs. Kern is prominent in the civic life of Indianapolis and is a leading member of the Women's council. She divides her attention between her children and philanthropic work, kindergarten education appealing especially to her interest. She is a woman of much personal charm and has a large circle of admirers

MISS EVALYN WALSH.

A Noted Beauty and Her Approaching Nuptials.

Society in several cities is much interested in the nuptials of Miss Evalyn Walsh and Ned McLean, son of John R. McLean of Washington and Cincinnati. Miss Walsh is the daughter of Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado multimillionaire. The family for several years has spent its winters in Washington and its summers in Newport. Miss Walsh met with injury in an automobile accident three summers ago. Her brother Vinson, who was with her at the time, was killed. To assist his daughter in recovering her health Mr. Walsh had a boudoir automobile constructed, fitted out with lounge, reclining chair and other conveniences, and in it Miss Walsh spent some time traveling in search of health and vigor. She was educated in part abroad and is very accomplished.

MISS EVALYN WALSH.

Amos Allen of Maine.

Congressman Amos Allen of Maine is one of the quietest men in the world. He does not take to speech-making, but no man attends legislative sessions more closely. He was a classmate of the late Thomas B. Reed, was his secretary while Reed was speaker of the house and was elected his successor when Reed decided to quit public life.

Preserving the Balance.

A well known professor of architecture, commonly referred to as "Hammy" by his pupils, told a story illustrative of the remarkable degree to which certain persons possess the sense of symmetry.

It seems that there was once a Scotch gardener who had charge of a good sized English estate and under whose direction the formal garden at the rear had been laid out with absolute symmetry, even the two summer houses, one on each side of the garden being identical in even the most minute detail. On one occasion the Englishman became angry at his son and locked him up in one of the summer houses. As soon as the Scotch gardener heard of this his sense of symmetry was so outraged that he immediately sent for his own son and locked him up in the other summer house to preserve the balance. "Hammy" neglected to mention whether both boys were dressed exactly alike, but it is to be presumed that even this detail was attended to by the aesthetic Scotchman.—New York Times.

Postage Stamp Gum.

Every time a person licks a United States postage stamp he gets a taste of sweet potato. The gum with which the stamps are backed is made from that succulent vegetable because Uncle Sam's lieutenants consider it the most harmless preparation of the sort. All of the gum used on American postage stamps is mixed by the government at the bureau of engraving and printing where the stamps are made. It is spread on the sheets after the stamps have been printed. The gum, in a liquid form, is forced up through pipes from the basement, where it is made. These pipes lead to a series of machines consisting of rollers, between which the sheets of stamps are fed, one at a time. A continuous fine stream of the liquid gum falls upon one of these rollers. The sheet with its wet coating of sweet potato mucilage passes from the rollers into a long horizontal flue filled with hot air. When it emerges at the other end of the flue the gum is dry.—New York Telegram.

Straight From the Animal.

A London gentleman, having taken a small farm in the country as being the correct thing to do, as well as to get a little fresh air, had invited some of his friends down to see his new possession.

Having viewed the domain and noting the absence of creature life about the place, one of his friends remarked:

"With a nice, open place like this, I wonder you don't have some animals about, as is usual on a farm. Some cows, for instance, so as to have your own butter and cream."

"No-o," drawled his host, "don't care about butter or cream."

"Some chickens or ducks, then. You surely like fresh eggs?"

"No-o, don't care for eggs. But I've sometimes thought I'd like a sheep. I rather like kidneys for breakfast."—Liverpool Mercury.

The Palisades.

To see New York city from the Palisades is to witness the multiple beauty and wonder of the Palisades themselves. One of the most astonishing facts concerning these towering masses of grandeur is that they lie so close to the most artificial, man subjugated area that civilization has evolved, writes Philip Verrill Mighels in Harper's Magazine. To come upon the Palisades from the rear at night is like stepping to the edge of the world, where the slender, dark island lies low beyond as if it were only a part of space, its countless lights looking like millions of stars stretched for miles across the sky. The illusion is dispelled when the wind flows up with the tide to the base of the cliffs and lifts up the full throated roar of the substantial city.

Approaching It Gradually.

An old farmer, on paying his rent, told his landlord he wanted some timber to build a house and would be much obliged to him if he would give permission to cut down wood for the purpose.

The landlord answered peremptorily, "No."

"Why, then, sir," said he, "will you give me enough to build a barn?"

"No."

"To make a gate, then?"

"Yes."

"That's all I wanted," said the farmer, "and more than I expected."—Pearson's Weekly.

Complimentary to Him.

"Really," said Cholly Sappey, "I cawn't understand Miss Rood at all. She actually called me a crank."

"The idea!" exclaimed Miss Cutting. "How flattering!"

"Flattering?"

"Yes; a crank, you know, is a man with one idea."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Delays Are Dangerous.

"This milk is sour, and I won't take it," declared the lady.

"That's your own fault, ma'am," retorted the dealer. "I offered it to you day before yesterday when it was fresh, and you wouldn't take it."—Cleveland Leader.

A Happy Medium.

Uncle inquired of little Bobby if he had been a good boy. Bobby—No, I haven't. Uncle—Why, I hope you haven't been very bad. Bobby—Oh, no; just comfortable.—Delaware County Democrat.

Habit of the Postman.

Why is it that the postman never stops at your house when you are expecting a check and always does when you are expecting a bill?—Columbus (O.) Journal

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2 qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50
All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

A Dispenser of Smiles.

Her mother said, "Oh, dear! Isn't that awful? What will people think?" but the people themselves seemed to think it about the prettiest incident they had met that day.

She was a very little girl, white frocked, pink ribboned, brown curled. With her mother she left the subway train at the Grand Central station. The usual confusion prevailed. Timid travelers grabbed suit cases and bundles and exclaimed, "Oh, do we change here?" Trainmen on the platform shouted out directions for local and express trains and the guards of that particular car adjured the passengers frequently and vehemently to "Step lively!" and to "Watch the step." Then all of a sudden there was a lull in the uproar. The little girl was leaving the car. She stopped at the door, looked back and waved her hand.

"Goodby, everybody," she said.

The words carried to the far end of the car. They made every one sit up. Two or three persons called out a responsive "Goodby," two or three said "Bless the child," and all smiled.—New York Press.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Pigs of Brittany.

"Brittany is all right," the traveled man said cautiously, "but beware of the pigs there. The Breton pig is not fat and indolent like ours. He is as lean and fiery as a wolf and twice a wolf's size. All over Brittany you see him, swaggering up and down the white roads in search of roots, berries, frogs, anything—for he must forage for himself—his master never feeds him. Step out of his way, or he will snarl and leap at you.

"The Bretons are great drunkards. Sometimes they fall asleep beside the road. They awake with a sharp pain in the arm or leg, the pain of a hungry hog's teeth."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Picture Story.

Two hunters are seen walking all over the moving picture.

They think they are following bear tracks.

Suddenly the foremost hunter stops with a start.

"By gum," he shouts, "them ain't b'ar's tracks at all; them's the slide man's dirty thumb marks."—Bohemian Magazine.

We are now adding the Waldorf $2.50 Shoe to our stock. The Wells Cash Shoe Store.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctor's fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by E. A. Putnam. Samples free.

On a New Footing.

Mr. Absalom Foote, an eccentric old gentleman who had grown tired of life in the city, decided to move to some smaller town, free from the roar of traffic, the bustle and confusion of the thronging multitude, where he could end his days tranquilly, as became a man of his age. In casting about for a location, his eye chanced to light upon the advertisement in a village paper of one Thomas R. Foote, who wanted to dispose of his boot and shoe store at a bargain, having made up his mind to remove to the city.

"That's the very thing," he said. "Selling shoes is a nice easy occupation. It will give me just enough to do to keep me from stagnating, and it won't wear me out with overwork. I'll investigate it. It's queer, though, that his name is Foote, my name is Foote, he wants to come to the city and I want to go to the country."

A visit to the little town decided him. He liked its appearance and location. He was pleased, moreover, with "Foote's Shoe Store" and bought it, good will and all, at a bargain.

"Well," said the other Mr. Foote, "you won't have to change the sign."

"No," he answered slowly. "I'll just add a little to it."

The next day he added this, just below the sign: "This place has changed feet."

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol for Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 pounds; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity may be benefitted. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by all druggists.

A Dream Superstition.

I heard what was to me at least a new piece of superstition the other day, and when I think of the risks I've run all these years because I didn't know of it my blood runs cold. I met a woman from Virginia in market, and the talk falling on dreams I recalled a most blood curdling nightmare I had had the night before.

"I must tell you what I dreamed last night," I said.

"Let me ask first whether it's a pleasant or an unpleasant dream?" said the lady from Virginia.

"Decidedly unpleasant."

"Then for mercy's sake don't tell it!" said she. "Never tell a bad dream on Saturday, for we say in Virginia:

"Friday night's dream on Saturday told
Is sure to come true, no matter how old."

—Washington Post.

A Radhot Flood.

An example of mixed metaphor was heard at a seamen's meeting at South Shields, an enthusiastic speaker urging the crowd to "take the tide by the flood and grasp it red hot."—London Chronicle.

A Psychic Phenomenon.

An extraordinary incident is connected with Professor von Herkomer's famous painting, "The Last Muster," which was the picture of its year at the academy.

One morning soon after the exhibition was opened the artist was astonished to receive a letter from a lady, a perfect stranger, who said she was not aware until she saw "The Last Muster" at the academy on the previous day that her mother, then dead, had ever sat to the professor for her portrait.

Now, the figure in the picture was painted solely from imagination, and the artist hastened to explain this fact to his correspondent. She thereupon asked for an appointment and took an oil painting of her mother, asserting that it was a faithful representation of that lady.

The academician was astonished to perceive that he had really portrayed on his own canvas a facsimile of the figure in this other painting, although it was that of a woman whom he had never seen in his life.—London M. A. P.

Shipwrecks and Courts Martial.

The custom of holding courts martial in the British navy after every case of shipwreck has a curious origin. In 1741 the Wager, one of Commodore Anson's vessels, was wrecked off the coast of Chile, most of the crew being saved. The men and some of the junior officers held that they were no longer amenable to discipline because their pay ceased with the wreck, but the captain, whose name was Davy Cheap, differed, treated them as mutineers and shot one of his midshipmen. He was then deposed, and most of the crew made off in three of the boats. Later when it was proposed to proceed against the so called mutineers the law officers of the crown decided that the men had been correct in their view. This discovery led to the framing of section 91 of the articles of war, which provides that in the case of shipwreck, destruction or capture by the enemy a ship is held to remain in commission pending inquiry by a court martial.

Handicapped.

Judge—Remember, witness, you are sworn to tell the truth, and nothing but the truth. Witness—Judge, I am trying my durndest to do it, but that pie faced slob of a lawyer there won't let me!—Chicago Tribune.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup

Relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious and healthy action of the bowels.
Relieves Coughs by cleansing and strengthening the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes.

The Original Laxative Cough Syrup

Conforms to National Pure Food and Drug Law

For Croup, Whooping Cough, La Grippe, Influenza, Bronchitis, and all Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Children like it.

Put up in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles at the Laboratory of E.C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago, U.S.A.

Pleasant to take Children like it.

All Druggists

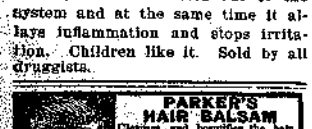
INTERESTING COMMUNICATION.

Mr. S. D. Gardner has received recently the following communication from Mr. E. A. Henderson of Fairbanks, Alaska, a son of Mr. Orrin Henderson of this city.

My dear Sands:—I was pleased as usual to receive your letter some time since but was in the middle of a term of Court and so busy I could not answer it. The clippings you send interest me and keep me informed about things one would fail to mention in a letter. When I read your sketches of army life I wish that you might be fixed so that you could revisit the old scenes. You know Flagler is building a railroad to connect all the Florida keys and if I am not mistaken it extends to old Dry Tortugas. Sitting in the cars one has the impression of being out at sea, as the road bed is not visible. It is a wonderful piece of engineering work and is done to bring Havana, Cuba, within a few hours of the United States and to connect up the string of tourist hotels out of which Flagler has made many fortunes. I would like for you to see this country also, but it is a hard trip except under the most favorable conditions, but is a wonderful country when here. Only the young and vigorous have any right to be here for it is a country that ages one wonderfully. In the army and signal corps service one year in Alaska counts as two years' service in the states toward retirement and the government has found by careful experiments that after two years here a man loses his usefulness owing to the rigor of the climate and lack of communication, so that every two years the old men are moved out to the states and new men are sent in. It is only the lure of the gold that keeps people here, though the Summer while it lasts is all right. It is continuous daylight now and we have our games of baseball at midnight. You will see as fine gardens as anywhere, but no one takes the trouble to develop the country agriculturally. A Mr. Manley will raise about 250 tons of potatoes and as they sell for 8and 10 cents a pound, it will make him a nice thing, but he only does it as a side issue. He has a chicken house that cost him $22,000 and he sells his eggs at $1.50 a dozen at this time of the year and a dollar apiece in Winter. This also is only a side issue with him as he has all the gold that he can clean up in thirty years' work. He shipped in $65,000 last week, the first clean up for this season. The output of the camp in the next ninety days will be about $10,000,000. I send you a bill of fare at the restaurant where I eat so you can see what it costs to live in the Summer time when things are cheapest. My friend Monahan over in the Shushitna country, where my mining claim is, needed a box of candles last Fall and he sent out for them and it cost him an even $400 to lay them down at his mine. He is taking out a thousand dollars a day to the good this Summer. A pack train of 26 horses starts for there tomorrow and it will take them 35 days to make the round trip of 400 miles.

We don't get a chance to vote for President here, but it looks as if it would be a walk away for Taft. My choice of them all is Vice President Fairbanks, but it looks as if he was out of it.

Write me a letter occasionally and let me know how the new canal is getting along and what local improvements are going on. If Fulton was in the West and had its advantages, it would be a city of 200,000 people.



E. A. HENDERSON.

The menu and prices which Mr. Henderson mentions in his communication, contain many eye openers in the matter of price. Among the number are radishes, 25 cents; lettuce, 50 cents; ham and eggs, 75 cents; tenderloin beefsteak, $2.50; plain beefsteak, $1.00; pork, veal or mutton chops, $1.50; codfish cakes, $1.00; sausage, $1.00; boiled rice, 50 cents; milk toast, 50 cents; cup coffee, 25 cents; raspberries, 25 cents; cold mutton, $1.00; glass milk, 25 cents; canned peas, 50 cents. It must be born in mind when contemplating these prices that they are for single dishes.

Bishop Potter Dead.

Bishop Potter, aged 74, seventh Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of New York, died yesterday at Cooperstown, N. Y., after an illness of several weeks.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system and at the same time it allays inflammation and stops irritation. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp disease & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

INGALLS CROSSING.

Mrs. O. J. Dexter entertained her sister from Oswego last Tuesday.

Mrs. James Chapman and daughter are visiting at R. O. Fisk's.

A. F. Morehouse and wife entertained their sister, Mrs. Exie Dunbar, from Gasport, recently.

Miss Lena Babcock is entertaining her cousin, Miss Wilson, from Pittsburg.

Lewis Eames has improved his home with a fresh coat of paint. Mr. Pickard did the work.

The people in this vicinity have their phones in and are very anxious now for the wires to be put up.

Eliza Fitzpatrick, aged 16, died Monday morning of typhoid fever. She leaves a mother, three sisters and four brothers to mourn her loss. The family has the sympathy of the community.

Leon Smith is very ill. Dr. Cusack attends.

MT. PLEASANT.

Miss Wilkes and the Misses Waugh of Fulton are guests at Chas. Rowlee's.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopper of Hannibal, the County Deputy, will be at our grange on Saturday night of this week. A good attendance is anticipated.

Miss Myrtle Walker of Fulton was a recent guest at George View's

Mrs. Charles Osborne entertained her sister Bessie of Syracuse over Sunday. Miss Pauline Montague is spending a couple of weeks with Mrs. Osborne.

Mrs. Depew entertained her brother, Mr. Dey of Onondaga, a few days last week.

Ransom Dumont was quite seriously injured one day last week by falling from a load of hay.

George Whitney of New Haven was in this vicinity last week looking for berry pickers.

Mrs. Lewis Ives entertained a few friends last Tuesday evening.

The Up-to-Date ball team will play the Ramblers of Fulton on Saturday, July 25th, at Mt. Pleasant.

Miss Helen Howard was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. Anna Gibson, Adams, is visiting relatives here.

The Rowlee Reunion will be held at Alonzo Rowlee's August 15th.

The stork left a fine baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Dumont July 20th.

Miss Jessie Hill of Fulton is the guest of her brother, Cass Hill.

Mrs. Jones is spending a few days with her grandson, Mr. Erwin Dumont.

Merle Bartlett is home from a visit at the home of her uncle, John Ives.

Mr. Chapman Percival has been entertaining relatives from Pennsylvania.

SOUTH GRANBY.

The L. A. S. was very pleasantly entertained at Mrs. John Dickinson's last Wednesday and it was then decided to give an ice cream social at Harlow Sperbeck's on July 29.

Miss Wilda Fisher is spending a few weeks in Herkimer, the guest of cousins.

Mrs. Anna Foster and sons Ralph and Leon, of Fulton, were the guests of her sister, Mrs. Carrie Hannum, last week.

Allen Austin of Jersey City visited friends in South Granby last week and returned to his home on Saturday.

Mrs. L. T. Austin is camping with her husband at Morseman's Lock.

Mrs. Mabel Fisher is visiting in Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Mary Blakesly is staying with Mrs. Flora Fisher.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

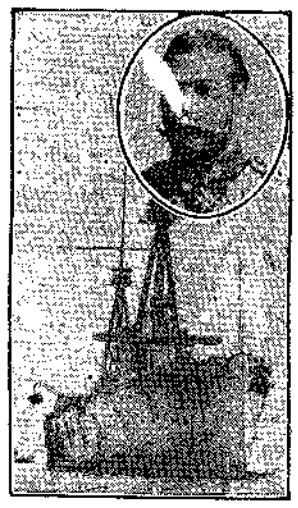
Very Sagacious.

A farmer had a very sagacious dog which he had trained to count his sheep as they passed through a particular opened gate, against which a pile of stones were placed for the dog's use. As each sheep passed through the dog placed one of the stones aside. One day, much to the farmer's surprise, he found the dog trying to break a stone in half, and on himself counting the flock he found there had been an addition in the night of a lamb.

Cheering.

Aspirant—You have heard my voice, professor. Now please tell me candidly what branch of vocalism it is best adapted for. Professor—Well—cheering!

LADY AGENTS WANTED!



YOU can make excellent money devoting your whole or spare time to taking orders for my DAINTY line of baby goods and children's suits. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, permanent work. No competition. Send TO-DAY for Full catalogue, territory, etc
Mrs. Ella James Don't D. Syracuse, N.Y.
3-5

Sailor Prince

King Edward's Son and Heir, Who Is Attending the Quebec Tercentenary, and the Cruiser Indomitable, Which Brought Him Over.

PRINCE ARTHUR.

THE ship which brings the Prince of Wales and his suit to Canadian waters to participate in the tercentenary of the founding of Quebec presents quite a contrast to that in which Samuel de Champlain sailed up the St. Lawrence in the summer of 1608. The French explorer came across the ocean and went up the broad blue river in a little vessel named the Don de Dieu, with the lofty poop and quaint tackle of the days of Sir Walter Raleigh and the sea beggars. Where a majestic city now stands was then but a group of red men's lodges, the Indian village of Stadacona. Nature had built the high promontory which at this point juts out into the St. Lawrence, but it remained for man to erect a fortification upon it and make it the Gibraltar of America. Following in part the course of Champlain, the Prince of Wales, representing his father, King Edward VII., comes to the American continent in the Indomitable, one of the fleetest and most powerful of the new British warships, and he is greeted on his arrival by a fleet of more than twenty warships, representing five different nations. To make the contrast the more effective those who planned the pageants of the Quebec celebration arranged that a ship in exact reproduction of the Don de Dieu should sail up the river the very next day after the arrival of the Prince of Wales in the Indomitable and that the pageant ship should, in full sight of tens of thousands of people, pass through an avenue of armored vessels representing the might of the naval powers of the world today. Their thundering salutes as the impersonator of Champlain steps ashore below the heights of the citadel may indeed emphasize the difference between 1608 and 1908.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE INDOMITABLE.

The cruiser Indomitable has been called a "mystery ship" because of the profound secrecy observed concerning her details during construction. She is one of the three sister ships, the two others being the Invincible and Inflexible, which were voted in 1905 and laid down in 1906. They are to all cruisers of the past what the Dreadnought is to all earlier battleships. The Indomitable is 530 feet long and has a displacement of 17,250 tons. She and her sister ships are designed to be the fastest, largest and most heavily armed cruisers yet built. The Indomitable resembles in many respects a fast battleship more than a cruiser. She carries eight huge twelve inch guns, each forty-five feet long and each capable of firing an 850 pound shell twice in the minute.

The Prince of Wales and Prince Arthur of Connaught, representing England's royal family, naturally occasion much enthusiasm among the subjects of King Edward by their visit to Quebec in connection with the tercentenary celebration. The Prince of Wales is the second son of King Edward and Queen Alexandra and on the death of the present monarch will ascend the throne as King George V. He was born on June 3, 1865, and is known as "the sailor prince." He married Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, popularly known as Princess May, granddaughter of Queen Victoria's uncle, the first Duke of Cambridge, and she will, on the accession of her husband, be the first English born wife of an English king since the time of James II. In 1901 the Prince and Princess of Wales made one of the longest journeys ever undertaken by royal personages, a journey covering a distance equal to twice around the world. The prince spends most of his time at home, however, superintending his estates and looking after the education of his children, who number six.

Prince Arthur of Connaught is a son of the Duke of Connaught and nephew of the king and was born in 1883. He is known as "the soldier prince," as he fought in the Boer war, being but a mere boy at the time

"Misery Loves Company."

"I beg your pardon," said the stranger on the bicycle, riding slowly up to the sidewalk and steadying himself by putting his foot on the curb, "but I am looking for a restaurant where I can get a good meal. Can you direct me to one?"

The man whom he addressed was standing in front of a store trying to rub a grain of sand out of his eye with one hand and holding his hat on with the other, for it was a windy day, and at first he made no response. But presently he spoke.

"Go to the next block," he said, "and turn to the right. Four doors down you will find a restaurant."

The stranger thanked him and rode on. About an hour later they accidentally met again. The stranger was on his way out of town. He stopped and spoke.

"My friend," he said, "I followed your directions. I went to the restaurant you directed me to, and I got the worst meal I ever had in my life."

"I thought you would," answered the other. "If you had waited till I got that grain of sand out of my eye I should have sent you to a good restaurant, but you didn't. I just had to divide my misery with somebody, and you happened to be handy."—Youth's Companion.

She Worked the Snake Cure.

Novel crimes are occasionally committed in Paris, as, for instance: An old gypsy woman called on a doctor living in the Place Pierriere and asked him to visit her daughter, who was lying ill in a caravan on the fortifications near by. "I have tried the serpent cure," she said, "but there was no result. If you will allow me to pay your fee in advance I shall be sure you will come."

The doctor consented, and the old woman handed him a $100 note. As he was getting the change out of the safe she again mentioned the "serpent cure" and he asked her what it was. "This," she said, and, taking a box from under her rags, she turned half a dozen snakes out on the floor.

The doctor was startled and rushed out of the room. When he returned with a stick he found that the woman and the snakes had vanished, while all the money in his safe had also gone. He still held the $100 note in his hand, but this proved to be a forgery.

A Victim of Leprosy.

"On my travels in Venezuela," said a New York man, "I stayed in a hotel with a young man in whose family there was the taint of leprosy, though he apparently did not have it. One night sitting at dinner he became angry at a waiter and brought his hand down on the table with full force. He instantly realized that he did not feel the blow and sat looking at his hand, his face whitening with horror. 'Give me your knife, Bob,' he said to his chum. He grabbed the pocketknife in a frenzy and stabbed the side of his hand with vicious cuts from finger tips to wrist. You may not know that leprosy appears in the side of the hand, numbness being a sign. The man did not feel the cuts. He arose from the table, knocking over his chair, rushed out into the courtyard of the hotel, and we heard the quick tang of a revolver shot, telling us how he had conquered the leper's curse by ending his life."

Dollar Bills by Weight.

"Dollar bills are worth almost their weight in gold," a bank president said the other day to a depositor.

"Yes, I suppose they come in handy for change and are easy to carry," the depositor replied absently.

"No; I was speaking literally," the bank president said. "We got into an argument in the bank here the other day as to how much a dollar bill weighed. A twenty dollar gold piece weighs 540 grains. We found that twenty-seven crisp, new one dollar bills weigh the same as a twenty dollar gold piece. We tested some bills that had been in use and found that it took but twenty-six of them to balance the gold piece. I suppose that twenty-six used bills gather an accumulation of dirt in passing from hand to hand that weighs about what one new bill does."—Kansas City Star.

Vagaries of the Plumb Line.

One of the curious things that men of science have discovered in their innumerable efforts to measure and map the earth with the least possible error is the fact that there are places where the direction of a plumb line is not vertical. Irregularities of density in the crust of the globe may produce this phenomenon.

A remarkable instance has been found in the island of Porto Rico where the deviation from the vertical is so great that in mapping the island the northern and southern coast lines, as shown on the older maps, had each to be moved inward half a mile.—New York Tribune.

The Brainy Bunch.

Mr. Slnic—Do you see those three people walking together down there? Mrs. Getup—Yes; who are they? Mr. Slnic—One is a somnambulist, one is a kleptomaniac and one is a plagiarist. Mrs. Getup—Law sakes! I never dreamed we were going to meet so many brainy people in a bunch.—Kansas City Newsbook.

The Fuller He Gets.

"Bliggins is a very inconsistent man."

"In what way?"

"The later he stays out at night the more he wants to sing 'Home, Sweet Home.'"—Exchange.

Conceit is the soap bubble of life, very large, very smooth and ascendant until pricked.

CASH

Free Stamps! Free Stamps! Free Stamps!

We give more stamps than any other stamp store in this city and there is a reason for it. It is this: We deal directly with the consumer, consequently we can give more stamps and better value. We have no high priced officials to derive the benefits which are due to the public.

Extra Stamps! Extra Stamps!

All persons purchasing three articles named below will receive $2.00 worth of extra stamps and any person buying five articles named below will receive $5.00 worth of stamps.

TEAS—We sell more tea than any other organization in this city. Why? Because we buy in carload lots and we are tea merchants. We have a buyer located in New York at all times.

Try the famous Japan, an excellent drinker at a very low price, 30c a lb., and $1.00 worth of stamps.

Our 50c Teas are equal if not better than many of the widely advertised 75c and $1.00 brands..... 50c a lb., and $3 00 worth of stamps.

VERMICELLI—Full pound package 15c and $1.50 worth of stamps.

QUALITY BAKING CHOCOLATE—Equal to the widely advertised brands, 1-2 pound package..... 20c and $1.00 worth of stamps.

CATSUP—Full size pint bottles of fancy Catsup, made from red ripe tomatoes and pure spices..... 10c and $1.00 worth of stamps.

SHREDDED COCOANUT..... 19c and $2.00 worth of stamps.

SEA GULL MUSTARD SARDINES—Extra large can..... 15c and $1 00 worth of stamps.

COFFEE—Our 18c Blended Coffee—we sell thousands and thousands of lbs. in the course of a year. If you have not tried it, why not..... 18c a lb., and $1.00 worth of stamps.

Rio and Java—None to equal it, 23c a lb., and $2.00 worth of stamps

Mocha and Java—We guarantee this blend to contain the genuine Arabia Mocha and Fancy Government Java. This blend will please the most fastidious taste in this city..... 27c a lb. and $2 00 worth of stamps.

RICE—Our whole-grained California Rice, blue package..... 10c a lb., and 50c in stamps

EXTRACTS—Full assortment of flavors, such as Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, Pineapple, and Banana flavors. Guaranteed under the Pure Food Law to be absolutely pure and reliable....25c for a 2 oz. bottle and $2 worth of stamps.

MOLASSES—We sell our molasses only in cans and we find that it gives better satisfaction to the public. You receive full value for your money and it is always sweet and wholesome. No 2 size, 12c, and 50c worth stamps No. 3 size, 16c, and 50c worth stamps No. 5 size, 30c, and $1 worth stamps

Ten Distinct Leaders in which we defy competition

Rolled Oats—500 barrels of large, white, rolled Avena Oats, which sell regularly at 6c a lb..... 4 1-4c

Tomatoes—500 cases solid packed red ripe Tomatoes. This brand sells regularly by competitors at 12c a can. Special for this sale..... 3 cans for 23c

Lemons—175 boxes of extra large, ripe, juicy Massena Lemons, per dozen... 15c

Cream Cheese—225 loaves fancy Herkimer County Full Cream Cheese, lb. 12 1/2c

Beans—1,500 bushels of large, hand picked Marrowfat Beans, sold regularly at 10c a quart; special, per quart..... 8c

Peas—750 cases of fancy, sweet, wrinkled, Sugar Peas; sell regularly at 15c a can; special..... 2 cans for 25c

Corn—400 cases of extra fancy New York State Packed Corn; tender, sweet and creamy; full size can..... 11c

Seeded Raisins—125 cases fancy Calif. Seeded Raisins; large No. 16 package. 11c

Sal Soda—Sells regularly at 2c a lb.; special this sale..... 10 lbs., for 10c

Yeast Foam—Not more than 2 packages to a customer; per package..... 3c

Just to more thoroughly introduce our popular 40c Tea, we will give absolutely free, to all persons purchasing one pound, one 10c can of Dirt Cleanser, also one 10c can of Penang Ground Nutmeg.

7% Dividends Guaranteed

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 464 Fulton, N. Y.

The Artistic Poison.

Passing by other drugs, each of which has its own way of making people crazy, we come to what may be truly termed the artistic poison. This is, says Dr. William H. Thomson in Everybody's Magazine, the mescal button, which grows on a low cactus in the valley of the Rio Grande and fortunately is scarce and hard to get. Chewing this button causes the most gorgeously colored scenes to appear before the entranced vision, far surpassing, according to descriptions, the most magnificent sunsets. It would seem to be the drug for landscape painters, but unfortunately, whatever other things drugs do, they never increase efficiency. It was first discovered among the Kiowa tribe of Indians, who used it in their religious rites till missionaries induced the government to remove the Indians from where they could get it.

Lightning and Thunder.

By counting the number of seconds in the interval between lightning and thunder it is possible to figure approximately how far from the observer is the scene of the storm. Sound travels 1,100 feet a second, so multiply the number of seconds by 1,100, which will give the distance in feet from the point where the lightning flashed. For example, if ten seconds have elapsed the distance away will be 11,000 feet, or a little over two miles. It might be added that, as light and lightning travel so much faster than sound, if one survives after hearing the crashing peal he can be sure he is safe. Remembrance of this will dissipate terror.

FOR SALE

For Sale—Split bamboo fly rod, automatic reel, collapsable landing net, 6 or 8 dozen flies, never used; also leaders, lines, etc., made by Abbey and Imbrie, New York. All the above for less than half cost. Inquire at 161 S. Second St. tf

For Sale—Rowboat, 15½ feet long by 3 feet wide. Inquire at home of Jeth Miller, 12 miles north of Fulton on the west river road. je17

TO RENT

To Rent—Ground floor rooms, suitable for small family; rent reasonable. Inquire of Mrs. M. J. Sweet, 823 Emory street. je3-tf

To Rent—A suit of six living rooms to rent at reasonable price. Inquire at Langdon's Studio, 61 First street, Fulton.

Wanted

Wanted—Several second hand bicycles without tires. Good makes. Inquire of James Bogue, Oneida street. 7-15

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

For Sale.

A first class automobile for sale at a bargain. A runabout with new tires of the best quality, newly painted, has two vertical engines of 18-horse power. This car is as good as new in every particular. A demonstration will be given. Inquire at the Oswego County Independent Telephone Company.

Fulton Public Library

THE FULTON PATRIOT.

72d Year. Fulton, New York, Wednesday, July 29, 1908 No. 31

Every Day Is Men's Day at McKinstry's Clothing Store..

Giving Away Men's Underwear. Prices Cannot Be Beat. Do Not Buy Until You Get McKinstry's Prices and See the Quality of the Goods.

B. S. McKinstry

114 Oneida Street, Fulton

JAIL CONTRACTS LET

And the Special Jail Committee Continued as a Building Committee—Jail Bonds to the Amount of $85,000 to be Sold—Total Cost to Taxpayers May Be $125,000 or More—Pulaski Jail to be Closed—The "Political Railroad" Ran Down Grade—What Are You Going to Do About It?

The scheme for the erection of a new county jail is moving in fine shape. The combination nut up to "railroad it through" the board of supervisors, worked without a hitch, and all opposition was smothered. The taxpayers representatives on the board forgot who sent them to Oswego and listened to the smooth talk of the managers of the scheme. They will hear something different when they ask for re-election. We quote from the daily reports of the meetings:

The Oswego Palladium of Thursday says:

Opposition crystallizing against the spending of nearly $90,000 for a new county jail at the special meeting of the board of supervisors held to receive the bids this afternoon, was nipped in the bud by a motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. This was made by D. O. Whitney and carried, though there were some dissenting votes.

Over night it is expected that the matter will be straightened out and that the report of the jail committee will be adopted tomorrow. This report recommends that J. A. Culkin be awarded the contract for general construction of pressed brick at $41,254; T. M. Hennessey, the plumbing, $10,550; the Stuart Jail Works, cells, etc, $31,300—a total of $83,104.

When the board convened P. G. Hydorn was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Sweetland, of the jail committee, submitted the bids as follows:

General construction, common brick, J. A. Culkin, $39,554; Peter Raby, $40,269; Barnett Contracting Company, $41,422; Dean & Havens, $42,523; A. Paine & Son, $45,000; A. Stevens & Co., $45,559.

Pressed brick: J. A. Culkin, $41,254; Peter Raby, $42,019; Barnett Contracting Co., $43,777; Dean & Havens, $44,723; A. Paine & Son, $46,800; A. Stevens & Co., $47,359.

Concrete brick: J. A. Culkin, $41,000; Barnett Contracting Co., $40,500; A. Paine & Son, $43,30; A. Stevens & Co., $45,559.

Gouverneur marble: Barnett Contracting Co., $56,681; Dean & Havens, $61,148; A. Paine & Son, $62,800; A. Stevens & Co., $65,559.

Grindstone Island granite: Barnett Contracting Co., $70,000; A. Paine & Son, $73,300; Stevens & Co., $76,059.

Plumbing, heating and lighting: T. M. Hennessey, $10,550, power plant, $1,600; M. E. Crawford, $11,732; power plant, $1,600; Dean & Havens, $12,000, power plant, $1,800; Edward Joy, $17,981, power plant, $1,450.

Prison construction, Stewart Jail Works, $31,300; VanDorn Iron Works, $31,734.35; Pauley Jail Co., $32,744; Champion Iron Works, $34,383 Meeker & Brother, $42,960.

Complete construction, common brick, $81,154; concrete brick, $82,100; pressed brick, $83,104; stone, $15,000 additional.

After the report and their recommendations had been submitted, Mr. Whitney moved that the committee be authorized to close the contracts and supervise the construction.

Mr. Abbey started the opposition ball rolling by stating that Fulton firms had not been notified of the job, and stated that in the apparent effort to railroad the matter through they were being discriminated against.

Mr. Sweetland said that the bids had been advertised in the two local and Syracuse papers and that it was necessary to hasten the work. Dr. Terry of Pulaski, wanted to know if the figures covered the cost of an eighty or a ninety-six cell jail complete.

Mr. Sweetland retorted that there would be accommodations for ninety-six prisoners, and that the figures were for the jail complete, except mattresses, furnishings for the sheriff's residence and the architect's fees, about $4,150.

Mr. Rounds then made a strong speech objecting to the fact that only a few of the board members knew anything about the jail and condemning the special committee evil. He stated that when he favored selling the old jail he understood a new structure could be built for $50,000, and if it was the intention now with the larger structure to discontinue in the near future the Pulaski jail, he thought there ought to be a public hearing.

He advocated the transaction of business openly and above board. At this point Mr. Whitney's motion to adjourn was made and declared carried. Afterwards there were several rather warm arguments, and if the board organization doesn't succeed in quelling the opposition, it may break out with renewed vigor tomorrow.

The Oswego Palladium of Friday evening says:

Voting down every proposition offered by the Democratic minority, the Republican majority of the board of supervisors rode roughshod over the opposition at today's meeting and in less than an hour had transacted all the business they desired to bring before the board. In that time they directed that the contract for the new jail be awarded to J. A. Culkin and they defeated two measures which would have been of inestimable good to the taxpayers.

One, introduced by John Woods, of the Fifth ward, provided that all special and standing committees having as members men who are not supervisors, should be required to report before August 10th and be discharged and that new committees should be appointed within ten days.

This resolution did not come to a vote, but instead unanimous consent to its consideration was denied, Mr. Whitney, Albion, the Republican floor leader and boss, objecting, that the meeting was not called to consider such matters.

Another proposition defeated was an amendment to a resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Whitney, authorizing the present jail committee to enter into contracts with the low bidders for the jail, and provide that they continue as the building committe. This committe is composed of seven members and Mr. Rounds of Oswego Town moved as an amendment that it be discharged and that a new committee of three, composed of Mr. Hydorn of Sandy Creek, Mr. Abbey of Fulton, and Mr. Sweetland of Oswego, be substituted.

Mr. Rogers seconded the amendment and A. S. Barker did the same, stating that the naming of this committee would give representation to the city, to Fulton and to the country towns. Fulton at present has no member on the committee.

On the vote the amendment was lost by 20 to 14 and the Republicans went on record as approving a reckless expenditure on money. Mr. Marlotte voted with the Republicans.

Members of these special committees get $3 a day for their labor and by the majority action it will cost the county $21 instead of $9 a day every time they meet.

Before Mr. Whitney's original motion was put Dr. Terry of Pulaski, made an excellent speech in opposing the expenditure of $100,000 for a new jail. He stated not a county in the state except Erie and New York has a 96-cell jail, and he called attention to the fact that the population of the county had been decreasing since 1870.

One feature of his argument was that he laid special stress on the effect that the saddling of a $100,000 debt on the taxpayers would have upon the election in this county this fall. He said that the jail would hold 125 prisoners; that in Broome county, larger than Oswego, they only had a 50-cell jail, and that in Chemung county, nearly equal in size, they only have 35 cells.

He called attention to the fact that the interest would be $4,000 a year, and that if the office of sheriff becomes salaried the tendency would be to decrease the population of the jail. He thought a jail ought to be built for $60,000.

Mr. Rounds said it seemed to him that there had been very little thought about what the cost of the jail would be. He feared it would total $125,000 and had introduced and amendment to cause a little saving. He referred to the fact that special committees have good picking, and stated that the supervisors had voted to keep Ames and then were about to tax industries to death. He objected to the building of "a palace for the sheriff."

Mr. Whitney and Mr. Gregg spoke in favor of the big jail, saying that in a few years it would not be necessary to build an addition and that the criminal population, according to the state prison commissioner, was increasing in Oswego county.

Mr. Rogers created a laugh by saying that he hoped in a few years the Prohibition movement would sweep New York and then there be no necessity for a jail. He felt that if they built a large jail they ought to do away with the advisability of continuing the Pulaski annex. On the roll call the resolution prevailed by a vote of 25 to 5, Messrs. Abbey, A. S. Barker, Rounds, Woods and Terry voting against.

On motion of Mr. Howard it was voted to sell $85,000 worth of bonds to cover the cost of the jail. These are to bear 4½ per cent., payable the first of March and the first of September at the Chase National bank, New York. The paying of the principal will commence in 1913. There will be $10,000 paid to 1915, and from that time to 1920, $11,000 annually.

The county treasurer was directed to give an additional bond of $50,000. In answer to Mr. Rounds, Mr. Howard stated that the paying of the principal was deferred five years in order to take care of the bridge bonds. The only ones to oppose this resolution were Messrs. Abbey, Barker and Rounds.

On motion of Mr. Gregg, the county treasurer was directed to pay for the jail work on the certificate of Architect W. J. Beardsley and the order of a majority of the jail committee.

On motion of Mr. Simons the cost of the county treasurer's extra bonds was made a county charge.

On motion of Mr. Gregg the board adjourned sine die.

Rejected a Good Man.

Supervisor Abbey of Fulton, who was rejected as a member of the building committee of the board of supervisors to look after the construction of the new jail by the Republican members, is a practical builder, having a thorough knowledge of the business, in which he is actively engaged. The committee appointed is without a practical builder.—Oswego Palladium.

Supervisor Abbey, who raised the objection to the manner in which the plans were selected, the bids received and the contracts awarded for the county jail, says there was no plausible reason for the undue haste. He believes the board has erred in its judgment and the taxpayers will suffer. He considers the large building committee a needless expense, as the supervision could have been made by a committee of three better than by seven. Although he was not named as one of the committee, yet he will be interested in the work and as a member of the board, he will inspect the work as it progresses, in the interests of his constituents and if he discovers anything wrong, he will not hesitate to give it publicity.

Mayor Quirk's Second Letter.

Fulton, July 24, 1908.

Editor Patriot:

There is no one who has a greater dislike for rushing into the newspapers than the writer, and but for the misrepresentations and slurs that appeared in the Fulton Times of July 22d, I would not have written this letter. The attempt on the part of the Times to reply to my letter of July 14th, and make a defense of the members of the rescue syndicate, prepared either by the editor of the Times or some member of the syndicate, is so full of blunders and stumbles in the effort of the author to clothe slush, false and unreasonable assertions with the holler than thon clothing, that I must agree with the opinion expressed to me by several persons, that the author had a severe attack of brain storm or incipient insanity.

In one paragraph it reads as follows: "The letter in question reveals the fact that pique, because the citizens of this city would not stand for so rank a violation of the laws of this state, and so clearly a desecration of the Sabbath as Sunday base ball, has caused E. Quirk to take action against 'alleged violation of the law' the first time since taking his oath of office." I would like to ask the Fulton Times why they consider playing base ball any more of a violation of the state law than it is for the manufacturers to work their employees on the same day, as the violation of Sunday base ball and working men on Sunday come under the same law. For this reason I am surprised to learn that the Fulton Times is trying, through its columns, to brace up the people who have been violating the laws of the state of New York for years, by trying to have it appear that it is customary for other manufacturers to do the same, all over the state.

We might say that they allow base ball played on Sunday in different parts of the state, which they do in a great many places.

So long as it is illegal for the manufacturers to work their employees on Sunday, there is no good reason why the Fulton Times should try to make the public believe that the manufacturers of the city are not violating the laws of this state, because they say it is customary for other manufacturers to work their employees on Sunday.

I should think people who pose as leaders in education, would fight shy of making any such mistakes. They take a stand with no backing and presume on their assumed superiority, to force the common people to accept their statements as argument, when they are nothing but a mess of words, poorly put together.

The Fulton Times also states as follows: "In his claim that the present schedule of the hours is in violation of the law, he has interfered with the comfort, conveniences and desires of all, or practically all of the mill employees, and yet he has not caused the employers the slightest inconvenience or loss."

Here again the author goes wrong. The laboring men are more than pleased with the mills closing Sundays. I have such assurances from nearly a hundred of them, and I have been informed that at a meeting recently held, resolutions were passed commending the mayor. I am also informed that labor union papers have taken the matter up and spoken highly of Sunday closing.

And here I wish to ask: If it did not cause the employers "the slightest inconvenience or loss," why is it that workmen who wished to be with their families on Sundays, or who wanted to rest and be law-abiding, were told plainly that if they did not come to work Sunday they need not come Monday? Here is a clear case of "you disobey the Sunday law or be discharged." Intimidated and helpless. And still the Fulton Times, that has only a short time ago shouted for the "highest type of American citizenship," hollers "murder" at Sunday base ball, and sympathizes with the mill owners because they cannot run their mills Sunday morning, while they attend church and trot out the law against innocent amusement.

The Times undertakes to release the Dilts machine shop from violation by stating as follows: "The Dilts shop was working on the occasion of the midnight ride of E. Quirk to permit one of the proprietors to charge his automobile preparatory to a long drive on Sunday." This is the flattest attempt to try and screen the Dilts shop that anyone would ever expect from a sane person. The statement is false as it says, "it was open to permit one of the proprietors to charge his automobile." The fact is that it appeared to be open for general business, not for the proprietor's automobile especially; and, if it was for the purpose of fixing an automobile so that he could have a pleasant ride on Sunday, it shows that proprietor to be very selfish to be willing to violate the laws and keep the laboring man up until five or six o'clock Sunday morning to fix his car, so he might enjoy himself on Sunday. I am not surprised at it as I have learned since that one of the proprietors of the company made a statement that he did not wish to see base ball played on Sunday in Fulton and would object to it; but if he was in any other city and there was a base ball game going on, he would not hesitate to go to it.

The Times states that the Granby paper mill did not close Saturday night but worked until six o'clock on Sunday morning on July 19th. I do not know where the Fulton Times obtained its information, although it may be true. In speaking of the Granby not closing, the Times said that the reason was that J. H. Howe, president of the company, who is one of the members of the board of public works, "is a very determined man when aroused," and that, no doubt, I thought wise not to mention it.

I wish to make a plain statement—I am not living in fear of any of my appointees, nor any other man living, as I intend treating them in such a way that I am willing to face them day and night, in any business transaction they may have with me.

The Fulton Times made another curious statement as follows: "Does it not seem to be a perfect mania of the administration to let contracts for paving Fulton before the administration changes, as the paving question can be attended to years hence." I wish to state that it would be much easier for the board of public works and myself if there was no paving done. We are simply offering the citizens of Fulton an opportunity to get some of the worst streets in the city paved, in case they wish it. I do not know why the Fulton Times should object to it as long as it does not cost it anything. If they are willing to live in front of frog holes and mud puddles the balance of their lives, all right, but there are people who tastes run different and with views much higher in life. It is a good thing for our city that all of our citizens are not willing to be surrounded with filthy streets, as the editor of the Fulton Times seems to be. They cry wait until the city will have money to pay for the paving. I do not believe that I will call on the Fulton Times to assist me in financing the city's affairs during my administration. I do not believe they would be very strong assistance as it is hard for them to finance their own affairs.

The Times also mentions that the reason the mill owners run their mills on Sunday was especially from the wishes of the employees. I think that this is a false statement, and the editor knew better at the time it was printed. I ask the Fulton Times to name one of the employers who will make the statement to me. It is plain to see that the editor of the Times realizes that the largest number of the syndicate of that paper are mill owners, and who were the cause of getting the proprietor of that paper appointed postmaster, so that he could have an opportunity to pay the note which they all signed for him at the bank to pay off the mortgage held against him.

The Fulton Times wishes to say something that will sound relieving to the public ear, to screen its benefactors from violation of the law, but they are not doing so.

I would like to ask the editor of the Times—Mrs. Hughes—why she called in a certain office in the city and asked them if they had been served with a notice not to work on Sunday. As she was a perfect stranger to the gentleman, he asked her what she meant. She stated that she understood that the noble, clean-handed mayor of Fulton had notified the manufacturers that they must not work on Sunday, and she thought that they were included. During the conversation, I understand, she stated she did not assist me in getting the office of mayor, and she was sure that she would not assist me to remain there. The gentleman to whom she was making her address, told her that he did not wish to hear any of her complaints, and she made a pretty little bow, and went out.

I cannot account for such interviews as the above, unless it is that the editor has such an uncontrollable hatred for me that she has to give vent to her feelings occasionally to some one, in order to prevent temporary hysteria or nervous prostration

But I am paying more attention to the Times-syndicate production than it is entitled to. Starting as common, ordinary mortals, like all of us, they have assumed too much. Their claims to perfection were never established or recognized. In closing, I wish to state that unless compelled to appear in print again, I shall consider this incident closed, for it is not my desire to pursue the controversy further. However, while I shall not invite my enemies to conflict, yet I shall not recede from the position I have taken.

Respectfully yours,
E. Quirk.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sewers—City of Fulton, N. Y.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Public Works of the city of Fulton, N. Y., at their office in the Savings Bank Building until 8 p. m., Tuesday, August 11, 1908, for furnishing material and labor for installing sewers on Hannibal street, First street, East Worth street, and Third street, Fulton, N. Y.

The sum of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS (currency or certified check) payable to the order of the Chamberlain of the City of Fulton, will be required to accompany each bid.

All such deposits, except that of the bidder whose bid shall have been accepted, will be returned to the person or persons making the same within three (3) days after the contract is awarded.

If the successful bidder, whose bid shall have been accepted, shall refuse or neglect to execute the contract within five (5) days after the notice that it has been awarded to him or them, the amount of the deposit made by him or them will be forfeited to and retained by the City of Fulton as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal; but, if he or they shall execute the contract and bond within the time aforesaid, the amount of his deposit will be returned to him or them.

The Board of Works reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of Fulton, N. Y. Quantity sheets on application.

By order Board of Public Works of the City of Fulton, N. Y.
Dated, Fulton, N. Y., July 27, 1908.
W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk of the City of Fulton, N. Y.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our neighbors and friends for their assistance and kind attention in our sad bereavement in the loss of our wife and mother.

John Whiting,
Fred L. Whiting,
Ida M. Whiting,
Mrs. Pearl Tryon.

NEW TROLLEY LINE

Work is Progressing Favorably on the New Trolley Line Between Baldwinsville, Phoenix and Fulton—Bridge Work Finished—Grading Completed to Great Bear Springs.

The work of constructing the new trolley line to start from the terminal of the Syracuse, Lake Shore & Northern Railroad company's line from Syracuse to Baldwinsville and continue by way of Phoenix to Fulton is progressing under the most favorable conditions, and unless something unforseen at present intervenes, the road will reach Fulton before the time given—December 1st, 1908.

It will be remembered that last year the railroad company constructed a cut-off near Stiles on the Lackawanna railroad and shortened the distance into Baldwinsville over half a mile. They also constructed a new iron and steel bridge to replace the old structure and equipped the line with the improved overhead fixtures. Leaving the public highway and passing over private right of way, the cars are enabled to run faster and thus cut down the time between Syracuse and Baldwinsville.

In Baldwinsville the line leaves the present terminal, and passing through the streets to the north and west of the Lackawanna railroad station; here the track raises until it meets the new steel bridge, some 500 feet north of the Lackawanna station, where it crosses 25 or 30 feet above the Lackawanna's tracks.

From this point the route lies east and north, over private right of way to the banks of the Oswego river in West Phoenix, a short distance south of the Onondaga county association's fair grounds.

The bridge across the Oswego river at this point, which has just been completed, is a fine piece of bridge construction. It is 940 feet in length, with one span on the eastern end, over the barge canal, which is 320 feet in length.

The grading from the Baldwinsville bridge to Phoenix has been completed. Leaving Phoenix, the road runs nearly due north, over private right of way as much as possible, until it reaches the junction of South First and South Fourth streets in this city, and from there it takes the street along South First to the Oneida street bridge. The grading from Phoenix to Great Bear Springs has been completed and is ready for the ties and rails.

The contract for the track laying and ballasting between Baldwinsville and Fulton has been, or will be let the present week. It will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible, and the Beebe people never allow their work to drag.

The matter of cars is now under consideration. It has been decided to have them of the high-speed style now in use on use on the Auburn-Skaneateles line, and they will be on hand as soon as the track is ready.

The people of Phoenix anticipate the trolley line will be constructed and operated to Phoenix—or at least to the county fair grounds on the west side, in time for the annual fair.

Although the Beebe intereats have secured the control of the Oswego system of electric railroad, including the line to Minetto, yet nothing has been decided upon as to whether the road from Fulton north will go on the east or west side of the river. It is thought by many the company will decide on going north on the east side as it will save the expense of constructing a bridge at Minetto to cross the river to connect with the Oswego-Minetto line.

Obituary Mention.

VanSchoick—Died at his home in this city, July 27th, Elias VanSchoick, aged 65 years. He is survived by his widow, one son, Elias W., and five daughters, Mrs. Jessie Weeks of this city, Mrs. Eva Hines and Mrs. Ethel Goodrich of Syracuse, Mrs. Bessie Burdick of Boonville, and Mrs. Sylvia Voggie of Norwich.

The death of James Atkinson, aged 82 years, occurred at his home in Palermo on July 22d. Funeral services were held at his late home Saturday, Rev. W. G. Bassett officiating; interment at North Volney.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchial and lung-throat troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose, Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

A. T. JENNINGS

Attorney and Counselor at Law

NOTARY PUBLIC

9 S. First St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. A. L. HALL,

216 Oneida street, Fulton.

Surgery, Nervous Diseases and General Practice.

Hours—7 to 9 a. m., 1 to 3 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

I. C. Curtis — B. T. Mason

CURTIS & MASON

Masters of Dental Surgery

Office 238 Oneida Street, (opposite M. E. church), Fulton, N. Y.
Particular attention paid to the preservation of the natural teeth and to Crown and Bridge Work. All anaesthetics used.

Joseph H. Donovan,

Plumber and Gas Fitter

28 South Second Street.

Dealer in Gas, Steam, Water and Sewer Pipe. Gas Fixtures, Steam Fittings, Sanitary Specialties Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting. Estimates made on work. Prompt attention to job work.

EDWARD P. COLE,

(Successor to James Cole & Son)

Funeral Director and Professional Embalmer

40 South First St., Fulton.
Residence, Second Floor.

Telephone 142

Earl S. Brown,

(Successor to Brown & Hunter)

Funeral Director and Graduate Embalmer

111 Oneida street, Fulton, N. Y.
Store Phone 36. House Call 66.
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 70 South Third street.

Glasses Accurately Fitted.
Broken Lenses Duplicated.
Eye Glasses and Spectacles

W. P. Hillick, Optician

30 S. First Street.

Good Insurance Is Cheap

Cheap Insurance Is No Good

I deal in Good Insurance only. Call and talk with me, or drop me a card and I will call.

C. W. Streeter

Grand Central Block, Fulton

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

DIRECTORY OF CHURCHES.

First Methodist Episcopal, corner of Oneida and Third streets. Rev. John Richards, pastor.
State Street Methodist Episcopal, State street, corner Fourth and State. Rev. F. A. Miller, pastor.
Free Methodist, corner Third and State streets; Rev. G. S. Coons, pastor.
Presbyterian, Corner Third and Cayuga streets. Rev. W. L. Sawtelle, pastor.
Zion, Episcopal, First street, between Rochester and Broadway, Rev. A. H. Grant, rector.
Baptist, corner Utica and Third streets. Rev. James G. York, pastor.
Church of the Immaculate Conception, Catholic, corner Third and Rochester streets; Rev. J. L. Lindeman, pastor. Rev. D. J. Dooling, assistant.
Church of the Restoration, Universalist, corner First and Rochester streets.
Grace Mission Chapel, North First street, Rev. Charles Atwood, pastor.
Salvation Army, 66 First street. Capt. J. T. Jordison, officer in charge.
Seventh Day Adventist, Broadway, near Seventh Congregational, corner Broadway and First streets, west side, Rev. Charles M. Olmstead, pastor.

Congregational—Preaching Sunday by the pastor both morning and evening; Sunday school, 11:45 a. m.; Y. P. S. C. E, 6:00 p. m.

Prayer meeting Thursday, 7:30 p. m.

Free Methodist—Class meeting at 9:30 a. m.; preaching at 10:30 a. m.; Sunday school at 11:45 a. m.; Pentecost meeting at 6:30 p. m.; preaching at 7:30 p. m.

Presbyterian—Sunday: morning service at 10:30, preaching by the pastor; Sunday school, 12 m.; Junior Endeavor, 3:30 p. m.; vesper service, 5:00 p. m., preaching by the pastor; senior Christian Endeavor, 6 p. m.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

State Street M. E.—Public worship at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school at 11:45 a. m.; Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.

Prayer service Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Baptist—The captain of the Salvation Army will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning. Sunday school as usual. There will be no evening service.

Sunday, Aug. 9th, Rev. Edward Babcock of Eau Claire, Wis., who so acceptably acted as supply last summer, will again occupy the pulpit. A general invitation is extended to all.

Salvation Army—There will be no meetings in the army next Sunday.

The morning service at the Baptist church will be conducted by Captain and Mrs. Jordison. Subject, "The Ever and Ever After."

They will also have charge of the service at the First M. E. church in the evening. Subject, "How Could the Son of God Be Tempted By the Devil?" Mrs. Jordison will sing at both services. Loose offerings to benefit Salvation Army.

First M. E.—Love feast Sunday morning at 9:30. Communion at 10:30. Sunday school and class meeting at 12.

Rev. Loucks, district superintendent, will have charge of the morning service. Christian Endeavor at 6:30. Preaching at 7:30. The Salvation Army will have charge of the evening service.

Praise and testimony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

If you are identified with no other church in the city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

Frank E. Perley and Benj. E. Hall of the state tax commission, and their secretary, Ralph Thompson, met the town and city assessors of Oswego county at Oswego last week, inspected their modes of assessing and pronounced them all right. No complaints were made and the state officials gave the local assessors many pointers in regard to their duties and the new features of the law that are constantly arising.

WHICH?

It's up to you!

You Can Get Good Coal
You Can Get Poor Coal

It's your business and right to protect yourself.
It's your business and right to investigate.

SEARCHLIGHT US!

E. E. HART

PHONE 400

WHAT IS HEAVEN?

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's) Church, Chicago.

Jesus said: "I go to prepare a place for you." Heaven is, therefore, a locality. In just what part of the universe it is located we do not know. Astronomers say that all the stars and planets seem to be revolving around a great distant center. That center may be heaven.

It is a cosmopolitan place. "I beheld, and lo, a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, kindreds, people and tongues." Every tribe of earth shall have representatives there. Jesus, a Son of Man, is suited to all nationalities.

Christ Enthroned.

Heaven is a place where Christ as Saviour is enthroned. The great multitude "stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, and cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb." In another place we are told that they say "the Lamb as it had been slain, in the midst of the throne." The victim of Calvary is king of heaven. His pierced hand holds the scepter; the brow that was pricked by the crown of thorns wears the crown of glory.

Purity.

Again, heaven is a place of purity. The inhabitants are "clothed with white robes." "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." The blood washes white, and never whitewashes.

Peace Through Victory.

Heaven is also a place of peace. The white-robed throng have "palms in their hands," and the palm is a symbol of peace through victory. Through Jesus Christ they have been reconciled to God and gained victory over sin. There is no discordant note in their natures. They love God's will and way. They do his pleasure.

Worship.

And heaven is a place of worship. "They fell before the throne on their faces and worshiped God, saying, Amen. Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen." They begin their worship in heaven with "Amen." It is the "Amen" of acquiescence in God's will. They close their worship with the "Amen" of praise.

Service.

Heaven is a place of spiritual service. "Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple." We draw this distinction between the secular and the sacred. We have our secular days and our sacred days, secular places and sacred places, temples of worship and stores for business. In heaven it is all temple. The temple, you know, is a house completely consecrated to God; every part of it is his and he fills it. All heaven is his temple.

Social.

Heaven is a social place. A city indicates that. The highest form of civilization and social life is in the city. Sad to say, in the cities of earth the social nature is degraded, and gives also the very lowest form of degradation, but in the city of light where there is no sin, social life will reach its perfection.

Treasures.

Finally, heaven is the great treasure city of the universe. It is God's capital, and into the capital city the treasures of art, of music, of learning and of wealth are apt to pour. Jesus commands us to lay up treasure in heaven where it will be safe forever. Hoarding upon earth will make the miser miserable; hoarding in heaven will make the Christian forever happy. And this does not mean that only millionaires can lay up treasures in heaven. The widow with her two mites, the seamstress with her meager income, the working man with his small wages, the child who saves from its weekly allowance may, by sacrificing for Jesus, lay up treasure in heaven.

There is a heaven of beauty, peace, purity, plenty and glory ahead. What are we to do for all this? God replies: "Only love me, and be my obedient, faithful child."

Beginning of Alfalfa Crop.

Alfalfa was first brought to Kansas by the late Harrison Parkman of Emporia. Mr. Parkman first saw alfalfa growing in Chile. He brought the seed to America and in the late '70s he went to Emporia to live. He sowed alfalfa in a farm which he bought and the plant prospered. It was slow in gaining popularity in Kansas, but is now one of the state's most important forage crops.

Would Honor Journalists.

A Paris paper complains that no journalist has yet been buried in the Pantheon, and mentions as representatives of the craft who ought to be there Chateaubriand, Benjamin Constant, Paul Louis Courrier, Armand Carrel, Emile de Girardin and Louis Veuillot.

MAN, AGED 62, TAKES CHILD FOR HIS WIFE

FATHER OF TEN CHILDREN, A SECOND TIME MAKES LITTLE GIRL HIS BRIDE.

Reading, Pa.—Having married, while young, Agnes Faust, by whom he had ten children, all still alive, Jacob Klink was divorced, and upon reaching the age of 57, created a sensation in Wilmington, where he lived, by marrying Daisy Belles, a school girl of 13. Daisy divorced him five years ago for cruel conduct, and at 62, he again set Wilmington by the ears by marrying Emma Lutz, 14 years old, daughter of Charles C. Lutz, with the consent of her parents. Klink's family, greatly incensed, strenuously tried to avert the marriage. The bride is pretty. She locked herself in an upstairs room when a correspondent called at the house. Klink, a civil war veteran, said:

He Married a Schoolgirl of Thirteen.

"Emma is my wife and I am proud of it. The neighbors and even my own family have been striving to separate us, but their efforts, instead of destroying my affection, only increased my desire to make her my wife.

"I met Emma a year ago last summer. At the first meeting I was struck by her gentle ways and loving disposition, and immediately I became interested in her. I think the world and all of Emma and her whole heart and soul are wrapped up in me. She loved me and I loved her, so we determined to get married. No, I do not think it queer that a man of my age should marry a girl like Emma. As long as we love one another the age question does not count."

When Klink was asked whether he thought this match would terminate like his marriage with the Belles girl he replied:

"Oh, no, Emma is altogether different. She understands me and I understand her. My trouble with Daisy was due to her parents."

WIFE TAKES HIM TO JAIL.

Husband Is Afraid Even to Speak in Her Presence.

Kansas City, Mo.—"Here he is, now lock him up. I went over town and arrested him myself and made him come across the line with me. I'll show him he can't pick up and desert me."

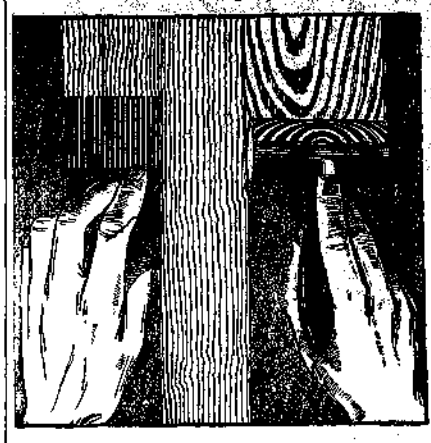
The speaker was Mrs. Della Lewis of Kansas City, Kan., and her remarks were addressed to Acting Sergeant "Pat" Richardson at police headquarters as she marched her husband, Smith Lewis, up to the sergeant's desk. Officer Richardson did not know what to make of the matter at first and asked what charge she wished to place against her prisoner.

"The charge has already been made," continued Mrs. Lewis. "I swore out a warrant several days ago for his arrest for not supporting me, but he slipped over to Kansas City, Mo., to avoid arrest. I went over and found him and here he is."

No one at police headquarters knew anything about the case and City Attorney Nelson was called. He stated that it was true that Lewis was wanted for abandoning his wife and family. He was searched and locked up.

"Now that I have landed you in jail I will be on hand in police court in the morning to prosecute," were the parting words hurled at Lewis by his wife as he was being led to the cellroom. Lewis offered no remonstrance and appeared to be afraid to speak in the presence of Mrs. Lewis. After she had gone he remarked to the jailer: "She's fierce. I can't do a thing with her."

Lived Thirty-Five Years in Cage.



Sioux City, Ia.—Garbed as a little girl in short skirts, Christian Gelt, 40 years old, who lived for 35 years in a wire cage, playing with children's toys, has been removed to the county farm.

The case is one of the most pitiful ever encountered by an Iowa commission. All his life the man has been cared for by his brother, Ole Gelt, a working man, who did the best he could to maintain the unfortunate man and keep him from becoming a public charge.

Dwarfed and with muscle and tissue shriveled up from lack of exercise, with complexion yellow from lack of exposure to the sun, the demented man bears more resemblance to a strange animal than a human being.

Japan is making an attempt at locomotive construction. As an experiment, five engines are being built at the Hyogo railway works. One is completed and in use, giving satisfaction.

A Hardwood Floor of any Color You may Choose for $2.50

Floors which are in too poor condition to be improved with varnish alone can be made to imitate a genuine hardwood floor with this new patented Graining System.

This process does not require the services of a professional wood finisher.

The Graining Tool takes the place of skill and can be successfully used by the inexperienced man or woman, thus making it possible for any one at a very slight expense to enjoy the luxury of a new hardwood floor.

This Graining Compound when protected by one or two coats of Chi-Namel produces a surface that will out-wear any ordinary varnished floor, many times over.

George Johnston

Sole Agent in Fulton for Chi-Namel and the Graining Tool. Call and See the Work.

Clean-Up Sale

of Men's and Women's Oxfords

Varsity and Nettleton Oxfords of the smartest and most refined type—Blacks, Tans and Patents—broken lines resulting from a heavy season's selling. Choice lots to select from.

Reduced to $1.95, $2.95, $3.95, $4.25
Former Prices, $3.00 to $6.00

NOTE—The character and quality of Varsity and Nettleton Shoes are such as to give particular importance to this Half-Yearly Clean-Up.

PARK-BRANNOCK CO.

"THE QUALITY STORE"

Next to Main Entrance — University Block — SYRACUSE, N. Y.

In Memory of Old Hickory.

If the spirit of "Old Hickory" should decide to journey to the spot near which he entered the earthly body of this tabernacle in 1767 he would hardly recognize the place, so great has been the change. The wilderness has been made to bloom, and in its midst stands the thriving town of Waxhaw. He would soon discover, however, that he is not forgotten, for a bronze tablet on the railroad station proclaims the fact that near this place Andrew Jackson was born. And Squire Henry N. McWhorter, who lives hard by, is always ready to greet the spirit of the great Andrew with "Welcome, dear guest and ghost."

Irish League Honors President.

T. P. O'Connor was presented with his portrait in oils at Leeds by the Irish league of Great Britain, in commemoration of his unbroken presidency of the league for 25 years. John E. Redmond made the presentation and paid a tribute to Mr. O'Connor as a safe, consistent and courageous guide for the Irish people in Great Britain. John Dillon also spoke.

Rich Indeed.

"Despite all your wealth," said the cynic, "your very name will be generally forgotten 20 years after your death."

"No, it won't," replied the financier. "My estate is large enough to keep my heirs' lawyers squabbling longer than that."

VACATION EXCURSION

TO New York City

...VIA...

LACKAWANNA RAILROAD

Friday, July 31, '08

Fare Only $8.30 for Round Trip

Tickets good going on all regular trains on that date and to return on or before August 14th, 1908.

Make arrangements for your vacation at this time. Go to New York and see the many attractions in and around the city. Take short sea trips. Visit Coney Island, Asbury Park, Manhattan Beach.

Scenery Alone Well Worth the Trip

Secure Pullman Reservations. For full information call on C. L. Davis, local agent, or write J. L. Smith, D. P. A., Syracuse, N. Y.

A FEW CUTTING REMARKS

The purpose of a saw is to cut. It should cut easily, cut cleanly, and cut with every movement.

I prefer an Atkins Saw. Its blade is "Silver Steel", recognized the world over as the finest crucible steel ever made in ancient or modern times. It is hard, close-grained and tough. It holds a sharp cutting edge longer than any other Saw, its blade tapers perfectly from thick to thin, from handle to tip. Thus it makes leeway for itself, runs easily and does not buckle. Its temper is perfect. When bent by a crooked thrust, it springs into shape without kinking.

The Atkins Saw cuts—and does it best of any. We make all types and sizes of saws, but only one grade—the best.

You will also find here a very complete stock of Tools of all kinds, all of which we know to be the best of the respective kinds.

Fulton Hardware Co.

SUCCESSOR TO A. J. SNOW

BOATS AND LAUNCHES

18-ft. Cabin Launch complete with new 12-h.p. motor, suitable for a cruise or house-boat, $750; 16-ft. slightly used hull 6-h.p. new motor, $325. 14-ft. Kelsey boat with 2-h.p. motor, reversible propeller, all new, $425. 20-ft. second-hand canopy top hull with new 8-h.p. motor, $275; one second-hand 2-h.p. motor, good make, $45. Syracuse Motors always on exhibition. SYRACUSE GAS ENGINE CO., cor. E. Genesee and Cherry roads, Syracuse, N. Y.

Barnum's Hotel

THREE RIVERS

Both Sides of the River
The North Side for Meals

The Best Dinners in Central New York

Fish, Chicken and Frog Legs Dinners served daily. Clam Bakes for parties. Sunday Dinners a specialty.
Send postal for our new folder.

Buy Gas and Electric Fixtures Now

HAMMERLE & SON

119 W. Fayette St., Syracuse

Open a clearance sale this morning and offer their entire line of new, up-to-date Gas, Electric and Combination Fixtures at less than manufacturers' cost.

$2.25 two-light Gas Fixtures now $1.50
$4.50 three-light Gas Fixtures now $3.25
$5.00 three-light Gas Fixtures now $3.50
$6.00 three-light Gas Fixtures now $4.25
$12.00 six-light Combination Fixtures now $9.00
$11.00 six-light Combination Fixtures now $8.00
$9.00 six-light Combination Fixtures now $6.75

A Barrel

(OR A SACK)

of Flour

LABELED LIKE THIS HOLDS

THE BEST

Flour made for family use. Makes more bread and better bread than any other flour. All grocers sell it at mill prices.

W. G. GAGE & CO., FULTON, N. Y.

PATENTS.

HARRY DeWALLACE, PATENT ATTORNEY AND MECHANICAL ENGINEER,
810 KIRK BLOCK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.

15 years' experience; prompt and skilled service at reasonable charges.
BELL PHONE 3171.

HOTEL ST. CHARLES ON ONEIDA LAKE

Finest summer hotel of the inland lakes of New York State.

All sports and recreations of land and water. Highest grade in every particular. Especial attention to families.

Free souvenir postals and all information on application to Manager, Sylvan Beach, N. Y.
Lake Manager, Phone Verona, N. Y.

PUBLIC LIBRARY REPORTS.

To the Trustees of the Fulton Public Library:

Gentlemen: I herewith respectfully submit the ninth annual report of the Fulton Public Library, which is also the report of its second year in the new Carnegie building.

Registration.

During the year, 544 names have been added to the register of borrowers, making a total registration of 2,262 since February 23, 1906, the date of opening the new building. Of this number of borrowers, the cards of 130 are discontinued, various causes contributing thereto—removal from the city being the reason in the majority of cases. This leaves 2,132 cards which are in more or less frequent use.

Circulation.

The circulation for the year shows a decided increase over that of any previous year in the history of the library, and we hope is an indication of the way it is likely to grow in the future. There have been 24,473 books drawn for home use and 902 for use in the library. This last number does not include the volumes used in the reference department of which it is not convenient to keep a record.

The largest circulation of any month was, as in every previous year, in March when it reached 2,623; the smallest was in July, 1907, when it dropped to 1,249, while the average monthly circulation was 2,114.

Outside of fiction, the class literature leads in the number of books lent with 671, but most of the other classes have made a fair advance. This is the first year that an entire separate record has been kept of the books drawn from the children's department. It shows that of the entire circulation a large proportion is from this room.

Magazines, both for study and entertainment, have been lent, the only restriction being on the three latest issues of any periodical.

Three lists of new books have been published in the city papers, copies of which have been furnished for free distribution. Typewritten bulletins of new books have also been posted in conspicuous place in the library and the new books themselves, except fiction, are also placed where they will quickly attract attention.

Additions.

By purchase and from binding magazines, 286 volumes have been added, nearly all of which are first purchase, a few only being replacements of desirable books that had become too much worn for circulation. New books have been added to all classes in all departments; not in large numbers but of desirable quality as is proven by the increased number read in the library and also drawn for home use. By gift of books and valuable pamphlets there have been 122 volumes added.

Reading and Reference Room.

The usual periodicals, numbering 31 in all, have been regularly received. Educational Review, Ladies' World, and Reader Magazine, now merged into Putnam's, were added to the list by subscription. As rapidly as is expedient, those of permanent value are bound and shelved in the reference room while those yet remaining unbound are on file and equally ready for service.

A large number of the reference work in a public library is done by the aid of the bound and unbound magazines and there are no books in the library of greater value for the latest information along every line of study. The Guides to Periodical Literature and the Poole's Index furnish the open door by which these magazines readily yield their contents to the seeker. The reading study rooms have been largely used and a good deal of real study and research is done there.

The effort to report the attendance in the reading room and the reference use of books has been maintained, but as in former years, under existing circumstances cannot be exact. The report shows that 12,199 readers and reference book users have been recorded. This may seem a large number but it is not an exaggeration; the actual number would exceed this and does not include the 528 persons who applied at the desk for especial books or assistance. The value of this department grows with each succeeding year and the report is made to give an idea of the serious importance of its work. A public library stands for something more than merely a place from which popular books of fiction may be circulated. Its best work is done in answering the many questions asked by students, mechanics, teachers, travelers, members of clubs, school children, or in supplying them with the material by means of which they may find their own answers. To this end, dictionaries, atlases, cyclopedias, sets of magazines, proceedings of scientific and other organizations, and all the resources of the library are called into service. Surely the best work of a public library is in giving people access to such books. Notable additions to the reference department are Bancroft's History of the Pacific States, 39v.; New International Year Book for 1907; Benham's Book of Quotations and Proverbs; Grant's Railroad Atlas; Brady's Civil War Photographs, published by Edward B. Eaton.

Kayendatsyona Chapter, D. A. R., has been allowed shelf room here for some of their literature which they kindly lend to the library for the public use under the general restrictive rules of the library. This collection includes the Lineage books, 24v.; Year Books; books of biography memoirs, etc., the nucleus of a larger collection which the Chapter hopes to make.

Children's Department.

As mentioned above, this is the first year that a separate record has been made of the use of the books in this room. Previously, the distinction was made only in fiction. This tabulated report is of itself interesting and as a ready means of comparison, will in years to come, prove of still greater interest. More than one third of all the books lent are from this department. Childen as a rule are more constant readers than many adults and the inclination to use the privilege of the second book is more frequent than with their elders.

More books of science have been lent from this department than from the adult, the elementary books in electricity, in woodwork, in outdoor life, and books telling how to do and make things are in great demand, and the stories in which the historic, scientific or athletic element is portrayed are the favorites. The room will comfortably accommodate sixteen persons. In the long evenings and in stormy weather, it is the ordinary occurrence to have every place filled and the "overflow" finds outlet in the adult reading room.

Gifts.

The gift of most permanent value, for which the library very appreciative is that of Mrs. Francis David of Phoenix, and consists of 20 volumes of the Atlantic Monthly. These will go a long way towards completing the file of this valuable magazine. It was through the intercession of the former assistant, Miss Charlotte David, now Mrs. A. H. Grant, that this gift came to the library.

By gift and in exchange with Hon Library, Miss Anna H. Perkins, librarian, we have received six volumes of Harper's Magazine. Missing numbers from the file of the North American Review and the Arena were supplied by a gift from Mr. and Mrs. C. H. David. Gifts for the reading room are mentioned at the end of this report.

Your librarian attended the meeting of the Library Institute for this district, held in Syracuse Library, May 19th. Librarians, trustees and friends of library work, twenty five in number, were present to take part in the various discussions which were of interest and of practical value.

The resignation of Miss Charlotte E. David became effective March 1, 1908. Miss Cherrie A. Bell then received appointment to the position and is continuing her services. Miss Helen VanSanford is also assisting as occasion demands. These have all been faithful and zealous helpers and I desire to commend the work of each one.

For all the workers at the library during the past year, I wish to express thanks for encouragement, generosity and patience courteously extended.

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN B. EMENS.
Fulton, N. Y., July 1, 1908.

Treasurer's Report.

July 1, 1907, to July 1, 1908.

Receipts.

Balance on hand	$ 383.09
City of Fulton	1125.00
State Appropriation	100.00
Fees, Non Residents	.50
Fines	116.98
Gifts	190.79
Sale publication	3.30
Other sources	18.88
Total	$1938.54

Payments.

For Books	$340.24
Periodicals	89.20
Binding Magazines	18.05
Librarian and Assistant	557.00
Janitor	159.60
Fuel and Lights	304.63
Permanent Improvements	70.00
Paid on Note	113.00
Printing	14.75
Freight, Express and Postage	11.17
Repairs	33.20
Chairs for Assembly Room	75.00
Other expenses	31.30
Balance on hand	121.40
Total	$1938.54

Dated July 1, 1908.
THOMAS HUNTER, Treasurer.

STATISTICAL TABLES.

Circulation.

Days library has been open	308
Volumes lent for home use	24,473
Volumes read in the library	902
Total use for reading	25,376
Average monthly use	2,114
Average weekly use	528
Average daily use	83
Largest monthly use, M'h. 08	2,623
Largest weekly use, M'h. 9-15	729
Largest daily use, Feb. 29	221
Users of reference books	528
Borrowers registered during the year	544
Total numbered registered since opening of new building	2,262

Additions.

No. volumes July 1, 1907, adult, 4,966; children, 793; total, 5,759. Added by purchase, adult, 197; children, 89; total, 286. Added by gift of books, adult, 94; children, 14; total, 108. Added by gift valuable pamphlets, adult, 14; children, 00; total, 14. Total increase, adult, 5,271; children, 896; total, 6,167. Volumes missing or withdrawn, adult, 46; children, 34; total, 79. Net increase, adult, 5,216; children, 862; total, 6,088.

Circulation by Classes.

	Adult	Juvenile	Total
Fiction	11,896	8,100	19,996
Magazines	1,166	69	1,235
General Works	68	6	74
Philosophy	38	5	43
Religion	157	40	197
Sociology	131	55	236
Philology	13		13
Science	127	158	285
Useful Arts	122	53	175
Art	110	79	189
Literature	569	102	671
Travel	281	155	436
Biography	282	183	465
History	336	122	458
Read in library			903
Total	15,346	9,127	25,376

Circulation by Months.

July, 1907	1,249
August	1,339
September	1,494
October	1,942
November	2,380
December	2,197
January, 1908	2,519
February	2,577
March	2,623
April	2,283
May	2,015
June	1,806
Total	24,478

Record of Readers and Students.

	Men	W'n	Boys	G'ls	Ref.	T't
July	79	94	90	63	5	331
August	108	143	128	77	6	462
Sept.	256	259	181	155	46	897
Oct.	315	260	290	213	70	1148
Nov.	293	251	336	229	69	1228
Dec.	292	190	389	223	61	1155
January	314	273	436	220	29	1272
Feb.	364	216	474	210	42	1306
March	318	256	483	296	81	1334
April	305	149	396	359	49	1258
May	246	153	303	300	36	1038
June	194	139	145	208	34	720

Contributors of Books and Pamphlets

Bangor Slate Company	1
C. R. Bennett	2
Mrs. A. Bristol	1
Andrew Carnegie	1
Carnegie Hero Fund Commission	1
Mrs. H. E. Clarke	3
Mrs. M. K. Clark	1
Cornell University	1
L. M. Crandall	1
C. E. David	12
H. P. De Forest	6
H. B. Emens	13
Fulton High School	5
C. C. Grafton	1
S. H. Hopkins	1
International Conciliation Ass'n	1
Lib. Mech. & Tradesmen (N. Y.)	2
Mrs. Edna A. Moore	2
New York State	20
Piper & Rice	5
Arvin Rice	4
Mrs. L. A. Seamens	2
Miss Belle Smith	18
S. Thompson	1
Syracuse University	1
Theo. Tonge	1
United States	13
Woman's Suffrage Association	1
Unknown	1
Total	122

Contributors of Periodicals.

Missionary Review
Pres. and First Meth. W. F. M. S.
Spirit of Missions	C. E. David
Children's Charities	H. L. Paddock
National Prohibitionist	Unknown

New Books Strictly Added.

Fiction.

The Cattle-baron's Daughter	Bindloss
Primadonna	Crawford
Fair Margaret	Crawford
King Spruce	Day
R. J.'s Mother	Marg. Deland
Somehow Good	DeMorgan
Four-pools Mystery	Webster
Katrina	R. R. Gilson
Adventures in Contentment	Grayson
Six Monologues	Herford
Harold	Bulwer
Old Ma'm'selle's Secret	John
Davenant	Kinross
Marquis of Lossie	MacDonald
Mother of the Man	Phillpotts
Breaking In of a Yachtman's Wife	Vorse
Dr. Ellen	Tompkins

Miscellaneous.

Chemistry of Commerce	Duncan
Alice Freeman Palmer	G. H. Palmer
Servant in the House	Kennedy
Art of Living in Good Health	Sager
Altar Fire	Benson
Seven Ages of Washington	Wister
Building a Home	Desmond
Father and Son	Gosse

Reference.

Proceedings National Arbitration and Peace Congress.
Who's Who in America	Leonard, ed
Syracuse University Catalogue	1907-'08
Cornell Register	1907-'08
New International Year Book, 1907
Hist. English Literature	Taine

Juvenile.

Juan and Juanita	Baylor
Merrylips	Dix
Little Girl in Old Chicago	Douglas
The Yale Cup	Dudley
Jimmie Suter	Doyle
Winning His Way to West Point	Malone
Plebe at West Point	Malone
West Point Yearling	Malone
"Carrots"	Mrs. Molesworth
Beatrice Laigh	Schwatrz
Days and Deeds	Stevenson
Jack, the Fire Dog	Wesselhoeft
Myths of the Red Children	Wilson
Peeps at Scotland	Grierson
Peeps at India	Finnemore
Peeps at Japan	Finnemore
Holland	Jungman
Averill	Carey
Polly	Meade

KA-NOO-NO CARNIVAL.

There Will Be a Lively Time in Syracuse During State Fair Week.

Those of The Observer's readers who have never seen the famous Ka-noo-no Karnival would do well to go to Syracuse during the State Fair week, September 14-19, inclusive and witness the great spectacle and pageant parade. The business men of the city are spending $100,000 to entertain the visitors.

Monday night, absolutely free of charge, there will be a great Water Karnival and hundreds of gaily decorated craft will pass through the Erie Canal. There will also be the coronation of the King and Queen of Ka-noo-no, and the abdication of last year's King and Queen, as well as the spectacle of 500 young girls in a dance in Clinton Square.

Tuesday night the great Commercial Float Parade will be held and 100 floats will represent the industrial life of the city.

Wednesday night the "History and Legends of the Hudson" will be represented by eleven gorgeous floats, each preceded by a band, marching through streets made light as day by thousands of electric lights strung in arches across the street.

Thursday night comes the great Fraternal and organization parade, and it is expected that 100 floats will be seen in this pageant.

Friday night 10,000 school children will march bedecked with garlands of flowers in a Floral Parade that will surpass anything seen in this country.

Anyone may secure lodgings in private houses in advance by writing to "Lodging and Information Committee, Ka-noo-no Karnival, Syracuse, N. Y."

Sufferers who say they have tried everything without benefit are the people we are looking for. We want them to know from glad experience that Ely's Cream Balm will conquer Cold in the head, Hay Fever, and obstinate forms of Nasal Catarrh. This remedy acts directly on the inflamed, sensitive membranes. Cleansing, soothing and healing. One trial will convince you of its healing power. Price 50c. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Where to Shop in Syracuse.

These Advertisements were Written and Designed by the Fred St. Germain Advertising Agency.

310 Onondaga Co. Sav. Bank Bld'g Syracuse, N. Y.
Long Distance Phone 28-I

LET P. J. BRANG

Make all arrangements as for Tickets, Berths, Etc., for you, if you intend to go abroad He can save you time, worry and expense. Also money sent to all parts of the world at lowest rate. Agent for all leading Steamship lines. Any information cheerfully given.
801 NORTH SALINA ST. 11

CENTRAL CITY Eng. & Electro Co.

Engraving & Electrotp'g
530 E. Water St.
SYRACUSE. 9

W. T. Crane Co PIANOS AND PHONOGRAPHS

331 S. SALINA ST. 2

THOS MURPHY C. J. TURCOT

THOS. MURPHY & CO.

Stocks, Bonds, Cotton, Grain

Correspondent Cotton Commission Co.
713-14-15 S. A. & K. BUILDING
Phones—Old 1036—New 1164 4

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

J. HOLDEN OPTICIAN — YATES BLK MONTGOMERY ST.

Oculists' Prescriptions a Specialty.
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

FARMS FOR SALE.

If you want to sell, exchange or buy a farm, call and see us. We make a specialty of farms and village property. List your property with us.

STACY & BEARD,
Farmers Exchange
416 Granger Block, Syracuse, N. Y.

TYPEWRITER BARGAINS!

Smiths, Remingtons, Densmores, Hammonds, Blickensderfers, only $15.— Others. Shipped on approval. Machines Rented, Exchanged, Repaired. Supplies. Write us.

CHICAGO TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE,
115 S. Salina St. SYRACUSE, N. Y.

MANTELS AND FIREPLACES

from $35.00 upwards. Interior Marble work for walls, counters, etc. Rubber Floors. Tile for walls, floors and ceilings of bathrooms, etc.

SYRACUSE MANTEL, TILE & MARBLE CO.
333 E. Genesee St. Long Distance Phone.

Foot Specialist

Mrs. M. T. Foster -- Chiropodist

Corns removed without pain; bunions treated; ingrowing nails removed.
105 New Rosenbloom Building, Second Floor, Syracuse, N. Y.

CAPITAL, $125,000 SURPLUS, $100,000

E. R. REDHEAD, President JOHN HUNTER, Vice-President
H. E. HANNIS, Cashier

The Citizens National Bank

OF FULTON, N. Y.

Will Pay You 4 per cent. Interest on Certificates of Deposit

Interest begins at once, from date of deposit to time of withdrawal.
Prompt and courteous attention guaranteed. Your patronage is solicited.

BANKING BY MAIL

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Oswego, employs a system which makes it easy for its out-of-town depositors to open accounts and transact business by mail. Deposits sent by mail may be in any form, and they are acknowledged the day they are received.

It is not necessary to send a pass-book with depositor to be balanced as, on request, statements are mailed showing the balance the last day of each month, and the cancelled checks are returned at the same time. This system is a great convenience for those who only visit Oswego occasionally. Write for further information.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
The only bank in Oswego County in which the U. S. government keeps money on deposit
Oswego, N. Y.

Singing Pigeons.

The queer Chinese change pigeons into song birds by fastening whistles to their breasts. The wind of their flight then causes a weird and plaintive music that is seldom silenced in the pigeon-haunted cities of Peking and Canton.

The Belgians, great pigeon flyers, fasten whistles beneath the wings of valuable racing carriers, asserting that the shrill noise is a sure protection against hawks and other birds of prey.

As a similar protection, reeds, emitting an odd wailing sound, are fixed to the tail feathers of the dispatch-bearing pigeons of the German army. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Boat in a Knapsack.

A Servian named Merchep has devised what he terms "a boat in a knapsack" for army purposes. The boat is composed of linen rendered impermeable by a coating of rubber; it is provided with oars, which fold into each other to the size of an ordinary walking stick, and a cork seat, which also serves to keep it taut when open. The model can accommodate one person only, but larger ones may be made on the same plan for the conveyance of troops and baggage when crossing rivers. Merchep's invention has been tried on the Seine by naval experts, who speak of it in high terms.

Her Trouble.

Old Mrs. Smith was a chronic complainer and was constantly sending for the family physician and giving him a list of her fancied ailments. He always listened quite patiently, but was getting a little tired of hearing the same things over and over.

One day when the old lady considered herself in an unusually bad way she sent for the doctor, and, after going over the usual list, ended by saying: "Really, doctor, I do not know what in the world is wrong with me. I can neither lay nor set."

The doctor looked at her a moment, then said in a solemn tone: "Madam, you must be a rooster."

Self-Preservation

IS THE FIRST

Law of Nature

And the proper and most certain way to be law-abiding is to buy the best

Pure Food GROCERIES

at the Reliable Family Provision Store, 108 Oswego street, Fulton

Miller & Bogardus

Everything in Season
Fruits and Vegetables
Best Teas and Coffee
Our Telephone—53

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured

without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer does not wait. We give proofs of cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Brockner cor. 44th St., N. Y.

GRAY'S BALSAM

CURES COUGHS, PREVENTS PNEUMONIA

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

...Opposite the Red Eagle House...

Is the only Savings Bank in Fulton, N. Y.

Money deposited by August 4th, 1908, and remaining until September 28th, 1908, will receive the dividend for two months.

This bank has paid 4 per cent. on all deposits since October 1, 1907

New York State Savings Banks are the safest banks in the world

THE FULTON PATRIOT

Official Paper of City of Fulton.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1908.

The Fulton Patriot is issued every Wednesday from the office of the undersigned, Patterson Block, 201 Oneida, cor. East Second street.

Entered at the postoffice at Fulton, N. Y., as second-class matter.

Subscription rates—$1.00 per year; if paid in advance.

Advertising rates on application.

Notices of marriages, births and deaths published free of charge. Extended obituary mention, resolutions and cards of thanks, regular local rates.

Copy for display advertisements must reach this office not later than 6 p. m. Monday.

FRANK M. CONNELL,
Editor and Proprietor.

NEW POST OFFICE RULES.

Subscribers Must Pay Up Promptly or Be Cut Off the List.

The Postmaster General has issued to publishers of newspapers Order No. 907 containing amendments to the postal laws and the regulations applicable to second-class matter effective April 1, 1908.

Under the new regulations a newspaper is held to be a "publication regularly issued at stated intervals of not longer than one week and having the characteristics of second-class matter prescribed by statute," and a periodical is "a publication regularly issued at stated intervals less frequently than weekly and having the characteristics of second-class matter prescribed by statute."

Concerning subscriptions the rules are very strict. The section relating thereto reads as follows:

"A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the term for which they are paid, within the following periods:

"Dailies, within three months; triweeklies, within three months; semiweeklies, within nine months; weeklies, within one year; semi-monthlies, within three months; monthlies, within four months; bi-monthlies, within six months; quarterlies, within six months, they shall not be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers, and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second class postage rate of one cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient second-class postage rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed."

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Summary of Official Transactions for the Past Week in City Affairs, and Other Items of Interest.

The board of health met Wednesday evening and heard answers to the complaints in the Wolever and Martin cases. The former stated he had put his premises in a sanitary condition, and the latter agreed to move the henhouse on Thursday.

E. R. Hibbard made application for work as a garbage collector. The board is to allow him $20 for the purchase of a sanitary wagon box if he does not earn $100 by October 1st.

A resolution was passed whereby owners of animals dropping dead in the street are required to notify the board of health or the health officer within twelve hours after the animal's death, and not to remove or cause to be removed, the carcass of any animal dropping dead within the city limits, until the permission of the board or of the health officer is given. Any violation will result in a fine of $20.

At the meeting of the board of public works held Monday evening, it was voted to advertise for bids for the construction of sewers in Hannibal street and parts of Worth, West First and West Third streets, according to plans and specification prepared by City Engineer O. C. Breed.

The bids are to be opened on Aug. 11. The work of laying sewers is preparatory to the paving of the above streets in accordance with a resolution passed some time ago by the board.

Surrogate's Court.

Letters were issued to Sabina E. Wilcox, Cato, Wednesday, on the estate of her husband, Henry C. Wilcox, who died in Fulton in November, 1906, leaving $1,000 and $50 personal.

The inventory of the estate of Helen Bradsett, Hannibal, shows $2,574.81 personal property.

75 Cents to Syracuse and Return.

Every Sunday to Sept. 20, inclusive, via New York Central. 20-20.

THE POLITICAL FIELD

The Patriot's Summary of Politics and Politicians—Compiled from Everywhere and for Everybody.

The Parish Mirror announces the candidacy of W. C. David for county clerk upon the expiration of County Clerk's Simpson's term. David was born in Parish, has been postmaster eleven years and supervisor six years, and last winter tried to have the office of supervisor of good roads created and himself appointed to the office. David has had pretty near his share of public offices.

John Kendrick Bangs, the humorist is going to take the stump in Maine for Taft and Sherman.

The county clerks have received copies of the election laws and the political calendar for 1908. The schedule follows:

Election day, Nov. 3. Polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

Designation of places of registry in towns and cities, Sept. 1.

Registration days in cities and villages of 5,000 inhabitants and over, Oct. 9, 10, 16 and 17; polls to be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Registration days in other places than cities and villages of 5,000 inhabitants, Oct. 10 and 17; polls to be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Appointment of election officers before Sept. 1.

First publication of polling places and election district boundaries, Oct 8.

Certificates of nomination to be filed with secretary of state—party certificates, Sept. 24 to Oct. 4; independent certificates, Sept. 24 to Oct. 9.

Certificates of nomination to be filed with county or city clerk—party certificates, Sept 29 to Oct. 9; independent, Sept. 29 to Oct. 14.

Publication of nominations, Oct. 28 to Nov. 2, inclusive.

List of candidates to be posted on or before Oct. 31.

Declination of party nomination to be filed with secretary of state not later than Oct. 9.

Declination of independent nomination to be filed with secretary of state not later than Oct. 14.

Declination of party nomination to be filed with county or city clerk not later than Oct. 14.

Declination of independent nomination to be filed with same officers not later than Oct. 16.

Vacancies in nominations caused by declination or disqualification to be filled by filing a certificate with the secretary of state or county or city clerk on or before Oct. 19, and with town clerk on or before Oct. 28.

Judge Stowell says the date for the congressional convention, August 12, is satisfactory to him. He says he had a talk with P. W. Cullinan before the latter went to Watertown, and, therefore, Mr. Cullinan knew what the judge wanted—and the judge is satisfied with what he got, at that time.

The senatorial committees of Jefferson and Oswego counties, after sparring for time and position for two or three weeks, have agreed to meet today, Wednesday, at Watertown and set the date for the senatorial convention and discuss the basis of representation.

On Tuesday the notification committee of the Republican national convention, formally notified Wm. Howard Taft of his nomination as president of the Republican ticket.

Candidate Taft, in reply to the speech of Senator Warner in making formal notification of the nomination, delivered his acceptance speech, which will be the keynote of the campaign.

The speech is very lengthy—it would fill fourteen columns of The Patriot.

Briefly summarized, Candidate Taft accepts the nomination, and commits himself to every plank in the Republican platform. He takes the features up and discusses them at length. From a Republican standpoint, it is an interesting argument.

The Fulton Times never loses an opportunity to shy a brick at Mayor Quirk, but invariably the brick bounds back and smashes a window in the Times sanctum. Recently the paper inferred (and inferences are trump cards in the editorial cartridge box) that John Brannan had resigned because of "broken political promises" on the part of Mayor Quirk.

The Patriot published Mr. Brannan's letter of resignation, which destroyed the Times' shot along that line.

Last week the Times, in its effort to have the "last word," tells of "the very true statement" in the Times that Chairman Brannan of the board of fire and police, resigned on account of broken promises and adds: "The Times reiterates the statement and can produce the evidence, if it deems necessary."

When it comes to "producing evidence" in this regard, the Patriot concluded it would get into the game, so we interviewed Mr. Brannan and told him of the Times' statement. We asked Mr. Brannan if there was anything in the Times' claim of "having evidence", and if not, was he willing to make a few remarks on the subject. He said there was no truth in such a statement in regard to his relations with Mayor Quirk and he handed The Patriot the following card for publication:

Fulton, July 27, 1908.

Editor Fulton Patriot:

In regard to the statement that has been made that I resigned as a member of the fire and police board because of "broken promises and political injustices" on the part of Mayor Quirk, I wish to state, plainly, that such a statement is false and misleading in every particular.

Respectfully yours,
J. Brannan.

After reading the above card the predicament the Times is in is plainly visible to everybody. The Times has contracted the habit of attempting to disfranchise any person who is a friend of Mayor Quirk. The attempt is a dismal failure—a greater failure than its unpopular efforts in November, 1907, to defeat him at the polls.

There was a conference of the Democratic national committee last Saturday and Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, N. Y., was chosen as chairman; L. P. Hall of Nebraska, vice-chairman; Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, treasurer; John I. Martin of Missouri, sergeant-at-arms; Urey Woodson of Kentucky, secretary. It is said both Connors and Murphy of New York, approved of the selection of Editor Mack.

BROUGHT OBEDIENCE AT ONCE.

Mr. Drayton's Diplomatic Way of Dealing With Tommy.

In the Drayton household it is said that the father of the family has a way of presenting alternatives to his children that never fails to bring them into line.

"I wish you would speak to Bobby," said Mrs. Drayton one night. "I've told him to take his medicine and then jump into bed, and he won't do it. He just hops round, and says he doesn't want to take the medicine and he doesn't want to go to bed!"

Mr. Drayton stepped to the door of Bobby's room and stood there, tall, grave and impressive.

"Bobby," he said, firmly, "if you don't take your medicine at once, and then jump into bed, you will be put to bed, do you hear me, put to bed, without having your medicine at all!"

Upon which Bobby, alarmed and confused, swallowed his allotted portion and meekly retired for the night.—Youth's Companion.

Gymnastic Burglars.

A school for burglars has been discovered by the police at Toulouse, France, and 54 burglars and "professors" have been arrested.

Classes were held there every day, in which the burglars practiced gymnastics, and were taught the various details of their interesting profession by experts, who drew comfortable salaries.

All the members of the school are well known to the police, for one of the necessities of membership was a proof that the would-be member had committed at least five burglaries successfully, and had lived by his profession for at least three years.

Vagaries of the Plumb Line.

One of the curious things that men of science have discovered in their innumerable efforts to measure and map the earth with the least possible error, is the fact that there are places where the direction of a plumb line is not vertical. Irregularities of density in the crust of the globe may produce this phenomenon.

A remarkable instance has been found in the island of Porto Rico, where the deviation from the vertical is so great that, in mapping the island, the northern and southern coast lines, as shown on the older maps, had each to be moved inward half a mile.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

THE AMERICAN GAME

Summary of Events in the Local Base Ball Teams—The Ontario League—Notes from the Diamond, Bench and Grand Stand.

Wednesday, July 22d.

Auburn 4, Oneida 2.

Watertown 7, Oswego 3; second game—Oswego 14, Watertown 3.

Thursday, July 23d.

Oswego 8, Carthage 4.

Auburn 3, Oneida 0.

Fulton 4, Watertown 5; batteries: Mulholland and Danahey; Ditcher and Hurley.

Friday, June 24th.

Fulton 4, Watertown 0; batteries: Abbott and Danahey; Schultz and Hurley.

Oswego 2, Carthage 1.

Auburn 3, Oneida 2.

Saturday, July 25th.

Fulton 11, Watertown 5; batteries: Ward and Danahey; Ditcher, Curtis and Hurley.

Oswego 3, Carthage 1.

Sunday, July 26th.

Fulton 7, Watertown 3; batteries: Mulholland and Danahey; Curtis and Hurley.

Auburn 6, Oneida 0.

Monday, July 27th.

Fulton, 2, Auburn 1. Batteries. Abbott and Danaeey; Harrington and O'Brien.

Carthage 8, Watertown 4.

Oneida teams disbands.

Tuesday, July 28th.

Fulton 4, Auburn 1; batteries: Mulholland and Danahey; Gehring and O'Brien.

Carthage 2, Watertown 0.

The base ball meeting called for Friday evening to decide what would be done to support the home team, was largely attended and considerable interest shown. It is reported that sufficient interest has been shown as to warrant finishing the season.

Tonight another meeting of the base ball association will be held at city hall to take up the matter of financing the team. If you want base ball in Fulton attend this meeting. Final action will be taken and the interest shown tonight will decide the matter.

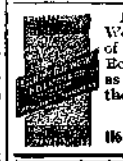
The Pastimes went to Oswego Sunday, where they met the strong Oil Well Supply team, winning by a score of 5 to 4.

The Sluggers of Oswego Falls will arrange a game with the Pastimes for Saturday.

Parties are endeavoring to arrange a series of five games for the Fulton and Lyons teams, for a purse of $500 or $1,000. It is proposed to play two games each in Lyons and Fulton and the fifth game, or possibly the first, will be played on Sunday in Syracuse.

The Fulton Ramblers went to Mt. Pleasant Sunday and defeated the Up-to-Dates by a score of 8 to 6.

The Rome barge canal base ball team failed to put in an appearance Saturday and the game went to the local canal team on a forfeit. A picked nine was made up for the occasion and the barge canal team defeated them by a score of 7 to 4.



Fulton Automobile Wrecked.

The Syracuse Post-Standard this, Wednesday morning, contains the following in regard to the accident to Mrs. James Morrow's large automobile near Syracuse last night. The automobile left Fulton about seven o'clock last night. The Post-Standard says:

On the same crossing where four people were seriously injured a week ago yesterday when a train crashed into their auto, another automobile containing four men crashed into a freight train early this morning.

The accident occurred on the Lakeside boulevard at the New York Central freight crossing. The men in the machine, going fifteen miles an hour, did not see a freight train standing on the crossing. A man who said his name was Mr. Mathias was thrown against the glass front of the machine and had his face and hands cut. He was taken to a physician's office.

The car, a Thomas valued at $5,000, is the property of a Mr. Loveless at Fulton. The front end was wrecked. After surveying their loss the party came to the city looking for someone to go back and watch the machine.

Fine Rugs made from Worn Carpets. Our make of Rugs are guaranteed. Economy is wealth. Good as the Best. Better than the Rest.

ECONOMY RUG CO.
116 Cortland Ave. Syracuse, N. Y.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets. Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

Fare paid within 50 miles for all purchases of $8 worth or more

M. KATZ & CO.

FIRST AND CAYUGA STREETS, FULTON, N. Y.

Store at Gloversville, N. Y.

Mail Orders Promptly Filled and Sent Prepaid.

All purchases of $5 or more delivered free to any R. R. Depot in N. Y. State.

With a firm determination to OUTDO all previous Weekly Sales records, we enter upon the last week of the month's selling with showings of Dependable Merchandise and Bargains that cannot help but meet with your hearty approval.

It will also be a most important week here as it will bring to a close one of the biggest and most successful Sales we have operated, viz. OUR TENTH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE. It will, therefore, pay you to visit all sections of this Big and Busy Store each day this week.

CLOAK ROOM BARGAINS

Everything in the way of odd Suits, Dresses, Coats, Skirts, etc., must go now. No holding back—'tis too late. We must have room for early Fall showing, hence these bargains.

$10.00 to $15.00 Tailored Wool Suit for $4.98

$20.00 Tailored Wool Suit for $9.98

Best Tailored Wool Suits in stock, sold for $25.00 to $35.00, for..... $12.50

$6. Linon Wash Suits, $4.49
Coats 30 inches long in plain blue stripe combination, white linon detachable collars and cuffs, for $4.49

$10. to $15. Coats for $4.98
Pony or tight fitting, plain and fancy Suitings, all strictly tailor-made, to close at..... $4.98

$20.00 Silk Coats for $9.98
53 inches long, elaborately trimmed with silk braid and ornaments, yours for..... $9.98

$6.00 Dress Skirt for $2.98
About 25 odd Dress Skirts of Serges, Melrose, Panama and Scotch Mixtures at..... $2.98

$5.00 Skirt for..... $1.98
In plain Serge Panamie; also handsome mixtures; only a few left at..... $1.98

Infants' and Children's Coats at one half their regular prices.

FURNITURE BARGAINS

Note the savings to the purchaser between regular price and the closing price put on the following items. Bring this "ad" with you and take advantage.

Dining, Parlor and Library Tables.
For $3.59, were $4.00
For $3.98, were $2.25
For $1.98, were $4.50
For $2.98, were $8.00
For $4.98, were $10.00
For $5.98, were $12.00
For $7.98, were $16.00
For $9.98, were $20.00
In Oak, Mahogany and Mission

Side Boards and Buffets
$7.49, were $15.00
$9.98, were $20.00
$12.50, were $25.00
$15.00, were $30.00
Oak only

Dressers and Chiffoniers
$4.98, were $8.00
$5.98, were $12.00
$7.49, were $18.00
$9.98, were $22.00
$15.00, were $30.00
Oak, Mahogany or Birdseye

Dining and Rocking Chairs
$1.49, were $3.00
$2.98, were $5.00
$3.98, were $8.00
$4.98, were $12.00
$7.49, were $18.00
$9.98, were $20.00
Oak, Mahogany and Mission

We mentioned the few items here just to give you an idea of the extraordinary values we present on this occasion. DON'T MISS THEM.

Just a Few Hints Taken at Random Around the Store

15c Corset Covers made of good Cotton for..10c

1.50 Children,s Dresses.....98c
Scotch Plaid, best quality Ginham, neatly trimmed in Fancy Wash Braids, ages 6 to 14

$1.50 Waists for.....89c
White Lawn; also a few striped Madras Shirt Waists at.....89c

$1.50 Automobile Veils.....98c
Made of Crepe de chene, 3½ yd long, six different colors.....98c

Best quality Apron Gingham 6c yd

Best Standard Percales.....7 1-2c yd

$3.50 Silk Waists for.....$1.69
In White China Silk only, trimmed with lace insertion, solid embroidered yoke at....$1.69

25 per cent off on our entire line on Trunks, Suit Cases, Valises. Don't buy without looking over our big line.

35c Granite Carpet per yard.....23c

25c Vase.....10c
Three barrels of them just received, 12 to 16 inches tall, made of clear crystal. Get one while they last at.....10c

If you have forgotten about it we call your attention again to our Seemless Brussels Rugs, 9X12, made to sell at $22.00. We will still sell them at.....$17.50

$20.00 Brussels Rugs, 9X12 for.....$14.98
Medallion, all-over designs in Persian and Florial effects, well wearing Rugs, for $14.98

$2.50 Lace Curtains for.....$1.50
Fine Nottingham, 3½ yards wide, long plain, — or floral centre, per pair.....$1.50
Odd lots of Lace Curtains at your own price from one half pair to 3 pairs in a lot.

Watch Our Window Display for Daily Specials Come Early and Stay Late

Great Values at the J. L. Jones Stores This Week

500 pairs Men's 50c Suspenders to sell for 25c pair--only two pairs to one person
200 Men's Flannel Shirts, in all colors, for $1.19, worth $2.00
These are great bargains--1,000 pairs Boys' and Misses' Hose, the 15c kind, for 10c pair

Full Plaited White Linon Skirts

These Skirts are five yards wide at the bottom and have never sold for less than $3.00, but we're going to give you the greatest skirt bargain we ever offered by selling this lot at $1.98 each.

Special in Shirt Blouses for Boys and Girls

These are short-sleeved and just the garment for outings.

One lot of Children's Dresses at 98c. They are worth $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00

Men's and Boys' Suits at a sacrifice

J. L. Jones Stores

53-55 First Street Phone 375
...Next to Savings Bank...

CASH

ANNIVERSARY SALE

Twenty-one years ago tomorrow I started in a small and simple way, with one store. After years of energy I have now 32 stores in this state. I kindly thank the public for their patronage and I sincerely hope if you are not a customer you will start to-morrow and I can candidly say I will save you from 15 to 25 per cent. Compare this list below with what you have been paying and be convinced. We intend making this week the banner week of all: I sincerely hope you will give us a trial order and let us convince you that we keep the purest of foods at the lowest prices.

Again thanking you and sincerely hoping you will become one of our many customers, I remain,

Very truly yours,
CASH PAPWORTH.

21 Real Live Bargains

5 lb Granulated Sugar, with grocery order amounting to $1.00.....25c

Condensed Cream—125 cases of pure, rich milk. Perfection in every sense of the word. Large 20 oz. can, doz.....$1.10, per can, 10c

Bacon—3000 pieces of fancy English styled sugar cured Bacon.....11½c lb.

Ginger Snaps—the kind that makes the children ask for more.....6 lbs. 25c; 5c per lb.

Salmon—250 cans of genuine Red Alaska Salmon,..2 cans, 25c; 1 can, 14c

Grape Nuts—The ever popular breakfast food, the brain worker's food.....p'k'g 10c

Olives—100 cases of fancy, large Manzanilla Olives—extra large bottle.....doz. $1.10; bottle, 10c

Tea—To more thoroughly introduce our 40c teas, we will give away absolutely free, one 10c can of Ground Nutmeg and one 10c can of our wonderful Dirt Cleanser, to all persons purchasing one lb. of Tea.....40c

Tomatoes—395 cases of large, ripe, Southern packed tomatoes. These tomatoes are not like the cheap, advertised brands, but perfect whole stock.....doz, 90c; can, 8c

Succotash—500 cases of fancy New York State Succotash. Sells regularly for 15c. Special.....doz, $1.25; can, 11c

Lard—2,000 lbs. pure lard, which few sell or advertise.....12c lb.

Lemons—225 boxes of medium size, smooth, thin skinned, Messina Lemons.....doz., 12½c

Kippered Herring—75 cases of genuine Aberdeen packed Scotch Herring—something delicious for lunch.....can, 15c; 2 cans, 27c

Coffee—1500 lbs. freshly roasted Mocha and Java blend. This coffee only needs a trial to make you one of our thousands of Coffee customers, lb., 27c

Corn—200 cases extra fancy New York State packed corn. Sweet, tender and creamy.....doz., $1.25; can, 11c

Postum—The widely advertised coffee substitute. Regularly 15c p'k'g 12½c

Matches—A solid car of Royal Blue Brand—guaranteed sure light. 3 boxes.....10c

Toilet Paper—400 cases large rolls of finest quality of paper. 8 rolls...25c

Flour—Two solid cases of the finest quality of bread flour. We guarantee every pound.....¼ bbl. sack, $1.49

Soap—250 boxes good laundry soap, equal to the widely advertised brands.....11 bars, 25c

Starch—1,500 lbs. extra quality lump starch.....7 lbs., 25c; lb., 4c

EXTRA SPECIAL FOR JULY 30th.

Any person buying $1.00 worth of groceries on Anniversary Day, July 30th, will receive $2.00 worth of extra stamps.

SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIAL

This sale lasts from 7:30 P. M. to 9:00 P. M.

3,000 lbs. of extra fancy creamery butter—the kind we are noted for. 2 lbs., the limit.....24½c lb.

7% PER CENT DIVIDENDS GUARANTEED

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our Mail Order Department is young, still we are doing business in about 25 States, and for the purpose of pushing this end of the business we are selling stock, and here, by offering to you the preferred stock in the Cash Papworth Co. at par value of $10.00 per share, this stock is guaranteed to draw 7 per cent dividends annually, and said dividends are payable January 10th of each year. This is an investment that is positively gilt edge, and to those who wish to invest would say that any person who buys this stock can, at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund your money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition, which pays you 7 per cent and still you are positively safe. Shares sold in any quantity, from one to five hundred. Not more than five hundred shares will be sold to any one person. If interested, write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

PAPWORTH

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Whitaker Road and Vicinity

This department is under the management of Mrs. Evelyn C. Howard, The Patriot's authorized agent.

A number of young people were delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Bernadetta Rafferty on Thursday evening. Refreshments and games were the order of the evening.

Miss Ruth Goodrowe is visiting relatives in Oneida.

Mrs. Robinson, from the Kingdom, and Miss Collins of Syracuse, were guests at Mrs. E. D. Distin's on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. W. Rowlee, who has been seriously ill at the home of her father, W. B. Howard, the past week, is convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey of Oneida, have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Job McCarthy.

Mrs. Mason Slater returned to Syracuse on Thursday.

Thos. Whalen and wife of Volney Center, who left on Monday to make their home in Syracuse, spent Sunday at William Whalen's on State road.

William Cronk of New Haven, visited his brother, George, and family last week.

Miss Jessie Hill of Fulton, was a recent guest at the home of her brother, Cassius.

Misses Clara, Lucy and Frances and Master Richard Howard spent Wednesday at Howard homestead.

Mrs. Root of Fulton, is spending a few days at her home here.

Mrs. Dora Seymour is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Fish of Oswego.

Miss Elizabeth Howard has been a guest of Mrs. Betsey Wright in North Volney the past week.

Ray Muire was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. D. F. Hoy of Ithaca, who, in company with her husband and son, was visiting friends in Pennsylvania, was summoned to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Rowlee on Wednesday. Mr. Hoy and son returned to Ithaca.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rowlee were the guests at A. A. Rowlee's in Fulton on Wednesday.

Mrs. Edna Whittemore has been spending a few days with Mrs. Robinson in the Kingdom.

Miss Pauline Montague entertained Miss Alberta Howard at the home of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Osborne, one day last week.

Earl Rowlee and family were recent guests at John Sheldon's.

Harold Wright was painfully injured one day last week while raking with a horse-rake. His foot became entangled in the rake and one of his toes was smashed.

Frank Bateman and George Taylor, jr., took dinner with Stanley Bateman at Volney Center on Saturday.

Mrs. George Candee of Fulton, visited at Mrs. Wm. Williams' on Friday.

Geo. Foster of Fulton, was entertained at supper by his son, Winford Foster and wife on Sunday.

Mrs. Earl Rowlee and children spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Frank Simons.

Isaac Hale and wife spent Sunday at Webster Hawks' in North Volney.

Miss Pauline Montague has been spending a few days at Burr Howard's this week.

Miss Murle Bartlett of Mt. Pleasant, has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. George Ives.

Jasper Rowlee and wife were guests at Lewis Ives' on Saturday.

Miss Lelah Osborne has been visiting at A. Hinckley's in Lansing, the past week.

Miss Gertrude Rowlee entertained Miss Pauline Montague on Wednesday.

Fred Trask and wife of Fulton, were guests at Henry Trask's on Sunday.

The Howard reunion will be held Tuesday, Aug. 18th, at Lewis Howard's, near Dugway.

Miss Elizabeth Quirk, a nurse from Fulton hospital, is attending Mrs. W. W. Rowlee.

Mrs. John E. Blake is visiting Auburn relatives.

Benton Howard and family entertained Frank Chesbro and wife, Wm. Chesbro and family, Mrs. Lewis Sharpe and Mrs. Zenadie Beardsley on Sunday.

Miss Ruth Fisher of Oswego, has been spending the past week with her cousin, Miss Helen Seymour.

Miss Ethel MacDowell of Syrause, and Mrs. Crane of Fulton, were recent guests of Mrs. Fowler Baldwin.

Miss Lora McCarthy was pleasantly surprised on Thursday, when fifteen of her young friends came to remind her that she was eleven years of age. Games occupied the afternoon and refreshments were served. Many tokens of remembrance were presented to the young lady.

Miss Viola Cronk was a guest of Miss Lena Wardhaugh in Fulton on Thursday.

Geo. Cronk, and Louis and Asa Worden spent the past week in Phoenix, working on the telephone line.

Mrs. Ellen Harding of Fulton, and Anson Salsbury of Breckenridge, Miss., were guests at James Coles' on Thursday.

Misses Wilkes, and Lillias and Helen Waugh were guests at Chas. Rowlee's recently.

Lyman Bennett and wife and Miss Letha Stearns of Fulton, called at Clarence Bennett's on Sunday.

E. E. Fish and family of Oswego, spent Sunday at Willard Seymour's.

Mrs. E. L. Root visited Mrs. George Cronk on Friday.

Mrs. D. F. Hoy returned to Ithaca on Monday.

Frank Sears and wife of Fulton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ward on Sunday.

Miss Eva Campbell of Fulton, visited Mrs. Wm. Whalen on Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Chapman of Pine Woods, has been a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Albert McCarthy, during the past week.

Frank Howard of Mt. Pleasant, has been on the sick list.

Arthur Dunsmore and family spent Sunday at Frank Simons'.

Mrs. Wm. Percival of Mt. Pleasant, recently entertained Mrs. George Warner of Erie, Pa., and Mrs. Emily Hare of Dunkirk. She accompanied them as far as Syracuse on their journey home, where she spent several days the guest of her sister.

Asa Worden and family and Allen Holden were at George Cronk's, Sunday.

Ernest Grant visited his parents, Truman Grant and wife, on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary LaVeck, Mrs. Julia Young, Mrs. Frances Vidian and Mrs. Louis Young of Fulton, visited at Louis LaMay's and Clarence Bennett's on Sunday.

Chas. Ward and wife spent Saturday at Sylvan Beach.

Mrs. E. F. Beard and two children of Syracuse, who have been spending a few days at Mrs. Wm. Gillespie's, have returned home.

Darwin Pearson and family, Mrs. Jane Pearson and Arthur Pearson spent Sunday at Virgil Rowlee's.

Byron Distin and family, Mrs. Amy Randall and Miss Margaret Pratt spent Sunday at E. D. Distin's.

Almon Osborne visited his sister, Mrs. E. P. Skeel on Sunday.

Remember the W. F. M. meeting at Mrs. John W. Distin's in Fulton next Wednesday, Aug. 5th.

Frank Simons and family spent Sunday at Delos Distin's.

Miss Florence Gillespie has been spending a few days with friends in Syracuse.

Mrs. Wm. Gillespie visited friends in New Haven the past week.

Miss Hazel Hubbard entertained the Misses Ethel and Minnie Bateman at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Walter White, on Monday.

Verner Calkins and Erwin Osborne were in Syracuse last week.

Mrs. Loraina Fuller of Fulton, was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Foster, the past week.

The parsonage committee of Mt. Pleasant, will hold an ice cream festival on the parsonage lawn Friday evening, Aug. 7th, instead of Aug. 1st, as was first announced. The proceeds are to be used to repair the parsonage and a cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopper of Hannibal, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur of Bowens Corners, were entertained at Bernard Howard's in Mt. Pleasant Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Loraina Fuller entertained the What-So-Ever society of Fulton, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Foster on Wednesday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Dumont, July 21st, a son.

The work on the State road is completed and contractor Grady and his men are engaged in constructing five miles of road between Tully and Pebble. Mr. Lawton left with five teams last week and Mr. Lawton and family have moved to Pebble.

IF.....

SOROSIS SHOES

satisfy the most exacting tastes and necessities, Why not yours?

Morton & Shattuck

Sign of the Big Boot

Money Saved Is Money Earned

The G. Clay Cox Piano Co.'s Rebuilding Sale is the place to save money.

New uprights at wholesale prices; used uprights from $50 up; square pianos from $15 to $50; good organs $10 to $65; $700 player piano $300. Don't wait for something to happen, it has happened.

315 Warren Street, Syracuse, N. Y.
E. W. Greenleaf, Manager

The Fulton Ramblers and the Up-to-Dates of Mt. Pleasant, played at Mt. Pleasant Saturday. The visitors won by a score of 8 to 6. The Up-to-Dates will play the South Scriba team this week Saturday at South Scriba.

Ransom Dumont visited his son, Erwin and family on Monday.

George Pelton and family of Fulton, spent Sunday at Mrs. E. A. Laws'.

Alva Cronk has been on the sick list during the past week.

The Rowlee reunion will be held at Alonzo Rowlee's in the Rowlee district, about one-half mile west of Rowlee school house on Saturday, Aug. 16th

Dr. Sylvester Kellar had a narrow escape from being seriously injured Saturday when his horse became unmanageable. Considerable damage was done to his carriage.

Misses Evelyn and Alberta Howard had a horse run away with them last week and while it was a narrow escape, the young ladies were uninjured. The horse was badly cut about the legs by running into a wire fence and several stitches had to be taken.

Frank Earl and wife of Auburn, spent Sunday with his parents, Job Earl and wife.

Mrs. Howard Morin, Mrs. C. H. Burke Miss Buelah Kelsey and Miss Edith Morin visited at Mrs. Jessie Waugh's on Monday.

We are pleased to inform our readers that Henry Trask is not dead, as many supposed, but instead is alive and able to be out. The mistake was caused by the death of James Atkinson, father of Mrs. James Trask, who was buried on Saturday, and the wonderful work of the telephones.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter White and Miss Hazel Hubbard were guests at Oron Dunsmore's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osborne entertained Ray Dunsmore and wife Sunday.

Ransom Dumont, who fell from a load of hay recently, is slowly recovering from his injuries.

John L. Calkins went to a hospital in in Syracuse on Monday for treatment.

Burr Howard and daughter, Evelyn, spent Monday and Tuesday at W. B. Howard's.

Henry VanValkenburg and twin sons, Leman and Lyman, of New Jersey, and Miss Violet Gwynn of New York, are guests of Howard VanBuren and family.

Ray Muire has been spending a few days in New Haven this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles George were recent guests at F. C. Cordia's.

Mrs. Albert Paddock of the Weed district, was one of a party who went to Lily Marsh, near Demster Grove, on Monday after huckleberries. In attempting to cross a pond on a log she fell into the water, and as she was going down the third time she was rescued by one of the gentlemen of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Distin of Mt. Pleasant, called at Job Earl's on Sunday.

North Volney.

Mrs. Bertha DeWolf visited her brother, Charles Wilber and family, in Fulton last week.

The Ladies' Aid Society meeting, which was to be held Thursday, July 30th will be postponed two weeks.

Smith Wright spent a few days with his son, Frank, in Lansing and his daughter in Oswego the past week.

Wm. Wright and Roy Davis spent Monday night at Frank Wright's in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Burr Howard and Mrs. Frank Wright and daughter, Ethel, of Lansing, were entertained Sunday at the home of Smith Wright and family at North Volney.

Clifford.

Fred Nash has been calling on friends for the past few days.

Ira Gadban of Oswego, was the guest of G. W. Dennis, Thursday.

Miss Cora Sherman of Oswego, spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Leon Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Willis and daughter of Phoenix, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Willis.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown of Fulton, visited his brother, S. C. Brown, last Thursday.

Miss Cora Trask is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Manley, in Massachusetts.

O. D. Tooley and family spent Sunday with her parents, Sylvester Wright.

Frank Howard of Mt. Pleasant, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willis on Friday.

Mrs. B. Jennings and her cousin, Mrs. Nettie Curtis of Oklahoma, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Orley Jennings.

Albert Thornhill of South Mexico, called on Mr. Snyder Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Young spent Sunday with friends in Phoenix.

Erwin Burton and family were the Sunday guests of Mrs. O. Jennings.

G. W. Dennis went to Syracuse Wednesday with a load of poultry.

Prohibition Notes.

THE PLATFORM.

"The Prohibition party of the United States makes the following declaration of principles, and pledges their enactment into law when placed in power:

"The submission by Congress to the several states of an amendment to the federal Constitution, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, exportation or transportation of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes.

"The immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic for beverage purposes in the District of Columbia, in the territories and all places over which the national government has jurisdiction, the repeal of the international revenue tax on alcoholic liquors, and the prohibition of interstate traffic therein.

"The election of United States senator by direct vote of the people.

"Equitably graduated income and inheritance taxes.

"The establishment of postal savings banks and the guaranty of deposits in banks.

"The regulations of all corporations doing an interstate commerce business.

"The creation of a permanent tariff commission.

"The strict enforcement of law, instead of the official tolerance and practical license of the social evil which prevails in many of our cities, with its unspeakable traffic in girls.

"Uniform marriage and divorce laws.

"An equitable and constitutional employers' liability act.

"Court review of Postoffice Department decisions.

"The prohibition of child labor in mines, workshops and factories.

"Legislation basing suffrage only upon intelligence and ability to read and write the English language.

"The preservation of the mineral and forest resources of the country, and the improvement of the highways and waterways."

The New National Committee.

The new National Executive Committee is up as follows: Charles E. Jones, Chicago, chairman; A. G. Wollenberger, Lincoln, Neb., vice-chairman; W. G. Calderwood, Minnesota, secretary; Felix T. McWhirter, Indianapolis, treasurer; O. W. Stewart, Chicago; A. B. Stevens, Tyrone, Pa.; Finley C. Hendrikson, Cumberland, Md.; J. B. Cranfell, Dallas, Texas, and Samuel Dickie, Albion, Mich

OSWEGO MAN ON NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

In the New York session of the delegates among other business transacted was the election of a member of the National Committee. This distinction fell on Clarence E. Pitts of Oswego, he being chosen from several candidates.

What the Prohibition Party Proposes To Do This Year.

Educate every thinking voter in the facts and truths of the Prohibition reform.

Make it impossible for any editor or public man to oppose Prohibition through ignorance of the truth.

Organize every election district in the nation.

Enroll and put a NATIONAL ISSUE Button on the lapels of from 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 voters of America.

Force the liquor men to show their actual strength.

Compel recognition of the Prohibition issue by next Congress, and its immediate passage of the Littlefield Interstate Liquor Bill or similar bill for the protection of 45,000,000 people now living in no-license territory.

Elect a nucleus of Prohibition leaders to Congress.

Elect our National Prohibition candidates, which is not impossible, by securing the attention and support of Prohibition voters early enough in the campaign to split the liquor parties and provoke a national uprising of all opposed to the drink curse.

Every one of these achievements will tremendously strengthen and inspire the nation-wide movement for local county and state Prohibition and all law enforcement endeavor.

-Electricity Helps-

ONE YEAR GUARANTEE

ON FLAT IRONS!

Our new irons are guaranteed for this period and any defects will be made good.
You cannot make a better investment for your house. It will save time, work and worry, AND EXPENSE as well.
It means comfort in hot weather that nothing else can give.
Take one on free trial and show yourself. We know!

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

CITY AND COUNTY.

—Real estate sold and rented. Rents collected and property insured. Money loaned on real estate.
14-52 Fred'k G. Spencer.

C. W. Dings of Oswego, was in the city last week.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Austin, a daughter.

George Budlong visited Herkimer friends last week.

George Barnes has been spending a few days at Sylvan Beach.

Mrs. E. H. Nodyne spent Sunday with relatives in Syracuse.

Thos. Ernshaw has been the guest of Oneida friends recently.

Mrs. W. L. Coe of Fulton, visited friends in Hastings recently.

Mrs. Wm. Bowers of the west side, was on the sick list last week.

Miss Anna Sullivan is spending a few days with Auburn friends.

Thos. Farrell of New York, was the guest of Fulton friends Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laugdon are spending a week at Sylvan Beach.

Hon. C. N. Bulger of Oswego, was in the city Saturday on legal business.

—Frogs' Legs in any quantity, wanted by Fred H. Barnum at Three Rivers. Must be fresh and of good, fair size. 29-4

Melvin Blodgett has been the recent guest of his aunt, Mrs. Edward Wheeler of Hannibal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blodgett and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Milton Clement on Sunday.

Mrs. F. J. Newton and son, Byron, of Pittsburg, Pa., are visiting Dr. and Mrs. N. H. Haviland.

Mrs. Peter Enwright of Oswego, has been the recent guest of Mrs. J. F. Donovan of the west side.

James Cole and Willis Morin have returned from a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip on Eighth lake.

Mrs. Lewis Phelps and her daughter, Marian, who went to Oregon last April, have returned to this city.

The annual picnic of the Oswego County Good Templars is being held today on the county fair grounds.

Sherwood R. Magee of the Philadelphia National ball club, spent Sunday with his family in the city.

Mrs. J. L. Jones and her son, Bernard have gone to the North Woods, for the benefit of Mrs. Jones' health.

Mrs. Eugene Cunningham has been called to Hannibal on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. George Gifford.

Mrs. A. L. Harris, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cornell, is visiting relatives at Skaneateles and Glen Haven.

The First National Bank is now paying 4 per cent. interest
on deposits

John Niece of Frankfort, spent a few days last week with friends here.

Mrs. James H. Brooks has returned from a visit with relatives at Picton, Ont.

I. F. Seamans of Fulton, is visiting friends in this vicinity.—Pulaski Democrat.

Mrs. H. E. Coe of Montezuma, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Logan Nelson.

Complete Protection!
Fire Insurance!
WHITAKER & LOVEJOY
44 S. First St., Fulton

Mrs. Lena LaBeef has been visiting Mrs. A. C. Barth at Ilion during the past week.

The hop growers' picnic at Sylvan Beach Saturday was attended by 20,000 persons.

Frank E. Simons has sold property in Utica street to Frank J. Darling, terms $1,200.

James Walker of Fayetteville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cornell on Saturday.

Horace G. Markham of Dayton, O., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Magee.

—For Sale Cheap. Four second-hand Carriages and Harnesses. See Dr. N. H. Haviland. 29-3

Attorney and Mrs. G. S. Piper left last week for Fargo, N. D., where they will visit relatives for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Putnam and daughter returned Thursday evening from a week's outing at New Haven.

The Sandy Creek Fair, which opens August 25th, will have some of the best races ever seen in this part of the state.

Miss Adelia Blodgett has been spending a few days with Mrs. Chas. Post in Syracuse, during the past week.

Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Orchard and Roy Owens, accompanied by a party of Utica friends, are enjoying camp life at Sylvan Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Scoy of Rochester, are the guests of Mrs. Van Scoy's sister, Mrs. J. H. Brooks, on South Second street.

The many friends of Miss Hazel Gardner will be pleased to learn that she is able to be out again after her recent serious illness.

Miss Etta Breads of Auburn, and Miss Maymie Breads of Plainfield, N. J., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Breads.

Branches of the National Protective Legion in Madison, Oswego and Oneida counties will picnic at Sylvan Beach on August 6th.

H. A. Waldorf, the popular manager of O. Henderson & Co's., store, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at his old home in Michigan.

The first band concert and ice cream festival of the Odd Fellows Band and the Rebekahs Thursday evening was a success.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hargrave returned Monday from a week's visit with friends and relatives in the northern part of the state.

Mrs. D. L. Lipsky and daughter, Norma, and Mrs. M. Katz and daughter, Ruth, are enjoying their annual outing at Sacandaga park.

Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Haviland and Dr. Ross Haviland, who have been visiting Dr. and Mrs. N. H. Haviland, have returned to New York.

The Eastern Stars' special train Friday took a large number of excursionists to Long Branch Friday and they report a most enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morton have returned from Canandaigua lake, where they have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Nettleton of Syracuse.

Mrs. E. M. Doran, her daughters, Mary M., and Nellie E., and son, Michael, have been spending the past week with Mrs. Doran's niece, Mrs. Irving Galusha.

The "45" team of the west side go to Ten Mile Point on Skaneateles lake next Sunday, where they will be the guests of the "45" team of Skaneateles at a clam bake.

There will be a band tournament held at Hannibal Center July 31st, under the auspices of the local band. Bands from Red Creek, Ira and Martville will compete for prizes.

JULY PRICES
are the same as April prices on CLEAN HARD COAL
PORTER & CO.
Office and yards just west of Broadway station. Phone 39.

Byron S. Coon of Mannsville, who went to Pulaski last March and married Ellen K. Darrow, now publishes the information that Ellen has left his bed and board and he will not pay her bills.

Hereafter in Cleveland, O., the city will buy its own fireworks and provide free exhibitions in the principal city parks on July 4th. The passage of the ordinance is a result of newspaper agitation for a "sane" Fourth of July.

The local W. C. T. U. will hold their annual picnic with Mrs. Robert Allen at her home on Worth street, Friday, July 31st. Mrs. Barker, the president of the county union, will be present and speak. A full attendance is desired.

The police of Syracuse have been asked to search for 17-year-old Frances Hill, daughter of Charles Hill, an Oswego county farmer. She left her home June 20th and her whereabouts are unknown to her family.

While no orders have been received at the office of the local barge canal contractors, or in fact from anyone here so far as can be learned, it is rumored that the Oswego canal will reopen on August 1.—Oswego Times, Wednesday.

Pear blight has struck some of the big orchards in Oswego Town and growers say that unless a change comes in weather conditions that the fine and abundant crop of Bartletts that has been promised will not materalize. The hot sun and moist weather are said to be responsible.

Miss Sadie Roland, thought to be the smallest dwarf in Ohio, died of brain fever last week. She was 35 years of age, 35 inches tall and weighed only 30 pounds. The tiny woman made her own garments and those of her mother, and did exquisite needle work, although her hands were no larger than those of a small child.

—For Sale. House and two vacant lots of the corner of Cayuga and Fifth streets. Ask C. W. Streeter about them. 30-3

An Albany dispatch of Thursday says that two large claims against the state for land and riparian rights in connection with the barge canal work were filed with the state court of claims Thursday. Frederick A. Gage asks $203,034 and George G. Chauncey claims $115,050. Other barge canal claims from Fulton are those of the Victoria Paper Mills Company, $2,530; Cora B. Chauncey, $3,302; Frederick A. Gage, William G. Bennett and Bert W. Bennett, $2,024.

The New York State Fair Commission has arranged with the New York police officials to have twenty-six of the best equipped mounted police from the metropolis, attend the State fair to be held in Syracuse during September. The presence of this squad of mounted police will, it is believed, call a halt to pocket-picking to a large degree.

The Men's Bethany class of the Congregational church held its annual business meeting for the election of officers at the church last week. William Russell was elected president, Dr. W. M. Wells vice-president, W. Cramer secretary, James Stevens treasurer, W. Coe teacher, and Dr. W. M. Wells, assistant teacher. Supper was served after the business meeting.

Syracuse and Pulaski merchants are looking for the man who signed his checks "J. W. Harrington," and bought large bills of goods, ordered them shipped to Pulaski or Oswego and then managed to draw his check for some $100 more than the purchase and got the easy merchants to cash the checks—which were found to be worthless—and Harrington had left for parts unknown.

Among the Fultonians at Pleasant Point Saturday and Sunday were the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howe, Misses Margaret, Catherine and Elizabeth Howe, Mrs. C. K. Howe, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Joy, Mrs. N. L. Whitaker, Miss Elizabeth Whitaker, Mrs. Thomas Hunter, Miss Anita Hunter, Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve, Miss Marjorie Fairgrieve, Mrs. Elizabeth Rugg; Mrs. J. H. Hunt of New York, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Revels, Syracuse.

Sunday afternoon Coroner Marsh had a telephone call from Three Rivers, announcing a drowning case. Dr. I. C. Curtis took Coroner Marsh up in his automobile. Jacob Schwartz of Syracuse, was in bathing near the Bousteed farm, when he was taken with cramps and drowned. His brother, who could not swim, was close at hand, and he was nearly drowned trying to effect a rescue. The body was recovered and taken to Syracuse for burial.

Fell Seventeen Feet.

A. E. Worden, the well-known scenic artist, is confined to his home on Academy street, suffering from injuries received in a fall from a scaffold in a theater at Richfield Springs, on July 22d.

Mr. Worden was decorating the interior of the theater and had practically finished his work. In inspecting it before leaving, he saw a place that needed touching up, and going up on the scaffolding, prepared to do the work, when he either slipped or the scaffold gave way and he was precipitated to the floor, a distance of seventeen feet.

He struck on his left side, bruising the hip and fracturing the right arm, that had been broken once before. This a double fracture, at the elbow joint and near the shoulder.

Dr. D. E. Lake was called and he requested Dr. E. J. Cusack to accompany him. They went to Utica Wednesday, where they met Mr. Worden and accompanied him home, arriving on the afternoon train. The ambulance and several members of Neahtawanta lodge of Odd Fellows, met their injured brother at the train and accompanied him to his home.

Thursday morning Mr. Worden had partially recovered from the shock and the fatigue of travel, and Dr. Lake reported that he was resting as well as could be expected.

A Progressive Dairyman.

L. A. Carrier of Palermo, made a wonderful record with a herd of ten native and grade Holstein cows. His net income for the year ending April 1, 1908, after deducting for hauling his milk to the Fulton station was $997.38. His milk was sold to the Fulton Milk Producers' Association at regular prices. Mr. Carrier is a liberal and intelligent feeder, using feeds rich in protein and feeding grain every day in the year.

All his grain and concentrate feeds were bought of Gilbert & Nichols Co., at a cost of $304.00.

He fed none of his own grain to his cows. If he had not sold one of the cows a few days before the end of the year, his record would have been over $100 gross per cow, or $70 net per cow, after deducting for feed bought. This is a good illustration of what skillful care and liberal feeding will do with a herd of cows under ordinary farm condition.

—For Sale—A fine tool chest with full set of first-class cabinet maker's and carpenter's tools. Apply to Mrs. N. R. Cole, 412 Cayuga street.

Great Shoe Reducing Sale

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

..Oxfords at.. Wholesale Price

Men's Always-Wear-Well $5.00 Oxfords at	$2.98
Men's Always-Wear-Well $4.00 Oxfords at	$2.75
Men's Ralston Health $4.00 Oxfords at	$3.25
Men's King Quality $3.50 Oxfords at	$2.48
Boys' Patent Colt, Gun Metal and Tan Oxfords, were $3.50, at	$1.85
Boys' Gun Metal and Tan Oxfords, were $3.00, at	$2.35
Women's Edwin C. Burt $3.50 Oxfords at	$2.65
Women's Dorothy Dodd $3.00 Oxfords at	$2.48
Women's P. J. Harney $3.00 Oxfords at	$2.48
Women's P. J. Harney $3.50 Oxfords at	$1.98
Women's Clarice $3.00 Tan Oxfords at	$2.35
Misses' Tan Shoes and Oxfords, were $1.75, at	$1.48
Children's Patent Colt and Tan Oxfords, were $1.25, at	98c

Take a Look in Our Windows Before You Purchase

Stranahan & VanBuren
116 Oneida Street Store With a Red Front

Great Summer Offer on the Best Grade of

COKE

GOOD FROM AUG. 1st TO SEPT. 1st ONLY

	At Gas Works	Delivered
Furnace Coke, per bushel	9c	10c
Stove Coke, per bushel	10c	11c

Now is the time to lay in your supply of Coke for the winter, when you can get it at these figures. These special prices will be withdrawn on Sept. 1st. Delays are dangerous. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

All orders must be left at the office.

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.
48 SOUTH FIRST STREET. PHONE 198

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

The Fulton Garage TELEPHONE 491

VANDERBURG & DURNEY
JEWELERS AND OPTICIANS
124 S. SALINA STREET SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Would like to have you call and see their display of

SUMMER JEWELRY

Special line of high grade Back Combs, all stones, from	$1.00 up
Beauty Pins, good quality	50c pair
Belt Buckles and Pins	$1.00 and up
Hat Pins	50c and up
New Up-to-Date Stick Pins	50c and up
Cuff Links with stones to match.
A splendid line of FOBS, any monogram or emblem, for ladies or gentlemen	50c

MAKE OUR STORE YOUR HEADQUARTERS WHILE IN THE CITY

Notice of Completion of Assessment Rolls.

Notice is hereby given that the assessment rolls for the east and west tax districts of the city of Fulton for the year 1908 have been completed and filed with the city clerk, and all persons interested may examine the same at the city clerk's office, city hall, Fulton, N. Y., until the first day of September, 1908.

Notice is hereby further given that on the 1st day of September, 1908, that being the first Tuesday in September, the assessors of the city of Fulton will meet at the common council room in the city hall, Fulton, N. Y., to review said assessments.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., July 2, 1908.

Geo. Foster,
John M. Hewitt,
O. O. Hannis,
28-5 Assessors.

75 Cents to Syracuse and Return.

Every Sunday to Sept. 20, inclusive, via New York Central. 20-20

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Onondaga County Savings Bank.

Syracuse, N. Y.

CHARTERED APRIL 10th, 1868.

Has now over twenty-four million dollars of assets invested in accordance with the laws of this State.

Interest paid on deposits at not exceeding the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. per annum.

The President and Treasurer of the Bank will be in attendance during business hours to give any desired information.

Bank is open every business day except Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. On Saturday from 10 a. m. to 12 m., on Monday evenings from 6 to 8 o'clock.

OFFICERS.

HASSELAS A. BONTA, President.
WILLIAM D. DUNNING, Vice-President.
ANSON N. PALMER, Vice-President.
HENRY M. ROWLING, Secretary.
CHARLES L. STONE, Attorney.
CLINTON T. ROSE, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Hasselas A. Bonta,	Albert E. McChesney,
Edward A. Powell,	Charles L. Stone,
George M. Bathes,	Anson N. Palmer,
Adolph H. Schwarz,	Salem Hyde,
Henry M. Rowling,	William D. Dunning,
Frederick E. Hazard,	Charles W. Snow,
Clinton T. Rose,	Hiram W. Plumb,
T. William Meacham,	Osgood V. Tracy,
Charles A. Hudson.

KNOWLEDGE OF VALUES

is one of the essentials of success in Wall Street. Another essential is the ability to apply the effect of momentary conditions on the future course of prices. Write for our book, which contains the essentials necessary for successful speculation. OUR MARKET LETTERS analyze existing conditions, contain timely suggestions bearing upon the most inviting opportunities of the hour, and are of invaluable assistance in forming opinions on coming price movements. Both Publications Mailed Free Upon Request.

"Success in the Stock Market"

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.
STOCK BROKERS
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange of Phila.

OSWEGO OFFICE
No. 6 REAL BLOCK
C. J. BELLINGER, Mgr.
PHONE 1206
Securities Bought and Sold for Cash or on Moderate Margins.
New York Office, 53 Broadway

A Reliable Remedy

Ely's Cream Balm

is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at Once.

It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

CATARRH

HAY FEVER

ASTHMA Hay Fever Catarrh

and all diseases of the Nose, Throat and Ear POSITIVELY CURED.

Dr. E. A. FORSYTH, 340 Franklin St., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by
J. W. DARROW, Chatham, N. Y.,
Press Correspondent New York State Grange

THE WORK IN MICHIGAN.

The Proper Supervision of Subordinate Granges a Prominent Feature.

Michigan state grange stands well in the front in the matter of careful painstaking work to build up the Order and to make the grange influential. A plan that is awakening a new interest in the work of the Pomona grange has been evolved by State Master Horton and his colaborers. In a circular letter which he has issued to Pomona granges Mr. Horton advances certain general lines of thought that should characterize the Pomona grange programme, which are as follows:

First.—To inculcate an understanding of the absolute necessity of organization among farmers the same as among those engaged in other professions and business pursuits.

Second.—In explanation of the chief essentials in an organization to most fully meet the current requirements of farmers from that source.

Third.—To forcibly present the grange as ideal in kind, organic formation, objects and plan of execution.

Fourth.—To present the proof by record made, work in hand and future possibilities, and this may include all of the various features and parts of education, social improvement, financial welfare, farming, homemaking, citizen duties and public welfare, all as promoted by the practical and sure processes of the grange.

These we consider as the foundation upon which may rest and from which may be drawn the vast array of subtopics to be presented at Pomona grange meetings through the lecturer's programme.

This plan has awakened a new interest in many of the Pomona granges and three or four have issued year books in which the Pomona programme for the year is given. Mr. Horton has also developed a plan of grange supervision, and the matter before referred to may be taken as a part of that work. Concerning the securing of new members Mr. Horton recommends two or three important plans. "Application night" may be announced two weeks ahead with a view to have each member secure as many applications as possible and present them on that night. Another plan is known as the district plan, where the territory is divided in to districts and each district vies with the others for the most applications. A strong list of speakers is provided both for the subordinate and Pomona granges. Indeed, this speakers' bureau is becoming an essential feature in the work in Michigan. The general theme of their addresses is "The Necessity of Organization and the Ideal Plan and Form of the Grange." Mr. Horton requests his county deputies to report carefully on all the work in their respective districts, in which manner he keeps in touch with the needs of nearly every grange in the state.

Grange Not Political.

It seems to be a difficult matter for some members of the grange to keep the organization separate and distinct from matters with which it should have no connection, says the Pennsylvania Grange News. It is true that politicians are always on the alert to get indorsement for their different parties and their party candidates. In carrying out their purposes they will pull the wool over the eyes of unsuspecting subordinate or Pomona granges. They get resolutions introduced that on their face look to be harmless, but are designed to boost one candidate or party at the expense of another. Grange members everywhere should persistently and consistently refuse to allow themselves to be used as catspaws to pull chestnuts from the fire for some unworthy object. The membership in our Order carries but little significance if the oath and obligation of fidelity to one another are to be thoughtlessly broken. Subordinate and Pomona masters should not allow this breach of trust to be committed and should nip in the bud at once any attempts to use their granges for partisan political purposes.

Caution May Be Needed.

Is there a tendency to take into the grange those who are not worthy? With its growing popularity, the grange attracts many who are not lawfully entitled to become members, but who are seeking admission either for self aggrandizement or for the social features merely. Any tendency to lower the standards set by the fathers should be checked, and that promptly.

The Work in Ohio.

State Lecturer Taber informs us that the grange is on the up grade in Ohio. He considers the lecturer's hour the backbone of the Order. He anticipates large results from the August field meetings and believes that they will surpass in numbers and in interest those of previous years.

The President Says—

Organization has become necessary in the business world. It is no less necessary for farmers. Such a movement as the grange movement is good in itself and is capable of well nigh infinite further extension for good.—President Roosevelt.

Masters of granges should not allow slipshod methods in any department of grange work, whether in the transaction of business or in degree work. Even in the matter of moving a resolution or an appropriation there is a right way to do it, and only one. Little things count.

A grange lecturer says that the use of printed programmes has not only increased interest in the work, but has actually doubled the attendance.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by
J. W. DARROW, Chatham, N. Y.,
Press Correspondent New York State Grange

THE AMERICAN PRINCIPLE.

Representation in the National Grange Discussed.

The Pennsylvania Grange News says editorially that the policy of representation in lawmaking bodies in proportion to the population is an American principle. In our federal government as well as in the states we have two branches of the lawmaking body, the lower house and the senate. Neither of these is complete in itself, one being a completed half of the other and both being required to act before any bill can be enacted into law. In the United States senate each state has two votes, and in the other house of congress this is equalized by giving to the states of larger population a larger number of votes. For instance, Colorado has two in the senate and three in the house, making five votes. Indiana has two in the senate and thirteen in the house, making a total of fifteen. Rhode Island has two in the senate and two in the house, making four votes, while Pennsylvania has two in the senate and thirty-two in the house, making thirty-four votes that we can give to any measure of interest or importance to the welfare of the Keystone State. New York, having still a larger population, has two in the senate and thirty-seven in the house.

So we find the system of representation in the national grange is out of accord with the American principle of representation. This American principle of representation is also carried out in our state legislatures, as counties of larger population have more votes than those of smaller population and of less material interests. So in the national grange states should be given representation in proportion to their grange membership. When a state hustles and builds up a large membership and pays a big sum of money into the national grange treasury (and Pennsylvania pays between $2,000 and $3,000 to it every year) its importance to the Order should be recognized and rewarded by proportional representation. It is true that political machines are and always have been against giving the people very much voice in their own affairs, but we don't expect to find machine methods in any unit of the grange organization.

OREGON STATE GRANGE.

Some of the Resolutions Adopted at the Annual Session.

Oregon is one of the few states in which the annual session of the state grange is not held in the winter. May is the month in which Oregonians hold their annual session. This year it was held in the city of Eugene. The tax system of various states was under consideration by a committee of the state grange with a view to solve the tax question and was continued for another year. The grange favors the classification of the property for the purpose of taxation. They opposed the single tax. They favored state and national aid for highway improvements and also the local option law in its present form. A sum of $500 was voted to help prepare a defense to their direct legislation law before the United States supreme court, and $2,500 was voted for extension work. Over $70,000 worth of grange property is now owned by subordinate granges in Oregon. A resolution was adopted instructing delegates to the national grange to use their influence and votes in favor of a change from the present basis of representation in that body.

Importance of the Lecturer.

All well informed students of grange growth will agree that one of the chief factors of its success was the excellent management of the officials for the subordinate grange as planned by its founders. The worthy master was wisely made chief executive, the overseer his assistant; the secretary made the organ of the grange, and all other officials were created for important and beautiful work, but had the careful study and research of those men failed to suggest the importance of some one to have charge of the educational side of the Order and to meet this demand created the office of lecturer the history of the grange would be very different today. Take away the lecture field and the sublime truths of our Order would become useless.—L. J. Taber.

Iowa's Progress.

Iowa has been for many years altogether dormant as to grange matters, but seven new granges have been organized there this year. It was once the very stronghold of grangedom, but political and financial gain got in its destructive and disorganizing work, and the granges went down in quick order. We are glad to know that the tide is turning.

What the Grange Offers.

The grange offers to the farmers of the United States a means of combination, of harmony of action, such as they have never before possessed. It offers them the means of expressing their views as a body and enforcing them.

The four subordinate grange degrees may be conferred at the same meeting, but not on the same candidates. The first two degrees must be conferred at one meeting and the second two at another if on the same candidates.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Granby Center.

Master Russell Bush of Fulton, is spending some time at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Thomas.

Fred Darling has returned from Michigan, where he has been visiting several weeks.

David Walradt is the first in this vicinity to market sweet corn.

Mrs. Eugene Ingham spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Sharp at their camp at High Banks.

Mrs. Carrie Angleman of Plainfield, N. J., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Caroline Becker.

Little Robert Neyhart of Fulton, spent part of last week with his grandfather, Wallace Summerville.

Presiding Elder Loucks of Oswego, called here Saturday.

Grant Gifford and family of Fulton, were entertained over Sunday at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kerr.

Miss Rhea Gardner is visiting friends in Fulton.

Mrs. Ambrosia Reynolds and daughters, Adelle and Addie, of Fulton, were entertained at the home of C. S. Wells on Sunday.

There was no service Sunday evening on account of the illness of our pastor.

Mrs. Ed. Hall of Dexterville, and Mrs. Whipple of Bowens Corners, were guests at John Whipple's part of last week.

Miss Lulu Huggins of Fulton, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kerr.

Bowens Corners.

Miss Lena Trowbridge is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Robert Cain.

George Green attended the band meeting at Hannibal Center, Saturday.

Mrs. Harvey Boyce and children spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Lyboldt of Lamsons.

Mrs. George Earl entertained her mother, Mrs. Calkins of Fulton, last week.

The third and fourth degrees will be conferred on three candidates Saturday night in the grange. Members are requested to be present and furnish something for the good of the order.

Miss Nellie Arnold was taken sick on Thursday and Dr. Hall was called. She recovered rapidly and is now able to be out again.

Mrs. Fred Arnold of Ira, visited at Albert Arnold's on Saturday.

Miss Freda and Edna Umbeck visited friends in West Granby on Friday.

William Gant spent Saturday and Sunday in Syracuse.

Volney Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Page of Bainbridge, were Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Dingman and son of Jersey City, were the recent guests of his aunt, Mrs. A. W. Simons and family.

The L. A. S. will meet with Mrs. F. A. Moore, Wednesday, Aug. 5th.

Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Keller spent a portion of last week with friends at Canastota.

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Baldwin and Mrs James Vant spent Sunday evening at F. A. Moore's, Hill Top farm.

Miss Jessie Vant was the guest of her cousin, Miss Leta Gardner, at Fulton, a few days last week.

Mrs. John Trimble of Palermo, spent Thursday at A. W. Simons'.

Mrs. Chas. Foster and son, and Mrs. Alice Lawton of Fulton, were callers in this vicinity on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Northrup left Thursday for their future home at Minetto.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Piper of Oswego, were callers at F. I. Sikes', Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vant and family, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Baldwin, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Burdick of Fulton, spent Friday at Lake Neahtawanta.

Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wilber of Granby, and Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Hopper of Hannibal, Saturday and Sunday.

Dorothy Vant and Frank Howard are on the sick list.

Miss Clara Wiltsie of Hannibal, is visiting at Wm. Percival's.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Distin and family, Mrs. Amy Randall and Rena Pratt visited at Delos Distin's on Sunday.

Bernard Howard recently purchased a horse of Garrett Bros. of Fulton.

Rev. Summers, pastor of Mt. Pleasant church, preached at the State Street M. E. church in Fulton Sunday morning.

E. R. Redhead and wife attended the Mt. Pleasant church Sunday morning. Mr. Redhead had charge of the service, in the absence of the pastor.

Miss Ruth Nelson of Fulton, visited friends at Mt. Pleasant on Sunday.

Byron Distin and family spent Sunday evening at Job Earl's.

Mrs. Elijah Hale, who has been suffering with an abscess in her ear, is better.

After the meeting of the Mt. Pleasant Grange Saturday evening, ice cream was served in the new hall. Deputy Hopper and wife from Hannibal, attended the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Rowlee visited at Lewis Ives on Saturday.

Minetto.

Mrs. Fred Stickney is spending some time in Saginaw, Mich.

Chas. Young spent Sunday at Canghdenoy.

Mrs. B. D. Snyder is confined to her home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Brown of Scriba, were guests of Minetto relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Young of Benson Avenue, have been entertaining his sisters, Mrs. Robert Weishorn and Mrs. R. S. Watson of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hill entertained out-of-town friends over Sunday.

Mrs. Hannah DuBois of Buffalo, arrived here Saturday to spend several weeks with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brooks entertained Syracuse friends over Sunday.

Dr. C. B. Keeney of Passaic, N. J., and Miss Parrot of New York, are guests at C. B. Benson's.

Mrs. Georgia Radley and daughter, Lois, of Alexandria Bay, are spending two weeks with her mother, Mrs. B. D. Snyder.

Sherman and Frank Norris are visiting in Syracuse.

Mrs. Chas. Armstrong very pleasantly entertained her Sunday school class at her home on Monday evening.

Mrs. Harriet Sheffield of South Scriba, visited her sister, Mrs. Martha Hirt, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Drury left Saturday to spend a week in Rodman, Mrs. Drury's former home, but were called home by the sudden death of the former's father, which occurred Sunday morning. The deceased had been in poor health for some time but seemed to be improving. The family have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

Palermo.

The excessive rains have delayed haying.

The members of Granite Grange will hold an ice cream social at their hall on Saturday evening, Aug. 1. All are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frawley of Fulton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Frawley, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Vincent of Palermo village, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hart were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hart of Schroeppel.

Mrs. Belle Wheaton, accompanied by Mrs. Lodema Parsons, are visiting friends at Sand Banks.

Mrs. Maud Ridgway, who has been spending the past two weeks, caring for Mrs. Lias Foster of Schroeppel has returned home.

W. Boyce of Fulton, who has been staying at Charles Wetmore's, has returned to Fulton.

Nathaniel Lampman, a former resident of this place, is spending some time in this vicinity.

Bundys Crossing.

James Surdam and family, and Jack Tyler and family, of Oswego, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Surdam.

Grover Boyce and family of Minetto, were Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. Delia Boyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Tompson and Mrs. Kate Dubois of Minetto, were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Mandy Tompson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eckard visited in Scriba Sunday.

Mrs. Eva Jewett and daughter of South Scriba, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frost on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kerben called on friends here Sunday.

Carl Decker of Fulton, is visiting Miss Lois Frost.

Thos. Waugh spent Monday at his home here.

Sweet-Smelling Herbs.

The nice old custom of putting lavender and other scented herbs in linen presses and other places containing clothing is not so much practiced now as it was a generation ago, orris-root, satchet powder and other things being used instead. Have you any conception of how old the custom is? Turn to the twenty-seventh chapter of Genesis, in the Bible, and you will read that Jacob, when old and blind, "smelled the smell" of Jacob's raiment, which he compared to the "smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed." It is evident that Rebecca had put sweet-smelling herbs where her favorite son's clothing was kept.

The Eternal Feminine.

"I'll tell you how I'm saving money so that I can entertain friends at dinner, Marie," said a stenographer to her chum as they soared upward in an office elevator. "Whenever I am invited to dine out and do not have to pay for my own dinner, I put the amount I save in my little iron bank. However," she continued, with the particularly pleasant purr that sometimes precedes a scratch, "that plan won't do you any good, will it, dear, for you are never invited out, are you?"

Self-Knowledge.

The last of a long line of recurring plumbers stood at the pumpless well of a suburban residence.

"This well has been badly tinkered with," he announced, as others had done before him. "Half the pumping apparatus seems to be gone. Is there a sucker anywhere about the place?"

"Oh, yes," replied the chastened owner, "here I am."

Oswego Co. Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held until otherwise ordered for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House, Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House, Oswego.
Second Monday in September, Court House, Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House, Oswego.

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15th, 1907.

MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1908 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in the city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the day following. CLAYTON I. MILLER,
Surrogate.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF HON. Clayton I. Miller, surrogate of the county of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Helen F. Carrier, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the law offices of Piper & Rice, Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 1st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 26th day of March, A. D., 1908.

M. BELLE SMITH,
13-26 Executrix.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF CLAYton I. Miller, Surrogate of the county of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Hiram W. Tallman, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the late residence of the deceased in the town of Volney, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 1st day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, A. D., 1908.

LOIS C. TALLMAN,
15-26 Administratrix.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Ida W. Walker, late of the city of Fulton, said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the offices of Piper & Rice in the city of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 27th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 25th day of May, A. D., 1908.

M. BELLE SMITH,
5-27-6m Executrix.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF C. I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Melinda Hudson, late of Haddenfield, New Jersey, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the law office of Fred'k G. Spencer, Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 3d day of November, 1908.

Dated this 13th day of May, A. D., 1908.

WILLIAM HUDSON,
Administrator

Fred'k G. Spencer,
Attorney for Administrator.
5-27-6m

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF CLAYTON I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John H. LePointe, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the law office of Fred'k G. Spencer, Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 21th day of December, 1908.

Dated this 8th day of June, A. D., 1908.

CORAL M. LEPOINTE,
Administratrix.

Fred'k G. Spencer,
Atty. for Administratrix 6-17-6m

GIRON 24065

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares in or near Fulton we have made arrangements to stand GIRON for service during the months of July and August at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne, V. S.
57 S. FIRST ST., FULTON

CLAIRVOYANT

Medical Examination FREE

We wish to call your attention to that wonderful intuitive or Clairvoyant power which enables a person to tell by lock of hair your physical condition.

Dr. E. F. Butterfield Co., of Syracuse, N. Y., will send you a full written diagnosis of you physical ailments free of charge.

Enclose lock of hair, name and age and stamp if you wish to test this psychic power. Address

DR. E. F. BUTTERFIELD CO.
SYRACUSE, NEW YORK
Call at Office, 328 Bastable Block, Thursdays from 12 to 3 P. M.

Ask Your Architect

to specify THE ZIMMERMAN PATENT IRON BASE AND VENTILATOR. Remember the Iron Base allows the water to run off the glazed floor without wetting the bottom of columns, thus preventing rot. Columns and Balustrades our specialty.

SYRACUSE CORNER BLOCK FACTORY
204 BURNET AVE.
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Success Tea. Invests With Confidence. Daily Customers, sure satisfaction. Grocers sell it. H. G. G. Wall, Proprietor refund money.

There are
Two kinds of Shoes.—

SOROSIS SHOES

and other kinds.

SOROSIS do not stretch like other kinds, but always retain their Perfect Shape and Form

Morton & Shattuck
Sign of the Big Boot

CITY AND COUNTY.

Miss Cassie Wells is visiting friends at Cazenovia.

Miss Imogene Paddock is at Thousand Island Park.

John J. Murray is spending two weeks in New York.

Miss Alice Reagan is spending two weeks at Silver Creek.

Patrolman Pare spent a portion of last week in Watertown.

Mrs. H. L. Paddock spent Sunday with friends in Syracuse.

E. R. Redhead is on a business trip to Boston and New York.

Mrs. H. W. Stoneburg and children have gone to Pompey Hill for a week.

Misses Lillian Miller and Mayme Fuller are visiting friends in Boston.

Mrs. Amos Beadle has been entertaining Mrs. H. Knowlton of Oswego, this week.

Miss Cornelia Harrison of New York, is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Joseph Hibberd of South Bend, Ind., has been visiting his niece, Mrs. D. E. Spencer.

Mail Carrier John M. Cox has been unable to attend to his duties owing to sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Youngs of New York city, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Youngs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sprague of St. Johns, Mich., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. VanAmburg.

James Cole and Willis Morin have returned from their two weeks of camp life in the North Woods.

Mrs. Mae Sabin has been entertaining her niece, Mrs. A. L. McAdam and daughter, Janet, of Rome.

—Follow the procession to Lewis' cigar store at 109 Cayuga street, and inspect his hundreds of varieties of cigars and smokers' delights.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. LaPorte have returned from their wedding trip and will reside at 415 Hannibal street.

Mrs. W. H. Patterson entertained the young ladies of her Sunday school class Tuesday evening at her home.

Mrs. Haywood of Ottawa, Ill., and Mrs. Roothgel of New York, are visiting Mrs. Strickland of Seneca street.

Mrs. John Boardman who has been confined to her home for some time by illness, is still in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Will O'Hare and daughter Frances, are enjoying an outing in the North Woods for a few weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. Riordan of Iowa, are visiting the sisters of the latter, Mrs. Charles Mangeot and Mrs. Thomas Flynn.

William and Harvey Carver of New York, and Miss Eva Carver of Skaneateles, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carver.

The Ladies of the S. of V. will serve ice cream at the picnic to be given by the G. A. R. on the fair grounds, August 4th.

—Every person who visits Victor C. Lewis' cigar and tobacco store at 109 Cayuga street, goes away satisfied. He gets the best in the market and the prices are right.

Edward Le Fever, who escaped from the Ogdensburg State asylum on July 10th, was returned to that institution Thursday by an attendant. He was located at his home in this city.

Married—At the residence of Rev. W. G. Bassett, July 26th, Miss Gertrude Maude Norton and Cyrus Leon Read. The young couple were attended by Miss E. Blanche Read and F. P. Crahan.

The city dog catchers appointed funerals for a dozen of the tagless dogs Saturday, and they were given a painless death. There are several more dogs awaiting their owners, or the dog dispatcher.

Your tie easily slips around the collar when laundered here. No broken edges.

Modern Way Laundry
E. D. PARK, Prop.
West Side Agency—W. H. Davis'

It is reported that warps are being placed in the looms in No. 4 mill of the American Woolen Co., and this department that has been closed all summer, will soon start up. It is expected the weaving department will resume operations next fall.

The arrangements for the annual picnic of the Church of the Immaculate Conception on the fair grounds next Saturday, are nearly completed and the program assures all who attend one of the most enjoyable days; abundance of out-door sports, and a dinner that has seldom been equalled—never surpassed.

Mid-Summer Sale

of Clothing and Men's Furnishings which will interest the close buyer. For this week only:

FOR THE BOYS

All our 50c Boys' Blouses, with and without collar, in black sateens, blue chambrays and fancy patterns.....39c
Boys' 25c Skull Caps at.....19c
Boys' 50c Skull Caps, all colors.....38c
Boys' Corduroy Knee Pants, sizes 4 to 16, 50c value....39c
Boys' Fine Blue Serge Knickerbocker Pants, $1.50 value, at.....$1.29
One lot of Boys' Negligee Shirts, 12½ to 14, at.....29c

Every Boys' Suit in the House Cut One-Fourth Off on Price

Boys' Wash Suits, 50c grade, now.....39c
Boys' Wash Suits, $1.00 grade, now.....79c

MEN'S PANTS

Every $4.00 Pant in the house.....$3.00
Every $3.50 Pant in the house.....$2.45
Every $3.00 Pant in the house.....$2.00
Lots of good patterns and all sizes.

OUR MEN'S SUIT SALE STILL CONTINUES

We are selling a lot of them and no wonder at this. Look at the prices we are offering them at.

$18.00 Suits now.....$13.00
$15.00 Suits now.....$10.00
$12.00 Suits now.....$7.50

This sale puts within the reach of all High Grade Clothing at less than the cost of ordinary kinds.

FOR THE MEN

Good Black Sateen Shirts, all sizes, with reversible collars, 50c value, at.....35c
Men's Shirts and Drawers, double seated drawers, at.....19c
Men's Pure Linen Handkerchiefs at.....19c
Men's Fancy 50c Hose, neat patterns, at.....39c
Every one of our 25c Men's Hose, this week only at.....19c
25c Wash Ties at.....19c, 3 for 50c
One lot of $1.00 Men's Negligee Shirts, all sizes, at.....75c
Men's 50c Black Underwear at.....39c
Men's B. V. D. Underwear, coat shirt and knee length drawers, 50c value, at.....35c
Lots of other bargains throughout the store.

STRAW HATS

Must be closed out—we never carry any over—one-third off the regular price.

Nothing held back—everything of a summer nature will be sold at a great reduction.

Our usual motto goes with every sale—money refunded if goods are not as represented.

S. Lipsky & Son
Lewis Block, First Street, Fulton

Judge Stowell today granted letters of adoption on the person of Margaret Mary Caffrey, Fulton, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillespie, of this city. The child has been in St. Francis Home.—Oswego Palladium, Monday.

—For Sale—One rubber and canvas top, three-spring, Concord axle, delivery wagon, in good condition. A bargain if sold at once. Cash.
"City Market,"
31-2 F. H. French, Prop.

The annual picnic of the Church of the Immaculate Conception will be held on Saturday, August 1st—instead of Sunday, as the Syracuse Herald had it. A fine program has been arranged and the children will have one of the best times they have ever enjoyed.

At the First M. E. parsonage, July 22d, occurred the marriage of Frank A. McKinstry of Oswego, and Julia L. Thompson of this city. The bride and groom were attended by J. Hennessey and Miss Lavinia Ostrander. Rev. John Richards performed the ceremony.

Monday evening, while a party of seven were in a launch on the Oswego river in the city of Oswego, the boat in making a turn was careened by the swift current, and Miss Teresa Parker, aged 26, and Miss Mildred Sutton, aged 22, were thrown into the river and drowned.

—The Odd Fellows band will give the second of their free concerts and ice cream festivals on Temple Lawn Thursday evening. Concert commences at 8 o'clock. Everybody invited.

Earl Wallace, a Lackawanna fireman, fell from his locomotive Monday evening, two miles south of Minetto, bruising his head and nose and cutting his face on a barb wire fence. He was brought to Fulton and Dr. Schlappi dressed the wounds. He then went to the hospital of the Good Shepherd, Syracuse.

Friday afternoon while workmen were placing a new copper cornice on the Church of the Immaculate Conception, the staging gave way and two men fell to the ground. Frank Wooster had three ribs fractured and was injured on his left side. Dr. Gladman attended. George DeForrest landed on his feet and received a severe shaking up. Wallace Brown felt the scaffolding going and he grasped the cornice and hung on until the other workmen put up a ladder and helped him down.

Married—At the Church of the Immaculate Conception, July 22d, Wm. LaPorte and Miss Sarah Gordon. Rev. J. L. Lindsman officiated. The bride was gowned in navy blue silk with hat to match. She was attended by Miss Genevieve M. Collins of Syracuse, who wore a princess gown of pongee silk. The groom was attended by James B. Gordon. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gordon. The young couple left on the noon train for a wedding trip.

Mrs. F. L. Jennings and children are visiting her parents at Altmar, N. Y., for about three weeks.

David W. Shirriff of New York, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hagan. Mr. Shirriff at one time was a resident of Fulton.

Samuel Case of New York, a former Fultonian, arrived in the city this week and will remain for some time, having charge of the American Tobacco Co's interests in this vicinity.

F. W. George has returned from a two weeks' visit in Kingston, Ont. He was accompanied home by his nieces, the Misses Eva and Laura Morley, who will spend a month with Mr. and Mrs. George.

—When the "skeeter" sits and thrills his melodies, on your ears and nose, you long for a good cigar or pipe tobacco for self-protection. Go and inspect Victor C. Lewis' offerings at 109 Cayuga street. That's all.

The Standard Oil Wins.

By unanimous opinion of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh district, Wednesday, the famous case of the government against the Standart Oil company, in which the latter was fined $29,240,000 by Judge Landis in the District court must be retried.

The decision, concurred in by Judges Baker and Seaman, was delivered by Judge Grosscup, its author. The concluding sentence reads:

"The judgment of the District court is reversed and the case remanded with instructions to grant a new trial and proceed further in accordance with this opinion."

The most striking portion of the decision follows:

"Counsel for the government say in concluding their brief that the Elkins bill was passed because the peace of society and the welfare of the people demanded it; that railroad inequality means business ruin to all except those powerful enough to make themselves the beneficiaries of the discriminations, that no law of more vital importance was ever passed by congress; and those guilty of violating it are guilty of a serious crime against the principles of individual freedom and equality.

"Every sentence of this arraignment is true. But the interstate commerce act, important as that law is, is not the only law under which we live. We live under a guaranty that reaches back to the beginning of our law, and is securely planted in every constitution of civilized government, that no one shall be punished until he has been heard, and above this fundamental guaranty there can be set no higher prerogative; for, let it once come to pass that under the stress of enforcing equality, any power in the government may override the fundamental rights of being judged only after having been duly tried—a right just as essential in the associated relation of the corporation as to men in the relationship of copartners, or to men individually, there will remain no commerce worth the name to safeguard. The beginning of commerce is constitutional government, and the foundation of constitutional government is the faith that every guaranty of our institutions, no matter what the provocation, will be sacredly observed."

In the event that a hearing is denied, the government may go to trial on the original indictment, containing 1,462 counts. Such an action, District Attorney Sims says, could be ready to take within two weeks. There are also seven other indictments, containing 4,422 counts.

Another move which may be made by the federal attornies is to transfer the prosecution either to the Western New York division or to the Eastern Tennessee court. In these two districts the government investigation led to indictments containing about 2,000 counts against the Standard Oil company.

—For Sale—A fine tool chest with full set of first-class cabinet maker's and carpenter's tools. Apply to Mrs. N. R. Cole, 412 Cayuga street.

Will I Help You?

SURE THING!

Do not forget that I am selling goods for CASH. Have some great bargains. Call at 105 Oneida street and save money on your Staple Groceries and Family Supplies. And if or camping out party, I can cut your expenses right in two if you call and get your supplies of me. Here are some of my leaders:

..IT IS A PICNIC..

Canned Lobster Paste, Devilled Shrimp and Potted Beef for sandwiches.
Peters-Nestle Chocolate, the greatest delicacy on the market.
Fine selected Early June Peas at 10c a can.
Special Bread Flour—guaranteed—at $1.45 per quarter barrel.
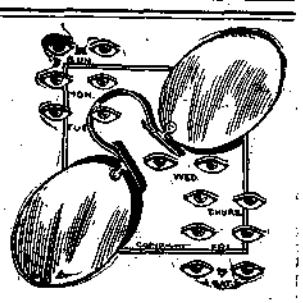
My 19c Coffee cannot be duplicated elsewhere for less than 25c a pound.
Housekeepers should try the NEW ARGO Starch—for hot or cold water—at 5c a package and guaranteed to be right.
This is headquarters for Fuller's Smoked Eels.

A. L. WARNER
105 Oneida Street. Phone 80.

A Solid Week for ..Men at..

O'BRIEN'S

Commencing Monday morning we put on sale 250 dozen Men's Underwear, Shirts, Hose, Belts, Suspenders, etc. On Wednesday we had to re-order sizes by express—that's the way the people are taking advantage of this great sale. The prices are lower than the cost of production, and many a shrewd buyer has availed himself of the opportunity this sale offers.



Men's 50c Shirts and Drawers, 23c
Men's $1.50 Union Suits for 75c
Men's 50c Negligee Shirts for 25c
Men's 50c Suspenders for 25c
Men's 25c Suspenders for 15c
Men's 50c Belts for 23c
Men's 17c Half Hose for 11c
Men's 35c Black Shirts for 25c
Boys' 35c Knee Pants for 19c
Boys' 25c Blouse Waists for 15c
Boys' 25c Underwear, 17c

MEN—we want your trade, and if low prices and high quality goods will get it—we're satisfied.

Genasco Asphalt Roofing

Genuine Asphalt--Nothing Better
Prices Right--Come and See

Gilbert & Nichols Co.

Every Day in the Week

your eyes are the hardest worked faculty you have. You can rest any other part of your body, but

Your Eyes Are Always Working

Isn't it your duty then to take the best of care of them? To strengthen them with glasses that will take off some of the strain? Suppose you drop in and have us examine your eyes. Your sight may be just on the point of breaking down when right glasses would save it.

Wm. C. MORGAN
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN
115 Cayuga Street - - Fulton

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 13

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

(Opposite the Red Engine House)

is the only Savings Bank in Fulton, N.Y.

Assets July 1, 1908, over

A Million and a Half Dollars

Market Value Surplus over

One Hundred Thousand Dollars

This Bank Has Paid 4 Per Cent. on All Deposits since October 1, 1907

New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

OSWEGO COUNTY FAIR

The Society's Year Book Issued, Containing List of Premiums and Prizes; also, Advertisements of Public-spirited Merchants.

The Oswego County Agricultural Society year book was delivered on Monday to Secretary H. P. Allen, Oneida street, and is being distributed to Fair patrons this week. It is filled with premium lists of generous proportion, cuts of the Fair officers and scenes on the Fair grounds and advertisements from public spirited business men.

Of much interest and note are the special prizes offered to Oswego County Granges, the Herald gardening club prizes, and the premiums offered by jockey clubs throughout the State. It is expected that the competition for these prizes will be exceedingly spirited and that some very excellent exhibits will be forth coming.

The advertisers in the book are Whitaker & Lovejoy, real estate; Conley Bros., cigars and confectionery; Geo. B. Palmer, commission merchant; R. E. Phillips, druggist; Henderson & Thomson Co., coal, lumber, wood and baled hay; Victor C. Lewis, cigars and tobacco; S. D. Wells, shoes; Wm. C. Morgan, jeweler and optician; O. Henderson & Co., dry goods; Fulton Savings Bank; Gilbert & Nichols Co., feeds; Geo. B. Fairman, fancy dry goods; Citizens Bank; Geo. Johnston, stoves and ranges; F. D. VanWagenen, wagons, sleighs, etc.; Thomson, Bogardus, & Co., Livery, Boarding Stables; F. J. Switzer, Grocer; Boland Bros., cigar manufacturers; Sears & Pruyn, canned goods; F. W. Lasher, wall papers, books, etc.; S. Waldhorn, underwear, hosiery, etc.; Scottdale Farm, breeders; Dr. E. H. Nodyne, boarding stable; E. L. Johnson, bakery; True Bros., flour; Dr. H. S. Orchard, dentist; E. E. Hart, coal; G. W. Perkins, florist; C. H. Lockwood, breeder; Dr. W. W. Kennedy, livery, boarding stable; Thomas H. Marvin, coal; Jas. Cole & Son, undertakers; Oswego Falls Observer, linotype and newspaper; F. H. French, meat market; Morton & Shattuck, shoes; The Times, job printing and newspaper; Chas F. Saul, seeds, carriages, etc.; Neal & Hyde, dry goods, notions, etc.; M. B. Hargrave, druggist; A. S. Brown, pianos, phonographs, sheet music; H. Putnam Allen, everything in groceries; O. V. Tracy & Co., boquet coffee; H. C. Giesler, Rexall remedies; The Union Pacific Tea Co., teas, coffees, spices, sugars; S. E. Morin, Paroid roofing; M. F. Crahan & Son, plumbing, steam and hot water heating; C. I. Kingsbury, breeder; Fulton Fuel & Light Co., gas coke; Fort Stanwix Co., canned fruits and vegetables; Porter & Co., coal and wood; First National Bank; Jules Wendell & Son, jewelers and opticians; C. B. Boardman, dining hall, shell fish.

These advertisers have made it possible to produce the year book and with the large circulation accorded the book they will find it a good advertising proposition, especially if Fair patrons will patronize these advertisers. The law of reciprocity is a just one.

Secretary Allen announces that he is about to book some high class attractions and novelties for the 53rd annual Fair, but that it is impossible just at present to give out the list. One that will prove a rare novelty will be a fearless aeronaut who will each day make a balloon ascension on a balloon with a lion and the two occupants of the balloon will descend by parachutes from the balloon. Mr. Allen was asked what the crowd would do if his lionship decided to land where the crowd was? Mr. Allen replied that the crowd would have to move.

Given good weather, the coming Fair will undoubtedly prove a record breaker in point of attractions, exhibitions and attendance.

Everything for the Amateur Photographer at special low prices, at Lasher's Book Store.

Elks New Home.

Fulton Lodge, B. P. O. E., have taken possession of the Lewis home in First street, and already carpenters are figuring upon the remodelling of the building into one of the handsomest fraternal homes in the State. The down stairs will not be touched as the rooms are spacious and well arranged. Up stairs partitions will be removed, steel ceilings installed and other changes made. The building will be completed and ready for occupancy on Oct. 1, it is anticipated.

We have just received another bill of Waldorf $2.50 Shoes. All new styles. S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

DIED.

Miss Lillian Richards, a former resident of this city, died at her home in Bradford, Pa., last week. The funeral services were held from the late home on Saturday and interment was at Bradford.

Martin T. Crahan, aged 49, died on Thursday at his home in Rochester. He was a son of Patrick Crahan and at one time resided in this city. Mr. M. F. Crahan, and uncle, and a number of cousins from this city attended the funeral.

Ella Marie Huggins, aged 46, wife of Mr. Hima Huggins, died on Thursday at her home in this city, after a lingering illness. The funeral services were held from Zion church on Saturday morning and the remains were taken to South Butler for interment.

Ellen M., aged 73, wife of Mr. John Earl, died on Wednesday at the family home in Twelfth street. The funeral services were held from the late home on Friday afternoon, the Rev. Wayland G. Bassett officiating, and interment was made in Mt Adnah. The deceased is survived by her husband, one sister, Mrs. Martha Everts of Volney and two brothers, Bradley Clark of Three Rivers and Charles Clark of this city.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas—It has seemed best to the kind, all-wise Father to remove into the spirit world our beloved sister, Ida Whiting, and,

Whereas—By such removal the world is bereft of an exemplary life, a home desolated, and our Rebekah Lodge denied the assistance of an earnest worker in our midst; therefore be it

Resolved—That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the stricken family, and express our own sense of los.

Resolved—That nevertheless we rejoice in the fact of her having been one with us and of us, and may her memory ever inspire us to be ever quick in our ministrations of mercy.

Resolved—That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days in memory of our departed sister, and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family and that they be published in a local paper, and be entered upon the minutes of this meeting.

ALICE DRIESNACK
EMMA CHAPMAN
JULIA MORGAN
Committee

Men's $5.00 Patents or Kangaroo High Shoes, $3.98.
S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

Board of Public Works.

At the meeting of the Board held on Monday evening, Superintendent Flynn was authorized to purchase 350 feet of 18-inch iron pipe to be used in replacing the sewer pipe destroyed by the barge canal contractors at the plant of the Oswego Falls Pulp and Paper company.

A resolution was passed to the effect that W. A. Butts, J. R. Humphrey and H. M. Fuller be notified to build cement sidewalks fronting the premises owned by them on the south side of State street between Fourth and Fifth streets, and the City Engineer was authorized to furnish the grade for the same.

Row boats and canoes to rent at reasonable prices at Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street.

CLAIMS AGAINST STATE

Proposed Appropriation of Water Rights May Involve Serious Litigation.

As curiosity seemed rife regarding the claims for damages filed against the State by Fulton manufacturers arising from the construction of the barge canal, it seemed pertinent to make some inquiries regarding the necessity for such action.

These claims have arisen through a proposed appropriation by the State of water rights—a very valuable asset.

"The law requires," said a leading manufacturer of this city to a Times representative, "that a claim for damages must be filed with the State within two years from the date of appropriation, otherwise the claimant has no recourse. Many of these claims have been filed for protection, and evidently without regard for values.

"If the water-rights are not interfered with," the manufacturer continued, "then no claim for damages on that score would lie. The entire proceeding is therefore a matter of form, but claims are entered in good faith, and the people throughout the State should keep this fact in mind."

VETERANS' REUNION.

The Annual Reunion Associations of the 24th, 110th and 147th Regiments N. Y. I. V. will be held in Fulton on the 28th day of August, 1908. Every comrade of each organization, their wives and the widows of comrades are cordially invited and requested to attend. If you cannot be present, please write your Secretary, giving your present post-office address, so we may be able to give your whereabouts to inquiring friends.

Headquarters established at 9:30 o'clock a. m. The 24th will hold their meeting in the rooms of Post Schenck, First street.

The 110th will meet in the American Mechanics' Hall, Tucker Block.

The 147th will assemble at the City Hall.

Dinner at 12 o'clock m.

At 2.00 o'clock everybody assemble in the Universalist church, where we will have music, speaking, etc.

The 147th will serve a clambake to their members and friends at the City Hall.

Every comrade must report by letter, whether or not he will attend and how many dinneds desired for self and friends, so that no one may be left unprovided for.

William J. Ellis, President 147th Association, 218 East Second Street, Fulton, N. Y.

A. N. Beadle, Secretary and Treasurer 147th Association, 23 West Sixth Street, Oswego, N. Y. 8-19

Cook a Meal for One Cent.

Write S. L. Head, Caughdenoy, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents, and he will tell you how you can procure heat in your cook stove enough to cook an ordinary meal without the use of either wood or coal, the cost per meal is nearly 1 cent. Address, S. L. Head, Box 62, Caughdenoy, N. Y., and save money the rest of your life. tf

Cigarettes in Tins.

Just what you want for your Summer outing. We have a big line of favorite brands. Victor C. Lewis, 109 Cayuga street.

We are selling Oxfords and High Shoes regardless of cost.
S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

ONEIDA STREET

THE liberal use of canned goods and other prepared foods in hot weather saves much fuel and labor. Our stock of Seasonable Summer Table Supplies includes

Potted and Canned Meats, Fish, Vegetables, Fruits, Olives, Pickles, Sauces, Salad Dressing and everything necessary for a meal without a fire and at moderate cost.

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

The Fifty-Third ..ANNUAL FAIR..

.....OF THE.....

Oswego County Agricultural Society

.....WILL BE HELD .....

September 1, 2, 3, 4, 1908

At Fulton, N. Y.

Liberal Premiums in Every Department.
High Class Free Attractions.
First Class Trotting Every Day.

Premium List Upon Application

C. I. Kingsbury, Pres. Oswego, N. Y.
H. P. Allen, Sec'y Fulton, N. Y.

A. Gregg, Privilege Committee Pennellville, N. Y.

New Electrical Firm.

The Independent Electric Company, Mr. J. C. Ketcham of No. 834 Oneida street, manager, has recently been organized in this city to do general electrical contract work, fireproof wiring, installing of dynamos, motors, fans, electric bells, etc. Mr. Ketcham, the resident manager, is well known throughout the city, having resided here for several years, and that his work will be thoroughly done is believed. Mr. Ketcham will be very glad to submit prices on articles needed in his line and also to estimate on all work in his line. He will appreciate an opportunity to submit prices. Phone call No. 243 or a card addressed to him at No. 834 Oneida street will bring him to your home or place of business.

Free! Free! Free!

Films developed FREE at Langdon's ground-floor studio. Special offer for 30 days to those having photos made from our new Lumiere films. All sizes, new and fresh. au5-1w

Try a Waterman "Safety Fountain Pen" for your Summer vacation. At Lasher's Book Store.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the Counties of Jefferson, Lewis and Oswego, comprising the 28th Congressional District of the State of New York, and all other electors without regard to past political affiliations who believe in the principles of the Republican party and endorse its policies, are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held at the Court House in the city of Oswego, N. Y., in said district, on August 12, 1908, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative in the Sixty-first Congress of the United States and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Jefferson County, 14 delegates; Lewis County, 6 delegates; Oswego County, 13 delegates.

Dated July 21st, 1908.

P. W. Cullinan, Chairman.
W. B. Van Allen, Secretary.
T. M. Costello,
H. A. Phillips,
A. L. Clark,
F. S. Clark,
F. S. Kenyon,
Republican Congressional Committee of the 28th Congressional District.

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE BUTTERICK PATTERNS

O'BRIEN'S THIS WEEK

$1.00 Yard Wide Black Taffeta Silk, this week for 75c a yard

$7.50 Silk Underskirts in colors, very special, this week, $4.98

We put on sale a specially selected stock of Couch Covers, Oriental patterns, fringed all the way around and made to sell for $1.00---Our special price this week is 69c---Get them quick. Price reductions in all other departments.

130 Wash Waists, regular price, 50c, for 29c	15 dozen only, of Fine Gauze Vests, the regular 15c kind; for this week, 10c	Good Bleached Table Linen, wide, beautiful patterns, this week 59c yd.	A variety of Styles in Muslin Gowns, they are worth $1.25, for this week . 69c
50c Gauze Union Suits, only a limited number, at 19c a suit	Double width, yard wide, Worsted finished Suitings, for school dresses, 25c value, per yard . . 11c	Buster Brown Hose for boys and girls the 15c quality, for this week, 5c pair	Ruffled Muslin Curtains, 2 1-2 yards long, 5 rows tucks, battenburg edge and insertling, this week . . $1.00 pair
Fine Quality Gingham Petticoats, extra width, 50c values for 29c	Large Smyrna Rugs, the regular $1.00 kind, this week for . . . 75c	Extra Large Turkish Bath Towels, 25c quality, this week for . 19c each	Beautiful Styles in Waldorf Lingerie Waists values to $2.50, this week . . $1.25
			36-inch Suitings in plaids and checks, in demand now for school dresses, and the princess style, for . . . 15c yard

25c Wash Belts for 10c—25c Stock Collars and Jabots for 14c—Values to $2.00 in Leather Hand Bags for 98c—Good Apron Gingham for 6c a yard—Colored Waldorf Waists for 49c—A gathering up of short pieces from all the departments will be found on the remnant counter now

CASH

Pure Foods at Remarkably Low Prices

We do not do things by halves, and this week we will give to the public more stamps than ever before. . . . .

New Teas

We have just received, direct from the Orient, a year's supply of high grade teas. If you pay twice as much you will not receive any better or finer quality.

75 Salt City Stamps with a pound of Hung kee Oolong Tea..... 60c
35 Salt City Stamps with a pound of our celebrated Japan Tea 40c
25 Salt City Stamps with a pound of our unexcelled Tea..... 30c
15 Salt City Stamps with a pound of our fancy Tea Dust 15c

Coffees

Carefully selected from the best grades. Our coffees are noted for their pungent aroma and uniformity of quality.

30 Salt City Stamps with a pound of Eureka Brand..... 30c
25 Salt City Stamps with a pound of Java Blend 25c
18 Salt City Stamps with a pound of our Guaranteed Blend..... 18c

Extra Specials

FIG NEWTONS—800 lbs. An excellent Summer cake, fresh from the ovens, per lb..... 10c
SPANISH ONIONS—225 crates extra fancy stock, ... 3 lbs., 10c; lb., 4c
TOASTED CORN FLAKES—500 cases of Avena Flakes. Sells regularly for 15c ..... 3 packages 25c
CORN—525 cases of fancy Southern Packed Corn..... 4 cans 25c; can, 7c
CHEESE—225 loaves of fancy Full Cream Cheese—the kind that appeals to the lovers of good cheese, lb..... 12 1-2c
PEAS—400 cases Imperial Brand of Sweet, Sugar Melting Peas, regular 15c can..... 2 for 25c
CONDENSED MILK—240 cases of the ever-popular Red Cross Brand Milk, per dozen, $1.10, can 10c
PICKLES—50 barrels of the celebrated Heinz Sour Pickles, extra large size, per dozen..... 9c
ENAMELINE—100 cases of Enameline Stove Powder, sells regularly for 5c a box..... 3c
BORAX FLAKES—75 cases of Velvet Borax Flakes It makes washing easy; regularly 5c a package..... 3c

7% Dividends Guaranteed

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10 00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 464 Fulton, N. Y.

Local and Personal

Mrs. H. B. Emens is visiting in Springfield, Mass.

Miss Muriel Bread is spending a month in the Adirondacks.

The Misses Eva Frawley and Edith Halstead are at Sylvan Beach.

Mrs. F. L. Porter and daughters left on Friday for Thousand Island Park.

The southern flat in the Langdon block has been leased by Mr. and Mrs. VanValkenburg.

Mr. James McCarthy and Miss Helen McCarthy of Syracuse spent Sunday with Syracuse friends.

Miss Jane Waugh is visiting friends in Rochester

Attorney Albert T. Jennings has returned from a vacation spent at Earlville and Skaneateles.

Mr. W. H. Roberts and family of Syracuse have been the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Porter.

Mr. William G. A. Pelley left on Sunday for a business trip, which will embrace the States of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Maryland, New York, and the District of Columbia.

On Saturday Mrs. Janet B. Kelley, Mrs. John Clayton Peach and Mr. W. Robertson Hughes will leave for Selkirk-on-the-Lake, where with Mr. and Mrs. E. Brainard and son Edward of Syracuse, they will spend a fortnight.

"I wish I Had a Girl," the big song hit this season, played by Creatore and sung by all the leading artists, will make a small fortune for the author, Miss Grace LeBoy, a very talented young lady of Chicago.

A dancing party will be given in Guinup's Hall, Dexterville, on Friday evening, August 14. The floor committee is composed of Messrs. Clarence Upcraft, Murray Megraw, and Clinton Fink. Bill including supper, 75 cents.

Mr. Lee Beardsley is arranging for a dancing party to be given in Arnolds Hall, Bowens Corners, on Friday evening, August 7. The floor committee is composed of Messrs. George Smith, Lysander; D. Lorey, Lamson; E. Hulett, Fulton, and R. Stoughtenger, South Hannibal. Bill, 75 cents.

Mrs Louis Ottonell Forman of New York is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. E. Clarke, and Mrs. F. E. Clarke of old Mexico, is also a guest of her sister, Mrs. H. E. Clarke, at Manhattan Villa.

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company

Main St. West, Corner Exchange St. Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Wells have returned from Fargo, South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Brainard and son, Edward of Syracuse spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hughes.

Messrs. Asa Rowlee, Harry Parks, Floyd Suydam and M. F. Lewis, are in Boston, Mass., attending the convention of the Uniformed Ranks, Knights of Pythias.

Miss Sara Lewis has returned from Texas, where she has been a guest for two months at a house party at the home of her friends, the Misses Kuteman.

A petition for letters testamentary, with the will annexed, on the estate of the late Sherman Morehouse of Phoenix, have been filed by his son, Elmer Morehouse of Volney. Mr. Morehouse's wife was executrix of his will, but she died, and $15,000 real estate and $400 personal property remains to be distributed. It will be shared by Elmer and Alfred Morehouse, Volney, sons of the deceased, and Mrs. Dunbar, a daughter, of Gasport, N. Y.

On Tuesday evening of last week Mrs. James Morrow's 60-horse-power Thomas car driven by Mr. Ray Loveless and containing a party of eight friends, ran into a flat car standing on a crossing near the boulevard, Syracuse, and the automobile was badly damaged. Mr. Frank Mahi as, one of the party, was thrown through the plate glass fender and received several painful cuts. The other occupants escaped with bruises and shock. It is reported that there was no light showing on the train, no whistle or bell to be heard, and that the owner of the auto as well as the occupants have a strong case if they decide to endeavor to recover damages. Several accidents, all more or less serious, have occurred at this identical spot this season.

Take a light, comfortable, easy-rowing boat from the Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street, and meet your friends down the river. Given a luncheon and a congenial crowd and no more delightful outing could be imagined.

SOUTH GRANBY.

Miss Hazel Pare of Fulton and Miss Belle Reax of Providence, R. I., visited Arwildo Fisher last week.

A very enjoyable ice cream festival was held on Harlow Sperbeck's lawn last Tuesday evening, and the blue-and-white quilt was presented to the minister by Mrs. Anna Dickenson, president of the L. A. S. Mrs. Dickenson, in making the presentation, stated that over $11 had been collected for names on the quilt, of which Auntie McKaslin had collected $8. The donors' names were all written on the white pieces with indellible ink. Miss Flora Fisher and Mrs. Mary Blakesly set it together and quilted it. Mr. Spaulding replied to the presentation remarks very pleasantly. The quilt was quite a surprise to him, as it had been kept a secret, although he had received the money collected. About $14 was realized from the entertainment.

Mrs. Lottie Cook and grandchildren, Myrtis and Edna Cook, and Mrs. H. Austin attended the birthday party of little Miss Lottie Andrews, July 29.

Miss Ruth Weldon and brother Arthur of Granby Center have been spending the week at Mrs. Will Rumsey's.

Mr. Charles Dunsmore, with his two friends, Mr. Luther and Mr. Durst, called on his uncle, L. T. Austin, at Morseman's Lock.

Mrs. Harvey McMurchy is entertaining Miss Parmenter and Miss Reed at her cottage at Highbanks.

August came in with much cooler weather than we have been having through July, and even now a shower would not come amiss.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker of Fulton called on Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Austin on Sunday.

Mr. Ray King and sister Mabel, with their friend, Miss Bean, were at Highbanks on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kelly entertained friends from Syracuse over Sunday, and accompanied them home on their gasoline launch.

Cocaine which dulls the nerves never yet cured Nasal Catarrh. The heavy, feeling in the forhead, the stuffed up sensation and the watery discharge from eyes and nose, along with all the other miseries attending the disease, are put to rout by Ely's Cream Balm. Smell and taste are restored, breathing is made normal. Until you try this remedy, you can form no idea of the good it will do you. Is applied directly to the sore spot. All druggists, 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Know the Value.

"Do you know the value of an oath?" asked the judge of an old darky who was to be the next witness. "Yes, sah, I does. One ob dese yeah lawyers done gib me foah dollars for to swear to suffin. Dat's de value of an oath. Foah dollars, sah." And then there was consternation in the courtroom.—St. Joseph News.

VETERAN OF MANY WARS.

Field Marshal Lord Roberts and His Quebec Visit.

The Canadians gave a great welcome to Field Marshal Lord Roberts on his visit to Quebec to participate in the Champlain tercentenary. The occasion brought together many who fought under him in South Africa in the war with the Boers. The grizzled veteran of many wars wears his honors gracefully in these years of his green old age. He will be seventy-six in September. The decorations he has received make a brave showing, and the list of his titles is a long one. But "Bobs" is the name by which he likes best to be known, and it expresses the affection which is felt for him by the British public. He won his Victoria cross, which he always puts first when adorning himself for full dress occasions, about a half century ago when only a lieutenant. Though he is every inch a soldier, he is not a large man. In fact, he is slim and small.

FIELD MARSHAL LORD ROBERTS.

One day he was presented to a prominent man of great physical proportions, who on being introduced to Lord Roberts shaded his eyes in a would be funny attempt to simulate difficulty in seeing the small person of the earl and remarked:

"Ah, Lord Roberts, delighted. I have frequently heard of you, but I have never seen you before."

To which his lordship calmly replied, "And I have frequently seen you, but I have never heard of you before."

ARTHUR I. VORYS.

Judge Taft's Friend, Who Is Managing Ohio Campaign.

During the Roosevelt administration the "tennis cabinet" has been an important factor in affairs of state. Should Judge William H. Taft occupy the White House for the next four years golf will doubtless become the administration sport, as the Republican presidential nominee is devoted to the game, and it suits his portly build better than tennis, which necessitates one's being all over the court at the same time, a difficult achievement for a fat man. One of the prominent Republicans who agree with Judge Taft as to the general superiority of golf as a sport is Arthur I. Vorys, manager of the campaign in Ohio. He can play a good game of golf despite the fact that his right hand is minus several fingers. Mr. Vorys' father, Isaiah Vorys, was a carpenter by trade and owned a large woodworking establishment. Young Arthur worked at the bench, and one day he had an experience with the buzzsaw at the conclusion of which it was necessary to bandage up a very mutilated hand. A few days later his father came upon him playing marbles with his left hand, his right being still in the bandage.

The elder Vorys liked the boy's nerve

ARTHUR I. VORYS.

and remarked, "To reward you, my son, I will buy you some marbles."

"You don't need to, dad," said young Vorys. "I've got a pocketful the fellers gimme for showin' em the fingers I lost. I've got 'em in a bottle."

Whatever the game in hand, Mr. Vorys makes it his business to know how to play it. His success while in charge of the Taft boom in the Buckeye State in the preconvention period resulted in his being asked by Judge Taft to continue his work in the same field during the presidential canvass. Mr. Vorys is fifty-two years old and has been practicing law since 1880. Lancaster was his birthplace, and he studied at the Ohio State university. He was city solicitor of Lancaster and has served several terms as insurance commissioner of the state. He married a daughter of John D. Martin of Lancaster, a warm friend of Senator John Sherman.

The Fourth Week

of conducting a Cash business and it has proved itself a success. People begin to realize that the cash system is the only way to save money. I am now in a position to give you

Bargains in First Class Teas, Coffees,

and am also headquarters for all :: :: :: ::

High Grade Groceries

at reduced prices. Give us a trial and be convinced

A. L. WARNER

Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

Senses of Insects.

Insects guide themselves in flight almost entirely and on the ground partly by means of their faceted eyes. The antennae and the buccal sensory organs cannot help in aerial steering.

Insects perceive the motion of objects particularly well—i. e., the displacements of visual images relatively to the compound eye. They therefore see better when on the wing than at rest, for during flight the image of immobile objects is displaced relatively to the eye.

Insects distinguish the contours and forms of objects only more or less indistinctly.

Insects appreciate the direction and distance of objects very clearly during flight by the aid of their compound eyes. They can also appreciate, even when at rest, the distance of immobile objects.

Certain insects (bees, bumblebees) distinguish color clearly and recognize colors better than forms. Among others (wasps) the perception of color appears, on the contrary, to be very rudimentary.—"Senses of Insects."

The Japs as Jokers.

In the days of the second empire Baron Gros was sent to Japan to demand the opening of certain ports to French commerce. Among the rest he named to the Japanese ministers a certain city. The Japanese functionaries smiled so broadly when he preferred the request that the French ambassador asked them to tell him what gave them so much amusement, but instead of answering the Japanese ministers said:

"We will open the port to question, my lord, if France in her turn will open a certain port to us."

"What port is that?" asked the Frenchman.

"The port of Liverpool."

"But, your excellencies," laughing, "Liverpool is not a French port, but an English one."

"Yes," answered the Japanese, "and the port you named is not in Japan, but in Korea."

The French ambassador was compelled to admit that the joke was against him.—London Answers.

No Help Wanted.

Scene, a courtroom. A big, burly artisan is brought in by the bailiff and placed in the dock. He is a regular Hercules in point of stature and is brought up on a charge of assault. It is evidently his first appearance in court.

When he enters the magistrate is busy with his papers, but presently looks up hurriedly and, turning to the prisoner, exclaims:

"Have you engaged any one to defend you?"

"What's that?" asks the prisoner; then, collecting himself, he adds: "I don't want anybody. Come on, any half dozen of you!"—London Answers.

How Britain Trains Her Sons.

Home life in England lacks the intimacy and the charming sentimentality of German family life. The sons of England have to leave home early in life to go out into the wide world and fight for themselves. They become independent, responsible men much earlier than our sons do.—Berliner Tageblatt.

Radical.

"I hear that your new school superintendent is rather radical."

"He is that," responded Farmer Haw. "He's cut out the higher headwork and the perforated tattling, and he's advising teachers to handle the children according to the rules of common sense. Oh, yes! Our new superintendent is radical, all right."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Fictitious.

Little Joe (reading)—What is a fictitious character, aunty? Aunty—One that is made up, dear. Little Joe—Then you are a fictitious character, aren't you, aunty?—Chicago News.

The Old Standby.

Landlady's son (addicted to nickel literature)—Say, partner, what's meant by 'stand by to repel boarders?' Mr. Newcome (sadly eying his dessert)—Stewed prunes!—Judge.

Two Sides.

She—If a man loves his wife as much as she loves him he will stop wasting his money on cigars if she asks him. He—Yes, but if his wife loves him as much as she ought to love a man who loves her enough to stop if she asks him she won't ask him.—Puck.

Quite Refined.

Mrs. Caller—Are your new neighbors refined? Mrs. Nextdoor—I should say so! They never borrow anything but our silver and cut glass.—Chicago News.

"Flattery is like a fairy tale. Even though one does not believe it, one listens willingly to it."

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President :: :: ::

First National Bank

Oswego, N. Y.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by

Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

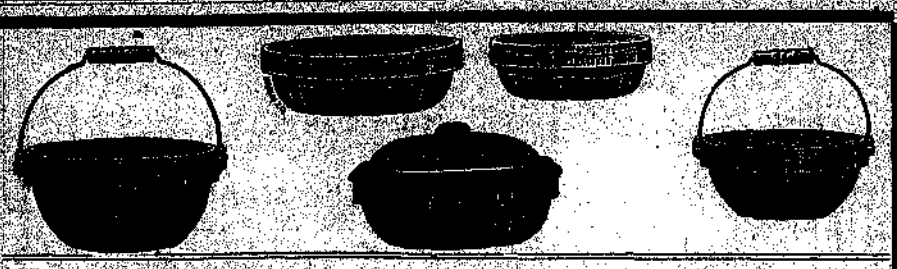
R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets Fulton, N. Y.

holds school every afternoon from two until five o'clock. Evening lessons discontinued through August. More attention can be given pupils during August.

Come and visit the school, and see how we draft patterns to fit the figure.



The American Garment Cutting System

is the newest, simplest and best system for drafting patterns.

The newest tailoring methods are taught in putting together garments.

Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50 All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

MT. PLEASANT.

Mr. E. R. Redhead of Fulton filled the pulpit here last Sunday. Mrs. Redhead accompanied him. Rev. Summers preached in the State Street Church in Fulton.

Miss Lottie Powell of Rose Hill and Miss Florence Duel of Fulton, were recent guests at Albert Paddock's.

Mrs. Carlton Wheeler of Battle Island visited friends in the Weed district recently.

Master Elon Rowlee visited in Fulton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopper of Hannibal and Mr. and Mrs. Wilber of Granby were recent guests at Bernard Howard's.

Miss Dorothy Vant is recovering from her recent illness.

Mrs. Ardie Hinckley and daughter of Lansing spent Thursday at William Osborne's.

Miss Lillian Waugh of Fulton was the guest of Miss Evelyn Rowlee last week.

Mrs. Bertha Dumont of Oswego was a recent guest at R. Dumont's and Edward Durfey's.

Miss Clara Whitsie of Hannibal was the recent guest of Mrs. Will Percival.

Mrs. Earl Foster and daughters Pearl and Mabel are visiting relatives in Albany.

The Epworth League will reorganize on Thursday evening at the church. It is hoped every member will be present, as there is considerable business to come before the meeting.

Lula and Dorcas Osborne are the guests of Millicent Hinckley in Lansing.

The Up-to-Dates will play ball at South Scriba on Saturday, Aug. 1.

A lawn social will be held at the parsonage Friday evening, Aug. 7th. Ice cream and cake will be served and a good attendance is anticipated.

The Up-to-Dates were defeated by the fast Ramblers of Fulton Saturday afternoon by a score of 8 to 6. Whitaker, Perkins and Roy played the best ball for the Ramblers while Davis and Charles Howard carried off the honors for the Up-to-Dates. Sheldon pitched his usually strong game but his support at critical times was weak owing to the absence of the captain and two of his best men.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moss visited at Adelbert Whittemore's recently.

Over fifty Grangers met at their hall last Saturday night. Deputy Hopper and wife of Hannibal, Brother and Sister Wilber of Bowens Corners Grange and Brother and Sister Jackson of Vermillion Grange were present and added much to the success of the meeting by their timely remarks and words of praise for our new hall. After the meeting cream and cake were served in the basement of the new hall and the crowd dispersed just in time to get home before the Sabbath.

[Too late for last week's issue.]

Aug. 3—Don't forget to attend the lawn social at the parsonage on Friday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The annual picnic of the Grange and Sunday Schools will be held at Eckard's grove on Thursday, Aug. 6. Ball games and addresses will be the order of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Rowlee recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Cooper and daughter, Mrs. Lane and children of Oswego and Mr. and Mrs. Horton of Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and children of White Plains, N. Y., are Mr. Pearson's guests.

Miss Sikes and Mrs. Smith of Mexico were recent visitors at Hamon Rockwood's.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rowlee spent Thursday in Oswego and the remainder of the week at Geo. Guile's in Scriba.

Mrs. Hattie Foster and Mrs. Earl Foster and children are home from a week's visit in Albany.

Miss Jessie Vant and Miss Maud Ives were the recent guests of the Misses Hunn.

Mrs. Will Campbell is on the sick list.

Mrs. O. LaDue of Syracuse is the guest of her neice, Mrs. Ernest Rowlee.

Mrs. Cora Phillips, who has been spending two weeks with her sister, Miss Ella Baker, has returned to her home in Trenton Falls.

Fred Ives and family spent Sunday in Vermillion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Randall were the guests of Byron Distin on Sunday.

Berry pickers have returned from New Haven and report a good crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Wheeler have the sympathy of their many friends in the death of their little daughter Clare. She was a beautiful and amiable child.

Mrs. J. W. Distin will entertain the W. F. M. S. of Mount Pleasant at her home in Fulton, west side.

Miss Bessie Montague of Syracuse is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Osborne.

The Brotherhood Class of the First M. Church of Fulton defeated the Up-to-date Club of this place by a score of 12 to 7, on Wednesday, July 29. The game was played at Mount Pleasant.

Last Saturday the Up-to-date Club defeated the South Scriba nine, at the

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Snyder are the happy parents of a baby girl.

Mrs. Martha Hirt visited relatives at South Scriba last week.

Mrs. Minnie Parks and son of Vernon, N. Y., are visiting relatives in Minetto.

Mrs. Henry Hirt of Pennellville was the guest of friends here last week.

Mrs. Melisa Sparks of Fulton was the guest of Mrs. Marcus Allen, Sunday.

Master Percival Chase of Adams has been visiting relatives here.

Miss Edna Rumsey is visiting in Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Modry left Friday for a week's stay with friends in New York.

Mrs. Lewis Porter, Greenman District, was the guest of her son, Chas. Porter, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs Irwin Shutts of Hannibal, were the guests of their son, Courtney Shutts and wife last week.

Mrs Roy Potter is visiting relatives in Boston.

Ernest Parkhurst of Fulton visited friends here recently.

Mrs. E. H. Chase and children are spending some time at Mexico Point.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE INTERNATIONAL LIMERICK WAR.

Poets, near-poets and just plain rhymesters throughout the country are watching with the greatest interest the fight now on for limerick supremacy. The United States has entered the list against Great Britan and the gross limerick output before the end of the current year is expected to exceed in numbers the grains of wheat needed to corner the Chicago market.

Prizes aggregating $3,000 in cash and $750 in presents have been offered. In the Old English Curve Cut contest prizes were given to the persons supplying the best fifth line to rhyme with the first two lines of the following:—

"I had a smoker, "Alas for my plight!
Wife objects to my smoking at night.'
But his friend said "Tut, tut!"
Smoke Old English Curve Cut.

Thousands of replies were received from all over the country—from Calgary to Havana, from Portland, Me., to San Francisco, Cal. Prizes have just been awarded by the Board of Judges for replies received during the month of May. Our City has its representation among the winners, the following having been awarded a prize:—Mr. Jno. Breen.

GREAT BARGAIN—To close estate the house, lot and double corner lot at 419 Cayuga street is offered for sale separately or together. Investigate at once. For particulars inquire Birney Clark, Fulton, or address S. J. Kelly, Attorney, University Block, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-16*

LADY AGENTS WANTED!

Mrs. Ella James

YOU can make excellent money devoting your whole or spare time to taking orders for my DAINTY line of baby goods and children's suits. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, permanent work. No competition. Send TO-DAY for full catalogue, territory, etc. Don't D. Syracuse, N.Y. 8-5

"Going Out to See a Man."

"Going out to see a man" was the invention of Artemus Ward. One night in the winter of 1865, when the humorist was about half through his lecture, he paralyzed his audience with the announcement that they would have to take a recess of fifteen minutes so as to enable him to go across the street to "see a man." H. R. Tracey, the editor of the Washington Republican, was in the audience and, seeing an opportunity to improve upon the joke, pencilled these lines and sent them to the platform:

"Dear Artemus—If you will place yourself under my guidance, I'll take you to 'see a man' without crossing the street."

Artemus accepted the invitation, and while the great audience impatiently but with much amusement awaited the reappearance of the humorist the latter was making the acquaintance of Aman, a well known restaurant keeper at that time, and luxuriating at a well laden refreshment board. Of course everybody "caught on to" the phrase, and men became fond of getting up between the acts and "going out to see Aman." The restaurateur's business from that time forward boomed. Men who would ordinarily sit quietly through an entertainment and behave themselves allowed themselves to be influenced by the contagion.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

He Was Careful of His Voice.

Brignoli, the famous tenor, was very susceptible to flattery, and it is said that once in New York when the orchestra vigorously applauded one of his favorite songs he was so touched that he came down to the footlights and invited them all to a champagne supper at the Everett House. The supper cost him $500.

Brignoli was very careful of his voice and was terribly afraid of drafts. It was once stated that during the winter it always took him three-quarters of an hour to get from his room to the street. First he would on leaving his room pace the hall for ten minutes to get acclimated. He then descended to the lobby, where the temperature was a little lower, and spent twenty minutes there. He then ventured to the vestibule, from which the door opened into the street. He would parade the vestibule for fifteen minutes, occasionally opening the door to let in a little cold air. Being now accustomed to a cool temperature, he would button up his coat and sally forth.

A Fast Record.

At a political convention held in Illinois the importance of nominating a popular man for a certain close district was thoroughly recognized. A speaker had just renominated a personal friend for the position and in an elaborate eulogy had presented in glowing terms his manifold merits, especially emphasizing his great services on the field of battle as well as in the pursuits of peace.

After he had finished a voice was heard in the rear of the room, "What we want is the man that will run the best."

In an instant the orator was again on his feet.

"If you think," he yelled, "that this convention can find anybody that can run better than the gentleman I have nominated, I point once more to his well known war record."—Lippincott's.

Mysterious Green.

To those who believe in the influence of color the shades of green afford an interesting study, not only because of the large number of green things found in nature, but the scale of greens is so varied.

Green is, or was, the chosen color of Venus or the Scandinavian goddess Freya and should be worn upon Friday, her name day.

The color has always been considered mysterious in its influence. All green creatures, such as snakes or birds, are weird, and people with what are known as green hazel eyes need to be carefully considered, and among clairvoyants green stands for intellectual power, just as they speak of the "blue of peace, rose of love and scarlet of anger."

His Honor Vindicated.

A couple of good natured Frenchmen got into a quarrel and challenged each other to fight. On the morning of the duel they and their seconds tramped through the woods to the fatal spot, when one of the duelists, the challenging party, tripped and fell. His second helped him to his feet.

"I hope you are not much hurt," said the other duelist.

"I'm not much hurt. I only bumped my noise on the ground."

"Does it bleed?"

"Yes, a little."

—"Heaven be praised! Blood flows, and my honor is vindicated. Give me your hand, old boy!"

Betting in the Nursery.

"Mamma," said her boy, "I just made a bet."

"What was it?" she asked.

"I bet Billy my cap against two shoe buttons that you'd give me a penny to get some apples with. You don't want me to lose my cap, do you?"

He got the penny.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Vegetarian.

First Deacon—Our new pastor must be a vegetarian.

Second Deacon—Why do you think so?

First Deacon—There doesn't seem to be any meat in his sermons.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"When a man wants an excuse," said Charles Kingsley, "the devil will soon fit him with a good one."

ON

Saturday
August 8
China Plate
WILL BE THE
SOUVENIR

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 F. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee

SUGARS
REFINERS PRICES

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sewers—City of Fulton, N. Y.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Public Works of the city of Fulton, N. Y., at their office in the Savings Bank Building until 8 p. m., Tuesday, August 11, 1908, for furnishing material and labor for installing sewers on Hannibal street, First street, East Worth street, and Third street, Fulton, N. Y.

The sum of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS (currency or certified check) payable to the order of the Chamberlain of the City of Fulton, will be required to accompany each bid.

All such deposits, except that of the bidder whose bid shall have been accepted, will be returned to the person or persons making the same within three (3) days after the contract is awarded.

If the successful bidder, whose bid shall have been accepted, shall refuse or neglect to execute the contract within five (5) days after the notice that it has been awarded to him or them, the amount of the deposit made by him or them will be forfeited to and retained by the City of Fulton as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal; but, if he or they shall execute the contract and bond within the time aforesaid, the amount of his deposit will be returned to him or them.

The Board of Works reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of Fulton, N. Y. Quantity sheets on application.

By order Board of Public Works of the City of Fulton, N. Y.
Dated, Fulton, N. Y., July 27, 1908.
W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk of the City of Fulton, N. Y.

Legal Notices

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibbie & Frances Kibbie.

By virtue of an execution against the property of Frances Kibbie, in the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, I, Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 13th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all the right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibbie had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to, all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton, now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 159 of said City.

Dated June 30th, 1908.
HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.
By JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.
A. T. Jennings, Attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor. Office and Post Office Adress, No. 9 So. First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-10

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 202 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.
10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D., 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 8th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
11-2

Legal Notice

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.

Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs. John Drew, Defendant.

To the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and, in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.

Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

To John Drew, Defendant:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Stowell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 11th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.

Dated May 11th, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.
9-16

No necessity for an expensive vacation trip abroad when the beautiful Oswego river passes our doors and one can reach a score of beautiful camping or picnicking spots in perfect ease in one of the boats from the Manhattan Boat Livery in North First street. tf

The
1000 Islands
Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:30 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 2:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip $5.00
From Charlotte	round trip 4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip 4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip 3.75
From Oswego	round trip 3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.
In effect from Charlotte June 17.
9-12 Olcott Beach July 7th.

The Companies that Paid Losses in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT
WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64. Fulton N. Y.

Kodol For Dyspepsia

Gives rest to the stomach. For indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, tired stomach, weak stomach, windy stomach, puffed stomach, nervous stomach and catarrh of the stomach. A prompt relief.

Prepared at the Laboratory of E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Digests What You Eat
Makes the Stomach Sweet
As a Rose.

Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc.

All Druggists

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 15, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

WHAT CAN IT MEAN?

There is a great deal of whispering around town about an alleged violation of the Civil Service law, and it is hinted that an official has risen superior to these laws and has taken it upon himself to usurp the prerogatives of that Board. It is all very vague at present, but THE TIMES is assured that within a few days all will be revealed and that an explanation will necessarily be forthcoming from a source from which the "stop-thief" cry has been issuing loudly for several weeks.

E. QUIRK'S SECOND EFFUSION.

There is small satisfaction in fighting an ignoble foe; in trying conclusions with an adversary unworthy of one's steel. With such there is no glory in victory; no regret in defeat. Throughout the present discussion the Times holds a feeling of supreme contempt for the holder of the pen which furnishes copy so full of gross untruths, and for the chosen vehicle for the conveyance of such stuff to the public.

The fight started by our citizens against Sabbath desecration, and, championed by the Times, has been the cause for the gravest injustices on the part of the administration, and, through the Patriot, a fight has been waged to excuse these same injustices and to square a very unsquare deal with the public. The aim of the administration and its champion, the Patriot, has been only to appeal to passion and prejudice and to defend the special laws for special friends and special foes as advocated by the head of the municipal government.

The Quirk effusion No. 2 speaks of his innate modesty or disinclination to appear in print; it criticises the construction of the Times' sentences; it accuses the Times of upholding violators of the law; it says nearly a hundred paper mill employees have commended him (Quirk) for his position relative to Sunday usage; that he does not know whether or not the Granby mill is running until Sunday morning at 6 o'clock; he is not afraid of any of his appointees; he refers to Rochester street as a frog hole and a mud puddle; does not recognize the Times superiority over what or whom he does not say, but presumably himself or the Patriot; and he concludes by saying that he closes the incident here, but will not recede from his position.

The writer of the second epistle has no cause to feel proud of his mental effort nor the effect which it has produced in this city. It has made friends for the Times, and it leaves the administration and its mouth-piece conspicuously prominent in their advocacy for unequal right. The mills officered by members of the administration run at their own pleasure, while the other mills are persecuted. The barge canal work goes merrily on all day Sunday; unequality of assessment is practiced; Civil Service rules are violated; provisions of the charter are violated, and the only fact established by the Patriot's side of the controversy is that Postmaster and Editor Hughes are two separate and distinct personages. A fact which they have disputed for two years, but which they have at last acknowledged over the signature of E. Quirk.

Nor does the Times recede from its position that laws should be enforced or repealed, and that the Chief of Police and the Mayor are sworn to this end. One law relative to Sunday observance covers all men—not one or two here and there. Bluff may go with the mob for a time, but a just and fair interpretation of the law with a once-in-a-while redemption of pre-election pledges goes farther.

MR. BRANNAN'S RESIGNATION.

A letter purporting to have been written and signed by Mr. John Brannan, ex-president of the Board of Fire and Police, denying that he resigned that office "because of broken promises and political injustices," appeared in the Patriot of last week. A Times representative called Mr. Brannan on Saturday and asked him by 'phone if he was willing to stand for that denial and he replied that he would call at the Times office in regard to it. He has not found it convenient as yet to do so.

The Times does not recede from its position relative to the cause for Mr Brannan's resignation, nor does it take back one statement. Mr. Brannan resigned for the very reason set forth by the Times, his purported denial to the contrary notwithstanding.

If Mr. Brannan did not resign from the Board "on account of broken promises and political injustice," what was the cause for his resignation?

The public say he either resigned because of these conditions or because his resignation was requested. Which then, was it?

Advertised Letters.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., August 5, 1908:

Master Covert Jones, George Jackson, R. D. 5; George S. Bunham, Hotel; Chas. Victory, Teddy Theadore, F. H. Pierce, R. 9; Floyd Murphy, J. H. McCort, M. D.; Ellen Radigan, Mrs. Clara Howard, Mrs. Lena Hickman, Hotel Fulton; Mrs. Mary Hegnor, Mrs. Birtha Deedreck, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Carl Piper, Miss Mae Benson, Miss May Wilcox.

CARDS—Mrs. Nell Elliott, Master Covert Jones.

WILLIAM E. HUGHES,
Postmaster.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

A BREEZE FROM THE ST. LAWRENCE.

Thousand Island Park is certainly the Paradise of America. Money galore is being invested in comfort, attractiveness and business on the different islands and along the river. The different islands are now undenominational. Round Island Park and its public buildings are owned by a New York man by the name of Emery, and the name has been changed to Frontenac. Thousand Island Park is patronized by all denominations.

It was organized about thirty years ago and has grown into a city of 6,000. Fine cottages, a large tabernacle, Chapel, two large hotels, a large general store, a book store, a large meat market and a drug store and Post Office. These privileges are protected, there being no opposition. They now have electric lights, sewer connections and city water piped from the river. Several wells have been driven down into solid rock, fifty or sixty feet, obtaining pure, cold water, clear as a crystal. The cottages have the privilege of drinking purposes from these wells for a dollar per year. They also have cement walks on the main streets. Trees were set all through the park twenty-five years ago, which now afford shade for the cottages. There are no flies here, making it enjoyable. The cottages have large porches below and above. Wealthy people from all over the country have built large expensive cottages, summer and boat houses all along the river front. The park has a large wharf and a large round two story summer house with seats below and above. Cheap excursions are made daily around the islands and to different points in Canada by the river steamers. Fine, fleet launches are in motion constantly up and down this mighty river. The Park is seven miles long and four miles wide and originally contained one thousand acres.

There are a few farms on the island. Fifty cows are kept on the Park farm which is rented. A ton of milk per day is consumed. The Tabernacle has a seating capacity of fifteen hundred (1,500) people and was filled twice Sunday. Dr. Blakesly of Cazenovia preached twice. Ministers, professional and business men from abroad are coming and going. Walter Bradley, the contractor of Fulton, was here over Sunday at their cottage, also Mrs. T. D. Richards as their guest. Mrs. George B. Palmer and daughter are at the Arnold cottage at Fine View, and son Jamie and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Gardner have rooms on Outlook avenue at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith. He reached his eighty-fifth birthday Monday and his wife made a surprise birthday party by inviting some twenty friends. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gifford and son, formerly of Hannibal Center, own and run the large Wren Boarding Cottage, which is constantly filled with guests. Everything is neat and up-to-date here. The rates at the above cottage are $6.00 per week. There are 6,000 people here. The hotels have a capacity of 800 guests each and are filled. The fishing is good. John D. Rockefeller's pastor from New York, stopping at Frontenac, caught a muscalunge last week which weighed thirty two pounds. A whale was harpooned recently at the mouth of the St. Lawrence that weighed two thousand pounds.

S. D. GARDNER.

Ladies' $3.50 black and tan Oxfords, will close them out for only $2.68. S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

Board of Health.

The Board of Health desire that Mr. F. L. Jennings should abate an alleged nuisance on his Oneida street property, on complaint of Mr. H. A. McFarland. On the property adjacent to Mr. McFarland's home is a depression which fills with water and being without outlet it becomes stagnant and forms a breeding place for mosquitoes. Health Officer Russell has poured a barrel of oil upon the unruffled water and Mr. Jennings has been summoned to appear before the Board on Wednesday evening.

The Feather Weight Arch Support for you people with tired aching limbs. Call and investigate.
S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

Everything of a Summer Nature in the store must go. Here are prices that will interest the most careful buyer

For the Boys

All our 50c Boys' Blouses with and without collars in black sateen, blue chambrays and fancy patterns at..... 39c
Boys' 25c Skull Caps at..... 19c
Boys' 50c Skull Caps, all colors, at..... 38c
Boys' Corduroy Knee Pants, sizes 4 to 16, 50c value..... 39c
Boys' Fine Blue Serge Knickerbocker Pants, $1.50 value.... $1.29
One lot of Boys' Negligee Shirts, 12½ to 14, at..... 29c
Every Boy's Suit in the house cut 1-4 off in price.
Boys' Wash Suits, 50c grade, now..... 39c
Boys' Wash Suits, $1.00 grade, now..... 79c

Our Men's Suit Sale Still Continues

We are selling a lot of them and no wonder at this. Look at the prices we are offering them at—

$18.00 Suits now..... $13.00
$15.00 Suits now..... $10.00
$12.00 Suits now..... $7.50

This sale puts within the reach of all, high grade Clothing at less than the cost of ordinary kinds.

For the Men

Good Black Sateen Shirts, all sizes, with reversible collars, 50c value at..... 35c
Men's Shirts and Drawers—double seated drawers, at..... 19c
Men's Pure Linen 25c Handkerchiefs..... 19c
Men's Fancy 50c Hose, neat patterns at..... 39c
Every one of our 25c Men's Hose, this week only..... 19c
25c Wash Ties at..... 19c; 3 for 50c
One lot of Men's $1.00 Negligee Shirts, all sizes, at..... 75c
Men's 50c Black Underwear at..... 39c
Men's B. V. D. Underwear—coat shirt and knee length drawers, 50c value at..... 35c
Lots of other bargains throughout the store

Men's Pants

Every $4.00 Pant in the house..... $3.00
Every $3.50 Pant in the house..... $2.45
Every $3.00 Pant in the house..... $2.00
Lots of good patterns and all sizes

Straw Hats

Must be closed out; we never carry any over; 1-3 off regular price.

Nothing held back. Everything of a Summer nature will be sold at a great reduction. Our usual motto goes with every sale. Money refunded if goods are not as represented.

S. LIPSKY & SON

First Street — Lewis Block — Fulton, N. Y.

ONTARIO LEAGUE DISBANDED.

The Ontario Baseball League is a thing of the past and but bitter memory and unpaid salaries remain to show where it once existed. It is not that there is not a demand for clean, fair ball in the different towns wherein a team has been supported during the few past years, but because this kind of ball was not forthcoming that trouble arose. The Oneida Dispatch of Friday in speaking of the matter said in part:

"The Ontario League, the successor of the Empire League, inherited the same troubles that affected its progenitor, due to incompetent management, poor umpires and lack of system and attention to the rules that would give it recognition as a league. Within a month after it started the schedule was a thing of the past and games were arranged from day to day. In some instances the teams failed to show up because they could not get the money to travel. Geneva, Lyons, Fulton, Auburn and Oswego successively flunked in the matter of financial support, and a week ago Oneida, which had held out the best, confessed to being in the hole, the amount being about $300."

What was true of the League as a whole was true of the teams as units.

The Times understands that only about $100 of the necessary $800 to pay the salaries due the players and other expenses has been secured and that the timber in the grand stand and fence will be taken by the firm of Henderson, Thomson & Co., from whom it was purchased and who have not collected the pay for same.

Whether or not President Galusha of the Ontario League and Secretary Reynolds of the Fulton team have ever received any or all of their salaries the Times is unable to state.

Men's $4.00 Patent Leather Oxfords for $2.98.
S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

FINE OPPORTUNITY.

It may not be generally known what a fine opportunity is offered by the Hudson River Day Line in the matter of stop-over privileges. Any traveler holding or purchasing through ticket from Albany to New York, taking the steamer at Albany at 8:30 a. m., may apply to the Purser for a free stop-over, giving the opportunity to remain nearly three hours at Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, or to inspect the United States Military Establishment at West Point, and still be able to reach 129th Street, New York, by the steamer "Albany," of the Hudson River Day Line, by 8:10 o'clock p. m.

How many people there are entirely ignorant of the great military academy at West Point, on which the United States Government has expended large sums of money for the erection of buildings to broaden the use of the Academy. The powers that be have already recommended the purchase of Constitution Island, directly opposite, on which to erect a Preparatory School for the Academy.

Baptist Church Picnic.

The annual outing and picnic of the Baptist Bible School will take place at Eckert's Grove, about four miles north of Fulton, on Friday of this week. Free transportation by boat to those who attend, leaving the dock near E. E. Hart's coal office at 9 o'clock in the morning. A fine line of sports and other entertainment is being provided. Should the weather be unfavorable Friday, picnic will be held on day following. All are invited.

Freedom of the Press.

The battle for a free press in the full modern sense was fought out between 1784 and 1771, beginning with the prosecution of Wilkes for attacking Bute in the North Briton and ending with the successful resistance to the proclamation by which the commons had forbidden the publication of their debates. Six printers who had infringed the proclamation were summoned to the bar of the house. Five obeyed, and the messenger of the house was sent to arrest the sixth. The lord mayor sent the messenger to prison. The house of commons sent the lord mayor to the Tower, but he was released at the next prorogation, and the day on which he left the Tower marked the end of the last attempt to silence the press.—New York American.

Let us show you how simple it is to make good pictures with the Eastman "Kodaks." With the tank developing machines it is "Daylight" all the way through, no more "Dark Room" troubles with the Eastman way. "Kodaks" all the way from $1.00 up to $75.00. Eastman films are the only reliable ones; you cannot afford to use poor films. For sale at Lasher's Book Store.

The Bite of a Dog.

"I want to say a few words about hydrophobia," said a physician. "When an animal bites through clothing there is little or no danger of infection. The virus is on the teeth of the animal and when the person bitten has received the wound through a layer of clothing there is little danger.

"The virus on the teeth is left in the clothing and is not communicated to the person bitten. Rabid dogs or other animals are not like reptiles. They have no hollow teeth through which poison may be communicated. It must be introduced directly into the system of the victim.

"Therefore, when a supposedly rabid dog bites a person, if the bite is not on an exposed part of the body he should have no fear."—Washington Post.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. Sample free at E. A. Putnam's drug store.

The Supreme Test.

"You are all right," said the doctor after he had gone through with the regulation thumping and listening with his patient. "Not a trace of heart disease. Fifteen dollars, please!"

The patient drew a long breath and remarked: "I am sure now I have no heart disease. If I had, I should have dropped dead when you mentioned your fee."

Fun Missed in Air Traveling.

It may be a great achievement for a balloon to travel at the rate of seventy-five miles per hour, but what is the fun in skipping along at that rate when you cannot see the telegraph poles or constables whiz past? The pleasure in speed is in passing things that stand still or go slower.—Boston Advertiser.

SPECIAL EXCURSION RATES.

To Oswego, via New York Central, account State Firemen's Convention, August 17-21. One and one-half regular fare for round trip. Tickets good to return until August 22, inclusive. Consult Ticket Agents for detailed information. 8-12

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC CO.

Contractors and Engineers for all kinds of

Electrical Installations

Dynamos, Motors, Fans, Bells, Fixtures, Etc. Fire Proof Wiring a Specialty

Estimates Cheerfully Given on Application

J. C. KETCHAM, Manager

Telephone 243 — 834 Oneida Street, Fulton, N. Y.

Have You A Phonograph?

Write us about Indestructable Records. Greatest hit of the phonograph world. You can't break them. Send for lists. Records mailed at our risk. Great bargains this week in Edison and Columbia machines.

PHONOGRAPH EXCHANGE,
Over Western Union Telegraph,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

CHURCH NOTES.

Presbyterian Church.

Services next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday school at 12 m. Vesper service discontinued until September.

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Baptist Church.

The Rev. Edward Babcock of Eau Clair, Wis., who supplied so satisfactory a year ago, will supply the Baptist pulpit on Sunday, both morning and evening. Everybody welcome.

State Street Church.

Captain and Mrs. Jordison of the Salvation Army will have charge of the services in State Street church next Sunday morning and evening. Morning subject, "Valid Evidence of a Life Beyond the Grave." In the evening if Mrs. Jordison's health permits she will give her life's experience.

Public worship at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.30 p. m.

Prayer service on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Next Sunday, Aug. 9, Rev. Arthur Copeland, D. D., of Newark, N. J., will have charge of the services morning and evening.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

If you are identified with no other church in the city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.

STOCK BROKERS

Oswego Office—No. 6 Neal Block

Phone 1208 C. J. Bellister, Mgr.

Securities bought and sold for cash or on moderate margins.

New York Office—53 Broadway

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

SURE

"things" are rarely as sure as they look.

We have one that is sure every time—ELECTRIC LIGHT. You can't make a mistake by using it, as it has no undesirable features, and many good ones. It is the light for warm weather, and as good for Winter, as it does not burn up the good air. It is convenient to perfection and economical to use.

Get on the line now!

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Mr. R. D. Parsons is convalescent from his recent illness.

Mrs. B. W. Bennett and son Winton, are at Pleasant Point.

Mrs. Harry Stoneburg and family have been at Pompey Hill.

Mrs. Florence Fallon is visiting Prof. and Mrs. Turner in Ithaca.

Mr. E. E. Trambly is spending several days with friends in Gloversville.

Mrs. Emma Robinson and Mr. James Robinson are at Thousand Island Park.

Mrs. R. B. McCully of New York city is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McCully.

Mrs. F. P. Connell of Syracuse spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Rhoda Thompson.

Mrs. Thomas McCormack and Miss Agnes McCormack are visiting in Rochester and Geneva.

Miss Grace Croan of Black River has been the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. St. Louis.

Mr. W. H. Patterson is spending this week at Cobasset. He will return to this city on Saturday.

Mrs. Lena Bennett and Miss Mabel North are enjoying a visit in New York city and Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Isaac F. Seamans has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in the eastern end of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stout and Miss P. D. Woodin have returned from a fortnights outing at Melborne, Ca.

Miss Nellie Rice has returned from Osceola where she has been the guest of Mrs. W. L. Sawtelle, at her cottage.

Attorney Mahlon Freeman of New York city is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Freeman, in this city.

Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. John W. Youngs have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Youngs of New York city.

Mrs. Ruby Wells, and the Misses Alberta Allen and Ada Bishop are spending a month at Watertown and Cranberry Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Goodelle have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sheldon and their son, and Mrs. George Killus of Weedsport.

Masters Haswell and Theodore Grant have returned to Fulton after spending some time with relatives in Hobart and Delhi.

Mrs. M. V. Connell and Miss Lena Babcock will entertain on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Connell in Oneida street, in honor of Mrs. E. V. Babcock of Pittsburg, Pa.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Fulton Hospital Association will meet on Thursday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock sharp, at the home of the president, Miss Elizabeth Lee, No. 226 Oneida street. A full attendance of members is requested.

The prices I am placing upon trimmed hats and all Summer millinery goods are worthy your consideration.

Young's, Cayuga street.

Stanley Dry Plates, 4x5, only 33c per dozen, at Lasher's Book Store.

The man who knows is the man who buys F. Villar Cigars. For sale by Victor C. Lewis.

Mr. John Reynolds continues to gain in health.

Miss Florence Doxtater is slowly gaining in health.

Mr. W. A. Schenck, of Meriden, Conn is visiting Mr. S. S. Morrill, South Third Street.

Miss Marguerite Honeywell of Delhi, is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Skeel are spending some time at Fourth Lake, Adirondack mountains

The annual picnic of the Knights of Columbus will be held at Long Branch on August 11.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. VanAmburg have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sprague of St. Johns, Mich.

Mrs. E. V. Babcock, two children and maid of Pittsburg, Pa., are the guests of Mr. L. B. Babcock and Miss Lena Babcock, at the homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carver have been entertaining William and Harvey Carver of New York city and Miss Eva Carver of Shaneatles.

Mrs. Martin Dietrick has resigned her position as bookkeeper for the American Tobacco company, Mr. Samuel Case of New York city taking her place.

Miss Hazel Lamson and Miss Nellie Rappole have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne at Ingalls Crossings.

Prof. W. Y. Welsh, of the Clarion, Pa., Normal School, was taken seriously ill at The Observer residence last Sunday, and has been very ill since.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Crahan have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Crahan of Rotterdam Junction, Mrs. Crahan returning to their home with them on Saturday, where she will remain for a fortnight.

The Summer meeting of the New York State Fruit Grower's Association will be held in the college of Agriculture, Cornell University, Ithaca, on Wednesday, Aug. 19, commencing at 2 o'clock. An interesting and instructive program has been prepared.

Saturday was an ideal day and the Catholic picnic was a stupendous success, over fifteen hundred being on the Fair grounds in the afternoon to witness the sports. The dinner served was most satisfying, over one thousand partaking of the goodies prepared by the various committees.

Attorney Arvin Rice, agent for the property in which the west side postal station is located, was guaranteed the additional $200 per year rental by a committee of west side business men last week and he has not recalled the contract for rental from the Department. Nothing has as yet been heard as to the continuance or discontinuance of the station.

Orders for stamping will be promptly executed at the Woman's Exchange, 161 S. Second street. Miss Tucker has a large line of patterns for stamping shirt waists, table linens, baby clothes, initials, etc. She also carries a line of desirable embroidery materials. Prices low, and the quality of the work is right.

The work of decorating the interior and exterior of the Church of the Immaculate Conception is progressing nicely and when completed the edifice will present a beautiful appearance. The interior work is to be elaborate in the extreme and a most unique lighting arrangement is being carried out in arches and at the altar.

Mrs. B. C. Mitchell, instructor in the Dress Cutting School has returned from a months' vacation spent at Brainbridge and resumed school. The outlook for a large class this Fall is excellent, as the more the systems which she teaches is known the more it appeals to the ladies. It is worth while learning, if only for the purpose of making one's own clothing and being independent of dressmakers who are so hard to secure in Fulton.

The family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albin on Tuesday of last week was a delightful family affair, being the fourth annual reunion of the children of the late Rev. Boyd who preached at Hannibal and at Fernwood, Oswego county. Those present were Mrs. Alice Boyd, Mrs. Chester Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Boyd and their son, Leigh; and their daughter, Eleanor Louise, of Middlesex, the Rev. and Mrs. Lyford S. Boyd and their son, Raymond, of Weedsport, the Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur and their daughter, Alice Wightman Boyd of Cayuga, the Rev. and Mrs. Frank A. Boyd, and their son, Edgar Francis of Williamson. Three infants born to members of the family during the year just past were baptised by the Rev. L. S. Boyd.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, safe, easy, pleasant, sure, little liver pills. Sold by all druggists.

WANTED

Farm and City Property

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

Whitaker & Lovejoy,
Fulton, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I am in receipt of your draft from the Home Insurance Company in full settlement of loss sustained to our farm buildings, and desire to thank you for the very satisfactory adjustment thereunder.

Yours very truly,
John Keeney.
Lydia Keeney.

July 28, 1908.

Mr. C. W. Washburn has been visiting in New York City and New Jersey.

Mr. W. L. Forsythe, Jr., has returned from a visit with friends in Hamilton.

Attorney and Mrs. Frederick White of Boonville are visiting Fulton friends.

Dr. Louis Schroder of New York city is the guest of Miss Haze. Gardner.

Mrs. Mary Widger of Baldwinsville has been the guest of Mrs. F. A. Summerville.

H. L. Paddock and Miss Imogene Paddock have been at Thousand Island Park.

Mrs. Monroe Blodgett and son Frank left this morning for a visit in Cleveland, Ohio.

Prof. Paul Hager and Attorney A. T. Jennings are at Seventh Lake this week, enjoying camp life.

Mrs. C. D. Foster is visiting her brother and sister, Mr. Ray and Miss Ruth Piper in Hartford, Conn.

The receipts of the County clerk's office during July were $776.29, which is exceptionally good for that period.

Mrs. Charles Burke has returned to her home in Cleveland, Ohio, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelsey, in this city.

Mr. J. Victor Foster has returned to New York city after a visit with his parents, ex-Mayor and Mrs. J. A. Foster.

Mrs. S. R. Magee on Friday evening entertained pleasantly at her home in Second street in honor of Mr. Gilbert Markham of Dayton Ohio.

Messrs. Bernard Kelly of Syracuse and George VanAlystine of Rochester were the over-Sunday guests of the Misses Kathrine Nealis and Mary Devaney.

Miss Cora VanBuren and her sister, Mrs. Crandall of Oswego, are spending Old Home Week in Cortland with their sister, Miss Fanny VanBuren.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sadelmyer on Saturday entertained a family gathering at a house party at their home in Oneida street. Guests were present from Phoenix, Baldwinsville Philadelphia, Pa., Ilion and Syracuse.

Claude Hall, a negro at one time in the employ of the Battle Island Company, was on Saturday pronounced insane by Drs. Marsh and Russell, and he was taken to Ogdensburg on Tuesday.

The Mid-Summer Shoe Sale at the S. D. Wells Cash Shoe Store, First street, is at its best this week. The line of sizes is complete and you can buy a shoe at about half the former price.

Properly Fitted Eye-Glasses

BRING their own WELCOME. With defective eyesight or improperly fitted glasses one cannot enjoy either health, wealth or happiness.

We are competent and equipped to give you the best service in this line.

Give us a call, we will tell you whether or not you need glasses.

W. C. Morgan

43 Cayuga Street Fulton

"The Good Old Days."

How times have changed! When we were young, people had bad colds, soaked their feet in hot water and got well. Now they have grip, take quinine and feel sick all over. Then they had sore throat, wrapped a piece of fat pork in an old sock, tied it around the neck at night and went to work the next morning. Now they have tonsilitis, a surgical operation and two weeks in the house. Then they had stomach ache and took castor oil and recovered. Now they have appendicitis, a week in the hospital and six feet due east and west and six feet perpendicular. They worked then; they labor now. In those days they wore underclothes; now they wear lingerie. Then they went to a restaurant; now they go to a cafe. Then they broke a leg; now they fracture a limb. People went crazy then; they have a brain storm now. Politicians then paid good hard cash for support; now they send government garden seeds. Yes, times have changed, and we all change with the times. That's progression.—Ancil Hatten in Westphalia (Kan.) Times.

Power of Plants.

Farmers are well acquainted with the fact that the roots of trees will disrupt and sometimes overturn a stone wall, but the lifting power of tender vegetables is equally surprising. The one result which has perhaps attracted the greatest attention is the discovery that a weight of two and a half tons can be lifted by the common pumpkin in the course of its development.

Dr. Carpenter relates the story of a paving stone weighing eighty-three pounds that was raised from its bed (when joined by others on all four sides) by such a soft piece of fungi as the common mushroom. And still another and more remarkable story is added to the above.

A man had a cask of sweet wine and placed it in an empty cellar to mature. When examined several years later it had risen from the floor of the cellar to the ceiling, having been borne upward upon the tender shoots of a vine fungus with which the cellar was filled.—London Home Notes.

Catching the "Tone."

He was a well meaning young man, but as curate in a small village he had never occasion to meet the class of people who frequented the fashionable parish to which he had just been appointed.

His new rector, wishing to help him on to success, had been liberal with advice and had duly impressed him with the importance of always taking the "tone" of the people with whom he mingled. Being invited to take dinner at the mansion of one of the members of the congregation and knowing that he would have to say grace, the young curate took his cue from the conversation overheard before dinner, and when his hostess nodded meaningly in his direction he delivered himself of the following, which he considered quite in keeping with the "tone" of the guests assembled:

"O Lord, thanks awfully, jolly good feed, wot?"—London Express.

The Miser's Carpet.

"Dr. Quain, the eminent physician, full of Hibernian wit, would sometimes tell unauthorized anecdotes of his professional experiences," says Sir Algernon West in "One City and Many Men." "Once he was attending a well known man of miserly habits in Mayfair, who when very ill asked him to honestly tell him if he would ever again rise from his bed of sickness. The doctor thought he never would. 'Please ring the bell,' said the patient, and when he had secured the attendance of his housekeeper he said: 'Have the strip of carpet by my bedside, which is a good one, wrapped up and put away. I shall not want it again, and if it is left here those undertaker's men will be sure to spoil it with their dirty boots.'"

A Man's Tact.

Nobody but Mr. Henley would have asked such a question in the first place.

"Miss Fairley," he said, "if you could make yourself over what kind of hair and eyes would you have?"

"If I could make myself over," said Miss Fairley, "I would look just exactly as I do now."

"You would?" exclaimed Henley in honest surprise, and to this day he can't understand why Miss Fairley thinks him a man of little taste and less tact.

A Real Dilemma.

"Say, Mike," queried Plodding Pete, who was looking at the piece of a Sunday school paper that had come with a handout, "wot does it mean 'bout bein' between de devil an' de deep sea?"

"It's de same as bein' told t' take yer choice between goin' t' work an' takin' a bath," explained Meandering Mike.—Chicago News.

A Friend In Need.

"Loan me a dollar, old man," said the actor. "I'm hungry."

"I'm broke myself," responded the stage manager, "but I'll put you on in the bill tonight. We have an eating scene."

"Man, I'll starve before night."

"In that case I'll call a rehearsal."—St. Louis Republic.

Music.

All music is more or less dramatic, and so the march of music is toward the theater. The times of mere enjoyment of tone combinations are past.—Herr Nikisch.

There is nothing more frightful than ignorance in action.—Goethe.

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

Genasco Asphalt Roofing

Genuine Asphalt — Nothing Better
Prices Right — Come and See

Gilbert & Nichols Company

Miss Sara Perry left this Wednesday for a visit with Syracuse friends. She will also visit Canandaigua and Niagara Falls before her return.

Prof. and Mrs. David McClure of Newark, N. J., who have been spending July at their cottage at Fosterville, are at present visiting the Summer resorts in Canada.

The trolley construction is making good headway between Syracuse and this city, the work of grading having been completed so far as the Great Bear Spring farm. It is anticipated that the road will be open from this city to Syracuse by Dec. 1.

The floating island in Lake Neahtawanta is again on the move, the winds of the past week having driven it from its position near the boat house and it is now midway across the lake. It is a scene which many people from miles around have visited during the past few days.

Dr. E. A. Gladman on Sunday took a party composed of Mr. N. H. Gilbert, Miss Myrtis Gilbert, Mrs. Elizabeth McCully and Mr. Louis Rice to Pleasant Point in his automobile. There is a large sized Fulton colony at the Point, that resort apparently being more popular than usual this Summer.

Messrs. Vincent and Charles Hall are spending a vacation with relatives and friends in Guelph, Can. Mr. Charles Hall is teller in the First National Bank and his well-known modesty has prevented his taking a vacation for some time prior to this one, as he was strenuously opposed to figuring in the public eye.

Why He Refused.

"Can I offer you a little more soup?" a lady asked her new paying guest.

"No, thanks!" was the quick reply.

"I hope you are not refusing because it is considered bad form to take two helpings of soup. We are not sticklers for etiquette."

"Oh, it isn't etiquette that I was worrying about—it was the soup!"

FOR SALE—A split bamboo fish rod, made by Leonard. Cost at wholesale $22.50. Will be sold for less than half cost. Inquire 161 South Second street, Fulton.

Demster Grove Camp Meeting.

Camp meeting will be held in this delightful grove from Aug. 25 to Sept. 2, an unusually attractive program having been prepared. The Rev. Milton S. Rees, D. D., will have charge of the special evangelistic services. Tuesday, Aug. 25, will be Old Settlers Day, and Wednesday, Sept. 2, will be Missionary Day.

Ladies' $3.50 and $4.00 Patent Bals for only $3.98 at

S. D. Wells' Cash Shoe Store.

Mrs. Jane Teaker, aged about sixty, came to the local post office on Friday in quest of the address of Mr. Craine, who was her affianced husband, she said. The woman was from Rochester and had reached Oswego, where she lost her purse, leaving her penniless. She was given transportation to Fulton and the Rural Carrier Crandall conveyed her to her destination, where undoubtedly she is happily settled.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Langdon on Tuesday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in a happy manner at their home in West First street, their daughters—Mrs. J. D. McIntyre and Mrs. J. J. Wright assisting in the entertainment, which was in the nature of an informal reception held during the afternoon. At six o'clock a family dinner party was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Langdon, who have resided in Fulton for forty years, were the recipients of many congratulations and good wishes. The guest of honor at the reception was Mrs. M. E. Street of Lee, Mass., who attended Mrs. Langdon as bridesmaid at her wedding fifty years ago.

DIED.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanning died in Volney on Monday.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingamells died at their home in Volney on Sunday.

Ruth, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bryant, died at their home on Friday. The funeral was held on Sunday. Interment in Mt. Adnah.

Clara, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler died on Monday at their home at Battle Island. The funeral will be held this Wednesday at Mt. Pleasant church and interment will be made at Mt. Pleasant.

DIED

Followed Copy.

Father (to little son returning from horseback ride)—Got a fall, did you? Well, I hope you didn't cry like a baby. Son—No, dad, I didn't cry. I just said one word—the same as you'd have said. —Punch.

Situation Wanted

A first class accountant and office man, thoroughly familiar with up-to-date methods of cost accounting, wants position with manufacturing concern. Address X, Times office, Fulton. 1c

IN SELECTING YOUR BANK

give careful attention to the STABILITY of the bank and its WILLINGNESS to co-operate with patrons in the development of THEIR business.

Our customers value and "bank on" our willingness and ABILITY to assist them in every way consistent with safe, sound banking. Whether their account be large or small we appreciate their patronage.

This makes for a mutually satisfactory and profitable arrangement and for the future well-being of both bank and patron.

We shall be pleased to have YOU open an account with us.

4% Interest on Money Left 6 Months.

3% Interest on Certificates of Deposit—No Time Lost.

First National Bank, Fulton, N. Y.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
93S First St. Fulton, N Y.

S. J. KELLY.
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
517 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, D.D. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
cial attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate
...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

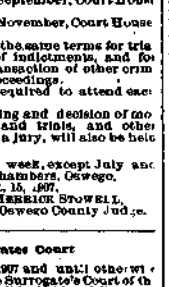
JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 40 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' ns, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:
First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego
I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.
Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.
Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.
Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.
MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.



Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.
On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.
Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the
CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

Ambiguous.

Parishioner (a little worse for liquor)—I hearsh you preazh las' night.
New Minister—You didn't hear much, I fancy.
"Thaz what I thought myself."—London Pick-Me-Up.

A Reliable Remedy for CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

HAY FEVER

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Gulls and Clams.

The discussion continues between those who think that all the acts of the lower animals are satisfactorily explained by the hypothesis of inherited instinct and those who hold that there is an element of intelligence, if not of reasoning, in these things. W. L. Finley, in a work on American birds, mentions an observation of his which may perhaps be explained either way, but which in any case is interesting. A gull seized upon a clam and, rising to a height of about fifteen feet, allowed it to fall upon hard ground. The clam kept its mouth shut. Again the gull rose with it to the same height and dropped it once more, with the same result. This operation was repeated fifteen times, when at last the shock had the desired effect, the shell was opened, and the gull enjoyed its dainty contents.

Saw Him With Her Own Eyes.

"It is too bad," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "that our curate seems likely to be a valetudinarian all his life."
"Why, he ain't, is he?" replied her hostess as she toyed with her diamond studded lorgnette. "I'm almost sure I seen him eatin' beefsteak at the dinner in the parish house night before last."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Bert Barber, of Lilton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Sold by all druggists.

The Other Great Man.

Dr. Russell Cool of California happened to suppress an epidemic of measles while on a vacation trip to Tahiti, and Chief Oreaori gratefully invited him to a banquet in his primitive palace. The south sea potentate and his white guest sat amiably on the floor and dined off roast pig and other native delicacies served on broad leaves and eaten with the fingers. After dinner host and guest adjourned to seats outside the palace, lit long, fat, black cigars and gazed out over the moonlit Pacific. In the eyes of Chief Oreaori, Robert Louis Stevenson, who did so much to improve the condition of the south sea islanders, was the greatest white man that ever lived. The chief related to Dr. Cool many incidents to illustrate Stevenson's kindliness, then asked a score of questions about the health of Stevenson's widow and of his stepchildren. When the last question had been answered there followed a long period of silence. The two friends puffed slowly at their cigars and luxuriously regarded the radiant tropic moonlight glowing upon rustling palm fronds and the silvery ocean. Then Oreaori turned to the doctor and demanded, "Now tell me about John L. Sullivan?"—Harper's Weekly.

Freezing Flesh.

It is a curious fact that, although dwellers in northern climes must have known for ages that a low temperature preserves flesh from putrefaction, it never seems to have struck any one that this natural fact could be turned to artificial advantage until Lord Bacon stuffed the historic chicken with snow and thereby caught a chill which killed him. It is perhaps even more curious that an experiment resulting in the death of one of the most eminent men in the world should not have called any attention to an already well known principle which might have been readily turned to great advantage. As a matter of fact, it was not until the year 1875, 249 years after Lord Bacon's fatal experiment, that freezing was practically employed as a method of preserving flesh. This was the commencement of the frozen meat trade between America and England. Four years later a dry air refrigerator was perfected.

Spelled in Full.

"We had an editor in chief on our paper years ago who was a stickler for no abbreviations," said a veteran newspaper man. "He didn't believe in abbreviating anything but the word mister. The names of states had to be spelled out. One time one of the boys wrote a news story which contained this clause: 'And Mozert's mass was played.' The proofreader who got the copy had been under the exacting direction of that editor for years, too many years to allow any proper name to get by him without being spelled out, so when he came to this 'mass' he 'rung' the word, and it came out 'Mozart's Massachusetts.'"—Omaha Bee.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.
If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.
Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.
You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

A Monster of Learning.

The famous Cardinal Mezzofanti knew an amazing number of languages and dialects. Perhaps he is best known to the modern English reader from the eulogy to be found in one of Byron's memoranda, published by Moore.
"Your literary everyday man and I," says Byron, "never went well in company, especially your foreigner, whom I never could abide. I don't remember a man among them whom I ever wished to see twice, except perhaps Mezzofanti, who is a monster of learning, the Briareus of parts of speech, a walking polyglot and, more, who ought to have existed at the time of the tower of Babel as universal interpreter. He is indeed a marvel—unassuming also. I tried him in all the tongues of which I knew a single oath (or adjuration to the gods against postboys, savages, Tartars, boatmen, sailors, pilots, gondoliers, muleteers, camel drivers, vetturini, postmasters, postboys, post houses, post everything), and, egad, he astounded me, even to my English."

Utilizing Sharks' Teeth.

The natives on some of the Pacific islands, being provided with neither metals nor any stone harder than the coral rocks of which the atolls they inhabit are composed, would seem badly off, indeed, for material of which to make tools or weapons were it not that their very necessity has bred an invention no less ingenious than curious and effective. This is nothing less than the use of sharks' teeth to give a cutting edge to their wooden knives and swords. The mouth of the shark contains 300 teeth arranged in five rows, all closely lying upon each other, except the outer row, and so constructed that as one tooth is broken or lost another takes its place. The teeth are not only pointed and keen edged, but are finely and regularly serrated, so that the cutting power is greatly increased. Indeed, so great a faculty have these teeth for wounding that the implements and weapons upon which they are used have to be handled with great care. The Kingmill islanders make many strange articles of sharks' teeth.

Suspicious.

A man entered a Tenderloin drug store the other day and asked for a telephone, says the New York Tribune. He was evidently from out of town. "Do I pay you first or afterward?" he asked the clerk when the instrument in question was pointed out to him. "You call your number and then put your dime in the slot," snapped the clerk. The stranger was suspicious. "In that hole there?" he asked, looking all around the telephone and fingering the slot dubiously. "Yes." "I guess not," said he, turning away, with decision. "I ain't lookin' fer no savin's bank."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.
It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.
It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.
When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.
Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now.
PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

The New Watch.

The young man drew forth a fine gold watch.
"Please regulate this," he said.
"A birthday present, eh?" said the watchmaker. "Now, listen, and I'll give you some pointers about how to keep this watch in fine condition.
"Wind it in the morning instead of at night.
"At least once a year have it oiled. Remember that its balance swings 18,000 times a year, all on one little drop of oil. A wheelbarrow wouldn't stand such treatment. It would shriek for lubrication, but the small voice of the watch cannot be heard.
"After mending or cleaning examine your watch's screw heads and frames. If they are scratched the workman has been careless. He is a man to be avoided. Patronize him no more.
"Don't grumble if your mainspring breaks. This accident is due to some unknown condition of the weather. There are mainspring epidemics, like influenza ones. Just now such an epidemic is afoot. I have taken out sixty fractured mainsprings this week."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

He Got It.

He had the air of a man who was particularly well satisfied with himself.
"I tell you," he said, "there's nothing like having sickness in the family to convince a man that he can do a good many things that he never would have dared to attempt before. Now, today I am going to buy a gown for my little girl. Her mother can't get out, you know, and so I am going to do it myself."
On the day following he had the air of a man who was particularly dissatisfied with himself.
"What's the matter?" he was asked. "Couldn't you get that gown?"
"Couldn't I get it!" he repeated. "Couldn't I get it! Hang it all, the trouble is that I did get it!"
"Something wrong with it?"
"Something! If it was only 'something' I wouldn't mind. My taste is wrong, my judgment is wrong, the color is wrong, the size is wrong and the price is wrong."—Chicago Post.

Seeing Ourselves.

"The man who can pick out the best picture of himself is a rare bird," said a photographer. "Even an author, who is reputedly a poor judge of his own work, exercises vast wisdom in selecting his best book compared with the person who tries to choose his best photograph. Every famous man or woman who has been photographed repeatedly has his favorite picture. Usually it is the worst in the collection. It shows him with an unnatural expression sitting or standing in an unnatural attitude.
"The inability to judge of his best picture must be due to the average man's ignorance as to how he really looks, or perhaps it can be partly attributed to a desire to look other than he does. A stout man will swear that the photograph most nearly like him is one that makes him look thin, a thin man the one that makes him look stout. The solemn man selects the jolliest picture, the jovial man the most cadaverous.

On Again, Off Again.

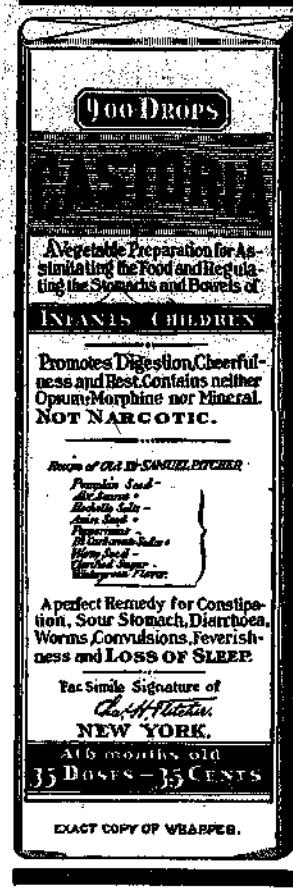
A young New York artist who is almost as noted for his convivial tendencies as he is for his genius was recently asked by a friend:
"What does your wife think of these spells? I should think she would not submit to them."
"When I have a spree," confessed the intemperate one frankly, "she is just as good to me as any one possibly could be. She takes care of me and nurses me back to decency with a kindness that is superhuman—it is angelic and beyond belief.
"But once I am sober again she begins to nag me to promise her and swear to her that I never, never, never again will drink a drop, and she keeps at me so determinedly and so persistently that—by Jove—she makes me so desperate that I have to go and fill up again so I can forget it."

Her Name.

One needs patience to succeed as a teacher of the young, as this brief dialogue in one of our elementary schools may show:
Scholar—I've left home now, ma'am. I'm living with my auntie.
Teacher—What's her name?
"She's called after me—Fanny."
"Yes, but what's her other name?"
"She has no other."
"But what does the woman next door call her?"
"She doesn't speak to the woman next door."

A Hard Job.

"Didn't you say six months ago that if Miss Tipkins wouldn't marry you you would throw yourself into the deepest part of the sea? Now, Miss Tipkins married some one else three months ago and yet you haven't"—
"Oh, it's easy to talk, but let me tell you it is not such an easy matter to find the deepest part of the sea."



Substitutes.

Doctor—Have you given him the champagne and oysters, as I ordered? Patient's Wife—Well, no, sir, I couldn't afford that, so I got him some ginger beer and whelks instead. Do it matter, sir?—London Telegraph.

Reminders.

Counsel (to witness)—Now, allow me to remind you of what happened to Balaam. Witness—Certainly. But allow me to remind you that it was the ass that warned him.

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never come.—Lowell.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

How It Works Out.

"I never tell funny stories in my speeches," remarked Senator Sorghum.
"The audience always enjoys them."
"Yes. A man hears you tell a funny story, and he thinks it is so good he tries to remember it. He regards you as a first rate fellow and feels thankful to you for giving him a new one. Then he tells it to the first friend he meets, and as he isn't a good story teller the friend doesn't laugh. Then he tries it on the blase hotel clerk and the stolid drug store man and several others, and by the time he gets home he concludes you have passed him a gold brick. He not only refuses to vote for you, but tells all his friends he doesn't think it's dignified to keep in office a man who tells funny stories."—Washington Star.

Thought He Had Died.

A prominent member of a German-American society told a story about a German friend of his who was taken ill. For many days the German was close to death, but after a time he showed improvement in condition. The doctor told the German's wife that her husband might have anything to eat that he liked.
The German expressed a desire for limburger cheese, and the wife, being a generous woman and pleased at the improvement and in order that her husband might have a nibble at any time he had a taste for it, put some cheese in every room in the house. It is easy to imagine the aroma.
The next morning the doctor called at the house, and as soon as he opened the door he asked:
"When did he die?"—Hartford Post.

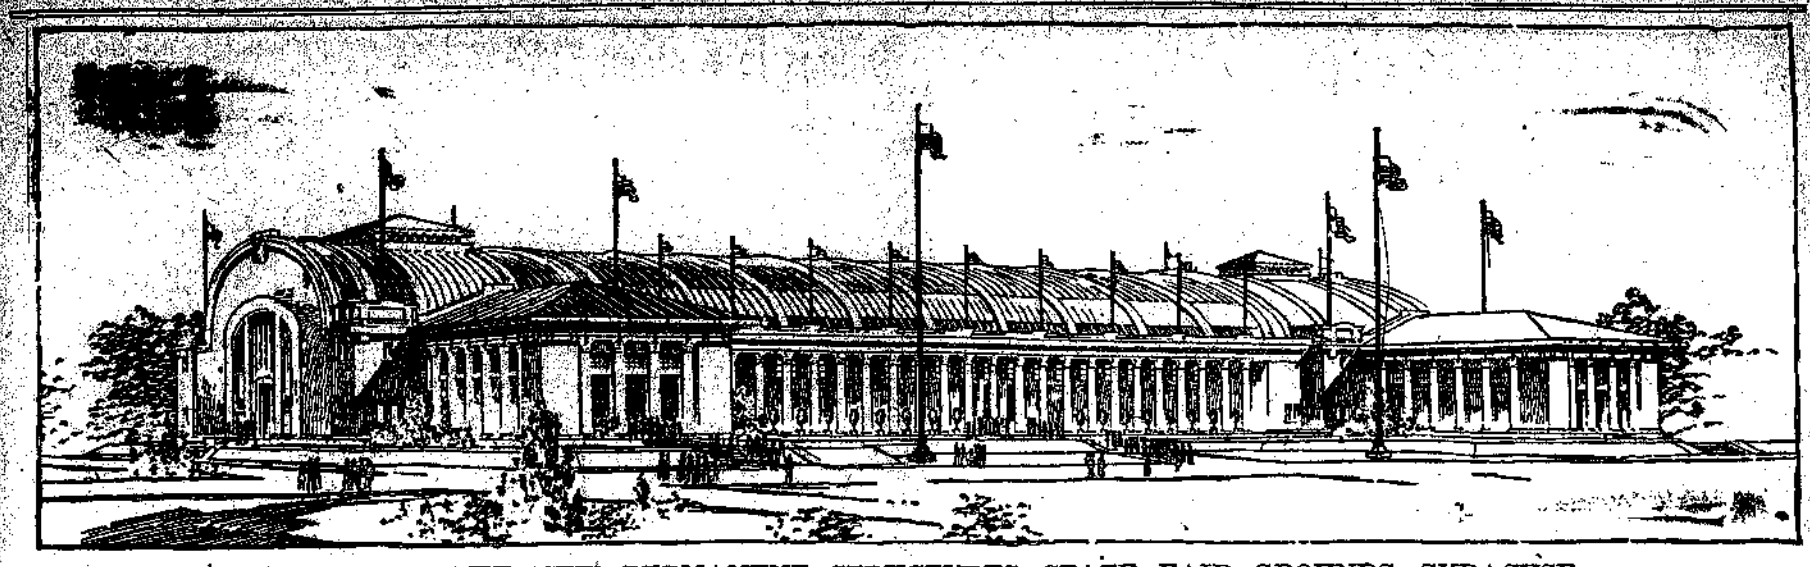
The Bachelors' Excuses.

At a wedding breakfast the bachelors were called upon to give their reasons for remaining single. The following were among the reasons given:
"I am like the frog in the fable who, though he loved the water, would not jump into the well because he could not jump out again."
"I am too selfish and honest enough to admit it."
"I prefer, on the one hand, liberty, refreshing sleep, the opera, midnight suppers, quiet seclusion, dreams, cigars, a bank account and club to, on the other hand, disturbed rest, cold meat, baby linen, soothing sirup, rocking horses, bread pudding and empty pockets."
"I have a twin brother, and we have never had a secret from one another. He is married."

Inquisitive.

"One half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives," observed the moralizer.
"How provoking!" exclaimed Mrs. Gossyp.—Lippincott's.

Mind no business but your own.—Dr. Johnson.



PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
C.A. SNOW & CO.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St., 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 5.10 P. M
" New York, West 42d St., 5.30 P. M
" New York, Desbrosses St., 6.00 P. M
Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. O. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND
5.48 a. m. ..... Train No. 335
8.10 a. m., Daily ..... " 337
11.51 a. m. ..... " 301
3.31 p. m., Daily ..... " 351
6.16 p. m. ..... " 303
10.10 p. m., Daily ..... " 315
SOUTH BOUND
8.04 a. m. ..... Train No. 302
9.39 a. m., Daily ..... " 318
2.14 p. m. ..... " 350
5.09 p. m., Daily ..... " 328
7.04 p. m. ..... " 342
9.34 p. m., Daily ..... " 336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND
*Chicago Limited for all points West ..a 3 47 AM
‡Express for Oswego ..... 11 00 "
‡Local for Oswego ..... 5 18 PM
§Local for Oswego ..... 6 45 "
‡Ontario Day Express for Oswego ..... 7 30 "
SOUTH BOUND
‡Express for Norwich ..... 8 20 AM
Syracuse Special ..... 8 53 "
*Local for Richfield Springs ..... 9 15 AM
*Limited for New York ..... 12 30 PM
‡Express for New York ..... 7 06 "
a Stops to leave New York Passengers.
§ Sunday only.
‡ Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 56 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAGE, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by [illegible] New York, pursuing to be the only permanent [illegible] Send for free booklet. Investigate it; only [illegible] if not well. We are prepared to [illegible]

FIRST OF THE NEW PERMANENT STRUCTURES, STATE FAIR GROUNDS, SYRACUSE.

Greatest Fair Building Belongs to Empire State.

Structure Which Marks Beginning of $2,000,000 of Improvements at State Exposition Grounds to Be Opened In September — What New York Is Doing Toward Equipment of Its Fair.

As the Empire State leads in many things, so is it to lead over other states of the Union in the equipment of exposition grounds. First in population and agriculture, New York is beginning to awake to a realization that it should enjoy the distinction of promoting the greatest fair. In asserting its rights in that direction New York has begun to develop a $2,000,000 ground plan with brick and concrete buildings arranged harmoniously and to meet the demands of all classes of exhibitors and containing striking landscape features.

When New York decided to have the greatest state fair it took a double hitch and started with long strides. This fact will be appreciated by the thousands who attend the sixty-eighth annual exposition to be held during the week of Sept. 14-19, for looming up magnificently within a hundred feet of the main entrance to the grounds is the new Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts building, pronounced the greatest structure of its kind in the world.

The fact that it contains more ground space than Madison Square Garden gives an idea of its size. Built over a network of steel girders, it is free from pillars, and, well lighted by skylights extending its entire length of 500 feet, it offers the greatest opportunities for exhibitors. It was not a bad investment New York state made when it appropriated money for this building, for every square foot of floor space will be in use. In fact, there have been heavy demands for space in the new building ever since a map of the floor space was made public, and the revenue will represent a very satisfactory income on the investment. If it appears that the state is to receive big returns on the investment in the "greater fair," legislators will probably favor having the development of the grounds on a permanent scale carried along with a rush.

The Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts building will furnish one of the points of interest for the thousands who visit this year's fair. The people of every county have heard of the movement for grounds in keeping with the agricultural and other interests of the state. It has become generally known that Governor Hughes would not favor an appropriation for the first work until a comprehensive scheme for adding, piece by piece, to the permanent construction as the state could afford the money had been adopted by the legislature, and now there is naturally an interest in learning how the start was made.

That this year's fair will furnish a new record for attendance there can be no doubt. It unquestionably would had there been nothing in the way of new construction to attract the people, for the fair has been growing at a tremendous pace for the last four years. In fact, it has been the attendance in recent years and the turning back into the state treasury of surplus receipts that satisfied the governor and the legislators that the erection of suitable buildings should not be longer delayed. So, assured of an enormous attendance of people curious to know how the greater fair movement is working out, the commission was anxious to have the first building in presentable shape.

The new building, an impressive structure, with its artistic effects and suitable in every way for the needs for which it was built, is the largest single structure called for in the state plan. It really represents the foundation for the work which it is hoped will give New York the finest and most complete grounds used annually for exposition purposes.

The estimates of the architects for all of the structures aggregate about $1,600,000, but the entire work of beautifying the grounds will mean expenditures of close to $2,000,000. The new building will look out over a broad plaza which will hold about 60,000 people and which when completed will be closed to all but pedestrians. From this building will extend to the southwest a peristyle with an open air theater, flanked at the east with a building for state institutions and at the west a hall for an exhibit of domestic arts.

In the semicircle to the west of the peristyle will be buildings devoted to fine arts, horticulture and the women's buildings. At the west will be the main entrance to the fair, an ornate structure reached directly from the boulevard which leads to Syracuse. A restaurant and the express, telephone and telegraph buildings will adjoin the main entrance. At the west of this plaza will be the dairy and poultry buildings, connected with colonnades, and, adjoining the east to the south, the Administration building. To the west of the dairy and poultry buildings will be seven large live stock pavilions and still beyond space for the exhibit of farm implements and a model farm. Adjoining the live stock pavilions will be a large judging ring for the judging of all live stock, cattle, sheep, swine and horses. This judging ring, including 10,000 square feet of sheds, will be 180 by 350 feet. When these improvements to the grounds are made the present mile track will be relocated at the extreme western section of the grounds, with a half mile track within and a horse show ring within that. This will necessitate the removal of the present $50,000 grand stand.

The architects' plans also provide for an expenditure, when the building shall be completed, of $175,000 in grading and beautifying the grounds, which include the planting of trees and shrubbery and the building of small lakes and canals. New walks and roadways will mean an added expense of $50,000.

All of these improvements will, of course, require time, just how long it remains for the people of New York state to say. It is a question of their appreciating the value of the fair in advancing the agricultural and commercial interests of the state. The support the fair has been receiving and the success now promised would make it appear that a few years hence will see the complete transformation of the ground as planned.

CHANCE FOR FARMERS.

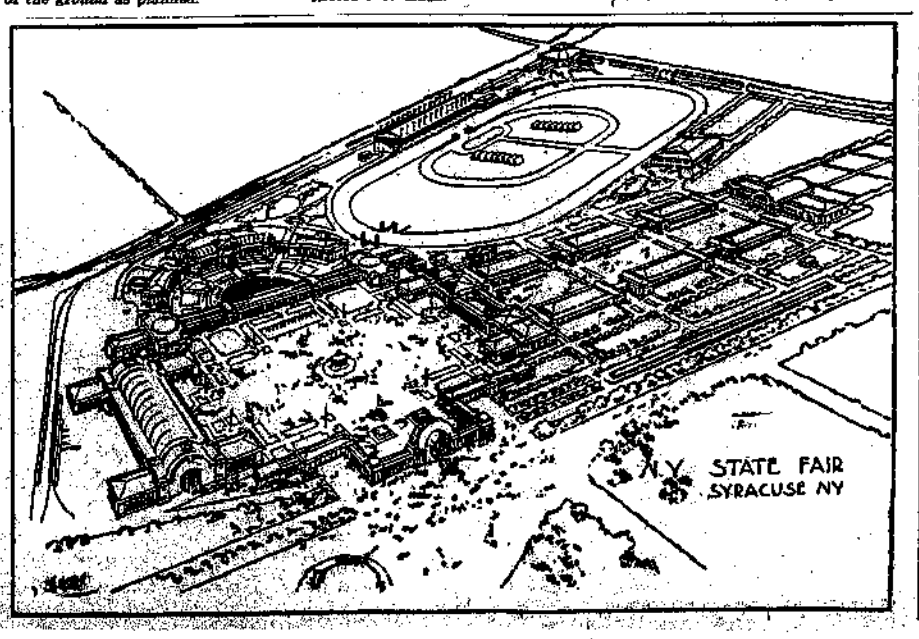
State Fair Will Show Them New Horse Market.

A large percentage of the farmers of New York state engage to some extent in horse breeding, but nearly all seem to have overlooked one market where good prices can be obtained for a type of saddle horse. It is the New York police department, which buys a good many horses every year for its force of mounted men and pays good prices for them too.

Acting upon the suggestion of Major C. A. Benton, who, purely from personal interest in the success of Commissioner of Public Safety Bingham, has selected the horses for the mounted police, officers of the state fair horse show have decided to offer prizes for horses suitable to become police horses or military chargers. It is expected that Major Benton will judge this class.

Mayor McClellan of New York has decided to send a squad of twenty-five picked men from the mounted force to the fair. They will give exhibitions of horsemanship, and as they are the equal of the finest cavalry officers of any army in the world it is bound to be a highly interesting feature. It should furnish a great object lesson for the farmers of the state and one which will be to their benefit, as the police horses bring an average of $310 apiece, which is a good price for that class of horse.

A NOVEL RACE.



Four-in-hand Teams Drawing Coaches Will Race on Mile Track.

Talk of the speed that a four-in-hand team of trotting bred horses recently bought by a New York man can show has led Samuel Walter Taylor, superintendent of the horse show feature of the state fair, to offer a prize of $600 for a race for four-in-hands on the mile track at Syracuse on Tuesday of the fair. There has been a good deal of talk about the speed of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's famous grays and various other teams, but nobody has yet put four horses before a coach on the track and driven them a mile on the trot under the watch with judges and timers in the stand.

Under the rules of the novel race planned by Mr. Taylor the teams must go to coaches and trot all the way, or if one or more horses break into a run the coachman on the box must comply with the trotting rules by pulling them back until all four are again going the prescribed gait. Three entries have been received, and the race should be a notable feature of the state fair show.

Cheese Weighing a Ton.

One of the attractions in the Dairy building at the state fair will be a single cheese weighing more than a ton. This will be made by Horace Rees, the veteran state cheese instructor at Lowville. The cheese will require about 20,000 pounds of milk, or the product of one day from about 1,200 cows. It will be the largest cheese ever made.

THE NORTHERN MARDI GRAS.

Syracuse Making Great Preparations For Her Karnival.

Syracuse appears to be bubbling over with enthusiasm over the prospects of having the greatest karnival—it is always spelled with a "k" in Syracuse—ever held anywhere. It really appears as though the city had gone karnival krazy. No man, woman or child is contented unless helping along the work of the annual festival, which is called Ka-Noo-No karnival. Nearly every one you meet expects to ride on a float or a horse or take some part in the great spectacle.

By way of explanation it might be well to tell just what the Indian festival is. Three years ago Syracuse business men, taking their cues from the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, decided to have a similar event every year in connection with the New York state fair. Those were the days when it was charged that Syracuse did nothing for the state fair and there was danger that it would be moved to some other location.

The desire to help draw the crowds to the fair resulted in the organization of that unique and strange body of active young business and professional men known as the Mystique Krewe of Ka-Noo-No, the main purpose of which is to conduct annually the karnival.

Syracuse, located in the center of the renowned Iroquois federation, was fortunate in having good material to work up into karnival form. Every year there has been plenty of the Indian feature intermingled with the other ideas, and that will be the case again this year.

The Mystique Krewe, like its prototype, the Iroquois federation, is divided into five tribes, the Onondagas, Cayugas, Oneidas, Senecas and Mohawks, each having its chief.

The karnival consists of five nights of parades and spectacles. The central parade will come Wednesday night this year, although on every night there will be float parades and spectacles, any one of which it is well worth traveling hundreds of miles to see.

The festivities begin Monday night with a water karnival in the Erie canal and a great spectacle of dancing girls in Clinton square. Hundreds of gayly decorated canoes, rowboats and motor boats will be seen, and a silver cup will go to the owner of the best decorated boat. In the spectacle will be 500 young ladies, all in costume, 150 of whom will be members of the Turn Verein.

On Tuesday will occur the commercial float parade. Here will be seen 100 floats, each drawn by four or eight horses, symbolizing the various industries of the country.

On Wednesday night the "Historic Legends of the Hudson" will be represented by historical floats. The famous Washington Irving tales of the Catskills will be shown by the artist's skill. Each float will be preceded by a full band, and the entire line of march will be illuminated with red fire. Each float is drawn by four horses, elaborately and led by a groom. On the floats will be prominent Syracuse business men and society ladies, who deem it a great honor to have a position on the float.

The king and queen will be crowned on Monday night and will appear in the Tuesday and Wednesday night parades. It might be mentioned in passing that the king is elected by popular vote of the members of the krewe. The name of the man elected is kept secret until the last minute, but the newspapers every year have succeeded in finding out who the lucky individual was and announcing the fact to the public before it was even known to the krewe members. The kings of the past years have been: 1905, D. M. Edwards, dry goods merchant; 1906, Donald Dey, dry goods merchant; 1907, Giles H. Stilwell, automobile manufacturer and lawyer.

The kings have always had the privilege of choosing their own queens, and the queens have been as follows: 1905, Mary Elizabeth Evans; 1906, Beulah Chase Dodge; 1907, Miss Reba Hitchcock.

A new parade will be put on this year, the fraternal float parade. The various organizations of the city, secret and nonsecret, will have floats in line. Over fifty labor unions will turn out a float representing their crafts. There will be floats of the Anglers, Elks, Turn Verein, various secret societies and a number of women's organizations.

Friday night the brilliant floral parade will be held, and 10,000 school children will march through the streets bearing garlands of flowers. Thirty schools will have floats brilliantly lighted with electricity.

Last year the governor witnessed one of the parades and was greatly impressed with its grandeur. He will attend the state fair again this year and will see the pageants.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY.

Fair Will Have Exhibit In Keeping With State's Position.

When State Commissioner of Agriculture Raymond A. Pearson was named to take charge of the dairy department of the state fair he considered that the dairy industry of the state leads that of all other states and represents an output of $60,000,000 annually. He decided, therefore, that the dairy industry department of the state's exposition should be worthy of the great interests represented.

Commissioner Pearson's first act was to secure a substantial increase in the appropriation for the department to permit of opening new classes, and the prize list, just announced, promises many innovations. The classes are so arranged that every person who can do dairy work of some kind will have a fair chance to win a valuable prize, and every person who wants to learn some of the newest and best ideas in dairy industry can easily do so.

There are many new features, including a demonstration and contest in buttermaking, exhibits of market milk and cream, short essays on timely topics, dairy photographs and dairy building plans. A liberal number of gold and silver medals will be awarded, besides the cash premiums. Good exhibits of dairy machinery and supplies are promised. Commissioner Pearson says milking machines will be in operation daily, and other attractions will be included. Competent persons will be in attendance to give instructions when requested. Entries in the dairy department close on Sept. 5.

Concerts by Famous Band.

There has been no more popular form of entertainment in the larger cities of the country this summer than that furnished by band concerts. In public parks and at pleasure resorts the band concert has met with favor. In fact, so unmistakable has been the public desire for good music that municipalities have appropriated funds for free band concerts as they have for running departments of the government.

Visitors to the state fair this year will have an opportunity of hearing Conway's famous band, an internationally known organization. It has been touring the country, delighting the music lovers of the larger cities, and is expected to provide one of the very enjoyable features of the fair. Patrick Conway ranks with the celebrated leaders. He is a good example of the leader full of amiable, twinkling humor, of a comprehensive taste in music and always willing to please.

STARS OF THE TURF TO RACE AT FAIR.

Every Stable of Prominence Entered in Grand Circuit Stakes.

At no other trotting course in America, not excepting Lexington, Columbus or Boston, will the racing this year compare with that at the grand circuit meeting to be held in connection with the New York state fair during the week of Sept. 14-19. That at least is the opinion of veterans of the turf who have studied the nominations for the early closing state fair stakes, the prize money for which amounts to $20,000.

Every stable of prominence in the country is represented, which means that the state fair track, pronounced as perfect a racing course as there is in the world, will be the meeting place for trials of speed between the stars of the light harness horse kingdom. There is a total of 117 paid up nominations for the five races, a greater number than was ever secured for the same number of events. It means that the campaigners are headed for the fair, that they propose to enter in the class races and that the state fair, with its fast course and its facilities unsurpassed for accommodating large crowds and taking care of the horsemen, will have by long odds the banner meeting of the year.

Thirty-five trotters are eligible to start in the Empire State stake, one of the classics of the grand circuit, the prize money for which amounts to $10,000. No further entrance money is required from the owners of these horses.

The state fair course has come to be regarded as the most important link in the chain of grand circuit tracks which, beginning at Detroit, touches the principal race centers in New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut and after returning to the west winds up at Lexington. The mile track owned by New York represents the heaviest abutment in the foundation of the grand circuit. Backed by a state treasury and supported annually by 150,000 people, it is beyond the effect of any temporary financial depression, and it will be supported by the horse owner regardless of the effect in other places of the passage of antibetting bills.

The entries include horses from the stables of Edward F. Geers, Memphis, Tenn., greatest of race drivers; Edward Benyon, Selma, Ala.; George H. Estabrook, Denver, Colo.; W. G. Durfee, Los Angeles, Cal.; P. W. Hodges, Pleasanton, Cal.; Uplands stock farm, Greensburg, Pa.; James M. Massey, Chatham, Ont.; J. L. Druien, Bardstown, Ky.; R. R. Williams, Boston, Mass.; Bob Davis, Columbia, S. C.; W. L. Snow, Hornell, N. Y.; A. P. McDonald, Albany, N. Y.; J. M. Kilmer, Binghamton, N. Y.; H. M. Whitmer, Omaha, Neb.; C. W. Lasell, Whitinsville, Mass.; B. A. Bukley, Southport, Conn.; Cobb Bros., Wellsville, and a score of others who have been known for years wherever light harness horse racing has flourished.

When it is considered that a field of fifteen horses is ordinarily regarded as large, it is possible to appreciate what a rare quality of sport is promised by the thirty-five nominated in the $10,000 race. Of course all of these horses will not be started, as some may be thrown out of training or so outclassed that it would be foolhardy to race them against the stars of the circuit, but Race Secretary H. S. Nealley is out with the prediction that more horses will score for the word in this race than ever started together at a grand circuit or at any other meeting. The race is for trotters which were eligible on May 1 to the 2:14 class.

The Syracuse, open for pacers eligible to the 2:11 class, for a purse of $5,000, has thirty-four possible starters. Of the thirty-eight original nominations but four were withdrawn. The are eighteen eligible to the Chamber of Commerce, for $2,000. This is open for 2:09 trotters.

There are thirteen pacers which before the opening of the present racing season had records better than 2:07 eligible to the Onondaga, which is for $2,000. There are seventeen eligible to the Ka-Noo-No, for $1,000, open for three-year-old trotters which have not secured marks better than 2:25. This horsemen say, will prove one of the greatest colt races of the year. Of the 124 original nominations for the five stakes but seventeen were withdrawn.

GAS COKE

....Special Summer Prices....

Until September 1st, 1908

Furnace Coke, at Yard, bushel, 9c
" " Delivered, " 10c
Stove Coke, at Yard, bushel, 10c
" " Delivered, " 11c

All orders must be left at Gas Office, Opposite Clark House

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Phone 198

NOTICE OF COMPLETION OF ASSESSMENT.

Notice is hereby given that the Assessors of the Town of Volney have completed their Assessment Roll for the present year, and that a copy thereof is left with Wm. H. Owen, where the same may be seen and examined by any person interested therein, until the 18th of August and that the said Assessors will meet at Town Hall in said Town of Volney on the said 18th of August at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to hear and examine all complaints in relation to such assessments, and to review their assessments on the application of any person conceiving himself aggrieved.

Dated, Volney, the 3rd day of August, 1908.

WM. H. OWEN,
Z. B. AUSTIN,
GEO. A. PARKER,
Assessors.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children, it is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Its laxative principle drives the cold from the system by a gentle, natural, yet copious action of the bowels. Sold by all druggists.

The Real Version.

Napoleon sat inadvertently upon a smoking cannon and scorched the seat of his white trousers.

"I cannot turn back now," he muttered to an aid as he hastily dismounted. "I have burned my britches behind me!"

This historic expression has been grossly corrupted by later writers.—Pathfinder.

Diverting Attention.

"So you favor the suit of that foreigner?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I think I should rather like to have a man in the family whose English mother and the girls can criticise instead of mine."—Washington Star.

Another Authority.

Mr. Howe—I suppose you have studied all the authorities on social and economic questions? Mr. Wise—Not quite all. My daughter's graduation essay is not out yet.—Life.

Slow, but Not Sure.

"Your daughter is not engaged to young Johnsod yet, then? I suppose it is a case of slow and sure?"

"Well, yes—he is slow, and she is not at all sure!"

I have often wondered how every man loves himself more than all the rest of men.—Antonius.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. ss16

GIRON, 24065

[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of August and September at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street Fulton

VOLNEY CENTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sikes were guests of Friendly Ives and family Sunday.

Edward Tice and family and William Gilbert and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carvey in Granby.

Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts and son Dudley from Syracuse have been the guests of Mrs. Anna Fredenburg for the past two weeks.

Miss Lizzie Garrison returned home last week from a four weeks visit in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Palmer spent last week here visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Dingman have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. A. W. Simons, for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Fred Moore will entertain the L. A. S. this Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard of Mt. Pleasant were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lock wood.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Nothing else is just as good. Insist on DeWitt's. It is cleansing, cooling and soothing. Sold by all druggists.

MT. PLEASANT.

(Continued from Page 3)

Last Saturday the Up-to-date Club defeated the South Scriba nine, at the latter place by a score of 18 to 9. The features of the game were a home-run by Verner Calkins, and Pitcher Sheldon had his opponents at his mercy at all stages of the game.

The Up-to-dates will cross bats with the S. S. S. of Mount Pleasant, on the picnic grounds at Eckard's grove, on Thursday, Aug. 6. Fans predict that this will be the most exciting game of the season.

Manager Osborne of the Up-to-dates is meeting with pronounced success. He drops the "culls" and holds the best players.

Does your back ache? Do you have sharp pains in the side and small of the back? This is due, usually, to kidney trouble. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They will promptly relieve weak back, backache, rheumatic pains and all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by all druggists.

PALERMO.

The funeral of Mrs. Murphy, an old resident of the town who died Friday was held Monday at the Catholic church at Colosse, where interment was made.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Feckelstaller of Fulton attended the funeral of Mr. James Atkinson, Saturday.

Mrs. Belle Wheaton and Mrs. Frank Parsons visited friends at Fernwood recently.

Mrs. Mary Vincent spent the past month with friends at Syracuse.

Mrs. Maud Ridgeway visited friends at Fulton Thursday.

Mrs. George Butcher is entertaining her sister for several weeks at the home of her son, Charles Butcher.

The Palermo and Morse Birthday clubs held a picnic in Arthur Loomis grove Thursday which was largely attended by friends of both clubs.

The Fluffy Ruffle Cigar at 5c is Not a Teaser. It's a Good, Full Smoke. For sale by Victor C. Lewis.

Cured the Dryness.

Mother—How did papa's new book get in this condition? Bobby—Why, mamma, I heard papa say last night that the book was too dry for him. So I put it in the bathtub and let the water run.

French Economy.

"A man doesn't have to go to Paris to learn something about the economy of French cooks," said a janitor. "All he has to do is to get a job like mine in a house occupied mostly by French families, and he'll learn some astonishing lessons in the art of saving. Up to two months ago I was working in a building of that kind. So far as attending to the garbage was concerned, I had the easiest time of my life. There was practically no garbage. The people lived well enough, I guess. Anyhow they received packages from the butcher and grocer, but they never seemed to throw anything away. About the only thing they didn't eat was coffee grounds and potato skins and tomato cans, and there was precious little waste of even that.

"Where I am working now the families are all American. That is where the food goes to waste. The people in that house throw away enough provisions every day to feed all those French families a week."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Summer complaints and other serious ailments common in hot weather can be traced to the stomach nine times out of ten. Keep the stomach in good order right now by keeping a bottle of Kodol handy in the house all the time, but especially during this month. Take Kodol whenever you feel that you need it. That is the only time you need take Kodol. Just when you need it; then you will not be troubled with your stomach, belching, gas on the stomach, bloating, dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold by all druggists.

Made the Judge Perspire.

Sir John Charles Day, the English judge who earned the title of the "hooligan's terror," died at the age of eighty-two. In the nineteen years Sir John was a judge of the high court—from 1882 to 1901—he was noted for his gift of solemn humor and for his drastic flogging sentences. In fourteen years he sentenced 137 criminals to 3,766 strokes of the cat. Once he said to a gang of Liverpool ruffians: "I am not going to give you men long terms of imprisonment, but when you go in you get twenty lashes of the cat; when you have been in nine months you get twenty lashes of the cat; before you come out you get twenty lashes of the cat. And then you can show what you have got to your friends." He was perhaps the only English judge who ever did "hard labor." While on a visit to a prison he tried the treadmill, but when he asked to be set free the guard pretended not to hear his request. The judge was perspiring freely by the time he was permitted to abandon his experiment.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

Eggs Barred.

One evening a solid looking citizen, carrying a basket, bought a ticket and started to enter the opera house in a Long Island town. Just as he was going in the cover of the basket unaccountably slipped off, revealing two dozen eggs.

"Hey!" said the ticket taker. "This isn't Easter. Where you going with them eggs?"

"None o' y'r business! Here's my ticket, all paid for an' reg'lr," declared the citizen.

"Well, there don't any eggs go inside while I'm here," said the ticket taker, and then the other saw the reason his burden was suspected and roared with laughter.

He left the eggs in charge of the man at the box office and entered, and he enjoyed every moment of the show. When it was over, the manager returned the eggs to him and said:

"I was afraid you might put your foot into the basket while you were applauding."

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

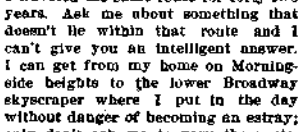
Gray and the Elegy.

Thomas Gray kept the elegy by him for nine years before he gave it to the world. He polished away at it all those years as a lapidary polishes a gem, and the result was he made it a gem. In his whole life he wrote comparatively little, and when asked why he had written so little he replied, "Because of the exertion it costs in the labor of composition."

Doings In Gotham

The Educational Vacation—An Unclerical Prelate — Made Her Homesick — A Bid For Fame.

(From Our New York Correspondent.)



RECENTLY I asked an acquaintance, a middle aged man who holds a very responsible position in a downtown financial institution, how he had planned to spend his vacation.

"It's going to be educational this year," he replied. "I've come to the conclusion that it's about time for me to learn something about this big, old town."

"But you are a native," I suggested.

"That's my only possible excuse for being so everlastingly ignorant," he declared, with feeling. "No native New Yorker knows anything outside of his beaten track. As boy and man I traveled the same route for forty-two years. Ask me about something that doesn't lie within that route and I can't give you an intelligent answer. I can get from my home on Morningside heights to the lower Broadway skyscraper where I put in the day without danger of becoming an estray; only don't ask me to vary the route. I have a certain familiarity with the theater district as it looks by artificial light. It's possible that I might find the Metropolitan Museum of Art. I've never tried it. I've read and heard of Chinatown, the University of New York and the Russian cathedral, but I've never seen them. I'm dimly conscious that the city is full of things worth seeing, but don't ask me to make a list of them."

"But you've been abroad several times," I reminded him.

"That's just it; that's where the absurdity comes in," he insisted. "I know my London and my Paris a good deal better than I do my New York. No, sir; I don't know a thing about little old New York, and I never saw a native who did. It's the people who come from Oklahoma and similar regions that actually know something about the city. They spend a week in the rubberneck wagons and boats, and when it is over they are betterposted on New York than any native who ever opened his eyes on Manhattan Island."

This frank avowal reminded me of my experience in locating the big institution of learning on University heights. Failing in my early endeavors to find it, I resolved to ignore the guidebook and to keep on inquiring until I met some one who could tell me how to get to the Hall of Fame, which is the premier feature of the university. After a period of eight months, during which I had propounded the query to more than fifty persons in all walks of life without definite result, I made the discovery myself by accident.

Dr. David H. Greer, who has been bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of New York for the past five years and will now become the regular diocesan in succession to the late Dr. Potter, is probably the most unclerical looking minister in America. The last time I saw him he had been officiating at a confirmation service in a fashionable uptown church. An ultra smart coupe, driven by a man in Mulberry livery, awaited him at the vestry entrance. First to appear was a sleek negro manservant, bearing a trim suit case, in which were the prelate's vestments. This he deposited carefully in the coupe, and then the bishop coadjutor issued from the vestry door, was assisted into the coupe by the obsequious colored man and whisked down the avenue. The twentieth century, up to date ecclesiastic was attired in churchgoing apparel of the most proper cut and finish—Prince Albert coat, gray trousers, a fancy waistcoat, high hat, and—would you believe it—a red four-in-hand tie!

"Imagine one of the twelve apostles in that garb!" ejaculated an irreverent bystander who was keeping me company on the pavement.

"According to the old masters, the apostles did not affect the shad belly vest, shovel hat and Roman collar," I ventured in defense of the "correctly" attired bishop coadjutor.

The critic moved off with a shocked look on his face, and I didn't wonder at it after I had thought it all over. If I knew his address, I'd send an apology.

In spite of his unclerical appearance, however, this same bishop coadjutor is undoubtedly the real thing. The splendid work which he accomplished during his rectorship at rich St. Bartholomew's is proof sufficient of that. The foundation which was established and maintained as the result of his effort is one of the foremost of New York's living, working charities, and his was the hand that raised it, and his was the persuasive tongue that made it possible. Since his elevation to the episcopate he has never for a moment relaxed in his determination to be ranked among the "working bishops." In his sixty-fifth year he has not yet begun to spare himself. He is probably the hardest worked prelate in the American Episcopal church. Accessible to everybody at all times, he is ready to hear and to advise and to assist in any way that seems to be indicated. All things considered, this "bishop of the New York Central," as some one dubbed him at the time of his elevation, has proved himself to be of apostolic caliber. During his last year at St. Bartholomew's he gave his entire salary, $15,000, to the parish mission. When one of his wardens, fearing that he had beggared himself, remonstrated, the generous rector declared that he had begun to realize that he was being pampered and that he had enough left out of the last year's salary to carry him through.

From time immemorial the editorial humorists of the metropolitan press have had their merry fling at the mosquito. For some reason unknown to science this most unwelcome of visitors has never become domesticated on Manhattan Island. Although its chosen habitat, the Jersey meadows, lies within sight of the big downtown skyscrapers and in spite of the fact that Long Island and the upper Harlem district are so near at hand, the pest has shown little inclination to cultivate a close acquaintance with the composite population of Manhattan proper. Last summer the "pestiferous American gnat," as it was termed by the London newspapers, appeared in great numbers in Hyde park and even in the Paris bois, a visitation which was as welcome to our paragraphers as were the heaven sent plagues to the abused Israelites in Egypt.

No more! Recently a myriad host, lances sharpened and martial music at more than concert pitch, proved that aerial navigation has actually arrived by crossing the Hudson at nightfall and descending on the too confident Manhattanese with a concentration of purpose that converted many a once jolly household into a house of mourning. The invaders have remained ever since, but the invaded have not. Every one who could has fled to more peaceful regions. The other night at the band concert given for the students of the summer school on the Columbia campus I sat next to an unusually attractive young woman. While the musicians were doing a Henselt love song in their most dulcet pianissimo my pretty neighbor came down with a vigorous whack on her forearm.

"Pardon me, please," she whispered.

"They are very bad tonight," I ventured gallantly.

"Oh, I don't care for a little thing like a mosquito bite," she protested. Then she added pathetically: "It's because it makes me homesick. I'm from South Carolina."

A few moments later I perceived that she had raised her handkerchief to her eyes. The band was playing "Dixie."

Now and then a scion of one of the old Knickerbocker families does something to rescue the family name from the oblivion to which long years of social pre-eminence have consigned it. The most recent novelty of this order has been contributed by a young member of the Four Hundred who sent a letter to his mother threatening to do her bodily harm unless she sent him $5,000 by return mail. Instead of appreciating the young man's delicacy in employing the mail when it would have been quite as easy, perhaps easier, to make the request in person, an unfeeling magistrate committed him to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital for observation. Thus far the only excuse which the young hopeful has offered is that it seemed to be the only way to attract his mother's attention, which was monopolized by bridge.

STUYVESANT BROWN.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE.—One Palace Queen hot air furnace, very large size and in good condition. Also small hot water furnace suitable for small house. This heater is almost new and in perfect condition. Above furnace will be sold very cheap to make room for a large sized boiler. M. S. Powell, 312 Rochester St.

FOR SALE—A steam heating plant, Pierce, Butler & Pierce make; also a hot air furnace, Richardson-Boynton make. No reasonable offer refused. Inquire of James Bogue, Oneida street. 8-5

For Sale—Split bamboo fly rod, automatic reel, collapsable landing net, 6 or 8 dozen flies, never used; also leaders, lines, etc., made by Abbey and Imbrie, New York. All the above for less than half cost. Inquire at 161 S. Second St, ff

TO RENT

To Rent—A suit of six living rooms to rent at reasonable price. Inquire at Langdon's Studio, 61 First street, Fulton.

Wanted

Wanted—Several second hand bicycles without tires. Good makes. Inquire of James Bogue, Oneida street. 7-15

Sewing Wanted

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought Always Waning.

A Frenchman who apparently has a good deal of time on his hands has been amusing himself by reckoning up the number of kisses he has given his wife during the first twenty years of his married life.

He finds that in the first year he dispensed about 100 kisses a day, or, say, allowing for birthdays and legal and church holidays, about 36,700 in the year.

In the second year this number was reduced by half and in the third year to ten a day, while in the fifth year his better half had to be content with two a day, one in the morning and one in the evening.

What happened in the fifth year is "wrapped in mystery," but at the same rate of "progression" he probably arrived eventually at one kiss on the first of January every leap year.

The little attacks of stomach trouble and stomach disorders will undoubtedly lead to chronic dyspepsia unless you take something for a sufficient time to strengthen the stomach and give it a chance to get well. If you take Kodol in the beginning the bad attacks of Dyspepsia will be avoided, but if you allow these little attacks to go unheeded it will take Kodol a little longer time to put your stomach in good condition again. Get a bottle of Kodol today. Sold by all druggists.

Clearing It Up.

"To which is a man more closely related," said the genealogist, "his first divorced wife's second husband or his present wife's first divorced husband?"

"So far as I can see, one tie is about as close as the other," said a thoughtful friend.

"So I should say," said the genealogist, "but Billy Bowen must have figured out a difference. Anyhow, when his first wife's second husband died Billy went to a ball game, but when his present wife's first husband died he went into mourning. I can't understand that."

"I can," said the thoughtful friend. "Billy's present wife was on the point of divorcing him so she could remarry her first husband. Now that he is dead she has decided to stick to Billy."

"Ah!" said the genealogist.—New York Press.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Bees and Their Baskets.

Every bee carries his market basket around his hind legs. Any one examining the body of a bee through a microscope will observe that on the hind legs of the creature there is a fringe of stiff hairs on the surface, the hairs approaching each other at the tips, so as to form a sort of cage. This is the bee's basket, and into it, after a successful journey, he will cram enough pollen to last him for two or three days.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 12, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 14

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

(Opposite the Red Engine House)

is the only Savings Bank in Fulton, N.Y.

Assets July 1, 1908, over

A Million and a Half Dollars

Market Value Surplus over

One Hundred Thousand Dollars

This Bank Has Paid 4 Per Cent. on All Deposits since October 1, 1907

New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

STATE CONVENTION FIREMEN.

Oswego is putting forth great effort toward making the annual meet of the State Firemen's Convention in that city, Aug. 18 to 21, inclusive, a happy and successful event. Judging by the number of acceptances received thousands will be in line and the parade will be mo t imposing.

The following program has been arranged:

Tuesday Morning.

Opening ceremonies of Convention at Richardson Theatre with addresses by Mayor John K. Smith, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Speaker of the Assembly, Hon. Edwin A. Merritt of St. Lawrence County and Francis E. Cullen. Band concerts at night.

Wednesday Afternoon.

The visiting delegates will be entertained at historic Fort Ontario and the festivities will include an inspection of the new Battalion Post; a concert by the Twenty-fourth Regiment Band; an exhibition drill by the Life Savings Crew; dress parade by famous colored battalion; vaudeville attractions and a luncheon.

Wednesday Evening.

The delegates and Ladies' Auxiliary will be entertained at the Richardson Theatre with a high class vaudeville show. Band concerts in Parks.

Thursday Morning.

10 a. m.—Exhibition drill in river by the Life Saving Crew. Inspection of gunboat Sandoval.

Thursday Afternoon.

Governor Charles E. Hughes and John S. Whalen, Secretary of State, will deliver addresses at special exercises at Fort Ontario. The Hon. Charles N. Bulger will preside. Prize drills and hose race contests in the old Fort.

Friday.

Reception of visiting firemen in the forenoon and grand parade in the afternoon at two o'clock. The Second Battalion, Twenty-fourth Regiment, U. S. A., will participate and also the Naval Reserves of Rochester. Band concerts in the evening.

Reduced rates are being offered on all railroads and many will take advantage of them to visit friends in this vicinity, the event taking the form of an Old Home Week for Oswego and vicinity.

Gov. Hughes to Visit Oswego.

Gov. Hughes has accepted an invitation to visit Oswego next week during the State Firemen's convention, and to address the assemblage. While in Oswego, on Aug. 21, he will be the guest of Mr. L. W. Mott, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and a close personal friend.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

The three cornered contest between Hon. C. L. Knapp, of Lewis county; Hon. I. N. Hunt of Jefferson county and Judge M. S. Stowell of Oswego county for the Republican nomination for Congressman, is a contest unparalelled in the history of this congressional district. The Congressional Committee composed of Messrs. P. W. Cullinan, chairman; W. B. Van Allen, secretary; T. M. Costello, H. A. Phillips, A. L. Clark, F. S. Clark, F. S. Kenyon, will meet in the Hotel Redstone, Oswego, this Wednesday morning to decide upon a temporary organization Chairman Cullinan is in New York city, but Hon. F. G. Whitney holds his proxy. Oswego county has no candidate for chairman of the convention and that honor will probably go to either Judge Turner of Lewis county or General Winslow of Jefferson county.

The nomination speeches will be made by Hon. Virgil Kellogg for Mr. Hunt; Judge Turner for Mr. Knapp and Hon. F. G. Whitney for Judge Stowell.

Owing to the absence of Messrs. Mott, Stowell and Cullinan it is probable that the convention will meet at 2 o'clock, organize, perfect a roll call and adjourn until Thursday. It is safe to predict that the sessions will be prolonged on account of the number of candidates and the number of questions to be debated. It is far from safe to predict, however, who will become the nominee of the convention at this time as it promises to be a matter of many ballots before a decision is reached.

Hold your dollars but spend your dimes for Union Eagle Cigars at the Victor C. Lewis store.

PATHFINDER ISLAND.

Menu for Friday, Aug. 14, 1908.

Roast Lamb
Whole Boiled Potatoes in Cream
Yellow Sweet Corn
French Tomato Salad Hot Rolls
Pumpkin Pie
Fried Cakes Milk Coffee

Ball game called at 4 p. m.
Married men vs. single men.
Supper at 6 o'clock.
The carryall will make trips in the usual hours.

Photo Supplies, Eastman make, the most reliable kind, full stock, at Lasher's Book Store.

WEST SIDE POSTAL STATION

Department at Washington Instructs Postmaster Hughes to Obtain Lease of Quarters on Terms of Present Contract.

It will be gratifying to the residents of the west side to learn that the post office department at Washington has practically consented to retain the postal station where it is now located, and that there need be no further uneasiness on that score.

Postmaster Hughes has received a communication from the department, instructing him to secure from the lessor of the quarters (Mr. Rice) now occupied by the station, the execution, in legal form, of a proposal to lease quarters for the station referred to, for a period of one year, from July 2, 1908, at an annual rental of $250 including heat, light and equipment.

The foregoing in compliance with a formal notice sent to the department by Mr. Rice, offering to renew the lease for the quarters in question on the terms of the present contract. A satisfactory arrangement having previously been made by him with several west side business men, who assumed the additional obligation of $100 rental in order to retain the station.

DIED.

Alice, the four-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shattell, died at the parent's home in West Second street, on Tuesday morning.

John Cavanaugh, one of the best-known residents of this city, died on Tuesday morning at his home in Erie street, after several weeks illness, his health having failed steadily since the death of his wife in the Spring. One daughter, Miss Mary Cavanaugh, and three sons survive, one of whom is Mr. John Cavanaugh, a clerk in the First National Bank. The funeral arrangements have not been perfected.

Josephine C., wife of Mr. U. Z. Maltby, died at the family home in Mohawk street, Oswego, on Saturday night, after eighteen months of invalidism patiently born. The deceased was a very great favorite with a large circle of friends and her death is deeply regretted by all who knew her, while to the bereaved husband and only son the sympathy of many friends is extended. Mr. Maltby is the engraver in the Wendell & Son jewelry store, Oswego, and is thus known throughout the county.

Ruth M. Wood, aged 10, died on Sunday afternoon at the hospital of typhoid fever. The funeral services were held from the Catholic Church on Monday morning and interment was made in St. Mary's. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Wood of Ingalls Crossing and was one of six members of the family to be ill with the disease. It seems that a polluted well under the house, into which all of the surface water from the cellar drained had been used by the mother in preparing food and it was from this source that the disease came. The family had been warned regarding the well and as there was another one on the premises, its use was unnecessary.

DEMOCRATS WAKING UP.

The Democratic Convention committee met in Oswego on Monday and designated Monday, Aug. 24, as the date upon which the District and County conventions should be held. The Fulton committeemen present wanted the convention held in Fulton but Charles Bulger objected, so Pulaski was decided upon.

An Oswego Times reporter present was ejected from the meeting and the business was conducted behind closed and locked doors.

In connection with the holding of the conference the information was given out on the street that Udelle Bartlette was to receive the Democratic nomination for County Judge to oppose W. B. Baker, the Republican nominee. It is also hinted that Mr. Bartlette will run on an independent ticket and is seeking Prohibition endorsement. Of course the latter will be as C. E. Pitts says. It is a fact worthy of note that there is no chance for a Democrat in this county under the present leadership, to receive recognition in the line of nominations from his party. The Democracy violently and at all times assails the Republican party and then takes the Republican party discards and honors them with recognition and preference. Its small wonder that the first voters in this section find little to bind them to the party of Jefferson.

Travel in Special Car.

The Hon. Isaac Hunt, Jefferson county's candidate for congressional honors, has invited over a hundred of his friends to accompany him to the convention in Oswego today, providing a special car, twenty rooms at the Hotel Redstone, and meals for all.

Come in and see the Saturday Special at the Victor C. Lewis store, Cayuga street.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

Late Valentia Oranges

This is extra fine fruit and will please you

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

The Fifty-Third ..ANNUAL FAIR..

.....OF THE.....

Oswego County Agricultural Society

.....WILL BE HELD.....

September 1, 2, 3, 4, 1908

At Fulton, N. Y.

Liberal Premiums in Every Department.

High Class Free Attractions.

First Class Trotting Every Day.

Premium List Upon Application

C. I. Kingsbury, Pres. Oswego, N. Y.

H. P. Allen, Sec'y Fulton, N. Y.

A. Gregg, Privilege Committee Pennellville, N. Y.

New Hunting Club.

The Amboy Hunting and Fishing club was recently organized in that village and the preserves take up nearly half the town. A hunt dinner is being planned for September 25. Last week Judge Stowell and District Attorney W. B. Baker of Oswego were elected members of the club.

To Whom it May Concern.

I have great pleasure in affirming that Miss Rosie Tilden, R. F. D., Box 85, Fulton, is well qualified to teach pianoforte music in all its branches.

Whilst studying under me, she has applied herself assiduously to mastering its details, and I have every confidence that she will be persevering and painstaking in imparting to her scholars the knowledge she has so successfully achieved.

PROF J. L. SCHOFIELD.
Fulton, N. Y.

August 1, 1908,

There are pounds of comfort in a grain of Bohemian Mixture. For sale by Victor C. Lewis.

Season's Biggest Event at Long Branch.

The Fourth Annual Field Day and picnic of the employees of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Company, will be held at Long Branch on Saturday, August 15. On the program of the day will be numerous athletic events, to the winners of which prizes will be given. A ball game between clubs from the office and manufacturing departments will be a feature. There will be free vaudeville acts all the afternoon and evening at intervals of one hour. Probably, the most interesting of the vaudeville feature will be the Indian corn dance which will be exemplified by the Indians from the Onondaga reservation.

On the street cars and at the Long Branch amusement places, dancing pavilion, etc., coupon tickets will be given each patron, and cash prizes of $5.00 will be given the holder of the lucky number from each attraction.

Whiting's pure Linen Tablets, all sizes, ruled and plain, only 10c. Well worth 20c, at Lasher's Book Store.

THIS STORE IS HEADQUARTERS FOR CENTIMERI KID GLOVES

Sole Agents for Butterick Patterns

O'BRIEN'S

We Handle W. B. Corsets Exclusively. Try them!

98c...DOWN GO THE SHIRT WAISTS...98c

300 of the most desirable Waldorf Shirt Waists in an endless variety of styles, are on sale now at 98c. They were excellent values at $1.25, some of them really worth $2.00. We close out the whole lot this week at just 98c, or less than cost. Are you a shrewd buyer? Then look these over.

75c...DOWN GO THE WRAPPERS AND HOUSE DRESSES...75c

All those percale and calico two piece dresses and the wrappers that sold for $1.25 now marked down to 75c. Every one of them spells solid comfort during these hot days and are priced at this ridiculous price just to create a little excitement, that's all.

Apron Specials

Fine quality Lawn Aprons, made full with wide ruffles and hamburg insertion, for.....35c
White Lawn Aprons, extra large, wide hem at bottom, and others for sewing purposes....25c
Long Gingham Aprons with bib attached that fastens around the neck, for.....35c

Hosiery Specials

Children's Fine Ribbed, Tan Hose, 15c quality, for.....10c
Children's Fine Ribbed, Black Hose, mercerized, that sold for 25c a pair, now.....2 pairs 25c
Ladies' Fine Seamless Hose, some white soles, others plain black; regular 35c quality, now 21c

Underskirts

All those fine Muslin Skirts that sold up to $1.69, now.....75c
25c Embroidered Handkerchiefs for.....19c
Good size Bath Towels for.....5c
Men's 15c Hose for.....11c
Men's 50c Underwear for.....23c

Men's 25c Suspenders.....15c
Men's 39c Work Shirts for.....25c
Men's 50c Overalls for.....39c
Boys' Blouse Waists, the 25c kind, for.....15c
Boys' 35c Knee Pants for.....19c
50c Wash Waists.....29c
$2.00 All-Leather Hand Bags for.....98c

Don't forget the 9c sale next week---its going to be the greatest sale in Fulton's history

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company

Main St. West, Corner Exchange St.
Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

Some Odd Notions.

In some European countries ill luck is said to follow the person who stirs any liquid in a pan from east to west. In Scotland persons when baking oat cakes break a piece off and throw it in the fire to appease evil agencies. Still another custom in that land is to make a birthday cake with nine knobs. Then nine of the assembled company, when the cake comes hot out of the oven, each breaks one knob off and, throwing it behind him, says, "This I give to thee, fox, eagle, wolf," etc.

In some countries it is considered unlucky to give a mince pie to a guest—it should be asked for. Likewise a mince pie should never be cut with a knife, but held whole with the fingers and eaten that way; also to eat as many mince pies as possible at as many different houses before Christmas. It is believed will insure so many happy months for the eater. To wrap a mince pie in silver paper and keep it from Christmas till July and then eat it is also said to bring good luck.

Frost on the Moon.

Changes on the moon's surface, especially at the point known as the crater Linnaeus, are recognized by some astronomers. It is concluded that the diminution of a white patch must be a melting of hoarfrost at sunrise and that the deposition and melting frost must be taking place in other parts of the moon.—London Chronicle.

Oyster Shells as Medicine.

Ground oyster shells were given by the mediaeval doctors to children suffering from rickets and scrofula. Now it appears that they were right. The shells contain lime, nitrogen, iron, sulphur, manganese, magnesia, flour, bromide, phosphoric acid and iodine, all excellent for feeble children. They say that if growing children were to take powdered oyster shells in their food the teeth would be improved.—London Answers.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children, it is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Its laxative principle drives the cold from the system by a gentle, natural, but copious action of the bowels. Sold by all druggists.

Sliding Down a Cask.

One of the vintage ceremonies at Klosterneuberg, the famous convent which the Viennese visit annually on St. Leopold's day, consists in sliding down a giant cask of wine. The immense cask was first filled in the famous wine year of 1711. The origin of the sliding is found in a story of a cooper who was in the habit of returning home in a merry condition. His wife fetched him one day from the village inn, and he attempted to hide behind the cask. She seized a broom, however, and with the help of several friends forced him to scramble up one side and slide to the ground on the opposite as a punishment for his conduct.—London Mail.

Might Be Worse.

An old woman was brought into a London hospital suffering from a poisoned leg. The house surgeon made a hurried examination. He was a man of blunt speech. "It will have to come off," he told her.

"What, not all of it?"

"The whole of it, I'm sorry to say," growled the house surgeon.

"Nothing else for it?"

"No other chance for you whatever," explained the house surgeon.

"Ah, well, thank Gawd it's not my head."

Sympathy.

A kind hearted little slum girl on a visit to the country saw one evening a mother hen about to gather her brood of chicks under her wings. The little girl rushed up to the hen and shouted:

"Shoo, you ugly thing! How dare you sit down on these beautiful little birds?"

Easy Job.

"I would be willing to work," said Tyre Dont, "if I could get the sort of job I want."

"What would that job be?"

"Well, I wouldn't mind calling out the stations on an Atlantic liner."

A Little More Than Your Income.

A young man, being asked how much it cost to live in New York city replied, "A little more than your income, whatever that is." A young city clergyman on his first round of parish calls found a family on the verge of starvation. The man had been out of work for months. He had a wife and five children, the youngest a baby. They had just eaten the last bit of food in the house. The young clergyman gave them $5 and collected for them $20 more before the day was out. A few days later he called to see about getting work for the man. They were again on the point of starving. With the $25 the woman had bought a fine new baby carriage, some coffee and sugar. When the clergyman expostulated she indignantly denied extravagance. The children had broken the old carriage, and it was necessary the baby should have a daily airing. As for the coffee it was the first they had had in weeks. They were accustomed to it and needed it.—Appleton's Magazine.

A Queer Cough Mixture.

Mrs. Delaney, so well known as an eighteenth century personage, had a strange prescription for a cough mixture. Writing to a friend in January, 1758, she says: "Does Mary cough in the night? Two or three snails boiled in her barley water or tea water or whatever she drinks might be of great service to her. Taken in time they have done wonderful cures. She must know nothing of it. They give no manner of taste. It would be best nobody should know it but yourself, and I should imagine six or eight boiled in a quart of water and strained off and put in a bottle would be a good way, adding a spoonful or two of that to every liquid she takes. They must be fresh done every two or three days; otherwise they grow too thick." A strange remedy, and one wonders whether "Mary" took it and benefited by it.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have no given me any trouble since." This Salve is for sale by E. A. Putnam.

Golfing Feats.

The Scottish golfer who undertook for a wager to drive a ball a mile in a dozen consecutive shots probably set himself an easier task than some of his predecessors north of the Tweed.

Among the most interesting wagers of this kind was one taken in the Burgess Golfing society in 1798 that no two members could drive a ball over the spire of St. Giles' steeple. The feat was attempted by a Mr. Scoales of Leith and Mr. Smellie, a printer, each being allowed six balls, and both competitors succeeded in sending their balls well over the weathercock, a height of more than 160 feet from the ground.

Some years later Donald McLean, a writer to the Signet, won a substantial bet by driving a ball over Melville's monument, in St. Andrew square, while several Scotchmen have performed the difficult feat of driving the ball from Burntsfield links to the top of Arthur's seat, a species of golfing steeplechase which requires considerable stamina as well as skill.—Westminster Gazette.

Misjudged.

A Scotsman was traveling in a third class smoking carriage on a north of England line when at a small station a fishwife with a creel opened the door. Not relishing the prospect of such company, the Scotsman said in his smoothest tones, "Ah, this is a smoking carriage, my good woman!" The fishwife took no notice, but pushed in. "My good woman, this is a smoking carriage," repeated the male passenger in louder tones. The fishwife put her creel in the corner and sat down opposite to him, and the train started. Then the woman put her hand in a pocket of her blue petticoat, took out a large black pipe, lit it, and, blowing a cloud of rank smoke that nearly suffocated her companion, remarked, "And so, my mannie, ye thocht naebody could tak' a draw but yersel'!"

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Nothing else is just as good. Insist on DeWitt's. It is cleansing, cooling and soothing. Sold by all druggists.

An Insult.

Tuffold Knutt — Wot are ye cross about? Wareham Long (in a high state of indignation)—The woman in that house acrost the way insulted me! I asked her if she had any old clothin' to give a pore man, an' she offered me a bathin' suit!—Chicago Tribune.

Saved the Dishes.

Husband—But why did you dismiss the cook this morning, when the Higgses are coming to dinner tonight? Wife—Because at 11 a. m. we had only exactly enough dishes left to set the table.—Judge.

He Knew.

"What do you expect to be when you come of age, my little man?" asked the visitor.

"Twenty-one," was the little man's reply.—Herald and Presbyter.

Progressive New Zealand

The Great Advance In Social and Economic Conditions In This Part of the British Empire.

Things Americans May Learn From Colony Visited by the Warships of Pacific Fleet.

THERE is a great deal of reason why Americans should be interested in New Zealand, aside from the visit of our fleet to its shores. Of course the stop of the warships of which Americans are so proud at New Zealand ports on the cruise around the world places that country especially in the public eye at the present moment, but it has long been studied by thoughtful people in the United States as a place where many economic and social problems are being worked out in a way which may well encourage optimism as to our own progress in respect to kindred matters. It has been described as a land of peace and probity. The muck raker's voice is seldom heard. There is little use in stirring things up in the way that functionary has learned how to do in this country of ours, where the get-rich-quick idea has been so productive of graft in both public and private affairs. Perhaps nowhere else in the world has the government undertaken to do so many things for the people and succeeded in doing them so well.

One of the reasons why muck raking would not be apt to turn up much in the way of scandal in New Zealand consists in the fact that things are done with so much publicity. Take the matter of life insurance, for instance. The government provides both life and fire insurance policies, as well as many other things which in the United States are usually left to private enterprise. The government life insurance department, which does almost half of the life insurance business of the colony, has in force nearly 50,000 policies, aggregating in amount of insurance about $60,000,000. This department competes with private companies, Australian, British and American, and the reports issued are full and clear, giving so good an idea of the operation of the department that it has been said they might well be imitated by all institutions willing to give full publicity to their conduct of affairs. Of course no $100,0[illegible] salaries are paid in this branch of the colonial government. The department is self supporting, and every policy holder knows that if he keeps up his premium his family will get the money due them at his death, as the government is behind the promises made. Fire insurance, accident insurance and annuities are other lines in which the government operates, and in these departments as well as in life insurance the aim is to afford the people all the help and consideration possible rather than to take advantage in any way of their necessities. Railways and telegraph and telephone lines in New Zealand and mines also are mostly under government ownership and yield a fair profit over expenses of operation. There are postal savings banks, and the principal financial institution, the Bank of New Zealand, is a semi-governmental affair. Steps have been taken in the way of legislation providing for old age pensions. An arbitration act is in force which has resulted in making strikes and labor troubles very rare, but they have not been entirely abolished, and only recently there has been agitation over the question of amendment of the law on the subject.

MAORI CHIEF AND NATIVES WASHING CLOTHES.

Much has been said and written on the subject of New Zealand's system of taxation and its approximation to the plan advocated by the late Henry George. As to the status of taxation at present the late Right Hon. R. J. Seddon, when premier, had this to say:

"Originally, there was a property tax; the more energy and vitality, and the greater the thrift, the more people were taxed. This has been repealed. The system now obtaining is a tax on the unimproved value of the land, and this tax is graduated and the larger areas and values pay the most. We also have an absentee tax—those who are absent pay double that paid by those resident of the colony. This is just, for from those who are absent we receive no other revenue. Those who are here contribute through the customs to the consolidated fund. In other words, those who are absent shirk the burden, reap all the advantages and give no collateral return. Indirect taxation, too, has been considerably altered. We have done a little in the way of protecting industries, and, at the same time, giving the necessary revenue. Our tariff now is working very satisfactorily; for instance, what is generally known as a free breakfast table is now practically given. We have taken off all duty on tea. The time is probably not far distant when we shall reduce or take off the duties on sugar."

SIR JOSEPH G. WARD.

The former premier added:

"We are trying to add to the comfort and enhance the happiness of all the people of this colony. We have government ownership, and we have succeeded in it. We have laws built on the foundation of necessity and right. We understand the needs of our people, and we supply those needs without fear or favor. The people of this colony know that they are protected in every manner. Their children are compelled to attend school, forced by example and moral suasion to become educated and to become good citizens. The child who is apprenticed to learn a trade is told by his elders that the law affords him protection; that he is to receive $1.50 per week during the first year of his apprenticeship, and a gradual advance for his services each succeeding year until he has learned his trade. The man knows that he can obtain work constantly, that there can be no strikes such as you have in America, and he need never fear that he will be called upon to lay down his tools and see those dependent upon him suffer for bread and fuel, simply because of a sympathy for a fellow workman. The old people, too, are cared for. When time, age, sickness or accident has deprived them of the ability to earn a livelihood, the government comes to their rescue. We pension our old people regardless of sex when they have attained the age of sixty-five years. Other requisites for a pension are that they must have lived good lives and been residents of the colony for twenty-five years. We pay old age pensioners $2.50 each, which enables them to live with relatives perfectly self supporting."

Of course it would not be altogether fair to compare conditions in New Zealand with those in the United States, because of the difference in size between the two countries. The four or five large islands constituting the Dominion of New Zealand, as it is now called, embrace an area of about 100,000 square miles and the population is about 1,000,000, less than that of Brooklyn borough of New York city. Problems are apt to be less complex in a small community than in a large one. The figures given for the population include the natives, known as the Maori, who have become pretty well civilized, but who retain many of their picturesque customs. The present premier of New Zealand, Sir Joseph G. Ward, who was prominent in the conference in London last year of premiers representing the different portions of the vast British empire, is one of the strong men of this new and progressive country. He succeeded to the premiership on the death of Mr. Seddons two years ago and has just passed fifty years of age.

The Maoris are a very interesting race, and, while mostly Christianized and civilized, they cling tenaciously to many of their time honored customs. One of these is that of touching noses in salutation instead of kissing. They all vote, both men and women, and have several well educated representatives in the dominion parliament.

Here are a few brief facts about New Zealand: There are not many millionaires, and there are no trusts. "Less wealth and more health" is a motto. There is no "submerged tenth," and the system of supplying employment works so well that there are practically no unemployed. The women vote. The climate is ideal and the scenery is magnificent in some parts of the islands. It is not exactly heaven, but in few parts of the world are people so contented.

The Fourth Week

of conducting a Cash business and it has proved itself a success. People begin to realize that the cash system is the only way to save money. I am now in a position to give you

Bargains in First Class Teas, Coffees,

and am also headquarters for all :: :: ::

High Grade Groceries

at reduced prices. Give us a trial and be convinced

A. L. WARNER

Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

The Best Machines.

The idea that peace could be the normal relation of the nations never entered Napoleon's head or the head of any man about him, declares A. L. Kielland in "Napoleon's Men and Methods." In his mind peace could only mean a pause between two wars. He had no idea to give to the world. His thoughts did not go beyond his own life. He shrinks at once in comparison with a man of science, who expends his life to create a thought that will nourish and elevate posterity.

If Napoleon reached the highest summit of a prince and a commander, he was also the last who succeeded in gathering about his person all the glamour that had been wont to accompany and adorn the bloody business of war. There was no more of it after his fall. War became afterward an academic study. Military affairs came to resemble industrial interests, in which it is the best machines that gain the victory.

We now strip our armies of their gold cords and waving plumes. The admiral, who used to stand on the bridge in his gala uniform, with his decorations and sash, now sits in a steel box and presses buttons like a telephone girl. When the glamour goes from a thing it is near its end.

The Greatest General.

All things duly considered, the greatest general of whom we have any knowledge was in all probability the Carthaginian, Hannibal. All the information we have of Hannibal comes from his enemies, and yet what achievements they were forced to credit him with! The second Punic war—the most brilliant in history—was practically one man against a whole nation, and that the strongest then known. With the army that he had molded out of raw and barbarous levies Hannibal had to fight a nation of the stoutest and best trained warriors of ancient times, and he had to do this without any assistance from home. It has been well said that there is nowhere else an example of what a single man of genius may achieve against the most tremendous odds.—New York American.

The Color of Jade.

The idea of jade possessing the virtue of bringing the wearer food fortune arose in China, where the stone is so valued that the finding of a particularly fine piece causes the state to take possession of the land where it was found. The best specimens represent all the hues and effects of sea foam, but these are eagerly snapped up by collectors and seldom come into the public market. There is another cause for the popularity of jade. Its peculiar green tinge has the effect of making the human skin look very white. In this connection the quality of the stone is of no account so long as the color is there. Indeed, many of the less expensive jade ornaments are made from chips of the stone which contain noticeable flaws.—Pearson's.

The Actress' Retort.

Georgette Leblanc, the actress, wife of Maurice Maeterlinck, was on tour in a French town, where the local company "supported" her in one of her husband's plays.

But the support was weak and halting. The poet's lines were mangled, and several characters seemed unable to understand what they were saying. Mme. Leblanc sought out her manager and spoke to him.

"A writer like Maeterlinck should be treated with more respect."

"Madame," he answered, "M. Maeterlinck is not the first to suffer. Sophocles, Molière, Racine, Shakespeare, Goethe and other great dramatists are daily murdered in the same way."

"Possibly, but they are not murdered alive, at any rate."

Her Way.

"I wouldn't cry like that if I were you," said a lady to little Alice.

"Well," said Alice between her sobs, "you can cry any way you like, but this is my way."—United Presbyterian.

Life is measured by experience and not by years.—Latin Proverb.

Brief, but Crushing.

He was very badly in love indeed and had sat up till the "wee sma' hours" composing the following lines:

Beautiful one, with eyes so blue,
Oh, how my fond heart sighs for you!
Sweet spirit, listen to me now:
Hear once again my ardent vow.

He turned out about three yards of this soul inspiring verse and sent it to the object of his adoration with a request that she would express an opinion on its merits. This is what he received:

"Dear Mr. Hopkins," she wrote, "I do not like to hurt your feelings, but if you will read the initial letters of your first four lines downward I may say that they express my sentiments exactly."

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President :: :: ::

First National Bank

Oswego, N. Y.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

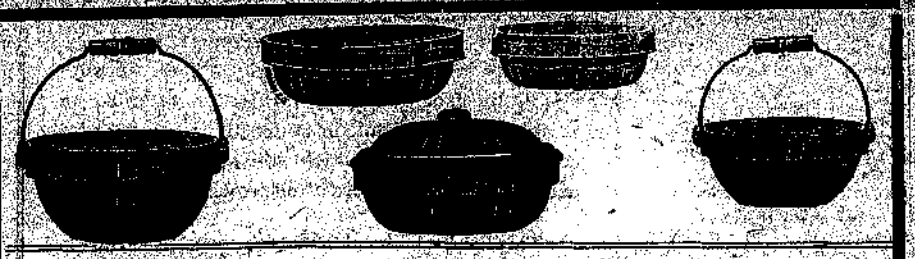
R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets Fulton, N. Y.

holds school every afternoon from two until five o'clock. Evening lessons discontinued through August. More attention can be given pupils during August.

Come and visit the school, and see how we draft patterns to fit the figure.



The American Garment Cutting System

is the newest, simplest and best system for drafting patterns.

The newest tailoring methods are taught in putting together garments.

Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

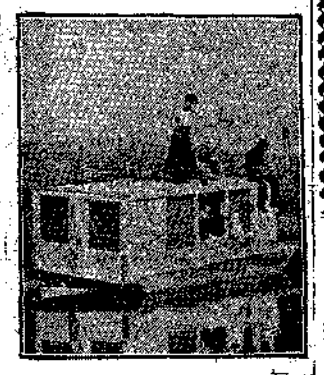
SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50
All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio



Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

House Boating.

Not on the River Styx, but on More Pleasant Streams, It Is Then a Healthful Way of Summering.

IN these modern days there are more ways of spending the summer than our forefathers ever dreamed. Many of us stay at home and feel middling comfortable, but perhaps most of us would prefer to visit the seashore or the lakes or the mountains or just to live and loll at some old fashioned farmhouse far from the madding crowd. Our forefathers, as a rule, did not indulge in the luxury of seashore board walks and pavilions, but nevertheless they lived closer to nature than we do, and in our efforts to enjoy more of life than the humdrum routine affords we are simply striving to get back to natural conditions. We want to live outdoors. We want to live the simple life. That is why we build bungalows by the lake shore, pitch tents in the woods and inhabit house boats on the water.

House boating is one of the newest and most popular forms of outing life. It is only of late years that the house boat has made its irresistible appeal to the walled up human being. Nowadays there are thousands of families throughout America who spend a part of the summer or all of it in house boats either tied up along a shady bank or floating down a river or being towed by hand or mule power along a canal. The tied up house boat is more popular in England than in America. Here we live a more strenuous life in the winter, and in the summer we want to be moving around. The house boat is a most accommodating habitation. In it you may remain stationary or move along at will.

TIED UP TO THE CANAL BANK.

Canal house boating is pronounced delightful by those who choose that kind of outing. It is more popular in the eastern states than in the west because there are more canals. To enjoy this form of recreation it is not necessary for the house boaters to own or hire a mule or a horse for motive power. The boat can tie up to the bank wherever an inviting spot is found, and when the desire to be moving on strikes the party an animal can be hired from a farm in the neighborhood to walk the towpath and pull the premises to the point picked out for the next stop. Some of the canal house boats are so small that they can be towed by hand, though the average man much prefers horse power.

House boating is not highly expensive unless one makes it so. On rivers such as the Mississippi, the Missouri and the Ohio there are many boats of considerable elegance, some of them having steam motive power, while others are towed by small tugs. On the other hand, the smaller tributary streams float many a boat that can be moved along by a cheap little launch or even poled from place to place.

Some persons build their own boats from the bottom up, while others buy a small abandoned scow and construct a cabin thereon. Any flat bottomed craft of the size desired will suffice.

PASSING THE LOCK TENDER.

You can spend $100 or $10,000, according to your purse and your preferences, for the boat. Usually a house boat is a sort of floating bungalow, with one living room of some size and tiny bedrooms and kitchenette.

If there is space enough deck room should be left outside fore and aft, so that the family or party may enjoy the full outdoor air and sunshine or shade. The ideal craft has deck space on both sides and at each end.

House boat furnishings, save for those on the luxurious affairs which really are more like private yachts, are inexpensive. Kitchen possibilities of course do not include the gas cooking range, but then why should one care to house boat unless he knows enough to enjoy gathering driftwood or foraging for sticks?

ON

Saturday
August 15

China Oat-Meals
WILL BE THE SOUVENIR

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 P. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee

SUGARS
REFINERS
PRICES

Legal Notices.

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibbie & Frances Kibbie.

By virtue of an exception against the property of Frances Kibbie, in the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, I, Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 13th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall, in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all the right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibbie had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton, now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 150 of said City.

Dated June 30th, 1908.

HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.
By JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.

A. T. Jennings, attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor. Office and Post Office Adress, No. 8 So. First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-12

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.

Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs. John Drew, Defendant.

To the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and, in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.

Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.

O. M. KELLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

To John Drew, Defendant:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Stowell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 12th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.

Dated May 11th, 1908.

O. M. KELLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

8-16

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D. 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.

10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D. 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.

10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 8th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.

11-9

The Widower.

A widower is like a baby. The first six months he cries a lot, the second six months he begins to sit up and take notice, and he experiences great difficulty in getting through his second year alone.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

LADY AGENTS WANTED!

YOU can make excellent money devoting your whole or spare time to taking orders for my DAINTY line of baby goods and children's suits. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, permanent work. No competition. Send TO-DAY for Full catalogue, territory, etc.

Mrs. Ella James Dep't D. Syracuse, N.Y.

8-5

Notice of Completion of Assessment Rolls.

Notice hereby given that the assessment rolls for the east and west tax districts of the city of Fulton for the year 1908 have been completed and filed with the city clerk and all persons interested may examine the same at the city clerk's office, city hall, Fulton N. Y., until the first Tuesday of September, 1908.

Notice is hereby further given that on the 1st day of September, 1908, that being the first Tuesday in September, the Assessors of the city of Fulton will meet at the Common Council room in the city hall, Fulton, N. Y. to review said assessments.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., July 2, 1908.

GEORGE FOSTER
JOHN M. HEWITT
O. O. HANNIS

8-5

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Poetic Comparison.

The poet was favoring a friendly soul with his last verses, says a writer in St. James' Budget. The verses were descriptive of a beautiful girl. The poet read:

"Her hair was massed in flowing curls,
The color of a whisper."

This made the listener "sit up." "What's that?" he said. "Read that again."

"I thought you would say something about that," the poet answered. "I don't want to appear egotistical, but that little phrase gives some scope for the exercise of the mind."

"In what way?"

The poet laughed.

"Don't you see," he said, "how beautifully that describes the shade of her hair? Every poet speaks of golden hair or raven locks. To be a success one must be original. Well, she did not have golden hair. It was nearly golden, and I convey the impression by means of that one word."

The other still looked puzzled.

"You have heard," said the poet patiently, "that silence is golden?"

"Yes," the other admitted.

"Well," resumed the poet, "if silence is golden what would a whisper be? It would be nearly golden, wouldn't it?"

The poet laughed again. The other was sitting down and could not stagger, so he laughed too.

Indian Burials.

The Indian method of burial was to fasten a corpse upon cross sticks supported by poles in the ground or in the boughs of the treetops. Here the air and the elements silently disposed of the lifeless clay until in a year or so but little remained to bear evidence of a tomb, perhaps some broken sticks in the top and a few scattered beads or human bones beneath the burial place. I cannot conceive of anything more pitifully grewsome than an Indian burial ground of this type. I have seen them in the fall of the year, when the winds were shaking and swaying the platforms and wringing the leafless trees, haunting the burial rags like signals of distress from the dead and whistling through and over the whitening bones and neglected remains of those who had many a time withstood the tempest and storm when the breath of life stirred within them.—Army and Navy Life.

A Swift Bird.

The Mexican road runner has only two short legs, but he can beat a horse, a hound and an electric carriage and give them a handicap start. Speed is not his only recommendation. He eats as he runs, or, rather, as the things run away with him. Snakes are the principal part of his diet, big and little. His crop is as elastic as his legs are swift, and when he wants to prepare for a long journey he coils up a rattler or two inside of his neck and sets out across the Mexican desert with a swiftness that makes it look like a bunch of dust on a record breaking tour around the world.

The Pelican.

The pelican is not an attractive bird. He offends both the eye and the nose. But he is commendably regular in his habits. The parent birds catch fish and after eating their fill deposit the others in their pouches under their bills and carry them to their young. These pouches will hold from three to eight pounds of fish. They are elastic and when distended to their utmost nearly touch the ground. When empty, the pouch lies close up under the big bill and is merely a mass of wrinkles. It is this pouch that gives the pelican his characteristic and disagreeable odor, caused by particles of decaying fish. The pelican's legs are short and strong, and its feet have large webs. It is not a fast swimmer or a rapid flier, but it is practically tireless in both air and water. On land it is awkward and unwieldy.

Carrot Pudding.

One cupful of grated carrots, one cupful of grated potatoes, one cupful of sugar, one cupful of flour, one-half cupful of raisins and currants mixed, two teaspoonfuls of all kinds of spice mixed, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt. Mix all together and steam for three hours. Grease a small pail and put the dough in it. Set the pail in a kettle of boiling water, keeping the water well up near the top of the pail. Cover kettle over so all the steam may be kept in as much as possible.—Boston Post.

How Frozen Insects Revive.

Experiments in reviving frozen insects by a naturalist show some surprising results. A large cecropia moth, frozen in the center of a snowball until it was perfectly brittle, revived in twenty seconds when held near a stove. Several newly hatched io moths revived in a similar manner after being frozen stiff and then thawed out. Similar experiments with ants, butterflies and house flies gave the same results. But the naturalist noticed that recently hatched insects resist cold better than older ones.

Burning Wood.

Wood crackles when it is ignited because the air expanded by heat forces its way through the pores of the wood with a crackling noise. Green wood makes less snapping than dry because the pores contain less air, being filled with sap and moisture, which extinguish the flame, whereas the pores of dry wood are filled with air, which supports combustion.

Lusty.

Shopkeeper—Is there anything else I can send you, sir? What would you say to a piece of this cheese? Customer—I wouldn't care to say anything to it. It might answer me back.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Big Swallow.

A detective was testifying in the case of a woman shoplifter whom he had arrested in her own house.

"And, your honor," said he, "when I told her the charge she turned her back to me and swallowed a purse, six suits of silk underwear, a silver candlestick and a chafing dish, and"—

"Rubbish! Are you crazy?" the magistrate interrupted.

"Excuse me. What I mean to say, your honor," explained the detective, "is that she swallowed the pawn tickets."

Snapped It Out.

"Dear, am I the only woman you have ever loved?"

"Yes, or ever will."

And it must have been the way he said it that made her mad.

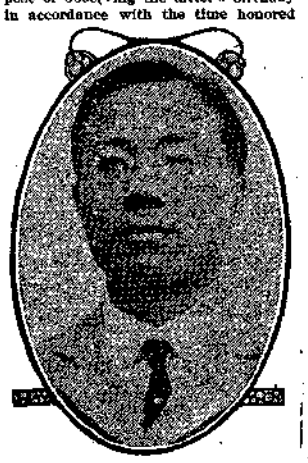
The Baby Will Get Even.

Hewitt—Does your baby keep you awake? Jewett—No, I fooled him. As soon as he was born I got a job working nights.—New York Press.

Before you set your heart on anything maturely consider whether it will add to your ultimate happiness.

TWO ORIENTALS.

Daughter of the Japanese Ambassador and Son of Chinese Minister.



Baron Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, has a handsome wife and a beautiful little daughter, and they enjoy more liberties than used to be accorded members of their sex in the Land of the Rising Sun. In fact, the Japanese ambassador believes in the superiority of American and European ways of dress and manner of living, and his household is conducted on this basis. His young daughter, Miss Kiyo Takahira, is a winsome girl who promises to be as clever as her parents.

MISS KIYO TAKAHIRA.

Wu Chao Chu, son of the Chinese minister to the United States, Wu Ting Fang, is a good representative of the younger and more progressive element among the Chinese of today. He arrived in America recently on a visit to his father and for the especial purpose of observing the latter's birthday in accordance with the time honored and almost sacred customs of the orient. He is accompanied by his wife and infant daughter, and as he has great respect for the women of the United States he is anxious that his spouse should become familiar with their ways and adopt many of their customs. In China he is considered quite a brilliant diplomat and is charged at the present time with an important mission to London.

WU CHAO CHU.

His Was Hers.

"I heard him behind the door pleading for just one. They must be engaged."

"Naw, they're married. It was a dollar he was pleading for."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. Samples free at E. A. Putnam's drug store.

To the King's Taste.

We learn in "Leaves From the Journal of Sir George Smart" that when Sir George, who was chorister at the Chapel Royal, arranged the musical programme at the opening of the new London bridge in 1831 his chief attraction was a glee party.

Immediately after the glee party had sung "God Save the King" in the tent in which the king and queen were seated two unknown persons in costume, a man and his wife, stepped forward, and to Sir George's infinite disgust the man played "God Save the King" with his knuckles on his chin, accompanied by his wife's voice.

The king called Sir George to him and asked who they were. Sir George by that time knew the name of the performers and gave it, adding that he was sorry they had intruded without permission.

"Oh, no intrusion!" said the king. "It was charming. Tell them to perform again."

So Sir George had to tell the performers that their number was encored by royal command, and to their great delight and to the chagrin of Sir George they repeated it.

Not Abashed.

"When I was young," said a lawyer, "my best client was a wealthy old lady noted for saying caustic things about her acquaintances. One morning, when I was staying at her house, she vilified one of her neighbors, named Stamford, without stint.

"By way of changing the subject I proposed to read to her from a volume of lectures I had happened to bring with me. She assented. I started at random and when too late discovered that I was in the middle of a lecture on the government of the tongue.

"I was afraid she would think I had selected it to admonish her, yet I dared not stop for fear of seeming to make the offense more pointed. So on I read to the end, pretty sure that my reading would cost me a client worth two hundred a year to me. But when I ended she said:

"'Thank you, Mr. ——. It is an excellent lecture and would fit my neighbor Stamford to a T.'"

The Conference.

"This is a grave matter," began the undertaker.

"Consequently we want more light thrown upon it," remarked the lamp manufacturer.

"I hope our views will all be in harmony with the occasion," put in the piano maker.

"No pipe dreams," admonished the plumber.

"I hope whatever is said none will take it ill," said the doctor.

"Then we'll all be good natured and not ask cross questions," supplemented the lawyer.

But it was the remark of the baker which broke up the meeting.

"What I want to know, first of all," he declared, "is who is expected to supply the dough?"—Baltimore American.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 19, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 12, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

WEST SIDE POSTAL STATION

It will be very gratifying to the patrons of the west side station to learn that it is to be continued at least for another year, the communication from the Post Office Department to Postmaster Hughes on Tuesday, published in another column, being the first intimation received by anyone as to whether or not the station would be continued. A great deal of credit is due the public-spirited business men of the west side who subscribed the additional rental for the quarters and to Editor Bradt, who engineered the subscription paper to a successful conclusion. It is also pre-eminently satisfactory to Postmaster Hughes, as the present post office quarters are too small for the transaction of the business which comes to the local office. If, in addition to this business, two additional city carriers and one more rural carrier, beside the sorting and distributing of mail, should have been added to the east side business, it would have congested the room still more. All credit for sales in the west side office are given to the east side office, so that nothing but additional cramping of quarters would have resulted. The action of the department has been a happy solution to the vexing problem.

The Congressional Convention for this district is in session in Oswego as we go to press. The latch-string has been hung out by the residents of our hospitable and neighborly city and great preparations are being made for the entertainment of the delegates and visitors. The remainder of this week will therefore be one of gaiety and business combined, although it is presumed the serious work of nominating candidates will not begin until the return of Messrs. Mott, Stowell and Cullinan from New York City—Oswego's worthy triumvirate—where they have been contending before the State Committee for equal representation with Jefferson county in the Senatorial Convention—a righteous and equitable contention.

To be a successful politician, one must learn to follow the people. By so doing he obtains credit for able leadership. The great masses of the people in the Empire State are favorable to Governor Hughes and a calamity to be averted if possible, will be his defeat for nomination by the politicians. Governor Hughes is not magnetic; he lacks gratitude toward the men in his party who labored diligently to insure his election at the polls two years ago; he has made errors in judgment of course, but throughout it all he has been honest, strong, fearless and just and he appeals strongly to all classes of law abiding citizens. He is the strongest man before the public today as a candidate for governor of New York State and with Joseph H. Choate as temporary chairman of the State convention and Elihu Root as permanent chairman, it is the belief that nothing but an open convention in which the will of the people will be registered, will be tolerated or sanctioned. This will insure beyond peradventure, the unanimous nomination of Charles Evans Hughes.

National Chairman Hitchcock is planning a most vigorous and systematic campaign in the interest of the Republican party, backed by public confidence in the sincerity of purpose of the Republican leaders. Mr. Hitchcock, as First Assistant Postmaster-General, earned his laurels as a master of detail, and he is carrying the same ingenuity into the national campaign as chairman of the committee. Organization is being effected in each Congressional district, which will be extended to the city wards and towns in State and nation—a gigantic task, but it cannot fail to win good results, and that is a condition devoutely to be hoped for.

Mr. W. J. Bryan threatens to abandon the veranda for the stump, and appeals for funds to the farmers with which to conduct his campaign, thus demonstrating that the "Peerless One" combines inventive talent with commercial capacity. The question might well be asked how farmers would be benefited through a change of administration, when they have and do enjoy unprecedented prosperity under the Republican regime; indeed, the material prosperity of the country is unexampled in the history of the nation. The doubting ones are waiting with anxious gaze and straining ears for the "Great Revelation" that is to come through the vaulting into office of the Democratic party; they are trying to find the point of sincerity.

EQUAL REPRESENTATION.

Messrs. J. T. Mott, P. W. Cullinan and Judge Stowell are in New York city in attendance upon the meeting of the Republican State Committee to urge upon behalf of Oswego county, equal representation in this senatorial district. It is believed that the just demand of Oswego county will find support in the committee and that it will be decided in favor of Oswego, as it can be done without injustice to Jefferson.

CONTINENTAL CLUB.

With the arranging of the preliminaries for the political campaign, comes the frequent inquiry as to what part the one time star marching organization of the State, the Continental club of this city, will play in the program. The club membership practically resides here, the outfits must be stored somewhere and the last report from the organization was to the effect that there was a small sum of cash in the treasury. Given these things, all that is needed is an organizer, some one to drill the boys and a willingness upon the part of the former members to again participate in an effort to assist the State and National Republican cause by their own enthusiasm and ability.

How about it?

Coe Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of the Coe family is to be held at the residence of R. C. Coe on August 19. Everyone in any way related is hereby invited to attend.

By order of the Secretary.

A box of Fluffy Ruffles will help you through a busy week. For sale by Victor C. Lewis.

Advertised Letters.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., Aug. 12, 1908:

Mrs. M. Kane, Mrs. M. Kane, Prof. Carl, Elick Steeal, George M. Collins, Amos Chapman, Cynthia Sturs.

WILLIAM E. HUGHES
Postmaster.

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

City of Statues.

That Is What Washington Will One Day Be if Present Patriotic and Art Tendencies Continue.

WASHINGTON will become the handsomest city in the world if all the plans for its artistic embellishment are carried out. These plans embrace a great variety of improvements and involve the expenditure of large sums of money. In the meantime projects increase for the erection of memorials in honor of heroes and statesmen. One of the subjects that will be brought before congress early in the next session will be a proposition to provide a suitable statue of George Washington for the east front of the capitol, in view of the removal from the plaza to the Smithsonian institution of the much ridiculed Greenough statue, representing the Father of His Country in the scant and unnatural attire of a Roman senator. Representative McCall of Massachusetts, chairman of the house committee on the library, introduced in the last congress a bill providing for a replica of the J. Q. A. Ward statue of Washington which stands in front of the subtreasury building in Wall street, New York, and is one of the best sculptural portrayals of the first president in existence. He proposes to place this replica on the staircase on the east front of the capitol, so that presidents in delivering their inaugural addresses will stand at the feet of the great man who first sat in the presidential chair. Some members of the senate and house take the view, however, that the country could afford to provide a new statue instead of a replica for this important place. Those who advance this idea hold that President Washington should be represented in such a statue as delivering his inaugural address. With the removal of the Greenough statue there will be no effigy of Washington in the immediate vicinity of the capitol except a plaster replica of Houdon's work, which stands in statuary hall, the original being at Richmond. On Pennsylvania avenue there is an equestrian statue of Washington as general in command of the Continental army. It is the work of Clark Mills.

EQUESTRIAN STATUE OF WASHINGTON ON PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, WASHINGTON.

The nation's capital would be rich in monuments if half the bills introduced for their erection were to be passed. Mr. Sulzer of New York proposed in the last congress an expenditure of $50,000 for a bronze statue of Samuel J. Tilden, Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1876. Representative Chaney of Indiana thinks that there should be a statue of Pocahontas and has offered a bill to provide it. There is a national association for the purpose of erecting a suitable monument to Alexander Hamilton. The officers and members of this association are trying to raise the necessary money by private subscription, evidently having despaired of ever inducing congress to act in the matter. Scores of the most prominent men in America belong to this association. President Roosevelt has given the movement his indorsement, having written that it is a shame that no monument has ever been erected to the memory of Hamilton. There is no statue or monument of General Grant in Washington, but it is proposed to have a statue as soon as the dispute can be settled as to whether some historic trees shall be felled in the botanic gardens of the government to make room for it. There are two so called monuments of President Lincoln in Washington. The first is in front of the building used by the courts of the District of Columbia. It was erected shortly after the civil war by negroes. It is a poor excuse for a monument, but it was the best the recently emancipated slaves could do. The other is in Lincoln park, on Capitol hill.

A statue of the great Polish patriot, Kosciusko, is to be located in Lafayette park. The model of the monument as a whole represents Kosciusko as a hero of both hemispheres, as he is usually called by the Poles. At the front of the pedestal is a hemisphere showing the map of America, with the American eagle guarding its liberty. In the rear the other hemisphere, bearing the outline of Europe and Asia, is being strangled by a snake, representing despotism, which the Polish eagle is trying to kill with its beak and talons. To the right a Polish regular soldier, wounded and falling, is protected by a Polish farmer with his scythe. To the left an American soldier is cutting the ties of the American farmer. Above stands Kosciusko with a map showing West Point and fortifications in one hand and the other resting on his sword.

National Conversations.

If you see three men standing together on the sidewalk in any given country, you can guess the subject of their conversation. In Germany it is the army; in Russia, the bureaucracy; in France, women; in the United States, business; in England, sport, and in Turkey nothing at all.—Brussels Derniere Heure.

Out of the Hymnbook.

A minister, having given out his "notices," was about to read his hymn when he was reminded of one notice he had forgotten. Stopping, he made this announcement, apologizing for his forgetfulness. Then, much to the amusement of his audience, he began to line out the hymn as follows:

"Lord, what a thoughtless wretch am I!"—Judge's Library.

The Organ.

Like most important inventions, that of the organ is veiled in mystery. The invention of the organ has been attributed to Ctesibius, a barber of Alexandria, about 250 B. C.; also to the celebrated Archimedes, 220 B. C. It is certain that the organ was brought to Europe from the eastern or Greek empire and was applied to religious devotions in churches about A. D. 650.

To Simplify English.

It is the vowels which are the great difficulty of English pronunciation. We want our vowel sounds standardized for us—all the pronunciations, with the correct intonations, set down for us in some intelligible and easily understood form.—Country Life.

Handel's Philosophy.

Handel, when the curtain would rise upon a nearly empty house, would say soothingly to his associates:

"Ach, never mind; the music will sound all the better!"

There are two ways of meeting a trouble—either give it no attention at all or give it a great deal of attention promptly.—Atchison Globe.

The Unappreciative Londoner.

London is a marvel. But we Londoners do not wax passionate over its qualities as the enthusiastic Frenchman does over his Paris. There is more beauty, more charm, more wealth, more culture and more art to be found in London than anywhere in the world, and we stolid English people do not really appreciate it.—London Graphic.

Vicarious Osculation.

He was having some words with her chaperon.

"I'll—I'll kiss her right under your nose!" he said defiantly.

"Oh, well," said that lady, "vicarious kissing like that I can see no objection to."—Boston Transcript.

Her Little Slip.

Departing Guest—We've had a simply delightful time! Hostess—I'm so glad. At the same time I regret that the storm kept all our best people away.—Brooklyn Life.

Posted Him.

He (vainly)—See that sweet little girl in pink? I was engaged to her the whole of last summer. Stranger (eagerly)—Very glad to hear it. I am the lawyer she's commissioned to sue you for breach of promise.

Willing to Tell.

"One-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives," declared a notorious lady gossip.

"That isn't your fault," quietly observed one of her auditors.

Though wrong may win, its victory is brief.—Leonard.

The Genius.

Mark Twain said of genius at a New York banquet:

"A genius, as an old lady in Hannibal once explained to me, is a man what knows more'n he can find out and spills vittels on his clothes."

Scientific.

Briggs—Is there such a thing as a scientific kiss? Grigg—Surely; one in which you succeed in breaking away from the girl without becoming engaged to her.—Kansas City Independent.

The beginning of excellence is to be free from error.—Quintillian.

A Real Dilemma.

"Say, Mike," queried Plodding Pete, who was looking at the piece of a Sunday school paper that had come with a handout, "wot does it mean 'bout bein' between de devil an' de deep sea?"

"It's de same as bein' told t' take yer choice between goin' t' work an' takin' a bath," explained Meandering Mike.—Chicago News.

A Friend In Need.

"Loan me a dollar, old man," said the actor. "I'm hungry."

"I'm broke myself," responded the stage manager, "but I'll put you on in the bill tonight. We have an eating scene."

"Man, I'll starve before night."

"In that case I'll call a rehearsal."—St. Louis Republic.

Music.

All music is more or less dramatic, and so the march of music is toward the theater. The times of mere enjoyment of tone combinations are past.—Herr Nikisch.

There is nothing more frightful than ignorance in action.—Goethe.

ONE of the advantages of having a Bank Account is the fact that every transaction recorded on the books of the Bank in connection with your account is a record to which you may have access if necessary. Such a record often proves of great value.

This Bank will be pleased to have your business.

4% on money left 6 months.

3% on certificates of deposit--no time lost.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, Fulton, N. Y.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Five bids were received last evening at an adjourned meeting of the Board, for the construction of the proposed sewers on West Third, Worth, West First and Hannibal streets, viz.: P. Massaro, $4,569.09; S. Brown, $6,283.46; C. L. Hookway, $7,584.12; Barnet Company, $8,569.73; John Hendrick, $7,309.81.

The Board ordered the certified checks accompanying the three latter bids to be returned, while the two first were held to await final action of the Board, which meets this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Take a light, comfortable, easy-rowing boat from the Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street, and meet your friends down the river. Given a luncheon and a congenial crowd and no more delightful outing could be imagined.

THE FOSTER THEATRE.

The Foster Theatre will open early in September under new management. Messrs. Keely & Navarro of New York City are the new lessees, and they have arranged an attractive list of bookings for the coming season. "Strong-heart," "The man of the hour," "The lion and the mouse," "Fifty miles from Boston," "Graustark," "Corine," "When we were friends," and many other musical and dramatic successes will pay a visit to Fulton under direction of the new management.

Row boats and canoes to rent at reasonable prices at Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street.

An Unwritten Law.

The smaller man bristled up.

"See here," he growled, "you have applied two unpleasant terms to me." Then he paused and scowled and came a little closer. "I just want you to understand that a third term doesn't go in this country."

Whereupon the big man drew back a little and said no more.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Eastman Kodaks, from the "Brownie" at $2.00 up to $75.00, at Lasher's Book Store.

A Little Bit Thick.

"Yes," said the old salt, "I've seen some pretty thick fogs in my time. Why, off the coast of Newfoundland the fog was sometimes so thick that we used to sit on the rail and lean against it! We were sitting one night, as usual, with our backs up against the fog, when suddenly the fog lifted, and we all went flop into the water. A bit thick, wasn't it?"

Located at Last.

Drummer (settling bill in Eagle House, Hayfield)—Pardon my curiosity, sir, but what do you stuff your beds with in this hotel? Landlord (proudly)—Best straw to be had in this hull county, b'gosh! Drummer—Ah! That is very interesting. I know now where the straw came from that broke the camel's back!—Puck.

Cook a Meal for One Cent.

Write S. L. Head, Caughdenoy, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents, and he will tell you how you can procure heat in your cook stove enough to cook an ordinary meal without the use of either wood or coal, the cost per meal is nearly 1 cent. Address, S. L. Head, Box 62, Caughdenoy, N. Y., and save money the rest of your life. tf

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. ae16

Nearly everybody reads The Syracuse Herald. If they don't you know it very quickly after you have had a talk with "someone" who don't. Hard to find the "someone" nowadays.

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC CO.

Contractors and Engineers for all kinds of

Electrical Installations

Dynamos, Meters, Fans, Bells, Fixtures, Etc. Fire Proof Wiring a Specialty

Estimates Cheerfully Given on Application

J. C. KETCHAM, Manager

Telephone 243 — 634 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

CHURCH NOTES.

Presbyterian Church

Services next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday school at 12 m. Vesper service discontinued until September.

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Baptist Church.

The Rev. Edward Babcock of Eau Clair, Wis., who supplied so satisfactory a year ago, will supply the Baptist pulpit on Sunday, both morning and evening. Everybody welcome.

State Street Church.

Public worship at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.30 p. m.

Prayer service on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

First M. E Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

If you are identified with no other church in the city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

ZION CHURCH.

Ninth Sunday after Trinity, Aug. 16.

Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.

Morning prayer, Litany and sermon, 10:30 a. m.

Evensong and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

The parish Aid Society will meet for work at the rectory on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Salvation Army.

Captain and Mrs. Jordison will conduct the morning service at the Congregational Church next Sunday. Sunday school at the Army at 2 p. m. and evening service at 8 o'clock. All are welcome.

JOHN A. BOARDMAN & CO.

STOCK BROKERS

Oswego Office—No. 6 Neal Block

Phone 1208 C. J. Bellinger, Mgr.

Securities bought and sold for cash or on moderate margins.

New York Office—53 Broadway

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

IF YOU WANT A GOOD QUALITY OF

ASPHALT ROOFING

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY AND PERHAPS PICK UP A FEW CRUMBS FOR OURSELVES..

COME AND SEE

GILBERT & NICHOLS CO.

Telephone 4 — Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

Old Sol

cannot make your home uncomfortable if you use Electricity.

By day the electric fan brings coolness and relief, and at night the light has no heat, dirt or smell to add to your discomfort. You can cook by electricity and keep all heat out of the house.

It is up-to-date, healthful and economical...what more can you obtain?

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Miss Belle Brando is very critically ill.

Miss Belle Murray of Oswego is the guest of Miss Elizabeth McCallister.

Mr. Orrin Henderson spent Sunday in Tully.

Miss Florence Doxtater does not gain in health.

Mr. Henry VanNote of Atlantic Highlands is the guest of Miss May Gardner.

Mr. Clarence Richardson has returned from a visit at Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

City Judge F. G. Spencer has returned from Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Mr. Edward Bread has been in Chittenango.

Mrs. F. D. Dutcher of Rochester street is recovering from her recent illness.

The Misses Ruth and Susan Graham are at Fourth Lake.

Miss Maude Kendall of Old Forge, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. H. Brando.

Mrs. Castle Gardner and daughters, Hazel and Lena, are at Thousand Island Park.

James H. Brooks, Jr., is spending some time in Philadelphia, Pa., and Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. Oscar M. Coe and little son, Ellsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coe were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar I. Coe at Bundyville, on Wednesday.

Miss Janet F. Kelley has returned from a visit in the families of Mr. and Mrs. John Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Adon Smith, Hamilton.

Messrs G. A. Rappole and E. E. Rappole are entertaining their sister, Mrs. S. G. Porter of Theresa and their uncle, Mr. C. A. Carpenter of Black river.

The Misses Fannie and Nellie Rappole on Thursday entertained at dinner Miss Hazel Lameon of Fulton and the Misses Mae Hutton and Gertrude Johnson of Rome.

Dr. Murney Lewis of New York City, will sail on August 15, for a four months sojourn among the hospitals in European countries. Upon his return he will open offices in the metropolis.

Properly Fitted Eye-Glasses

BRING their own WELCOME. With defective eyesight or improperly fitted glasses one cannot enjoy either health, wealth or happiness.

We are competent and equipped to give you the best service in this line.

Give us a call; we will tell you whether or not you need glasses.

W. C. Morgan

113 Cayuga Street Fulton

Warren Martin has returned from the North Woods.

Mrs. E. E. Taylor is visiting friends in Richland.

Mr. John Reynolds continues to slowly gain in strength.

Miss Maria Edgarton has been visiting in Syracuse.

Mr. M. R. Rust has returned from Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Fuller of Cayuga street is visiting friends at Adams.

Frank Porter was at the Thousand Islands over Sunday with his family who are staying there.

Mrs. Harry Pilch will spend August with relatives in Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Frank W. Cabel of Syracuse has been called to Fulton by the illness of Mrs. Crosby.

Mrs. Hattie Edgarton Case of Syracuse spent Sunday with Fulton friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Rust have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. F. Waldron of Skaneateles.

The ladies of State Street Church Missionary societies served ice cream on the parsonage lawn last evening.

Miss Lillias Waugh is visiting her aunt, Mrs. George H. Wright, in Watertown.

Master Joseph Mangeot has been enjoying an outing at Thousand Island Park.

Rev. S. T. Dibble and wife of Ogdensburg are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Draper.

Mrs. Emma Robinson and son James of Cayuga street returned on Saturday from the Thousand Island Park. He also made a trip to Montreal.

The Misses Wise, daughters of Alderman and Mrs. Wise of Bradford, Pa., are the guests of their nephew, Mr. Leo B. Perkins, of Seneca street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lamont of Yonkers are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rudd of South Third street.

Mrs. DeWitt Gardner of Worth street is spending the week at the the homestead farm at Battle Island with Mrs. Grove Dutton.

A certain lawyer in Syracuse is dubbed "Necessity" by his opponents, they contending that he is fitted to wear the name because "necessity knows no law."

Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Revels have returned to their home in Syracuse after spending five weeks with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead in this city and at the Pleasant Point club house.

The Oswego County Pomona Grange is finding difficulty in securing a place to hold meetings on account of the large attendance, regardless of weather. This must be a very encouraging sign.

A large number of new works of fiction have been added recently to the Lasher Reading club. Every book is worth your time to read and worth more than two cents per day per book which Mr. Lasher charges you for the privilege of reading them.

Mr. A. L. Beardsley has returned from a visit with his son, Mr. A. M. Beardsley in Norwalk, Conn. Mr. Beardsley while away visited many historic spots in the New England States and thoroughly enjoyed every moment of his visit. He reports disastrous droughts throughout these States.

Comrade Dutton in his experience as a soldier in 147th, published in The Observer in twelve numbers, certainly saw the elephant in war time. William H. Brackett in his reminiscences of the 81st saw enough. I have influenced Major W. D. Ferguson to give his experience in the 24th and 184th regiments. S. D. GARDNER.

Merrell, the 14-year- old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Barnes of Detroit, Mich., who are known in this city, is touring Europe with Mr. Percy of the Solvay Process company. The young man writes Fulton friends that he attended the Marathon races, bet on the American runners and displayed the red, white and blue at all times.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week J. C. O'Brien will have on exhibition in his cloak department, a model of the much talked of sheath Directoire gown in a pleasing combination of colors, which he invites the public to inspect. This is an opportunity not to be rejected as but few know why so much space should be devoted each week by foreign and home newspapers to so simple a subject as a woman's gown.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, safe, easy, pleasant, sure, little liver pills. Sold by all druggists.

WANTED

Farm and City Property

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Mr. D. L. Lipsky is at Sacandaga Park for a few days.

Mr. F. A. Stafford has returned from a hunting trip at Fourth Lake.

Mrs. Risley Tucker of Buffalo is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gage.

Mrs. S. E. Morin and Mrs. H. M. Morin are spending two weeks at Fourth Lake.

Mr. Albert Egleston of Auburn spent Sunday with Mr. H. C. Beals in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Allen and daughter leave Thursday for a stay in Constantia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Farley have been called to Prospect by the death of Mr. Farley's brother.

Miss Ruby Partrick has returned to Chicago, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Partrick.

Mrs. William G. A. Pelley and daughter have returned from a western trip. Mr. Pelley returned on Saturday from an extended business trip west.

Messrs. B. C. Boigedi and R. J. Draper are in Troy as delegates to the State convention, O. U. A. M., in session, as delegates from the local lodge. Mr. Draper is a member of the State Law Committee of the Order.

Mr. Seymour Spoon of Amboy has announced that he will not be a candidate for sheriff on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Spoon's wife died recehtly and her loss, coupled with business reasons, have decided him in this course. Supervisor James Gray of Parish is now being actively interested in a candidacy for the position.

Mrs. Nancy R. Crosby, aged 92, a sufferer from heart disease, feeling an attack coming on Saturday evening attempted to walk from one room to another and fell, sutaining a fractured hip. Drs. H. P. Marsh and C. J. Bacon were called and administered to the aged sufferer. Owing to her advanced age no hopes for her recovery are entertained.

John Gillard and Daniel Soper on Monday found some nice, slim nitroglycerine cartridges near the O. & W. station and being of an investigating turn of mind they started in to learn the construction of the innocent looking articles. A wire was used in the process and as John held the cartridge and Dan did the boring it was John who suffered a badly lacerated hand, the explosion necessitating the calling of Drs. C. J. Bacon and H. P. Marsh to repair the damage thus inflicted. The bones in the right hand were left intact but the flesh is mutilated beyond description. Taking this injury and the fact that the baseball association owe John over $30 makes it appear as though he was receiving more than his share of left handed benefactions.

Mr. W. N. Hilbert, clerk in the Bank of England, has sent to H. N. Gilbert the London Times, containing a full report of the Olympic games, the most noted of which was the Marathon race with fifty-five starters of thirteen nationalities, who ran from Windsor Castle to the Stadium, 26 miles. The winner was T. J. Hayes, an American, who ran the distance in two hours, fifty-five minutes, eighteen seconds. The Times says it was a glorious hot July afternoon, with hardly a breath of wind, ideal for a bathe or a game of cricket perhaps, but terrible for a feat of endurance of "wind," stamina, muscle, and feet, and the task of the men—26 odd miles over roads in many places hard and dusty, and with the sun blazing down for long times together—seemed to the writer perfectly appalling.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change. . .

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

Miss Florence Steel is visiting in Utica.

Miss Lela Church is spending two weeks at The Hermitage, Otsego Lake.

Mrs. T. B. Reynolds and daughters are spending two weeks at Sylvan Beach.

Mr. W. A. O'Hare has returned from a vacation spent at Old Forge.

Mr. H. A. Waldorf has returned from a visit with friends in Michigan.

Mr. William Schenck of Albany is visiting Fulton relatives.

Mrs. Luke Carney has returned from a visit at Niagara Falls and Batavia.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Trambley have returned from Gloversville.

Mr. W. J. Lovejoy and Miss Georgia Lovejoy are spending a fortnight at Henderson Bay.

Miss Josephine Bennett of New York City is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Job Bennett.

Dr. Murney Lewis of New York City has been the guest of his parents, Hon. and Mrs. T. D. Lewis.

Miss Alice Murphy has accepted a position as stenographer in the law offices of Mead, Stranahan & Guile.

Miss Bertha Blake of South Hannibal is the new saleswoman in the J. C. O'Brien store.

Miss Florence Dexter has resumed her duties as cashier in the W. H. Patterson store, after a fortnights vacation.

Mrs. James Coats and Miss Emma Coats of Brooklyn are the guests of Mrs. Hattie Barlow and Miss Gertrude Farrell.

Miss Grace J. Tucker has returned from a visit with Miss Grace Hubbard of Phoenix.

Mrs. Harris Rosenbloom and Miss May Rosenbloom leave on Thursday for a two weeks stay at Scroon Lake.

Miss Cornelia Hornibrook and Miss Agnes Gibson of Jersey City are the guests of Mrs. M. J. Hornibrook.

Messrs. Charles and Vincent Hall have returned from a visit with friends in Canada.

Miss Jane Guile will leave today for Agate Camp, Fourth Lake, where she will spend a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. John Case and Mrs. I. C. Gary of New York City are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Case Lewis of Third street.

Oneida Dispatch—Seth Lee and Clarence Clifford left Wednesday afternoon for an automobile trip through Central New York.

Miss Ida Patten has recovered from a long illness with rheumatism, and resumed her duties in the F. W. Lasher store.

Mrs. R. B. McCully of New York City is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McCully. Mr. McCully is visiting his son, Dr. McCully, at Union Springs, and will return to Fulton next week for a few days.

On Saturday, August 8, as Mr. W. C. Becker, representing E. P. Dutton & Co. of New York City, was crossing the lower river bridge, he had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious injury. The canal contractors set off a heavy blast about 500 feet from the bridge and a stone the size of an egg carried to where Mr. Becker was passing, striking him on the forehead, causing a bad bruise. His hat was also crushed. There have been many complaints regarding the careless methods employed in blasting, many serious mishaps being narrowly averted. There seems on the part of the city administration a disinclination to compel the contractors to use any precaution in the matter.

The first annual field day of the Pleasant Point club was held at the club house on Thursday. There were 275 club members and their friends in attendance and sports, dancing, boating and fishing filled the hours. Among the guests present from Fulton were Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Whitaker and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunter, Miss Anita Hunter, Mr. W. J. Lovejoy, Miss Georgia Lovejoy, Mrs. Jessie Jenkins, Mrs. Julia Steele, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Morrill, Mr. James Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. McKinstry, Mrs. G. G. Chauncey, Mr. G. A. Gilbert, the Misses Lucy and Kate Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Dilts, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton, Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead, Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howe, Mrs. Livingston, Mrs. Elizabeth Rugg, Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Revels, Syracuse, and Mr. and Mrs. Drew of Jacksonville, Fla., were also among the guests.

Special values in Tablets, Whiting's Linen Stock, all sizes, ruled and plain, for only 10c, while they last, at Lasher's Book Store.

O. Henderson & Co.

Special for This Week

12 Yards Fruit of the Loom, Lonsdale or Hill's Bleached Cotton for $1.00

Fine Apron Gingham, worth 8c; this week's sale at 5c

Your choice of our fine assortment of Silk Gingham at 19c

Special in Hand Towels this week at . . 5c

Large assortment of Hamburgs at . . 5c

O. Henderson & Co.

H. A. Waldorf, Manager

109 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

Mrs. F. E. Goodjon has returned from Chautauqua.

Miss Elizabeth McCallister is enjoying a weeks respite from her duties in the W. A. Butts shoery.

Messrs. Lawson Woodbury and John Pratt of Buffalo, accompanied by two young men friends, are enjoying camp life at Reynolds Woods.

Miss Margaret Green spent Monday in this city. She is caring for Mrs. Tuller, Mrs. Samuel Hunter's mother in Syracuse, while Mr. and Mrs. Hunter are in Alaska.

"The Faithful Ten" will hold a food sale at the J. H. St Louis store, First street, on Saturday, August 15. The proceeds will be applied on the building fund of the Baptist church.

Hon. Alfred S. Rowe and daughter, Harriet, of Worcester, Mass., have been visiting at the home of the Rev. A. M. Roe, enroute to Red Creek to attend the reunion of the Ninth New York Heavy Artillery to-day.

It is reported that a newly organized contracting company, the members of which are well known in Fulton, have fallen down on a large contract which they secured and that two of their Fulton friends who went on their bond in the sum of $30,000 have become liable to the town.

Dr. and Mrs. John J. Stevens of Washington, D. C., will arrive in Fulton on Thursday, where they will become the guests of Mrs. William Stephens and Mrs. L. C. Foster.

John Prentiss sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and a dislocated collar bone as a result of a kick from a horse which he was about to feed at his stable on Friday.

Thomas F. Moore, of Syracuse has sued Mosier & Somers, the Buffalo contractors, for $702 for dump wagons sold for the work at Fort Ontario. The complaint alleges that F. E. Gribben, who made the purchase was an agent of the firm.

James Ryan, aged 12, on Friday rescued, his comrade, Elias Parker, from a watery grave in the canal while they were in swimming near the power station. Parker was taken with cramps while in the water and young Ryan, realizing from the expression of his face when he went under the water, that something was wrong, dived after him, bringing him safely to shore but in an exhausted condition.

There is a little agitation tending toward a proper observance of Labor Day in this city this year, the plan being to have an industrial parade participated in by all the manufacturies in the city; representatives from the different trades, labor unions, etc., the parade to end up at the baseball grounds where sports, a game of ball, races, etc., will be enjoyed. Whether or not the agitation will develope into anything more than talk remains to be seen.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

At a meeting of the Board held on Monday evening the City Clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for paving, curbing and storm sewers in the streets to be paved. Sealed bids are to be received up to 8 o'clock on the evning of August 24.

The City Engineer was instructed to furnish a grade for sidewalks adjacent to properties owned by Charles True in Worth street, H. S. Baldwin in Third street and John Gibbons was notified to repair with concrete a walk on his property at No. 102 Third street.

Upon request of property owners, Messrs. J. A. Morrill and G. P. Wells were selected to act with the Board in connection with the paving of Cayuga street between Second and Third streets.

The August American Boy.

Unalloyed enjoyment of the water's refreshing coolness is shown on the face of the boy looking out from the front cover of the August American Boy, and the contents of the magazine just fit in with the vacation season. Of the many splendid short stories in this issue, there are: In the hands of the enemy; The Traiter of Camp Bennett, a fine story of boys camping out and how a traiter was dealt with; A Boy and a Bear; In Quest of a Sea-Otter; History Written in Bark; My Friend's Stiff Shoulder. The various departments are filled with the sort of matter which appeals to the boys and their hobbies. 76 illustrations. $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

New Music For Our Readers.

"I'll Come Back When the Autumn Leaves are Falling," composed by CARL GUTESSON, is one of the greatest song hits of the year and is sung nightly in over 300 theatres throughout the United States by the most popular singers and is always greeted with great applause. The chorus is in march time and is very catchy. The regular retail price of this song is 50 cents per copy. By special arrangements with the publishers, OUR READERS will receive a copy post-paid by sending 15 cents in postage stamps to THE GLOBE MUSIC CO., No. 1155 Broadway, New York.

N. B. For church entertainments sixteen beautiful moving picture slides can be obtained by addressing the publishers.

SPECIAL EXCURSION RATES.

To Oswego, via New York Central, account State Firemen's Convention, August 17-21. One and one-half regular fare for round trip. Tickets good to return until August 22, inclusive. Consult Ticket Agents for detailed information. 8-12

STATE FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

On account State Firemen's Convention at Oswego the Lackawanna will sell round trip tickets at the rate of 40 cents, good going from August 15th to 21st inclusive, return to August 22nd. Great preparations are being made to make Parade day one of the best ever held. Trains at convenient hours—8:13 a. m., 1:52 and 6:25 p. m. 8-10

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.

Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.

Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.

Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.

Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.

Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
315 First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
107 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
Office Hours—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
Special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

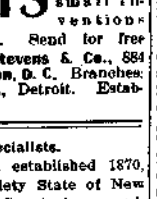
Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON.
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 46 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments



Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:
First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego
I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.
Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.
Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:
On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.
Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.
MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows.
On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.
On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.
Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the
CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

Plums and Graft.
"If you want plenty of good plums," remarked the practical horticulturist, "you have to graft."
"Exactly," agreed the practical politician; "so you do."—Baltimore American.

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in atomizers 75 cts.
Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Boy's Life Saved.
My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians, both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Just as Good.
"We are trying to educate our readers to recognize the evils of substitution," said the business manager of one of the popular magazines. "Through our advertising pages we are trying to get them up to the point where they will insist upon getting what they ask for and will take nothing else. The merchant who has 'something just as good' is no more to be depended upon than a clerk in a certain country store which a friend visited to buy something.
"My friend had been invited unexpectedly to make an automobile trip and was not fully prepared for it. The roads were very dusty, and after traveling several miles the party came to a little country village, where my friend thought he might be able to purchase something to protect his clothing. The automobile halted before the general store of the village. My friend alighted and accosted a drowsy clerk. 'I want to get a linen duster,' he said.
"'I am very sorry,' said the clerk, 'but we are just out of linen dusters. I can let you have a nice feather duster!'"

Summer complaints and other serious ailments common in hot weather can be traced to the stomach nine times out of ten. Keep the stomach in good order right now by keeping a bottle of Kodol handy in the house all the time, but especially during this month. Take Kodol whenever you feel that you need it. That is the only time you need take Kodol. Just when you need it; then you will not be troubled with your stomach, belching, gas on the stomach, bloating, dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold by all druggists.

The Wearing of a Watch.
At a meeting of the British Watch and Clock Makers' guild "Which is the better way to keep a watch at night—lying flat or hanging up?" was debated. The general opinion was that it was better to let it lie flat. The vice president of the guild said it depended upon the kind of watch. If it were one such as Captain Cuttle wore or anything incapable of giving some sort of timekeeping, the wearer should be advised to keep it always in one position. It will wear out sooner, but that does not much matter. A good watch should lie flat at night. The variation of rate between hanging and lying is very small, and the difference is practically constant, so that the mean rate is constant. In the hanging position all the parts are running on the side bearings, where there is the greatest friction and wear. By letting the watch lie flat at night and run on the end bearings, where there is less friction, the wear is distributed and the watch made more durable.

Diarrhoea Cured.
"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

A Natural Inference.
"Pa," said Johnnie Dumbley, "what's an apploogue?"
"Why, it's a—er—a fable, my son," said Mr. Dumbley. "Usually designed to convey a moral lesson. Why do you ask?"
"Oh, nothin'," said Johnnie, "only I've lost a dime on it. Me and Billie Watkins had a bet, and I said it was the original commandment in the garden of Eden. If the Decalogue is the Ten Commandments I don't see why that first one ain't an apploogue."—Harper's Weekly.

Professional Pessimism.
The actors who solemnly advise young men and women to keep off the stage, the lawyers who speak discouragingly of the law's delays, the writers who decry their own profession, all are wasting their time and adding nothing to their own reputations. The general croaker is a pessimist and therefore a nuisance.—Chicago Tribune.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

If You Read This
It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.
The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that has any such professional endorsement, world more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.
A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Joys of Being Fat.
According to a writer, in an English magazine, it is the fat men that get all the good things in life. They are conducted to the best tables at restaurants, they get the corner seats in the theater and always seem to have enough money to get along without worrying. When a fat man enters a drawing room, doesn't he always get the most comfortable chair? asks the writer. When his hat blows off on a windy day, doesn't some one always run after it for him? No one expects him to get up in a bus or a train to give his seat to a lady. He would block the gangway if he did. Even his wife doesn't expect him to stoop to pick up things when she drops them. Everybody tells him the best stories, because everybody likes to hear him laugh.

The little attacks of stomach trouble and stomach disorders will undoubtedly lead to chronic dyspepsia unless you take something for a sufficient time to strengthen the stomach and give it a chance to get well. If you take Kodol in the beginning the bad attacks of Dyspepsia will be avoided, but if you allow these little attacks to go unheeded it will take Kodol a little longer time to put your stomach in good condition again. Get a bottle of Kodol today. Sold by all druggists.

When the Woman Fainted.
A traveling man was in a smoking car when a man rushed in from the car behind evidently in a great agitation and said: "Has any one in this car any whisky? A woman in the other car has fainted."
Instantly a dozen flasks were produced. The man who had asked for it picked out the largest one, drew the cork and put the bottle to his lips. With a long, satisfied sigh, he handed the flask back and remarked: "That did me a lot of good. I needed it, for it always makes me ill to see a woman faint away."—Kansas City Independent.

But Not Literally.
It is related of a preacher in a small town who was to be absent from his pulpit a fortnight that he recently announced after the sermon:
"The preacher for next Sunday will be Mr. Plank, and the one for the Sunday after you'll find hanging up behind the door on the other side of the vestry."

Foresight.
Algy — They want £6,000 for the lease, Maria. It runs for eighty-nine years.
Maria—Oh, don't buy it, Algy. Only eighty-nine years! Fancy, dear, baby being turned out of his house at ninety-one and possibly infirm into the bargain!—London Fun.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.
A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.
It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.
It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.
When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.
Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA.

Charles N. Haskell, New Treasurer of Democratic National Committee.

The choice of Charles N. Haskell, governor of Oklahoma, as treasurer of the Democratic national committee has a special interest in that Oklahoma is the only state in the Union in which the safety of deposits in banks is guaranteed by law as recommended in the Democratic platform. The newest state of the sisterhood in adopting its constitution determined to give the plan of guaranteeing bank deposits a trial, and almost at the outset it will have the responsibility of guarding the funds of the Democratic national committee, as Treasurer Haskell has announced that he will deposit them within the commonwealth. He has given much study to the subject of finance and is a lawyer, although he has not confined his operations altogether to his legal practice, but has been active in the industrial development of Oklahoma, especially in the building of railway lines. He had much to do with drafting the constitution of the state and is an advocate of laws forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquors. He was talked of at one time as a possible candidate of the Democratic party for president in case of the adoption by that party of a prohibition platform.

CHARLES N. HASKELL.

Governor Haskell was born in Putnam county, O., in 1860 and was left an orphan at an early age. He suffered much hard treatment as a youth, but his pluck served to extricate him from the power of those who would have kept him from rising in the world. He worked as farm laborer, taught school and spent his leisure time in reading law, finally in 1881 being admitted to the bar. He began practice at Ottawa, O. He has been married twice, his present wife having been Miss Lillie E. Gallup.

THE TAFT PORCH.

The Cincinnati Home That Was Scene of Notification Ceremonies.

This is proving a good deal of a porch campaign, for so far neither Mr. Bryan nor Mr. Taft has made any speeches except to delegations calling upon them. The home of Charles P. Taft in Cincinnati, where Judge Taft received the committee charged with formally notifying him of his nomination and where he delivered his speech of acceptance, has figured a good deal in the news because of the fact that since he resigned from the war department and left Washington the Republican candidate for president has had no regular abiding place. When in Ohio he stays at the home of his brother Charles, and in the course of the canvass the porch of this house may be expected to witness many scenes of political interest. The house has been the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taft so long that they are loath to remove from it to a more fashionable section, although it is now almost surrounded with factories and other business structures. The residence has a stately appearance, and the grounds about it are spacious and are kept with scrupulous care.

PORCH OF TAFT RESIDENCE IN CINCINNATI.

There are many rare and beautiful things in the home of Charles P. Taft, among them a collection of paintings valued at several hundred thousand dollars. The story is told that some years ago owners of real estate tried to work off on Mr. Taft some property near his home and to get a high price for it by threats of selling it for factory purposes. Mr. Taft would not be intimidated, however, and when the threats were carried out and factory buildings were erected, he put up a high fence around a portion of his grounds.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo, for free search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
925 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA·SNOW & Co.

CASTORIA
The Kind You Have Always Bought and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this.
All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

The Barrel on the Sidewalk.
A barrel stood on the sidewalk, and beside it stood a man. The man was dressed in laborer's clothes and apparently was in a quandary about how to get the barrel to one of the upper floors. He scratched his head and pondered, and meanwhile a crowd began to gather.
"Rig up a derrick and hoist it by hand," suggested one man with a clay pipe in his mouth.
The man beside the barrel made no response.
"Get a rope and pulley and hitch a horse to the rope. That'll get the thing up in jig time," suggested another.
The man remained silent.
"Why in the dickens doesn't he put it on the temporary elevator and take it up that way?" asked the man with red whiskers.
"I know a better way than that," said the man with patches on his trousers. "Just rig up a boatswain's outfit, and the thing can be hauled up quick as a wink."
Suddenly the man beside the barrel took a red bandanna handkerchief from his pocket, wiped his forehead, took a chew of tobacco, put the barrel on his shoulder and carried it up to the second floor.
The barrel was empty.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Our Language Is So Explicit!
The tradesman had rendered his bill, waited a month and then wrote:
"Please, sir, I want my bill."
Back came the bill with these words:
"Certainly; here it is."
The bill was returned, and in a month the tradesman again wrote:
"Kindly send me the amount of my bill."
And the answer came promptly and politely:
"Certainly; it is $104.26."
The third month the tradesman again wrote:
"Will you send me a check for the amount of my bill?"
The answer came, with a blank, unsigned check:
"Certainly; here is the check. I have kept the amount of your bill."
The fourth month the tradesman wrote:
"I want my bill paid."
And the answer came back, "So do I."
Then the tradesman gave it up.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Clean Food.
It is a good deal more important that food shall not carry the germs of disease than that it shall be chemically pure. Table salt, for example, may contain some soda salts other than the chloride and still be perfectly healthful. Corn bread is less healthful when made from pure cornmeal than when it has some admixture of wheat flour. But food that is not clean may be more dangerous than any adulterated food product sold today, provided the adulterated article carries no disease germs.—Boston Advertiser.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St., 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 5.10 P.M
" New York, West 42d St., 5.30 P.M
" New York, Desbrosses St., 6.00 P.M
Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. O. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND

5.48 a. m.	Train No.	335
8.10 a. m., Daily	"	337
11.51 a. m.	"	301
3.31 p. m., Daily	"	351
6.10 p. m.	"	303
10.10 p. m., Daily	"	315

SOUTH BOUND

8.04 a. m.	Train No.	302
9.39 a. m., Daily	"	318
2.14 p. m.	"	350
5.09 p. m., Daily	"	328
7.04 p. m.	"	342
9.34 p. m., Daily	"	336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND

†Chicago Limited for all points West	3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	11 06 "
*Local for Oswego	5 10 PM
sLocal for Oswego	8 48 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego	7 39 "

SOUTH BOUND

†Express for Norwich	2 25 AM
§Sylvan Beach Special	8 53 "
*Local for Sidney	9 18 AM
†Limited for New York	12 30 PM
†Express for New York	7 05 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
s Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers. Parlor Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 56 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAGE, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The RASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer does not wait. We have proofs of cures. Rason Cancer Institute, Broadway Cor. 74th St., N. Y.

The Companies that Paid Lossess in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

Is Oratory a Drawback?

The great orators have not been the most fortunate aspirants for the presidency. Webster, Clay, Douglas and Blaine were idolized by their followers, not only for their abilities and personal traits, but also for their persuasive powers of speech. Horace Greeley, candidate of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans in 1872, was not a notable orator, but was none the less an effective talker. He made a speaking tour in the latter part of the campaign, and, although his position was an anomalous one, he acquitted himself with credit, even if he was overwhelmingly defeated. Tilden, who in his free soil days made speeches, obtained his mastery by his pen, not by his tongue. Grant, who was called the silent man because he could not make a speech when he first became a candidate, learned to speak very well in public, his speech for Garfield in 1880 being a good example of his development in that direction.—Boston Globe.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

"Balderdash!"

An illustration of the manners of critics in bygone days is furnished by a scathing notice once printed concerning a volume of Browning's poems. It was an early volume, and Browning was delighted to receive a letter from J. S. Mill proposing to write a notice of them in the Westminster Review. A few days later his expectations were dashed by hearing from Mr. Mill that he could not write the article, as he had been forestalled by a notice which had appeared in the Westminster Review itself. With a palpitating heart Browning rushed to his club and searched the pages of the Westminster Review, to find, to his dismay, the article which had robbed him of Mr. Mill's notice. It was to this effect: "A volume of poems by Browning—balderdash!"

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

A Good and Safe Rule.

It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness or speaking a true word or making a friend.—John Ruskin.

A Man's Idea.

A man's idea of a becoming hat for his wife is a hat that costs $1.39.—Nashville American.

The 1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line—Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 12:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:30 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 12:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17, Olcott Beach July 7th.
6-12

NOTICE OF COMPLETION OF ASSESSMENT.

Notice is hereby given that the Assessors of the Town of Volney have completed their Assessment Roll for the present year, and that a copy thereof is left with Wm. H. Owen, where the same may be seen and examined by any person interested therein, until the 18th of August and that the said Assessors will meet at Town Hall in said Town of Volney on the said 18th of August at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to hear and examine all complaints in relation to such assessments, and to review their assessments on the application of any person conceiving himself aggrieved.

Dated, Volney, the 3rd day of August, 1908.

WM. H. OWEN,
Z. B. AUSTIN,
GEO. A. PARKER,
Assessors.

What Killed the Adjutant?

A good story from the regimental journal of the "Fighting Fifth" concerns Colonel (then Captain) FitzRoy and dates back to 1860. FitzRoy was possessed of an air gun, and one afternoon he took a shot at an adjutant, a bird which, being an excellent scavenger, is protected from injury by a fine of 100 rupees. Several people saw the bird fall, but heard no report. There was, of course, a hubbub, and a court of inquiry was ordered to investigate the bird's death.

As luck would have it, FitzRoy was appointed president of the court, the finding of which was duly recorded as follows: "The court, having carefully investigated all the evidence brought before it, have come to the conclusion that the bird died of sunstroke."—(Signed) Phil FitzRoy, Captain and President."—Allahabad Pioneer.

"Let us show you how simple it is to make good pictures with the Eastman "Kodaks." With the tank developing machines it is "Daylight" all the way through, no more "Dark Room" troubles with the Eastman way. "Kodaks" all the way, from $1.00 up to $75.00. Eastman films are the only reliable ones; you cannot afford to use poor films. For sale at Lasher's Book Store.

Russian Women.

A Russian paid the following glowing tribute to the women of his native land: "The women of Russia combine the vivacity and wit of the Frenchwoman with the industry and thrift for which the women of Germany are famous. She is a superb wife and mother and withal a fine mental worker. The Russian girl student is generally in the front rank at the universities. Doubtless some of her fine qualities are due to the fact that in Russia women are free and are in every respect considered to be the equals of men. Russian women are born politicians and diplomats and so intensely patriotic that they esteem no sacrifice too great for their country; hence as revolutionists—however misguided—they are infinitely more daring and devoted than the men. Secrets have been wrung from male revolutionaries by torture, but never from the women."

Does your back ache? Do you have sharp pains in the side and small of the back? This is due, usually, to kidney trouble. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They will promptly relieve weak back, backache, rheumatic pains and all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by all druggists.

Too Many Trombones.

The following anecdote concerning Donizetti and the score of Rossini's "Otello" is told by the Musical World:

Donizetti had asked Sigismondi, the director of the Naples Conservatorio, to look over the score with him, and the two sat down at a table with the work in front of them. Presently Sigismondi began to rave about its "monstrous orchestration." Terrible was his indignation when he found that clarinets, bassoons and trombones had been employed in one place to swell a crescendo, but when the fortissimo was reached he uttered a cry of despair, struck the score violently with his fist, upset the table and rushed from the room, exclaiming: "A hundred and twenty-three trombones! A hundred and twenty-three trombones!" Donizetti in vain tried to call him back, shouting after him, "Not 123 trombones, but first, second and third trombones." Sigismondi would not listen and when last seen was still repeating, "A hundred and twenty-three trombones."

Pointed Tales of Noted People

Jacob A. Riis and the King of Denmark—An Unexpected Visit From William Travers Jerome.

W. T. JEROME.

NEW YORK'S much talked of district attorney, William Travers Jerome, has been taking a canoe trip on the Naugatuck river in Connecticut by way of recuperating his energies for the strenuous labors of his office. He traveled "incog.," accompanied by a friend, said to be a member of Tammany Hall. One day he paddled his canoe up to the bank where a party of students from the Sheffield Scientific school of Yale university was encamped. At the same time he paddled into a discussion of New York politics and public affairs, in the course of which he learned some things about himself he had never heard before. Camp Sheff is the name of the student resort on the Naugatuck, and when Mr. Jerome tied up there nobody recognized him. He is very democratic in his ways, and, as the students were busy setting great public questions at the time, Mr. Jerome joined in the discussion.

When the talk drifted into New York matters, with which Mr. Jerome is supposed to have at least a passing acquaintance, some of the public question solvers expressed the opinion that if New York had a district attorney who had as comprehensive a grasp of these questions as a Yale sophomore the city and the state would be a great deal better off.

Mr. Jerome was much interested and asked questions that led the criticism of the district attorney into channels that were extremely candid. After he had absorbed all the advice on tap in the camp as to the way his office should be run, Mr. Jerome handed the chief solver a card bearing the name, "Mr. William Travers Jerome." He thanked the campers profusely for the information they had given to him about himself and extended to them an urgent invitation to call on him in New York.

"Come down and see me, boys," he said, "and I'll show you the game at close range."

Then, followed by his faithful Tammany scout, he paddled away down the Naugatuck river. As he disappeared around a bend in the river the student to whom he handed his card was still looking at it in a dazed kind of way.

That ardent admirer of President Roosevelt and champion of the people of the tenements, Jacob A. Riis, is a very chivalrous man, and it was not very long ago that for a second time he took to himself a wife. He is of Danish extraction and visited Denmark this summer, paying a call on King Christian at Copenhagen. He was presented by the American minister, M. F. Egan, and extended to his majesty the greetings of President Roosevelt. The king, after a few minutes' conversation, said, with the utmost cordiality:

JACOB A. RIIS.

"Come to dinner at the palace on Monday."

Mr. Riis at once answered:

"Yes, with pleasure, if I'm permitted to bring my wife along."

The answer confused the king, who, unused to this American iconoclast of court etiquette, abruptly commenced to talk about the weather and remarked that "it was a fine day."

The audience ended prematurely.

Mr. Riis reported sick on Monday and left Copenhagen before the king had an opportunity to reinvite him.

There was a time, not much more than a year ago, when Miss Evalyn Walsh simply yearned to be a newspaper reporter and "do" a murder—on assignment. So she told a Denver girl reporter, and she begged the newspaper girl to let her know the next time the city editor had a murder to report. Miss Walsh proposed to take the assignment. She would "buy papa a nice present" with the money earned.

Now Miss Walsh is Mrs. Edward B. McLean. She has married the son of John R. McLean, the Cincinnati and Washington newspaper owner. It was called an elopement in the press, but it wasn't much of an elopement. Both sets of parents were willing, there was to be an elaborate wedding, and the young people just went away together and were wedded to avoid publicity and the frills of a fashionable affair. Marrying the son of a distinguished newspaper man, the bride thinks, is next best thing to being a reporter girl and covering a murder assignment.

E. B. M'LEAN.

Young Mrs. McLean is the daughter of Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado mine owner. She has lived in Washington several seasons, at Newport, in New York and in Colorado. Her father came to America from Ireland in his youth and made good in business. Mining successes made him a multimillionaire. It is said that the wife of young Mr. McLean is heir to $25,000,000. Three years ago her only brother was killed near Newport in an automobile accident. Miss Walsh herself was seriously injured in the same accident, but recovered after many months.

When Mr. Walsh heard of the marriage he remarked that he was perfectly satisfied.

"Honest Tom" is the home town nickname of Thomas L. Hisgen of Springfield, Mass., whom the newly born Independence party has nominated for president of the United States. Mr. Hisgen is a native of Indiana, born at Petersburg in 1858. His father was an immigrant from Germany, who settled first at Albany, N. Y., and then removed to Indiana. When the presidential nominee was sixteen years old the family returned to Albany, where Tom and several of his brothers became dry goods clerks. There were eleven children in the family.

THOMAS L. HISGEN.

The elder Hisgen spent much of his time experimenting with a formula for making axle grease. Nobody believed there was anything in it.

About twenty years ago Thomas L. and his three brothers reached the conclusion that their father's axle grease had merit. They resigned their jobs and went into the business of manufacturing the wagon wheel lubricator on a small scale. After many discouragements, including the burning of their plant, they made their product famous among consumers and erected the biggest axle grease factory in the world.

The Standard Oil company in time grew jealous of the Hisgen grease and tried to freeze out the brothers, who had refused an offer of $600,000 outright for their business. Dealers who sold Hisgen grease were notified to quit selling it, otherwise they could not sell Standard oil. So many reports of this kind came to the Hisgens that they determined to go into the oil business themselves to hold their axle grease trade. So they established the Four Brothers Independent Oil company, with headquarters at Springfield, Mass., Thomas L. being placed in charge. Mr. Hisgen made a fight against the oil monopoly and is still holding out. In 1906 he received 75,000 votes as the Independence league nominee for governor of Massachusetts. His political perferment is due primarily to his plucky stand against the Standard Oil monopoly.

John Temple Graves, nominee of the new Independence party for vice president of the United States, is a grandson of the oldest brother of John C. Calhoun. Mr. Graves was born in the Abbeville district of South Carolina, as was his famous granduncle. Most of his mature life has been spent in Georgia, where for many years he has been a distinguished editor.

After graduation from the University of Georgia in 1875 Mr. Graves entered newspaper work. He was editor of the Daily Union at Jacksonville, Fla., at the age of twenty-five. In 1887 he founded the Atlanta Journal. He was editor of the Tribune at Rome, Ga., for some years. His last newspaper work in Georgia was in the editorship of the Atlanta News. Nearly a year ago Mr. Graves accepted the editorship of the New York American, owned by William R. Hearst, who is the father of the Independence party. He is known as a forceful, brilliant editorial writer.

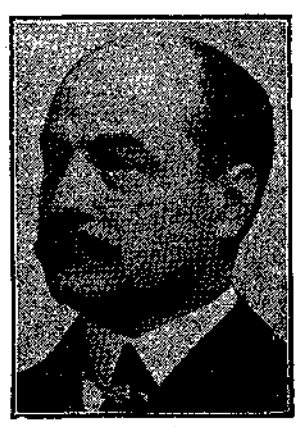
J. T. GRAVES.

Mr. Graves is also an orator and lecturer of wide reputation. As an after dinner speaker he shines with unusual brilliance. Mr. Graves caused a sensation a little more than a year ago at a dinner to Mr. Bryan in Chattanooga by advising the Nebraskan in an able speech to nominate Theodore Roosevelt for president at the forthcoming Democratic national convention.

THE MARATHON WINNER.

Hayes of New York, Department Store Employé, Who Gained Laurel.

John J. Hayes, the New York boy who won the Marathon race at the Olympic games in London under such striking circumstances, is an employee of a big department store in America's largest city. When he came into the stadium fresh and trim after his twenty-six mile run and snatched the victory from the exhausted Italian, Dorando, who fell to the ground from fatigue within a short distance of the finish line, it was not an accidental triumph for the American boy. Though but nineteen years old, he had been training for such an achievement for ten years. He belongs to the Irish-American Athletic club, the Ninth regiment, N. G. N. Y., and the athletic club of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church, of which he has been a member since the beginning of his athletic career.



JOHN J. HAYES, THE MARATHON WINNER.

For some time previous to his departure for England to compete in the games Hayes trained on an extemporized track on the roof of the store where he worked, as he had no time to go to an athletic field. He began at this store at seventeen as messenger boy and worked his way up to the post of assistant in the superintendent's office at a salary of $20 per week. On his return his employers will offer him the chance of making $4,000 or $5,000 a year as head of the sporting goods department, and they are planning a big reception for him in honor of his victory. Hayes is a little fellow, being not quite five feet four inches in height and 125 pounds in weight, but he is solidly put up and has remarkable endurance. He is not very fast in a short race, but when it comes to a long one like the Marathon his staying powers make him hard to beat, as the result of the great race in England showed.

A BRILLIANT EDUCATOR.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia and His European Trip.

It is becoming quite customary for distinguished American educators to spend their summer vacations in Europe, and one result of this is better acquaintance between the foreign exponents of education and our own. President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university has contracted the European habit, and perhaps it is not surprising, as he is very popular with the foreign educators and has received many honors and courtesies from representatives of European scholarship.

PRESIDENT NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER.

He is to deliver a course of lectures at the University of Copenhagen in September. During the summer he has been resting in France and Switzerland.

President Butler is everywhere recognized as a very brilliant man and from his youth has displayed a remarkable capacity for absorbing knowledge and imparting his ideas to others. As a child he was quite precocious. A minister once tried to joke with him.

"Nicholas," said the minister, "can you tell me what the earth's axis is?"

"Yes, sir," answered the boy. "It is an imaginary line passing from one pole to the other on which the earth revolves."

"Very good," said the minister. Then he winked at the rest. "And I suppose, Nicholas," he went on, "that you could hang a wash out on this imaginary line, eh?"

"Yes, sir; of course, sir," said the boy.

The minister looked blank at that, for it was not the answer he expected.

"Oh, you could, could you? What kind of a wash?" he said.

"An imaginary wash," said Butler.

He Passed.

Miss Lingerlong—You have been a widower for ten years, haven't you, Mr. Flint? Mr. Flint—Yes, and I am just as persistent in it as I ever was, thank you.—Smart Set.

STATE FAIR SYRACUSE
September 14th to 19th

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit)
Running Races Four-in-Hand Races
Tandem Races

GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW IN AMERICA
Greater New York's
Mounted Police Drills
Horner Davenport's Arabian Stallions
with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER
in the State
Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building
Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows

Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables
POULTRY till you can't think
CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE

FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND
40 Artists 40

Half Fair Excursions on all Roads
Ask your station agent for Rates.

Send for Prize List to
S. C. Shaver, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.

Cannibal Japs.

Young Lieutenant Marlinspike's bathing suit revealed on his right arm an Uncle Sam and on his left a peacock, while around his neck a gleaming serpent was coiled, the mouth holding its tail.

"This is Japanese tattooing," the lieutenant said proudly. "Nagasaki work. I was under the needle nineteen hours in all. My two tattooers drank quite a pint of my blood.

"Jap tattooers are all blood drinkers. They like it. They get to like it in the end as you or I like tobacco.

"You see, as they work the blood wells forth. It flows over the design, and then, very carefully, without smearing the wet ink, they lick the blood up delicately with the tongue. Every Jap tattooer as he picks and picks away at you bends down every few minutes and licks the little rising tide of blood away.

"If he is a seasoned tattooer he swallows the blood. He likes it, he says."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

When Women Admired Whiskers.

For ages beards were the delight of ancient beauties. The sight of a shaved chin excited sentiments of horror and aversion. To obey the injunctions of his bishops Louis VII. of France cropped his hair a la pompadour and shaved off his luxuriant whiskers. Eleanor Aquitane, his consort, found him with this uncommon appearance very ridiculous and very contemptible. She revenged herself by becoming something more than a coquette. The king obtained a divorce. She then married the Count of Anjou, who shortly afterward ascended the English throne, and gave him as her marriage dower the rich provinces of Poitou and Guienne. And this was the origin of those wars which for 300 years ravaged France and which cost the French nation 3,000,000 men, all of which probably had never taken place if Louis VII. had not been so rash as to shave off his whiskers, by which he made himself so disgusting to the fair Eleanor.—New York Press.

A Paradox.

"Since Footlight inherited a fortune he is a paradox."

"What's the answer?"

"He is both the richest and poorest actor on the stage."

For Coughs and Colds

Nearly all other Cough Cures are constipating, especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup moves the bowels. Contains no opiates.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard."

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious action of the bowels.

Conforms to National PURE FOOD & DRUG LAW

All Druggists

GAS COKE

....Special Summer Prices....

Until September 1st, 1908

Furnace Coke, at Yard, bushel, 9c
" " Delivered, " 10c

Stove Coke, at Yard, bushel, 10c
" " Delivered, " 11c

All orders must be left at Gas Office, Opposite Clark House

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Phone 198

COMMON COUNCIL

Fulton, Aug. 4, 1908.

Regular meeting Common Council.

Present—Messrs. Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Moved by Alderman Lockrow, seconded by Alderman Crahan that the claim of Marie Kalz for damages be referred to the Claims Committee and City Attorney. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Lockrow, seconded by Alderman Van Buren, that the claims for damages of W. J. Hall, Willard Curtis and Eugene Blodgett be referred to Claims Committee and City Attorney, and the notice of actions of Harriet A. Lamson and Ralph W Lamson be referred to City Attorney. Carried.

To the Common Council, City of Fulton:

The undersigned, the City Attorney and the Claims Committee, make the following report on the following matters which have been referred to them:

The application of Richard Barry for cancellation of taxes in the amount of $5.50 should be allowed.

In the claim of William C. Allen for damages to his horses and person, we recommend the payment of $50.00 in settlement.

The claim of Orpha C. Hammond for damages for personal injuries should be disallowed.

The claim of Gilbert Green for damages for personal injuries should be disallowed.

The claim of Mary Ann Adsit for refund of taxes should be disallowed.

The claim of Allen C. Druce for damages to horse, cutter and harness should be allowed in the sum of $42.00.

The claim of Kitty Thiebeau for damages for personal injuries should be disallowed.

Dated August 4th, 1908.

Respectfully submitted,
CLAUDE E. GUILE,
City Attorney.
A. Z. WOLEVER,
JOHN CRAHAN,
Claims Committee.

Moved by Alderman Marvin, seconded by Alderman Crahan that the report of the Claims Committe and the City Attorney in regard to the above claims be adopted by this Board. Carried.

Alderman A. Z. Wolever introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the monthly reports of Chamberlain O. S. Bogardus and Commissioner of Charities A. W. Stoneburgh be accepted and placed on file.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Chamberlain be authorized and directed to pay $530.98 to First National Bank, which amount represents collections and fees on Fourth street improvement

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman L. Van Buren introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Chamberlain be authorized and directed to pay First National Bank balance on sprinkling note amounting to $100.00 and $32.82 interest.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman John Crahan introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Chamberlain be authorized and directed to transfer $250 from the Excise Fund to the Poor Fund.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized and directed to draw an order in favor of Stephen Buck, Commander of Post Schenck, G. A. R., for $100.00 for the relief of indigent soldiers and sailors.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized and directed to draw an order in favor of Joseph Farrell for $7.00 and an order in favor of Floyd Halstead for $8.00 in payment in full for services as dog catchers for the City of Fulton.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman L. Van Buren introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be authorized and directed to draw an order for $20.00 to be used by him for purchase of stamps for the different departments of the city.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Marvin introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following salaries of city employees be paid from the different funds:

General City Fund.

C. E. Guile	$25.00
O. S. Bogardus	83.33
W. A. Harrison	60.00
L. F. Cornell	30.00
O. O. Hannis	16.41
J. M. Hewitt	16.41
G. J. Foster	16.41
E. H. Nodyne	20.83
J. W. Youngs	25.00

Poor Fund.

A. W. Stonebugh	$29.17
S. A. Russell	29.17

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Z. Wolever introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following bills be paid from the poor fund:

John Gibbons	$10.00
Mrs. William Jagamells	6.00
H. Rosenbloom	.50
R. E. Phillips	1.06
William Pelley	8.00
Stephen Nichols	1.75
Oswego Orphan Asylum	6.53
Mrs. H. Sherman	4.00
Charles Calkins	3.00
S. E. Morib	1.25
Millard Dievendorf	4.93
Stranahan & Van Buren	2.00
S. A. Russell	5.00
Mrs. G. Smith	15.00
Little & Baker	15.26
Clint Nichols	18.12
A. W. Stoneburgh	4.60

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Marvin introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following bills be paid from the General City Fund:

William Green	$ .50
Howard Morin	100.00
Fulton Fuel & Light Co.	.45
W. G. Gage & Co.	.22
J. J. Little	8.00
Daniel Brannan	9.00
L. E. Taggart	9.00
George Johnston	1.11
A. P. Bradt	9.50
Herman Rees	5.00
Frank H. King	1.50
H. M. Doane	8.50
J. Gregory	1.50
F. Roberts	1.50
J. W. Youngs	1.75
Job Bennett	2.50

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Lockrow, aye.

CITY OF FULTON, ss:

I hereby certify that the above resolutions were duly adopted at a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Fulton, held in the City Hall, on the 4th day of August, 1908.

W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk.

Approved this 4th day of August, 1908.

EDWARD QUIRK, Mayor.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

PALERMO.

Miss Mary Young is spending several days with friends at Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loomis, who spent several weeks here, have returned to their home in Fulton.

Miss Addie Gardner has been engaged to teach the school in the Morse district the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Hart have the sympathy of their many friends in the death of their only child.

GIRON, 24065
[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of August and September at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

37 S. First Street Fulton

SOUTH GRANBY.

A number from here attended the picnic at High Banks from Lysander and Little Utica last Thursday.

Mrs. Bertha Rumsey received a visit from her aunt, Mrs. Martha Stewart, of Fulton, and Mrs. Rachel Stewart of Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cook visited in Auburn and Jordan last week.

Dr. Herbert Lake and family are camping at High Banks.

Mr. Calvin Dines and family and his mother, Mrs. Dines, are camping at High Banks.

Mr. Will Rumsey, Roey Austin and Masel Rathbun attended the Farmers Picnic at Three Rivers, Saturday.

Mr. Harvey McMurchy entertained Mr. Tom Keller and Mr. Jack Fanning over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Austin of Syracuse visited his sister, Mrs. Cook, and Mrs. Andrews; also Alonzo Hannum last week.

Mrs. Lizzie Sperbeck and Mrs. Bertha Rumsey visited Mrs. L. T. Austin at Morseman's Lock, Friday, and Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Rowlee are spending the week with her.

The Milk Association expect to hold their picnic at High Banks, on Tuesday, the 18th.

Mrs. Winans visited Mrs. Mabel Fisher last week.

NORTH VOLNEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Dubois and Mrs. George Gates and family spent Sunday, Aug. 2, at the home of Mrs. Henry Broadwell of New Haven, it being the 66th birthday of Mrs. Broadwell's mother, Mrs. John Barnes. There were twenty three guests present, ten grandchildren, and three great grandchildren, making the fourth living generation. One son, Rev. Horace Barnes of Weedsport and one son of Fulton were unable to be present. A beautiful dinner was partaken of and was enjoyed by all, and amid good wishes and hopes that many more years might be granted them all, the party broke up.

Mrs. Will Looker is seriously ill.

Miss Gertrude Ingersoll has hired out to teach the "Stone District" school. Miss Florence Druce, the "Jones District" and Mr. Francis Smith the "Dowd District.

The L. A. S. meets with Mrs. R. C. Coe on Tuesday of this week.

Many from out of town will attend the Coe reunion Wednesday of next week.

The annual Sunday school picnic is to be held at Lake Ontario, as usual, Friday of next week, Aug. 21.

Communion services were held at the church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Potter of Woodville visited here and at South New Haven recently

Howard Bowen of Solvay visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bowen, Sunday last

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

MOUNT PLEASANT.

The Grange and Sunday school picnic was well attended last Thursday at Eckard's grove. The Up-to-Dates defeated the S. S. S. team by a score of 8 to 3.

Miss Jessie Lindsley of Jersey City is visiting relaitves here.

Mrs. Harry Seymour and daughter Miss Mabel, were recent guests at Eugene Bartlett's.

Mrs. Myron Foster and sons of Fulton are spending a few weeks among relatives

Rev. Summers installed the following Epworth League officers last Sunday evening: President, Mrs. Summers; first vice president, Mrs. Percival; second vice president, Maude Ives; third vice president, Olive Lewis; fourth vice president, Lucy Osborne; secretary, Nellie Rowlee; treasurer, Earl Rowlee; organist, Maude Ives; assistant organist, Gladys Summers; chorister, Bernard Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam and children and Miss Helen Howard went to Syracuse on Saturday. Mr. Putnam returned the same day but Mrs. Putnam will remain and visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tompkins of Minetto were guests at Virgil Rowlee's last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Rowlee are spending this week in Syracuse.

The Rowlee reunion will be held at Alonzo Rowlee's on Saturday of this week.

Ray DeRosia of New Haven called at Ransom Dumont's on Sunday.

An unusual amount of sickness is prevalent among the children lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Montague are guests of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Osborne.

A number from here will attend the Maccabee picnic at Clifford.

School meeting resulted in the following teachers being hired: Miss Wellwood in the Rowlee District; Mrs. King Sheffield in the Greenman District; Mrs. Holden in the Luddington District and Mrs. Murphy in the Pine Woods District.

Sufferers who say they have tried everything without benefit are the people we are looking for. We want them to know from glad experience that Ely's Cream Balm will conquer Cold in the Head, Hay Fever and obstinate forms of Nasal Catarrh. This remedy acts directly on the inflamed, sensitive membranes. Cleansing, soothing and healing. One trial will convince you of its healing power. Price 50c. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., New York.

People who "overlook" the fact they are sliding just a bit backwards can catch up if they follow the suggestion of "constant reader". "Subscribe," he says, "for The Syracuse Herald."

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Messrs. William Tidd and William Brooks have been enjoying a couple of days' outing up the river.

Mrs. Mabel Thorpe Smith will entertain the King's Daughters Monday evening, Aug. 10, at her home in Benson Avenue.

Misses Mildred and Emma Snavely of West Haven, Conn., are spending several weeks in Minetto, the guests of relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Atwell of Antwerp are visiting in Minetto.

Mr. A. D. Mack and grandson, Edward Shelon of Rochester, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. George Ingamells in Fulton.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold the annual picnic at Beach Oswego, Thursday afternoon, leaving Minetto on the 1:30 car. Each lady is requested to bring something good to eat, a plate, cup, etc., and a friend.

At the school meeting held in the Kingdom district last Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected: Trustee, Mr. Frank Wells; collector, Mr. Almon Jones; clerk, Mr. G. N. Beadle.

Mrs. Flora King of California, Dr. and Mrs. O. R. O'Hara of Indiana were guests of their sister, Mrs. Hettie Bell, Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. George Wallace entertained their grandparents from Fulton last week.

Mrs. A. B. Miles of Philadelphia, Jefferson county, was a guest last week of Rev. and Mrs. B. D Snyder.

Mrs. Fred Stickney, who has been visiting relatives in Saginaw, Mich., returned home Friday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Fred Trapp.

Mr. A. R Davis of Deland, Florida, was the guest of Station Agent and Mrs. F. J. Beadle, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fisher and daughter of Oswego were callers in town Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Reynolds has been on the sick list the past week.

Mrs. John Wells is quite ill. Dr. Wallace attends.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson of Adams and Miss Minnie Beattie of Philadelphia, Jefferson county, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. B. D. Snyder.

A food sale was held at the reading room Saturday afternoon, Aug. 8, by the L. A. S.

Mrs. Lillie Wetherby of Oswego spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Tidd.

The Women's Home Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Anna Herman Modry Tuesday evening, Aug. 11.

The annual school meeting of the east side school was held Tuesday evening, Aug. 4. The following officers were elected: Trustee, Mr. A. K. Rowlison; collector, Mr. Charles Briggs; clerk, Mr. William Kellogg.

The Sunday school classes of Mrs. Anna Chase McLaughlin and Miss Lena J. Chase enjoyed an outing at Beach Oswego, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Edward Brookes of Norwich visited in Minetto last week.

Mr. George Beakes of Middletown was in Minetto Friday in the interest of the Beakes Dairy Company.

Mrs. Warren S. Gardner and children have been visiting her parents in Volney.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Parkis of Oswego are the happy parents of a 12-pound girl. Mrs. Parkis was formerly Miss Mary Stroup of Minetto.

Mrs. Grace Gifford of Pomona is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Lawrence Van Buren of Fulton spent several days in town last week.

Today's Syracuse Herald is better than yesterday's; yesterday's better than the day before. Like old wine it improves with age.

CASH GROCERIES

Remember, our main thought is QUALITY, regardless of cost. Besides selling better goods at a lower price than our competitors we give you a trade discount with Salt City Trading Stamps.

Week-End Specials

Tea—125 chests direct from the Orient. Fancy Japan Tea, equal to others' 50c quality, lb...30c, and 15 stamps.

Rolled Oats—50 barrels of freshly rolled Avena Oats.....5 lb, 22c

Sardines—100 cases of American Sardines, packed in good oil, 3 cans 10c

Baked Beans—225 cases "Household Brand," plain or seasoned with Tomato Sauce. Large No 3 can, per dozen.....$1.00; can 9c

Beans—200 bags of fancy hand-picked New York State Baking Beans, qt. 5c

Crackers—500 dozen of the popular Cash Papworth Brand Sodas, Milk and Graham biscuit, fresh from the ovens. Regular 10c package....7c

Soap—150 boxes of Quality Brand Soap....7 bars, 25c, and 20 stamps

Flour—750 bbls fancy Minnesota Bread Flour, guaranteed to give satisfaction. barrel, $5.60; 1-4 barrel sack, $1.47

Relish—75 cases of that appetizing relish for cold meats; large bot...15c

Corn Starch—150 cases Cash Brand, equal to the widely advertised brands, 1 lb. package..10c, and 15 stamps..

Pearl Barley—Cash Brand, the genuine old-fashioned Ohio Pearl Barley, large package ...10c, and 20 stamps

Rice—1,000 lbs. of fancy Carolina Rice, 1 lb. package.... 10c and 10 stamps

Extracts—Cash Brand Lemon or Vanilla Flavoring, bot. 10c, and 15 stamps

Coffee—2,000 lbs., freshly roasted, guaranteed equal to many of the 25c varieties. Try a pound and be convinced. lb.... ..18c, and 15 stamps

Brooms—200 dozen of medium size, strongly made brooms, 30c, and 20 stamps

Prunes—50 boxes of fancy California, thin-skinned, meaty Prunes, 4 lbs. 25c; lb.....7c

7% Dividends Guaranteed

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

Saturday Night Combination

1 Can Wonderful Dirt Cleanser.....10c
1 Bar Large Master Soap.....5c
5 Pounds Sal Soda.....10c

25c--All for.....15c

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 464 Fulton, N. Y.

No necessity for an expensive vacation trip abroad when the beautiful Oswego river passes our doors and one can reach a score of beautiful camping or picnicking spots in perfect ease in one of the boats from the Manhattan Boat Livery in North First street. tf

INGALLS CROSSING.

Miss Velmer Newton has returned home after spending a month with her cousin, Miss Smith, in Syracuse.

Miss Alice Vose of Rhode Island is visiting at Mr. L. B. Roberts'

Ray Eames entertained about 20 of his friends August 4, to celebrate his birthday. All report a pleasant time.

Volney Grange will hold their annual picnic in L. B. Behek's orchard, August 19. There will be numerous sports; horse race, tug of war, free for all 200 yard dash, 100 yard dash for boys under 14, seek ball, 3-legged race, potato race, high jump, hop, skip and jump. A quarter of a dollar to be taken from a a pan of water; first prize, $1.00, second prize, 50 cents; all other prizes will be 50 cents for the first, and 25 for the second. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Earl Loomis is entertaining her daughter and baby from Syracuse.

Genevieve Rives of Fulton spent last week at L. Eanes'

The telephones are all in now in this vicinity.

GREAT BARGAIN—To close estate the house, lot and double corner lot at 419 Cayuga street is offered for sale separately or together. Investigate at once. For particulars inquire Birney Clark, Fulton, or address S. J. Kelly, Attorney, University Block, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-16*

Civilization decrees that you must read and read lots, the right kind of reading. This is where it is important you should subscribe for The Syracuse Herald.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — One Palace Queen hot air furnace, very large size and in good condition. Also small hot water furnace suitable for small house. This heater is almost new and in perfect condition. Above furnace will be sold very cheap to make room for a large sized boiler. M. S. Powell, 312 Rochester St.

FOR SALE—A large size Thatcher tubular furnace in good condition. May be purchased at a reasonable price. Inquire at Harry Langdon's studio, 61 First street, next to the Savings bank.

FOR SALE—A split bamboo fish rod, made by Leonard. Cost at wholesale $22.50. Will be sold for less than half cost. Inquire 161 South Second street, Fulton.

FOR SALE—Good extension table and parlor wood stove for sale. Inquire of Mrs. B. C. Mitchell, Bee Hive Block, Fulton.

FOR SALE—A 6-griddle Universal coal range; a 3-burner gas radiator for heating purposes; one wardrobe, one kitchen cupboard, one corner cupboard. Inquire of T. D. Lewis, No. 204 S. Third street, Fulton.

Wanted

WANTED—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Address, B. H. Gier, General Delivery, Fulton.

WANTED—A woman to do general housework in family of five. Must be respectable and desiring a permanent position. Inquire "Y," Times Office, Fulton.

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably.

Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
cf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

Situation Wanted

A first class accountant and office man, thoroughly familiar with up-to-date methods of cost accounting, wants position with manufacturing concern. Address A, Times office, Fulton. 1e

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 · FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1908 · VOL. 41: NO. 15

FULTON SAVINGS BANK
(Opposite the Red Engine House)
is the only Savings Bank in Fulton, N. Y.
Assets July 1, 1908, over
A Million and a Half Dollars
Market Value Surplus over
One Hundred Thousand Dollars
This Bank Has Paid 4 Per Cent. on All Deposits since October 1, 1907
New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION

After Balloting for Six Days and Delegates Responding to Names of Candidates 300 Times, There Has Been No Change in Result---Unprecedented Loyalty of Oswego, Jefferson and Lewis Counties to Candidates.

The delegates to the Congressional Convention for this district assembled in the Court House, Oswego, last Wednesday for the purpose of nominating a representative to succeed the Hon. Charles L. Knapp, whose term of office would expire on Jan. 1, 1909. Each county in the district was represented. The Hon. I. L. Hunt of Adams, who was the choice of Jefferson County, arrived in Oswego in a special car about noon with his delegation and at least 100 friends, who were anxious to do all in their power to secure the nomination of their candidate. The Hon. Charles L. Knapp of Lowville, accompanied by his delegation and friends from Lewis County, also reached Oswego about the same time and all repaired to the Hotel Redstone, where accommodations were secured and headquarters opened.

Judge Stowell's delegation and friends extended a hearty greeting to the delegates from the sister counties as they arrived.

During the interval between the arrival of the delegations at the hotel and the dinner hour it was a notable fact that the water cooler in the corridor was emptied four times, causing the porter to remark that if such continued he would be compelled to serve ice in capsules—only one to a delegate.

After dinner all repaired to the Court House, where Assemblyman Frederick G. Whitney, holding the proxy of the Hon. P. W. Cullinan, Chairman of the Congressional Committee, called the convention to order, and W. B. VanAllen, Secretary of the Committee, read the call and names of the delegates.

The temporary officers were named as follows:

Chairman, General Bradley M. Winslow, Watertown.

H. M. Stacy, Oswego, and D. C. Markham, Lewis, Secretaries, and H. E. Chickering, Lewis, and A. B. Simpson, Oswego, Tellers.

General Winslow was greeted by loud applause and thanked the convention in an excellent speech.

On motion of H. A. Phillips of Lewis the credentials of the different delegations were produced and the roll called.

The temporary organization was made permanent and the officers sworn in.

The rules of the assembly were adopted as far as applicable, to govern the proceedings of the convention on motion of F. G. Whitney.

A committee on resolutions consisting of W. B. Baker, Oswego; D. W. Cahill, Jefferson, and J. A. Pease, Lewis, was selected. It was further ordered that the Chair appoint a committee of three to select the Congressional Committee for the ensuing term.

On motion of V. K. Kellogg of Jefferson, nominations for a representative in Congress from the district were in order, and in a short speech be ably set forth arguments why the Hon. I. L. Hunt should become the choice of the convention for the office. His remarks were greeted by applause, and indeed the naming of all the candidates—Charles L. Knapp and Judge Stowell included—were received with a perfect ovation from the assemblage.

The Hon. H. A. Phillips of Lewis County placed the Hon. Charles L. Knapp in nomination and Assemblyman Frederick G. Whitney placed Judge Merick Stowell's candidacy before the convention.

Speeches seconding the nomination of the candidates were next in order, and General Winslow called W. B. Baker to the chair and seconded the nomination of the Hon. Isaac L. Hunt. The nomination of Mr. Knapp was seconded by Judge Turner, and Judge Stowell's by District Attorney Baker.

A ballot was taken with the following results: Hunt, 14; Stowell, 13; Knapp, 6. No nomination.

The convention adjourned until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

At the Hotel Redstone, Thursday morning opened as still and dry as Boston after 12 p. m. The sun rose red as an auction flag against a leaden sky, the atmosphere was heavy, with something doing. A few insomniacal newspaper reporters paced the corridor and piazza of the hotel like men who had been called upon for margins, and began bothering the delegates, as they appeared, with fool questions. In order to further ingratiate themselves into the confidence of the trusting ones some of the reporters began picking things off the coat lapels of those they were conversing with. But, as far as procuring any information, the delegates might have been wearing plush ear-muffs.

Then there was Alonzo Cooper, veteran, peddling his book, "In and out of Rebel prisons," and with a face like Moxie Grandpa, warning the delegates against placing Judge Stowell in nomination. He had strings tied around his thumb, probably to remind him of stories derogatory to the Judge, which made his hand look like a hammock. He did not tell the delegates that he had obtained an increase of pension through the kind interposition of the Republican county organization, and that he could not have obtained it without Judge Stowell's endorsement. Cooper's efforts were ably seconded by ex-Republicans of like ilk, who insisted in blowing their tainted breath in the faces of any who had the patience to listen them.

The second day of the convention saw the counties still divided and no change in the complexion of the vote for either candidate. Judge Stowell, who was absent in New York conferring with the State Committee on the important question of equal representation in the Senatorial district, returned and opened headquarters in the Hotel Redstone.

The proceedings in the Court House toward the close of the afternoon were becoming monotonous, but were relieved at intervals with some pleasantry. All, however, continued firm and loyal to their candidates, so that at the conclusion of the second day's proceedings there were 92 ballots cast and no change in the result.

The delegates reassembled at the Court House on the third day and after each one had his throat sprayed with blisterine, were ready for business. It was reported that conferences had been held and that the contest would certainly be settled not later than the afternoon. This was an error, for the delegates instead of conferring with the leaders on Thursday evening, had devoted the waiting hours to games of tiddlywinks. There was evidently a Jonah in the aggregation and a committee of reporters was selected to kick the hem of his garment. General Winslow, the genial presiding officer, called the assemblage to order, and looking over the Jefferson delegation, asked Chairman Kellogg if his delegation was full. "Not quite," responded Mr. Kellogg, as he proceeded to count noses. Crackling shouts of amusement came from the parched throats of all present on the absurdity of the question, and Mr. Kellogg became as indignant as a conductor on a street car when you give him five pennies.

Payson Thompson, a Hunt delegate, voted for Jude Stowell on the 102d, 103d and 104th ballot. This caused Mr. Phillips, chairman of that delegation, to loop the Santiago loop, and several men, wearing Hunt badges, emerged from the audience and moved toward Mr. Thompson, but the excitement was only for a brief moment and the routine continued.

Up to noon 151 ballots were cast without any change in the result. At the afternoon session it was decided to adjourn until Monday at 2 p. m. at Pulaski. Lewis county delegates wanted an adjournment for two weeks, but Jefferson and Oswego voted no, and it was so ordered.

The reason given for a change of location was that the Committee of Arrangements of the Firemen's convention, now being held in Oswego, had absorbed all the hotel accommodations.

On Monday the convention reconvened in Pulaski and 90 ballots were taken with no choice, the delegations standing firmly by their candidate and the vote becoming most monotonous in its unvarying repetition of 14, 13 and 6. At 4 o'clock the convention adjourned until 10 a. m. on Tuesday.

On Tuesday the convention commenced balloting at 10 A. M., and when adjournment was taken in the afternoon three hundred ballots in all had been taken and the result was as when the first ballot was read. The greatest friendliness continues between the delegates, especially between Jefferson and Oswego. It is rumored that something decisive will take place today, but upon what grounds the rumor is based cannot be ascertained. The same rumor has been industriously circulating since the first day of the convention.

PATHFINDER ADS.

Menu for Friday, August 21st.

Fricasse of Chicken with Hot Biscuit
Creamed Potatoes
Sliced Tomatoes
Pumpkin Pie Cream Cheese
Coffee Milk

Supper at 6 o'clock.

Ball game at 4 p. m.

Dancing at 7; 25 cents will be charged.

The carryall will leave the City Hall at the usual hours.

HELD THEIR CAUCUSES.

The Prohibition campaign was started in Fulton Monday night when the city caucuses were held in the Universalist church and delegates elected to the County convention to be held in Oswego next Monday.

Preceeding the election of delegates Mr. Claude A. Duvall of Syracuse, formerly of Fulton, gave a stirring and most interesting address in which which he spoke of the rapid growing sentiment in favor of constitutional prohibition and gave an excellent account of the great Columbus Prohibition Convention.

It was voted to form a City Prohibition Club to carry on the campaign work in Fulton and vicinity.

Rev. John Richards presided and gave a short address urging faithful action upon the part of the Prohibition workers.

The Delegates.

First Ward—D. C. Case, Wm. H. Bridge, James A. Chapman, George Montague, A. P. Bradt, W. H. Klein. Alternates — Charles True, Leroy Hill, William E. Perry, Clare Case, Lyman D. Bargey, Eugene J. Petrie.

Second Ward—John Wilmer, William Barrett, Henry Rich, Z. Newell.

Fourth Ward — Seymour Halstead, C. S. Johnson, John G. York, Asa B. Sanford, Edward Breed. Alternates—Hiram Young, Seymour Halstead, Judd Davis, William J. Rudd.

Fifth Ward—Fred Parkhurst, W. H. Wells, Charles Graham. Alternate—J. H. St.Louis.

Sixth Ward—Henry L. Sanford, Henry Crane, Edgar L. White. John Richards.

Eastman Kodaks, from the "Brownie" at $2.00 up to $75.00, at Lasher's Book Store.

No necessity for an expensive vacation trip abroad when the beautiful Oswego river passes our doors and one can reach a score of beautiful camping or picnicking spots in perfect ease in one of the boats from the Manhattan Boat Livery in North First street. tf

STATE FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

On account State Firemen's Convention at Oswego the Lackawanna will sell round trip tickets at the rate of 40 cents, good going from August 15th to 21st inclusive, return to August 22nd. Great preparations are being made to make Parade day one of the best ever held. Twelve convenient hours: 8:18 a. m., 1:03 and 3:25 p. m. 6-19

YOU'LL BE TAGGED

On Wednesday, September 2, on the Fair Grounds, Efforts Will Be Made to Aid the Treasury of the Fulton Hospital.

On Wednesday, Sept. 2, the second day of the Oswego County Fair, one will be excused for laboring under the delusion that some horrible accident has taken place, as the streets will be alive with pretty young nurses wearing the red cross upon their sleeves. Among them at all times will be found stately chaperons, also displaying the red cross. The occasion for this display of the emblem of the dispensors of mercy is that this day has been selected by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Fulton Hospital Association as tag day to permit our citizens and the strangers within our gates, to contribute their individual mite toward the Hospital fund, so greatly needed.

Fifty young women will dispose of the tags at whatever price one may feel desirous of bestowing upon the cause, and the wearer of the tag will escape further trouble, while for the man, woman or child who is without a tag, trouble in the guise of a persistent wearer of a red cross, will lurk. The incoming trains will all be met and headquarters will be established on the Fair grounds and in the W. J. Watson drug store in First street. The tags will be diamond shaped white board, with a red cross and black lettering and a red string will permit them to be fastened upon button, fob or pin. Any sum one chooses to bestow upon the cause will secure a tag and it is devoutly hoped that no one will be miserly as the ladies of the auxiliary are very anxious to realize a large sum from their labors upon that day.

Barge Canal vs. Independents.

The Barge Canal aggregation will cross bats again with the Independents next Saturday at 3.45 p. m., on the Ontario League diamond. This cannot fail to be a most exciting contest as the Barge Canal boys carried off the palm last Saturday, the score being 8 to 7 in their favor. A nominal charge for admission will be made of 15 cents; ladies, 10 cents.

The finest Huckleback Towels are sold by V. C. Lewis, Cayuga street.

AN IDEAL ARRANGEMENT.

It is possible that some arrangement will be entered into between the Oswego County Fair Association and the Fulton Light, Heat & Power company, whereby several arc electric lights will be installed on the Fair grounds prior to the opening of the Fair on Sept. 1. The electric light company has volunteered to furnish the electricity consumed, free of all expense to the society, the only demand that they make being that the society pay the expense for labor necessary to the installation of the lights, that expense being in the neighborhood of $15.

The lights would make the policing of the grounds easier and more satisfactory and with the subtle juice free and offered to the society to use at its pleasure, it might not be amiss to suggest two or three electric fans in the main exhibition building, which is always so uncomfortable on warm days. Beside these advantages the moving picture shows, motor driven machinery, etc., could be so much more advantageously displayed. Let us have light by all means.

Don't fail to see the Saturday's specials at V. C. Lewis's.

MYSTIC SHRINERS.

There is to be a meeting of Media Temple, Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine, in ceremonial session in Oswego early in October. There are twenty five candidates ready to enter and a number of others are being considered.

There is to an increase in the initiation fee to $50. All those who have not completed their applications before September 8th will be compelled to pay the sum of $50.

The annual clambake of Media Temple will be held at Watertown September 11th and large numbers from Oswego will attend.

Photo Supplies, Eastman make the most reliable kind, full stock, at Lasher's Book Store.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

On Wednesday night during the gale which blew on Lake Ontario, the yacht Iris, containing two men, was wrecked and Fred J. Garahan of Oswego was drowned. Ever since the accident the lake has been patrolled and life saving crews have dragged ceaselessly but it was not until Sunday afternoon that the body came to the surface near Stony Point. The young man was a favorite with a large circle of Oswego friends and was a member of the Oswego Yacht Club and of the C. M. B. A. of that city.

Union Eagle, the new cigar, may be found at the V. C. Lewis cigar store.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN
112 ONEIDA STREET
Fancy Yellow Delaware Peaches
Fancy Jersey Sweet Potatoes
Late Valentia Oranges
Rosemary Creamery Butter in One-Pound Prints
Finest Butter Made
We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries
Call Us On 'Phone 32

The Fifty-Third ..ANNUAL FAIR..
.....OF THE.....
Oswego County Agricultural Society
.....WILL BE HELD.....
September 1, 2, 3, 4, 1908
At Fulton, N. Y.
Liberal Premiums in Every Department.
High Class Free Attractions.
First Class Trotting Every Day.
Premium List Upon Application
C. I. Kingsbury, Pres. Oswego, N. Y.
H. P. Allen, Sec'y Fulton, N. Y.
A. Gregg, Privilege Committee Pennellville, N. Y.

MARRIED

At 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the home of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. W. G. Bassett, Miss Lottie Mae Richardson, daughter of Mr. John Richardson of Fifth street, was united in marriage with Mr. William Arthur Rude, son of Assistant Fire Chief Rude. The bride who wore a blue tailor-made suit with hat to match and a white silk waist, was attended by Miss Josephine Mahannah as maid. The best man was Mr. Frank Quirk. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rude drove to Oswego, Mr. Irving Taylor and Miss Mahannah accompanying them. They will be at home after September first, at No. 20 West Erie street, Mr. Rude being employed by the Oswego Lighting company. The young couple are followed to their new home by the best wishes of their many friends.

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Palmerton in Fay street, on Sunday occurred the marriage of Miss Nina Coville of Caughdenoy and Mr. Edwin S. Shaffer of Canastota. The Rev. F. A. Miller was the officiating clergyman. The bride has been for some time a teacher in the Cleveland High school. Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer will reside in Canastota.

On Monday evening at the State Street parsonage, Mr. Earl Bort and Miss Blanche Loveless, both of Van-Buren, were united in marriage by the Rev. F. A. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bort, parents of the groom, attended them. The young couple will make their future home in Baldwinsville.

On Saturday, Aug. 8, Mr. Elmer E. White of Phoenix and Miss Hazel J. Stevens of this city were united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents.

W. C. T. U.

The annual service of the Oswego County Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Dempster Camp Ground will be held September 1, at 2 p. m. The speaker this year will be Miss Rhena E. G. Mosher, National Secretary of the Young Woman's Branch of the W. C. T. U. Subject, "A Nation's Mistake." Miss Mosher is a charming woman and a very interesting speaker. A large attendance is expected. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. S. M. Barker,
County President.
Mrs. A. J. Palmer,
Corresponding Secretary.

Take a light, comfortable, easy-rowing boat from the Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street, and meet your friends down the river. Given a luncheon and a congenial crowd and no more delightful outing could be imagined

DIED

The death of Charles Thomson occurred last night. Mr. Thomson was an overseer in the American Woolen company plant. He had been suffering from an attack of bronchitis, but death is said to have been due to heart failure. He is survived by his wife and one son. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Mrs. Francis A. Cook, aged 66, passed to rest on Tuesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Dings, in South Hannibal. The funeral services were held from the State Street church on Friday. Mr. George Greenleaf of this city is a son of the deceased.

The death of John Hobble, who came to this city from Bovina several weeks ago to visit his son, Mr. Charles Hobble, occurred at the son's home on Friday, where he was taken ill soon after his arrival in this city. The remains were taken to Bovina on Saturday for interment.

On Aug. 5, George Mason, aged 73, died at his home in New Haven. He was one of the best known and highly respected residents of that section of the country. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. Alfred Clark of Mt. Pleasant, Mrs. Wm. Elmhirst of Syracuse, Charles Mason of New Haven, and Mrs. Harvey Wise of Volney, and Melvin of New Haven. Myron of Port Byron and Morris of New Haven. He also leaves one brother, Pack Mason of Texas, and two sisters, Mrs. S. P. Coe of Mexico and Mrs. James Hayes of Texas.

Mrs. Nancy Crosby, aged 92, passed to rest on Thursday, the shock from a fall in which she broke her hip last week, being the immediate cause for death. The funeral services were held on Sunday. The deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. H. H. Highriter of this city; one brother, W. D. Robinson of Denver; two grandsons, Earl Cable of Fulton, and Fred Cable of Chicago; one great-grand-daughter, Mrs. John Tyrell of Fulton, and a great-great-grandson, Graydon Tyrrell of Fulton.

RACE PROGRAM OSWEGO COUNTY FAIR.

Wednesday, Sept. 2.

Local Running Race	$ 40.00
Road Race	50.00
2:35 Class—Trot and Pace	150.00

Thursday, Sept. 3.

2:20 Class—Trot and Pace	$175.00
2:15 Class—Trot and Pace	250.00

Friday, Sept. 4.

Farmers' Race	$ 50.00
2:10 Class—Trot and Pace	200.00
2:20 Class—Trot and Pace	150.00

DON A. COLONY,
Superintendent of Races,
Sandy Creek, N. Y.

Row boats and canoes to rent at reasonable prices at Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street.

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company

Main St. West, Corner Exchange St.
Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

The Daring Pike.

The boldness of a pike is very extraordinary. I have seen one follow a bait within a foot of the spot where I have been standing, and the head keeper of Richmond park assured me that he was once washing his hand at the side of a boat in the great pond in that park when a pike made a dart at it and he had but just time to withdraw it.

A gentleman now residing in Weybridge, in Surrey, informed me that, walking one day by the side of the river Wey near that town, he saw a large pike in a shallow creek. He immediately pulled off his coat, tucked up his shirt sleeves and went into the water to intercept the return of the fish to the river and to endeavor to throw it upon the bank by getting his hands under it.

During this attempt the pike, finding he could not make his escape, seized one of the arms of the gentleman and lacerated it so much that the wound took a month to heal.—London Fishing Gazette.

He Caught O'Connell.

Daniel O'Connell, the famous orator, when taking a ride in the neighborhood of his house had occasion to ask an urchin to open a gate for him. The little fellow complied with much alacrity and looked up with such an honest pleasure at rendering the slight service that O'Connell said:

"When I see you again I'll give you sixpence."

Riding briskly on, he soon forgot the incident and fell to thinking of graver matters, when, after traveling some miles, he found his path obstructed by some fallen timber, which a boy was steadily endeavoring to remove. On looking more closely he discovered it to be the same boy he had met in the morning.

"What!" cried he. "How do you come to be here now?"

"You said, sir, the next time you seen me you'd give me sixpence," said the little fellow, wiping the perspiration from his brow.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children, it is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Its laxative principle drives the cold from the system by a gentle, natural, yet copious action of the bowels. Sold by all druggists.

Startling.

A gentleman opened a letter addressed to his son containing suggestions from a friend to the latter for a novel which he (the son) was privately writing. The father was exceedingly surprised and frightened upon reading the following dreadful words:

Dear Bob—You really must show more caution in constructing your plots, or the governor will be sure to discover the dead body of Geraldine in the cellar, and then your secret will be out. You consulted me about the strychnine. I certainly think you are giving it him in rather large doses. Let Emily put her brother in a madhouse. It will answer your purpose well to have the old girl out of the way. I think your forgery is far too small a sum. Make it three thousand. Leave the rest of your particularly nice family circle to me. I will finish them off and send you back the "fatal cheque" afterward by post. Yours,

JACK.

—London Express.

Burning Heretics.

The following items, copied from the municipal records of Canterbury by an English magazine, show that the burning of heretics in 1535, the time of the genial King Henry VIII., was an inexpensive amusement:

To bringing a heretic from London	14s. 8d.
For wood to burn him	2s. 0d.
For gunpowder	1d.
For stake and staple	8d.
Total	17s. 5d.

Inspiring Hope.

The Doctor—Bear up. I must tell you the worst—you can't possibly recover. The Client—That's a pity, for if I'd lived a bit longer I should have inherited a fortune. As it is, I haven't a penny to pay you with, doctor. The Doctor—Well, now, don't give up hope. I'll try to mend you. We'll try.—Illustrated Bits.

As to Stage Fright.

"Stage fright" is surely among the most mysterious of sudden seizures. It begins when the actor or speaker thinks "they are not interested in me." It ends when he determines "I will interest them."—London Chronicle.

Twains Emancipation.

An honorary degree was once conferred on Mark Twain by a humble institution in a Missouri town that had known him when he was playing Tom Sawyer there in real life.

It happened that the degree conferring ceremonies took place one lazy day in June when newspapers generally were suffering from a total collapse of everything in the way of news.

One New York news editor raked the land with a figurative fine tooth comb and got a dry haul for his pains. Then, recalling that Mark Twain was getting his honorary degree that very day, it occurred to him that a message direct from the famous author might relieve the situation in the news. After much scratching of the editorial idea factory he evolved this query, which was transmitted to Mark Twain by wire:

How does it feel to be a doctor of laws? Please wire answer at our expense.

After a wait of several hours this characteristic response came hot over the wire from Missouri:

It feels like emancipation from ignorance and vice. MARK TWAIN.

Riding a Camel in the Desert.

Dr. Nachtigal, the celebrated African explorer, was the guest of a rich Hamburg merchant. The merchant's son, a young man of a somewhat sentimental temperament, said among other things that his dearest wish was to ride across the desert on the back of a camel. He thought such a ride must be very poetical indeed.

"My dear young friend," replied the explorer, "I can tell you how you can get a partial idea of what riding a camel on the deserts of Africa is like. Take an office stool, screw it up as high as possible and put it in a wagon without any springs. Then seat yourself on the stool and have it driven over rocky and uneven ground during the hottest weather of July or August and after you have not had anything to eat or drink for twenty-four hours, and then you will get a faint idea of how delightfully poetic it is to ride on a camel in the wilds of Africa."

He Gave Her a Present.

When I was a young man Lady Jersey was one of the leaders of fashion, and her house was the resort of politicians and others. With her lived her daughter, Lady Clementine Villiers, a handsome and clever girl. The custom had been established that all friends should give the latter a present on her birthday, and these presents were set out in an antechamber. Among these friends was Lord Brougham, then an old man. He called on a birthday, but had forgotten what the occasion was, and had brought no present. Seeing a mass of presents laid out, he seized one of them and took it in as his present, rightly counting that the young lady would not remember that it was one that already had been given to her. And very proud he was of his presence of mind. But, then, he was an ex-lord chancellor.—London Truth.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have no given me any trouble since." This Salve is for sale by E. A. Putnam.

The Modern Child.

Little Girl of Four (standing entranced before the window of a toy shop)—Oh, mother, if you was my little girl, wouldn't I take you in and buy you some of these lovely things!—London Tatler.

Many Languages of Mexico.

During the fiesta of Christmas or the week of All Souls and All Saints, when the Indians swarm down from the mountains with their holiday wares for sale, visitors in the City of Mexico may notice the strange language that the venders use in addressing each other. Even when they turn to serve the purchaser their Spanish is neither Castilian nor Mexican, but is frequently broken by peculiar syllables and accents. This is merely an illustration of the fact that the Indian languages of old Mexico have not been entirely submerged by the conquering Spanish, and in some of the most remote districts of the republic various and distinct languages handed down from the pre-Columbian era are still spoken in their pristine purity by many tribe members.—Mexican Herald.

Easy House Moving.

House moving is an easy task among the Lakas, a tribe living near the Lagone river, in the French Kongo, Africa. This tribe, which is one of the most superb examples of the savage black race, lives in conical shaped huts constructed of plaits of tough straw. When a change in location is desired, both the women and the men put their shoulders to the task and carry the roofs of their homes to the new site, sometimes many miles distant. The circular walls of the huts are rebuilt.

Her Preference.

"I want to make a gift to Miss Passay," said Dumley. "I wonder what sort of animal she'd prefer for a pet?"

"A man," promptly suggested Miss Knox.—Philadelphia Press.

The only real thing is to study how to rid life of lamentation and complaint.—Epictetus.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Nothing else is just as good. Insist on DeWitt's. It is cleansing, cooling and soothing. Sold by all druggists.

FOR the first time the United States government is engaged in actual tests with a view toward establishing an aerostatic corps in the army. The balloon and airship tests begun at Fort Myer, Va., possibly may lead to this interesting innovation. Several types of aerial fliers are to be tested, including the dirigible balloons commonly called airships and the heavier than air machines of the aeroplane type. Captain Thomas A. Baldwin of California is one of the conspicuous dirigible balloon makers, while the Wright brothers of Ohio are world famous as the inventors of a type of aero-ty flies. Captain Baldwin has built one of the dirigibles to be tested at Fort Myer. Several other balloon contracts were let by the government. This is not a competition or race at Fort Myer, but is a series of tests to ascertain if the machines built under contract come up to the specifications, just as navy vessels have their speed trial tests. The air machines must be able to travel five miles and back.

President Roosevelt is said to be deeply interested in these experiments. His speech at the Naval War college contained the declaration that those who want a navy merely for coast defense are unwise—or words to that effect. The president says he wants a foot loose navy to go out and strike and sink the enemy. For coast defense it is proposed to employ air vessels of any type that can fill the bill. There are army and navy men, it is said, who believe that airships will prove in time to be superior to fortifications as coast defenses. Therefore the Fort Myer tests have a distinct bearing upon coast defense.

THE BALDWIN AIRSHIP.

"In the next war that is fought the advance column will be made up of balloons and airships," recently remarked an army officer at Washington. Thus the balloon tests have also a bearing upon future army operations. The tests, in fact, are under the supervision of the chief signal officer of the army, Brigadier General Allen.

In the event of the tests proving the existence of air travelers that meet the requirements it is confidently expected by those who favor the innovation that the next session of congress will appropriate at least $1,000,000 for preliminary expenses in establishing an aerostatic branch in our fighting service. Sanguine advocates of the aerial fleet go so far as to predict an appropriation of $5,000,000. It is said that in order properly to equip an air traveling fleet adequate to cope with situations such as President Roosevelt suggests in his hard hitting navy speech twice that sum will be required. However, $10,000,000 is merely about the cost of one battleship of the present approved type. Air battleships are comparatively cheap.

CAPTAIN THOMAS A. BALDWIN.

Army and navy authorities are beginning to be stirred up over the comparatively successful experiments of other nations with air vessels. It is agreed that the United States has kept behind in this matter, while several of the nations of Europe have taken the precaution to be beforehand with the best air going machines to be had. In years past many investors have offered their creations to Uncle Sam at specified sums, usually very large, while as a rule the air craft presented have not been able to perform what their inventors claimed for them. Now that the building of dirigibles and aeroplanes seems to have advanced beyond the merely experimental stage into the plane of a known quantity, Uncle Sam has awakened to his opportunities.

In France and Germany, particularly the latter, war balloons have been in use for some time past. The venerable Count von Zeppelin is just now engaged in the work of testing a gigantic airship, which, if successful in doing its specified "stunt," will bring the inventor half a million dollars from the German government. This is Count von Zeppelin's fourth big airship, each previous one having met with mishaps and gone out of commission after performing surprising things for its day and generation. The count and his achievements have a special interest for Americans, as he fought in the Union army in the civil war.

The presence in this country of Henri Farman, the famous French aerostat, who will give exhibitions and perhaps engage in contests with other men of his profession, adds to the interest in the government's tests at Fort Myer. Farman is an aeroplanist and has challenged the Wright brothers to a competition.

Soldiers and scientists differ widely as to the type of air craft which will prove the most useful in war. The soldiers, including General Allen, lean toward the dirigible balloon, the affair with a gas bag shaped like a Burbank potato or a Havana cigar and propelled by a motor. Scientists like Professor Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone and himself a celebrated experimenter in aeroplanism, incline to the conviction that the aeroplane will be the war air vessel of the future.

How a Girl Throws.

Perhaps a better title would have been "How a Girl Doesn't Throw," because it is well known that a girl cannot propel a ball or anything else like a boy. Most people—and all boys—conclude that this defect arises from clumsiness, but that is a mistake.

The difference between a girl's throwing and a boy's is substantially this:

The boy crooks his elbow and reaches back, with the upper part of his arm about at a right angle of forty-five degrees. The direct act of throwing is accomplished by bringing the arm back with a sort of snap, working every joint from shoulder to wrist.

The girl throws with her whole arm rigid, the boy with his whole arm relaxed. Why this marked and unmistakable difference exists may be explained by the fact that the clavicle or collar bone in the feminine anatomy is some inches longer and set some degrees lower down than in the masculine frame. The long, crooked, awkward bone interferes with the full and free use of the arm. This is the reason why a girl cannot throw a stone.

First Victory of the Revolution.

The importance of the assault upon Fort William and Mary is generally overlooked by historians. The demonstrations against various British armed vessels, beginning with the firing upon the schooner St. John in July, 1764, as well as the battle of Alamance, in North Carolina, in 1771, were essentially local and were so far removed from the Revolutionary period that they produced no appreciable effect upon the war itself. The "Boston massacre" was the repulse of a mob by a squad of British regulars, but at Fort William and Mary the royal standard was lowered for the first time, and the gunpowder taken therefrom was burned by the patriots at Bunker Hill. The king recognized in the daring assault the inevitability of the impending struggle. There is truth in the claim set forth on the tablet on the old Fort Constitution of today that the site marks "the first victory of the American Revolution."—Army and Navy Life.

A Pretty Warm Fish.

A well known fisherman was fishing for perch and was seated along the edge of a lake near the roots of a large tree, which was a favorite spot for the perch. Luck had been only fair, and he was debating on the question of hauling in the line and going home when there came a powerful tug.

He knew that he had a huge fish and struggled vigorously for twenty minutes before he landed his prize. It was a sunfish, one of the largest he had ever seen. He landed it on the bank, and then he noticed that the rays from the fish were so powerful that he was almost blinded, and the grass in the vicinity was shriveled up by the heat.

A few minutes later the man fell over. He had been sunstruck by the sunfish and was beyond hope.—Philadelphia American.

Conflicting.

"There is safety in numbers," quoted the wise guy.

"And yet we are told that too many cooks spoil the broth," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

The strong man may fall, but he cannot yield.—Irish Proverb.

GAS COKE

....Special Summer Prices....

Until September 1st, 1908

Furnace Coke, at Yard, bushel, 9c
" " Delivered, " 10c
Stove Coke, at Yard, bushel, 10c
" " Delivered, " 11c

All orders must be left at Gas Office, Opposite Clark House

FultonFuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Phone 198

The Very Thing.

The old gentleman poked his nose in and out of the mysterious corners of the furniture shop.

"By the way," he said suddenly, "my daughter has just started to—er—have a young man come calling, and I suppose I really ought to get a pretty sofa for them to make love on."

"Most certainly, sir!" responded the suave shopman. "And here, I think, I have the very thing you need. It is called 'Cupid's Retreat' and is specially suited for courting couples."

"Specially suited?" repeated the old gentleman. "Well, what is its particular good point?"

"Why, sir, the particular good point is this—the pretty covering you see before you is guaranteed to wear off in just one year."

"And what on earth's the use of that?" asked the old gent.

"Why, sir, because it leaves displayed a card upon which are written the words, 'Time to get married! Neat, isn't it?"—London Answers.

Queer Virginia Oysters.

But, sure enough, did you know there were some oysters, and Virginia oysters at that, which cannot live always under sheets of water? The seaside oyster does not grow in deep water, say over ten feet, and the most and best of them grow in water so shoal that it is dry ebb half the time. These latter are the most prolific seed bearers we have, but they will die if planted in deep water or in the Chesapeake bay. The inside or bay oyster should never ebb bare to thrive best. Singular, isn't it, that the Virginia oysters, one and the same bivalves, can lead a double life, but only one phase of it at a time! The seaside fellow must be out of water a good portion of his time to thrive, while the bay and river fellow will die in summer and freeze in winter if exposed to the air.—Virginia Citizen.

The Roast.

"To judge woman by her looks is to court error," said a well known woman. "I know a man who while carving at a dinner wished to say something that would please the pale, deep eyed, spirituelle girl at his side.

"'How do you like Masterpiece?' he at last inquired.

"'Well done,' she answered, not once lifting her eyes from the great roast he was working on."—Washington Post.

A Difficult Case.

A physician received late one evening a note from three of his fellow practitioners:

"Please step over to the club and join us at a rubber of whist."

"Emilie, dear," he said to his wife, "here I am called away again. It appears to be a difficult case—there are three other doctors on the spot already."

New.

"I want you," said the stage manager, "to play the part of a banker, and I want you to try to play it with a touch of originality."

"All right," responded Yorick Hamm, "I'll leave off the mutton chop whiskers."—Kansas City Journal.

The Difficulty.

"Could you bring yourself to live in a flat on £4 a week?"

"I could, Harold," answered the pampered yet unspoiled darling. "But I do not know just how it would suit my French maid."—London Tatler.

The Real Question.

"Where does he get his money?"

"I don't know where he gets his, and I don't care. What I am interested in is knowing just how he gets mine."—Nashville American.

His Status.

"Is that ex-New Yorker who likes London so well a naturalized Englishman?"

"No," answered Miss Cayenne "merely a denatured American."

His Only Chance.

Mother (crossly)—Tommy, haven't I told you you must not talk when I am talking? Tommy—But, mamma, you won't let me stay up after you go to bed!—Sketch.

Coats Sometimes.

"There's no use talking about it—a chronic disease is an expensive thing to have."

"That depends. Mine never cost me anything."

"What's your trouble?"

"Kleptomania."—Cleveland Leader.

The Bitter Bit.

Hewitt—Who was that fellow who in a fit of absentmindedness tried to light his cigar from the electric light? Jewett—He's a joke writer who makes a specialty of jokes about countrymen blowing out the gas.—New York Press.

As soon as a man acquires fairly good sense it is said that he is an old fogy.—Atchison Globe.

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank

Oswego, N. Y.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by

Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

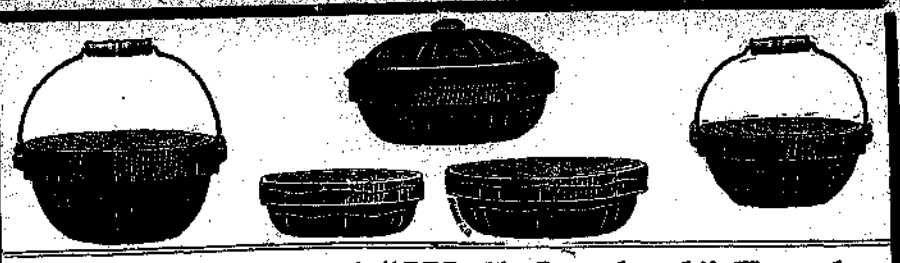
R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets
Fulton, N. Y.

holds school every afternoon from two until five o'clock. Evening lessons discontinued through August. More attention can be given pupils during August.

Come and visit the school, and see how we draft patterns to fit the figure.



The American Garment Cutting System

is the newest, simplest and best system for drafting patterns.

The newest tailoring methods are taught in putting together garments.

Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

'Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50 All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

Legal Notices

COUNTY COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

The First National Bank of Newark, New York, vs. James A. Kibble & Frances Kibble

By virtue of an execution against the property of Frances Kibble, Jr. the above entitled action, issued out of the County Court, I, Henry Hilton, Sheriff of Oswego County, shall sell at public auction on the 13th day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the City Hall, in the City of Fulton, in the County of Oswego and State of New York, all the right, title and interest which the said Frances Kibble had on the 21st day of October, 1907, or which she may have subsequently acquired in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate in the City of Fulton, County of Oswego and State of New York, designated upon the printed map of the Village of Fulton now the City of Fulton, now on file in the Oswego County Clerk's office, as Lot No. 11 of Block No. 150 of said City.

Dated June 30th, 1908.

HENRY HILTON,
Sheriff of Oswego County.
By JOHN W. YOUNGS, His Deputy.

A. T. Jennings, attorney for the above mentioned judgment creditor Office and Post Office Adress, No. 9 So. First St., Fulton, N. Y. 8-12

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.

Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs. John Drew Defendant.

To the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.

Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney.
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

To John Drew, Defendant:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Stowell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 12th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.

Dated May 11th, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney.
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

9-16

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 205 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D. 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.

10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908 the 20th day of April, A. D. 1908.

Dated this

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.

10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 256 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 8th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.

11-9

The Weather.

"Do you think there is any reliable way of foretelling the weather?"

"Yep," answered Farmer Corntossel. "Jes' think of the kind you don't want and then prophesy it."—Washington Star.

LADY AGENTS WANTED!

YOU can make excellent money devoting your whole or spare time to taking orders for my DAINTY line of baby goods and children's suits. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, permanent work. No competition. Send TO-DAY for Full catalogue, territory, etc

Mrs. Ella James Don't D. Syracuse, N.Y.

8-5

Notice of Completion of Assessment Rolls.

Notice hereby given that the assessment rolls for the east and west tax districts of the city of Fulton for the year 1908 have been completed and filed with the city clerk and all persons interested may examine the same at the city clerk's office, city hall, Fulton N. Y., until the first Tuesday of September, 1908.

Notice is hereby further given that on the 1st day of September, 1908, that being the first Tuesday in September, the Assessors of the city of Fulton will meet at the Common Council room in the city hall, Fulton, N. Y. to review said assessments.

Dated Fulton, N. Y, July 2, 1908.

GEORGE FOSTER
JOHN M. HEWITT
O. O. HANNIS

8-5

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bewildering France.

There are in France two Bordeaux, the one in the Gironde and a tiny place in the Loiret. There are two Toulouses, the old town in the Haute-Garonne and Toulouse du Jura, a village with 600 inhabitants, near Lons-le-Saunier. There is Tours in Tourraine. Balzac's Tours in the Indre-et-Loire and Tours, a village in Savoy, near Albertville. There are seven St. Cyrs simple St. Cyrs, that is, and twenty-four with something tacked on to them; seven St. Denises and forty-seven with some addition, fourteen St Germains and 114 with something tacked on.

Great Lovers of Water.

The Siamese are more devoted to the water than any other nation in the world. They are nearly always bathing, generally with their clothes on, and they never go anywhere by land if they can possibly go by water. The streets of Bangkok are like those of Venice, and the inhabitants say that their idea of paradise would be a town with canals where there were currents in both directions, so that they might be spared the effort of rowing.

Reed and Strout.

Thomas B. Reed served in the navy during the civil war, and in 1865 he returned to Portland to practice law. One of the strongest men at the Portland bar at the time was A. A. Strout. Before beginning the trial of a suit it was Strout's habit to inquire of every juror as to the state of his health and impress each with the idea that the lawyer was solicitous of that juror's personal welfare. Reed and Strout were constantly antagonizing each other, though they were very good friends. In nearly every case of importance Strout and Reed were on opposite sides. It was annoying indeed for the suave Strout to hear Reed drawl out before the opening of a case:

"Well, your honor, Brother Strout having finished his morning task of shaking hands with the jury, we may now, I hope, proceed with the business of the court."

Nice, Easy Job.

The following advertisement recently appeared in an English newspaper: "Man required for demonstration purpose an old English rack (star chamber pattern); would have to be slightly stretched to show how rack worked; man should be short to start with."

The little attacks of stomach trouble and stomach disorders will undoubtedly lead to chronic dyspepsia unless you take something for a sufficient time to strengthen the stomach and give it a chance to get well. If you take Kodol in the beginning the bad attacks of Dyspepsia will be avoided, but if you allow these little attacks to go unheeded it will take Kodol a little longer time to put your stomach in good condition again. Get a bottle of Kodol today. Sold by all druggists.

ANNUAL REUNION OF "IRON BRIGADE."

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 1, 1908.

COMRADE.

You are hereby notified to attend the Sixth Annual Reunion of the First Iron Brigade, to be held in the City of Syracuse, N. Y., on Thursday, September 17, at 10 A. M., on the State Fair Grounds. The Association having designated that day as Veterans and Military Day, they will furnish us with a tent, upon which will be a banner with the words: "Headquarters Iron Brigade," and it is hoped that every one of the surviving members of the old original Iron Brigade who made that famous march in April, 1862, and which gained them the title, will make every effort to be present at this annual gathering as all the railroads of the State of New York give reduced rates to Syracuse, N. Y., during State Fair Week.

The Secretary is trying to make up as perfect a Roster of the Brigade Survivors as possible and it is earnestly requested that if you know of any member of your company or regiment living, no matter where they are, notify them of this reunion and kindly send their name and address to the Secretary at once.

Our badge is a permanent one and it can be procured of the Secretary for one dollar. It should be secured now for the supply is limited.

In order to keep up our organization the annual dues were made fifty (50) cents and are now in order. If you cannot attend please send Dues or a contribution to help pay expenses, also send your present address so that the Roster may be kept complete.

A prompt attendance is requested as business of the greatest importance to every member will be transacted. Hoping that you will assist me in my work and that you will not fail to give me an early reply, I am

Yours in F. C. and L.
B. H. SEARING,
Secretary and Treasurer.

W. D. FERGUSON,
President.

President, W. D Ferguson, Major 24th Regiment; Secretary and Treasurer, B. H. Searing, 30th Regiment Vice-Presidents, Harrison Stafford 30th Regiment; Courtland Adams 22d Regiment; William H. Peck, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; K. P. Rawson, 2d Berdans; Jacob Raab, 14th Brooklyn; Chaplain, Rev. John D. Mulford, 24th Regiment; Executive Committee,—Thomas Cole, 24th Regiment; Louis J. Bruso, 30th Regiment; John S. Fassett, 22d Regiment; Oscar C. Hayden, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; James H. Myers, 14th Brooklyn; James R. Gibbs, 2d Berdans.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hunters' Licenses.

County Clerk Simpson reports that eighty five hunters' licenses have been issued in Oswego County. Town clerks are required to report to the county clerk on the first Tuesday of each month the number of licenses issued. No reports have been received from the towns of Albion, Granby, Hannibal, Palermo or West Monroe. The following is the report from other towns in the county: Boylston, 1; Hastings, 4; Mexico, 3; New Haven, 2; Parish, 7; Richland, 7; Redfield, 4; Sandy Creek, 10; Schroeppel, 8; Scriba, 2; Volney, 1; Williamstown, 3; Fulton, 15; Oswego, 14.

Local and Personal

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Olmstead are spending two weeks with relatives and friends at Walton.

George Carver and family, Mrs. W. A. Warner and Miss Lu May Warner are camping in Dr. H. P. Marsh's new cottage at the Windrow.

Phoenix Register — Mrs. Cora Breed celebrated her eighty fourth birthday on Tuesday. Miss Grace Tucker spent the day with her aunt and a pleasant time was enjoyed. Mrs. Breed is well and happy and her friends hope to see her enjoy many more birthdays.

The contract for installing a new pipe organ in the Congregational Church has been let to the Estey Organ Co., of Brattleboro, Vt., the organ to be installed before Dec. 15, and the cost including an electric motor to be $2,500. Of this sum Andrew Carnegie has promised to contribute a substantial amount and the remainder is nearly subscribed.

Mr. Aurie Palmer, Rural Carrier on Route No. 9, has recently qualified as a Notary Public, which will be a great accommodation to the patrons of that route. A recent ruling of the Postal Department made it possible for rural carriers to serve in this capacity and undoubtedly all will within a short time avail themselves of the opportunity. It will certainly be of inestimable advantage to the patrons of the several routes.

Orders sufficient to insure business for a year have been received at the local office of the American Woolen Mills and almost daily new looms are being placed in commission. It is anticipated that within a week the entire two hundred and sixty will be in operation. No more pleasing news could be received by Fultonians as it means a restoration to paying positions of many hundreds of our people and every branch of business will be improved thereby.

The Democratic County and District conventions will be held on Monday, Aug. 24, at Pulaski, the former at 11 A. M., and the latter at 2 P. M. The ward caucuses in the first, second, third and fourth wards, this city, will be held on Friday evening, Aug. 21, at 8 o'clock. The delegates elected earlier in the year in the Fifth and Sixth Wards, were instructed to serve as delegates to the County and District conventions, consequently there will be no caucuses held in these two wards on Friday evening.

There has been a feeling of dissatisfaction on both sides of the river since the enactment of the city charter, and as the only good that resulted was the installation of a system of record, no one wonders at the feeling. Now there is to be a determined effort made by the west side people, headed by Superintendent J. W. Stevenson of the American Woolen Company, to have the charter set aside and the two villages re-established. Whether or not it will materialize into anything decisive remains to be seen.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Saturday
August 22

CHINA PLATE
WILL BE THE SOUVENIR

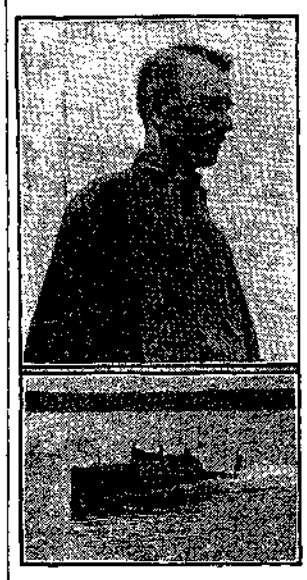
THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 F. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee

SUGARS
REFINERS PRICES

CHAMPION DIXIE II.



Swift Motor Boat That Won the Harmsworth Trophy.

It seems quite the fashion nowadays for the newspapers to print news that the United States has defeated Great Britain in some one sporting event or another. Our lads swept the boards in the Olympic games in the stadium at Shepherd's Bush, just outside of London, and now comes the information that an American built and designed motor boat has defeated the much praised English craft of this class in the races for the international championship.

The races took place off Huntington bay, Long Island, and, although five boats started, from the very outset it was seen that the result of the aquatic combat would be determined by the Dixie II., representing the United States, and the Wolseley-Siddeley, owned by the Duke of Westminster, who is one of the most enthusiastic motor boat racers in all Britain.

The Dixie II. won for the stars and stripes by no less than forty-nine seconds, a crushing defeat when it is considered how far a racing motor boat can travel in this time. She traveled through the water at the rate of over twenty-eight knots an hour, or, according to the landsman's way of reckoning, she went over thirty-two statute miles an hour. In the words of the horsemen, "that's going some, and a little bit more."

Much of the credit for the sensational performance of the Dixie II. goes to Captain S. Barclay Pearce,

CAPTAIN S. BARCLAY PEARCE AND DIXIE II.

who had direct charge of her during the contest. The engineer, Albert Rappuhn, collapsed during the race owing to the intense heat of the engines and the gasoline fumes that escaped. He fell senseless alongside of the swiftly pounding machinery, and Captain Pearce was forced to run the engines as well as to govern the course of the craft until the engineer regained his senses. The fact that the Dixie II. won the race in spite of this accident and handicap goes to accentuate the high quality of Yankee pluck, perseverance and ingenuity. England had another competitor beside the Dixie II. in the Diamler II., owned by Lord Howard de Walden.

A happiness that is quite undisturbed becomes tiresome; we must have ups and downs.—Moliere.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. Samples, free at E. A. Putnam's drug store.

Remedy For Choking.

"Raising the left arm as high as you can will relieve choking much more rapidly than the act of thumping one's back," said a physician, "and it is well that every one should know it, for often a person gets choked while eating where there is no one near to thump him. Very frequently at meals and when they are at play children get choked while eating, and the customary manner of relieving them is to slap them sharply on the back. The effect of this is to set the obstruction free. The same thing can be brought about by raising the left hand of the child as high as possible, and the relief comes much more quickly. In happenings of this kind there should be no alarm, for if the child sees that older persons or parents get excited the effect is bad. The best thing is to tell the child to raise its left arm, and immediately the difficulty passes away."

The Popping Stone.

"The popping stone" marks the spot where Sir Walter Scott asked Miss Carpenter to marry him. It is situated in the beautiful valley of the Irthing, at Gilsland, an inland watering place near Carlisle. The popping stone is visited by many thousands during the summer months, and it is said many a laggard lover has had his courage screwed up to popping point at this romantic spot. In the immediate neighborhood may also be seen "Mumps Ha," which Scott immortalized in "Guy Mannering," while a little farther afield the Roman wall and Lanercost priory prove attractions to visitors to Gilsland.—London Chronicle.

Hardships of the Very Poor.

Little Marion, having few real playmates, has supplied herself with several imaginary ones, with whom she has many surprising experiences. Her mother recently overheard her playing with her large family of dolls and entertaining a visionary caller.

"Yes, Mrs Smif," she said, heaving a deep sigh, "we are poor, terribly poor. We are so poor that I have to spank my babies to keep them warm."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Sea Serpent Myth.

It is possible, even probable, that the sea serpent myth started in all good faith. In the southern seas grow the gigantic algae, the largest of which measure from 400 to 600 feet in length. These when rolled on the beach form enormous cables several hundred feet long and as thick as a good sized tree trunk. Such cables washed out to sea by storms may very easily have given rise to the fathomed but yet undiscovered sea serpent.—New York American.

The Eastern Question.

"Paw, have you ever been east?"

"Yes. I spent a year in New York city when I was considerably younger than I am now."

"Well, what is the 'eastern question?'"

"The only one I ever heard was, 'How much is he worth?'"—Chicago Tribune.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

The Fulton Times

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

SENATORIAL REPRESENTATION.

The State Committee in session in New York city on Wednesday heard the arguments of Oswego and Jefferson county representatives relative to the matter of Senatorial representation in the two counties, Oswego justly urging equal representation and Jefferson opposing it. The entire matter of Senatorial representation throughout disputing counties in the State, was referred to the Executive Committee, the decisions to be rendered by August 29.

Oswego County was represented before the State Committee by Col. John T. Mott, State Committeeman, Judge Merrick Stowell and Hon. P. W. Cullinan and the following delegation appeared for Jefferson County: Former Senator Elon R. Brown, Senator George H. Cobb, Assemblyman A. D. Lowe, and Gary M. Wood, D. C. Middleton, Robert J. Buck, Fred W. Mayhew and Edward N. Smith.

It is confidently expected by Oswego County Republicans that equal representation will be granted as there was a difference of less than 800 votes between the two counties and Oswego is gaining all the time while Jefferson's population is decreasing.

CONTRIBUTED TO RENTAL.

The patrons of the west side station should know who their public spirited citizens were who pledged themselves to pay the additional $100 per year rental for the rooms in the Howe block in which the sub station is located. The owner of the property having declined to release the room at the former rate of compensation the prospects for the continuance of the station were not bright, owing to the fact that the department is cutting out all substations, substituting contract stations in their stead. In Oswego and Syracuse with their large populations there is but one Post Office and contract stations take care of the suburbs and localities remote from the main office. Oswego has one contract station and one post office. Thus it will be seen how very nearly Oswego Falls came to losing her station and but for the timely assistance of the business men whose names are appended, a contract station would have been a certainty. The names upon the subscription list are John W. Stevenson, A. P. Bradt, F. J. Switzer, J. R. Sullivan, D. M. Sullivan, M. E. Reynolds, Chas. F. Jones, W. J. Hartnett, H. Pollard & Son, H. Illingworth, J. W. Rigley, A. Brown, Geo. B. Fairman, F. L. Stewart, Frank Brown, Wm. H. Cook.

Bolts Bryan.

The Baltimore Sun, the leading Democratic paper in Maryland, has bolted W. J. Bryan, the peerless one, and will support in all earnestness W. H. Taft, the Republican nominee. The Sun gives as its chief reason for supporting Mr. Taft that the prosperity and well being of the whole country and people demand his election.

Whiting's pure Linen Tablets, all sizes, ruled and plain, only 10c. Well worth 20c, at Lasher's Book Store.

Local and Personal

Miss Hazel Lamson has returned from a visit with Phoenix friends.

Misses Della and Marguerite Blake spent Sunday with friends at Sylvan Beach.

Mrs. Cora Hutton and son, Fay, of Rome, have been spending a few days with the Misses Eliza and Nellie Hutton of Utica street.

Mrs. A. M. Seymour is visiting Mrs. Maude Highriter in Meriden, Conn. She will visit friends in Massachusetts before returning.

Miss Gertrude Farrell, Mrs. Hattie Barlow and Miss Emma Coates of Brooklyn spent Sunday with Miss Jessie Wallace at Skaneateles.

Rev. and Mrs. Leon P. Jones of Greenville, Ohio, were the over-Sunday guests of Editor and Mrs. A. P. Bradt. Mr. Jones on Saturday attended the funeral of his mother in Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Summerville have been entertaining the Misses Belle and Almyra Widger of Baldwinsville, Mr. and Mrs. B. Tyler of Phoenix, and Miss Hester Wells of Bowens Corners.

Messrs. Frank W. and Harold Richardson started in their launch on Monday for Poughkeepsie and other points along the Hudson river. The trip will be made via the canals to Albany and from thence down the Hudson river.

Attorney W. S. Hillick while in swimming on Sunday was suddenly stricken with a numbness in his limbs and it became necessary to remove him to his home in a carriage. He is still confined to his bed, although he has recovered the partial use of one limb. His friends are hopeful for his speedy recovery.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hunter Fan & Motor Company will be held in the office on Hubbard St., Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 9th, 1908, for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come regularly before this meeting.

8-26 JOHN HUNTER, Sec'y.

VOLNEY CENTER.

Mrs. James Vant and Mrs. Charles Baldwin were guests of Mrs. Ebley in Oswego Friday.

Mrs. Lockwood entertained the Ladies' Birthday Club last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Fred Sikes is entertaining his brother from Pittsfield, Mass.

The L. A. S. will meet with Mrs. Mary Garrison this week Wednesday.

Mrs. David Jewett entertained the Ladies' Birthday Club Saturday afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Hunn was the guest of Miss Jessie Vant a few days last week.

Mrs. Mary Garrison entertained the Ladies' Birthday Club this week Tuesday.

Mrs. David Jewett is entertaining her cousin from Ossining.

Orvill Snell Davis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Snell, last Wednesday afternoon after a short illness. The funeral was held from the grandparents' home Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Burial was made at Volney Center.

Mrs. Candee entertained relatives from Mexico Sunday.

FAIR ATTRACTIONS.

The management of the Oswego County Agricultural Society announces among their many attractions, the engagement of Prof. F. P. Robinson and his African Lion. He will give a thrilling exhibition every day of the Oswego County Fair. The Lion and the Man go up in a balloon together and the Lion jumps first with a parachute, and Prof. Robinson follows closely, with a separate parachute. This will be the first performance of Prof. Robinson in New York State, and should prove a great attraction every afternoon at the Oswego County Fair.

Among the many attractions of the Oswego County Fair will be a fine troupe of Japanese Acrobats ("Kadzra."). This troupe is at present the star feature in one of the big circuses of the country, and will surely afford good entertainment for patrons of the Fair, every afternoon, Sept. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

It is expected that the Battalion of the 24th Infantry, U. S. A., with Battalion Band, will be encamped on the Fair grounds during the County Fair.

Major Thos. Lake of Rochester, who will be remembered by our older citizens as a former resident of Fulton, expects to attend the County Fair, and will probably act as "Drum Major" with the Odd Fellows' Band and Citizen's Band. Major Thos. Lake is said to be the only surviving drum major of the Civil War, and his many friends will undoubtedly turn out to see Tom.

Victor C. Lewis is ready to supply all cigar dealers on the Fair grounds with cigars and cigarettes at wholesale prices.

MT. PLEASANT.

Rev. Miller of New Haven and Rev. Summers exchanged pulpits last Sunday.

The Up-to-Dates won the ball game Saturday by a score of 8 to 0.

Mrs. O. Cole entertained Mrs. May Jones of Lansing and Mrs. Orsaville LaDu of Syracuse on Tuesday of last week.

George Paddock, Frank and James Bartlett and Miss Jessie Lindsley of Jersey City spent Saturday at Niagara Falls.

The Up-to-Dates Jrs. will play the married men at the neighborhood picnic in Taylor's grove on Thursday of this week.

Mrs. Gibbons and grandson Samuel of Albany are guests of Mrs. Hattie Foster.

George Paddock was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Distin in West Fulton.

Miss Jessie Lindsley of Jersey City, who has been spending several weeks with relatives hereabouts, has returned to her home.

John Sheldon is recovering from a successful operation performed by Drs. Campbell of Syracuse and Kellar of Volney Center.

The Rowlee Reunion at A. B. Rowlee's was well attended on Saturday, August 15. Quite a number from out of town were present, one Mr. Rowlee from Corning and W. W. from Ithaca. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, John Rowlee of South Hannibal; Treasurer, Jasper Rowlee; Committee on Arrangements, Alonzo and Burr Rowlee.

Miss Florence Duell was the guest of Gertrude Rowlee over Sunday.

Mrs. Earl Foster entertained Miss Wilkes of Fulton the past week.

The Myers Reunion at John Myers' was a success as usual, about seventy being present. John Myers was elected President; Lillian Hill, Secretary and Samuel Howard, Treasurer. They will meet at Still Hill's next year.

Earl and Fred Foster, Ernest Rowlee and Ransom Dumont are the new telephone patrons.

Miss Cassie Marsh of Fulton was a recent guest at V. V. Vant's.

Rev. Summers has leased a cottage and with his family will be at Dempster Grove during the camp-meeting.

Master Delos Distin, Jr., was under Dr. Marsh's care last week, but is better now.

Mrs. Amy Randall is home from a week's visit in Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Burr Howard are in Howardville attending the Howard family reunion.

Mrs. Hannah Austin of South Granby was the guest of her brother and sister here over Sunday.

Harold Distin visited Glen Percival near South Scriba recently.

Clarence Roy and Mr. Perkins were guests of Erwin Osborne last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hannum, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews and children, John Rowlee and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Reynolds of South Hannibal were here for the Rowlee picnic.

$1.00 Reward $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Halls Family Pills for constipation.

PALERMO.

Mrs. Henry Satterlee is critically ill. Dr. Young of Phoenix is the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farley attended the funeral of John Cavanaugh at Fulton Thursday.

Dr. A. R. Satterlee of Elgin, Ill., was called here last week by the critical illness of his mother, Mrs. Henry Satterlee.

The Maccabee picnic held Wednesday at Clifford was largely attended.

The Morse Birthday Club met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Mace.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Sutton visited relatives at Fulton Saturday.

Mrs. Galen Satterlee of Syracuse is spending some time at Henry Satterlee's.

Mrs. Byron Green received the news announcing the death of her sister, Mrs. Francis Cook of Fulton, last Wednesday, her funeral being held Friday.

Mrs. Laura Stewart has returned home from Syracuse, where she went for medical treatment.

D. H. Sheen of Gouverneur sold last week Fred C. Gouternout's Block, Clinton Street, to M. J. Truax. Consideration $3,550; also John Compo's house, Depot street, to E. J. Robinson, consideration $3,000.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Last Call on Summer Goods

Our Fall stock is beginning to arrive. We must have the room and must sell off the balance of every Summer article in the store. You get the benefit by buying now. Never were goods sold so cheap.

Men's $18.00 Suits will now be sold for...$13.00
Men's $16.00 Suits will now be sold for...$11.00
Men's $15.00 Suits will now be sold for...$10.00
Men's $12.00 Suits will now be sold for...$8.00
Men's $10.00 Suits will now be sold for...$6.50

Raincoats

This is the time to buy, because, first, you will buy it $3 to $5 cheaper than any other time. Second, now is when you will need it more than any other time.

$16.00 Coats, Cravenette make, at.....$12.00
$15.00 Coats, Cravenette make, at.....$11.25
$12.00 Coats, Cravenette make, at.....$9.00

Come and see them. They can't be beat for make, style or fit.

A Lot of Other Bargains We Are Offering

Men's $4.00 Fine Worsted Pants, at.....$3.00
Men's $3.00 Fine Pants, at.....$2.25
Boys' $5.50 Knickerbocker Suits, at.....$4.20
Boys' 50c Blouses, all colors, at.....39c
Boys' 50c Wash Suits, at.....39c
Boys' $1.00 Wash Suits, at.....79c
25c Men's Underwear, at.....19c
Men's 50c Reversible Collars, Black Sateen Shirts, at.....35c
One lot of good Work Shirts, at.....31c
Men's 25c Fancy 1-2 Hose, at.....19c
Any of our $1.00 and $1.25 Underwear, at..75c
A lot of bargains in Men's Sweaters and Sweater Coats.

Everything guaranteed to be as represented or your money back.

S. LIPSKY & SON

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N. Y.

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Mrs. Martha Hirt, who has been spending the past week in South Scriba and New Haven, has returned home.

Mr. George Pero has returned to Boston after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pero.

Mrs. Harriet Mack and granddaughter, Miss Mildred Sheldon, of Rochester, visited the former's daughter, Mrs. Jessie Ingamells in Fulton over Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Armstrong has been entertaining her daughter from Syracuse.

Mrs. Bert Grommons of Bundyville was in town Friday.

Mr. Charles Tompkins rides in a new automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell and daughter, Harriet, of Fulton, have been visiting friends here.

Messrs. Melvin Wells and Almon Jones were guests of friends in Pulaski, Sunday.

Master Harold LaBoef has been visiting in Norwich.

Mr. and Mrs. William Young are entertaining friends from Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. Charles Thompson and son of East Syracuse are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson.

Mr. Theodore Loeffler and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Modry returned home Tuesday after spending ten days in New York and Boston.

Mrs. Frank Parkhurst of Fulton visited Minetto friends a few days the past week.

Miss Carrie V. Hale of Mt. Pleasant was the guest of friends here last week.

Mr. Maurice Lamb and son of New York and Mrs. Wright Lamb of Lansing called on Minetto friends Tuesday.

Mrs. Alta Sullivan and mother, Mrs. France, have moved to Fulton, they having leased their home here to Mr. Earl McCann.

Mrs. Ada Osborne of Oswego visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Hill, Thursday.

Mrs. Daisy Davis and son Max of Syracuse are guests of Mrs. Putney.

The annual reunion of the Hill family was held at New Haven at the home of Mr. Louis Jerrett, Thursday, Aug. 13.

Mrs. Florence Waits is spending some time at Thousand Islands.

Little Miss Lois Beadle returned home Sunday after visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Beadle, for several days.

Master Erwin Thompson of Baldwinsville visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. John Brooks of Fulton visited Minetto friends Thursday.

Mrs. William Wadsworth has returned from a four weeks visit with friends in Bellville and Canton.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Tompkins of Syracuse were in town over Sunday, visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tompkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chase returned to their home in Adams Monday after spending several days with their mother, Mrs. John Chase and other relatives.

Mr. Elisha McCarthy is confined to his house by illness.

Mrs. Levi Quinn of St. Paul, Minn., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Samuel Perkins. Mrs. Quinn formerly resided in Minetto, where she has many friends and acquaintances who are glad to meet her again.

Miss Brooksie Baker was the guest of her cousin, Miss Marian Baker in Scriba, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Robert Peavy and family are occupying the Case house, recently occupied by Mr. M. Dwyer.

Mr. Seth Howard of Fulton spent Sunday at N. H. Riker's.

The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held Thursday evening after the usual weekly prayer meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Sweet are entertaining out of town friends.

Mr. Frank Atwood of Fulton was a caller in town Saturday.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker are glad to know of the rapid recovery of their little daughter, Gladys, from her recent illness.

Miss Susie Stewart of Munnsville has returned home after spending several days with Miss Nora Fleming.

Mrs. Lillie Lilly visited relatives in Fulton Monday.

Miss Neva Hirt of Minetto and Miss DuBois of Syracuse visited in Pennellville Saturday.

Miss Esther Baker has accepted a position as teacher at Little Falls for the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pero visited in Fulton Sunday.

Claude Barker of Battle Island has returned home after spending several days at Mr. A. K. Hill's.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Wellwood of Fulton were guests of their parents, Geo. Kelsey and wife, over Sunday.

Mrs. Matthew Dwyer and brother, Fred Riker, spent Friday in Cleveland.

Mr. N. H. Riker and Mr. M. Dwyer spent Sunday at Bernnards Bay.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., August 19, 1908.

F. Daniels, 112 Beech St.; S. F. Loucks, W. Linsell, Nicola Loughi, Martin McDaughtin, Angelo Ottavino, Adam Tryst, Master Harold Woods, Mrs. Ella V. Case, Miss Anna Hotchkiss, Mrs. Ada Pair, Mrs. Laura Parson.

Cards—Mrs. Joseph Lynch, 206 Second St., C. E. Greenfield, Hazel Horr, Mrs. B. McGrath, 117 E. Seventh St., M. Young, 301 Broadway, Geo. McCarty, Fay Wood, Miss Anna Sheldrick, Teddy Martin, Miss Sadie Smith, Broadway, Vinza Searles, Mrs. Levi Samson, Utica St.

William E. Hughes,
Postmaster.

Properly Fitted Eye-Glasses

Only a few days before school opens. Have the children's eyes tested at once, so they become accustomed to glasses if they need them. Many children become peevish, irritable and nervous as soon as school opens. The trouble is more often caused by defective eye-sight than from any other cause.

We are especially equipped to ascertain whether or not your child needs glasses.

W. C. Morgan
113 Cayuga Street Fulton

CHURCH NOTES.

Baptist Church.

The Rev. Edward Babcock of Eau Clair, Wis., who supplied so satisfactory a year ago, will supply the Baptist pulpit on Sunday, both morning and evening. Everybody welcome.

State Street Church.

Public worship at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.30 p. m.

Prayer service on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

If you are identified with no other church in the city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

ZION CHURCH.

Ninth Sunday after Trinity, Aug. 16.

Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.

Morning prayer, Litany and sermon, 10:30 a. m.

Evensong and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

The parish Aid Society will meet for work at the rectory on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Cook a Meal for One Cent.

Write S. L. Head, Caughdenoy, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents, and he will tell you how you can procure heat in your cook stove enough to cook an ordinary meal without the use of either wood or coal, the cost per meal is nearly 1 cent. Address, S. L. Head, Box 62, Caughdenoy, N. Y., and save money the rest of your life. tf

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC CO.

Contractors and Engineers for all kinds of

Electrical Installations

Dynamos, Motors, Fans, Belts, Fixtures, Etc. Fire Proof Wiring a Specialty

Estimates Cheerfully Given on Application

J. C. KETCHAM, Manager

Telephone 243 834 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit
No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

IF YOU WANT A GOOD QUALITY OF

ASPHALT ROOFING

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY AND PERHAPS PICK UP A FEW CRUMBS FOR OURSELVES..

COME AND SEE

GILBERT & NICHOLS CO.

Telephone 4 Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

AFTERNOON TEAS

are dainty, cool and delightful when ELECTRICITY is used. No heat, dirt or smoke to cause discomfort, or make expense for cleaning.

Electricity is the ideal servant for light, heat and power. It makes the home complete and enjoyable as nothing else does.

Get ready for Winter by wiring now when the house is open.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Mr. T. D. Lewis is in Binghamton.

Mr. W. L. Forsyth is spending a week at Selkirk-on-the-Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosenbloom have been visiting at Elmira.

Mrs. M. J. Gere and daughters have returned from Lysander.

Mr. Charles Hart of Belleville, Ont., is visiting Fulton relatives.

Miss Florence Doxtater is slowly convalescing from a severe illness.

Mrs. F. W. Austin and children have been visiting Pulaski friends.

Rural Carrier Middleton last week lost his pocket book containing a considerable sum of money and several valuable papers.

Hon. and Mrs. T. D. Lewis will leave the last week in August for New York city, where they will remain until after the Holidays.

Surrogate and Mrs. C. I. Miller of Mexico and Attorney and Mrs. Irving G. Hubbs of Pulaski made a brief call in Fulton on Wednesday.

Mr. Arthur Althouse and Mrs. P. Butler of Chicago, Ills., are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Althouse of Hannibal street.

While visiting Syracuse friends a few weeks ago, Mrs. W. S. Hallock fell and injured her spine. The injury is thought to be temporary.

Miss M. E. Young will leave on Thursday morning for Sacandaga Park, where she will spend a week with a party of friends from Oswego. She will return to Fulton on August 27.

Mr. W. J. Pentelow, formerly of this city but now of Corona, Calif., last week resigned his position as president of the Corona bank owing to his poor health and the close confinement which the duties of the office entailed. His resignation was very reluctantly accepted by the directors as it was through his efforts that the bank was organized and by his energy and business ability that it was so rapidly advanced in the commercial standing of the community. Mr. Pentelow was recently elected president of the Pacific Coast Carbon company and will devote all of his time and strength to it.

Susini, made in rice and pectoral paper, is the newest cigarette on the market. Ask for them at the Victor C. Lewis cigar store.

Mr. Harold Cary left on Monday evening for Buffalo.

Miss Belle Brando's physical condition is slightly improved.

Miss Mabel North has returned from Philadelphia, Pa., and New York city.

Mr. Harry Parker of Syracuse is the guest of his sister, Mrs. E. H. Nodyne.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter and family have returned from Old Forge.

The water is very low in the river at present, not any going over the lower dam.

Mrs. H. M. Hawkins and children and Miss Majel Streeter are at Bernhards Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter and Miss Verna Hunter have returned from Old Forge.

Mr. Raymond Boorman is convalescing from a long illness with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mrs. F. D. Dutcher is spending this week with her mother, Mrs. W. A. Merton, on the river road.

Rural Carrier F. W. Austin is erecting two dwelling houses on his property in West First street.

Mr. Will Tucker returned on Friday to New York city, after a visit with his sister, Miss Grace Tucker.

Attorney and Mrs. A. T. Jennings have leased and after September 1st will occupy the S. D. Wells house in Park street, which is being remodelled and improved for their occupancy.

The D. M. Sullivan drug store and the Hagan & Baldwin grocery store on the west side, have been beautified by the addition of heavy plate glass fronts. They present a bright and attractive appearance.

The Prohibition County convention is called for Monday, Aug. 24, at 9:30 A. M., in the Court House, Oswego. The school commissioners conventions will also be held the same day at the same place.

A number of superb motor boats and motor racers have passed through the canal during the past week enroute from New York to Chippewa Bay. Some of the launches were veritable floating palaces.

Rev. John Richards and family have returned from Chautauqua. He stated that there were 120 men in the Brotherhood Class there, one-half of them being ministers, and that the Governor of Pennsylvania was present.

Mr. John Gillard is recovering as rapidly as could be expected from the horrible injury he received last week as the result of a cartridge explosion. He has suffered greatly and it will be a long time before the use of his right hand will be restored.

Riverside, (Cal.) Daily Press—Mrs. C. E. Denton and daughter Miss Carrie Denton of Phoenix, N. Y. are the guests of R. E. Turner and family of 377 West Fourteenth street. Mrs. Denton is the mother of Earl J. Denton who holds the position of teacher at the Sherman institute and has decided to make her home here.

Deputy Sheriff Young on Thursday sold at Sheriff's sale in the City Hall, the interest of Francis Kibbie in property owned jointly by herself and James Kibbie. The judgment was in favor of the First National Bank of Newark, in the sum of $65.20 and it was bid in by Mr. L. J. Whitaker.

Plans and specifications for the remodelling of the Lewis homestead into a modern and commodious Elks temple, are on file at the law offices of Fanning & Fanning, where they may be seen by interested parties. Sealed bids for the work will be received up to Saturday noon, Aug. 22. They must be left with Attorney G. M. Fanning, who is chairman of the building committee.

GREAT BARGAIN—To close estate the house, lot and double corner lot at 419 Cayuga street is offered for sale separately or together. Investigate at once. For particulars inquire Birney Clark, Fulton, or address S. J. Kelly, Attorney, University Block, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-16*

WANTED
Farm and City Property
Whitaker & Lovejoy
44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Mr. Eugene Holmes is ill.

Elizabeth Sanford of Seneca street is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Easton have returned from Texas.

Attorney G. S. Piper has returned from a western trip.

Mr. Arthur Campbell has been visiting Manlius friends.

Mrs. Charles Jones has recovered from an illness.

Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Miller have returned from Bernhards Bay.

Miss Helen VanSanford is spending some time at Bernhards Bay.

Mr. Francis Morin is visiting Dr. Simons in Canajoharie.

Mr. Frederick Wolcott is visiting friends in New York city.

Peter Donovan of Park street is visiting his brother in New York.

Thomas DeMott of Michigan is visiting his sister, Mrs. Henry Sanford.

Mrs. Bert Morgan and daughter, Ruth, have been visiting in Phoenix.

Mr. and Mrs. George Root and family have returned from Edgewood Park.

Mr. Albert LaPorte of Holyoke, Mass., is visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs. H. A. Newton of Sandy Creek has been the guest of Mrs. Eugene Searles.

H. K. Howe and family have returned from their outing at Pleasant Point.

Mr. A. E. Worden is still confined to his home as the result of his injuries.

Miss Anna Gillard is in Syracuse where she will attend the wedding of a friend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Thompson have been entertaining Miss Bessie Askew of Oswego.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Lewis and children of Newark, N. J., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster.

Mrs. Faustina Langdon has sold property in Granby to W. W. Warren for $400.

The Misses Alice and Anna Crahan of Rotterdam Junction have been visiting Fulton friends.

Messrs. G. B. Palmer and William Sylvester have been enjoying an outing among the Thousand Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sears and Miss Ina Hannum have been sojourning at Thousand Island Park.

Supervisors Simons, Borst and Abbey and Assessors Foster, Hewitt and Hannis on Friday made up the trial jury list for this city.

A Civil Service examination for the position of jail janitor will be held Thursday evening, Aug. 20, in the City Hall.

The Board of Public Works has awarded the contract for constructing the sewer laterals in West Third, Worth, First and Hannibal streets to S. Bonn at a price of $6,283.46.

Mrs. F. W. Austin on Thursday gave a birthday party in honor of her daughters, Helen and Avis, aged 5 and 7 years, but whose birthdays both occur on August 13. Twelve guests were invited and refreshments were served late in the afternoon. The little Misses enjoyed a merry time.

An old fashioned Farmer's picnic was held at High Banks on Tuesday by the residents of South Granby and vicinity. Hon. T. E. Hancock of Syracuse and Prof. John F. McLennan, superintendent of the New York State Agricultural College of Alfred University, addressed the gathering. The committee planned an enjoyable program and it was nicely carried out.

Announcements have been received in this city of the marriage of Miss Gene Ethel Markham, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Markham of Herkimer, to Dr. Edward Payne Tignor of the United States Army. The ceremony occurred on Saturday, Aug. 15, and Dr. and Mrs. Tignor will be at home to their friends after October 1, at Fort Jay, Governor's Island, New York city. The bride's father was a former pastor of the Methodist church in this city and she is a very talented young woman, being a graduate of Syracuse University and of the Albany Normal School.

A complete line of fancy clay pipes are to be found at V. C. Lewis's Cayuga street store.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar
Fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change. . .
Modern Way Laundry
E. D. PARK, Proprietor
Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton
West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

Postal Carrier is ill.

Frank Connell of Syracuse was in town over Sunday.

Mrs. L. A. Holden returned from a visit in Jefferson county last week.

Miss Mayme Nealis has returned from a vacation spent in Syracuse.

Dr. and Mrs. Connors of Scranton, Pa., are the guest of Fulton relatives.

Mrs. E. M. Veeder and Mrs. Ralph Briggs and children have been visiting in Skaneateles.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Skeel and Miss Florence Skeel have returned from the Adirondacks.

Two more letter carriers have been added to the Oswego force, making fifteen in all.

Miss Annetta Eller of Syracuse spent Sunday in this city with her brother, Mr. A. J. Eller.

Mrs. Della Richards of Third street returned from Ogdensburg and Thousand Island Park last week.

Mrs. C. S. Eggleston of Academy street went on Saturday to Sylvan Beach as the guest of Mrs. Charles Bacon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Connell attended the wedding of Mr. James Connell's daughter in Baldwinsville last week.

Mrs. James L. Jones and son Bernard will return this week from a sojourn this week in the North Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Koepple of Buffalo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Ward Monday and Tuesday of this week.

William Lavette of Central Square escaped on Friday from the stone pile brigade of the Oswego jail. He has not been located yet.

Mrs. Harry Hatch and Miss Alice Croak will leave this week for Reno, Nev., and the Pacific slope, to be absent until March.

Mr Horace N. Gilbert is in Utica attending the Sherman notification ceremonies. While there he will be the guest of Mrs. Calkins.

Mr. Joseph LaLonde was unfortunate enough to be twice kicked by a horse last week. One blow injured his arm and another his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Sanford received a telegram from Albany on Saturday that their daughter, Mrs. Fred B. Simons, was ill and for her mother to come at once.

The Very Reverend Dean Barry of Oswego on Saturday celebrated his 77th natal aniversary. Father Barry is Oswego county's grand old man and all classes of citizens, regardless of creed or politics, respect and admire him.

The Directoire sheath gown on exhibition in the J. C. O'Brien cloak room last week, attracted a great deal of attention. It was made of brown silk with trimmings of heavy buttercup lace and torquoise velvet ribbon. It is hardly expected that many from the model will be seen in Fulton much prior to Fair week.

The Merry Widow 5c straight cigar is the best low priced cigar on the market. For sale by V. C. Lewis.

Visitors to the Firemen's Convention are invited to inspect our very large stock of all kinds of Baggage. :: ::

Suit Cases, 95c to $12.00
Valises, 50c to $14.00

Telescope Cases
Steamer Trunks
Hat Trunks
Wardrobe Trunks
Dress Tray Trunks
Men's Trunks
Steamer Rugs, &c.

All Goods Neatly Lettered Without Extra Cost.

C. M. Barnes
207 West First Street
Oswego, N. Y.

CASH

Granulated Sugar at Refiners Price 5½c. lb.
As Much as You Desire

TEA. 100 chests of fancy Ceylon Tea, just the kind to use for icing. This tea is the first picking and contains only buds, per lb.....50c 50 stamps.

Canned Meats. 50 cases of Roast and Corned Beef; put up in strict accordance with the Pure Food Laws; No. 1 cans.....15c 10 stamps.

Salted Peanuts. 500 lbs. of delicately Salted Peanuts, lb.....20c

Pillsbury Breakfast Food. The popular breakfast cereal, sells regularly for 15c.....2 packages for 25c

Vienna Flakes. A toasted corn Flake; regular 15c package....8c

Fruit Jars. 1,000 dozen of Telephone Fruit Jars, which we will sell at cost.....Pints, 80c Dozen; Quarts, 90c Dozen

Soda Water. House's Celebrated Soft Drinks, right off the ice, per bottle.....10c—10 stamps.

Butter. 3,000 lbs of fancy Creamery Butter, which we will sell at actual cost, lb.....25c

Coffee. 1,500 lbs. of Java Blend Coffee, fresh from the roaster, guaranteed to please or money refunded—25 stamps—lb.....35c

Jelleta. 100 cases of the popular gelatine desert, made in a minute and used by thousands—10 stamps—per package.....10c

Sweet Potatoes. Solid carload, direct from Virginia; fancy bright stock.....6 pounds 25c

Washing Powder. Cash Brand. This powder is noted for its quick work and still does not harm the finest fabric. No. 4 package—20 stamps.....20c

Matches. 50 cases of Royal Blue Brand, sure light matches, 3 boxes for.....10c

7% Dividends Guaranteed

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

Saturday, August 21, 1908
Extra Special All Day

5,000 Pounds Shredded Cocoanut, sold at less than cost; limit 2 pounds. 2 pounds 25c. 1 pound 14c.

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 464 Fulton, N. Y.

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m, unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.
THE FULTON GARAGE.
Telephone 491.

The First National Bank
Fulton, N. Y.

Pays 4% on Money Left Six Months.

Pays 3% on Certificates of Deposit, No Time Lost.

Safe Deposit Boxes.

You Don't Have to Help Pay the Loss When You Trade at a Strictly Cash Store

Better goods and lower prices prevail. We do not regret the change and neither will you. . .

Can you match this offer? 5 pieces of Graniteware or 5 pieces of China will be given absolutely free with one pound of our Baking Powder.

Try Staley's Easy Ironing Starch Does not show on dark goods. No cooking. Does not stick to iron.

Staley's Cream Corn Starch is scientifically prepared expressly for food. For sale only at the

A. L. WARNER
CASH GROCERY
Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN
Every Sunday to Sep. 20? inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

Sewing Wanted.
Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably. Mrs. H O. Vickery, tf 118 North Fifth Street, Fulton.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
42 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
HOURS: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crowns and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 40
South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Mile B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.

Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the

CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

The Pearl of Great Price.

"Put disposition above beauty," is the advice of a modern sage to the young man who thinks of taking to himself a wife. But it requires such a long time to discover disposition.—Providence Journal.

A Reliable Remedy
Ely's Cream Balm
is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

CATARRH

HAY FEVER

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Strolling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

The Prig and His Cane.

In the number of the Tatler for Oct. 6, 1709, it is observed that "a cane is part of the dress of a prig" (this, by the way, shows the erroneous notion prevalent, that "priggishness" is a modern word) "and always worn upon a button, for fear he should be thought to have an occasion for it or be esteemed really and not genteelly a cripple."

In the number of Nov. 18 a rural squire in town is sketched who is the prototype of one of the pavement nuisances: "His arms naturally swung at an unreasonable distance from his sides, which, with the advantage of a cane that he brandished in a great variety of irregular motions, made it unsafe for any one to walk within several yards of him."

And under date of Dec. 5 there is an amusing sketch of "a lively, fresh colored young man" who was among the applicants to Isaac Bickerstaff's court of censorship for license to use "canes, perspective glasses, snuffboxes, orange flower waters and the like ornaments of life." This young man had his cane hanging on his fifth button and was "an Oxford scholar who was just entered at the temple."

Summer complaints and other serious ailments common in hot weather can be traced to the stomach nine times out of ten. Keep the stomach in good order right now by keeping a bottle of Kodol handy in the house all the time, but especially during this month. Take Kodol whenever you feel that you need it. That is the only time you need take Kodol. Just when you need it; then you will not be troubled with your stomach, belching, gas on the stomach, bloating, dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold by all druggists.

Conscientious About It.

"Mr. Gizzard," asked the caller, "are you carrying all the life insurance you can afford?"

"No," answered the man at the desk. "I can afford more, and I had expected to take out more, but from a note I got from my employer this morning I have begun to suspect that I'm carrying a good deal more than I am worth."—Chicago Tribune.

Forcing a Success.

"What is the name of your new novel?"

"'The Dungeon.' Good gloomy title, eh?"

"Yes. That name alone ought to get the book among the six best cellars."—Washington Herald.

Nothing Liberal About It.

Wilkins—I understand you are giving your son a liberal education? Hobbs—Liberal! Not a bit of it! They don't give anything away at the college where he is. I have to pay for every plaguy thing he gets.—Boston Transcript.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young men." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

Thoughtfulness.

Mr. Sapbeide—I like to be different from other people.

Miss Caustique—That is very considerate of you. I dare say the other people appreciate your thoughtfulness.—Philadelphia Record.

Sarcastic.

He—Look at this infernal bill. You know I can't afford it. Now, I'm going to give you a piece of my mind. She—Are you quite sure you can afford that, papa, dear?—London Opinion.

Economy may be the road to wealth, but a large number of people will refuse to travel it until the good roads movement has made it smoother.—Washington Herald.

Full of It.

Mrs. Caterby—In a short time now we will do all our beating by alcohol. Caterby—That's good. All we'll have to do will be to connect your Uncle Jake to the furnace and range.—Life.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

WORK is now well under way on the Manhattan bridge, the fourth great aerial highway over the East river planned by New York city. Two bridges are already in use, the famous old Brooklyn and the still later Williamsburg bridges, both suspension structures. A third, the Blackwell's island bridge, an impressive cantilever design, is nearing completion, but its opening will be delayed until it has been thoroughly tested owing to apprehension caused by the collapse of the mammoth Quebec bridge of the same type, a disaster that cost the lives of over 100 workmen.

The Manhattan bridge will be of the suspension type and will resemble somewhat the old Brooklyn bridge, long noted as the "jumping off" place of people ambitious to secure dime museum jobs or a golden harp and wings. Steve Brodie, who ultimately realized both ambitions, was one of the first men who jumped from Brooklyn bridge and lived to tell the tale. It must be confessed, however, that one of Mr. Brodie's rivals in the hazardous business asserted that he never did actually jump, which called forth Brodie's retort: "Dat bloke calls himself a bridge jumper, does he? S-a-a-y, dat mug couldn't jump off a trolley car on to a good thing!"

The Manhattan bridge is being erected very near the scene of Brodie's alleged exploit. In fact, it is so near the Brooklyn bridge that some people have wondered why it is being placed where it is. However, there are excellent reasons, one of which is that it will furnish a direct route between lower New York and a part of Brooklyn only reached in a roundabout way by streets converging at the eastern end of Brooklyn bridge. When he pays the bills for Manhattan bridge Father Knickerbocker will separate himself from the sum of $28,000,000 of which $20,000,000 will be for the bridge itself and $8,000,000 for the valuable land required for the approaches to and anchorages of the structure. The towers have been built, and two temporary footpaths cross the river connecting them. On these footpaths much of the work of weaving the great supporting cables of the bridge will be done. The making of the cables and putting them into place is a task of herculean proportions and accompanied by immense hazard of life and limb. Each cable is built of thirty-seven strands, and each strand is composed of no less than 256 separate wires. In other words, high up in the air on swaying, narrow platforms, or board walks, the workmen and engineers will have to make four cables, each comprising 9,472 wires, a total for the four cables of 37,888 wires. Each of these individual wires must be laid with exactly the same curve, with the same strain on it, or else it will become a useless part of the great cable to which it belongs.

TEMPORARY FOOTPATHS OF MANHATTAN BRIDGE.

After the cables are completed they are hung in place and allowed to stretch. Then they are wrapped around with a covering of strong wires, and this covering is given two or three coatings of paint. All this acts as a protection from the weather and adds to the life of the cable. The four cables for the bridge will be completed in about six months, according to the calculations of the chief engineer.

Men lose their lives in almost every big bridge enterprise, and the new bridge already has its death roster. The great height at which most of the important work has to be done places a strain on the strongest nerves and the clearest heads. But one woman has ventured to the top of the skeleton structure, a newspaper reporter, Miss Mazie Clemens, connected with a New York daily. She tripped and fell on the narrow walk way and escaped plunging under the guard rope to instant death only by a miracle.

Miss Clemens spoke of her experience in part as follows:

"I climbed up 300 steps and when I reached the beginning of the footpath the force of the wind compelled me to remove my hat, and I, being of slight build, had a fear that the breeze, if it freshened, might waft me along with it.

"From anchorage to anchorage I climbed a seven foot walk until I approached the ascent to the highest point on top of the first tower. There was no hand rail except where the cable ran along the posts here and there, not even a board on either side. It looked almost impossible to me. I gazed and trembled at the prospect, but I started on the journey. It was a bigger effort than I figured upon, but I stuck to it. At last, panting but triumphant, I stood 490 feet above water and gazed upon the magnificent panorama of New York spread far below me.

"I have been rocked in an ordinary cradle and in the cradle of the deep and enjoyed both sensations, but it was a new and creepy feeling to stand on the gently swaying, creaking structure at such an altitude and peer down between the great cracks of the footboards on the rickety path to the river below, where the big river boats were passing to and fro, looking like small tugs as they swept majestically along.

"Following the instructions of the contractors, I wore rubbers and low shoes to make my footing more secure. But when I felt a trifle dizzy I clung to the arm of my sturdy guide.

"The journey over the footpath was completed in just twenty minutes, walking steadily all the while. Our time from the ascent of the stairs in Brooklyn to the finish on the New York side was just forty minutes, but it seemed to me as if I had spent years on the journey."

A Wedding Superstition.

It has been considered unlucky to be married in May ever since the days of Ovid, and those people who have spent their time in looking up roots and reasons have given what they consider to be the origin of the superstition as follows:

In ancient Rome there was held in May a festival called the Lemuria, or feast of the Lemures, which was a ceremony in honor of the speeches of departed souls. It became with the Romans what we should call "bad form" to have matrimonial feasts at the season of a solemn ritual, being no doubt thought to be an insult to the dead to marry at such a time. From this a number of stories grew of the revenge made by the outraged ghosts upon those who dared to disregard them, and if anything unfortunate happened to a couple who had been married in May it would, of course, have been put down to retribution. So the tradition of ill luck arose, and its influence has lasted ever since, even to our time.

Towed by a Halibut.

About the mouths of the streams on which salmon camps are situated the Indian dogs and children amuse themselves catching the fish. Some of the youngsters are so small that after they have succeeded in cornering a fish the combined efforts of the party are often required to dispatch it and carry it to camp. I have watched dogs running about in a rift snapping at the salmon and apparently having the time of their lives.

One of the most amusing sights that I saw during my stay in Alaska was two Indian boys being towed about the harbor at Kadiak by a huge halibut they had just hooked. Utterly unable to land the fish, they had fastened the line to the stern of the boat, and while they pulled with all their might, each one at an oar, they rallied each other for not exerting more strength and shouted loudly for help. Finally an Indian put out in a boat, and the fish was landed.—Forest and Stream.

The Sorrow of It.

"It's too bad," observed the man who seemed to be thinking aloud.

"What's too bad?" queried the party who had overheard the observation.

"That our neighbors always know when we have fried onions for supper but never get next when we have strawberries and ice cream," explained the noisy thinker.—Chicago News.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

CASTORIA
900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.
CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Won Her a Diadem.

How did the French come into Sicily? A woman did it. At a festive entertainment held at a French court Beatrice, countess of Savoy and wife of Charles of Anjou, the brother of Louis IX. of France, was removed from the superior range of seats occupied by her two younger sisters, the queen of France and the queen of England. Mortified by the humiliation, she returned to her apartments and burst into tears. Upon learning the cause of her chagrin and her saying that she would be able to give up her life to confine her tresses for one hour beneath a diadem Charles embraced her affectionately and said, "Set your heart at rest, countess, for before long I will make you a greater queen than either of your sisters." So he promised her. He defeated Manfred, the last of the Norman kings, and caused Conradino, the great-grandson of the Emperor Frederick, to be mercilessly slain, he himself and Beatrice witnessing the scene. Upon the death of his brother Charles became king of Naples, thus fulfilling the cherished desire of his wife for a diadem.

The Wrist and the Arm.

The real wrist, as one might say, is the elbow joint. It is all hand, practically speaking, from that point to the tips of the fingers. When you turn your wrist it is the whole forearm that makes the twist, and every movement of the fingers is controlled by the muscles of the forearm. The power to turn the wrist to and fro at the elbow joint is possessed only by human beings and monkeys, and even the higher apes are not able to do the trick nearly as well as we can. In this movement the great biceps muscle in the upper arm is importantly concerned, its powerful action in turning the forearm outward being accountable for the fact that we are able to put so much more strength into a twist in that direction than the opposite way. Many of our most familiar tools indeed, such as the screwdriver, are made with reference to the anatomical peculiarity in question. It is for this reason and no other that all screws turn to the right.

Beating Women.

"If it is true that national adages give an insight into the ideas of a people," says the Berlin Radical, "women must occupy a strange position in Russia. One of these old saws runs, 'Love your wife as much as your mule,' and another tells the good man, 'Shake your wife as you would a fruit tree.' That woman is not considered frail is shown by the adage, 'You may safely beat your wife with a broom handle, for she is not made of porcelain.' Beating must be considered a wholesome pastime, to judge from the saying, 'If your wife deserves a beating in the morning, remind her of her faults by giving her another at noon.' In justification of this kind of attention the Russian says, 'The more a man beats his wife the better his meals will be.'"

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo, for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office.
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA·SNOW &

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON."
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St., 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 5.10 P.M
" New York, West 42d St., 5.35 P.M.
" New York, Desbrosses St., 6.00 P.M.
Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 125 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. O. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND

5.48 a. m.	Train No.	335
8.10 a. m., Daily	"	337
11.51 a. m.	"	301
3.31 p. m., Daily	"	351
6.16 p. m.	"	303
10.10 p. m., Daily	"	315

SOUTH BOUND

8.04 a. m.	Train No.	302
9.39 a. m., Daily	"	318
2.14 p. m.	"	350
5.09 p. m., Daily	"	328
7.04 p. m.	"	342
9.34 p. m., Daily	"	336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND

†Chicago Limited for all points West	3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	11 00 "
*Local for Oswego	5 16 PM
aLocal for Oswego	6 48 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego	7 50 "

SOUTH BOUND

†Express for Norwich	3 22 AM
§Syrian Beach Special	8 58 "
*Local for Sidney	9 18 AM
†Limited for New York	12 30 PM
†Express for New York	7 06 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
s Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers. Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address
J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager. G. A. PAEZ, Traveling Agent, 56 Beaver St., New York. Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer does not wait. We give proofs of cures.
Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway 39th St., N. Y.

The Companies that Paid Losses in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

Easy Way to Be Generous.

In a church of a New England village was an old man who had all the Christian graces save one, and that was the grace of liberality. He would do anything in the world for the cause of religion but give up his money. At the close of the financial year 1869 the church found itself $400 in debt. A church meeting was called, and it was voted to circulate a subscription paper on the spot and endeavor to thus raise the sum needed. This was done, and the old gentleman did not put his name on the paper. The result was rather disheartening, $200 only having been pledged. Silence reigned for a moment, when one of the most generous men in the church moved that "we double our subscriptions." Instantly the old gentleman was on his feet and with extraordinary fervor cried, "I second the motion."

He evidently felt that he was thus doing his part in hastening a most desirable result.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Would Follow His Example.

After the battle of Prestonpans a witty Scottish farmer amused himself by writing a ballad upon it, which so stung one of the English officers, who had behaved very basely on the occasion, that he sent the poet a challenge to meet him at H. for mortal combat.

The second found the farmer busy with his hayfork and at once delivered the challenge of the redoubtable hero. The good natured farmer, turning toward him with the agricultural implement, coolly said:

"Gang awa' back to Mester Smith and tell him I hae nae time to come to H. to gie him satisfaction, but that if he likes to come here I'll tak' a look at him, and if I think I can fecht (fight) him I'll fecht him, and if I think I canna fecht him I'll just do as he did—I'll run away."

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

A Sure Test.

The schoolmaster put to his class the question: "Two jars of gas, one containing nitrogen and one carbon dioxide, are given. How may the gases be discriminated?"

One eager little pupil said: "Get a man, and let him take a deep breath of both. When he gets the carbon dioxide he'll die. That's the way to tell."

The

1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:30 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 12:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip $5.00
From Charlotte	round trip 4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip 4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip 3.75
From Oswego	round trip 3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17. Olcott Beach July 18.

NOTICE OF COMPLETION OF ASSESSMENT.

Notice is hereby given that the Assessors of the Town of Volney have completed their Assessment Roll for the present year, and that a copy thereof is left with Wm. H. Owen, where the same may be seen and examined by any person interested therein, until the 18th of August, and that the said Assessors will meet at Town Hall in said Town of Volney on the said 18th of August at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to hear and examine all complaints in relation to such assessments, and to review their assessments on the application of any person conceiving himself aggrieved.

Dated, Volney, the 3rd day of August, 1908.

WM. H. OWEN,
Z. B. AUSTIN,
GEO. A. PARKER,
Assessors.

Who Whips?

The clergyman's little son was telling the small son of a parishioner of the dreadful fights which he and his sister indulged in.

"You don't mean to say that ministers' children fight?" replied the horrified little layman.

"Oh, yes."

"Who whips?"

"Mamma."—Exchange.

Foolish Question.

"Why, my boy, did you fall in that open coal hole?"

"No; course not. I wux in here, an' they built a pavement over me."—Illustrated Bits.

By the streets of "by and by" one arrives at the house of "never."—Cervantes.

Let us show you how simple it is to make good pictures with the Eastman "Kodaks." With the tank developing machines it is "Daylight" all the way through, no more "Dark Room" troubles with the Eastman way. "Kodaks" all the way from $1.00 up to $75.00. Eastman films are the only reliable ones; you cannot afford to use poor films. For sale at Lasher's Book Store.

A Famous Poison Mystery.

England had a famous poison mystery in the last century. Two members of a great club in Manchester, both men of position and keen politicians, each received, apparently as a New Year's gift, small boxes containing a few cigars of the very highest quality apparently. Both were taken fearfully ill after smoking, and one of them subsequently died. The cigars were found to be loaded with poison, and it was said that the man who recovered only did so because he used a cigar holder. The facts were at first hushed up, because, as was said, the suspected sender, whose motive was revenge on account of a lady, was a man of wealth and power. But the subject was cleared, and the mystery was deepened by the following circumstances: A rich Manchester merchant, traveling one day in a railway car about the time of the incident related, got into conversation with a most agreeably and highly cultivated stranger, who finally offered his cigar case. The Manchester man was found at Leeds almost unconscious and the only occupant of the carriage. He grasped in one of his convulsed hands the cigar he had been smoking, and after analysis showed it to be identical with the others. He recovered, but the stranger was never discovered.

His Inspiration.

The negro brass band connected with the traveling troupe was blatting a tune in its characteristic slap bang style in front of the theater when a dusky cornet player who had been sulking all day suddenly quit blowing and did not resume.

"Say, Mose," demanded the leader in the ensuing pause, "ain't yo' workin' any mo'?"

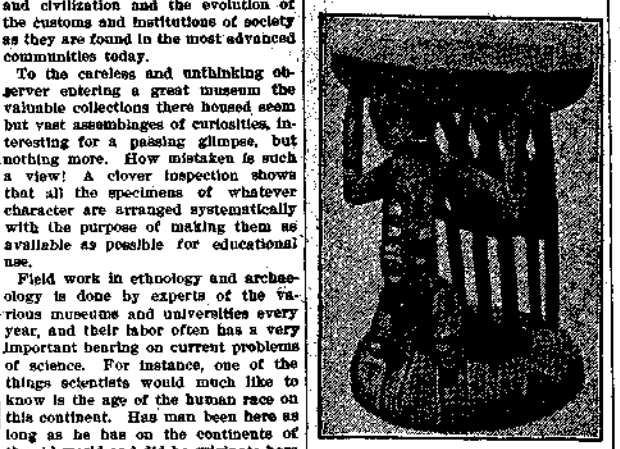
"Ah is w'en Ah gits de inspiration," retorted the sulky musician, throwing the whites of his eyes across at the leader.

"W'en am dat?"

"W'en Ah gits mah las' week's pay."—Kansas City Independent.

Does your back ache? Do you have sharp pains in the side and small of the back? This is due, usually, to kidney trouble. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They will promptly relieve weak back, backache, rheumatic pains and all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by all druggists.

Hunt For the Primitive Man



Busy Season For Ethnologists Who Would Add to the Store of Human Knowledge.

How Long Have Men Inhabited America?—Investigators Sent All Over World—The Jesup Fund

THIS is the busy season for ethnologists and antiquarians. Field work of all kinds is now in progress in many different parts of the world for the purpose of adding to the store of knowledge regarding the history of human progress, the development of the race in its struggle upward to enlightenment and civilization and the evolution of the customs and institutions of society as they are found in the most advanced communities today.

To the careless and unthinking observer entering a great museum the valuable collections there housed seem but vast assemblages of curiosities, interesting for a passing glimpse, but nothing more. How mistaken is such a view! A clever inspection shows that all the specimens of whatever character are arranged systematically with the purpose of making them as available as possible for educational use.

Field work in ethnology and archaeology is done by experts of the various museums and universities every year, and their labor often has a very important bearing on current problems of science. For instance, one of the things scientists would much like to know is the age of the human race on this continent. Has man been here as long as he has on the continents of the old world and did he originate here or was he an importation? Not long since some skeletons were found in Nebraska which were thought at first to belong to a comparatively early age and to antedate the present era by thousands of years at least. The bureau of American ethnology at Washington delegated one of its experts, Dr. Alea Erdlicka, to make a thorough examination of the finds, and he made a report to the effect that they were of a comparatively late period. His report, which forms one of the recent publications of the bureau, covers other finds of supposed early man in America and concludes that "thus far on this continent no human bones of undisputed geological antiquity are known."

IDOL STOOL OF AFRICAN CHIEF.

ALASKA INDIAN IN FALSE FACE AND BEARSKINS.

The bureau of American ethnology is making systematic efforts to insure proper preservation of the vanishing relics of aboriginal man on this continent. Books on the subject, the collections of the Smithsonian institution and data arranged in scientific form will serve to effect this object, and the scheme includes even the preservation of many of the real homes of people of the past who lived in the curious cliff dwellings of the southwest.

The American Museum of Natural History in New York carries on a great work along these lines. It has sent investigators into all parts of the earth, but particularly to those regions where information can be had of tribes and races native to the continent or seemingly related in blood, customs and language to them. Through the aid of the Jesup fund a most important work was accomplished in investigating and preserving the customs of the peoples of the countries bordering on the north Pacific, both Asiatic and American. It will not be long before the museum will be rich in collections illustrating the curious ideas and ways of living of the Africans of the Kongo region. Already it is in possession of many rare objects from this part of the dark continent which possess unusual ethnologic value. In this connection it may be noted that an archaeological expedition under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania has brought to light proof that a civilization of a high order existed long since among certain negro peoples in Africa. It has been generally supposed that the negroes have been behind other races in developing a civilization of their own and in attaining proficiency in the arts. But the relics uncovered by these investigators go to upset such a theory. Dr. David Randall MacIver of the University of Pennsylvania's Egyptian and Ethiopian expedition says of its results:

"Our excavations have shown that the source of the civilization of the period which our work in lower Nubia covered was Ethiopian. Our antiquities cover every phase of this new school of art. The sculptures are of a barbarian non-Egyptian type, showing distinctly African rather than Egyptian or Mediterranean origin.

All the negro works of art were discovered in an extensive cemetery lying about ten feet underground between Wady Haifa and Assouan, in lower Nubia. A large number of inscriptions were also found by the expedition and have been sent back to Philadelphia.

"We have about a hundred of these inscriptions," said Dr. MacIver, "which are written in the native Ethiopian language and in script of that period and who hope very soon will yield up their secrets."

HENRY D. CLAYTON.

Alabaman Selected to Notify Mr. Bryan of His Nomination.

Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, who was selected to make the speech notifying William Jennings Bryan of his third nomination for the presidency, is one of the most experienced members of the national organization of the Democratic party. He represents in congress the Third Alabama district and has for upward of twenty years been a member of the Democratic national committee. He now represents Alabama in this committee.

Mr. Clayton was elected permanent chairman of the recent Democratic national convention at Chicago, and in his notable speech accepting the honor he pronounced what is generally termed the "keynote" of the Democratic campaign.

Mr. Clayton was born in Barbour county, Ala., and after finishing a course of studies at the University of Alabama took up the practice of law at Clayton and subsequently at Eufala. He now resides at the last named place. He was a presidential elector in 1888 and 1892 and served three years as United States attorney for the middle district of Alabama. In 1896 he was first elected to membership in congress.

Representative Clayton was talking one day on an important measure in congress. "The tree is known by his fruit," he quoted from the Bible.

There was some sneering laughter on the Republican side. "I knew it," said Clayton. "I knew it. You people think it is wrong to say 'his fruit' and that I should say 'its fruit.' I have quoted that before and have been laughed at.

"Now, if you scoffers on the other side will take your Bibles you will see that the quotation is correct. You laughed too soon over there. You ought to study the Bible more and laugh less. There is more wisdom in it than can be found in any other book."

CONGRESSMAN HENRY D. CLAYTON.

HENRY FARMAN, AERONAUT.

Leading Exponent of the "Heavier Than Air" Flying Machine.

Henry Farman is demonstrating at Brighton Beach, near New York city, that the "heavier than air" flying machine is a success and that it has tremendous possibilities. Farman thus far has not risen over twelve feet from the ground, through fear of treacherous wind currents, yet he drives his huge vehicle through the air at an imposing rate of speed. On his first trial he covered 400 yards.

Farman's aeroplane is built on much the same lines as a box kite or a combination of box kites. It is thirty-five feet long, and all the kite sections but one are seven feet square.

From the center of its length in front projects a kind of neck, curved something like a bird's and carrying a comparatively small plane, which works on the axis of its length horizontally and is used for ascending and descending.

Behind the neck sits the aviator, as Farman terms himself, in the middle of the box kite, with a steering wheel like that of an automobile. Just at his back is his fifty horsepower, eight cylinder motor, and close behind that is the two bladed propeller. Further beyond that extends the tail, and on the end is another big box kite at right angles to the first and about four feet square by six feet long. This is used as the helm, and inside it is a plane worked on its axis vertically. The front is carried on a steel frame with rubber tired wheels of twenty inches diameter. The tail end has wheels of about ten inches.

AVIATOR FARMAN AND HIS AEROPLANE.

SIR JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

Career of the British Statesman Who Married an American.

The British public began to be alarmed some time ago over the failing health of Sir Joseph Chamberlain. On this side of the Atlantic the illness of the distinguished statesman created concern not alone for his own sake, but because of the fact that Sir Joseph's wife is an American woman. She was Miss Mary Endicott of Massachusetts, daughter of President Cleveland's secretary of war in his first cabinet. Miss Endicott met the future baronet when he was plain Joseph Chamberlain, though even then he was famous as a British Radical statesman. The meeting took place at a girls' party in Washington. Mr. Chamberlain being invited as a joke. He was the only man present, and apparently Miss Endicott was to him the only woman present. Love at first sight, a rapid wooing and a wedding six weeks later followed.

Joseph Chamberlain entered public life as a young man and rose rapidly.

SIR JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

His last high post of state was that of colonial secretary, from 1895 to 1903, when he resigned because of his protariff views. It may be said that his most distinguished services were rendered during this period, inasmuch as his cabinet position made him the chief British personage in connection with the war in South Africa. He was bitterly criticised for his course in relation to the Boer republics prior to that conflict, but after the war he visited South Africa with Mrs. Chamberlain and did much toward conciliating the annexed population.

STATE FAIR SYRACUSE September 14th to 19th

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit)
Running Races Four-in-Hand Races
Tandem Races

GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW IN AMERICA
Greater New York's
Mounted Police Drills
Homer Davenport's Arabian Stallions
with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER in the State
Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building
Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows

Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables
POULTRY till you can't think
CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE

FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND
40 Artists 40

Half Fair Excursions on all Roads
Ask your station agent for rates.

Send for Prize List to
S. C. Shaver, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.

A KING'S HOBBY.

The Mania of Frederick William I For Collecting Giants.

Of all the manias that afflict mankind the most ancient and curious is probably that for collecting. The victims collect pretty nearly everything from books to shoe buckles and from pots to postage stamps, but giant collecting was the hobby of Frederick William I., king of Prussia.

Nature designed him for a recruiting officer; destiny made him a monarch. All were fish who came to his net — Saxons, Austrians, Hessians, Turks, Swedes, Englishmen, Irishmen, Africans—provided they were at least two yards long. Some of his specimens were seven feet long. Now and then he obtained one still more prodigious.

The Saxon cabinet minister Wackerbarth, foreseeing the possible advantages of standing well with so near a neighbor, in 1715 dispatched to Berlin a recognition of his Prussian majesty's birthday, Aug. 14, no less flattering than unique, since it consisted of a large bundle of tobacco leaves, two handsome Turkish pipes and a bagful of fragrant Latakia, all committed to the hands of seven foot passengers, with a missive imploring the king's gracious acceptance of these trifles and the Cupid who bore them.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Smile From a Stranger.

Most of us owe debts of gratitude to strangers whose kindly smile has sent sunshine into our aching hearts and has given us courage when we were disheartened.

It is a great thing to go through life with a smiling face. It costs little, but who can ever estimate its value?

Think how the pleasure of life would be increased if we met smiling faces everywhere—faces which radiate hope, sunshine and cheer! What a joy it would be to travel in a gallery of living pictures radiating hope and courage!

Who can estimate what beautiful, smiling faces mean to the wretched and the downcast, those whose life burdens are crushing them?

Many of us carry precious memories of smiling faces which we glimpsed but once, but whose sweet, uplifting expression will remain with us forever. —Success Magazine.

For Coughs and Colds

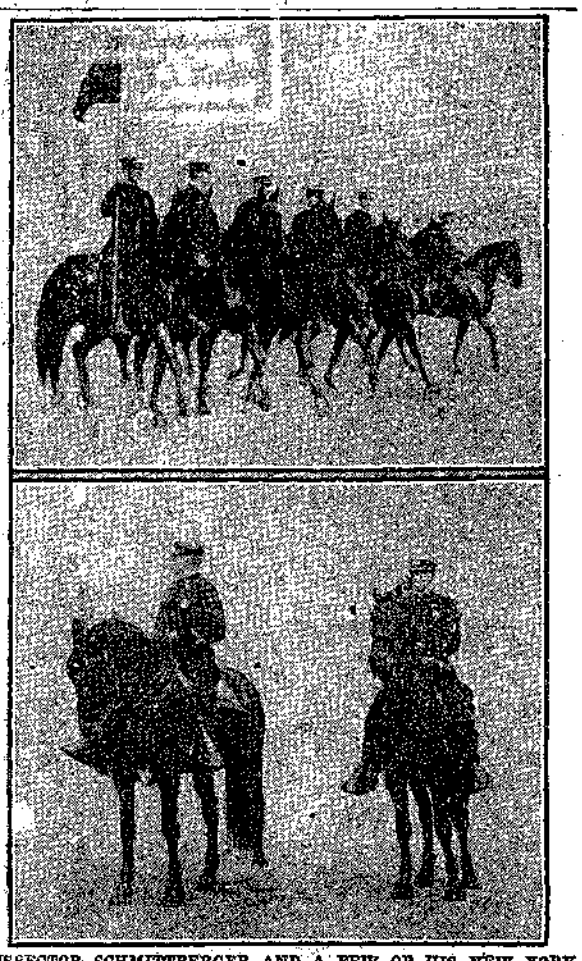
Nearly all other Cough Cures are constipating, especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup moves the bowels. Contains no opiates.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard."

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious action of the bowels.

Conforms to National PURE FOOD & DRUG LAW



All Druggists

DISCOVERY OF THE HUDSON RIVER

Floats Will Recall History of State During Fair Week.

The interesting story of Henry Hudson's discovery of the Hudson river will be told all over again, and this time with monster floats in a street parade at Syracuse on Wednesday evening of state fair week.

One way Syracuse has of entertaining state fair visitors is through her Mystique Krewe of Ka-Noo-No. The city lights the streets so well that the sunlight is not missed and the krewe holds a "karnival." This year one of the feature events will be furnished by the floats representing the discovery of the state's great waterway and the legends that have grown from it.

INSPECTOR SCHMITTBERGER AND A FEW OF HIS NEW YORK CITY MOUNTED POLICE, WHOSE DRILLS WILL BE A FEATURE OF THE NEW YORK STATE FAIR.

The explorer will be shown on the Half Moon, the staunch little vessel of ninety tons which sailed from Amsterdam in April, 1609, and finally brought up in Britain bay, south of Staten Island. The second float will show Hudson's meeting with the Indians on Staten Island. When the Indians saw the Half Moon coming up the river it seemed to be a huge white object, and they thought it was an enormous fish but they finally concluded that it was the canoe of the Great Manitou visiting his children. Hudson, with a portion of his crew, came ashore, and the chiefs assembled around him. To show his friendly feeling he passed a glass of whisky. This was followed by a scene of intoxication. From that time the name of the island in the language of the Delawares signified "the place of the big drunk."

The third float will represent the capture of a Pequot brave by Delawares near the site of the present city of Poughkeepsie and his rescue subsequently by a beautiful Indian maiden chief, but she knew that another had his promise and, jumping into a canoe, left in despair. Sun came upon her as she sat wailing and moaning. Turning upon him a face of sorrow, she sprang into the deep water and disappeared. At noon a hunter came in with strange tidings that flowers were growing on the water where Oseetah sank. Some were as white as snow and filled the air with perfume. Others were yellow, like the lake at sunset. According to the legend, the spirit of the young maiden went into the water lilies. The white represented her purity, the yellow her love.

The monster mosquito which was supposed to have lived in the neighborhood of Fort Onondaga will be shown. He devoured so many red men that the Holder of the Heavens finally came down and attacked the insect. The creature piled the sand into hills in its struggles, and as the blood poured upon the earth it became small mosquitoes, which have stung men so sorely ever since that the Holder of the Heavens repented the service he did in slaying the big mosquito. At least that's the way the story goes.

The devil's dance chamber, a slight plateau on the west bank of the Hudson river near Newburg, will be shown. The red men performed semi-religious rites there as a preface to their fishing and hunting. Next will be seen a float representing James Fenimore Cooper's novel "The Deerslayer." The scene of the tale is intended for the Otsego prior to the year 1700, when the first rude settlement was commenced on its banks. The rock appointed for the rendezvous between the Deerslayer and the Delaware still remains, bearing the name of Otsego rock.

Other floats will represent "The Last of the Mohicans," also by Cooper; the Catskill Witch, which regulated the weather for the Hudson valley, so 'tis told, and Rip Van Winkle, who was supposed to have had a long sleep in the Catskills. The last float will show the Clermont, the first steamboat that navigated the Hudson river.

When the boat went from New York to Albany in thirty-two hours without the use of sails the residents along the bank deemed it almost a miracle. With the steamboat will be seen passengers in the quaint costumes of the period.

The Mystic Krewe has provided a carnival for the past three years, and the spectacle this year will be on a more elaborate scale than ever before attempted. While the membership of the Krewe does not include all of the people of Syracuse, no man, woman or child in the city seems to be contented unless playing some part in the arrangements for the carnival.

ALFRED G. VANDERBILT'S FOUR-IN-HAND COACH ENTERING FAIR GROUNDS.

One of the comely young ladies of Syracuse society will show a complexion of dusky hue for the occasion while a prominent young merchant of the city will take the part of the Pequot brave.

The birth of the water lily, as told in the Indian legend, will form the subject for the next float. Back from the war, according to the legend, came Sun, chief of the Lower Saranacs, to the Lake of the Clustered Stars, afterward called Tupper lake. Oseetah meaning bird, loved the strong young

BUILDING FOR WOMEN.

Fair Commission Arranges Special Programme For Visitors.

Women visitors to the New York state fair this year will discover that unusual steps have been taken for their comfort and entertainment by the state fair commission. In addition to concerts every day of the fair there will be lectures and discussions on topics which should hold interest for clubwomen.

Announcement has been made by Hattie G. Schwartz of Syracuse, hostess of the Women's building, that some of the best known speakers of the state on affairs of interest to women will have charge of the programmes arranged for the different days.

Monday, Sept. 14, the opening day of the fair, will be given up almost entirely to popular concerts. On Tuesday a musicale will be followed by a programme under the direction of Mrs. Frances W. Graham of Lockport, president of the State Woman's Christian Temperance union. Later in the day Mrs. Lillian Whish of Albany, president of the State Mothers' assembly, and Mrs. L. L. Goodrich, president of the Syracuse Botanical club, will in turn have charge of special entertainments.

On Wednesday morning the Women's building will be given over to the New York state grange. Miss A. H. Lambert of Rhinebeck, chairman of the women's work committee, will have charge of the programme, which will include a concert. In the afternoon four programmes will be directed by the following: Mrs. Ella H. Crossett of Warsaw, president of the New York State Women's Suffrage association; Mrs. Eva McNett, great commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees; Mrs. George F. Hadley of Syracuse, president of the State Trade School For Girls, and Mrs. Frank J. Shuler of Fort Erie, president of the Women's Federation of Literary and Educational Organizations of Western New York.

Mrs. Belle De Riveria of New York city, president of the Women's League of New York State, will speak on Thursday morning on the work of the league, and following a musical entertainment there will be a congress of state presidents and presiding officers of women's organizations. The Daughters of the American Revolution will have charge of the entertainment during the fore part of the afternoon, the programme to be directed by Mrs. William Cummings Story of New York city, who is state regent. Later there will be a programme under the direction of Mrs. Nellis M. Rich, state director of the Children of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Ella Craft of Rochester, state president of the Women's Relief corps.

Women suffragists will have every opportunity of airing their views and extolling the principles they advocate on Friday afternoon, when the programme will be in charge of Mrs. George D. Miller of New York city, president of the New York State Association of Suffrage to Women. The schedule of entertainment for the week, exclusively for the benefit of women, is probably the most extraordinary ever arranged.

BIG FLORAL DISPLAY.

Canada to Compete For Prizes at New York State Fair.

Interest in the horticultural department of the New York state fair is not confined to New York state. Entries for the classes for this year's fair show that not only other states, but the Dominion of Canada, will contribute toward the floral display.

The prize money offered by the state for floral exhibits has attracted horticulturists 500 miles from the fair grounds. Some growers of flowers and fruits make a practice of shipping their exhibits without attendants, trusting to the honesty and fairness of officers of the state fair commission to give them proper display. It is an interesting fact in connection with state fair history that hundreds of dollars in prize money are sent each year to exhibitors who are unable to get to the fair.

An interesting feature this year will be furnished by illustrated lectures by professors from the Agricultural college of Cornell university, a section of the Greater New York building having been set aside for this purpose.

Lightning Struck Barn.

On Monday lightning struck a barn at Ingalls Crossing belonging to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weller and it was destroyed with its contents consisting of hay, straw, sleighs, carriages, etc. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The other buildings would have been destroyed but for the assistance of the neighbors who valiantly fought the flames and conquered them. Mr and Mrs. Weller are desirous of thanking the neighbors and friends who so materially assisted them in their trouble and saved them from still greater loss.

Board of Health.

On Wednesday evening the Board of Health passed a resolution instructing Health Officer Russell to notify the Board of Education that unless his orders regarding the placing of fire escapes upon the Oak and State Street school houses was complied with prior to the date for opening school, these schools should not open until such escapes were provided. A fine of $50 was imposed upon Dr. Haviland for failure to abate an alleged nuisance on his property at the corner of Buffalo and Sixth streets. Dr. Russell stated that Mr. Walter Bradley of the Volney Paper Co., had told him that a plant to purify the rag water from their mill was in process of construction and that it would be installed within ten days.

THE SUBLIME AND THE RIDICULOUS.

Some of the mishaps and the unpleasant situations that some of the clergy have found themselves in, on certain occasions, have been amusing as well as interesting. A western minister was in the midst of his discourse on the Sabbath when he felt an unpleasant sensation up one of his pants legs of something crawling upwards. As it increased he became very uneasy and nervous. He continued his sermon, assuming all his self control and will power, finally giving a desperate grasp and clutch on his pants and a poor harmless mouse fell to the floor in all the agony of a death struggle, without his congregation being aware of his exasperating situation.

The second instance was of a northern clergyman who met a tramp on the street minus a hat and asked him if he couldn't help him to one. The minister responded to his request by taking off his derby and giving it to him. He then went home and on inquiring for his extra hat his wife innocently told him that a poor tramp came along without any covering for his head and she gave him his hat. So the victimized servant of the public had to start for a hat store.

The third mishap occurred a few years ago, in a country church one evening on a public occasion. There were two or three ministers present and were alternating in addressing the audience. The last one had finished his address and seated himself without looking around and instead of locating in his chair he landed on the floor, his heels going up. Of course the young people and the young preacher's wife all enjoyed a good hearty laugh at the spectacle.

The fourth and last exhibition was given one Sunday a few years ago back in the 19th century. It was a few miles south, at a large country school house that was used for a meeting house. The audience was seated waiting for the appointment to be filled by a young parson from the Syracuse University. It was summer time and the doors were open. The young man was soon seen approaching the house. Several hogs had the habit of roaming at large around the school house grounds and just before he got to the steps he met one of those hogs, which, being partly cornered, dogged and ran between his legs, unsetting the young minister astride his back, and he wouldn't be a hog if he didn't squeal, carrying him a short distance, unloading him on the ground. The preacher arose with discomfiture amidst the uproarous laughter of the audience within. He lacked the nerve to proceed and make the best of a bad situation. It would be perfectly natural if the old Adam wasn't stirred some in his bosom because his audience laughed at his misfortune. It certainly was a very embarrassing situation and was too much for him and he turned and went back from whence he came.

SAM GORDON.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

Oswego is in gala attire and her streets are thronged with a happy crowd, all bent upon having a good time in the city by the lake. On Monday evening special cars containing over three hundred delegates from New York city alone arrived in Oswego and it is safe to say that not less than 3,000 delegates without counting friends and sightseers, are housed within her borders.

Mr. Albert H. Mowry is a candidate for the office of State Treasurer and it is confidently expected that he will be elected. Oswego has always been a stanuch volunteer town and it was in Oswego in 1874 that the volunteer association was formed. This is the first time, however, that she has ever asked for recognition for one of her residents.

The management of the Oswego County Fair have invited Governor Hughes to attend the Fair, and it is hoped that he will be able to arrange his schedule so as to include Fulton in his trip among the County Fairs.

FRUIT GROWERS WILL MEET.

The summer meeting of the Oswego County Fruit Growers' Association will be held Tuesday, August 25th, opening at 10 o'clock a. m. at the home of Ira Pease in Fruit Valley. Prof. Hedrick of Geneva and other practical orchardists will lecture on orchard management and plant diseases. The blight so prevalent now on pear and apple trees will be one of the topics. After looking over Mr. Pease's orchards, the fruit farms of A. C. Pease, W. S. Brownell, R. M. Pierce and others near by will be visited. Automobiles will run at intervals starting from West Bridge and First streets. A bus will also connect with the street car at the Beach. Every one interested in fruit growing is cordially invited. Bring your lunch. Hot coffee will be served.

Volney-Fulton Road Accepted.

Deputy State Engineer Frank L. Getman and Fred Sarr, first resident engineer, accompanied Engineer H. E. Smith to the Volney-Fulton road which has just been completed. Chambers and O'Grady had the contract and the road is two and one-quarter miles long. The new road is of gravel and if it proves successful it is planned to extend it five and one-half miles to Palermo. It was constructed under the immediate supervision of Albert Scheutzow, engineer in charge, and was pronounced an excellent piece of work by the three State officials. Among the roads now under construction is the Bowens Corners road running from the city line of Fulton to Bowens Corners. On Monday work was started on the Wilcox road, which runs from the city line at Fulton two miles to the hamlet of Wilcox. Work on the West River road is progressing nicely and work will shortly be commenced on the road leading from Minetto to Fulton.

Sherman Notification Ceremonies.

James Schoolcraft Sherman was formally notified of his nomination on the Republican ticket for Vice President of the United States, at his home in Utica on Tuesday under circumstances most auspicious and enthusiastic. The city had been beautifully decorated with bunting and flags and immense crowds from all sections of the State gathered to hear the addresses and to have a look at the genial nominee.

Special values in Tablets, Writing's Linen Stock, all sizes, ruled and plain, for only 10c, while they last, at Lasher's Book Store.

Local and Personal

During June Fulton's birth rate was 13.2 per 1000 of population, and her death rate was 10.5.

Mr. James Pollock and son Robert of Providence, R. I., have been the recent guests of Fulton relatives.

Mrs. Charles R. Lee and Miss Elizabeth Lee have been enjoying a St. Lawrence river outing.

Mr. Robert Rust is spending a vacation in the vicinity of Baldwinsville.

Mr. Thomas Wright, one of the oldest and best known residents, is seriously ill at his home on the west side.

Mrs. M. J. Sweet gave a dinner Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Samuel Rees and her daughter, of Omaha, Nebraska. Covers were laid for eight.

Mrs. S. G. Porter has returned to her home in Theresa accompanied by her neices, the Misses Fannie and Nellie Rappole.

Windows were broken by the barge canal blasting on Friday in the J. C. O'Brien and the Fulton Hardware Company stores and in the Masonic club rooms.

The Democratic caucus for Richland was held in Pulaski on Saturday. The county delegates were instructed for C. Frank Wood for Sheriff. It was decided to organize a Bryan and Kern club.

The Misses Chloe Searles, Ethel McIntyre and Mildred Waugh, with Mrs. James Waugh as chaperon, have broken camp after an enjoyable two weeks spent at Reynolds Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson of Highland street have returned to Canada to reside, where he has a position as cashier in the office at Grimsby Park. He resigned his position as Superintendent in the Victoria Paper mills, which he had held eight years.

Mrs. Samuel Rees and daughter, Henrietta, of Omaha, Nebraska, are visiting Mrs. Nancy Stanton and Mrs. M. J. Sweet this week. Mrs. Rees was formerly Miss Hettie McKoon and graduated from Falley Seminary in the sixties. Mrs. Rees and daughter are enroute to Boston where they will meet Mr Rees and will attend the convention of the United Typothetae of America. Several informal affairs are being planned in their honor.

The Yellow Room, by Leroux and The Primadonna, by Crawford, are among the new books in the Lasher Reading Club. Several others have recently been added and there is a liberal sprinkling of the best works of fiction of this year's production also to be found. You may take any or all of them to your home for perusal at your pleasure. The payment of 2c per day per book while it is in your possession, is all that is demanded.

The shed in the rear of the City Hall for the purpose of storing the city tools, is almost completed. The location is very unsatisfactory to the tenants in the M. Katz house in Rochester street, as it shuts off view, light and air. In all probability Mr. Katz will object to the location as such a structure will undoubtedly depreciate the value of his property and increase his fire insurance rate. The question has been frequently asked why the shed should have been placed on that side of the yard instead of with the useless barn on the premises.

The shipping public will be interested in the announcement made today by the Lackawanna Railroad that, effective August 20th, the lake line of that company, known as the Lackawanna Transportation Line, and which has heretofore been operated in connection with boats of the Union Steamboat Line between Buffalo, Milwaukee and Chicago will operate in connection with the boats of the Western Transit Company. The Western Transit boats will handle the business to and from the Lackawanna lake house at Buffalo and receive and deliver such traffic through their own terminals at North Water Street, Chicago, and foot of Reade Street, Milwaukee, as well as at all outside docks and stations in Chicago and Milwaukee as it is customary for the lake steamers to make.

The Universalist Leader of August 15, contains a paragraph of interest to many Fultonians who contributed toward the comfort of the late Kittie Lathrop Hogan. The Mrs. Reed referred to in the article is a minister's wife and she has adopted one of the little Hogan children. The article reads: "Mrs. H. W. Reed of Joliet, Ill., desires to express her gratitude to the Mission Circles of the different States that so kindly expressed their sympathy and desire to be of service, by contributing toward the relief of the "little mother" in Denver, whose earthly suffering has ceased, and who has passed on to the higher life. It will give these Circles great pleasure to know that they were instrumental in supplying needed care and bringing comfort and courage to a bruised and broken spirit. They also made it possible to send the poor little body back to New York State for its final rest among friends. The funeral services were held from the Universalist church at Clifton Springs, N. Y., and were conducted by the Rev. C. W. Turrell, D. D., pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. J. J. Brayton, who had known the deceased since childhood.

Nasal Catarrh, an inflamation of the delecate membrane lining the air-passages, is not cured by any mixtures taken into the stomach. Don't waste time on them. Take Ely's Cream Balm through the nostrils, so that the fevered, swollen tissues are reached at once. Never mind how long you have suffered nor how often you have been disappointed, we know Ely's Cream Balm is the remedy you should use. All druggists sell it. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rugg is ill.

Attorney A. T. Jennings has returned from his vacation.

Miss Barbara Gilbert is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Baker at Oneida.

Mrs. C. W. Streeter spent Tuesday at Sylvan Beach.

Mr. John Cavanaugh will spend a week at Selkirk-on-the-Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parks have been visiting at Lamsons.

Mrs. A. P. Tucker and Miss Alice Tucker have returned from Thousand Islands.

The Misses Mayme O'Brien and Margaret Conley leave this week for a stay at Old Forge.

Mrs. W. A. O'Hare and daughter Francis have returned from Old Forge.

Mr. George Fuller has returned from Oriskany Falls and accepted a position in the V. C. Lewis cigar store.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, safe, easy, pleasant, sure, little liver pills. Sold by all druggists.

Attention, Firemen!

At a meeting of the exempt volunteer firemen of this city on Monday evening, it was resolved that they attend the convention at Oswego and join the parade on Friday. All persons going down in the morning will meet at the Cayuga street station and get their badges. But all will meet at one o'clock of that day in front of the Redstone Hotel, near the new Armory, to fall in line.

G. F. Schenck, Secretary

For Sale---Beagle Hounds

Having more than our kennels can accommodate, we will sell eight or ten youngsters out of our champion rabbit hunter, "Wilder."

Pups from $10 up. Onondaga Beagle Club, J. A. Seitz, Manager, 423 S. Clinton street, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-9

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—One Palace Queen hot air furnace, very large size and in good condition. Also small hot water furnace suitable for small house. This heater is almost new and in perfect condition. Above furnace will be sold very cheap to make room for a large sized boiler.

M. S. Powell, 312 Rochester St.

FOR SALE—A large size Thatcher tubular furnace in good condition. May be purchased at a reasonable price. Inquire at Harry Langdon's studio, 61 First street, next to the Savings bank.

FOR SALE—A large oak roller top desk. Inquire at 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

FOR SALE—Good extension table and parlor wood stove for sale. Inquire of Mrs. B. C. Mitchell, Bee Hive Block, Fulton.

FOR RENT—Apartment with all conveniences for house-keeping at 419 Buffalo street. Inquire on premises or write E. G. Hubbard, 2525 Pacific Ave., Atlantic City, N. J.

Farms for sale everywhere, all kinds, sizes and prices. Free Lists. If you want to buy or sell see or write D. H. Sheen, Gouverneur, N. Y.

FOR SALE—A first class cook stove in excellent condition will be sold cheap. Inquire of V. C. Lewis.

FOR SALE—Two iron yard urns will be sold very cheap. Must be disposed of this week. Inquire of V. C. Lewis, Cayuga street.

Wanted

WANTED—A woman to do general housework in family of five. Must be respectable and desiring a permanent position. Inquire "V," Times Office, Fulton.

LOST

LOST—On Monday evening on West Broadway, near First street, a pocket-book belonging to Mrs. Daniel Ward, containing $50 in money and a check for $12.87. The finder will be suitably rewarded upon leaving same at the Post Office.

Lost—Between Fulton and Dexterville on Sunday last, a ladies' handbag containing a lavender colored purse with a small key, a silver dollar and some change. Find please leave at The Observer office or residence.

GIRON, 24065

[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of August and September at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street Fulton

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 16

FULTON SAVINGS BANK
(Opposite the Red Engine House)
is the only Savings Bank in Fulton, N. Y.
Assets July 1, 1908, over
A Million and a Half Dollars
Market Value Surplus over
One Hundred Thousand Dollars
This Bank Has Paid 4 Per Cent. on All Deposits since October 1, 1907
New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

OSWEGO COUNTY FAIR

Bright Outlook for Success of Fifty-third Annual Exhibition—Officers and Superintendents of Departments.

The outlook for the success of the fifty-third annual Fair of the Oswego County Agricultural society is exceedingly bright and from present indications the exhibits and attendance will be record breaking. All that is necessary is to have such weather as the gods have seen fit to furnish during the past week. The grounds and buildings are to be placed in first class condition, that work being practically completed, and space in the main and smaller buildings is practically at a premium.

The officers of the society for 1908 are :

President—C. I. Kingsbury, Oswego, N. Y.

Vice-Presidents—Z. B. Austin, H. H. Dobson, J. H. Brackett, C. C. Wilcox, Byron Worden, Edward B. Tice, M. C. Hammond, Grove H. Dutton, E. B. Tucker, D. D. Wells, Lawton Beardsley, Ray Davis.

Secretary—H. Putnam Allen, Fulton, N. Y.

Treasurer—V. W. Shattuck, Fulton, N. Y.

Directors—L. B. Babcock, C. I. Kingsbury, Orin Henderson, Wm. M. Hinsdale, V. V. Vant, A. Gregg, C. H. Lockwood, Fred A. Moore, H. Putnam Allen.

Superintendents.

Cattle, Sheep and Swine—C. H. Lockwood.

Horses—F. A. Moore and V. V. Vant.

Grand Stand—L. B. Babcock.

Poultry—Edward Whitaker.

Main Building—Orin Henderson, H. P. Allen.

Fruit and Vegetable Building—E. W. Coe.

Flowers—Mrs. W. M. Hinsdale.

Domestic Department—Miss Edith Gregg, Superintendent; Mrs. E. L. McClellan, Assistant.

Culinary Department—Mrs. F. L. Sears, Superintendent.

Artist Department—Mrs. G. B. Deuel.

School Department—Miss M. Cavanaugh.

Grounds and Buildings—W. M. Hinsdale.

Grange Exhibit—Miss L. Babcock.

Police—W. M. Hinsdale.

Tickets—H. Putnam Allen.

Gates—J. W. Distin.

Privilege Committee—A. Gregg.

General Superintendent — C. I. Kingsbury.

Executive Committee—Board of Directors.

The premium lists have been revised and some changes made and taken as a whole the premiums are more generous than those given by other County Fairs in the State.

Life membership tickets cost ten dollars, season tickets one dollar and twenty-five cents. Single tickets twenty-five cents. Season tickets entitle the owner, his wife and their children under ten years of age to enter the grounds with a carriage throughout the fair, and are not transferable. No carriage will be permitted to enter the grounds without a season ticket. A single ticket entitles the holder to a single admission. No person will be admitted to the grounds without a ticket. No money will be taken at the gates for any purpose. Tickets must be obtained at the ticket office.

Among the spaces already assigned in the main and other buildings are to O. Henderson & Co., W. H. Patterson and M. Katz &Co., dry goods; A. S. Brown and James Bogue, pianos, phonographs, organs; Clinton Hulett, wall paper and paints; Knitting mill, wash cloths, towels; F. D. VanWagenen, carriages, robes, harness, etc., Herald Gardening Club; George Johnston, R. B. McRae & Sons, stoves, hardware, etc., F. H. Ebeling, Syracuse, seeds, etc.; Harry Langdon, photos and post cards; the Grange will occupy the entire building used by them last year; W. J. Watson, druggist; G. W. Perkins and C. B. Wetherby, florists; James Green and his famous candies; Singer Sewing Machine Co.; the Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah will serve meals in the dining hall; the Baptist ladies will serve lunches and sell ice cream cones from a tent; an Oswego druggist will have a space. Beside these, Brown's family show is expected; a merry-go-round will be present; a wire jewelry exhibit, a drawn work exhibit, school exhibit, art exhibit, an educated horse, a crowd of Japanese jugglers, a balloon ascension with parachute jump by a man and a lion. These and many more attractions will make the Fair of next week the most attractive ever given by the Oswego County Society.

The Parold Roofing company, for which S. E. Morin is local agent, will have an exhibit on the grounds and they will conduct a guessing contest, awarding prizes for correct guesses as to the number of nails and caps in each roll of the roofing.

A larger amount of ground has been rented to special attractions than ever before and with good weather the exhibit will be second to no County Fair in the Empire State.

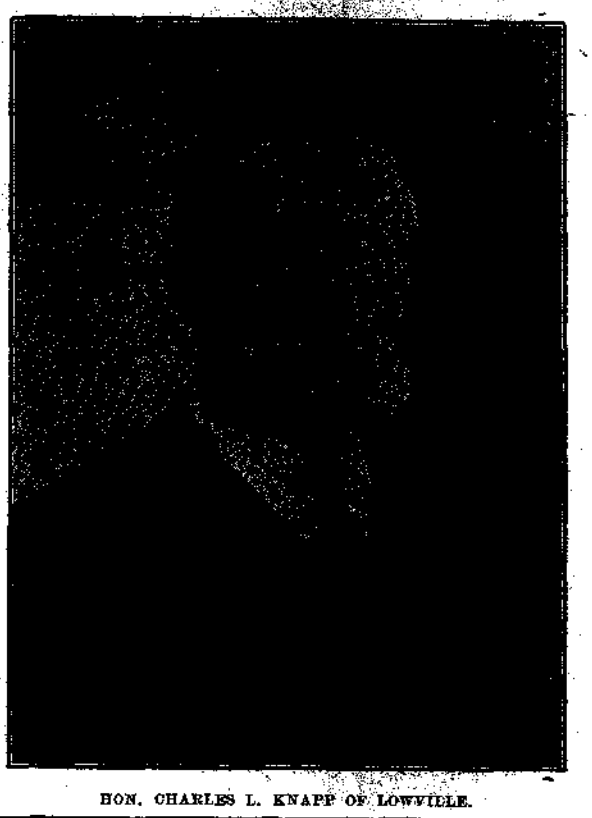
MARRIED

On Saturday evening at the parochial residence of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, the Rev. J. L. Lindsman officiating, occurred the marriage of Mr. Harold Cary, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cary, and Miss Nellie Evelyn Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jones of West Broadway. Mr. and Mrs. Cary are enjoying a short bridal trip after which they will make their home in Buffalo where Mr. Cary has accepted a position with the Western Shade Cloth Company of which his father is superintendent.

On Tuesday evening, Aug. 18, in the Episcopal church in Altmar, School Commissioner Herman W. Kandt of the Third District and Miss Essie M. Smith of Altmar, were united in marriage. The groom is very popular in political and Grange circles and is a man of sterling worth and ability. The bride is one of the most popular young society women in her home town. After a bridal trip to Montreal and Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Kandt will reside in Altmar.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hunter Fan & Motor Company will be held in the office on Hubbard St., Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 9th, 1908, for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come regularly before this meeting.



8-26 JOHN HUNTER, Sec'y.

The racing card at the Oswego County Fair next week promises to be the best in many years. Secretary Allen reports that more horses are already entered for the various races than have been in the past two years combined. Prof. Robison and his Lion will make a balloon ascension every afternoon of the fair with parachute drops, the Lion jumping first and Prof. Robison following closely with a second parachute. Do not miss this thrilling sight.

Take a light, comfortable, easy-rowing boat from the Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street, and meet your friends down the river. Given a luncheon and a congenial crowd and no more delightful outing could be imagined.

HON. CHAS. L. KNAPP RENOMINATED

After Balloting for Eight Days the Choice Is Made and the Twenty-eighth Congressional District will Again Be Ably Represented By Mr. Knapp.

HON. CHARLES L. KNAPP OF LOWVILLE.

The longest Congressional Convention that has ever been held in this district was brought to a close last Friday morning at Pulaski, after an almost continuous session of eight days and at the close of the 332d ballot, when the Jefferson delegate voted with Lewis county and placed the Hon. Charles L. Knapp of Lowville in nomination. Up to this time each County stood loyally by its candidate, and although there were many rumors of breaks, it was not until Isaac L. Hunt of Jefferson formally withdrew from the contest, that the struggle closed. Mr. Frederick G. Whitney of the Oswego delegation moved that the nomination be made unanimous, and after the adoption of appropriate resolutions, the Chair appointed a committee of three to escort the candidate before the convention. The chairmen of the three delegations, Virgil K. Kellogg, H. A. Phillips and the Hon. Frederick G. Whitney brought Mr. Knapp before the convention and in a few well chosen words he thanked the convention for the honor.

Congressman Knapp said in part: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

"By your committee I am informed that you have nominated me as representative in Congress from this, the 28th Congressional District. This nomination is accepted and for the honor thus conferred I give you my sincere thanks. Also do I express to the Republican electors and to the people and press of the district in the adjoining counties my gratitude for their generous judgment and friendly good will.

"All is and will continue to be gratefully appreciated and remembered.

"I am not unmindful of the fact that a somewhat active canvass has preceded your action of today; that the names of two other gentlemen have been presented to this convention, each having the support of the representatives of his respective county, both worthy to be candidates and representatives. It is a pleasure for me to recall friendly relations with each of these gentlemen and to express the belief that those relations will continue. The battle has not been one of personalities, it has not been characterized with either personal or factional bitterness. It has ended. The result is announced and I am confident that all of us candidates, supporters and friends will turn unitedly to the future. It is not an idle boast but rather the statement of a fact to say that ours is a congressional district, the importance of which is not surpassed, if equalled, by any in the commonwealth. It is the district of superior importance both in the progressiveness of its present and what we hope will be the advancement of its future. Here are industries, agriculture, manufacturing and labor. Here are institutions of education, of charity and of religion. Here is a progressive, patriotic and industrious people all in true worth equal to any in the commonwealth.

"Within the borders are located two military posts, one Fort Ontario and the other Madison barracks, each of which has been a veritable theater of historic events. Further effective efforts have already been made looking to the ultimate location within this district of one of the great manoeuvre camps of the United States army, Pine Plains. Again important is our location. We border on river and lake and so are in direct touch with their commerce external and internal, which as it increases benefits the people. We have two gateways of this commerce, one smaller, Cape Vincent, the other larger and more important, Oswego harbor. Still again the federal authorities are taking steps in an investigation as to how best can be served the interests of the people of our internal waterways. We have within our national borders 50,000 miles of waterways, some of which now are and all of which will be utilized for transportation purposes. This mileage includes the great chain of lakes which, with a good canal around Niagara Falls as a connecting link, from lake to sea would be a national highway of commerce. The construction of this canal means much to the people of this congressional district while in Oswego it would make this harbor the very gateway to the nation's greatest water highway.

"In a broader sense it means much to the people of the entire country as a factor in the development of American industry, and in the reduction of transportation rates and as a national defense, it is as important to inland commerce as is the Isthmian canal to deep sea commerce.

"Should your action of today be ratified by the people my highest ambition will be to render such service as will serve the best interests and merit the approval of the people of this district."

It can not be denied that Judge Stowell's friends were very much disappointed over the result. They stood by him loyally, but there was no hesitation or stammering in the voice of the warrior who led the Republican cohorts of this County to victory time and again when the result was announced: "Oswego County," the veteran stated, "will give its full Republican vote to Mr. Knapp."

The Congressional Committee selected for the ensuing term was as follows: P. W. Cullinan and H. Putnam Allen of Oswego County, Virgil K. Kellogg and E. J. Tallman of Jefferson County and H. A. Phillips and Edison L. Park of Lewis County.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN
112 ONEIDA STREET
Fancy Yellow Delaware Peaches
Fancy Jersey Sweet Potatoes
Late Valentia Oranges
Rosemary Creamery Butter In One-Pound Prints
Finest Butter Made
We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries
Call Us On 'Phone 32

The Fifty-Third ..ANNUAL FAIR..
.....OF THE.....
Oswego County Agricultural Society
.....WILL BE HELD.....
September 1, 2, 3, 4, 1908
At Fulton, N. Y.
Liberal Premiums in Every Department.
High Class Free Attractions.
First Class Trotting Every Day.
Premium List Upon Application
C. I. Kingsbury, Pres. Oswego, N. Y.
H. P. Allen, Sec'y Fulton, N. Y.
A. Gregg, Privilege Committee Pennellville, N. Y.

TAG DAY.

Next Wednesday, September 2nd, you will certainly be tagged all day by people interested in the Fulton City Hospital. You will be tagged by tag sellers if you do not wear a tag and if you wear a tag, you certainly will be tagged, so you may as well prepare to surrender cash to the most worthy cause in the city.

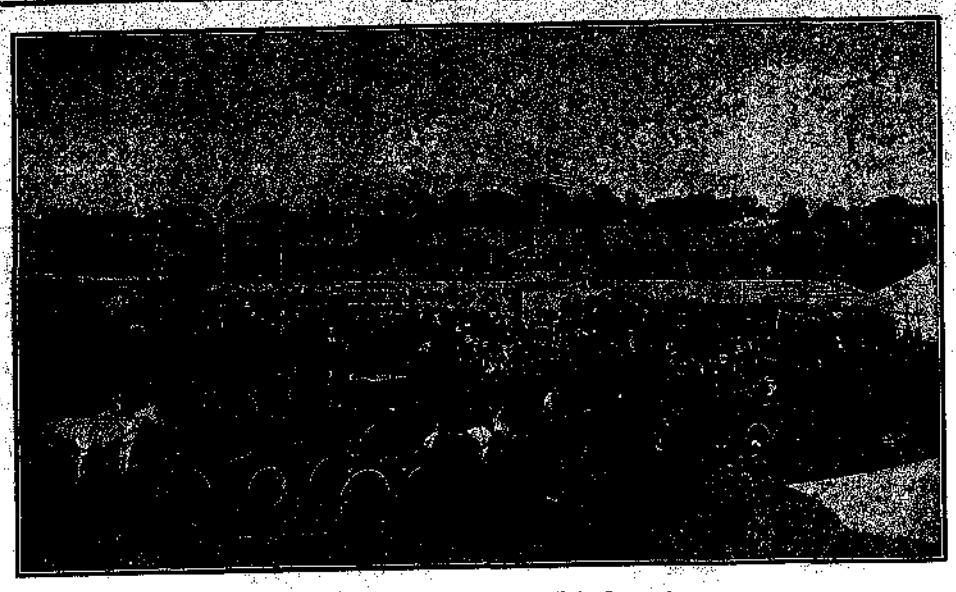
A perfect system has been arranged for the successful carrying out of the plans for tag day. The city has been divided into sections and one superintendent will be placed over each section with a number of young girls under her supervision. The girls will be dressed in white with a band upon their arm on which will be sewed a red cross. They will carry red boxes and the price paid for the tag will be slipped through a slot cut in the box top. Any amount one chooses to pay will be accepted for a tag and the public is expected to be very generous. Large tags will be sold to merchants for their windows at $1.00 per tag. A call will be made upon the merchants upon Tuesday, the day prior to tag day, that the stores may be properly tagged when the sun comes up. All of the girls who are to sell the tags, are requested to call at Mrs. Robert Hunter's, No. 103 S. Fourth street, on Monday for their uniforms.

Headquarters will be established on the Fair grounds and at the W. J. Watson drug store. The headquarters will be in charge of Miss Elizabeth Lee, president of the Auxiliary; Miss May Gardner, Miss Helen Emerick, Mrs. George E. True, Mrs. George C. Webb, Mrs. James Hunter, Mrs. Elmer Morrill, and Mrs. B. S. McKinstry.

The chaperones will be Mesdames R. D. Parsons, L. E. Joy, Louise Rice, Cornelius Murphy, Thomas Hunter, Robert B. Hunter, George O. Chauncey, E. J. Penfold, B. C. Brown, David L. Lipsky, J. H. Hollingsworth, Harvey McMurchy and A. Wettengel.

The young ladies who have thus far announced their willingness to sell tags are the Misses Dorothy Gage, Kate Gilbert, Ada Boorman, Manette Webb, Ruth Adams, Rina Mead, Frances Watson, Sarah Lewis, Anita Hunter, Hazel Hunter, Verna Hunter, Florence Hunter, Imogene Paddock, Alice Reagan, Rita Johnston, Gertrude Johnston, Alice Murphy, Clara Allen, Helen VanSanford, Adah Saunders, Mabel Hodges, Ruth Cox, Pauline Steele, Mildred Dunham, Helen Hannis, Florence Duell, Georgia Wells, Sara Hillick, Lucy Hillick, Mary Hunter, Barbara Gilbert, Mary Webb, Zelma Allen, Marjorie Fairgrieve, Lucie Carlysle, Ruth Allen, Katherine Wettengel, Leontine Porter, Vivian Caffrey, Alice Cullen and Muriel Breed.

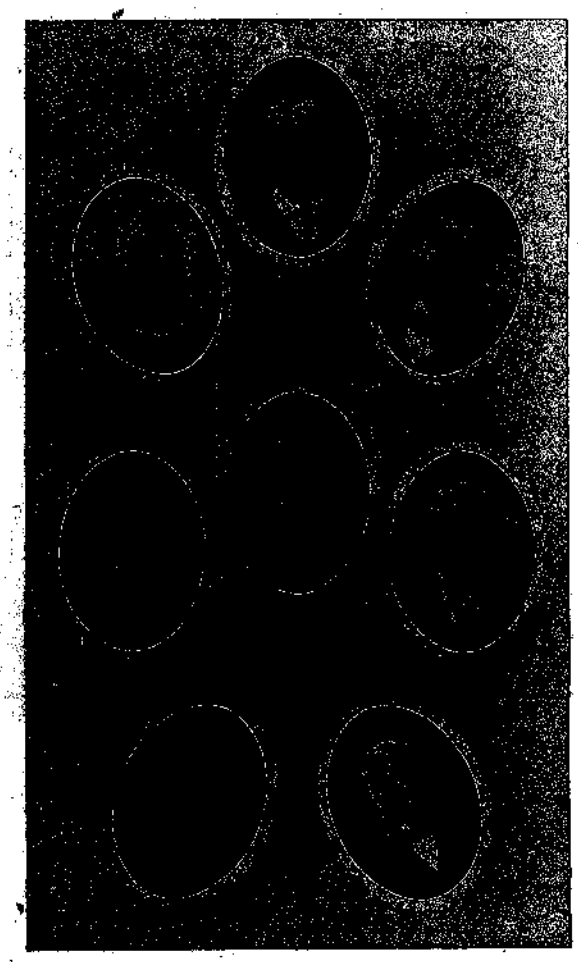
BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.



When the Board met on Monday evening it was found that only one bid had been received for paving Oneida and Cayuga streets so that it has been decided to postpone letting the contract until August 26, at 8 p. m. The City Clerk was instructed to notify the residents of Hannibal, Worth and West Fourth streets where paving is to be done, to connect with water, gas and sewer mains and to carry beyond the curb line.

The City Engineer was authorized to make preliminary plans and estimates for a storm sewer to take care of the water from Waldradt and Worth streets and to supply the City Attorney with maps and descriptions of the land required for a disposal plant for the West Side sewer in order that the City Attorney may be in a position to comply with the Board's request that condemnation proceedings be instituted to obtain a site for the plant.

Reunion To Be Held.



The following postal card received from Norm G Cooper of Oberlin, Ohio, is self explanatory and will be read with interest by all comrades: Comrades—I have arranged for a reunion of the Eastern Iron Brigade at 8 a. m. on September 1, 2, 3, in room one, Central High School, Toledo Ohio. Mrs. Cooper and I will room at 717 Yates Street during the National Encampment. I will not be in Fulton next week.

Norm G. Cooper.

Grand Stand—Oswego County Fair Grounds

Officers and Directors Oswego County Fair

E. B. TICE, RAY DAVIS, Z. D. AUSTIN, LAWTON BEARDSLEY, J. H. BRACKETT, M. C. HAMMOND, GROVE BUTTON, E. B. TUCKER

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

The death of Mrs. Ada B. Cates, wife of Mr. John Cates, occurred at the family home Wednesday, August 19. Mrs. Cates has been a sufferer for many years, but through it all has been ever patient. The deceased leaves beside her husband, three daughters, Misses Lena, Cora and Myrtle Cates, and two sons, Charles and Henry Cates, all of Minetto. The funeral was held from her late home Friday afternoon, August 21. Interment was made at Riverside.

Miss Anna Savery has resumed her duties in the factory office after a week's vacation spent in Utica.

Miss Grace Adair is visiting in Caughdenoy.

Mrs. John Hill entertained friends from Oswego Sunday.

Mr. Fred Stickney and family, Mr. W. J. Young and family, Misses Laura and Grace Wiley of New York and Miss Georgia Riker spent Sunday at Carvel Hall.

Mrs. Leon Jewett of South Scriba was in Minetto Sunday calling on relatives.

The stork visited Mr. and Mrs. Len Pereau last week and left a pair of twin girls.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Wallace visited in Palermo recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude McCann of Syracuse were over Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hall.

Miss Hettie Littlefield is visiting in Scriba Center.

A. K. Rowlison has engaged Miss Martha Dodge of Fulton to teach the Seneca Hill school this Fall.

The Sunday School picnic will be held at Eckert's Grove Saturday, August 22nd.

Mrs. Charles Osborne of Oswego spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Hill.

Mrs. Chas. Thompson and son of East Syracuse returned home Sunday after spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson. Miss Belle Thompson accompanied them home.

Mrs. Loren Littlefield spent a day recently at Scriba Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lathrop of Hannibal spent Sunday at Mr. Courtney Shutts'.

Mr. George Riker, who has been visiting here, has returned to West Monroe.

Mrs. S. L. Baker and family have been entertaining Miss Beulah Lamb and Mr. Wesley Lamb of Stockbridge

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company

Main St. West, Corner Exchange St.
Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

County Firemen's Convention.

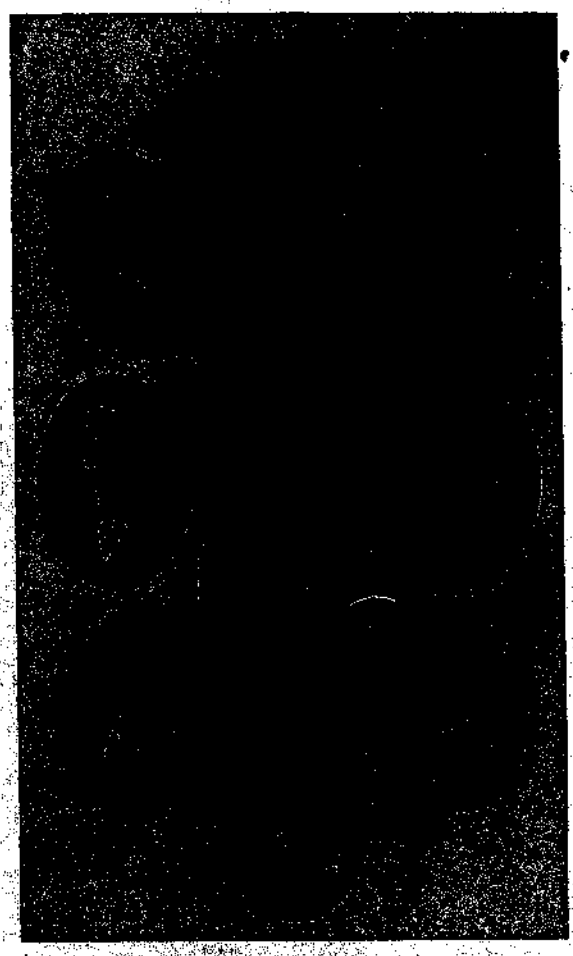
The annual meeting of the Oswego County Volunteer Firemen's Association was held in Oswego last week. The subject of a tri-county association to be composed of the counties of Oswego, Onondaga and Jefferson was discussed and Messrs. C. W. Taft, M. M. Sweet and H. K. Burdick were appointed a committee to take the matter up with the volunteers from the other counties.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, G. W. Morton, Pulaski; First Vice President, Timothy Donovan, Oswego; Second Vice President, H. K. Burdick, Fulton; Secretary, W. M. Kellogg, Minetto; Treasurer, T. F. McGovern, Fulton.

The retiring President, Mr. Charles W. Taft, the Republican nominee for Sheriff, in turning over the gavel to Mr. Morton, his successor, made appropriate remarks which were greeted with applause. It was voted to purchase a $25 banner to be competed for in the hose race to be held at Phoenix next year, that village having been decided upon as the place in which the next annual meeting would be held.

Tit For Tat.

The Japanese do not like to be called Japs. A noted diplomat was traveling from Tokyo to Yokohama when an American in the car leaned across and said, "Say, what 'ese' are you, Chinese or Japanese?"



Quick as a flash came in excellent English, "May I inquire what 'key' are you, Yankee or monkey?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Nothing else is just as good. Insist on DeWitt's. It is cleansing, cooling and soothing. Sold by all druggists.

Whiting's pure Linen Tablets, all sizes, ruled and plain, only 10c. Well worth 20c, at Lasher's Book Store.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended to children, it is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Its laxative principle drives the cold from the system by a gentle, natural, yet copious action of the bowels. Sold by all druggists.

Officers and Directors Oswego County Fair

C. H. LOCKWOOD, ORIN HENDERSON, VALBERT V. VAN T..., L. B. BABCOCK, C. L. A...SBURY, ANNA A. MOORE, W. M. HINSDALE, AMBROSE GREGG, H. WILLIAM ALLEN

GAS COKE

....Special Summer Prices....

Until September 1st, 1908

Furnace Coke, at Yard, bushel, 9c
" " Delivered, " 10c

Stove Coke, at Yard, bushel, 10c
" " Delivered, " 11c

All orders must be left at Gas Office, Opposite Clark House

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Phone 198

Local and Personal

Miss Hattie Allnutt has been visiting in Syracuse.

Mr. F. C. Mosher is convalescent from a long illness.

Miss Nellie Culkin has returned from a visit in Skaneateles.

Mr. Owen Carroll has been confined to his home by illness.

Misses Marion and Greta Lewis have returned from Syracuse.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Guile and son, Arthur, have returned from Clayton.

Chief of Police and Mrs. W. H. Ross have returned from a visit with friends in Gloversville.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shipman have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Shipman of St. Mary's, Ohio.

Mrs. Janet B. Kelley, Miss Janet F Kelley, Mr. W. L. Forsyth and W. Robertson Hughes have returned from Selkirk-on-the-Lake.

Miss Lillie Leslie of Philadelphia Pa., has returned after spending her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Moore of 406 South Fifth Street.

It is expected that the Rev. W. B. McMinch, A. M., of Camillus, N. Y., will supply the Baptist pulpit Sunday, August 30. Other services as usual. All are invited.

The Misses Wise, who have been the guests of Mr. Leo Perkins, started on Monday for Thousand Islands, Montreal, etc., and will return from thence to their home at Bradford, Pa.

Mrs. F. W. George left on Thursday for a visit with friends in Kingston, Ont. She was accompanied by her nieces, the Misses Evelyn and Laura Morley, and Miss Ruby Ottman.

The premiums offered by the Herald Gardening Club for flowers grown from seeds furnished by the club, to be exhibited at the Oswego County Fair, are on exhibition in Conley Bros. cigar store window.

Demster Grove Camp Meeting opened on Tuesday with an unusually large attendance. The Rev. Milton S. Rees, D. D., a noted evangelist, will have charge of the meetings and his wife will lead a large chorus choir.

A very commendable action of the Board of Public Works is the placing of large rubbish cans upon street corners for the purpose of keeping the streets cleaner. All papers and rubbish of whatever kind must be deposited in these cans and the cans will be emptied every night by the street cleaning brigade.

Mr. George Henry Maude, who is a first class decorator, paper hanger, grainer and frescoer, has established an office at No. 416 South First street, where he would be pleased to give estimates on all work in this line desired by any one. Mr. Maude is a brother of Mrs. Paul Greenwood of Broadway and is a competent, painstaking workman. He decorated the First Methodist church and has done considerable other work of a high grade since coming to Fulton.

Many requests from Catarrh sufferers who use atomizers have caused us to put up Liquid Cream Balm, a new and convenient form of Ely's Cream Balm, the only remedy for Catarrh which can always be depended on. In power to allay inflammation, to cleanse the clogged air-passages, to promote free, natural breathing, the two forms of Cream Balm are alike. Liquid Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 75 cents, including spraying tube. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Why Naval Uniforms Are Blue.

Naval uniforms all the world over pretty well are navy blue. The British fashion in this matter has been the rule with maritime people in general. That blue was ever selected for the king's naval service was a fortuitous happening. When in 1747 the question of uniform was being considered the color selected had very like to have been French gray laced with silver. While the king was still not quite decided he saw the Duchess of Bedford in a riding habit of blue faced with white and enlivened with gold lace. It was a revelation. Here, the king declared, was the uniform for his sea service officers, and no more was heard of French gray. The navy took to blue, and every other navy has taken to it since.—Pall Mall Gazette.

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank

Oswego, N. Y.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by
Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

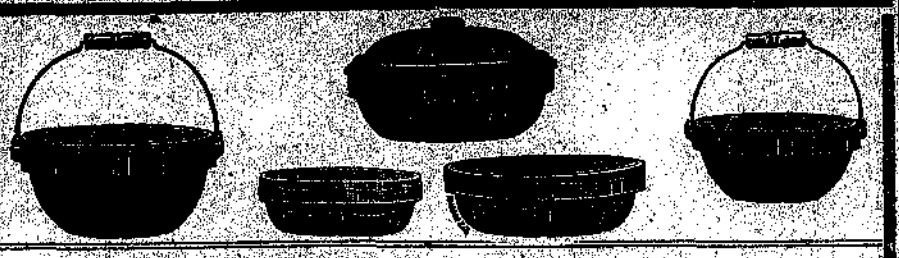
R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets Fulton, N. Y.

holds school every afternoon from two until five o'clock. Evening lessons discontinued through August. More attention can be given pupils during August.

Come and visit the school, and see how we draft patterns to fit th figure.



The American Garment Cutting System

is the newest, simplest and best system for drafting patterns.

The newest tailoring methods are taught in putting together garments.

Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

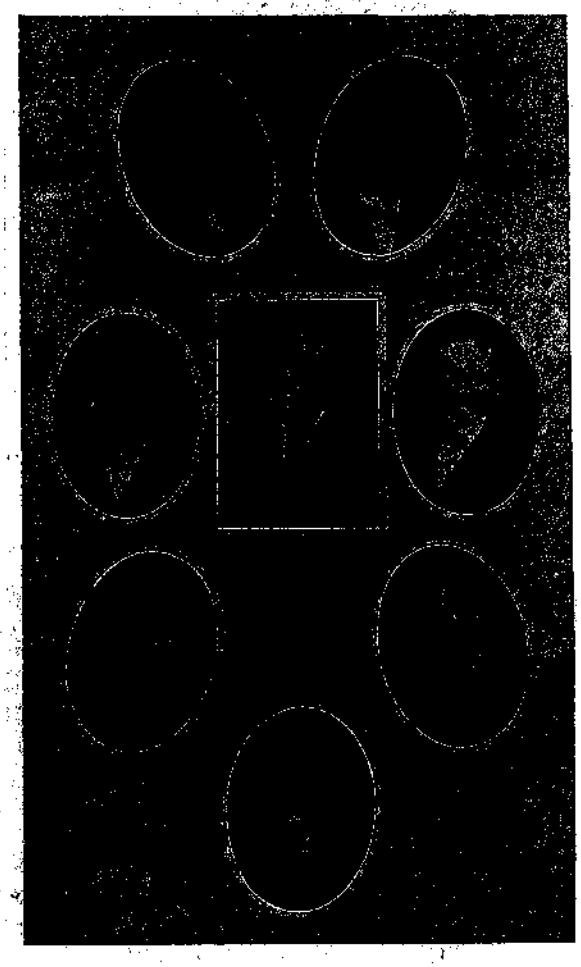
Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

'Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.



Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50 All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE: Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

Officers and Directors Oswego County Fair

C. C. WILCOX
V. W. SHATTUCK — J. W. RIGLEY — BYRON WORDEN
MARTIN LALLY — D. D. WELLS, DECEASED — LEVI BRACKETT, DECEASED — H. H. DOBSON

SOUTH GRANBY.

The Cook reunion picnic was held in the orchard of Mr. Aquilla Cook Wednesday, the 12th. There were over 60 present and a very enjoyable time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hannum and daughter Lottie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews and family, Fred Paine and family, and Mrs. L. T. Austin and son Roy all attended the Rowlee picnic at Alonzo Rowlee's at Mt. Pleasant Saturday. There was a large company, it was an ideal day and very enjoyable. Mrs. Rowlee's mother, Mrs. Sarah Skeel, was the oldest one present, she being 87 years old. She visited with old acquaintances and seemed so bright and smart one could hardly realize she was so old.

The Farmers' picnic at High Banks August 19th was a very general picnic, people coming from quite a distance in every direction. The principal speaker was Prof. John F. McLennan, Superintendent of the New York State Agricultural College of Alfred University. A president was chosen, Mr. Samuel Terpening, and Mr. Fred Paine was chosen secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Ray King has returned from his two weeks' vacation.

Miss Kate Stewart, Fulton, has been spending the past week with her cousin, Mrs. Bertha Rumsey.

Miss Jennie Brown and her sister Phoebe of Baldwinsville were guests of their cousin, Miss Viola Coville, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, Bloomfield, N. J., are the guests of their brother, Mr. Fred Andrews.

Mrs. Wood has returned to her place with the one little girl, while Mr. Wood and her two sons are yet in the Hospital, but getting better.

Mr. Hammond has his threshing machine in this neighborhood.

Miss Flora Fisher is spending the week at her brother's, Fred Fisher's, in Baldwinsville.

Mr. Harvey McMurchy entertained Mr. H. B. Febiger, son of the late Admiral Febiger, of New Orleans last Sunday.

Miss Arwilda Fisher visited Miss Tillie Winklestein in Syracuse.

Our school house is receiving some needed repairs and the yard has been drained and new cement steps are to be built. Mr. Howard is doing the work hired by Trustee Dan Stewart. Miss Eva Ostrander is to be our teacher.

The Sunday guests were Mr. Collins' people from Syracuse at Harlow Sperbeck's; Hosea Fisher, wife and little Evelyn of Oswego at Elmer Fisher's; Willis Lampman was home.

Mr. and Mrs. King are visiting their children.

Mr. Harry Bachus of Caldwell, N. J., visited the milk station Saturday.

The ball tournament at Plainville Saturday, Meridian and Lamsons played the morning game lasting one hour and fifteen minutes, resulting in a score of 5 to 3 in favor of Lamsons. Plainville and Conquest played at 1:30 p. m. Conquest won, 8 to 4. The winning parties played then at 5 o'clock, Lamsons winning, the score being 4 to 6 in favor of Lamson.

Mrs. Beebe, who has been visiting in Rochester, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Burdette Allen and son Burton of Woonsocket, R. I., are visiting friends here.

Quite a number from this place attended the Farmers' picnic at Long Branch.

Miss Janet Fulmer of Syracuse is visiting at Harlow Sperbeck's.

Miss Helen Rolfe and her sister are visiting Miss Ethel Whitcomb.

Miss Eva Rude has been the guest of Miss Emma Butler.

Mrs. Eliza Cornwell is in Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hannum visited his uncle in Williamstown last Sunday.

Miss Lela Andrews is spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. L. T. Austin.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

MT. PLEASANT.

Rev. Summers was home from Dempster Grove to hold Sunday services.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Streeter spent Friday and Saturday near Camden on business.

Miss Blanche Chubb of Fulton was a recent guest of Mrs. Harmon Rockwood.

Our Grange is making a furious effort to land first prize at the County Fair next week.

Arthur Stewart of Madison county is the guest of Miss Lila Dumont this week.

Mrs. Luna Wright of Watertown is visiting relatives hereabouts.

Muriel Ives and Miss LaTroy of New York spent a day with Bernice Osborne last week. Miss LaTroy returned to her home in New York on Saturday.

The Up-to-Dates have been playing ball in hard lines last week, the game at Ingalls Crossing scoring 7 to 7 in 12 innings, darkness stopping the game. The Palermo nine defeated them by a score of 13 to 4 on Saturday at Palermo. The next game will be played at Mt. Pleasant with the Volney Grange.

Erwin Osborne is recovering from his recent fall at the Taylor picnic when he was slightly injured.

Fred Simons of Albany is spending a few days among relatives here. Mrs. Simons, who has been ill with peritonitis, is better. Her mother, who has been with her, has returned home.

Quite a number attended the Firemen's parade in Oswego last Friday.

The new Grange Hall here will be dedicated September 25th, that date being their 33rd anniversary. State Master Godfrey will be present with a State speaker to assist with the Dedication Services, which begin at 1 o'clock p. m. A cordial invitation will be extended to all to come and rejoice with the Grangers on their mammoth achievement.

There will be no services at the church here next Sunday, as all are invited to attend the camp meeting at Dempster, where Rev. Summers is sojourning.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Clock and Watch Freaks.

"A watch isn't exactly dirty when it requires cleaning," says a watchmaker. "It may need cleaning when it hasn't even been worn.

"A common cause of this is that the oil in the works has dried up and become sticky, causing the watch to go slow or even to stop. In this case it not only wants cleaning, but also the addition of fresh oil.

"The best oil for this purpose is obtained from the jawbone of a porpoise or kindred fish. Many watchmakers mix their own oil from various kinds.

"Clocks also stop for no apparent reason. During a thunderstorm, for instance, a clock may stop, only resuming work when minutes, days or even weeks have passed.

"Thunderstorms, again, have been responsible for the restarting of old clocks which have apparently retired altogether from active service."—London Answers.

Saturday
August 29
Blue Cup & Saucer
WILL BE THE
SOUVENIR
THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.
28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 F. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee
SUGARS
REFINERS PRICES

CASH

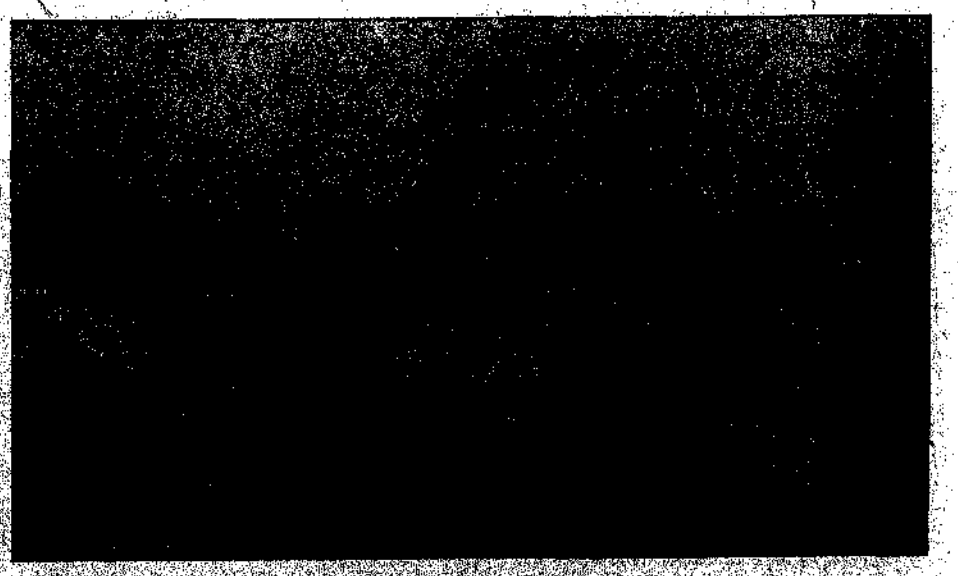
...Pure Foods...

Tea—Just to more thoroughly introduce our 40c Tea, we will give away, absolutely free, 1 can of Wonderful Dirt Cleanser and 1 can of Penang Ground Nutmeg, per lb. 40c
Flour—650 barrels of fancy Minnesota Flour; sure to please and every pound guaranteed ..... barrel, $5.65; 1-2 sack, $1.47
Shredded Wheat—The popular breakfast food made by electricity, pkg 10c
Cocoanut—2,000 lbs. of Shredded Cocoanut at a price less than cost, lb., 12 1-2c
Sweet Potatoes—A solid car, large bright stock ..... 8 lbs., 25c; 1 lb., 3 1-2c
Worcester Sauce—Cash Brand, equal to if not better than any of the widely advertised kinds, per bottle. ..... 10c and 10 stamps
Vinegar—100 barrels of Government protected pure Cider Vinegar, per gallon, ... 20c and 20 stamps
Tomatoes—500 cans of solid packed, whole red ripe tomatoes, this years packing, No. 2 can ..... dozen, 80c; can, 7c
Lard—1,000 lbs. of Pure Lard, stamped by the U. S Government and guaranteed to be absolutely pure ..... 5 lbs., 55c; lb., 12c
Catsup—Cash Brand, made of red ripe Tomatoes and pure spices, large bottle, ... 10c and 10 stamps
Spices—Cash Brand, absolutely pure and put up in full accordance of the pure food law. ..... 1-4 lb. package, 10c and 10 stamps
Salmon—500 cases Owl Brand, put up by one of the best packers in the Columbia District, large 1 lb. flat can ..... dozen, $2.10; can 20c
Cocoa—Cash Brand, made from the genuine cocoa bean, 1-2 lb. can ..... 25c and 25 stamps.
Unsweetened Cream—500 cases of Gold Cross Brand. This product is put up by the Red Cross people and every can is perfection. Large cans per dozen, $1.90; can, 10c. Small cans, per dozen, 55c; can, 5c
Raisins—250 cans of large California Seeded Raisins, 16 ounce package, regular 14c; special 10c
Coffee—1,500 lbs. of combination Coffee, fresh from the roaster, lb. ..... 30c and 18 stamps.
Soap—500 boxes of Quality Brand; excellent Laundry Soap, gives perfect satisfaction ..... 7 bars for 25c and 20 stamps
Toilet Paper—Cash Brand. Another carload of fine quality Paper, sells regular for 5c a roll. Special ..... 8 rolls for 25c

Saturday Night Special---8 to 9 O'clock

5 lbs. Granulated Sugar for 22c to all persons buying a grocery order.

7% Dividends Guaranteed



A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

PAPWORTH
51 East First Street — Phone 464 — Fulton, N. Y.

Oswego County Fair Grounds

The Merry Widow 5c straight cigar is the best low priced cigar on the market. For sale by V. C. Lewis.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Congress, 28th District
CHARLES L. KNAPP

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

The work of the Congressional delegates in the twenty-eighth district is concluded and delegates, candidates and their friends, have resumed their accustomed vocations. The Times has not heard any criticism of the result of the convention, but it has heard unmeasured contempt expressed for Jefferson county's attitude—not for what it accomplished, but for the methods pursued. Jefferson's entire course with Oswego this year, is strewn with broken pledges and violated promises.

Oswego and Lewis counties may well point with pride to the honor and loyalty of their delegates. They were instructed by their constituents to do a certain thing and they obeyed the instructions to the letter. In Oswego county's case she was loyal to her candidate until the nomination was made, when she, in all sincerity, by making the nomination of the Hon. C. L. Knapp unanimous, pledged herself to him.

Congressman Knapp knew beyond quibble or question that when his nomination was made unanimous by Oswego county, every man on the Oswego delegation, and Oswego county's own candidate for the honor, will work earnestly and manfully from this to election day for him and the entire Republican ticket. After Jefferson's light treatment of its pledged word to Oswego, can Congressman Knapp repose the same confidence in that county?

Judge Stowell dispassionately sums up his personal feeling in this manner: "Had Jefferson kept faith and lived up to their pledges I would have been nominated; but they didn't. I knew they were a slippery lot, that they didn't trust each other, and that their word politically was not the best, but I trusted them because there was nothing else for me to do. I will not discuss the Senatorial situation. That will be taken up when reached. I thoroughly admire the manner in which the Lewis county delegates stuck to Congressman Knapp. They are an honorable lot of gentlemen."

That Congressman Knapp was the first choice of his own county and the second choice of each other county in the district is a proven fact. He has a magnificent record of deeds accomplished to which he may well turn with pride. Nor has his activity for either county been hindered by boundry lines. He has served the district as it were one county, and that his home county. That the coming term, which will be his fourth, will be marked with even greater activity for his district's interests, if possible, than the preceeding terms have been, is believed. And he brings to the important task of representing this very important district, of which Oswego is the most important county, a broader comprehension, a fuller knowledge of its necessities and a greater power than has heretofore been his.

The ticket of Taft and Sherman grows in strength and the grace of electors with every sun rise.

Everything is in readiness for the greatest Fair the Oswego County Agricultural Society ever saw. Don't fail to be there. Everyone else will arrive early each day.

The Republican Congressional, Assembly and County nominees are all men who command the confidence and respect of men far beyond the party line. They will be winners, every one.

Charles N. Bulger in introducing Gov. Hughes at the Firemen's convention last week, endorsed his candidacy for renomination and assured his listeners that Democracy's favorite son, Secretary Whalen, must go to the rear for two more years.

The people have triumphed and Governor Hughes will succeed himself in the executive hall at Albany. Like Brer' Rabbit, "he lay low" but he must frequently indulge in a quiet appreciation of the fact that the plain people of the Empire State admire a plain, blunt man who loves the constitution and scornes to disobey either the spirit or the letter of the law.

AS SEEN IN BOSTON.

Gov. Hughes' candidacy may not fit in with some of the plans of small politicians of New York State. But this is a year when petty factional and unimportant personal ambitions must be put aside. The New York Republican organization has now a responsibility outside the boundries of the State. There is no question that Gov. Hughes' name on the State ticket will be a great leverage for polling a strong vote for Mr. Taft. And the activity of the Democratic party, with the appointment of Norman Mack to be chairman of the party's national committee, followed by Bryan's own personal declaration that this means a fight for New York, indicates how strenuously the Democratic party intends to contest the possession of the electoral vote of the State. Gov. Hughes was not demanded on the national ticket, but his vote getting power is formidable and important. At the head of the New York State ticket he can bring the national party ticket an impressive strength. His nomination by the New York Republicans is imperative.—Boston Advertiser.

Properly Fitted Eye-Glasses

Only a few days before school opens. Have the children's eyes tested at once, so they become accustomed to glasses if they need them. Many children become peevish, irritable and nervous as soon as school opens. The trouble is more often caused by defective eye-sight than from any other cause.

We are especially equipped to ascertain whether or not your child needs glasses.

W. C. Morgan

113 Cayuga Street Fulton

REV. JAMES DUANE PHELPS—A RETROSPECT.

Editor Times:—The sudden and wholly unexpected death of Dr. Phelps in Utica on Wednesday, the 19th inst., has set me to thinking. I had thought that some Fulton party, recalling him, would have contributed a word concerning him in your last issue, but on second thought, that were impossible, since the 19th was your publication day. I remember the deceased well, both as boy and man. He first catalogued at the Seminary, (Failey) in 1863, and I think stayed there as long as Prof. Griffin remained at the head of the school. For a considerable part of the time he was a member of my parents' family, hence becoming almost like one of us and very often, in his going about the State, was a caller on Academy street. It is not much to say that no one of the many who, first and last, were thus placed with our folks stood higher in their esteem. As he was born in Martinsburg, Lewis county, April 12, 1848, he must have been about twenty years old when he came to Fulton to prepare for college. From the onset he took an excellent position in all of his classes, and was one of the young men to be depended upon at any and all times. Nature had been specially kind to him in the matter of face and form, and there was no wonder that he was a favorite everywhere from the very beginning. His name is found on the catalogues for '68, '69, '70 and possibly 1871, but a copy for that year I do not possess.

He entered Syracuse University in 1872, the second year after the establishment of the old institution of Lima in the Central City, and was graduated in 1876. Thence he went to the Theological School of Boston University, where it was my privilege to meet him at intervals and later also when he was preaching at Harwich on Cape Cod. In still later years, I have not met him often, though I now remember with no little pleasure a brief interview in Oswego, one year ago, where he was off the train, for a moment on his way to the north, while I was westward bound. I noted that the raven hair of years ago had, like my own, become very white, but the voice was as clear as of old, and the dark eye had lost none of its brightness.

When the announcement of his sad ending came, I recalled that years ago, when the first cases of LaGrippe were recognized, he was an early sufferer, and that for a time he was an inmate of an institution for disordered minds. It would appear that his recovery had not been complete. As he was in Utica Tuesday, and I was there the same day, it is not impossible that we were simultaneously in the throngs of that city on that same announcement day. Would that we might have met. Perhaps the pressure of a hand from long ago might have dispelled some of the illusions then oppressing his brain.

The success that attended all of his professional life was the legitimate outcome of his earlier days. Possessed of a most attractive presence, he was always a popular pastor and preacher, and as the financial agent of Lima Seminary and the University, his recent labors are too well known to need extolling here. As principal of the seminaries in Cazenovia and Lima, as preacher in the East and in New York State, he was uniformly greatly liked and appreciated. It would appear, however, that the shadow had been over him and in a dark moment he yielded to the prompting which took him so suddenly from the friends who loved him. Though it might be said that sixty years were a long stretch of life, yet to one of his ability, attainments and experience, it would seem there were yet many years of usefulness in store.

While not exactly a contemporary with him at Failey, yet my frequent interviews with him at my father's house gave me that knowledge of his virtues that I feel warranted in thus writing in his praise.

ALFRED S. ROE.

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 25, 1908.

Pleasing Promotion.

The Lackawanna Railroad announces, effective September 1st, the appointment of Mr. C. H. Hunt, heretofore Westbound Agent of the Lackawanna Line at St. Louis, as Commercial Agent for the Lackawanna Railroad at St Louis; in charge of solicitation of its traffic in St. Louis and business which is tributary to the St. Louis gateway. His appointment is an indication of the Lackawanna to strengthen its organization and of its disposition to recognize by promotion the service of its efficient and faithful employes.

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably. Mrs. H. O. Vickery, tf 118 North Fifth Street, Fulton.

Copyright by Hart Schaffner & Marx

YOU never saw a more attractive lot of good clothes than we're ready to show you right now for fall wear. They're clothes, and the new colors, new weaves and fabrics are as rich and varied and attractive as clothes can be.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

In addition to the new browns, grays, tans, and animal colors which have been so attractive a feature of this fine line, we'll show you some fine blue serges, black cheviots and thibets, such as every man ought to have.

Twenty dollars will get you a mighty good suit; all-wool, perfectly made, correct in style.....

The New Fall Hats are here, $1 to $5

This store is the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

S. Lipsky & Son

"The house that makes good"

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N. Y.

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brundage of Pulaski spent Sunday with Mr. F. L. Porter.

The annual reunion of the 147th, 110th and 24th Infantry Regiments (veterans of the Civil War) is being held in this city as we go to press.

Mrs. F. L. Porter and daughter, s Leontine and Norine, have returned from a vacation spent among the Thousand Islands.

Miss Georgia Wells left on Monday for Meadville, Pa., to attend the Kappa Kappa Gamma convention to be held in Allegheny College.

Mrs. H. M. Hawkins and children and Miss Majel Streeter have returned from Bernhard's Bay. Mr. Hawkins spent Sunday with them.

Hon. and Mrs. N. N. Stranahan have leased, and after Sept 1 will occupy the Stevens house in Broadway, at present occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Butts and family.

Mr. N. A. Kitts has this week started a passenger transfer and he solicits the patronage of the public. He has a safe horse and comfortable carriage and will answer either day or night calls on phone numbers 289 and 1389.

Attorney W. S. Hillick is slowly recovering from the effect of the peculiar condition which came upon him two weeks ago, following a swim. He was practically helpless for several days.

The semi- annual election of officers of the Baraca class will take place at the church on Friday evening, August 28. Refreshments and music will be furnished and a pleasant social time is anticipated. Every member is urged to be present.

On Monday as Mr. Thomas McGovern was driving the spirited team belonging to Merchant J. R. Sullivan, a strap broke, letting the wagon pole drop to the ground, frightening the horses. They became unmanageable and ran into a bank, throwing out Mr. McGovern and girls who were in the wagon with him. The young ladies escaped without serious injury, but Mr. McGovern was painfully injured. The horses did not suffer serious injury.

$1.00 Reward $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Halls Family Pills for constipation.

The will of Nancy R. Crosby of Fulton was filed for probate Monday. It bequathes $100 to Mrs. Charles Highriter of Fulton, and the balance to Earl C. Cable of Fulton, and Fred W. Cable, Chicago, relatives. The estate is valued at $3,500 real.

Madam Matie Fulton (Mrs James Bowen) who has been studying under Signor Carbone, the widely known vocal master of New York city, manager of Signor Bonci, the world famous tenor, and other eminent artists, is spending a short vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Althouse of Hannibal street, after which she will return to New York to complete her studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Owen Hannis have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Myrtle Hannis, to Attorney Mahlon Albertus Freeman of New York city. The event will take place on Wednesday evening, September the ninth, at The Lewis, at half past seven o'clock. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies in this vicinity and Mr. Freeman, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Freeman of this city, is junior partner in one of the leading law firms in the metropolis.

The fire department was called at 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning to the J. J. Parker engine factory where a conflagration had made such headway before its discovery, that it was impossible to check the flames until the building and contents were practically destroyed. The proprietor's launch was stored in the building and was burned with the rest. The fire was so strenuous that surrounding buildings repeatedly caught fire and the firemen had to devote their energies toward saving them. The buildings and contents were partially insured. Mr. Parker feels his loss heavily as he was enjoying a good business and this loss will mean a considerable set back for him.

Postmaster Bruce Dead.

On Wednesday at his home, Postmaster Dwight H. Bruce of Syracuse, passed away after an illness of several weeks, although but a few hours prior to his demise he was transacting all business with his office over the telephone. His death removes one of the most popularly conspicuous figures of Central New York. Gen. Bruce was active in Republican politics, having cast his first vote for Fremont in 1856. He had held many offices of trust and responsibility. He was postmaster of Syracuse for twelve years.

CHURCH NOTES.

Baptist Church.

The Rev. Edward Babcock of Eau Clair, Wis., who supplied so satisfactory a year ago, will supply the Baptist pulpit on Sunday, both morning and evening. Everybody welcome.

State Street Church.

Public worship at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 11.45 a. m. Epworth League at 6.30 p. m.

Prayer service on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

First M. E. Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.

Sunday School and class meeting at 12.

Christian Endeavor, 6.30.

Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

If you are identified with no other church in the city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

Zion Church.

Eleventh Sunday after Trinity, Aug. 30.

Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.

Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon, 10:30 a. m.

Evensong and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

The Parish Aid Society will meet for work at the Rectory on Thursday at 2 p. m.

Cook a Meal for One Cent.

Write S. L. Head, Caughdenoy, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents, and he will tell you how you can procure heat in your cook stove enough to cook an ordinary meal without the use of either wood or coal, the cost per meal is nearly 1 cent. Address, S. L. Head, Box 62, Caughdenoy, N. Y., and save money the rest of your life. tf

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC CO.

Contractors and Engineers for all kinds of

Electrical Installations

Dynamos, Motors, Fans, Bells, Fixtures, Etc. Fire Proof Wiring a Specialty

Estimates Cheerfully Given on Application

J. C. KETCHAM, Manager

Telephone 243 834 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

IF YOU WANT A GOOD QUALITY OF

ASPHALT ROOFING

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY AND PERHAPS PICK UP A FEW CRUMBS FOR OURSELVES..

COME AND SEE

GILBERT & NICHOLS CO.

Telephone 4 Fulton, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

AFTERNOON TEAS

are dainty, cool and delightful when ELECTRICITY is used. No heat, dirt or smoke to cause discomfort, or make expense for cleaning.

Electricity is the ideal servant for light, heat and power. It makes the home complete and enjoyable as nothing else does.

Get ready for Winter by wiring now when the house is open.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

The Sandy Creek Fair opened on Tuesday.

Mrs. Clifford Foster has returned from Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Brown visited in Utica last week.

Attorney and Mrs. G. M. Fanning are visiting in Kingston.

Miss Blanche Seymour has returned from Sylvan Beach.

Mrs. H. C. Abbott of Oneida street has returned from Canada.

Rev. John Richards and family were at North Bay last week.

Miss Lena Cooper of Adams has been visiting Miss Edith Albion.

Floyd James of South Third street is spending his vacation in Rochester.

Captain L. P. Storms of Cuba is the guest of Attorney Arvin Rice and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. MacFarland and sons have returned from East Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Sanford of South Third street visited friends in Lysander over Sunday.

Mrs. Anna Foster and two sons are visiting her sister, Mrs. Alonzo Hannum, at South Granby.

All kinds of rosy pipe dreams come to the men who smoke the special brands of tobacco carried at the V. C. Lewis cigar store, Cayuga street.

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

Mr. Theodore Giroux of Utica has been visiting in Fulton.

Mrs. J. C. Gary has returned to her home in New York city.

Mr. William Lovejoy and Miss Georgia Lovejoy have returned from Henderson.

Hon. and Mrs. T. D. Lewis leave today for New York city where they will spend some time.

Gordon Campbell and John Laing of Watertown have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. St. Louis.

Fred VanValkenburg and Charles Branch are enjoying themselves in the Masonic home at Utica.

Mrs. Fred B. Simons of the Regents Department at Albany has published a first book in English.

Charles Rogers and two sons of Hannibal Center visited Mr. and Mrs. William Bidwell of Second street last week.

Supervisor George Rogers and family of Hannibal Center were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Bidwell of Second street this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred B. Simons of Albany are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Sanford, of South Third street.

Mrs. Frank Parkhurst and son, Mrs. William Gifford and daughter, and Mrs. S. D. Gardner are camping at Demster Grove.

Columbia Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will commence holding their regular meetings on Tuesday evening, September 1, after a month's vacation.

The Independents and Barge Canal baseball team met in combat on Saturday and the Independents won out by a score of 29 to 1. This makes a tie in the race for supremacy between the contending teams and their friends are hopeful for the rubber before the close of the season.

S. D. Gardner received Monday a picture from his friend, Tilden Gifford, of Pomona, of a 1776 house of Tappan, New York, situated near him, where Major Andre was imprisoned and hanged in the rear of the house. It is a large stone structure and has been preserved as near as possible as it appeared in 1776, and is a fine looking house at the present time.

The work being done by the Fulton Contracting Company preparatory to the building of a new cement bulkhead for the Oswego Falls Pulp and Paper Company is progressing. Beginning tomorrow morning the work of excavating in the bottom of the old raceway will be carried on by two shifts of workmen instead of one, as previously, and it is expected that the cement work will be begun in about ten days.

The Secretary of the Oswego County Fair announces that three companies of the 24th Infantry U. S. A. with the regiment band will be encamped on the Fair grounds during the county fair. These three companies were among the first to go up SanJuan hill in the war with Spain, and nearly all the men took part in that battle. The 24th Infantry is recognized as one of the best drilled regiments in service. The soldiers will give a fancy dress parade on Wednesday Thursday and Friday afternoons at four o'clock, and the Regimental band will furnish music throughout the day.

Susini, made in rice and pectoral paper, is the newest cigarette on the market. Ask for them at the Victor C. Lewis cigar store.

WANTED

Farm and City Property

Whitaker & Lovejoy

42 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

Mrs. J. B. Rector is in New York city.

Miss Belle Brando is slightly improved in health.

Miss Helen VanSanford has returned from Bernhards Bay.

Undertaker I. E. Marsh is visiting friends at Picton, Ont.

A son, Fred 3rd, has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Humphrey.

Mrs. E. J. Petrie and daughter are visiting friends in Carthage.

Mr. James Stevens and Miss Florence Stevens are visiting in Utica.

Catherine Carrier has sold property in Fulton to Frank E. Howe for $4,350.

Miss Jessie Wallace of Skaneateles spent Sunday with Mrs. Hattie Barlow.

Mrs. Cornelia Dean and Mrs. Hunter Betts of Phoenix spent Friday with Fulton friends.

Mrs. Edna More has returned from an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Loomis, in Oneida.

Mrs. Maude Chattilon of New York city spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Barnes, in this city.

Attorney and Mrs. W. J. Gardinier of Herkimer were the last week guests of Jeweler and Mrs. Wm. C. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Case left on Monday for their home in New York city, after a two weeks visit in Fulton.

Mrs. Monroe Blodgett and son Frank, have returned rom a visit with friends in Cleveland, Ohio, and at Niagara Falls.

Last week three more prisoners made their escape from the Oswego jail, one being captured before many hours had elapsed.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baggs at Vacaville, Calif. Mrs. Baggs was formerly Miss Ella Klein of this city.

Messrs. Arthur G. Gilbert and James Hunter leave this week for Alaska where they will visit some properties owned by the Messrs Hunter.

Whitaker & Lovejoy have sold to Frederick J. Taylor the A. L. Warner property at No. 234 Cayuga street, Mr. Warner retaining possession thereof until next spring.

Dr. H. J. Terpening has purchased from Whitaker & Lovejoy the premises at No. 309 West Broadway formerly owned by S. B. Denck, this being one of the most desirable pieces of residence property on the west side.

Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers of Buffalo and Mr. F. P. Connell of Syracuse spent a portion of last week with their mother, Mrs. M. E. Connell. When they returned home Mrs. Connell went to Watertown where she will spend a month.

Williamstown volunteer fireman took the prize at the convention in Oswego last week for being the most soldierly appearing body of men in the parade. The Mexico volunteers took a prize for having the best looking apparatus in the exhibit.

President P. M. McLearn of the Union Pacific Tea Company, was the Saturday guest of Manager Rudd of the local store. This was the first time Mr. McLearn had visited Fulton and he was pleased with the condition in which he found the store and with the appearance of the city.

Major Thos. H. Lake, Drum Major of the 64th Regiment Band of Rochester, N. Y., has been engaged to come and act as Drum Major for the Fulton Bands during the Oswego County Fair. Major Lake will be remembered by many of the older residents of Fulton. He is the only living Drum Major of the Civil War, and was with Gen. Albert Lee's division on his great march through Tennessee and Mississippi.

A complete line of fancy clay pipes are to be found at V. C. Lewis's Cayuga street store.

Special values in Tablets, Whiting's Linen Stock, all sizes, ruled and plain, for only 10c, while they last, at Lasher's Book Store.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

fits properly around the neck. Try our work for a change.

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cary are visiting Fulton friends.

Mrs. Ruby Wells has returned from the Adirondacks.

Miss Viola Bidwell has returned from New York city.

Mrs D. L. Lipsky and daughter will return Thursday from Sacandaga Park.

Mrs. Gilbert L. Wells and family will return this week from Hatha Bay, Can.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin J. Morrill are spending some time at Scroon Lake.

Mrs. H. E. Nichols of Syracuse is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Butts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones have returned from a visit to Texas and Mexico points.

Mrs. E. H. Nodyne is visiting her parents in Syracuse.

Miss Ida Patten has returned from a visit at her home in Mexico.

Mr. T. C. Giroux of Utica is assisting Tonsorial Artist E. E. Tramblay during the Fair rush.

Mrs. F. W. Palmer and sons of Auburn are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Almon Bristol.

Miss Virginia Jones of New York city is a guest of Mrs. H. E. Clarke at Manhattan Villa.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Goodjon entertained a party of twelve at dinner at their home in Buffalo street.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Katz have leased a house in Gloversville which they will occupy for a year.

Miss Jennie Worthington of Albion, Mich., spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walldorf.

Miss Pauline Schiller, who has been the guest of Miss Bertha Connell, has returned to her home in Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Rust and son, Fred, are visiting Friends in Rochester and Lockport, N. Y.

Mr. Arthur Althouse and Mr. P. F. Butler have returned to Chicago after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. N. Althouse of Hannibal street.

Major Crawford of Troy will visit Fulton on Thursday in his capacity of district superintendent. He will inspect the local Salvation Army but will be unable to hold a meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Unser and Mrs. Lizzie McInerow and children of Utica are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Fassell. Mr. Unser is a conductor on the N. Y. C., R. R., and was badly injured in the wreck at Boonville on July 4. He is just now able to resume his run.

Phoenix Register: Hon. D. A. Ray, a native of this town, is being pushed by the Democrats of Iowa for lieutenant governor. Mr. Ray is at present located at Humbolt, Iowa, and is president of the First National Bank of that city. Mr. Ray is well known in Fulton where he frequently visits.

Mailing Clerk F. L. Jennings wishes to announce to the public that the Mr Jennings who is having some trouble with the Board of Health, is a resident of Palermo, and not himself. A similarity of initials causes the friends of the local man to wonder. Mr. Jennings of Fulton says that if he is given the deed to the property on which the alleged nuisance exists, that he will promise to abate it promptly, but that he does not like the notoriety he has achieved through the medium of another man's property.

A large and delightful family picnic was held on Friday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Wells Sweet in honor of Mrs. Henrietta McKoon Rees of Omaha, Nebraska and her daughter, Miss Henrietta M. Rees. The home of Mrs. Sweet is the old homestead at 828 Emery Street. The house was decorated throughout with seasonable flowers for the occasion. A picnic dinner was served on the lawn, when forty-six relatives and friends sat down to eat together. In the afternoon an impromptu program of recitations and speeches was given, after which the party adjourned to the residence of Mr. William Wells, and enjoyed several musicial selections. The affair was a great success. Many relatives came from miles to be present. Mrs. Sweet is to be congratulated upon the manner in which she carried the day to its successful close. Artistic hand painted place cards were sent by Miss Jane McKoon from Omaha, Neb., which will be treasured as souvenirs of the occasion.

Fair cigar dealers supplied with cigars at wholesale prices by V. C. Lewis.

No necessity for an expensive vacation trip abroad when the beautiful Oswego river passes our doors and one can reach a score of beautiful camping or picnicking spots in perfect ease in one of the boats from the Manhattan Boat Livery in North First street. tf

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20, inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. 9o16

Auction Sale of Horses

22 unbroken Nebraska horses, weighing from 1,000 to 1,300—Percheron bred colts consisting of matched pairs, chestnuts, blacks, greys—and several good young mares for breeding purposes.

Wednesday, September 2

At 10 A. M.

On the D. C. Case Farm

Near the D., L. & W. Station

TERMS OF SALE—$10.00 down on each horse, and three months credit will be given on good approved interest bearing notes, for the balance.

W. E. Saunders

B. V. Kelley, Auctioneer.

DRESS UP FOR THE FAIR

A Big Sale of Men's and Boy's Suits

Will continue this week

All $18 Suits will go at $13.98
" $14 " " " $9.68
" $12 " " " $8.00
" $10 " " " $7.00

Everything in Men's and Boy's Furnishings will be sold at accordingly low prices.

Come in at once and look the stock over. Some rare bargains are awaiting you.

Harry A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street Fulton

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

Olives! Olives!

I have just received a new invoice of Olives which I would be pleased to show to the trade. I can sell you a large 18 ounce bottle of Queen Olives, very large fruit, at 25 cents; also a large pitted Olive, stuffed with sweet Spanish Peppers at the same price.

Anyone wishing anything in the line of Galvanized Tubs or Pails will find it to their advantage to look over my stock.

A. L. WARNER

CASH GROCERY

Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

The First National Bank

Fulton, N. Y.

Pays 4% on Money Left Six Months.

Pays 3% on Certificates of Deposit, No Time Lost.

Safe Deposit Boxes.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY.
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
122 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
Office Hours—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m.
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
cial attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 4 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.

Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosities treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

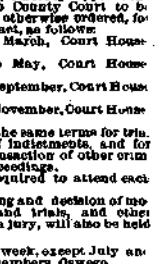
MIRAION SPOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogate Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.



Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the

CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

A Sure Thing.

She—Did father say anything about you being too young? He—Well, yes; but he said I'd age pretty rapidly after we were married and I found I had to pay your bills.—Illustrated Bits.

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in atomizers 75 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

WOMAN'S WIT UNCERTAIN.

As When This Wife Failed to Appreciate Hubby's Pleasantry.

"Don't always rely upon the ready wit of a woman," said the man who is sometimes pleased to consider himself an oracle. "That ready wit business is sometimes prone to get way off.

"For example, my wife and children had been staying in the country for several weeks, and I was regular with my letters, as every loving husband should be. Finally on the day before my wife was to start for home I concluded my letter to her with these words:

"'This will be the last letter I will write to you for a long, long time.'

"When I got down to my office the next morning I found a telegram from my wife waiting for me. 'What on earth do you mean?' read the dispatch.

"Later a registered letter came from her. She had blotted almost every line with tears. What it was all about I could not imagine.

"Then my telephone bell rang, and when I answered I heard my wife's voice speaking over the long distance phone.

"'Oh, John!' said she. 'Is that really you? I thought you had committed suicide!'"—Washington Post.

Summer complaints and other serious ailments common in hot weather can be traced to the stomach nine times out of ten. Keep the stomach in good order right now by keeping a bottle of Kodol handy in the house all the time, but especially during this month. Take Kodol whenever you feel that you need it. That is the only time you need take Kodol. Just when you need it; then you will not be troubled with your stomach, belching, gas on the stomach, bloating, dyspepsia, and indigestion. Sold by all druggists.

Mme. de Struve's Wit.

Secretary Blaine had said of Mme. de Struve that she was the brightest woman he had ever met, and everybody who knew her agreed with this verdict. Her knowledge of English was remarkable, even for a Russian, and her sallies were famous. For instance, the day when Secretary Bayard was made head of the American diplomatic service his daughter, Miss Kate Bayard, said laughingly to a young secretary of legation, "Remember, I am now daughter of your chief!" to which came, quick as a flash, the retort from Mme. de Struve's lips, "Oh, we all know that you are mischief!"—Army and Navy Life.

Arrangements Complete.

"Arrangements for the wedding are all complete."

"Everything attended to?"

"Yes; we have even made a deal with a photographer to have his camera smashed." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by E. A. Putnam.

His Terms Varied.

"I give a little reception next Thursday evening, and I should like some music, piano solos particularly. What would be your terms?" Thus a lady to a professional instrumentalist.

"Eef I go zere simply as a musician," was the reply, "und play my selections und leave I charge fife guineas, but eef I must go as a guest und spend ze whole evenings talking to von pack of fools I charge den guineas!"—London Graphic.

Human Nature.

Take the case of the fellow in the next block. You have always considered him uppish. He has considered you uppish. One day you are introduced, and then each of you discovers the other to be a pretty good sort.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

There are enough serious things in life without considering yourself one of them.—Cynic's Calendar.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

GROWTH OF STATE FAIR

It Promises to Rank With Greatest in Country.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR SPACE.

Rush Upon Part of Exhibitors to Get Into New Building—Not Until State Took Hold of Its Fair Was Any Progress Made in Its Development.

When the New York state fair opens at Syracuse on Sept. 14 the public will have a chance to study an exhibition in keeping with the state's agricultural, breeding and manufacturing interests. Members of the New York state fair commission, the organization named this year by Governor Hughes to direct the management of the fair, believe that it is about to take its place with the leading fairs of the country.

The thousands of visitors will be enlightened as to what is meant by "permanent fair grounds" and what has been done by the state in that direction. Towering above all other buildings on the grounds and gayly decorated with flags of many colors will be seen the new $225,000 Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts building the first of the structures and the most costly called for in the permanent grounds plan adopted by the legislature last winter. This building is the largest and most complete of its kind in the world.

From the headquarters of the state fair commission it is stated that never in the history of the state's exposition have there been such demands upon the part of exhibitors for space. Every square foot of space in the new building, which is larger than Madison

S. C. SHAVER.
[Secretary New York state fair.]

Square Garden, and in all of the other exhibition halls will be in use. Many exhibitors will be crowded out of doors. The indications are for record breaking entries for all of the departments.

While the state fair has been promoted annually since 1840, only in recent years have representatives of interests which have made New York the Empire State come to appreciate its advantages. Not until the state assumed complete management was it regarded as worthy of the name.

For many years the fair was moved about to different sections, much after the order of a circus, although it did not score the success which generally falls to the well regulated circus. The fair was an agricultural show conducted on a small scale, and it was encouraged to struggle on principally by the financial aid it received from the state. Tired of its roving life, the fair probably welcomed the opportunity of settling down when Syracuse offered it a permanent home twenty years ago. The fair was under the management of the State Agricultural society, which received help from the state and turned the profits into the improvement of the grounds, located just outside the corporate limits of Syracuse and between the West Shore and Lackawanna railroads. But the growth of the fair did not come up to the expectations of those who believed it had a right to a place with the annual exhibitions in some of the western states which cannot boast of the agricultural interests of New York, so nine years ago the state was asked to take over the fair plant, to place its management with a commission and to make it a fair such as the people of New York had a right to expect.

CHARLES A. WIETING.
[Commissioner in charge of cattle, sheep and swine.]

Timothy L. Woodruff, then lieutenant governor, and Senator Horace White were mainly instrumental in bringing the State Agricultural society and the legislature to terms. The plan they proposed was adopted, and the management of the plant was vested in eleven men, the lieutenant governor and commissioner of agriculture ex officio and nine appointed nonsalaried commissioners.

The fair showed new life right away, but its growth did not become rapid until four years ago. It had been possible by that time to put a system of management in smooth

RAYMOND A. PEARSON.
[Commissioner in charge of dairy products.]

working order, and New Yorkers had come to realize what a state fair really meant to them. The gradual increase in attendance, the number and character of exhibits and the favor with which the added features were received no longer left any doubt about the future of New York's annual exposition.

The development of the fair was encouraged by Mr. Woodruff, the first head of the commission, and Senator White, and in turn by Frank Wayland Higgins, Mathew Linn Bruce and Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler. Where there were deficits, which the state was called upon to make good, there has come an annual return to the state treasury of from $20,000 to $30,000.

The first sign of success in the movement for suitable structures of durable material appeared last year, when the legislature passed a bill authorizing a special appropriation with which to meet the cost of the first building. Governor Hughes vetoed the bill and explained that his reason for doing so was to have a definite plan for improving the grounds settled upon before construction had started. He asked the legislature in special session to make an appropriation to permit the commission to advertise for competitive bids for the contract of furnishing the grounds plan. An appropriation of $10,000 was provided for this purpose, of which $6,000 was turned back to the state. A competition which attracted the leading architects of the country resulted in the selection by the commission of the plan which was approved by the legislature.

Early in the last session a bill was offered providing for an appropriation of $220,000 for the first new building. A twin measure was presented reducing the commission to seven members—the lieutenant governor and commissioner of agriculture ex officio and five paid members. Mr. Chanler as lieutenant governor heads the commission. Raymond A. Pearson of Ithaca became a member ex officio through his appointment as commissioner of agriculture to succeed Charles A. Wieting of Cobleskill. Mr. Wieting, DeForest Settle of Syracuse, A. H. Perren of Buffalo and Ira P. Sharp of Lowville, all of whom served upon the old commission, and William Pitkin of Rochester were appointed as salaried commissioners.

FROM ARABIAN DESERT.

Davenport Will Exhibit His Famous Horses at the State Fair.

When Homer Davenport, the celebrated cartoonist, became interested in the breeding of Arabian horses he decided to go into the very heart of the desert for animals with blood of the purest Arabian strain. He penetrated to depths never before visited by white men and succeeded in establishing friendly relations with one of the tribes which owned a large herd of horses. So beautiful and fleet of foot were the stallions that Davenport determined to remain with the Arabs until he could persuade them to sell him some of the animals. He finally succeeded in securing twelve at an enormous expense. In order that they might receive proper care and attention in their new home in America Davenport brought with him a Nubian slave, who had charge of the horses in the desert.

Announcement has been made in New York that Mr. Davenport has consented to take the Arabian horses to the New York state fair. They will be exhibited by the Nubian, who rides in the flying robes of the desert, and should furnish one of the very spectacular features of the fair.

The chamber of commerce of Syracuse has taken upon itself the responsibility of securing satisfactory accommodations for visitors to the city during state fair week. The organization has a list of all of the lodging and boarding houses in the city and maintains a bureau for directing persons to places where they can obtain sleeping accommodations. It has also been largely instrumental in inducing many citizens to throw open private residences to state fair visitors.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Legal Notices

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.
Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs. John Drew, Defendant.
To the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and, in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.

Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

To John Drew, Defendant:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Sidwell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 12th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.

Dated May 11th, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.
5-16

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.
10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscribers at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D., 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
11-9

LADY AGENTS WANTED!

YOU can make excellent money devoting your whole or spare time to taking orders for my DAINTY line of baby goods and children's suits. No experience necessary. Pleasant, profitable, permanent work. No competition. Send TO-DAY for Full catalogue, territory, etc

Mrs. Ella James Dep't D. Syracuse, N.Y.
8-5

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send sketch, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to see us.
625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office.
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908

Leave Albany, Hamilton St.	8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St.	5.10 P.M
" New York, West 42d St.	5.30 P.M
" New York, Desbrosses St.	6.00 P.M

Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.

Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.

Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.

CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 385 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. O. & W. Station

NORTH BOUND

5.48 a. m.	Train No.	335
8.10 a. m., Daily	"	337
11.51 a. m.	"	301
3.31 p. m., Daily	"	351
6.16 p. m.	"	303
10.10 p. m., Daily	"	315

SOUTH BOUND

8.04 a. m.	Train No.	302
9.39 a. m., Daily	"	318
2.14 p. m.	"	350
5.09 p. m., Daily	"	328
7.04 p. m.	"	342
9.34 p. m., Daily	"	336

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND

*Chicago Limited for all points West	n 3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	12 20 "
*Local for Oswego	5 15 PM
*Local for Oswego	6 35 "
†Ontario Bay Express for Oswego	7 33 "

SOUTH BOUND

†Express for Norwich	8 32 AM
Skytiran Beach Spl. Stn.	9 05 "
*Local for Sidney	9 15 AM
*Limited for New York	12 30 PM
†Express for New York	7 00 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
s Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.

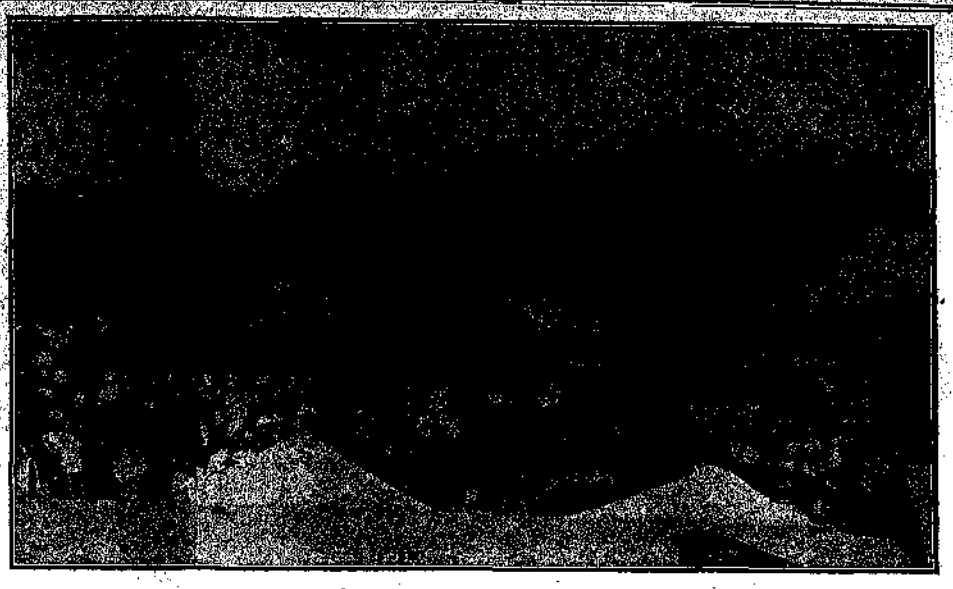
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers Parlor Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address

J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager. G. A. PAGE, Traveling Agent. 26 Beaver St., New York. Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN. The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress, and guaranteed by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Dozens treated weekly. Write for proofs of cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway 1180 at 31st St., N.Y.

The Companies that Paid Losses in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT



WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

Oswego County Fair Grounds

Brides and Wet Weather.

A Breton bride rather likes to have a wet wedding. It is held to signify that all her tears are now shed and that she will therefore have a happy married life. I know of no similar belief in the British isles.

The Erza of Simbirsk call the day before the wedding the weeping day, and the bride and her girl friends weep all they can, with the idea, it would seem, of getting the mourning of life over so that only joy may remain.

The Badagas of the Neilgherries attain the same end by sousing the bride with water. Some Greek tribes have a similar belief in the virtue of a drenching bringing good fortune.

Quite Fortunate.

New Girl (timidly)—I s'pose you are a fine cook, mum? Young Mistress—Bless me, no! I don't know anything about it. New Girl (relieved)—Then we'll get along famously, mum. I don't either.—New York Journal.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

His Choice of Weapons.

M. Victor Noir, an illiterate bully of the time of the second empire, for no real reason whatever sent a French statesman a challenge to fight a duel.

Noir was a densely ignorant man, and nearly every word in the challenge was misspelled. The statesman responded with the following letter: "Dear Sir—You have called me out without any good reasons. I have therefore the choice of weapons. I choose the spelling book, and you are a dead man." The duel was never fought.

Must Have Been a Prize.

"But how could you tell, darling, that I had never proposed to any other girl?"

"Because you were not married," she murmured rapturously and admiringly.—Judge.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Counting It Up.

There is a son of Erin in Newton, Mass., who is quite a character. He has a number of children and was asked one day how long he had been married. "Well," he said, "there's Eugene is forty and Norah thirty-five, that makes sivinty-five, and Lizzie is thirty-two, and how many do that make?"

The

1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 3 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:50 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager, Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17, Olcott Beach July 9th.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This Salve is for sale by E. A. Putnam.

She Was Deliberate.

It is said that Dinah Mulock Craik, the famous author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," made a habit of leaving at her bank the manuscript of each of her stories as soon as it was completed. It would remain there perhaps six months, and then she would call for it and see how the story affected her after that lapse of time. If it pleased her, the manuscript was sent to the publisher. Otherwise it was rewritten or thrown away.

Ear Wagging.

Only animals with long and drooping ears are able to wag them. A rabbit, for instance, can do what it likes with its ear, dropping one or both and laying them flat along its back when dashing through thick cover. Hares are still more brisk in ear movements. But short eared beasts, like weasels and stoats, are unable to wag their ears in any degree, although they have enough ear to wag if they had the power.

Accurate.

"See here, landlord," said an angry tenant after he had signed the contract for a year, "this house is full of sewer gas."

"Yes, that's what I told you."

"Told me?"

"Yes. You asked me if there was gas in every room, and I said there was."—London Answers.

Let us show you how simple it is to make good pictures with the Eastman "Kodaks." With the tank developing machines it is "Daylight" all the way through, no more "Dark Room" troubles with the Eastman way. "Kodaks" all the way from $1.00 up to $75.00. Eastman films are the only reliable ones; you cannot afford to use poor films. For sale at Lasher's Book Store.

THE ANCIENT SPARTANS.

They Flogged Men Who Grew Too Fat For Military Service.

Among the ancient Spartans everything was considered secondary to military efficiency, and with a view to securing this the boys and men were by law kept in a continual state of "training." No deformed child was allowed to live. Boys were taken from their homes and subjected to military regulations at the age of seven. They were compelled to wear the same single garment winter and summer. At twenty they joined the ranks and from that age till they reached sixty were required to dine at the public tables, where only a certain quantity was supplied for each man. The magistrates interfered in absurdly small matters. They regulated the degree of fatness to which it was lawful for any citizen to extend his body.

Those who dared to grow too fat or too soft for military service and exercise were sometimes soundly flogged. Aelian in his history relates that Nauclis, son of Polytus, was brought before the ephors (magistrates) and the whole assembly of Sparta, and "his unlawful fatness" was publicly exposed, and he was threatened with perpetual banishment if he did not bring his body within the regular Spartan compass and give up the culpable mode of living, which was declared to be more worthy of an Ionian than a Spartan.

His Right Hand.

"My husband," said the fair bride, "says I am his right hand."

"I hope," rejoined her mother, "that he isn't like that man who never lets his right hand know what his left hand does."—Chicago News.

Easy to Suit.

Mrs. Eastend—You'll not find me difficult to suit, Nora. Nora (the new maid)—I'm sure not, ma'am; I saw your husband as I came in, ma'am.—Pittsburg Observer.

Does your back ache? Do you have sharp pains in the side and small of the back? This is due, usually, to kidney trouble. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They will promptly relieve weak back, backache, rheumatic pains and all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by all druggists.

ANNUAL REUNION OF "IRON BRIGADE."

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 1, 1903.

COMRADE.

You are hereby notified to attend the Sixth Annual Reunion of the First Iron Brigade, to be held in the City of Syracuse, N. Y., on Thursday, September 17, at 10 A. M., on the State Fair Grounds. The Association having designated that day as Veterans and Military Day, they will furnish us with a tent, upon which will be a banner with the words: "Headquarters Iron Brigade," and it is hoped that every one of the surviving members of the old original Iron Brigade who made that famous march in April, 1862, and which gained them the title, will make every effort to be present at this annual gathering as all the railroads of the State of New York give reduced rates to Syracuse, N. Y., during State Fair Week.

The Secretary is trying to make up as perfect a Roster of the Brigade Survivors as possible and it is earnestly requested that if you know of any member of your company or regiment living, no matter where they are, notify them of this reunion and kindly send their name and address to the Secretary at once.

Our badge is a permanent one and it can be procured of the Secretary for one dollar. It should be secured now for the supply is limited.

In order to keep up our organization the annual dues were made fifty (50) cents and are now in order. If you cannot attend please send Dues or a contribution to help pay expenses, also send your present address so that the Roster may be kept complete.

A prompt attendance is requested as business of the greatest importance to every member will be transacted. Hoping that you will assist me in my work and that you will not fail to give me an early reply, I am

Yours in F. C. and L.

B. H. SEARING,
Secretary and Treasurer.

W. D. FERGUSON,
President.

President, W. D. Ferguson, Major 24th Regiment; Secretary and Treasurer, B. H. Searing, 30th Regiment; Vice-Presidents, Harrison Stafford, 30th Regiment; Courtland Adams, 22d Regiment; William H. Peck, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; K. P. Rawson, 2d Berdans; Jacob Raab, 14th Brooklyn; Chaplain, Rev. John D. Mulford, 24th Regiment; Executive Committee,—Thomas Cole, 24th Regiment; Louis J. Bruso, 30th Regiment; John S. Fassett, 22d Regiment; Oscar C. Hayden, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; James H. Myers, 14th Brooklyn; James R. Gibbs, 2d Berdans.

The Omnipresent Rose.

Every continent on the globe, with the exception of Australia, produces wild roses. There can be little doubt that the rose is one of the oldest flowers in the world, perhaps grown from the wind blown seeds in paradise. In Egypt it is depicted on numbers of early bas-reliefs, dating from 3000 to 3500 B. C. Rosewater, or the essence of roses, is mentioned by Homer in the "Iliad," and the flower is spoken of in the Proverbs of Solomon.

The little attacks of stomach trouble and stomach disorders will undoubtedly lead to chronic dyspepsia unless you take something for a sufficient time to strengthen the stomach and give it a chance to get well. If you take Kodol in the beginning the bad attacks of Dyspepsia will be avoided, but if you allow these little attacks to go unheeded it will take Kodol a little longer time to put your stomach in good condition again. Get a bottle of Kodol today. Sold by all druggists.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distressing "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "biliousness," "sinkings" or "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or safely than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

WHAT IS A DAY?

You Probably Think It Is Twenty-four Hours, but It Isn't.

Nine persons out of ten—yes, 999 out of every 1,000—if asked how long it takes the earth to turn once on its axis would answer twenty-four hours, and to the question, How many times does it turn on its axis in the course of the year? the answer would be 365¼ times. Both answers are wrong.

It requires but twenty-three hours and fifty-six minutes for the earth to make one complete turn, and it makes 366¼ turns during the year. The error springs from a wrong idea of what is meant by a day.

The day is not, as is commonly supposed, the time required by the earth to make one turn on its axis, but the interval between two successive passages of the sun across the meridian—that is to say, the time which elapses after the sun is seen exactly south in its diurnal course through the heavens before it is again seen in that position.

Now, in consequence of the earth's revolution in its orbit or path round the sun, the sun has the appearance of moving very slowly in the heavens in a direction from east to west. At noon tomorrow the sun will be a short distance to the east of the point in the heavens at which it is seen at noon today, so that when the earth has made one complete turn it will still have to turn four minutes longer before the sun can again be seen exactly south.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. Price, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

THE PILLORY.

Titus Oates and Daniel Defoe Both Suffered In It.

In the year 1837 the British parliament passed an act that put an end to punishment by pillory. Previous to the conquest this particular instrument of correction was in use in England and went by the name of the "stretch neck." It consisted of a wooden frame erected on a stool in which were three holes for the head and arms. For days together offenders against the common law were thus exposed to public view. From historic accounts it appears that this particular form of punishment was meted out to those convicted of frauds of every description not only in England, but in nearly every country in Europe. In the days of the star chamber, when religious feeling ran high, the pillory was the ordinary punishment meted out to those who offended against the church. In 1685 Titus Oates was sentenced to be pilloried for five days in every year during the rest of his life. Another famous sufferer was Daniel Defoe, the author of "Robinson Crusoe," who stood for three days in the pillory in Cheapside. It happened on occasions that the offender died while undergoing his sentence. During the time of exposure the condemned man was not allowed to receive food of any sort or description. The last occasion on which a pillory sentence was passed was in 1814.—London Globe.

DIDN'T NEED IT.

Why a Scotch Farmer Refused a Portion of Dessert.

Could the funny sayings and incidents at the tenants' dinners in Scotland be collected they would make an unrivaled book of humor. Mistakes of amusing and sometimes embarrassing nature occur frequently at such functions. One story is told of a guest at a Scottish tenants' dinner who tasted ice cream for the first time on that occasion. He pushed a large spoonful of the frozen mixture into his mouth and jumped from his chair with agony expressed on his face. He let out a yell and cried out, "Ow, ow, ma rotten tooth!" and could not be induced to eat any more.

At another Scottish affair of the kind a good old farmer was seated next to the hostess. She served him a bit of savory omelet, which seemed to cause the old man deep disappointment. His idea of an omelet had always been a dessert with sugar or fruit or jams, and after tasting the sample before him he turned to the hostess and said, "Weel, ma lady, I canna compliment you on your puddin's."

The late Duke of Buccleuch told a story of a tenant at one of the farmers' dinners on his estates who was asked by the duchess if he would take some rhubarb, a dish she was fond of. The farmer was surprised, but answered politely, "I'm muckle obleeged to your grace, but I dinna' need it."

FINDINGS NOT KEEPINGS.

Lost Articles Are Always Crying Out For Their Owners.

When one is on the public thoroughfare or in the street car or train or boat and picks up an object that is valuable, is it his?

True, he may find something which is too small and trifling to warrant searching to find the owner, such as a handkerchief, a pair of gloves, etc. But when he finds something of value it is not his until he has done everything in his power to find the owner.

The street railways and trains are so systematized today that if, when one finds an object of value, he returns it to the company's representative it is almost sure to catch up with its owner. Every person of intelligence knows that the first place to inquire for it is at the lost and found department.

When, however, one is on the street and finds something which, if he lost it himself, he would very much like to have returned, there are the columns of a newspaper in which to advertise.

If he fails to find the owner after this, then he can rightfully call it his own and have a clear conscience, but if he avoids looking over the lost and found columns and fails to do his part toward finding the owner he is almost as dishonest as if he took the goods.—Chicago Record-Herald.

STATE FAIR SYRACUSE

September 14th to 19th

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit)
Running Races Four-in-Hand Races
Tandem Races

GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW IN AMERICA
Greater New York's
Mounted Police Drills
Homer Davenport's Arabian Stallions
with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER in the State
Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building
Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows

Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables
POULTRY till you can't think
CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE

FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND
40 Artists 40

Half Fair Excursions on all Roads
Ask your station agent for rates.

Send for Prize List to
S. C. Shaver, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.

Serious For Once.

An army captain on returning home from India brought with him a goodly stock of souvenirs. Among them was a pair of laughing jackasses, which he intrusted to one of the sailors, Tom Pinch.

Alas! The unaccustomed shipboard life did not agree with the creatures, and in spite of all Tom's care they pined and finally died.

When he discovered the catastrophe, Tom was in despair.

"I daren't tell the captain!"

"Don't shirk it, mate," said his pal. "Break it to him gently. You'll find it'll be all right."

The advice seemed sound, and Tom sought the gallant captain.

"Scuse me, sir," he said, "you know them things below—what you call larfin' jackasses? Well, sir, they ain't got nuffin to larf at this morning."—London Scraps.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup

Relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious and healthy action of the bowels.

Relieves Coughs by cleansing and strengthening the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes.

The Original Laxative Cough Syrup

Conforms to National Pure Food and Drug Law

For Croup, Whooping Cough, La Grippe, Influenza, Bronchitis, and all Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Children like it.

Put up in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles at the Laboratory of E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago, U. S. A.

Pleasant to take Children like it.

All Druggists

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic County and District Conventions were held in Pulaski on Monday. The Hon. C. N. Bulger was as usual the dominating figure and controlled the situation perfectly. County Chairman John O'Brien of Phoenix called the convention to order and Mr. Frank Newkirk of Fulton became the chairman of the convention. T. L. McKay, Gilson Wart, J. H. Gill and J. W. Sutton became secretaries and tellers. A committee of eleven on resolutions was appointed as follows: C. N. Bulger, Oswego; Ira D. Lord, Sandy Creek; Dr. S. A. Russell, Fulton; A. S. Barker, Orwell; W. H. Wales, Scriba; J. F. Hartson, Mexico; W. W. Rounds, Oswego Town; Charles N. Lewis, New Haven; Walter Woodworth, Hastings; Daniel Brennan, Fulton; Dr. C. E. Lowe, Richland.

After organizing an adjournment was taken until after dinner, the delegates becoming the guests of Mr. Bulger at the Pulaski House.

Upon reassembling a lengthy resolution bitterly attacking Republicans but noncommittal as to Democracy's position upon any subject, was adopted. The resolution committee also recommended amendments to the party rules.

The ticket as nominated consists of Attorney L. C. Rowe, Oswego, for County Judge; A. S. Barker, Orwell, for District Attorney; Cade S. Lockwood, Hannibal, Superintendent of the Poor; Joseph H. Gill, Oswego, Special County Judge.

The District Convention organized with M. O'Gorman as chairman; S. J. Moyer and M. J. Dwyer as secretaries. Mr. John O'Brien of Phoenix became the nominee for Assemblyman.

The following Congressional, State and Senatorial delegates were elected:

Senatorial—Joseph H. Gill, Oswego; H. J. Fanning, Fulton; Hunter L. Betts, Schroeppel.

Congressional—T. L. McKay, Oswego; Walter Wadsworth, Hastings; J. L. Hutchins, Richland.

State — C. N. Bulger, A. W. Wright, Richland; James Carroll, Fulton.

The following were members of the County committee from Fulton:

First Ward—John Brennan.
Second Ward—W. J. Hartnett.
Third Ward—William Crahan.
Fourth Ward—James L. Jones.
Fifth Ward—Peter T. Conley.
Sixth Ward—Frank W. Newkirk.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

The Prohibitionists held their County and District conventions in Oswego on Monday. There were about seventy-five delegates and visitors present. Clarence E. Pitts and his program were present and the program was adopted. The Prohibition State Committee has selected this Congressional district as a section in which to devote their undivided energy and seventeen workers are to be placed in the field at once and sweep everything before them to victory in the three-cornered fight. Whatever Mr. Pitts may lack in grammar and facts, he makes up in imagination.

Mr. Pitts was chairman of the convention and Messrs. Chaffee, Oswego, and Adamy, Hannibal, were secretaries.

The following committees were appointed by the Chair:

Credentials—F. H. Cyrenius, W. G. Chaffee, G. D. Harger.

Resolutions — Professor A. J. Smith, George R. Blount, C. A. Davis.

Delegates—Fred Kellogg, George Chesbro, the Rev. Henry Hughes, F. B. Snell, George Rogers, John Richards.

Permanent Organization—Addison Summers, F. H. Fuller, Fred Lockwood, E. G. Potter.

Editor A. P. Bradt was nominated for member of assembly; George T. Wheeler for Superintendent of the Poor; C. E. Pitts for District Attorney; F. H. Cyrenius for Sheriff and L. C. Rowe of Oswego, the Democratic nominee for County Judge, was endorsed for County Judge.

Ended His Life.

Rev. James D. Phelps, D. D., preacher, author and for ten years financial secretary of Syracuse University, while suffering from temporary insanity brought on by overwork, committed suicide at the Wurz hotel in Utica on Wednesday. His death came as a great shock to his friends throughout the State where he was very well known and greatly beloved. Dr. Phelps had been a frequent guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead in this city and the closest friendship existed between the two families. A tribute to his memory in another column from the pen of a personal friend, tells more of the characteristics of the man, that endeared him to all who knew him, than can be told by a stranger.

Pomona Grange.

The next session of Oswego County Pomona Grange will be held with Hope Grange, No. 115, at S. W. Oswego, Tuesday, Sept. 8th, beginning at 10:30 a. m. An interesting program is promised by the Worthy Lecturer. W. H. Vary, Overseer of New York State Grange, will deliver an address in the afternoon. The fifth degree will be conferred in the evening, after which a literary program will be given by a local committee.

ANNA B. WEED,
Secretary.

Eastman Kodaks, from the "Brownie" at $2.00 up to $75.00, at Lasher's Book Store.

SENATORIAL REPRESENTATION.

The Senatorial committees of Oswego and Jefferson met in Watertown on Tuesday to discuss the question of representation between the two counties in the Senatorial convention. Equal representation was asked by Oswego county and after twice threshing the subject over and once referring it to the State committee for settlement, on Monday, Jefferson agreed to unanimously adopt the following resolution:

"The undersigned committee duly empowered to fix upon and determine the representation of the counties of Oswego and Jefferson composing the 35th Senatorial District, in Senatorial convention do hereby fix such representation as follows—each county shall have fourteen delegates already elected by the respective counties and for each subsequent convention the representation shall be on the Republican vote for Presidential electors cast at the last preceding presidential election with one delegate for each 1,000 votes or major fraction thereof, and said committee do hereby call the Senatorial convention of the 35th Senatorial District to be held at the Court House in Watertown on the second of September at 2 p. m."

Merrick Stowell,
John T. Mott,
E. E. Frost,
G. H. Wood,
F. S. Kenyon,
F. M. Hugo.

To the Oswego members of the committee must be given all the credit for the settlement in a just manner. Judge Stowell started the ball rolling for Oswego and more than once during the period of discussions was heard to say that as dear as was his ambition to represent this district in Congress, dearer far was his desire to see equal representation in the senatorial convention accorded Oswego. There is glory enough for all in the victory, but to Judge Stowell must be awarded the greatest meed of credit and praise. With his own nomination for Congressman hanging in the balance, the day for the opening of the convention found him in New York City where he remained for two days at his own expense, pleading for justice for Oswego in the Senatorial representation. He had so much confidence in the justice of his cause and in the fairness of the State committee that he was willing to resubmit the question to them for final adjudication, providing the more satisfactory plan of arbitration between the committees could not land the desired boon.

Whether or not Oswego county will place a candidate for Senator in the field remains to be seen. The fourteen delegates to the convention will be entrusted with the decision. Oswego county has plenty of good, available timber and she does not feel in generous mood toward the neighboring county, but whatever is best for the National and State tickets and what is best for the district at large will also figure in the deliberations of the delegates, before a final decision is reached. Senator Cobb of Jefferson has announced his candidacy and the delegates from Jefferson are understood to be friendly to his renomination. He has many friends in Oswego county also, but the matter of contest or no contest will be left entirely to the judgment of the fourteen unterrified American citizens who will represent Oswego county in convention on September second.

Row boats and canoes to rent at reasonable prices at Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street.

DIED.

The death of Almon Bidwell, aged 66, occurred on Aug. 10, at his home in Hannibal. The deceased is survived by his widow, one son, two daughters, two brothers and two sisters. Mr. William Bidwell of this city being a brother.

Mary A. Butcher, aged 75, died on Friday at her sons home in Palermo after a long illness. The remains were taken to Utica by Undertaker E. S. Brown from where the funeral services were held on Monday. The deceased is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Thomas Fitzgerald, aged 70, died on Sunday at his home in Cayuga street. The funeral services were held from the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Tuesday morning and interment was made in St. Mary's. The deceased is survived by his widow and one sister, Mrs. Nellie Gallagher.

Brief mention was made last week of the sudden death of Charles F. Thompson, aged 36, which occurred on Tuesday evening at his home in Hannibal street. The deceased had been ill with bronchitis for nearly a week but was apparently recovering from the attack when heart failure caused his demise. A few moments prior to his death he asked his wife for the evening papers and when she went to hand them to him, he was lifeless. The deceased had been employed in the local mills of the American woolen company for sixteen years, holding at all times positions of trust and responsibility, and he had a large circle of acquaintances who were shocked and grieved at his death. The funeral services were held from the late home on Friday afternoon, the members of Hiram Lodge, F. & A. M, of which the deceased was a member, having charge of the services. The funeral was attended by an immense concourse of friends, and the floral offerings were numerous and choice, one of the most beautiful pieces being a blanket of flowers from the employes in the woolen mill. Beside the widow, who was Miss Kate Crahan, the deceased is survived by his father, two brothers, one sister and one son, Stanley.

EXAMINATIONS HELD.

Mayor Quirk on Monday evening held examinations in the City Hall to determine the fitness of the election officials recommended to him by the Republican and Democratic ward committees, to serve in November. All who had been certified did not appear, eight or nine of the forty eight having excuses for not appearing. Whether another examination will be held or the vacancies be filled from the supplementary lists filed The Times does not know. The Mayor must inspect the examination papers and as he is out of town this has not yet been done.

The following took the examinations for election officials:

Republican—First ward inspectors, Byron Cole, John Sherman; ballot clerk, Fred Bache; poll clerk, Allen Harwood; Second ward, inspectors, W. H. Thompson, Fred Cook; poll clerk, Cleve Denesha; ballot clerk, John Dingle; Third ward, inspectors, Hubert L. Gilman, Clinton H. Hulett; poll clerk, Roy H. Kelly; ballot clerk, William P. Cary; officer of the polls on election day, Edward Billings; Fifth ward, inspectors, David Van Buren, D. E. Spencer; poll clerk, F. A. Mathias; Fourth ward, inspectors, Fred P. Keeler, Albert B. Mason; poll clerk, Harry L. Stout; ballot clerk, Harold T. Keeler; Sixth ward, inspectors, Albert Rowlee, Charles Johnson; ballot clerk, Benjamin Ingersoll; poll clerk, J. Percy Waugh.

Democratic — Inspectors, First ward, Joseph Murphy, Sumner Carroll; Second ward, John Donohue, John Gilhooley; Third ward, Eugene Kimball, Patrick Coleman; Fourth ward, Fred Easton, Ernest J. Smith; Fifth ward, Bernard Doyle, B. M. Hubbard; Sixth ward, George B. Duel, John Doyle; ballot clerks, First ward, Frank Crahan; Second ward, John Hartnett; Third ward, Kinney Barnes; Fourth ward, Edmond T. Osborne; Fifth ward, Reuben Parks; Sixth ward, Irving Taylor; Poll clerks, First ward, James Casey; Second ward, Frank Culkin; Third ward, E. E. Austin; Fourth ward, James H. Brooks; Fifth ward, Russell Draper; Sixth ward, William Brannan.

Civil Service examinations were held last week for the position of jail janitor. Mr. Sturdivant of the Citizens Bank was the only applicant and he will probably be appointed.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, safe, easy, pleasant, sure, little liver pills. Sold by all druggists.

Go with the crowd next week and see Prof. Robison and his African Lion jump from the clouds at the great Oswego County Fair, September 1, 2, 3 and 4. The following bands have been engaged by the management of the Oswego County Fair to furnish music each day of the fair; The Citizens Band of Fulton; The Odd Fellows Band of Fulton; The Volney Center Band and the Regimental Band of the 24th Infantry, U. S. A.

PALERMO.

At the home of C. J. Butcher Friday afternoon occurred the death of his mother, Mrs. Mary Butcher, aged seventy-six years. The remains were taken to Utica for burial Monday morning.

Mr. Edward Emmons of Pennsylvania is spending the week at Oscar Coville's.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bland of Porto Rico are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bland.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Gregg of Phoenix spent Sunday at Fred Parson's.

Mr. Willis Jennings spent Sunday at Oswego.

Several from here attended the Firemen's Convention at Oswego last week.

Mrs. Frank Dolbear has sold her house and lot at Fulton to Mr. C Boardman.

Mrs. Sarah Berggren of Syracuse was here last week on account of the sickness and death of her mother, Mrs. George Butcher.

Miss Grace Butcher has returned to her work at Central Square.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. Samples free at E. A. Putnam's drug store.

Pathfinder Field Day.

Friday, Aug. 28, 1908.

MENU:

Lamb Croquettes Tomato Sauce
Creamed Potatoes
Sliced Cucumbers
Sweet Corn Hot Rolls
Brown Fruit Jelly with Cream
Coffee Milk Fried Cakes
Ball game at 4 p. m.

GREAT BARGAIN—To close estate the house, lot and double corner lot at 419 Cayuga street is offered for sale separately or together. Investigate at once. For particulars inquire Birney Clark, Fulton, or address S. J. Kelly, Attorney, University Block, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-16*

The Fluffy Ruffles 5c cigars are sold by V. C. Tack, Oswego street.

It is Possible!

For J. R. Sullivan to Sell Pianos

of standard make, such as the Wegman, Kohler & Campbell, Milton, and R. S. Howard at $25.00 to $75.00 less than instruments of equal value can be bought for of any large city store or from exclusive piano dealers.

Here are Reasonable Facts for the Above Statement

The expense of this store is not increased one dollar because of handling pianos, no rent to pay, no extra salesmen employed, no expense for deliveryman or cartman, as we deliver pianos to any point within driving distance with our furniture wagon. The best of all is this store does not depend on the profit of piano sales for any part of its support, not even a cent of the piano sales do we need to look to for running the business.

Good Values and Square Dealing made this store a success before we ever handled pianos. Another strong point---we buy pianos from the factories and pay cash for them, therefore we can sell at the same price many agents pay for pianos.

Absolute Satisfaction Guaranteed With Every Sale

otherwise we would cheerfully refund money and take the instrument back.

J. R. Sullivan

Pianos Furniture Dry Goods Carpets Rugs

West Broadway Fulton, N. Y.

THE THIRTY-SIXTH ANNUAL

ONONDAGA COUNTY FAIR

AT PHOENIX, N. Y.

September 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th, '08

Splendid Races, Liberal Purses, Generous Premiums, Special Attractions, Ball Games, Etc.

Send for Premium List to the Secretary at Phoenix, N. Y.

JOHN O'BRIEN, President C. K. WILLIAMS, Secretary

NORTH VOLNEY.

The seventh annual Coe reunion was held on Wednesday, August 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Coe. As usual quite a number of relatives were in attendance from New Haven, Demster, Fulton, Mexico, Palermo, etc., 50 in all. A bountiful dinner was served from 12 to 2 p. m. and supper from 5 to 6 p. m. The following officers were elected: S. T. Coe, Mexico, President; W. A. Bartlett, Palermo, Secretary and Treasurer; R. C. Coe, Vice-President. Mrs. Edw. Buell, Miss Ida Miller of Fulton and Mrs. Ernest Gardner of Mexico were appointed as a committee. The day was happily spent in reminiscences, visiting, playing games, etc. No deaths or marriages were reported since the last meeting and but one birth, that of a little daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Earl McDougall of this place, born August 19th. The next meeting is to be held with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gardner of Mexico at a date to be decided later.

Many from here attended the Sunday School picnic at Mexico Point Friday, August 21st.

The L. A. S. is to meet with Mrs. Frank McDougall of South Scriba Tuesday of this week, August 25th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. C. Williams entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bowley, of Belgium, N. Y., a few days last week.

A teacher has not been secured for this school yet.

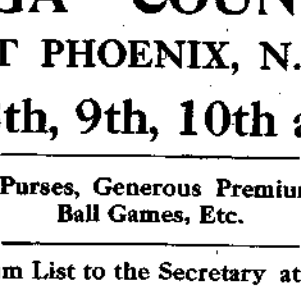
A few from this vicinity are planning to attend Demster Camp Meeting.

A number from here attended the Firemen's Convention at Oswego last week. Mrs. Ada Hall stayed in Oswego through the convention.

Mrs. Maude Umbeck and little daughter Nancy visited relatives in town last week.

Mrs. Evaline Griswold of Fulton has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles McDougall, for a few weeks, and attended the Coe reunion. She is remarkably well preserved in body and mind for one of her years, over 80.

Advertised Letters.



Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., August 26, 1908:

MEN—H. J. Barnes, The Frontier Press Co., James Fulton, Isaac Hamblet, Fred Klock, Fred Leavitt, Dr. B. Ver Novey.

WOMEN—Mrs. F. H. Berger, Mrs. H. Burnhans, Mrs. Lizzie Cary, R. F. D. 3, care W. M. Cary; Mrs. R. C. Morton, care E. J. Wellis; Miss Anna McCallig, Miss Belle Riny, Miss Carrie Werner.

CARDS—Miss Bessie Cornell, R. F. D. 8; Miss Ethel Cornell, R. F. D. 8; E. E. Jones, Robert Morrison, Ontario St.; Gerald Trask, Richard Ward, No. 406 Oneida St.

WILLIAM E. HUGHES,
Postmaster.

GIRON, 24065

[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of August and September at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street Fulton

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Isaac Chesbro has transferred his property in Volney to Harrison U. Temple for $6.

Anna Hitchcock has sold property in Fulton to John J. Chapman and wife. Consideration $600.

Jennie F. Osgood has sold property in Fulton to Lena Richardson for $50.

Baled shavings for sale.

Just received, a carload of baled shavings. For sale by Hart, near Post Office, Second Street 9—5

For Sale---Beagle Hounds

Having more than our kennels can accommodate, we will sell eight or ten youngsters out of our champion rabbit hunter, "Wilder."

Pups from $10 up. Onondaga Beagle Club, J. A. Seitz, Manager, 423 S. Clinton street, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-9

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A large oak roller top desk. Inquire at 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

FOR SALE—A first class cook stove in excellent condition will be sold cheap. Inquire of V. C. Lewis.

FOR SALE—A house and three vacant lots, between Fifth and Sixth streets, on Highland. Inquire of E T. Munger, with Porter & Co., Broadway, Fulton. tf

Wanted

WANTED—A woman to do general housework in family of five. Must be respectable and desiring a permanent position. Inquire "Y," Times Office, Fulton.

LOST

LOST—A steel fishing rod and nickel reel, somewhere on Academy street near park, on Saturday morning. Finder return to Woolever's meat market and receive reward.

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Apartment with all conveniences for house-keeping at 419 Buffalo street. Inquire on premises or write E. G. Hubbard, 2625 Pacific Ave., Atlantic City, N. J.

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 | FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1908 | VOL. 41: NO. 17

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

(Opposite the Red Engine House)

is the only Savings Bank in Fulton, N.Y.

Money deposited with us by Thursday, September 3rd, will have to remain only 25 days, or until September 28th, to be entitled to a dividend for the month.

This Bank Has Paid 4 Per Cent. on All Deposits since October 1, 1907

New York State Savings Banks are the Safest Banks in the World

POST OFFICE POINTERS

Hints For Guidance of Patrons Which will Make Life Easier for Postal Clerks and Those Who Call on Them.

The general delivery window of the post office, for the accommodation of those who, for various reasons, do not rent boxes, transient patrons and the traveling public, is one of the most exacting, and frequently one of the most exasperating positions imaginable. Through it may be seen more traits of human character, odd, angelical and otherwise, than any place on earth, for its frequenters include all classes of people to a decree not met elsewhere. None is too great or too lowly to approach its portals for mail, many with an almost positive knowledge that it will be there; others apparently in the hope that some one has written and sent them something, while some call seemingly through force of habit, rarely missing a mail or receiving as much as a postal card.

Patrons of this very necessary department of all post offices will no doubt merit the lasting esteem of the persons in charge and possibly secure more satisfactory service by observing the following suggestions:

Upon calling at the general delivery, always pronounce your name in the best voice that has been given you for such purposes, no matter how well you may think you are known to the postmaster or his clerks. Did you ever meet a person whom you knew perfectly, yet could not instantly speak his name? Besides this, the change of a hat or garment, or the reflection of a light may so change one's appearance as to render instant recognition quite difficult.

Always pronounce your name, and spell it, or at least the first syllable. By this means you are not nearly so apt to be misunderstood in the confusion usually incident to mail time. Many names sound very much alike, though spelled quite differently, and this precaution should never be neglected. Never merely ask, is there anything for "me," "us," "our folks."

If you have reason to expect mail that is not given you, state your case as briefly as possible and the matter will be cheerfully investigated, but if some one has merely neglected to write you or failed to answer a letter just remember that postmasters and their clerks probably have similar troubles of their own.

When you have been waited upon always step aside as soon as you can, lest some one be waiting, unobserved, behind you for mail as important as your own.

Section 549 of the Postal Laws and regulations strictly forbids postmasters and others in the mail service from divulging any information concerning mail matter received or delivered, except to persons addressed, their authorized agents or post office inspectors and officers of the law in pursuit of criminals, when same can be done without interfering with other business.

This section is held to prohibit the furnishing of names, singly or in bulk, of persons receiving mail at their office, so if you should feel inclined to write to the postmaster to inquire whether Henry Highfiver or some other fellow or his sister gets mail there it will be his duty to refer you to section 549.

The proper way is to address the man himself at his last known address, being sure to put your own address upon it, with a request to return it if not delivered within a given time—not less than three nor more than ninety days. If he or she has moved and left forwarding orders it will be sent on. If dead or unknown the letter will be returned to you with reason for non-delivery stated thereon.

In writing to a postmaster upon any subject involving a reply, never fail to enclose a stamp or postal card, as postmasters can use department envelopes only on official business. It is no part of the mission of Post Office Department to locate runaway wives, missing husbands or wayward sons and daughters, or to assist confiding maidens in learning the whereabouts of recreant lovers, though many of them think it is.

Neither will the Post Office Department knowingly be a party to any form of deception, and the person who makes false promises by mail is frequently standing in the shadow of a prison.

It is a common practice of fickle men and women wishing to fool their lord or spouse to write a letter dated at some far away place and enclose it to the postmaster with a request to send it from there, probably smiling in their sleeves at how nicely they have fooled their tootsy-wootsy, confident that no one is quite so smooth as he or she.

Postmasters are required to forward such letters, but not until after they have indorsed them, in substance: "Received under cover from —, for postmark at —." If the wrath usually displayed by the recipients of such decoy letters is conveyed to the writers, they are not likely to indulge in such cuteness a second time.

The greatest nuisance with which post offices have to contend is that occasioned by the thoughtlessness of the great army of future men and women of this glorious Republic, sometimes irreverently called "school kids," many of whom, during the school months flock to the post office three or four times a day, and frequently three or four of the same family repeat the performance at short intervals. Thus the mail of one is needlessly called for by children twelve or fifteen times a day for five consecutive days in the week without receiving a solitary piece of mail for weeks at a stretch, some older member of the family generally having called during the morning or afternoon.

Parents and guardians can, if they will, do much towards abating this evil and at the same time benefit the children by appointing one of them official mail carrier for the family, whose duty it shall be to call at stated and seasonable times, and prohibiting others from going there so often.

A tab has been kept upon the number of times a certain family's mail was called for in one day. Four children came three times each, that made twelve; the mother dropped in about five o'clock on her way home. It was thought an unlucky count, until after supper, when the head of the household walked up to the window and demanded his mail. When informed that there was nothing for him he blandly inquired, "Ain't there no papers?" Being asked what papers he received, he replied, "Oh, I don't take none regular, but I sometimes git a sample copy."

Labor Day Excursion.

To Thousand Islands and Gananoque, Ont., via New York Central, Monday, Sept. 7th—special fast train. Round trip fare only $2.25, including tour of the Islands through American and Canadian channels. Delightful day's outing. Train leaves Fulton, 8:07 a. m.

Advertised Letters.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., September 2, 1908.

George Reynolds, Ed. LaRock, Frank Gardner, Frank Muzze, Edd. Smith, Miss Iva D. Grave, Miss Lelia Lake, Miss Iva Gurnsey.

Cards—Mrs. Samuel Ress, Miss Letta Brunette.

Faddy pipes and choice tobaccos in variety and at all prices at the V. C. Lewis cigar store, 109 Cayuga street. You are invited to inspect the line.

Take a light, comfortable, easy-rowing boat from the Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street, and meet your friends down the river. Given a luncheon and a congenial crowd and no more delightful outing could be imagined.

IN MEMORIAM.

It was not far from the year 1750 that one William Wright landed upon the shores of this country and settled upon the Hudson, where he took land and paid (as was the custom in those days) quit rent or by some commodity, for the use of the same, to the English Government. It was this rent custom and being an Englishman by birth, that caused his loyalty to the mother country when the war of the American Revolution commenced in 1776. He well knew what it would mean if he remained there, so he started immediately for Nova Scotia, where he had friends. It was for this loyalty to the English Government that William received a pension of 1,000 acres of land on

LATE THOMAS R. WRIGHT

Prince Edward Island. His family consisted of two sons and three daughters. The eldest one of the sons, Nathaniel Wright, was impressed into the Federal ranks before the escape of the rest of the family. This was grandfather of T. R. Wright.

It was not long after being forced into service that he was seized with that dreadful malady, yellow fever. His company being ordered to march onward, Mr. Wright not being able to stand the hardship, and his officers believing him dying, left him by the roadside, as they supposed, to die. But the "cruel" Indians, so very often mis-named, who seldom ever committed those cruelties without a cause, and this cruelty, as we call it, was their mode of revenge, proved a benefactor on this occasion, for a "squaw" discovered him and dragged him to her tepe, where she nursed him back to life again.

After his recovery in due time, he followed his father to Nova Scotia, and subsequently he settled upon a part of this thousand acre tract (his father's pension). It was at this place, Bedeque, Prince county, Prince Edwards Island, on Christmas Day, 1823, that Thomas Robbins Wright was born. His father John was the eldest of eleven children born to the above mentioned Nathaniel Wright.

Mr. Thomas R. Wright received what education could be acquired at a country school until twelve years of age. The school was four miles from home, to and from which he journeyed on foot. Soon after he was twelve his services were needed at home on the farm. Being large of stature and robust as a boy, the manual labor required of him was often that of a full grown man. At the time he was twenty years of age, his father and his uncle Nathaniel were owners in partnership of 1,000 acres of timber land that lay upon Dunk River. They built a saw mill there and Thomas commenced chopping down the trees, drew the logs to the mill and then sawed them into lumber, thereby learning the "sawyer's" trade in all its branches, from the estimating of the quantity and value of the standing timber to the delivering of the lumber in the market. It proved to be the foundation of his life's work. When twenty-five years of age he went to live with his uncle, Jesse Wright, remaining there a little over two years. It happened while there that one who had been a neighbor and who had visited this locality, related the wonderful opportunities for a young man, especially in Oswego county. It fired the spirit of Mr. Wright and he set out on the 12th day of July, 1850, arriving at Fulton on the 30th day of the same month with the whole sum of three dollars in his pocket.

Immediately finding employment at the saw-mill of the Gillett Bros., whose mill was located on the north side of the Hannibal Plank Road (then just completed) and a few rods west of what was then called Williams Corners (now Granby Center). At the end of two months he had saved up sixty dollars. A neighbor (not too strong in his honor) borrowed this of him for a friend." It was never returned and that is what became of his first savings in the United States. This was characteristic of Mr. Wright for his whole life — that of helping others, and remained true even to his very last days.

Mr. E. J. Ward, having bought the farm lately owned by William Kilfoyle, which had an "old" saw mill upon a little stream running through it, called "Kelsey's Creek," Mr. Wright went there to work. It was an old upright mill with two cranks, one each side of the frame. Sometimes there was not enough water to start the mill and he had to lift with his shoulder for all he was worth to get it going. He also did some chopping and clearing of the land upon this place. Then he helped to build the octagon house on the west side of the lake. Sometimes he would work in the "Old" Kelsey Mill, then owned by Harvey Heffron, where there was more water, there being a small pond to supply it. Mr. Heffron built a "new" saw mill farther down the stream in the winter of 1851-52, which afterwards became known as the E. D. Chapman Mill. Here he became the first sawyer and commenced sawing lumber in March, 1852, and continued until June of that year, when he came to Oswego Falls to work in the "Schenck Mill," then under a lease to James Parker, Jr., and John W. Pratt, working by the month until January, 1853, when he sawed by the thousand until January, 1854, at which time he bought Mr. Pratt's interest and the firm became known as "Parker & Wright." They continued together until January, 1865, at which time Mr. S. C. Schenck purchased Mr. Parker's interest and the firm was changed to "Wright & Schenck," which lasted only one year, when Mr. Wright took the whole interest and carried on the lumber business alone until 1884, when he retired from the lumber business. This mill was known as one of the largest on the Oswego river. It was during his early labors here that the first circular saw in the State was put in operation in this mill. Mr. Wright cleared thousands of acres of land of its timber, giving employment to hundreds of men, and thereby gave aid to many a creature in time of need.

About 1865 in partnership with H. N. Gilbert and Charles Smith, under the firm name of Gilbert, Wright & Co., they commenced and rebuilt the old Telegraph Mill that had burned in the great fire of 1862, and entered into the milling business, which consisted mostly of Custom grinding and feed. This partnership lasted until 1871, when Mr. D. M. Perine bought out the interests of the others and the firm became Perine & Wright, which continued as such until 1884. During their partnership he was not an active partner on account of his immense lumbering interests, which demanded his whole time.

Long prior to his closing his career as a business man, he commenced his agricultural pursuits, sometimes upon the land he had already cleared of its timber, until at one time he owned several hundred acres, some of which in its raw state, covered with stumps and multitudes of stones, which after years of labor under his direction became smooth and productive and when well stocked gave good returns for the investment.

In 1857 he built the house which proved to be his home for fifty years and until his demise. Soon after the completion of the home in November, 1857, he married Miss Delilah Bolton, who proved to be a help-meet in the true sense of the word, in his busines relations as well as a companion through so many years. And in her death ten years ago, he felt the loss that only a happy married life can bring.

In public life Mr. Wright filled many a responsible position. For a number of years was Supervisor of the Town of Granby and other official positions, which were always filled with such integrity and honor, that his acts in those capacities are worthy of emulation by his fellow citizens.

In private life he had a happy, genial, caretaking disposition. Thoughtful for all others and with that gentle spirit to lift the fallen, help the poor and needy, contributing to the cause of Christianity and all public enterprises, and to the needs of others. Generous to a fault his purse string was always loose and no one was ever turned away with a chill in their heart or an empty hand. With fifty years of close acquaintanceship with him, such I found was his every day life and his memory ought to live in the hearts of his neighbors — and those who received from or ever knew him.

G. F. SCHENCK.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

Fancy Yellow Delaware Peaches
Fancy Jersey Sweet Potatoes
Late Valentia Oranges

Rosemary Creamery Butter In One-Pound Prints
Finest Butter Made

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries
Call Us On 'Phone 32

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the State of New York and all other electors without regard to past political affiliations who believe in the principles of the Republican party and endorse its policies, are hereby requested to send delegates to the State Convention to be held at Convention Hall, in the village of Saratoga Springs, on Monday, the 14th day of September, 1908, at 3 o'clock p. m., to nominate candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Attorney General, Treasurer, State Engineer and Surveyor and Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals; and also to nominate candidates for electors to fill vacancies on the electoral ticket, and transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF, Chairman.
LAFAYETTE B. GLEASON, Secretary.
New York, August 12, 1908.

Captain Jenks and His Soldiers.

Far from the least of the many attractions at the Fair grounds this week are the soldiers comprising the three companies of the 24th Infantry, U. S. A., under the leadership of Captain Jenks. The soldiers are colored but they deport themselves as well or even better than the white soldiers previously stationed at Oswego and frequently visiting this city. Captain Jenks is very enthusiastically proud of his company, their conduct, their neatness, their bravery whenever called into action and the degree of proficiency they have attained in drill work. Captain Jenks was a caller at The Times office on Monday, and it would have warmed the cockles of the hearts of the "boys in tan" could they have heard with what a degree of pride he rehearsed their many excellent points.

These three companies were among the first to charge up San Juan Hill in the memorable battle, and when it becomes known that their officers were either killed or disabled at the first of the attack and that these soldiers fought with the same courage unofficered as they did when under leadership, it will add to the interest in them.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons the company will give fancy dress parades at 4 o'clock, accompanied by music from the band. The drills will be of intent interest to everyone in this vicinity and will bring a large crowd to witness the evolutions. It will be an only opportunity to see a military company parade.

Brewster's Limit is a high class 5-cent smoke. Ask for this cigar at V. C. Lewis's.

School Opens September 8.

The public schools open on Tuesday, September 8, and it is requested that all pupils be present on the opening day, as seats will be assigned and classes organized on that day.

Supt. Fairgrieve and Prin. Wilcox will be in the Fourth street building on Saturday, September 5, and Monday, September 7, from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 4 p. m., to confer with parents and pupils who may wish to see them in regard to school work for the coming term.

A CORRECTION

Rochester, Aug. 31, 1908.

Editor Times:—I am the only BRIGADE Drum Major of the Civil War living so far as can be learned. I do not want to take any honors from any one entitled to them. You will see a pretty lively boy, for 71 years old.

Respectfully yours,
Maj. Tom H. Lake.
Rochester, N. Y.

F.W. LASHER

BOOKS — WALL PAPER

Full Stock of School Books

New and Second Hand

Tablets, Loose-Leaf Note Books

Everything for the school at the lowest possible prices. We take your old books in exchange and allow a liberal price. Do not forget that we sell KODAKS and SUPPLIES

FIRST ST. FULTON, N.Y.

THE THIRTY-SIXTH ANNUAL

ONONDAGA COUNTY FAIR

AT PHOENIX, N. Y.

September 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th, '08

Splendid Races, Liberal Purses, Generous Premiums, Special Attractions, Ball Games, Etc.

Send for Premium List to the Secretary at Phoenix, N. Y.

JOHN O'BRIEN, President — C. K. WILLIAMS, Secretary

VETERANS' REUNION

Survivors of the 110th, 147th and 24th Infantry Regiments Meet, Indulge in Reminiscences and Elect Officers for Ensuing Year.

The twentieth annual reunion of the survivors of the 147th, 24th and 110th Regiments, N. Y. S. Vol. Infantry, was held in this city last Wednesday and was largely attended by the veterans and wives, and was a most decided success. An enjoyable and interesting feature of the reunion was the presence of Mrs. L. Minas P. Clydias Spencer of Oswego, who went to the front with her husband, when the 147th regiment was mustered into service, and became historic as a nurse of the Civil War. Mrs. Spencer, in the Universalist Church, delivered an exceedingly able address to the veterans assembled, and although in her 89th year, and suffering somewhat from the infirmity of years, told a graphic story of "why she went to the war;" she also gave a very clever rendition of "Hetty Green of Tennessee," evidencing superb dramatic and elocutionary ability. Mrs. Spencer was a former resident of this city.

The members of the 24th Regiment assembled in G. A. R. hall and were called to order by President Mosher, when letters were read from Comrades J. Simpson, N. G. Cooper, Capt. O. J. Jennings, W. J. Pentelow, A. P. Chase, G. W. Haight, Harrison Williams, S. J. Scriber, Luman Eggleston, Henry Sandhovel, William H. Safford, J. W. Bogardus and Gilbert Chiler. The comrades present were W. D. Ferguson, F. C. Mosher, Thomas Coles, E. A. Teller, T. R. Stewart, Levi Nikoff, Erwin Shutts, William Simmons, James Brannan, James Simmons, Gilbert Larkin, E. V. Hines, Orlando Cole, Albert Youngs, Job Bennett, Dr. H. O. Candee, W. P. Kinney, Ralph E. Eggleston, Valentine Dubois, John Brannan, Reuben Terpening, G. Marshall, William H. Fineshout, L. A. Benedict, Henry Limbeck, D. L. Hamer and Ambrose Kellogg.

Officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, W. D. Ferguson; president, F. C. Mosher; vice president, R. Terpening; secretary and treasurer, Thomas Coles; chaplain, Dr. J. R. Young. It was moved and carried that the officers of the Twenty-fourth confer with the officers of the One Hundred and Tenth and One Hundred and Forty-seventh regiments and fix the time and place for the next reunion.

The headquarters of the One Hundred and Tenth were in the Tucker hall, where the survivors of this regiment registered and transacted their special business, there being present the following veterans: Nicholas Lester, Fulton; S. Stevenson, Oswego; J. W. Williams, Syracuse; H. W. Smith, New Haven; J. C. Girvin, Sterling Station; James Hall, North Sterling; W. F. Bulow, Oswego; A. F. Buell, Fulton; L. Tuller, Mexico; Jefferson Perkins, Marcellus; E. S. Spooner, Phoenix; E. L. Samson, Mexico; T. Moore, Mexico; G. H. Lester, Oswego; E. Ward, Fulton; E. Fox, Fulton; Corporal H. F. Baldwin, Fulton; H. B. Whitney, Pulaski; W. S. Sweetland, Mexico; W. C Clark, Red Creek; A. M. Strong, Hannibal; Sergeant Company F, S. D. Gardner, Fulton; E. Eightman, Hannibal; E. Babcock, Phoenix; William McCarthy, Palermo; Jason Runger, Hastings; Orin Jacobs, Altmar; L. P. Storms, Cuba; Peter Kelly, Mexico; George Hett, Central Square; R. A. Powers, Central Square; W. A. Scudder, Palermo; C. Stebbins, Amboy; E. H. Buell, Fulton; D. D. Taylor, Oneida; George Marshall, Fulton; E. J. Taylor, Fulton; Stephen Sharp, Syracuse; E. Graves, Central Square; W. P. Newell, Syracuse; H. A. Dada, Auburn; James Waugh, Fulton; W. H. Cox, Altmar.

The One Hundred and Tenth elected the following officers: President, W. S. Sweetland, Mexico; vice president, Nicholas Lester, Fulton; treasurer, E. B. Samson, Oswego; secretary, H. B. Whitney, Pulaski.

The One Hundred and Forty-seventh had its headquarters at the City Hall, the following being present: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ellis, Fulton; A. N. Beadle, Oswego; Mr. and Mrs. William Flack, Oswego; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willett, Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. B. Norton, son and son's wife, Syracuse; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Martin, Lockport; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Rice, German Hill; C. H. Barker, Hannibal; Benton Holbrook, Peter J. S. Sherman, Parish; George R. French, Aaron H. Burr, Pulaski; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watson, Oswego; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Louth, Oswego; E. L. Burr, Pulaski; Martin B. Schenck, Meriden, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Grove H. Dutton, Theodore Horton Weaver, Pulaski; F. M. Towsley, Syracuse; Orin Balch, Oswego; Willard L. Smith, Binghamton; G. W. Briggs, Victor Hallock, Bernhard's Bay; James M. Taylor, Oneida; Freeman H. Cross, Pulaski; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schenck, Brooklyn; John C. Eggleston, Parish; John N. Wiltse, Central Square; J. W. Embler, Erin; Abram Mowers, Caughdenoy; Lieut. Clark H. Norton, Syracuse; J. F. Benton, Central Square; Col. J. G. Butler, Syracuse; Abiathar L. Clark, Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. A. S. Brown, widow of a veteran, Syracuse. Officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Gen. Charles F. Robe, San Diego, Cal.; president, William J. Ellis, Fulton; vice presidents, N. A. Wright, Oswego; Richard Esmond, New York; O. W. Dunn, Stanford University, Cal.; M. B. Schenck, Meriden, Conn.; W. L. Willett, Buffalo; M. W. Kidder, Kendall; secretary and treasurer, A. N. Beadle, Oswego.

The three regiments came together in the afternoon for a general reunion, the old soldiers commencing their activities with a parade. Forming in front of the City Hall at 2 o'clock and headed by members of the Citizens' band who volunteered their services the veterans marched through First, Cayuga and Oneida streets and countermarched in First street to the Universalist church, where the union exercises were held.

D. M. Perine was named as master of ceremonies and after a brief address of thanks he introduced Attorney S. B. Mead, who delivered a brief, pat to the moment, welcoming address. Response was made by Martin B. Schenck of Meriden, Conn., a former Fultonian. During the afternoon piano selections and recitations were furnished by Miss Hibbard, piano solo; Miss Scully, recitation, "Wounded to Death," and Miss Church, recitation "Vision of Betsy Ross." L. P. Storms of Cuba, a former principal of the local High School, delivered an interesting address touching upon the Republic of Cuba," at the conclusion of which he sang a solo. Mr. Storms was later called upon to sing again and gave an acceptable redition of—"We're Growing Old Together, Boys." Colonel Butler of the One Hundred and Forty-seventh and Major W. D. Ferguson of the Twenty-fourth could not get away from the importunings of their comrades and made brief remarks, reminiscent and otherwise, both paying glowing tribute to the women of the Civil War period and particularly eulogizing Mrs. Spencer, the old nurse, who occupied a seat on the platform. Dr. Kennedy of Syracuse was last upon the program and he recited a poem which was listened to with intense interest. At the conclusion of the exercises the veterans retired from the church to the lawn, where photographer Langdon photographed each regimental squad separately.

The next reunion will be held in Oswego.

We the members of the 24th, 110th and 147th Regiments, who had such a noted good time at our reunion, remember that we are indebted to others who aided us on this memorable occasion, and we desire to extend our sincere thanks to them all, especially the Fulton Citizens Band, to the speakers and all others who took part on that day.

By order of the
COMMITTEE.

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company

Main St. West, Corner Exchange St.
Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

THE VOODOO IN HAITI.

Human Sacrifices to the God of the Serpent.

There is ample proof that human beings have been offered as sacrifices to the god of the serpent in Haiti. A French archbishop of the island describes a visit made by one of the priests to a voodoo assembly. The man had disguised himself as a negro, and he was thus able to mingle undetected with the crowd in the obscurity outside the sacred circle. After the white cock and white goat had been slain and offered up and their blood had been sprinkled on the company a burly young negro came forward and prostrated himself before the priestess. Then, still kneeling, he made his prayer:

"O maman, I have a favor to ask of thee."

"What is it, my son?" said the negress encouragingly.

"Wilt thou not give us, to complete the sacrifice, the goat without horns?"

The priestess gave a sign of assent. The crowd roundabout separated, and there was revealed a child sitting with its feet bound. The French priest rushed away in search of assistance in preventing the unholy rite, but the authorities on whom he called were strangely slothful. When finally, on the day following, they arrived at the place of assembly, they found the grewsome remains of a sacrifice and a feast, among them the boiled skull of the child.—Marvin Dana in Metropolitan Magazine.

When Men Hurry.

"Singular," said a man waiting for a train on an elevated railroad platform and looking down a street to where a hundred men and boys had gathered around two wagons that had come together in collision, "there are a hundred men standing around those two wagons, just standing there, gawping, apparently with nothing else to do and not in a bit of a hurry, but let any one of those men come up the stairs to this platform when there is a train coming in and he'd rush and hurry and tear himself apart to catch that train and get glum if he missed it, though he knew very well that there'd be another train here in a minute. Let him miss a train by a second and he thinks the world is coming to an end; let him see somebody hoisting a safe up the outside of a building and he will stop and waste half an hour.

"How do you account for that?"—New York Sun.

Sharpening a Pocketknife.

Cutlers have certain rules for sharpening razors, pocketknives, etc. "A razor," said one of the craft, "must be laid flat on the hone, because it is hollow ground and requires a fine edge. But a pocketknife requires a stiff edge, and the moment you lay it flat on a stone, so as to touch the polished side, you injure the edge. It must be held at an angle of twenty to twenty-five degrees and have an edge similar to a chisel."

Some Gotham Folk

Getting a College Education Under Difficulties—Not a Case of Mother-in-law—Tireless Dr. Lyman Abbott.

[From Our New York Correspondent.]

PRESIDENT NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER of Columbia university declares that it is the children of the rich who are finding it difficult to obtain an education. He maintains that it is not the boy that has to work his way through college who is to be pitied, but the one who is the proprietor of a luxurious bachelor establishment, an automobile and a bull pup. He has not cited the George J. Gould boys as an example, but he might do so with entire fitness.

Kingdon, the elder of the two who are in pursuit of a university education, has had abundant tribulation since the day of his matriculation. Because he would not accept the somewhat boisterous reception of the upper class men gracefully and drew a revolver to emphasize his distaste for such enforced civilities he has never made good socially. Then, again, a delicate constitution and frequent social interruption from the outside so interfered with his progress that he was not permitted to take his degree with the class at the last commencement. Now he is in charge of a private tutor, Professor Kemp of Columbia, who has undertaken to qualify his pupil for the deferred honor before the beginning of the next semester. To that end the professor and his pupil are making a private palace car tour of the mining regions of America.

"LUCKY DOG!"

"What do you think of it?" asked a junior professor of one whose hair has grown white in the service of the university.

"Fine thing—for Kemp, lucky dog!" was the answer.

Jay, the second son, is a different proposition. He resolved to profit from his big brother's experience. When he went up to the registrar's office to matriculate he wore low cut shoes and a pair of socks of such a vivid tyrian purple that he was the observed of all observers. A kindly disposed matriculant took occasion to warn him of his danger, but he only laughed and hitched his belt another hole. All went well until he was descending the great steps in front of Seth Low's magnificent library. A group of lusky sophomores had gathered beside one of the fountains.

JAY GOULD AND HIS PURPLE SOCKS.

"Hello, freshy!" one of them called out as young Gould was about to pass. "How about those socks?"

"Oh, I don't know — favorite color of mine," the freshman laughed good naturedly.

"Never do— suggestive of royalty—free Columbia, you know," declared another solemnly.

Then they all chorused: "Off with them! Off with them!"

"Very well, gentlemen. Anything to be accommodating," the youngster returned. Then, without a word of protest and with not the faintest sign of annoyance on his smiling countenance, he removed the brilliant footgear, replaced his low cut oxfords, bowed politely and resumed his journey.

A mighty sophomore yell of approval followed him and assured him that he had made a hit. From that day he has been one of the most popular men in his class, and the fact that he flunked his examinations at the end of the year but added to his popularity.

KINGDON DREW A REVOLVER.

The domestic infelicity which has wrecked the home of Frank Gould, the youngest son of the railroad magnate who manipulated affairs so that each one of his six children was enabled to begin his and her career as a multimillionaire, has been ascribed to too much mother-in-law. Nothing was ever wider of the mark. Mrs. Kelly is an admirable woman, and no one who knows anything about the controversy holds her responsible for any of the disagreeable things which have occurred. Mrs. Kelly is not only a person endowed with remarkable tact and a keen perception of things as they are, but she is also one of the handsomest women in the city. Like Mme. Recamier, the lapse of years seems to emphasize her charms. More than all, she is a woman of culture, brilliant and witty in conversation and convincing in argument.

If Dr. Lyman Abbott were designed especially by Providence to be a living refutation of the absurd age limit theory devised by Dr. Osler, he could scarcely do the trick more neatly than he is doing without that divine commission. Just before he started on his summer vacation tour I called to congratulate him on his prospect of obtaining a good, long rest. To my utter astonishment he declared in the forcible language of which he is the consummate master that he was not going in search of rest; that he didn't need it.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT ON VACATION.

"Aren't you tired?" I insisted.

"Not at all," he returned emphatically. Then he added, with a faint twinkle in his kindly blue gray eyes, "But I shall be when I get back."

A few moments later I was discussing the doctor with a prominent member of Plymouth church. "I'm sorry he's going," he said, "because he won't be here to preach for us while Dr. Hillis is doing his usual Chautauqua stunts. You know, everybody in Plymouth church loves Dr. Abbott."

"The enthusiasm of a neophyte and the clairvoyancy of a seer," I suggested.

"That's about the size of it, I guess," he agreed after he had satisfied himself that I was not trying to be facetious.

One of the most picturesque figures in Gotham's professional life is Dr. Mary Crawford, ambulance surgeon in the Williamsburg hospital. When this clever and intrepid young woman sawbones announced her intention of going into the competition for the position of interne nobody said, "God speed you, Dr. Mary." It was something so unheard of for a woman doctor to confess that she had an ambition to cling to the rear end of an ambulance as it went clanging over the cobblestones that it was not easy for Dr. Mary to convince the examiners or anybody else that she was "really and truly in earnest." She succeeded, however, and, quite as wonderful, came out at the head of the competition, secured the appointment and reported for duty.

DR. MARY ANSWERS A HURRY CALL.

And so it has happened that since that very day—a jolly, sunshiny day of last autumn—wearing a suit of immaculate duck and armed with a case of instruments of the required sharpness, Dr. Mary Crawford may be seen at any old time of day or night as she is being whisked about the streets and lanes of Williamsburg and Greenpoint in response to hurry calls. Up to date no one has complained that her kindly eyes and sympathetic countenance have detracted from her ability to sever a limb or to dovetail together the fragments of a broken head. Dr. Mary seems to have made a hit.

Charles Francis Murphy, present executive head of Tammany Hall, comes the nearest to being unique of any political leader in America. All doubt as to his being a capable successor to the various worthies who have built up the famous organization has been dissipated long since, and his rule is as absolute as that of his predecessors. On his return from the Denver convention he was asked if the nominations were satisfactory to him and to Tammany in general.

"ONE SHOULDN'T NEGLECT BUSINESS," SAID MURPHY.

"Best ever—finest on earth!" he declared promptly. Then he added confidentially: "But I shouldn't have gone west with so many things needing to be looked after right here in New York. I should have stayed at home and attended to business. National conventions are very interesting, but one shouldn't neglect business to attend them."

STUYVESANT BROWN.

FULTON BUSINESS

We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets Fulton, N. Y.

holds school every afternoon from two until five o'clock. Evening lessons discontinued through August. More attention can be given pupils during August.

Come and visit the school, and see how we draft patterns to fit the figure.

The American Garment Cutting System

is the newest, simplest and best system for drafting patterns.

The newest tailoring methods are taught in putting together garments.

Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

The

1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:30 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points:

From Olcott Beach	round trip $5.00
From Charlotte	round trip 4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip 4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip 3.75
From Oswego	round trip 3.00

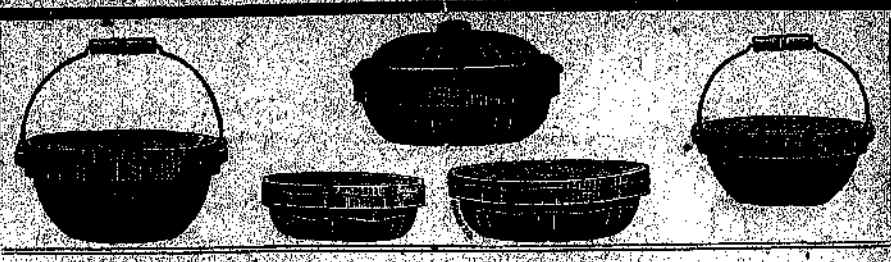
For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17.
9-12 Olcott Beach July 7th.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.



It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now.

PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50 All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed.

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

Local and Personal

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Winters, a daughter.

Miss Madeline Woodcock of Albany has been the recent guest of Mrs. R. D. Parsons.

Miss Florence Newell is convalescing from a serious operation which she underwent.

Messrs. J. C. Hunter and Arthur Gilbert left Fulton last Friday for Alaska, on an extended business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Pratt, of Lyon street are receiving congratulations over the birth of a daughter, born last Friday.

Miss Alice Tucker is spending this week with the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Sawtelle in Osceola. They will return to Fulton on Sept. 10.

A son was born on August 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman of this city It has been decided to call the young man Carl Weldon.

The anniversary exercises of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Oswego district will be held on Wednesday morning at Dempster Grove.

The Rev. F. L. Crissey, of Dexter, N. Y., has accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church, Oswego, succeeding the Rev. Mr. Magary, who recently accepted a call to Moosic, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Carner and family, who have been occupying Dr. Marsh's cottage at the Windrowe, returned to their home in this city on Thursday. On Wednesday Mr. Carner caught the largest bass seen in the Oswego river in some time.

At a business meeting of the Riverside Gun club, held in Oswego on Thursday Messrs. E. H. Stowell and J. H. Norris were selected as delegates to attend the annual meeting of the New York State Fish, Game and Forest League, which convened in Syracuse yesterday.

Orders denying the motions of the defendants for a change of venue from Oswego to Onondaga county, with $10 costs with each case, were filed on Friday in actions brought by George Boom of this city, against the Syracuse Herald and Post Standard Companies.

The Watertown Standard states that Capt. W. J. Dempsey will probably be made chief detective of the new St. Lawrence and Ontario divisions, when the R., W. & O. is divided, with headquarters in Watertown, and that Detective Regan will probably be named as his assistant, with headquarters in Oswego.

The Phoenix Register, Aug. 27, says: "Work on the trolley road is progressing favorably. One track is laid the entire length of Canal street and the second track will be completed this week. Rails are being laid from Baldwinsville to this village and are only a short distance from the bridge. It is expected that the work of ballasting the road will be begun next week. The engineers in charge are pushing the work, and say that the road will be completed by the time specified in the contract."

Whiting's pure Linen Tablets, all sizes, ruled and plain, only 10c. Well worth 20c, at Lasher's Book Store.

Sagacity Recognized.

"Our forefathers who framed the constitution were men of mighty intelligence."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "I am sometimes tempted to believe that they knew as much about the constitution as some of the lawyers who have since interpreted it."—Washington Star.

Jury Drawing.

A jury was drawn on Friday morning to serve at a term of County Court to convene in Pulaski, September 14th. The panel, which follows, was drawn from the new list of about 7,000 names just completed by Court Clerk Louis Coulter.

Richland—R. W. Box, D. C. Pool, William Hinman, James Carter.

Palermo—Evert Stewart.

New Haven—Ernest Van Buren, Arthur Newvine, Orla Bullock.

Oswego Town—Fred Mulcahy, Thomas Phillips.

Schroeppel—C. B. Spencer.

Fulton—Birney Buel, William S. Pierce, Elmer E. Taylor, Levi Kellar.

Parish—Ernest Klock, H. J. Rood, Hartley Allen.

Hastings—Newton Johnson.

Mexico—Clifford Graves.

Scriba—W. D. Sherman.

Granby—J. W. Merritt.

West Monroe—J. W. Green.

Sandy Creek—Ira H. Allen.

Williamstown—John Roser.

Albion—B. D. Burdick.

Redfield—Sylvester Yerden.

Hannibal—M. H. Terpening.

The Neva 5c cigar makes a delightful smoke for the men who care. For sale by V. C. Lewis

Real Estate Transfers.

Arthur T. Gardner has sold sixty-one acres of land in Mexico to N. W. Woodruff for $3,840.

William T. Powell has sold three acres of land in Oswego Town to E. S. Metcalf for $750.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membrane that lines the air-passages. It is made to overcome the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price, 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

How He Explained

The dissatisfied voter had dropped out of his regular party and tried something else at the previous election. When he appeared to register for the next primary there was some hitch in the proceedings.

"Didn't you vote the prohibition ticket last time?" inquired the clerk.

"Yes," responded the voter, unabashed.

"How do you explain that?"

"Well, you see," he explained, with charming frankness, "I was drunk at the time and didn't know what I was doing."

The clerk accepted the explanation as quite satisfactory and took him back into the fold again.

—September Lippincott's

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Board of Health.

Marked copies of the plumbing rules are to be sent by the Board to every plumber in Fulton. Marked copies of the rules and regulations of the Board of Health will be mailed to the residents of First, between Rochester street and the Public Library, it having been reported to the Board that the canal bank is used for a garbage dumping place.

C. R. Bennett, who was appointed by the Board to investigate the Jennings property matter, asked for more time that he might take up the subject with the Board of Public Works.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The September American Boy.

The picturesque features of the great West are well symbolized in the general make-up of the picture of The Young Ranchman, which decorates the front cover of the September American Boy, and the contents of the magazine will prove delightful reading. The serials by Houston, Tomlinson, and Optic, with Mr. Weir's vivid experiences Under the Great White Canvas, are continued. Among the many fine short stories in this issue are: Kenton's League with the Sun, telling of some of the thrilling experiences of the Kentucky pioneer with the Indians; The Story of Spot, a Mustang, shows the splendid devotion of a pony to his young master. All the articles are of more than usual interest, the titles being: Unusual American Children; Lawn Tennis; A Home Industry for Boys; What Can a Young Man Do; How a Butterfly is Born; Farming the Salt Sea. The various departments are full of the things that appeal to the boy with a hobby. 80 illustrations. $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, } ss
Lucas County.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

(SEAL.) A. W. GLEASON, NOTARY PUBLIC.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

County Fruit Growers.

The blight in the pear orchards was the subject mostly considered at the annual meeting of the Oswego County Fruit Growers' Association, held at the farm of Ira Pease, Oswego Town, last Thursday. Those who spoke were Spencer Brownell, Ara Pease, Arthur W Wiltsie and Mr. Wadsworth.

Mr. Ira Pease stated that he had 82 acres of pears and that one-half of the orchard will have to be cut away after the harvest of the fruit now on the trees.

In Spencer Brownell's orchard the dead wood had been cut out twice and it would be necessary to cut again.

Peter O'Neil and Edward Laurent have orchards that show serious evidence of the blight.

Sulphur Bleach for Fruit Stains.

Stained table linen follows the return of the fresh-fruit season "as night follows day." For removing such stains there is nothing more effective than the sulphur bleach: Lay a spoonful of sulphur on a plate, and sprinkle with a few drops of alcohol. Over this place a tin funnel with the point upward. Touch a lighted match to the alcohol; wet the stained linen, and hold the spot over the opening in the point of the funnel. The sulphur fumes will remove the obstinate stain, seldom requiring more than one application. Rinse and wash the linen at once, to prevent rotting the material.—Woman's Home Companion for September.

For a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Art Improvement.

Mrs. De Riche (showing her home to Mrs. Windfall)—What do you think of my Venus de Milo? Mrs. Windfall—Ain't it a shame how careless servants are! Bitt couldn't you glue the arms on again?—Puck.

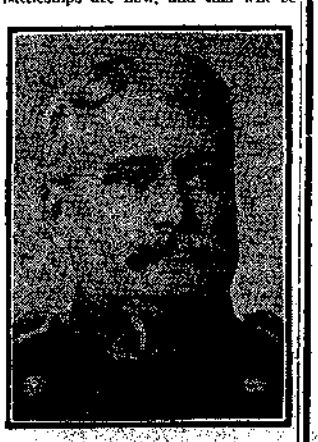
SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM.

New Feature of the University of Missouri—Walter Williams' Career.

At the University of Missouri will open in September a new department the school of journalism, which is to be on the same footing as the law medical, engineering and other professional schools in this thriving university. The purpose is to teach the newspaper profession from the ground up. The courses of instruction are to be varied and thorough. The students will publish a daily newspaper for actual practice in the arts of editing, reporting and getting advertisements.

The head of the new school is Walter Williams, for many years a practical newspaper man of note. Mr. Williams, though not heretofore engaged in actual instructional work, has been president of the board of regents of the university. His home is at Columbia, where the institution is located. In assuming the post of dean of the school of journalism and becoming Professor Williams he retires from a profession in which for a quarter of a century he has been an ornament to teach that profession to the rising generation. He began newspaper work at Boonville, Mo., his birthplace, and at the age of nineteen was editor of one of the local papers. In a few years he removed to Columbia, where he became editor of the Herald, long acknowledged to be one of the best weekly papers in the United States. Mr. Williams was elected president of the Missouri Press association before he reached the age of twenty-three. At thirty he was president of the National Editorial association. He has attended many sessions of that association and is known to newspaper men throughout the United States.

WALTER WILLIAMS.



A year or two before the opening of the Louisiana Purchase exposition in St. Louis Mr. Williams made a tour of the old world for the exposition and organized the international press congress, which met in St. Louis during that event.

For years the dean of the new school of journalism has been a frequent contributor to the metropolitan press and to magazines. He is also a popular lecturer. Friends have solicited him to run for congress and for governor, but Mr. Williams resisted such importunities, evidently having his eye all the time upon the school of journalism, of which he is practically the organizer and founder.

REAR ADMIRAL ARNOLD.

Officer Who Will Command New Division of Atlantic Fleet.

Rear Admiral Conway H. Arnold, who has been chosen to command the new division of the Atlantic fleet soon to be formed, recently reported at the Naval War college, where he was ordered on special duty. It is said to be the intention of the navy department to form the new division of the battleships Idaho, New Hampshire and Mississippi and to order them to Provincetown late in September for target practice and maneuvers. All of the battleships are new, and this will be the first time that they have been assembled as a division. None of the vessels is fitted as a flagship, and Admiral Arnold will use the gunboat Dolphin for that purpose. It is expected that the new division will be ordered to meet the fleet now in the Pacific when the latter nears home ports and do the honors as an escorting squadron. Admiral Arnold was born in New York in 1848 and graduated from the United States Naval academy in 1867. He married a daughter of William W. Wood, formerly engineer in chief of the navy. He has rendered most creditable service and rose steadily through the various grades to his present rank.

REAR ADMIRAL CONWAY H. ARNOLD.

Saturday
September 5
Imported Fruit Saucer
WILL BE THE
SOUVENIR

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 E. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee

SUGARS
REFINERS PRICES

CASH

The Unusual as Usual

It is very unusual for some merchants to give what they advertise but it is always usual for you to get a square deal when you trade with PAPWORTH.

Real Live Bargains

VIENNA FLAKES. We have only 100 cases of these popular breakfast foods and will sell them this week at less than cost. Per package, 5c. (6 the limit)

TEA. 100 chests of fancy Japan Tea siftings, makes a good cup of tea. Per lb. ..... 15c and 15 stamps.

FLOUR. 750 barrels of fancy Minnesota flour, and just to introduce this flour more thoroughly we will give away with each sack absolutely free a 10c cake of scouring soap. 1-4 bbl. sack, $1.50

GRAPE NUTS. The popular breakfast food. Pkg. 10c. (3 pkg limit.)

CONDENSED MILK. 125 cans of Red Cross brand condensed milk ..... dozen, $1.10, can 10c

LOAF SUGAR. 500 bbls. at refiners price, 5 lbs. 28c. Lb. 6c

COFFEE. 1000 lbs fresh from the roaster. Lb. 21c and 21 stamps

MOLASSES. We have our molasses packed in air tight cans. Try a can; see the difference. Fancy N. O., No. 10 can, ...60c

BAKED BEANS. 100 cases of household brand, plain or seasoned with tomato sauce. Large 3 lb. can, 9c, dozen $1.00

PICKLING SPICES. Cash brand put up in air-tight cartoons. Pkg. 10c and 10 stamps.

CHIPPED BEEF. 75 cases of fancy wafer sliced delicately smoked beef. Large jar, ... 25c and 25 stamps.

TAPIOCO. Cash brand. The kind that makes those delicious puddings. Pkg. ..... 10c and 20 stamps

BROOMS. 150 dozen of large well-made brooms; out last the cheap advertised kind ..... 30c and 20 stamps

STARCH. 2000 lbs. of large lump gloss starch, lb. 4c

FRUIT JARS. 3000 dozen of telephone jars. Quarts, 90c doz. Pints, 80c doz.

7% Dividends Guaranteed

A rare opportunity is presented for you to invest with Cash Papworth. Our mail order department is young. Still, we are doing business in over 25 states and for the purpose of pushing this end of our business we are selling stock and hereby offer to you the preferred stock in Cash Papworth Premium Co., at par value of $10.00 per share. This stock is guaranteed to draw 7% dividends annually and said dividends are payable on January 10th, each year.

This is an investment that is positively gilt-edge, and to those who wish to invest would say, that any person who buys this stock, can at the end of three years, if not satisfied, return it to Cash Papworth and he guarantees to refund the money. You can readily see that this is a good, clean proposition which pays you 7% and still you are positively safe.

Shares sold in any quantity from one to 500. Not more than 500 shares will be sold to any one person.

If interested write direct to Cash Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y. We will gladly pay your expenses to Syracuse to look the plant over.

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 464 Fulton, N. Y.

The Merry Widow 5c straight cigar is the best low priced cigar on the market. For sale by V. C. Lewis.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 12, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 2, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Congress, 28th District
CHARLES L. KNAPP

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

NO DEAL WILL BE PERMITTED.

Jefferson County apparently thinks that it can use and abuse Oswego county at its will. The implied insinuation has aroused all of the fighting blood in the Republicans throughout the county and the delegates to the Senatorial convention in session in Watertown to-day have declared almost to a man that they will not be a party to pulling Jefferson county's chestnuts out of the fire, nor to landing all the political plums for that county.

Oswego county is very friendly to Senator Cobb, but since it has been noised about that he is to accept a place upon the State ticket and that Elon R. Brown is to be appointed to fill the Senatorial vacancy, things in Oswego county have changed. The majority of the delegates from this county to the convention have expressed themselves as favorable to an Oswego county candidate and Hon. F. G. Whitney is their choice for the office. The delegates do not feel bound by the agreement of the leaders, made last week, any further than as it applies to Senator Cobb.

The delegates are: Jefferson, F. S. Kenyon, D. D. T. Marshall, D. C. Middleton, F. M Hugo, G. H. Wood, W. B. VanAllen, Morris Gragg, A. B. Parker, Michael Gleason, E. C. Emerson, Cary F. Vrooman, E. L. Wheeler, Edward Nichols, Hon. A. D. Lowe.

PATHFINDER FIELD DAY.

Friday, September 4, 1908.

Menu.

Chicken Hollandaise
Creamed Potatoes
Sliced Tomatoes with Salad Dressing
Hot Rolls
Apple Pie American Cheese
Fried Cakes
Coffee Milk

Ball Game at 4 P. M.

Pomona Grange.

The next session of Oswego County Pomona Grange will be held with Hope Grange, No. 115, at S. W. Oswego, Tuesday, Sept. 8th, beginning at 10:30 a. m. An interesting program is promised by the Worthy Lecturer. W. H. Vary, Overseer of New York State Grange, will deliver an address in the afternoon. The fifth degree will be conferred in the evening, after which a literary program will be given by a local committee.

ANNA B. WEED,
Secretary.

Excursion Rates To State Fair.

Via New York Central, Sept. 14 to 19. "All-Week" and "Two-Day" Tickets. Agents will furnish time of regular and special trains, and rates from all points

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.

One of the most interesting exhibits on the Fair grounds this year is the one sent by the State Charities Aid Association, which is an organization of citizens supported by voluntary contributions and whose object is to aid in State charities. The latest work to be taken up by the association is the prevention of tuberculosis. Exhibits are being sent to the State Fair and to thirty-six of the County Fairs throughout the State, including the Oswego County Fair.

The exhibit at the Fair this week is placed on the right hand side in the main building and lectures on tuberculosis, interspersed with musical selections, will be furnished by graphaphone. The exhibit is in charge of Miss Elizabeth B. Read, who is accompanied by her mother, and all visitors will be cordially welcomed and courteously furnished with information of interest and value along this particular line.

The exhibit of the Prevention of Tuberculosis is intended to bring home to every visitor to the County Fair, who will take a few moments to examine it, and even to one who is passing along casually and glances at it purely out of curiosity, the fact that the disease which causes the largest number of deaths in this State, is a curable and above all a preventable disease.

It will consist of mottoes, stating briefly the salient facts about tuberculosis, of charts and diagrams, showing its prevalence in various localities, of pictures of hospitals, sanatoria, dispensaries, and other provision for consumptives, models of outside sleeping porches and other facilities intended to aid outdoor treatment; and of the various appliances needed in the consumptive's sick-room, in order to give the patient proper care and to protect the other members of the household.

The State Charities Aid Association invites the co-operation of its local committees, of local officials connected with the administration of health or charities, of clergymen and physicians, of public officials generally, of representatives of the press and of all public-spirited citizens.

The pamphlets to be given gratis to the visitors to this booth should not be thrown away. They should be carried home and carefully read as they point the way to diminishing if not completely stamping out tuberculosis, the white plague.

Row boats and canoes to rent at reasonable prices at Manhattan Boat Livery, North First street.

The Wieting.

The lid of the regular dramatic season at the Wieting Opera House, Syracuse, will be pried open with a bang next Friday evening, September 4th, and Saturday evening, with a matinee on Saturday, when Liebler & Company will furnish for this occasion the most remarkable play presented on the American stage in the past decade. "The Man From Home" is now playing at the Astor Theatre, New York City. It has scored heavily; press and public concede that it will be the attraction at this theatre an entire year, if not another year following. "The Man from Home" is from the pen of Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. The special company that will appear in Syracuse, as well as in all the larger cities throughout the country, has a record of 35 consecutive weeks in Chicago last season, playing to over a half million people, gross receipts amounting to over $350,000. This engagement at the Wieting will be the only opportunity the theatre goers of Syracuse and immediate vicinity will have to witness this play the present season, without making a trip to New York City. The people of central New York State are to be congratulated on having an opportunity to see this play the same as it is being given in New York City. A niche in time in its innermost affections. The regular prices in vogue at the Wieting will prevail. Evening prices will be 25c. to $1.50. Matinee, 25c. to $1.00. Mail orders, when accompanied by express, money, or P. O. order, will be filled in the order they are received.

Keep your eye open for The Smoke Shop at the Fair this week.

DIED.

George Horton, aged 42, died on Sunday morning at the home of his brother, Mr. Edward Horton, north of this city.

Ralph, the 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Brackett, died on Friday at the home in Volney. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the late home.

Lillian B., the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Ryan, died at the home in Rochester street, on Tuesday. The body will be taken to Oswego and interment will be made in St. Paul's.

Rose Frazier, aged 48, wife of Mr Frank Davy, died on Wednesday at Lewis's Corners. The funeral was held from the Catholic church on Friday morning and interment was made in St. Mary's.

The death of Joseph Marino, a former resident of this city, occurred at Saranac Lake on Thursday. The funeral was held on Thursday from the Catholic church. Mrs. Marino was formerly Miss Lulu Printy of this city.

In the death of George W. Gardner of Tully last week, brother of Henry S. Gardner of Oneida street, the village of Tully, Onondaga county, loses one of its most useful and best citizens, having served his town as Supervisor one or two terms, and as Justice of the Peace for sixteen years. He sold tickets at our Fair for several years.

Jessie E. McGinnis, aged 15, died at the family home in Oswego on Sunday after a long illness. Beside the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGinnis, the deceased is survived by four brothers and four sisters as follows: James R. McGinnis, Oswego; George H. McGinnis, Syracuse; F. F. McGinnis, Colorado; John J. McGinnis, Fulton; Mrs. Elmer Babcock, Johnsonberg, Pa., Mrs. Carl Becker, Newburg; Mrs. W. E. Ware and Miss Helen M. McGinnis, of Oswego.

Thomas R. Wright, aged 84, and for fifty-three years a resident of this city, passed to rest at his home in West First street on Saturday morning after a brief illness. Mr. Wright was one of the oldest residents of the city and was held in high esteem. A history of his life and works will be found in another column. The funeral services, which were largely attended, were held from the late home on Monday afternoon and interment was made in Mt. Adnah. Two sons, Jesse and Jay, both of Syracuse, survive.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst our late brother, Charles Thompson, and

Whereas, It is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had; therefore be it

Resolved, By Hiram Lodge No. 144, of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, that, while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of Charles Thompson, this Lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; a member of this society, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity; a friend and companion who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Lodge be extended to his family in their affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and to each of the newspapers of Fulton.

Signed—
G. E. MASON,
HARRY BAKER,
THOMAS MARVIN,
Committee.

Dated Fulton, N. Y. August 31, 1908.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our heart felt thanks to all friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our recent bereavement in the loss of our baby. Also to the various societies of the Church, the Grange and all friends who gave flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Brackett.

FOSTER THEATRE.

Vaudeville of All-Star variety will be the opening attraction at the Foster Theatre, which opens on September 1st under new management. The engagement will continue September 1-2-3-4 and 5. The Eddie DeNoyer and Three Danie Sisters Vaudeville Company presenting ten star acts is the attraction.

This combination has been meeting with great success all through the state and no doubt will meet the approval of Fulton's theatre goers; also the large number of visitors during the Fair days. Among the feature acts to be presented are George Welch—a favorite mirth producer—Bessie Proctor, the girl with the double voice—Al Conton, eccentric juggler, late of the Orpheum circuit—Snow, the musical genius.

The Act presented by the DeNoyer and Danie Sisters is a thirty minute singing, dancing and acrobatic sketch, which is set with special scenery. DeNoyer, who is the central figure in the sketch, plays a tramp part, which would be a shining part in any musical comedy. The Danie Sisters add life with their vivacious dancing and acrobatic stunts and their songs indicated that they possess the rare combination of good voices and strong and supple muscles.

Besides this act Freeman, the handcuff king has an interesting act of skill in which he frees himself from handcuffs and shackles at will. His escape from a straight-jacket in full view of the audience is a novel and striking piece of work.

There are three reels of pictures and a song which is illustrated with views taken in and around Fulton.

The Company will stay five nights, September 1-2-3-4-5, and popular prices will be in force during the engagement, 10-20-30 cents. Souvenirs will be presented on opening night.

HISTORICAL REMINISCENCES

Fifty years ago to-day occurred the joint debate between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas at Ottawa, Illinois. It was one of the series of seven debates held in as many places in Illinois state. Yielding to the wish of party friends Lincoln had challenged Douglas to a joint discussion upon the merits of the further spread of slavery in free territory. The Senatorial term of Douglas was just expiring and he was seeking a re-election, while the Republican State Convention had named Lincoln as his opponent. The debates had attracted wide spread attention and vast audiences were drawn to the points of debate. The writer at this time was located at Lisbon, some thirty miles from Ottawa, and took an early morning drive across the level country, reaching the place in the open prairie, where were gathered many thousands of eager friends of the contestants, in time to hear Mr. Douglas open the debate.

The assignment was that each speaker should have one hour, together with half an hour each for reply; and to alternate so that each might have the advantage of the closing speech in turn, which with western audiences is so effective. It so happened that it was Lincoln's turn to make the last speech and he seemed to turn the strong points made by his opponent and carry the vast audience with him by his wit and eloquence and the cheers were long and loud. No sooner had he closed than his friends gathered about him and lifted him to the ground and carried him by uplifted arms through the streets and past the hotel, where Mr. Douglas was stopping and his own among a throng of shouters in true western style. Here, at least, he had won the day. These speeches in this campaign won for him a national fame and laid the foundation for his nomination and election two years later.

H. N. GILBERT.

August 28, 1908.

CHURCH NOTES.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Rev. J. G. York will occupy the pulpit on Sunday, September 6, at both services. Other services will be resumed as usual.

Zion Church.

Twelfth Sunday after Trinity, Sept. 6.
Holy Communion, 7.30 a. m.
Holy Communion and sermon, 10.30 a. m.
Evensong and sermon, 7.30 p. m.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. W. L. Sawtelle, Pastor.

The pastor will return from his vacation in time to resume services on Sunday, September 6.
Morning service at 10:30.
Sabbath School at 12.
Junior Endeavor at 3:30.
Vesper service at 5.
Senior Endeavor at 6.

History in July.

In at least four countries perhaps the most important event in their histories was recorded in July—namely, the establishment of their independence. In our own history we have the memorable Fourth of July, while the patriotic efforts of the liberator Simon Bolivar for the independence of Venezuela were consummated on July 5. Colombia ridding herself of the Spanish yoke on July 20. Then there is France, with her July 14, marking the date when the suffering French people stormed the famed and fearsome Bastille. The Spanish forces at Santiago, Cuba, capitulated on July 16.

A Famous Year.

It is contended that the year 1809 gave more celebrities and persons of genius to the world than any other year of the nineteenth century. Among those who were born in that memorable year were Abraham Lincoln, Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, William Ewart Gladstone, Charles Darwin, Lord Houghton, Alfred Tennyson, Edward Fitzgerald, Professor Blackie, Mary Cowden Clarke and Felix Mendelssohn.

Absolutely Free.

Angry Mother (suddenly entering parlor and catching young music teacher kissing her daughter)—Young man, is this what I pay you for? Music Teacher—No, ma'am; I make no charge for this.—Florida Times-Union.

Boys' School Suits

...Specials...

WE ARE ready with the largest and best assorted stock of Suits for Boys, that ever were shown in Fulton. We carry the best makes, insuring well made, perfect fitting and well lined suits, and you will find our prices from 50c to $1.00 lower than other stores. For one week only we offer these (4) FOUR SPECIALS which will interest mothers of boys who want good, well made suits—ones that will stand the racket.

Special No. 1

Boys' Double Breasted Suits, made in neat fancy mixture, sizes 8 to 16 years. Regular $1.75 value.
For one week only..... $1.39

Special No. 2

Boys' Double Breasted Knickerbocker Pant Suits. Coat with belt, Fall weight cloth; neat patterns in brown fancies. Value in other stores, $3.00. For one week only..... $2.35

Special No. 3

Boys' Double Breasted Coat with Belt, Knickerbocker Pants, and an Extra Pair of Knickerbocker Pants, same as coat, in neat brown fancies. Worth $4.00, For one week only..... Think of it; a suit with extra pants at this price. $2.98

This will be the greatest sale of Boys' Suits that was ever held in Fulton, and just when you need it for the boys to go to school.

Special No. 4

Fine Suits with Knickerbocker Pants, in very fine cloth, all the new shades of brown, easily worth $6.00.
For one week only..... $4.48

S. Lipsky & Son

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N. Y.

School Opens Next Week

Only a few days left. Have the children's eyes tested at once, so that they may become accustomed to glasses if they need them. Many children become peevish, irritable and nervous as soon as school opens. The trouble is more often caused by defective eye-sight than from any other cause.

We are especially equipped to ascertain whether or not your child needs glasses.

W. C. Morgan

113 Cayuga Street Fulton

WANTED

Farm and City Property

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC CO.

Contractors and Engineers for all kinds of

Electrical Installations

Dynamos, Motors, Fans, Bells, Fixtures, Etc. Fire Proof Wiring a Specialty

Estimates Cheerfully Given on Application

J. C. KETCHAM, Manager

Telephone 243 834 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

Cook a Meal for One Cent.

Write S. L. Head, Caughdenoy, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents, and he will tell you how you can procure heat in your cook stove enough to cook an ordinary meal without the use of either wood or coal, the cost per meal is nearly 1 cent. Address, S. L. Head, Box 62, Caughdenoy, N. Y., and save money the rest of your life. tf

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably. Mrs. H. O. Vickery, tf 113 North Fifth Street, Fulton

No necessity for an expensive vacation trip abroad when the beautiful Oswego river passes our doors and one can reach a score of beautiful camping or picnicking spots in perfect ease in one of the boats from the Manhattan Boat Livery in North First street. tf

ELECTRICITY HELPS

AFTERNOON TEAS

are dainty, cool and delightful when ELECTRICITY is used. No heat, dirt or smoke to cause discomfort, or make expense for cleaning.

Electricity is the ideal servant for light, heat and power. It makes the home complete and enjoyable as nothing else does.

Get ready for Winter by witing now when the house is open.

Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Miss Cora Kellogg is reported very ill.

Miss Sara Lewis will leave on Thursday for New York city.

Mr. Thomas Earnshaw spent Sunday with friends in Oneida.

Miss Mary Phillips has returned from Thousand Island Park and Quebec.

Mr. Eugene Marsh is the guest of his mother, Mrs. E. F. Marsh.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Brien and family have returned from Old Forge.

Miss Leila Church has returned from a very enjoyable vacation outing.

Miss Louise VanWagenen has returned from a sojourn in the North Woods.

Mrs. F. A. Summerville spent Friday with Mrs. H. W. Payne at Ingalls Crossing.

Mr. A. J. Loomis is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loomis, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gary of New York city are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Lewis.

Miss Adella Blake left on Sunday for New York city where she has accepted a position as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Summerville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Summerville at West Granby.

Mrs. George Mandell has returned to her home in Phoenix after spending a few days with Fulton friends.

Mrs. W. H. Patterson and party, who have been enjoying camp life for a month at Camp Boyd, Fourth Lake, have returned to their homes.

Editor A. P. Bradt had the misfortune on Thursday to catch his hand in the running gear of his Mergenthaler typesetting machine, brushing two fingers and tearing the nails from them. The injury was an exceedingly painful one and Mr. Bradt is at present in quest of a position for a one-armed man.

All kinds of rosy pipe dreams come to the men who smoke the special brands of tobacco carried at the V. C. Lewis cigar store, Cayuga street.

CLAUDE E. GUILE
Attorney and Counselor
35 SOUTH FIRST STREET FULTON, N.Y.
Over Rosenbloom's Store
Entrance on Cayuga Street

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck Try our work for a change.

Modern Way Laundry
E. D. PARK, Proprietor
Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton
West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

A son has been born to Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Cusack.

Walter Rust of Batavia is visiting Fulton friends.

Dr. George Post of Rochester has been visiting Fulton friends.

Miss Ethel Bonner is entertaining Miss Eva Taylor of Syracuse.

Mrs. Kempston has been entertaining Miss Esther Baker of Minetto.

Express agent and Mrs. A. W. Beadle are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter.

Miss Bertha McChesney of Syracuse has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dunham.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brown have been entertaining Mrs. Helen Box of Pulaski and Mrs. John Porter of Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Stevens entertained a party of friends at High Banks on Thursday in honor of Miss Ethyl Rogers of New York.

Mr. Gardner Dunham is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dunham, resuming his studies in Pratt Institute on Sept. 12.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Fulton Hospital will be postponed until Thursday, September 10th.

Mrs. H. P. Marsh and family, who have been occupying their cottage at The Windrowe all Summer, have returned to their home in Oneida street.

Manager Joseph A. Sloan of the gas office spent last week with Mrs. Sloan at Camp Herkimer, Third Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Sloan returned to Fulton on Saturday.

The will of Ida M. Whiting, who died at Fulton on July 18th has been filed for probate in Surrogate's Court. Mrs. Whiting's estate—$800 real and $500 personal, is bequeathed to her husband and children.

Oswego, W. A. Robbins, D. S. Burleigh, W. G. Babcock, E. B. Powell, D. O. Whitney, H. D. Scoville, H. M. Stacey, H. W. Short, J. W. Parkhurst, Francis D. Culkin, M. P. Neal, M. C. Worts, J. H. Worden, W. D. Acker.

Miss Bertha Kelly is very seriously ill with pneumonia. She caught cold while on a vacation trip among the Thousand Islands and was brought to her home in this city critically ill. Her friends are hopeful for her speedy recovery.

A petition for letters on the estate of Ella M. Huggins who died at Fulton on July 28th, was filed in Surrogate's Court on Monday by Hima Huggins, her husband. Mrs. Huggin's estate is valued at $12,000 personal and it will be shared by her husband and brothers and sisters.

Mr. Frank J. Towse, of Oswego, formerly of this city, has been appointed to the responsible position of clerk to the new superintendent on this division of the R. W. & O. R. R. Mr. Towse has many friends in this city who will be pleased to learn of his promotion, as the position he holds, or rather will fill after Sept. 20, is the most responsible one next to that of superintendent. It brings with it an increase of both salary and responsibility.

Attorney Claude E. Guile, for several years junior member of the firm of Mead, Stranahan & Guile, has severed his connection with the firm to continue the practice of his profession alone. Mr. Guile has fitted up a suite of offices in the Rosenbloom block, corner of First and Cayuga streets, entrance on Cayuga street, where he will conduct a general law practice. As he has enjoyed a wide experience and is a successful practitioner, the outlook for his future success is very bright.

The Barge Canal Bulletin for August gives the work accomplished on Contract No. 10 since the last bulletin, as follows: Substantial progress has been made during the month of July on this contract in the way of excavation, aggregating over 21,000 cu. yds., most of this amount being removed by the steam shovel recently placed at the north end, in connection with the derricks and the tramway system. The dyke extending from the retaining wall below Lock No. 3 to Grass Island, between the prism and the river, is now built to within 150 feet of the island, and some 230 cu. yds. of riprap have been placed on its face during the month. On the east side of the prism, at the lower end of the contract about 1,680 cu. yds. of earth have been removed with scrapers and 1,300 cu yds. of embankment completed.

"Fluffy Ruffles" cigars. You wonder how they are made so good and sold so cheap. V. C. Lewis, sole agent for Fulton, 109 Cayuga street.

House to Rent on Third street. D. C. Draper. 9-12

Mr. Malcom McCully of New York city, is in town.

Miss M. E. Young has returned from Sacandaga Park.

Mrs. Chauncey Wilson, who has been critically ill, is now slightly improved in health.

Mrs. J. H. StLouis has been entertaining Miss Leila Halliday of Watertown.

Mrs. G. E. True and sister, Miss Julia Smith, have been stopping at Thousand Island Park.

Mr. Harry M. Stacey of Oswego is now District Deputy Grand Master of Odd Fellows.

The Misses Kathleen and Geata Bernhard of New York city are the guests of Miss Leontine Porter.

Miss Catherine Collins is in New York city inspecting the Fall and Winter styles in millinery before taking a position this Fall.

Miss Flora E. Rudd, cashier in the Union Pacific Tea store, left today for a vacation trip to New York city and eastern Summer resorts.

The cash system of doing business is gaining more and more a foothold in Fulton. The latest firms to go into this manner of conducting business were the wood and coal dealers. Commencing with September first all wood and coal will be sold in Fulton on a strictly cash basis.

County Treasurer Moore is in receipt of a letter from Comptroller Glynn relative to the amount allowed for the burial of veterans who die without means. The Comptroller says the law provides that when a veteran dies without sufficient means to pay his funeral expenses the county is empowered to pay $35 for the undertaker and $15 for a headstone.

The Sandy Creek News of Thursday, in speaking of the Fair held in that village said, "of all the fair attractions we welcome the Odd Fellows band of Fulton. Their concert work, Prof. Wilson's solos and their playing for the acts are of the highest order, showing careful training in ensemble work The thousands of visitors enjoyed the music and our only regret is that the engagement is so brief."

The contract for the erection of the First Methodist parsonage has been awarded to Contractor D E. Wadsworth at a price not made public. The residence will be constructed of brick and the architects, Messrs Revels & Hollenbeck, Syracuse, have perfected a plan in harmony with the church design. The parsonage will be erected on the lawn west of the church, the work to be commenced at once and to be completed by January 1, 1909. When completed the parsonage will be one of the handsomest residence properties in the city.

Invitations have been received in this city to the marriage of Miss Helen M. Lawrence, daughter of Mr. Herbert E. Lawrence, to Daniel H. Roach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Roach of this city. The happy event took place on Tuesday, Sept. 1, at nine o'clock, in St. Augustine's church in Montpelier, Vt., where Mr Roach has been conducting a very successful moving picture business. Mr. and Mrs. Roach will reach this city this Wednesday where they will spend three weeks with the grooms parents, and where the hearty congratulations of his friends will be bestowed upon him.

Mr. W. W. Spencer of Oswego was a pleasant caller at The Times office on Monday. He is announcing his candidacy for the County Clerkship to succeed County Clerk Simpson and expresses himself as very gratified with the reception accorded his announcement. Mr. Spencer is one of the best known, rock ribbed Republicans in Oswego county and is very popular with men, regardless of political affiliation. It would seem that no more popular announcement could greet electors than that of Mr. Spencers candidacy nor a more competent man be seeking the office

The Board of Public Works, with Messrs. G. P. Wells and Jesse Morrill as an advisory board, have decided, after conferring, to pave Cayuga street, between Second and Third, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the work can be done cheaper by the city than by contractors. The Board considered the price submitted by a contracting company too high, and if it is found the work can be done cheaper by the city, then Oneida, Hannibal, Worth and West First streets will be paved under the supervision of Supt. Flynn, without re-advertising for bids.

A complete line of fancy clay pipes are to be found at V. C. Lewis's Cayuga street store.

Special values in Tablets, Whitney's Linen Stock, all sizes, ruled and plain, for only 10c, while they last, at Lasher's Book Store.

Mr. W. H. Patterson is confined to his home by illness.

Robbie Crockett of Fifth street has returned from his visit at Boston.

Miss Cora Lisk of Clifton Springs is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Barker.

Miss Jennie Lappan has accepted a position in the O. Henderson & Co. store.

Miss Carrie Rosenbloom has been the guest of her father, Mr. Harris Rosenbloom.

Mr. Russell D. Parsons attended the funeral of his uncle at Tully on Sunday.

David Brown of Broadway has returned from Demster Grove Camp Meeting.

Mrs. Byron E. Falling and son are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Washburn.

Mrs. Mary Danks of Chicago is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Rumsey, of Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Connell of Oneida street visited friends in Wolcott last week.

Mrs. Arlon Wilbur is very ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sylvester of Syracuse are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sylvester.

Miss Majorie Barnes of Baldwidsville is spending this week with Miss Bertha Cole of Utica street.

Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Sawtelle and Rev. and Mrs. J. G. York have returned from their vacations.

Mr. Orin Henderson of Rochester street attended the funeral of his brother-in-law at Tully on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Gardner attended the funeral of their cousin, George W. Gardner, at Tully on Sunday.

Mrs. Luther Vanderlinder and daughter of Mohawk visited Mrs. J. Vanderlinder and family of Second street last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gardner and daughter of North Sixth street attended the funeral of their uncle, George W. Gardner, of Tully, Sunday.

Revs. J. L. Lindsman and D. J. Dooling are attending retreat in Rochester. They will return home on Friday.

Manager M. S. Powell of the Independent Telephone Company is wearing an expansive smile this week. A son came on Sunday to gladden his home.

Mr. J. C. O'Brien and Miss O'Hare and her trimmer will leave on Monday for New York City, where they will purchase dry goods and millinery for the Fall and Winter trade.

The Oswego Falls Pulp & Paper Company has just satisfied a mortgage of $176,000, held against the plant by the United Box Board & Paper Company of New Jersey.

Colonel Wiener, whose skill with hook and line is generally conceded, had the good fortune on Monday to catch a black bass in Lake Neatawanta which measured 21 inches long and weighed 6½ pounds. This is probably the largest bass ever caught in this vicinity.

Miss Helen O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Brien, will leave with her father on Monday for Convent Station, Morris County, New Jersey, where she will enter St. Elizabeth College. She will take a regular educational course and a special course in piano and harp. This college is one of the best known colleges for girls, the standard being very high. Helen is one of the brightest of the younger set in this city and is a great favorite with her friends, all of whom will miss her.

For the State Fair at Syracuse, the Lackawanna has arranged special train service and low rates, trains stopping at entrance to grounds. Ask Agent for information regarding time, &c.

Married by Blood.

In the island of Banquey there is a tribe of Dusuns differing widely in language, religion and customs from other tribes bearing that name. Marriages are performed in the forest in the presence of two families. There is no public gathering or feast. The rite consists in transferring a drop of blood from a wooden knife in the calf of the man's leg to a similar cut in the woman's leg. After marriage the man takes the bride to her home, where he resides in future as a member of the family.

Fair cigar dealers supplied with cigars at wholesale prices by V. C. Lewis.

To-Night! Foster Theatre

5 Nights---September 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

Eddie DeNoyer and 3 Danie Sisters
Vaudeville Co., Direct from New York City

10--BIG ACTS--10

Miss Margaret Hoffman Of the $10,000 Reward Production	Al Canton---Eccentric Juggler Late from the Orpheum Circuit
George Welch That One Comedian	Moving Pictures Of the Very Best
Miss Bessie Procter The Girl with the Double Voice	George W. Snow Novelty Musical Act

Freeman---The World's Greatest Handcuff King and Jail Breaker

Eddie DeNoyer and 3 Danie Sisters
A Novelty Tramp, Singing, Dancing and Acrobatic Act. Special Scenery

Popular Prices—10c, 20c, 30c. No Higher
Advance Sale of Seats at Watson's and Sullivan's Drug Stores
Souvenirs Presented Each Evening to Lady Patrons

The Canning Season

will be at its best during the next ten days. We are better prepared than ever before to cater to your needs in the canning line. We have

Cans, Rubbers, Parafine, Etc.

Plums are very scarce, so place your order at once for delivery. Let us supply you with Bartlette Pears, Crawford Peaches or splendid Tomatoes for canning. A larg line just received.

A. L. WARNER
THE CASH GROCER
Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

Pipe Your Home For Gas!

We carry the most complete line of fixtures in Northern New York, which we will sell at cost.

Have the steady, natural light of gas to read, sew or visit by during the long Winter evenings. No other light is so satisfactory or so cheap. A phone call, No. 198, or a postal will bring our estimate man to your door.

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.
48 South First Street. Opposite Clark House

The First National Bank
Fulton, N. Y.

Pays 4% on Money Left Six Months.

Pays 3% on Certificates of Deposit, No Time Lost.

Safe Deposit Boxes.

Offensive.

"No, I don't like that woman," declared Nuwed.

"And why not?"

"She's too blamed sorry for my wife to suit my ideas of what's requisite and necessary."

The Cards Are Out.

"Ysobel, do you think you could learn to love me?"

"Learn to love you? Oh, Reginald, I could give lessons in loving you."—St. Louis Republic.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
321 UNIVERSITY BLK. SYRACUSE, N. Y
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
Special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON.
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
Tel., 149. Residence over store, No. 46 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. MILO B. Stevens & Co., 864 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.

Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callocites treated in a skilful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego.

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the

CLAYTON I. MILLER,
Surrogate

Dangerous.

First Actor—I thought your next tour was to have been through South Africa. Second Actor—It was, but the company struck. One of them had read that an ostrich egg often weighs two or three pounds.

A Reliable Remedy CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.

It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York

HAY FEVER

Faces In the Hall of Fame

Bert M. Fernald — Loudenslager of New Jersey and the Campaign—Frank O. Lowden of Illinois.

BERT M. FERNALD.

BERT M. FERNALD, nominated for governor by Maine Republicans, is making an active canvass. The state election in Maine is chiefly interesting to the rest of the country because it takes place a number of weeks before the general national election. While Maine cannot be said to be a political weather vane for the whole country, its state election is always interesting as indicating by the vote which way the political wind in general is blowing.

The late Senator Allison of Iowa was very cautious about taking sides on any question. "The more I see of that marvelous equilibrist, Allison," once remarked "Private" John Allen, "the more I am reminded of a man named Gates who used to live in my peerless town of Tupelo. Gates would never take sides. He would not commit himself. One day a doctor and a lawyer decided to force an opinion out of him. They got into a quarrel with Gates present.

"'I was out hunting,' said the doctor, 'and I shot a bull buffalo. He was sitting up in a big tree eating grapes, and I plugged him and down he fell.'

"'Go along!' broke in the lawyer. 'Buffaloes do not climb trees.'

"There was a long dispute, and the two decided to leave it to Gates. He deliberated carefully. 'Well,' he said finally, 'as a general thing buffaloes do not climb trees, but there's no telling what they will do when they are after grapes.'"

Congressman Henry Clay Loudenslager of New Jersey, who is to have charge of the New York headquarters of the Republican national campaign, is one of the hard working members of his party. He is serving his eighth term in congress. Mr. Loudenslager was mentioned as a probable chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, a post held for two years past by Congressman James S. Sherman, the vice presidential nominee. But Chairman Hitchcock decided to place the Jerseyman in personal direction of the work from New York.

H. C. LOUDENSLAGER.

Mr. Loudenslager is fifty-six years old, a native of Mauricetown, Cumberland county, N. J., and has been in politics since 1882. He worked on a farm in his boyhood and was engaged in the produce commission business in Philadelphia for ten years. He returned to New Jersey and was elected county clerk in 1882 and was re-elected three years later. From this office he stepped up into congress, where his constituency of the First district has kept him ever since.

Mr. Loudenslager lives at Paulsboro, N. J.

Frank O. Lowden of Chicago, who is prominent as a member of the executive committee of the Republican national committee in the conduct of Judge William H. Taft's campaign for the presidency, is a lawyer and capitalist. He was born in Sunrise City, Minn., in 1861, and is an alumnus of the Iowa State university. Mr. Lowden married a daughter of the sleeping car magnate, the late George M. Pullman. He is a factor in various financial and industrial corporations of the middle west. When Colonel Lowden unsuccessfully ran for governor of Illinois four years ago he was credited with making the most unique campaign since Victor Murdock, the aurora borealis statesman from Kansas, rallied the red headed men of his district to his support and won the race for congress in a warm finish. Mr. Lowden did not travel in cars patented by his father-in-law. On the contrary, he traveled in nothing but freight caboooses. He dressed in the working "togs" of a farmer and smoked a corncob pipe.

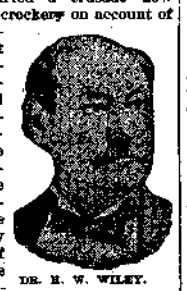
FRANK O. LOWDEN.

Colonel Henry Watterson, the famous Kentucky editor, politician, statesman, lecturer and speaker, has had a varied and important career, and he is now engaging in still another branch of the world's work. He has been appointed the generalissimo of the publicity forces of the Democratic national campaign committee that is just now working to elect W. J. Bryan president, and that the colonel is extremely well fitted for this task not even his bitterest opponents will deny.

As head of the national Democratic publicity department it is Colonel Watterson's task to see that the newspapers throughout the country are kept supplied with timely matter concerning the Democratic candidates and the proceedings of the campaign. He will see to it that the speeches of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern, the vice presidential candidate, are placed before every voter in America who can read, no matter what language he reads, and

Hall of Fame

Dr. Wiley, Foe of Germs. "Marse" Henry Watterson, Publicity Expert of the Democracy.



HENRY WATTERSON AT HIS DESK IN DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS.

that the editorial writers of the daily papers in the great cities are kept supplied with arguments to meet the attacks of the Republican speakers and writers.

The influence of the newspapers on a presidential conflict cannot be underestimated, and if Colonel Watterson with his national reputation and acknowledged ability can fulfill the plans he is already said to have made for advancing the cause of Democracy and Mr. Bryan there is no doubt that he will wield a most potent influence in the present contest for the most powerful governmental office in the world today.

Corn on the cob raised on the Bryan farm is now part of the daily menu at Fairview. The husks are being saved as provender for the Minnesota mule which has been donated to Mr. Bryan.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who as pure food expert of the government is on the lookout for enemies of the public health, has started a crusade now against cracked crockery on account of the death dealing germs that may be concealed in the aforesaid cracks and thus able to escape the onslaught of the dish rag. Another expert on the subject, however, takes issue with Dr. Wiley and says: "Of course there are germs in cracked china, as there are in everything else in the universe. And it may be that some of these are bad instead of good. The proportion of bad germs to good ones is as 6 to 1,000,000,000. The bad germ may kill you; the good ones may be eaten by the spoonful without harmful results. A healthy person will eat many billions a day or at a single meal without getting so much as a suggestion of the stomach ache. In fact, if he did not eat great quantities of micro-organisms he could not assimilate his food and would soon dry up and blow away."

DR. H. W. WILEY.

Herman Ridder, who will collaborate with Colonel Henry Watterson and other Democratic editors in an advisory capacity to the national Democratic press bureau, is the president of the New Yorker Staats-Zeitung company and one of the best known German journalists in America. He is very much interested in tariff legislation designed to provide cheaper paper for newspapers. Mr. Ridder is of German parentage, but is himself a native New Yorker. He began his business career as an errand boy at the age of eleven years, entered the employ of an insurance company in his thirteenth year and at twenty became an insurance agent. He engaged in newspaper work seven years later, established the Katholisches Volksblatt, a German Catholic weekly, and in 1885 founded the Catholic News, which soon became the leading American paper of that religious denomination. Mr. Ridder has been influential in politics—city, state and national—as an independent Democrat. He took a prominent part in the Cleveland campaigns and in the various reform movements in New York city, having been especially active in the German-American Reform union. Much of his time is devoted to charitable work. A year ago he was elected president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

HERMAN RIDDER.

He Told the Lawyer.

Lawyer S. is well known for his uncomely habits. He cuts his hair about four times a year and the rest of the time looks decidedly ragged about the ears. He was making a witness describe a barn which figured in his last case.

"How long had the barn been built?"

"Oh, I don't know—about a year mebby, about nine months p'raps."

"But just how long? Tell the jury how long it had been built."

"Well, I don't know exactly—quite awhile."

"Now, Mr. B., you pass for an intelligent farmer, and yet you can't tell me how old this barn is, and you have lived on the next farm for ten years. Can you tell me how old your own barn is? Come, now, tell us how old your own house is, if you think you know."

Quick as lightning the old farmer replied:

"You want to know how old my house is, do ye? Well, it's just about as old as you be, and the roof needs seeing to about as bad."

In the roar that followed the witness stepped down, and Lawyer S. didn't call him back.—London Globe.

An Acceptable Clock.

A well known professor sometimes became so much interested in his lecture that when the noon bell rang he kept the class five or ten minutes over the hour. Certain restless spirits among the students thought they would give him a gentle hint, so they bought an alarm clock, set it to go off precisely at noon and placed it on the professor's desk when they came in to the next lecture. They knew that he was a little absentminded and expected that he would not notice it. As the noon hour struck the alarm went off with a crash, and those of the class not in the secret started and took in the joke at once. There was a round of applause. The professor waited until the alarm and the applause were over and then said: "Young gentlemen, thank you for this little gift. I had forgotten it was my birthday. An alarm clock is something my wife has needed for our servant for some time. It is a very kind remembrance on your part." The professor then went on to finish a demonstration interrupted by the alarm.—London Tit-Bits.

Names in Alaska.

Life in Alaska is uncouth in parts, but it has its refinements. In Valdez there lived a man named Jake, who kept a boarding house for dogs. When the prospectors returned from their sled trips they would place their teams in his charge until ready to start out again. As he fed his guests on garbage gathered by a house to house canvass, he was known by every one as "Slop Jake."

Once upon a time he fell ill, and the newspaper wished to chronicle the fact. No one, however, knew Jake's other name, and it didn't seem worth while to waste the time of the editorial staff on so insignificant a detail. So the news was printed thus:

"Our well known fellow citizen, S. Jake, is confined to his house with a severe cold. It is hoped he will be out soon."—New York Times.

Fooling the Beans.

A Yankee of the quaint old time type was preparing to bestow a coat of whitewash on his henhouse one spring long ago. He had completed the mixing of the whitewash, a writer in the Manchester Union says, and, looking round for something on which to try it, picked up a bean pole and ran the brush over it. Another local character, who was driving by, stopped his horse and called out: "Hello! What ye whitewashing your bean poles for?"

"Thought everybody knew that beans grow better on birch poles," returned the other without pausing in his work.

"Ye don't expect to make birch poles that way, do ye?"

"Mebbe not, but whitening of 'em 'll make the beans think the poles are birch anyhow."

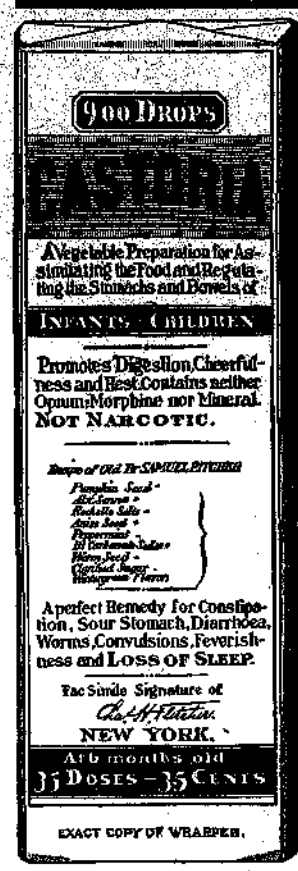
Origin of Cemeteries.

In ancient times burials were always outside the walls of a city or town. Indeed, before the time of Christianity it was not lawful to bury the dead within the limits. About the end of the sixth century St. Augustine obtained of King Ethelbert a temple of idols—used by the king before his conversion—and made a burying place of it, and St. Cuthbert afterward obtained leave of the pope (A. D. 752) to have yards made to the churches suitable for the burial of the dead.

The Little Ones.

It was a bright and very original little boy named Barber, who, upon hearing his father speak of "their neighbor, Mr. Wood and his children, the little splinters," and of another neighbor, "Mr. Stone and the little pebbles," remarked: "I suppose if they met papa they would say: 'Good morning, Mr. Barber. How are all the little shavers?'"

His Advantage.



"You can't spell long words like hippopotamus and parallelogram," said the little boy who wore spectacles and a sailor suit.

"Well," answered the boy who was leading a dog by a piece of rope, "dat's where I'm lucky. I don't have to."

Four Kinds of Trouble.

Judge—What have you to say as to the charge that while the husband of one woman you married three others? Bigamist—Simply this—that having four of a kind isn't what it is cracked up to be.

The man who gets loaded has a poor aim in life.—Beaumont (Tex.) Enterprise.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Legal Notices

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.
Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs. John Drew, Defendant.
To the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and, in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.

Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

To John Drew, Defendant:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Stowell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 12th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.

Dated May 11th, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.
9-16

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.
10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D., 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore to the subscribers at the residence of Lucila Perkins, No. 266 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
13-9

Corrected.

"I wish I had never learned to play cards," exclaimed a man who had been unfortunate at the game.

"You mean you wish you had learned, don't you?" was his wife's rejoinder.

Hatred is like fire. It makes even light rubbish deadly.—George Eliot.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA·SNOW & Co.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.
THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908
Leave Albany, Hamilton St., 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 6.10 P.M
" New York, West 42d St., 6.30 P.M
" New York, Desbrosses St., 6.09 P.M
Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.
Returning leave New York, Debrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.
Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.
CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. C. & W. Station
NORTH BOUND
5.48 a. m. ..... Train No. 335
8.10 a. m., Daily ..... " 337
11.51 a. m. ..... " 301
3.31 p. m., Daily ..... " 351
6.16 p. m. ..... " 303
10.10 p. m., Daily ..... " 315
SOUTH BOUND
8.04 a. m. ..... Train No. 302
9.39 a. m., Daily ..... " 318
2-14 p. m. ..... " 350
5.09 p. m., Daily ..... " 328
7.04 p. m. ..... " 342
9.34 p. m., Daily ..... " 336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.
Trains Leave Fulton
NORTH BOUND
*Chicago Limited for all points West ... n 3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego ... 11 09 "
*Local for Oswego ... 5 16 PM
‡Local for Oswego ... 6 45 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego ... 7 39 "
SOUTH BOUND
†Express for Norwich ... 3 22 AM
‡Syrian Beach Special ... 8 05 "
*Local for Sidney ... 2 15 AM
*Limited for New York ... 12 39 PM
†Express for New York ... 7 05 "
n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
s Sunday only.
‡ Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.
Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full line Buffet Sleepers, Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address.
I. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 26 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAUL, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and propounded by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Chloride does not suit. We cite proofs of cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway cor. 34th St., N. Y.

The Companies that Paid Losses in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

ANNUAL REUNION OF "IRON BRIGADE"

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 1, 1903.

COMRADE.

You are hereby notified to attend the Sixth Annual Reunion of the First Iron Brigade, to be held in the City of Syracuse, N. Y., on Thursday, September 17, at 10 A. M., on the State Fair Grounds. The Association having designated that day as Veterans and Military Day, they will furnish us with a tent, upon which will be a banner with the words: "Headquarters Iron Brigade," and it is hoped that every one of the surviving members of the old original Iron Brigade who made that famous march in April, 1862, and which gained them the title, will make every effort to be present at this annual gathering as all the railroads of the State of New York give reduced rates to Syracuse, N. Y., during State Fair Week.

The Secretary is trying to make up as perfect a Roster of the Brigade Survivors as possible and it is earnestly requested that if you know of any member of your company or regiment living, no matter where they are, notify them of this reunion and kindly send their name and address to the Secretary at once.

Our badge is a permanent one and it can be procured of the Secretary for one dollar. It should be secured now for the supply is limited.

In order to keep up our organization the annual dues were made fifty (50) cents and are now in order. If you cannot attend please send Dues or a contribution to help pay expenses, also send your present address so that the Roster may be kept complete.

A prompt attendance is requested as business of the greatest importance to every member will be transacted. Hoping that you will assist me in my work and that you will not fail to give me an early reply, I am

Yours in F. C. and L.

B. H. SEARING,
Secretary and Treasurer.

W. D. FERGUSON,
President.

President, W. D. Ferguson, Major 24th Regiment; Secretary and Treasurer, B. H. Searing, 30th Regiment; Vice-Presidents, Harrison Stafford, 30th Regiment; Courtland Adams, 22d Regiment; William H. Peck, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; K. P. Rawson, 2d Berdans; Jacob Raab, 14th Brooklyn; Chaplain, Rev. John D. Mulford, 24th Regiment; Executive Committee,—Thomas Cole, 24th Regiment; Louis J. Bruso, 30th Regiment; John S. Fassett, 22d Regiment; Oscar C. Hayden, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; James H. Myers, 14th Brooklyn; James R. Gibbs, 2d Berdans.

Imagination.

"Just slap down a sketch of a drunken husband sitting in a wretched hovel of a home," requested the newspaper editor, hurrying into the apartment of the lazy staff cartoonist.

The artist carelessly complied and sprawled back in his chair.

"Don't you think it would fill out better if you were to sketch in a table and an empty whisky bottle?" inquired the editor, gazing at the bare figure.

"Oh, the readers will imagine the booze part of it, all right!"

"Well, how about adding a broken hearted wife and a couple of ragged children?"

"Unnecessary. The readers will readily imagine all that as part and parcel of such a scene."

"Then," ejaculated the editor, tearing the sketch to bits, "then the readers can imagine the drunken man."—Washington Post.

A Fine Dodger.

Carol's grandfather had served in the war, and Carol liked to hear of the many battles in which he had fought. One day after listening to the vivid recital of many heroic deeds Carol said:

"Grandfather, you went through all those battles?"

"Yes."

"And the shot and shell fell all around you?"

"Yes."

"And soldiers were falling and dying everywhere?"

"Yes."

"Well, grandfather, what a fine dodger you must have been!"—Delineator.

Magic and Poison Rings.

The ring began when man thrust his finger through a hole in a pretty shell and later learned to make rings of jet. The ring is very magical. Lord Ruthven, who helped to kill Riccio, gave Queen Mary a ring which was sovran against poison, and she generously replied with the present of her father's wonderful jeweled dagger, of French work, no longer in existence. Whether Ruthven tooled with this magnificent weapon in the affair of Riccio or used a cheaper article is uncertain. At all events, Mary based on the ring that was an antidote to poison a charge of sorcery against Ruthven. The judges of Jeanne d'Arc regarded with much suspicion her little ring of base metal, a gift from her parents, inscribed with the sacred names Jesus Marie.

It was usual to touch the relics of saints with rings. Jeanne d'Arc said that her ring had touched the body of St. Catherine, whether she meant of the actual saint or a relic of the saint, brought from Sinia to Fierbois. The ring might contain a relic or later a miniature. I fear that I do not believe in the virtues or vices of poison rings. Our ancestors practically knew no poison but arsenic, and Carthaginian science can scarcely have enabled Hannibal to poison himself with a drug contained under the stone of a ring.—Andrew Lang.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

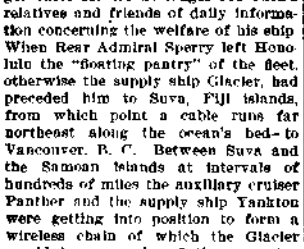
"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death-like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Our Debt to Champlain.

We of the eastern United States, and, above all, the dwellers in New England, owe to Champlain more than most of us imagine. Northern New York and New England were fields of his exploration, and it was he who charted the coasts of the north Atlantic nearly to Connecticut, making surveys that have not been greatly altered to this day. Three hundred years ago, at the point of Quebec, then covered with nut trees, Samuel de Champlain set his men to work to cut down these trees, saw boards, dig cellars and make ditches to construct a habitation. Before the coming of Champlain Canada had yielded to the French vast quantities of furs and skins and had enriched many a trader, but it remained for this great explorer to see in Canada something more than a mere ground for the trapper and trader—a home for people, a veritable new France. In the accounts of his voyages he described with enthusiasm the land, its people, its animals, its timber, its plants and its minerals, and on these products he based prophecies of a great future for this land.—Forest and Stream.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequaled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.



Wireless Wonders

How the "Floating Pantry" of Rear Admiral Sperry's Fleet Kept It In Touch With the Cable.

KEEPING the world in touch with sixteen battleships through the "floating pantry" of the fleet was one of the novelties furnished by Rear Admiral Sperry during his voyage from San Francisco to New Zealand and Australia. Time was when a fleet was entirely out of touch with the world as soon as it entered the vast landless stretches of the blue Pacific. For days at a time anxious ones at home were unable to hear the welcome tidings "All's well on board." Then some sailing vessel or tramp steamship putting into Honolulu or Yokohoma or San Francisco would report sighting the warships. In these scientific days, however, vast stretches of ocean and meager cable service no longer rob Jack's relatives and friends of daily information concerning the welfare of his ship When Rear Admiral Sperry left Honolulu the "floating pantry" of the fleet, otherwise the supply ship Glacier, had preceded him to Suva, Fiji islands, from which point a cable runs far northeast along the ocean's bed to Vancouver, B. C. Between Suva and the Samoan islands at intervals of hundreds of miles the auxiliary cruiser Panther and the supply ship Yankton were getting into position to form a wireless chain of which the Glacier would be one end and the oncoming battleships the other.

The plan worked perfectly. Rear Admiral Sperry had barely lost wireless touch with the naval station at Honolulu when his operators on board the Vermont and some of the other battleships picked up the wireless dispatches of the Panther and sent the latest news in return. The Panther forwarded the Vermont's dispatches by wireless to the Yankton, hundreds of miles distant, and the Yankton in turn sent them on in the same manner to the Glacier, which transferred them to the cable, over which they traveled to Vancouver. From Vancouver they were quickly telegraphed to the navy department in Washington. For the time being the Panther, Yankton and Glacier were merely elaborate telegraph poles dotting the bosom of the Pacific ocean. By means of them sixteen great battleships carrying an army of men were able to keep in daily touch with the cable at Suva during the long voyage from Honolulu to Auckland.

PAGOPAGO HARBOR AND MAP SHOWING SPERRY'S WIRELESS CHAIN OF WARSHIPS.

Another novel incident of the fleet's mid-Pacific trip was the view Pagopago got of Uncle Sam's modern armada. A trifle hazy about Pagopago? Well, Pagopago isn't a new breakfast food or the latest make of automobile. It is one of Uncle Sam's naval stations away out in the middle of the Pacific ocean. When the United States, Great Britain and Germany settled the vexatious Samoan question some years ago Germany took the main group of the Samoan islands, the United States annexed Tutuila, and Great Britain got out altogether. Pagopago is the harbor town of Tutuila, and a United States warship is stationed there most of the time. Just at present the little gunboat Annapolis, which displaces but a thousand tons, is the station ship. Heretofore she has loomed large in the eye of the Samoan natives, but now she is in the "also ran" class. On the morning of Aug. 1 the flagship Connecticut, which has eighteen times the displacement of the Annapolis, and fifteen other great battleships passed around the east end of Tutuila and exchanged salutes with the Annapolis. The shores were lined with wondering Samoans, who were much impressed by this exhibition of sea power.

Pagopago, or Pangopango, as it is often called, is a highly desirable harbor and is one of the principal coaling stations of the United States in the Pacific. It is one of the safest havens of refuge for ships in the whole Samoan group and extends into the island of Tutuila three miles.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding) due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa (suppressed or absent monthly periods) arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and dyscrasic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Beau Nash as a Gambler.

When the late Earl of T. was a youth he was passionately fond of play and never better pleased than with having Mr. Nash for his antagonist. Nash saw with concern his lordship's foible and undertook to cure him, though by a very disagreeable remedy. Conscious of his own superior skill, he determined to engage him in single play for a very considerable sum. His lordship in proportion as he lost his game lost his temper, too, and as he approached the gulf seemed still more eager for ruin. He lost his estate. Some writings were put into the winner's possession. His very equipage was offered as a last stake, and he lost that also, but when our generous gamester had found his lordship sufficiently punished for his temerity he returned all, only stipulating that he should be paid £5,000 whenever he should think proper to make the demand. However, he never made any such demand during his lordship's lifetime, but some time after his decease, Mr. Nash's affairs being in (sic) the wane, he demanded the money of his lordship's heirs, who honorably paid it without any hesitation.—"History of Gambling in England."

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

The Margin of Profit.

"There was a general storekeeper," said a financier, "who was forced to the wall by hard times and resolved to make an assignment. He figured out that he would be able to pay 40 cents on the dollar. Well, a certain wholesaler that he had dealt pretty heavily with heard of his plight and came post-haste to see him.

"'What!' the wholesaler shouted. 'Going to make an assignment! Pay only 40 cents on the dollar! A pretty state of things this is!'

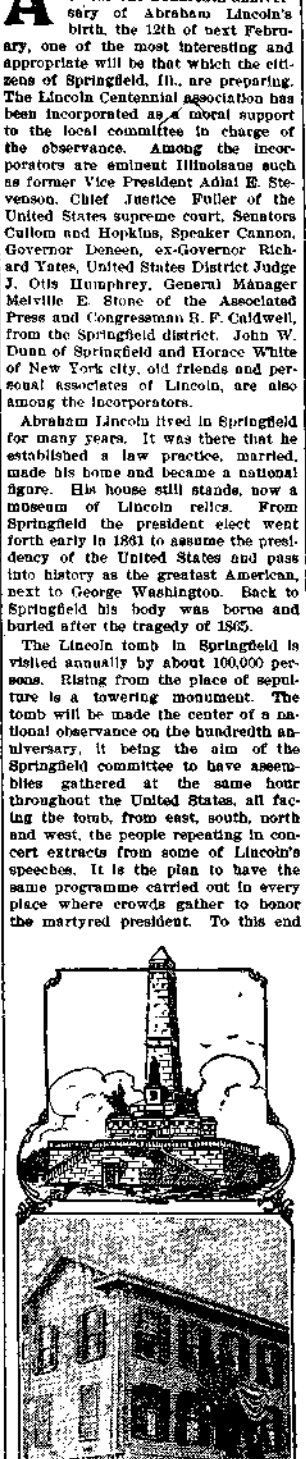
"'Calm yourself, Mr. Wholesaler,' said the general storekeeper. 'It is true I am going to assign. These hard times have played the very deuce with me. And it's true I'm going to pay only 40 cents on the dollar. But all your goods, it happens, are intact. Not a case has been opened, and they shall be returned to you at once.'

"'What!' shouted the wholesaler, angrier than ever. 'Return my goods! Not on your life! I insist on my lawful 40 per cent, the same as the other creditors.'"—Washington Star.

Don't be afraid to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. It always cures. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Names of Flowers.

It is interesting to know how certain flowers get their names. Many were named after individuals. For instance, fuchsias were so called because they were discovered by Leonard Fuchs. Dahlias were named for Andre Dahl, who brought them from Peru. The camellia was so called for a missionary named Kamel, who brought some magnificent specimens of the flower to France from Japan. He called it the rose of Japan, but his friends changed it to camellia. Magnolias were named in honor of Professor Magnol de Montpellier, who first brought the beautiful tree to France from America and Asia. Because it trembled with the wind is the meaning of anemone. The Latin word to wash is lavare, and lavender received its name because the Romans put the flowers into water when they washed to perfume their hands.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.



Home of Lincoln.

Springfield Preparing to Honor the Great Emancipator. Many Visitors to His Tomb. "They Knowed Old Abe."

AMONG the many celebrations of the one hundredth anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth, the 12th of next February, one of the most interesting and appropriate will be that which the citizens of Springfield, Ill., are preparing. The Lincoln Centennial association has been incorporated as a moral support to the local committee in charge of the observance. Among the incorporators are eminent Illinoisans such as former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court, Senators Cullom and Hopkins, Speaker Cannon, Governor Deneen, ex-Governor Richard Yates, United States District Judge J. Otis Humphrey, General Manager Melville E. Stone of the Associated Press and Congressman B. F. Caldwell, from the Springfield district. John W. Dunn of Springfield and Horace White of New York city, old friends and personal associates of Lincoln, are also among the incorporators.

Abraham Lincoln lived in Springfield for many years. It was there that he established a law practice, married, made his home and became a national figure. His house still stands, now a museum of Lincoln relics. From Springfield the president elect went forth early in 1861 to assume the presidency of the United States and pass into history as the greatest American, next to George Washington. Back to Springfield his body was borne and buried after the tragedy of 1865.

The Lincoln tomb in Springfield is visited annually by about 100,000 persons. Rising from the place of sepulture is a towering monument. The tomb will be made the center of a national observance on the hundredth anniversary, it being the aim of the Springfield committee to have assemblies gathered at the same hour throughout the United States, all facing the tomb, from east, south, north and west, the people repeating in concert extracts from some of Lincoln's speeches. It is the plan to have the same programme carried out in every place where crowds gather to honor the martyred president. To this end the Illinois state superintendent of public instruction and a commission named by act of the state legislature are preparing a suitable programme. It is hoped by the Springfield committee that the same programme will be adopted officially by the educational authorities of all the other states, so that co-operation as wide as possible may be secured.

LINCOLN'S HOUSE IN SPRINGFIELD AND MONUMENT THERE.

At Springfield the programme will consist of exercises in the morning at the Lincoln tomb, speeches by men of national reputation in the afternoon and a banquet at night to a thousand persons representing all branches of national and state government service and including some of the most distinguished statesmen, professional men, members of the diplomatic corps, members of congress and leaders of the army and the navy.

Though the programme as yet is but tentative, already promises to be be present have been secured from James Bryce, the British ambassador; M. Jusserand, the French ambassador; Speaker Cannon, Judge Taft and Mr. Bryan. Thus, it will be seen, the president elect of the United States will be on hand.

There will be a reunion in Springfield of men who knew Lincoln personally. This promises to be one of the most interesting features of the day. The veterans will gather from various places to swap stories of the times when "they knowed old Abe." Springfield, of course, has a number of Lincoln survivors. A list of those in Springfield and elsewhere who knew Lincoln is being compiled. Many of these persons have furnished the committee with rich reminiscences and personal memories of the great war president. Though there are Lincoln anecdotes enough to fill many volumes, it goes without saying that this reunion of his old friends and cronies will result in a fine new crop.

STATE FAIR SYRACUSE
September 14th to 19th
ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit)
Running Races Four-in-Hand Races
Tandem Races

GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW IN AMERICA
Greater New York's
Mounted Police Drills
Homer Davenport's Arabian Stallions
with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER in the State
Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building
Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows

Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables
POULTRY till you can't think
CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE

FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND
40 Artists 40

Half Fair Excursions on all Roads
Ask your station agent for rates.

Send for Prize List to
S. C. Shaver, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.

SEA BATHING.

The Effects of Salt Air and Water on the Human Body.

There is a reason why parents have in all times and in all ages endeavored to give their children the benefit of sea air and sea bathing. An Italian physician, Gerosa, tells about it:

It is agreed, he says, that all living organisms began their first existence in salt water and that as a result the human body (and indeed every animal body) is largely made up of salt. If you taste your blood or your tears, which are the extract of blood, you will find that both are quite salt in flavor. More than this, however, every living being possesses within his body, in the cellular stage, all those strange marine organisms which we study so curiously in museums. And, seeing, says Gerosa, that the amount of sea water contained in every body is equal to one-third of that body's weight, it is clear that in the infinitesimally rudimentary form all known marine life must be present in the blood. The result is that when we bathe in the sea or breathe the sea air we replace the amount of essential salt which is constantly decreasing in the system and, all unconsciously to ourselves, weakening it. Salt water, says Gerosa, is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. It is therefore always good for the body, whether it be enjoyed at the seaside or brought in bottles from the sea. In particular is it very valuable in the case of weakling children, and there is no bodily stimulant so invigorating to the very young as sea water.

A Reasonable Translation.

The teacher was telling the class in fourth grade geography about the great seals of the different states, using the pictures in the dictionary as the basis of the lesson. Pointing to the seal of Virginia, she asked:

"Now, who can tell me from this picture what should be the meaning of these Latin words: 'Sic semper tyrannis?'"

Bobby's hand went up.

"All right, Bobby; you may tell us."

"'Take your foot off my neck,'" was Bobby's reply.—Judge.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1903.
Messrs. E. C. DeWITT & Co.,
Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—
In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, some biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.

May you live long and prosper.
Yours very truly,
C. N. GORRELL.

CONFORMS TO NATIONAL PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW

This is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by

Kodol for Dyspepsia.

All Druggists

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

MINETTO AND VICINITY.

Miss Esther Baker visited in Fulton Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. George Thompson has been entertaining her sister from Erie county the past week.

Mr. Charles Young spent Sunday with friends at Central Square.

Misses Beulah and Bethel Shares of Altmar are guests of relatives here.

Miss May Jones visited in Oswego several days last week.

Mr. P. Huginan spent Sunday with relatives at South Bay, Oneida county.

Miss Eva Gemmell of Syracuse is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Norrish.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dingman have returned to their home in Constantia after visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banks.

Mr. I. A. Keefe of New Haven was in town on business on Saturday.

Mr. L. H. Beadle of Orwell Corners visited Mi day.

Mr. and Mi
been entertai children from

Mrs. A. K. Hubbard and daughters of Oswego were guests of Mrs. A. P. Hubbard a few days last week.

Miss Beulah Lamb and Mr. Wesley Lamb, who have been spending a few weeks at Mrs. S. L. Baker's, returned to their home in Stockbridge Thursday.

Mrs. Francis Briggs entertained her cousin, Mrs. Coon, and daughter of Syracuse last week.

Mrs. Mary Stroup has returned home from Altmar, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Anna Shares.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCaw and Mrs. Hettie Bell attended the funeral of Mrs. Eunice Gilman at South Scriba.

Miss Florence Reynolds visited in Fulton last week.

Lyle Bunker entertained his cousin, Master Claude Petrie, of Fulton last week.

Mrs. Hazel Thorpe Hathaway has accepted a position in Carthage High School for the ensuing year.

Mrs. DeForest is visiting in Constantia, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dingman.

Mrs. George Wallace spent a few days last week at Dempster.

The Kingdom school opened Monday, August 31.

Mrs. George Hough and Mrs. Walter Hough visited relatives in Fulton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Riker, Master Fred and Miss Georgia Riker, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Herrick and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Dwyer were Sunday guests of relatives at Central Square.

Mr. Tilden Gifford of Haverstraw arrived here Saturday to spend some time with relatives.

William Riley of New York was a recent guest of his sister, Mrs. W. J. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wells attended Sandy Creek Fair last week.

Mrs. Hall has returned to Sandy Creek after visiting Mrs. Marcus Allen.

Mr. Charles Allen, Secretary of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. was in town Wednesday.

Mr. John Rowland of Parish was in Minetto Tuesday.

Mrs. Levi Dunn of St. Paul, Minn., who has been visiting her old friends in Minetto, is now spending some time in Caughdenoy.

The E. H. Gato cigar comes in two grades—5-cents straight and 3 for 25c. They are sold by V. C. Lewis, 109 Cayuga street.

GREAT BARGAIN—To close estate the house, lot and double corner lot at 419 Cayuga street is offered for sale separately or together. Investigate at once. For particulars inquire Birney Clark, Fulton, or address S. J. Kelly, Attorney, University Block, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-16*

The Fluffy Ruffles 5c cigars are sold by V. C. Lewis, Cayuga street.

VOLNEY CENTER.

Mrs. Charles Baldwin, who has been the guest of her parents the past month, has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Robert Simpson, Jr., and wife of Syracuse, spent last week with Dr. and Mrs. Simpson.

Mrs. S. D. Keller was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Gifford, in Canastota, last week.

Miss Anna Jewett visited relatives at Split Rock and Baldwinsville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Pegden.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sackett called on friends here Friday.

Mrs. James Vant and Miss Jessie Vant were Sunday guests of relatives in Fulton.

Mrs. Morris Whitney spent Saturday and Sunday in Syracuse.

Miss Addie Gardner spent part of last week at Mt. Pleasant, the guest of the Misses Hunn.

Miss Jessie Vant entertained the G. L. B. C.'s Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Jewett entertained relatives from Oswego Tuesday.

Mrs. Candee entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Cole of Lysander recently.

Miss Eva Baldwin of Ithaca is visiting friends and relatives.

The Volney Band will play at the Fulton Fair on Friday.

The Enthuso cigar makes an enthusiast out of every man who smokes one. For sale at the Y. C. Lewis cigar store, 109 Cayuga street.

SOUTH GRANBY.

Mrs. Sadie Beebe is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Arthur, and children of Rochester.

Mrs. Carrie Lampman entertained the Merrie Ten of the Larkin Soap Club Friday.

Mrs. Lizzie Sperbeck visited a few days in Syracuse the past week.

It should have been 14 to 6 in favor of Lamson's ball team last Saturday instead of 4 to 6, as was in The Times last week.

Mr. John Depew had the misfortune to lose his only cow last week by choking to death.

Mr. Isaac Whipple has moved his family into the Hickey place near High Banks.

Mr. Lionel Whipple and daughter Doris, Marathon, are visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, McGrawville, visited at Ray King's Sunday. Mr. King and daughter Mabel accompanied them home.

Mr. Judson Marsh and his father, Mr. Eugene Marsh, visited at William Betts' Sunday.

Miss Ina Hannum and her friend, Miss Doyle, were guests at Lon Hannum's Sunday.

John Wybron, Marcellus, visited his parents last week.

Mrs. Cynthia Lampman is receiving a visit from her cousin, Mrs. Lucy Jones, Albany.

Mrs. Mabel Fisher is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dickinson are attending a family reunion at Messengerville at the home of his sister.

Mrs. Meda Whipple will go with her company to Valley Mills Monday.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bath Not Popular in Spain.

In the quaint Spanish city of Toledo the traveler is shown upon the banks of the Tagus below Wamba's palace the alcove in which La Cava was wont to bathe until seen by Roderick, and her fate was none the happiest at the hands of the last of the Goths. To this day she is referred to as an awful example of the fate that awaits those who dare to bathe in water too often. The Spanish woman is none too liberal in her use of water for personal cleanliness, preferring oil or some other medium.

AN INTERESTING JOURNAL.

Norm G. Cooper of Oberlin, Ohio, furnishes The Times with a copy of the August, 1862, diary ancestor the 24th N. Y. infantry, which we reproduce with pleasure for the benefit of the living members of the company. The nicknames for Company E are also full of inspiration and furnish a clue to the personality of the men bearing them. The Times offers a year's subscription to the first one sending in a complete and accurate list of the full names of the bearers of the nicknames. Norm G. Cooper to be the judge.

August Journal of the 24th N. Y. Infantry, 1862.

We were at Falmouth, opposite Fredericksburg, Va., August 4th, when General Hatch relieved Sullivan and took charge of the Brigade.

August 5—Started for Spottsylvania Court House, very warm, water scarce, marched 19 miles.

August 6—Col. Cutler's forces tore up railroad near Frederick Hall. Report came that he needed help and we took a gait in that direction, found we were not needed and returned to camp.

August 7—Gen. Jackson, C. S. A., is cutting up in our rear and we marched back to Fredericksburg.

August 9—Ordered to send away our knapsacks to Alexandria. I never saw mine again and it was valuable in contents.

August 10—Sunday started for Culpepper Court House 5 a. m., hard days march, 22 miles, we forded the Rappahannock with our pants, etc., high in the air.

August 11—Made a terrible dusty march of 28 miles, camped near battlefield of Cedar Mountain, where a day or two before a big battle was fought.

August 16—Marched 7 miles to Slaughter Mountain.

August 19—At 2 a. m. started for a 21 mile picnic.

August 20—Had a four mile walk to Rappahannock Station.

August 21—Shells burst over us carelessly.

August 23—Up at 3 a. m., no attack, left at 10 a. m. in mud and rain and heat, 12 mile trot only.

August 24—Sunday walked 2 miles to near Warrenton.

August 26—Marched 6 miles to Sulphur Springs and rejoiced because shells missed us.

Nicknames of Co. E, 24th N. Y. Infantry.

2AB, Hatchet, Horse Tamer, Martha, General, Trout, Grapevine, Joe, Star Gaizer, Ding Dong Daddy, Lawyer, Secretary, Shafts, Skim Milk, Screech, Poultry, Shark, Laughing Tip, Pouch, Painter, Schoolmaster, Tub and Board, D. P., Skipper, Haversack, Ambulance, Peacock, Jinks, The Subscriber, Dandy, Monkey, Burnt Holes, Bot A, Santy, 3 days on picket and never heard a gun, Blucher, Lupchuck, Chuckins, Blossom, Posey, Donahue, Muggins, Poodle, Bully Seward, Tioga, Horse Tailer, Club Mouth, Johnny Bull, Veteran, Old Tell Spread Fingers, Oh Losing Scratch Yourself, Nine Toes, Blue Hens Chicken, Balm of Gilead.

August 22—We were flat as pancakes most all day, shells from both sides going over. Fowler of Co. D was killed.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

Bernard Howard is entertaining his brother John and family of Syracuse this week.

Mrs. Amanda Parsons of Phoenix is a guest at L. D. Streeter's.

Mrs. Nina Bristol and children, Erwin and Nettie Rowlee, of Fort Wayne, Ind., were recent guests here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cass Hill recently entertained Mr. Hill's mother and sister, Jessie, and an aunt from the west, where Mrs. Hill has been a recent guest.

The Up-to-Dates won the baseball game played here last Saturday when the played against Volney Grange by a score of 14 to 1. To say the U. T. D.'s are jubilant is putting it mildly. They will play Palermo at Mt. Pleasant next Saturday.

Muriel Ives is visiting Caughdenoy.

The Coopers are very busy this week selling kegs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simons were guests of relatives here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Streeter entertained Mrs. Mitchell of Fulton over Sunday. The others did camp-meeting Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Durfey and family spent Sunday at Mr. Cathcart's in Granby.

Several couples from here spent last Wednesday at Oswego Beach in honor of Mrs. George Wright of Watertown.

Ross Rowlee and Mead Osborne spent a few days at Sylvan Beach.

Eastman Kodaks, from the "Brownie" at $2.00 up to $75.00, at Lasher's Book Store.

Reade's Dramatic Failures.

It was not until 1856, when Charles Reade was forty-two, that he obtained reputation as a novelist, a reputation to which he did not aspire, for it was his ambition to be a dramatist. From the beginning of his career until the last year of his life he wrote play after play, every one of them a failure and he alone refusing to believe it. He attributed their want of success to every cause but the right one, and he went on squandering the money gained from his more successful novels on the production of bad plays. "The actors are duffers, sir," he would say, "who have defiled my composition, mixed ditch water with my champagne, murdered my work," and he would pour out maledictions on the heads of all who had anything to do with the unfortunate piece, from scenic artist to super, never conceiving that he himself was the sole culprit. And yet, as his novels show, he had dramatic ability of a high order and could produce the most thrilling effects and situations. He wrote two or three dramas in collaboration with Tom Taylor and Dion Boucicault that had a brief success, but apart from these he never wrote a play that met with the slightest degree of popular favor.

Poultry Fakes.

"Oh, yes," said the poultry farmer, "there are tricks in every trade! Take for instance, this old rooster here." The rooster was old. There was no denying it. He was as tough an old rooster as ever graced the summer boarders' table of a New England farm.

"Take this old rooster," said the farmer, seizing a paint brush. "Black up his feet. Then break his breastbone, so, with a long pair of scissors. Then push the breast up high. What's the result? A fine young turkey's the result, and knowing housewives will scramble over one another to buy him."

With a harsh laugh the farmer turned to a skeleton chicken. "This bird is a regular skeleton, isn't she?" he said. "Now watch me. See, I lay her on her back. Then I place this heavy board on her breast. Then tomorrow when I come to take her to market the board will have made her scraggy breastbone almost invisible, and it will have given her very full, plump sides—no breastbone, fat sides—the sure signs of a fat and tender young chicken."

An Unobserving Thief.

Yosouf owned a beautiful horse which was very valuable. While Yosouf was transacting business a thief stole the horse. The owner shortly afterward saw the thief leading his horse and took him before the kaid, or judge.

"The horse is mine," sturdily insisted the thief.

In vain the other argued, and the kaid was about to give his decision in favor of the villain when Yosouf advanced suddenly, threw his cloak over the horse's head and demanded of his enemy:

"Since you own the horse, tell the kaid in which eye the animal is blind."

"In the left," said the thief, making a wild guess.

Yosouf looked toward the kaid triumphantly. "He's blind in neither eye," said he.

So the noble horse came into its rightful owner's possession again, and the wicked Arab was punished.

In the Taproot of an Oak.

I remember a curious incident connected with the taproot of an oak. This oak, a good tree of perhaps 200 years' growth, was being felled at Bradenham wood when the woodmen called attention to something peculiar on the taproot. On clearing this of soil we found that the object was a horseshoe of ancient make. Obviously in the beginning an acorn must have fallen into the hollow of this cast shoe, and as it grew through the slow generations the root filled up the circle, carrying it down into the earth in the process of its increase till at length we found wood and iron thus strangely wedded. That taproot with the shoe about it is now or used to be a paperweight in the vestibule of Bradenham Hall.—Rider Haggard.

Left Handed Finance.

He was a young railroad man and went the pace. He had to borrow money to keep "his end up," and he fell into the clutches of a relentless money collector.

"I really am trying my best to pay back the coin I owe you," he pleaded.

"I don't see much evidence of it," was the grim answer. "What are you doing?"

"I am buying a lottery ticket every month,' answered the hopeful financier.—San Francisco Call.

Wanted Them All.

Julia Ward Howe was once talking with a dilapidated bachelor, who retained little but his conceit. "It is time now," he said pompously, "for me to settle down as a married man, but I want so much. I want youth, health, wealth, of course; beauty, grace"—

"Yes," said Mrs. Howe sympathetically, "you poor man, you do want them all."

Still Vacant.

He was a dude of the would be masher type, and, tripping down the aisle of the parlor car, he dropped into a seat beside a pretty girl.

"Nobody — er — occupying this seat with you, miss?" he queried.

With a disdainful look, she replied in a tone redolent with sarcasm: "No, sir. Nobody yet."—Chicago News.

Weeds and bad habits are about the only things that grow without any help. —Chicago Record-Herald.

...New Samples...

We have just received our new Fall and Winter Samples of Woolens for Men's Suits and Overcoats from which we will make

Garments to Order
$14 to $50

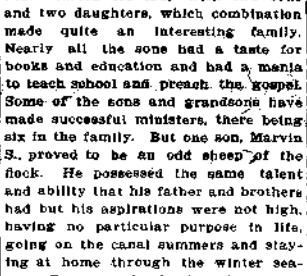
Fit Guaranted or no sale. Come in and look over the immense line we are carrying. No trouble to show the samples and talk the suit question over with you. There is no obligation on your part to buy.

Harry A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street — Fulton, N. Y.

AN OSWEGO CANAL EPISODE

In the fifties on the Oswego River there was a canal port that took its name from the number of its lock. It was quite a hamlet, but one of the principal places of note was an old-time Inn where whiskey was sold which on evenings and Sundays brought together a promiscuous crowd, which mostly consisted of boatmen and a few farmers. For a mile or two square there were a number of thrifty farmers that belonged to the little hamlet. There was also a store and a few places of business. The environments have since changed and the town is called H——



At that date, a mile back from the river on a stony hundred acre farm lived an old-time Camelite preacher—Elder S. His principal appointment was at a large school house about midway from his home and the river, which was where the hog scene occurred (mentioned in a recent article). A little past middle life the Elder lost his wife, having reared to manhood several sons. He soon after married a kind-hearted old lady with two sons and two daughters, which combination made quite an interesting family. Nearly all the sons had a taste for books and education and had a mania to teach school and preach the gospel. Some of the sons and grandsons have made successful ministers, there being six in the family. But one son, Marvin S., proved to be an odd sheep of the flock. He possessed the same talent and ability that his father and brothers had but his aspirations were not high, having no particular purpose in life, going on the canal summers and staying at home through the winter season. Down at the landing he was a leader and popular among his associates. He was five feet and nine inches tall, strong square build, weighing one hundred and eighty pounds, being nearly bald when I knew him, with a high full forehead, with a full set of black whiskers and a fearless disposition and clownish air, and loved to create a sensation and make fun for the boys. He would sometimes mount a stump and deliver a speech or sermon off hand. On one occasion his father had an appointment to preach at a distant school house on Sunday but was taken sick and was unable to fill it. Without his father's knowledge Marvin quietly "spruced up" and filled the appointment. The next time the Elder met some of the congregation they said: "Elder, we didn't know that your son Marvin was a Christian." He replied that he wasn't.

At another time he went among strangers and held a successful revival. On another occasion, after a revival, the Elder had just finished baptizing some converts down by the riverside on Sunday when his son Marvin appeared on that side about the center of the river bridge above, and perching himself upon the railing, repeated the same ceremony that his father had used, then dove off into the river below and swam to the opposite bank in full sight of the spectators.

One of his brothers located at Halls Corners and taught district school two winters. At the close of the second term he had a rousing exhibition in the Baptist church which was packed to overflowing. The teacher's brother came up from H—— and assisted, building a high platform across the church and had a court scene with Marvin S. as the principle witness, who received great applause. But old time with his mill has kept grinding along (which will grind us all to powder). When the Civil War came on Marvin S. enlisted and at the battle of the Wilderness or the Second Battle of Bull Run he was mortally wounded. From the battlefield he wrote an affecting letter home to his father. In the silent watches of the night the Elder declared that he heard "Father!" in a distinct tone pronounced three times. It was afterwards ascertained that Marvin died at the same time on the battlefield.

In the early history of the country, the Elder was a useful man, preaching in the different school houses and officiating at weddings and funerals. The people turned out and filled his large house annually, giving him a generous donation visit, the young folks having a jolly good time.

SAM GORDON.

GIRON, 24065

[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of August and September at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street — Fulton

The Roman Father.

A distinguished scholar was the guest of one of the high schools of Buffalo and was greatly amused, according to a writer in the Commercial of that city, by the answer given by one of the pupils in the class in Roman history to a somewhat exacting question put by the teacher.

A lad was asked to state concisely in one sentence the distinctive difference between the society of ancient Rome and that of the present day in America. After a moment's reflection the young fellow replied:

"The distinctive difference between the society of ancient Rome and that of our day is that the father was the head of the Roman family."

The whole class shared the visitor's enjoyment of the palpable although probably unconscious hit.

Baled shavings for sale.

Just received, a carload of baled shavings. For sale by Hart, near Post Office, Second Street 9—5

For Sale---Beagle Hounds

Having more than our kennels can accommodate, we will sell eight or ten youngsters out of our champion rabbit hunter, "Wilder."

Pups from $10 up. Onondaga Beagle Club, J. A. Seitz, Manager, 423 S. Clinton street, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-9

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A large oak roller top desk. Inquire at 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

FOR SALE—A house and three vacant lots, between Fifth and Sixth streets, on Highland. Inquire of E. T. Munger, with Porter & Co., Broadway, Fulton. tf

Wanted

LOST

LOST—A steel fishing rod and nickel reel, somewhere on Academy street near park, on Saturday morning. Finder return to Woolever's meat market and receive reward.

Lost—A pair of gold bowed, rimless spectacles. Will finder kindly leave same at 169 S. Fourth street (Falley Seminary). 1-wk

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Apartment with all conveniences for house-keeping at 419 Buffalo street. Inquire on premises or write E. G. Hubbard, 2525 Pacific Ave., Atlantic City, N. J.

Public Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 — FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1908 — VOL. 41: NO. 18

You can do business BY MAIL with the

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

Easily, Safely and Without Expense

No waiting your turn at the Teller's Window.

We accept on deposit checks on New York, Albany, Boston, Philadelphia and Syracuse without charge, and will send you draft on New York when you wish to withdraw.

We are paying 4 per cent on all accounts and give you better terms than most banks do

Send for Leaflet, "Banking By Mail."

OSWEGO COUNTY FAIR.

Ideal weather, splendid attractions and first class exhibits made the Oswego County Fair which closed on Friday, one of the most satisfactory from every viewpoint of any before held by the association.

Thursday was a record breaking day in point of attendance, "standing room only" being found on the grounds from early in the morning until sunset. The farmers were there; the city residents were there with their friends, and last but not least, the glad hand of the politician and the would-be-politician of all political faiths were in evidence and in numbers.

The exhibitors made good showings and sold considerable goods in addition. The tuberculosis exhibit attracted a great deal of attention. Prof. Robinson and his lion, Nero, occupied the center of the stage every afternoon and there was no monotony about their exhibition. The first day his lionship landed on the roof of Mr. Howe's residence on the west side where he awaited the arrival of his master. On Thursday some one bungled and when the balloon with its animal and human freight was well up in the air, the parachute belonging to the man dropped and opening acted as a drag, beside obstructing the view for the man. The aeronaut, appreciating the peril of his position, cut the useless parachute and the lion loose. The animal landed in safety but it was by supreme effort that Prof. Robinson managed to let the hot air escape from the balloon a little at a time, and to effect a safe although abrupt landing near the water works plant. On Friday Prof. Robinson was so unfortunate as to land in the canal near the Hunter Arms factory and he was being borne under the water in an entanglement of ropes and parachute when his perilous position was discovered and he was pulled ashore.

It would be unfair to Dr. Mary Walker not to list her among the curios at the Fair. The doctor made a speech from the acrobats platform on Wednesday and then hastened away to the Elks reunion in Oswego.

But the biggest attraction of all was the presence of the Second Battalion of the Twenty Fourth Infantry and their volunteer band, under the command of Captain Jenks. The men lived in true army style and their camp presented a picturesque appearance. They gave drills each afternoon before the grand stand which elicted frequent applause from all within seeing distance.

The gate receipts were more satisfactory than for several years and had the change in the price of season tickets been more generally understood, the attendance would have been larger. The $1.25 for a season ticket, admitting a man, his wife, children and horse and carriage to the grounds during the four days, is not exhorbitant nor is it as much as is charged at many County Fairs throughout the State. The price of twenty-five cents for a single ticket remained unchanged. Altogether the association and its officers have cause to be pleased with the Fair of 1908 from every standpoint unless it be a financial one. The finances have not yet been figured up, but it is thought that the receipts will run ahead of past years while disbursements in the matter of free tickets, etc., are very much less.

For the State Fair at Syracuse, the Lackawanna has arranged special train service and low rates, trains stopping at entrance to grounds. Ask Agent for information regarding time, &c.

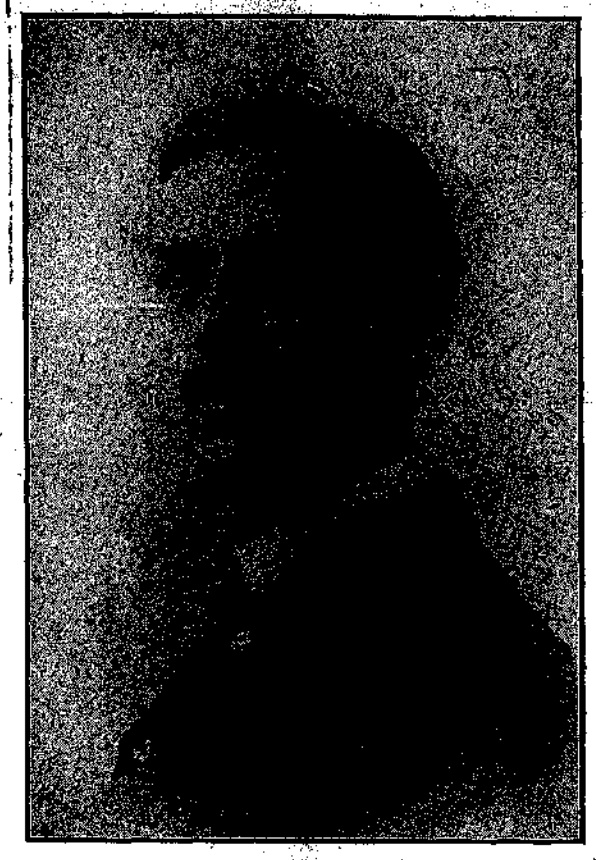
TAG DAY.

Wednesday was tag day in Fulton for the benefit of the Fulton hospital and it was a success beyond the highest hopes of the Ladies Auxiliary, under whose directorship it was given. Over $700 was netted the cause as the result of the generosity of the citizens and Fair visitors and the efforts of the ladies and their assistants. The merchants freely purchased the window tags at $1.00 each and eighty were disposed of on Tuesday. More would have been sold if the supply had not become exhausted. Red Cross banners fluttered from automobiles and carriages, and every delivery wagon, passenger transfer and private carriage as well as every man, woman and child and many dogs wore the red cross tags. The event was well planned and skillfully executed and while no one gave beyond their inclination or what they were able, a substantial sum was realized.

Taken as a whole, tag day was certainly a success.

Card of Appreciation.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fulton Hospital wish to acknowledge the generosity of the public on tag day. The total receipts being seven hundred and ninety-two dollars (792.00).



The following persons and firms who are deserving of especial mention are as follows: Oswego Falls Agricultural Society, W. J. Watson, use of store; Dr. Herbert Lake, use of tent; Mr. A. E. Worden, painting banners; W. H. Patterson, placards; Morrill Bros., store tags; Editors of Times, Patriot and Observer and reporters for Syracuse papers, advertising; McRae & Son and Sterling Stove Co., bread; the chaperons, young ladies, and young gentlemen, who gave up the day for soliciting, and the gentlemen who assisted with cars, Messrs. Hunter, Dilts and Mead.

TWO DROWNED IN CANAL.

About eight o'clock on Tuesday evening of last week, Harry Smith, who came to Fulton from Otto about a month ago and entered the employ of the Victoria Paper Company, reported for work at the mill. Soon after that hour he left to go to the canal bank, ostensibly to see if the steam canal boat had arrived. Some boys on the opposite bank saw him fall into the water and they sounded the alarm but the man was drowned before assistance reached him. He was taken from the water within a few minutes but all efforts to revive him were without avail. The remains were taken to Cole's undertaking rooms and an unsuccessful effort was made to locate friends of the deceased. On Saturday a subscription was taken up among the mill employes and others and the young man was buried.

Joseph Taavernesi, an Italian employed by the Fulton Contracting company, while returning on Wednesday to his quarters in the old Stonebargh grocery building, fell over the canal embankment at the upper landing and was drowned in full view of his friends who were powerless to aid him as the smooth 6-foot stone facing wall at that point made it impossible for anyone to reach him. A pike hook in the hands of Bruce Howe caught in his clothing soon after he disappeared for the last time and he was brought to land. The remains were taken to Cole's undertaking rooms and the funeral was held from the Catholic church on Saturday. Interment was made in St. Mary's.

Coroner Marsh was called in both instances and gave verdicts of accidental drowning.

HON. GEORGE H COBB

SENATORIAL CONVENTION

Hon. George H. Cobb of Watertown Becomes the Unanimous Choice of the Delegates of the 35th Senatorial District---Harmony and Fair Dealing Characterize Deliberations.

The Senatorial convention for the 35th Senatorial District was held in Watertown on Wednesday and Hon. George H. Cobb of that city became the unanimous choice of the convention to succeed himself as Senator from the district as newly formed to be composed of the counties of Jefferson and Oswego.

The matter of representation between the counties was taken up prior to the convention, and Col. Mott and Judge Stowell told the delegates of the action of Oswego county at their convention last June and of the work of the special committee appointed by the convention, Messrs. Stowell, Mott and H. P. Allen, in their efforts for fair dealing and harmony between the counties. Judge Stowell did not think that the special committee had any power to fix the representation for all time but that the regular committee appointed by the convention about to be called should take up and settle the question. Following several conferences a resolution was adopted to unanimously nominate Senator Cobb to succeed himself and to leave the matter of representation to the next Senatorial committee to be composed of six members, Judge Stowell, W. A. Robbins, and Harry M. Stacey of Oswego and G. H. Wood, F. S. Kenyon and F. M. Hugo of Jefferson being named, and that this evenly divided committee will have charge of the convention and matters pertaining thereto two years hence.

Attorney Elisha B. Powell of Oswego became chairman of the convention; secretaries, M. C. Worts of Oswego and O. M. Owens of Jefferson; tellers, D. O. Whitney of Oswego and Gary Vrooman of Jefferson. The officers were brought before the Convention by Dr. Leroy Hollis of Oswego and D. C. Middleton of Jefferson.

The committee on resolutions was composed of Messrs. W. B. VanAllen, D. S. Middleton and A. D. Lowe of Jefferson and W. A. Robbins, D. S. Burleigh and F. D. Culkin of Oswego.

Mayor Hugo of Watertown placed Hon. George H. Cobb in nomination in a speech which was enthusiastically received by the convention. He spoke of him as a citizen, as a legislator and a Christian. Mr. Cobb's nomination was seconded by Capt. F. D. Culkin of Oswego who made a brilliant speech. He paid high tribute to Senator Cobb and pledged him the earnest support of the Republicans in Oswego county. He then moved that the secretary cast one vote for Senator Cobb.

The resolutions adopted by the convention were eulogistic of Governor Hughes, Congressman Knapp, Senator Cobb and State Committeeman Mott.

A committee composed of Gary Wood of Jefferson and D. O. Whitney of Oswego, escorted Senator Cobb before the convention where he made a speech of acceptance, ringing with earnestness for the Republican cause and gratitude for his selection to fill the important office of Senator from this most important district. In concluding he said in part: "I assure you that if I am chosen to fill this important office you shall at my hands receive the best services that my humble talents can bestow."

George H. Cobb, who was nominated last Wednesday at Watertown as the candidate of the 35th Senatorial District composed of Jefferson and Oswego counties, has already served two terms of two years each in that office as the representative of Lewis and Jefferson counties. Mr. Cobb was born in the town of Hounsfield, Jefferson county, in 1864.

His childhood and youth were spent on his father's farm near Sackets Harbor. At an early age he began teaching in the country schools of his county and later took a course and was graduated from the Potsdam State Normal School in June 1886.

Mr. Cobb served for two years as the principal of the graded school at Hammond, N. Y., and then entered the office of Lansing & Roberts at Watertown to pursue the study of law. This firm at the time consisted of the Hon. Fred Lansing who at one time represented this Senatorial district in the Legislature, and Watson M. Rogers, now a Justice of the Supreme Court. Mr. Cobb was admitted to the bar in 1891 and shortly thereafter was appointed Deputy County Clerk. He held this position a year and the following year was elected City Judge of Watertown. After serving a full term of four years in that office he was chosen District Attorney of Jefferson County and so capably did he fill that position that he was re-elected. Mr. Cobb was serving the last year of his second term when he was called by the people of his district to the Senate. In the election of 1904, he was elected receiving 16,248 votes to 9,562 votes for his Democratic opponent, Dr. Cyrus P. Kirley. Mr. Cobb was re-elected to the Senate in 1906 by an increased majority.

Mr. Cobb has served on several of the important committees of the Senate and has become one of the leaders of that distinguished body. He has been a consistent and earnest supporter of Governor Hughes in the several measures recommended by the Chief Executive, notably the removal of Superintendent Kelsey, the Public Service law and the anti-race track gambling bill. Mr. Cobb has attained considerable prominence throughout the State from the formulation and introduction in the Legislature by him of the Marriage License Law which took effect last January.

He is quite well-known in Oswego county.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

Fancy Yellow Delaware Peaches
Fancy Jersey Sweet Potatoes
Late Valentia Oranges

Rosemary Creamery Butter In One-Pound Prints
Finest Butter Made

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

Peculiar Circumstance.

The Common Council is confronted by a peculiar circumstance in connection with paying Contractor Edwin R. Foster for his labor in the erection of the shed in the rear of the City Hall. The Carpenters Union has served notices upon the City Chamberlain and the City Clerk forbidding them to pay or cause to be paid, Mr. Foster's bills; the Union contending that in violation of State law the contract for the erection of the building was let with out the 8-hour clause and that the men employed by Mr. Foster worked nine hours a day. The law forbids employes on public works to labor over 8-hours a day. The Union also contends that no contract was let for the construction of the shed but that the contractor went ahead and did the work in accordance with plans and specifications furnished by the city.

The Union says in case the bills of Mr. Foster are audited by the Common Council, that a tax payers action will be brought against the members voting to audit the bills, to recover the amount of money paid to Mr. Foster.

PROHIBITION TICKET.

The State and National nominees as selected at the State and National conventions recently held, are as follows: President, E. W. Chafin; vice president, A. S. Watkins; governor, Dr. George E. Stockwell; secretary of state, Edgar T. Welch; state comptroller, H. L. Hoyt; Treasurer, William J. Richardson; Attorney General, Alfred L. Maniere; Engineer and Surveyor, Albert W. Pierson.

Clarence E. Pitts has been re-elected Chairman of the State Committee and Claude A. Duvall was elected secretary of the State Committee to succeed George D. Harger who will remove to Chicago.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Board at its Monday evening meeting, decided to pave Cayuga street, between Second and Third streets, with vitrified brick made by the New York Brick and Paving company. A selection was made from samples submitted. It is stipulated by the Board that the brick will only be accepted ribbed that horses may find an easier footing. The brick will cost $17 per thousand and work will be commenced as soon as the paving material can be secured.

PATHFINDER ISLAND.

Field Day, September 11, 1908.
Menu.

Baked Fresh Ham
Apple Sauce
Creamed Potatoes
Hot Rolls
Spaghetti
Pumpkin Pie Cheese
Coffee Milk
Music and Dancing

The Fluffy Ruffles 5c cigars are sold by V. C. Lewis, Cayuga street.

ELECTION OFFICIALS.

The following have qualified as election officials to serve at the general election to be held in November:

Republicans — Inspectors, First ward, Byron Cole, John Sherman; Second ward, W. H. Thompson, Fred Cook; Third ward, Hubert L. Gilman, Clinton H. Hulett; Fourth ward, Fred P. Keeler, Albert B. Mason; Fifth ward, David Van Buren, D. E. Spencer; Sixth ward, Albert Rowlee, Charles Johnson; ballot clerks, First ward, Fred E. Bache; Second ward, John Dingle; Third ward, William P. Cary; Fourth ward, Harold T. Keeler; Fifth ward, ————; Sixth ward, Benjamin Ingersoll; poll clerks, First ward, Allen Harwood; Second ward, Cleve Denesha; Third ward, Roy H. Kelly; Fourth ward, Harry L. Stout; Fifth ward, F. A. Mathias; Sixth ward, J. Percy Waugh.

Democrats—Inspectors, First ward, Joseph Murphy, Sumner Carroll; Second ward, John Donohue, John Mott; Third ward, Eugene Kimball, Patrick Coleman; Fourth ward, Fred Easton, Ernest J. Smith; Fifth ward, Bernard Doyle, B. M. Hubbard; Sixth ward, George B. Deuel, John Doyle; ballot clerks, First ward, Frank Crahan; Second ward, John Hartnett; Third ward, Kinney Barnes; Fourth ward, Edmund T. Osborn; Fifth ward, Irving Taylor; poll clerks, First ward, James Casey; Second ward, Frank Culkin; Third ward, E. M. Austin; Fouth ward, James H. Brooks; Fifth ward, Russell Draper; Sixth ward, William Brannan.

The Common Council has designated the polling places as follows: First ward, Langdon's barn; Second ward, Murphy's hall; Third ward, Division Street Hose House; Fourth ward, Universalist church; Fifth ward, City Hall; Sixth ward, Freeman's boat factory.

Desirable Post Cards.

A prominent photographer has completed what he calls "A Photographic Tour of the Steamer Hendrick Hudson." These photographs have been reproduced on post-cards, and, together, with their captions, give quite a good idea of the interior of the boat. There are seventeen in the set, which will be mailed from the Day Line Office, at Desbrosses Street Pier, New York, on receipt of twenty cents; or they may be purchased on board the steamer.

INDUSTRY PROSPEROUS.

The Fulton Toilet Paper company of this city is planning to enlarge its recently purchased plant by erecting a wing, 30x70 feet. Contractors are at present figuring on the work. The company has just installed a printing plant and will hereafter print their own labels, etc. Their rapidly increasing business shows a return to normal business conditions and they now have two men traveling in the interest of the concern, throughout the United States.

This company has recently opened an export office in New York City. It is located at No. 97 Warren street, Room No. 83, and Mr. W. H. Addoms is in charge. The Times office has just completed a high class catalogue for the company, showing samples of the different tissues put out by them and containing registered cable code words for each of the 23 brands put out by the house, with their prices. These catalogues will go all over the civilized world from the New York office.

One of these catalogues will be sent to any interested party or may be secured by calling at the office in this city.

The company is officered as follows: William G. A. Pelley, president; W. Dudley Pelley, General Superintendent; Paul Greenwood, treasurer.

Special Train Service

TO THE

...State Fair...

VIA

LACKAWANNA RAILROAD

September 15, 16, 17 and 18

Leaves Fulton at 9:21 a. m. and lands you

Directly at Main Entrance to Grounds without change

FARE FROM FUTTON

90c For tickets good going on regular or special train Sept. 14th to 19th, inclusive, and to return same day or following day.

$1.20 For tickets good on regular or special trains, Sept. 12th to 19th inclusive, and return up to Sept. 21st, 1908.

Returning, Special Train Leaves Syracuse at 10:20 p. m.

FROZEN CAVALRY

"Norm" Cooper Recalls Some Interesting Incidents Preceding the Second Battle of Bull Run.

The Potomac army was a gallant set, we were in fine fettle as a wood pile, till there was a fight on, then we took pains to render ourselves out of danger all we could, like all the rest, "except the brave ones." The army prided itself on its style. We were no slouches, each man was endowed with the love of liberty and human happiness, especially the H. H. Dainty in attire we felt our oats, our bath tubs of collapsion intrigue would open or shut for water, soup, and on Mondays they were wash receptacles; salves and medicines and porous plasters were in our haversacks and we were always ready for treason, stratagem and spoil, or spoils.

Just before the second battle of Bull Run we were on picket duty, and the subscriber was planted by a big tree near a road at night, and told to keep back all intruders or get the password. It was a ticklish job and we expected every minute would be our next. Along about the time ghosts take their moon bath, we felt a little rain, which soon turned into sleet and our teeth rattled out with the cold. We put them back a few times, we exercised all we could, but the terrible cold tortured us and we seemed stiff with icicles. All at once we heard horses approaching slowly. It scared the icicles from our gun as we raised it for a challenge and with all the voice we could muster we said, "Who comes there." No reply but the echo of the hoofs upon the frozen ground. Again we yelled, "Who comes there," and to our astonishment they were nearly upon us. We stepped to the leading horse and in an instant took in the situation, the Confederate rider was frozen to his saddle. To make a short story of it, we captured 234 of Stewart's cavalrymen, took them to the rear, put them in bath tubs and brought them to life, health, and the pursuit of happiness except two who were too long. We had to cut off their heads or legs, am not positive which. The exploit was known to but few, and we begged General Grant not to mention it in general orders and he did not. Our modesty will perhaps be sensatively crushed and stamped upon by liars, but we have heard it remarked that the private soldiers were yet to be heard from, to make history perfect, and so we lean towards accuracy for the sake of generations tinctured with laxness. A few days afterwards we were in line of battle charging upon a rebel battery. The subscriber had noticed the guns and had arranged to carum, but in the excitement of being kept in line by the captain's sword applied to the sole of his pants he forgot the guns and was hit by a shell. He felt it enter his stomach, but quickly clapped his hands to his back and held it in; put on a plaster before and behind, caught up with the regiment and planted Old Glory on the ramparts. Similar incidents ought to be written by the rank and file so the historian of the sweet by and by will know where we are at. No liars need apply. I am still in the pension business.

Norm G. Cooper,
Co. E, 24th N. Y. Infantry.
Oberlin, Ohio.

She Drew the Line.

Seeking redress for domestic troubles, a negro woman who resembled nothing so much as she did the "before taking" half of an antifat remedy appeared at court.

"I's a wronged woman," she hissed in a give-me-back-those-papers voice. "Ah want redress."

"What's the trouble?" inquired the sympathetic judge.

"It's 'bout man ole man. He's done been cayin' on high wif a lot uv deese niggah gals, an' it's got so bad (will Ah don' see him more'n once a week. Somephin's got t' be done!"

The judge's eye held a crafty gleam. "You are seeking a divorce—a legal separation?" he questioned.

"Go 'long, man! Divo'ce nothin'! Think I'm gwine t' gin him what he wants and 'low dat man who dispote all his cusseduess is de handsomest niggah in Kansas City t' go skyshootin' roun' 'mong deni gals? No, sah. Ah don' want no divo'ce ner dat legal septitution yer's talkin' 'bout. What Ah wants is an injunction!"—Kansas City Independent.

Mary Was Spoiled.

A doctor in one of the West Philadelphia children's homes tells the story of a woman who came to him one day in a most perturbed state of mind. She had taken home her daughter of five years the week previous, after a stay of a year in the home, and found she had an elephant on her hands. "Oh, sir," she said to the doctor, "whatever can I do with Mary? You have made her far too grand for her own home. Why, the first day she was back she refused to be dressed in the morning till she had a bath; then she would eat no breakfast whatever because she wanted fruit and some 'serious food' first, and, last of all, she put a saucer of water at her place at the table and she dips her fingers in that every few minutes. Sure, doctor, I don't know what I'll do," and the woman passed out, shaking her head as if the problem was certainly too much for her.—Philadelphia Record.

The Poor Member.

"Brother Lastly," said the spokesman, "I have an unpleasant duty to perform. There is a report that you have said that one of the best and most worthy members of our congregation is unable to attend service often on account of not having good enough clothes. We have come to ask the name of that member. We don't know of any such person, and a report of that kind is likely to reflect upon us as a congregation that does not look after its poor but worthy members. Will you tell me who it is?"

"Certainly, brethren," replied the Rev. Mr. Lastly, with a brave attempt to be cheerful, "it's my wife."

Playing Goethe Three Ways.

"I made a bad break today."

"How was that?"

"There is a Chicago woman visiting Julia Dean, and while I was there she insisted upon talking about Gerty. Pretty soon I asked her if Gerty was her daughter. You should have seen her flare up! And then I somehow found out she meant Goaty."

"Who?"

"Oh, you know—the great German author."—Somerville Herald.

His Modest Request.

A man once asked Thackeray to lend him 5 shillings, which he would convert into £20,000. Asked how, he explained that he knew a young woman with £20,000 who he knew would marry him if he asked her, but he had pawned his teeth and wanted 5 shillings to redeem them in order to propose effectively.

Books and Titles.

The more accomplished way of using books at present is to serve them as some do lords—learn their titles and then boast of their acquaintance.—Jonathan Swift.

Our lives are half spent before we know what living means.—New York Press.

TAFT'S KINDNESS TO BLIND.

Overrules Washington Monument Regulation For Benefit of the Sightless.

The kind heartedness of Mr. Taft and his sincere, common sense sympathy with the unfortunates in this world has just been brought to the attention of the blind in a peculiar way.

Away up in the top of the Washington monument, where thousands go to behold the beauties of the nation's capital, the Columbia Polytechnic institute, which seeks to make it possible for the adult blind of the United States to rise above conditions of dependence by becoming self sustaining, placed on sale souvenir post cards manufactured by its blind. Some sentimental persons took the view that this was undignified and succeeded in having the superintendent of public buildings and grounds order the cards removed. F. H. Cleaveland, principal of the institute, appealed to Mr. Taft, then secretary of war and within whose jurisdiction came the office of public buildings and grounds. It took only a few words to convince the secretary that the blind should have the benefit of this privilege, and the cards were again placed on sale in the monument.

"For this action," said Principal Cleaveland in discussing the incident, "Mr. Taft deserves the gratitude of every blind person, particularly the progressive blind, who are striving to help their less fortunate fellows."

ANTI-NEGRO PLANKS IN WEST VIRGINIA DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Jim Crow Plank.

We favor the enactment of a law requiring common carriers engaged in passenger traffic to furnish separate coaches or compartments for white and colored passengers.

Elective Franchise Plank.

Believing that the extension of the elective franchise to a race inferior in intelligence and without preparation for the wise and prudent exercise of a privilege so vital to the maintenance of good government was a mistake if not a crime committed by the Republican party during the reign of passion and prejudice following the civil war for political ends and purposes, we declare that the Democratic party is in favor of so amending the constitution as to preserve the purity of the ballot and the electorate of the state from the evil results from conferring such power and privilege upon those who are unfitted to appreciate its importance, as it affects the stability and preservation of good government.

Taft's Religion.

To dispose of questions which should not be asked as speedily as possible let us say that Mr. Taft is not a Roman Catholic. He is a member of the Unitarian church. That was the church of his parents, and he has never separated himself from it. His wife, however, is an Episcopalian, and he worships more often beside her in her church.

These are the facts, which are utterly and absolutely unimportant. The matter of a man's religion has no rightful place in consideration of his fitness for the presidency. The constitution of the nation, ordained and established "to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," expressly places the very suggestion of such thought outside the pale of patriotism.

No words can be clearer than these from our country's fundamental law, "No religious test ever shall be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States."

The numerous queries about Mr. Taft's religious belief show simply the extent to which his enemies have gone to rouse some prejudice against him. Since there was no spot upon his whole clean record of private conduct and public service to which they could point to Taft's detriment they displayed their willingness to descend to any depth of petty, cowardly, contemptible attack that might do him harm.—Philadelphia North American.

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets Fulton, N. Y.

Has just received Remnants Dress Goods, from a Tailoring house in Syracuse

These remnants are to be sold for half their original price.

School holds session from 2 till 5 every afternoon, and Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Come and visit the school and see how we draft patterns to fit the figure; no alterations necessary.

No guesswork.
No fitting of garments.
No hanging of skirts.

We teach the newest tailoring methods in the construction of garments.

Each pupil learns on her own material, thus securing stylish clothing for herself while acquiring the ART of DRESSMAKING.

Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

Amenities of the Campaign

How Some of the Candidates Would Look In the New Prince of Wales Felt Topper.

Testing Mr. Bryan's New Mascot—Other Humors of the War of the Politicians.

THE Democratic nominee for president now has a mascot, an educated mule, a cultured beast, trained to sound his loud notes in tones of melody. He was presented to Mr. Bryan by B. T. Nelson of Minneapolis. Soon after the mule's arrival at Fairview an opportunity was presented to test his efficiency. In the newspaper colony was a rotund, rosy individual who had been free to assert that he could ride the mule, no matter how obstinate and tricky the mascot might prove. Mr. Bryan gave him a chance to make good the very day of the animal's appearance. The Democratic standard bearer clapped his big slouch hat on his head and led the procession around to the barn. It included newspaper men, neighbors, photographers, visitors who had come to do homage to the shrine of Democracy, farm hands and children. The mule was given an open bridle, so that he could see all his rider tried to do, and led forth.

"Now, major," said Mr. Bryan, "let's see you make your promise good."

The newspaper man with a wary eye inserted one foot in the stirrup. The mule danced around, and the adventurer fell out. The cameras clicked, and the audience cheered.

MR. BRYAN IN THE NEW PRINCE OF WALES TOPPER.

Recovering, the rider got his leg across the mule's back. The intelligent animal ducked with its fore legs, arched its back and threw its hind legs out in the atmosphere. The rosy and rotund rider arose in the air perpendicularly. There were no somersaults, no parabolas, no curves. He just sailed in a straight line toward the empyrean.

He descended in a straight line, too, struck on his head and fell over with a bang, landing everywhere from his knees to his chest. The photographers, who had got some pictures of the heroic rider putting his foot in the stirrup, were so scared when he went up in the air like a catapult that they forgot to press the button. The major was escorted to the house by Mr. Bryan, who did the proper thing in the way of liniment.

Mr. Bryan announced he had decided to name the mule "Major Minna Mascot." The word "Major" is to represent the man who bestrode the mule, "Minna" is to represent Minnesota, which contributed the animal, and "Mascot" explains itself.

[Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.]
DOCKSTADER AS ROOSEVELT.

The proper thing in England now is the Prince of Wales felt "topper." If all the candidates for president and vice president in this country could be arrayed in this headgear, it would make an interesting lineup. It would not make Judge Taft look so unnatural because he wears silk hats a good deal. Tall hats are becoming to a man of his build. They increase his height, and his breadth is not then so much noticed. But the public would scarcely know Mr. Bryan in a silk hat or in a new felt topper. The slouch hat which he usually wears seems a part of the man. He has rarely worn a tall hat except at weddings and funerals. Once in his youth he did effect a style of this sort, but not for long. He tells it this way:

JUDGE TAFT IN THE NEW STYLE TALL HAT.

"I was about eighteen years old when the beaver hat fever struck me. I invested $2.25 of my limited resources in one. I wore it home one night as the folks were being seated for supper. They all looked up at me and laughed. Nobody said a word, but the laugh was enough. I never wore the hat again, and even now if I put on one I feel uncomfortable."

Candidate Kern likes the same sort of soft felt hats as Mr. Bryan. Indiana politicians never recall seeing the vice presidential candidate under a tall hat. He wears fedora shaped felt hats of black and pearl colors and a panama creased in the same way.

One of Mr. Kern's favorite stories is about the funeral of a distinguished citizen of Muncie, Ind. It was decreed that the pallbearers should wear silk hats, but the decree had to be called off because there were only five silk hats in the town and there were eight pallbearers.

There seems to be a disposition all around in this campaign to take things good naturedly. Judge Taft is famous for his laugh, and he does not mind being called "Bill." His opponent has a smile that is a winner too. So has Norman E. Mack, manager of Mr. Bryan's campaign. His smile is almost as inerasable as that of his predecessor as national chairman, Tom Taggart, whose grin was guaranteed not to come off. "Bill" is a name of endearment to which both the presidential candidates respond.

[Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.]
BICKEL AS BRYAN.

One of the hits of the campaign is the skit of the noted comedian Bickel and the popular minstrel Dockstader in a takeoff of Bryan and Roosevelt. Bickel impersonating the former and Dockstader the latter.

FULTON BUSINESS

We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company
Main St. West, Corner Exchange St.
Rochester, N. Y.
Resources over $21,000,000.00

The 1000 Islands

Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence River by Daylight

Star-Cole Line Steamer "Arundell"

Leave Olcott Beach, N. Y., Sundays 5 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:45 p. m.

Leave Charlotte, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 8:50 a. m., Sodus Point, N. Y., 11:45 a. m., North Fair Haven, N. Y., 1:15 p. m., Oswego, N. Y., 3 p. m., landing at all the principal Thousand Island Resorts, returning alternate days.

Note the following Low Rates to Thousand Island Points.

From Olcott Beach	round trip	$5.00
From Charlotte	round trip	4.50
From Sodus Point	round trip	4.00
From N. Fair Haven	round trip	3.75
From Oswego	round trip	3.00

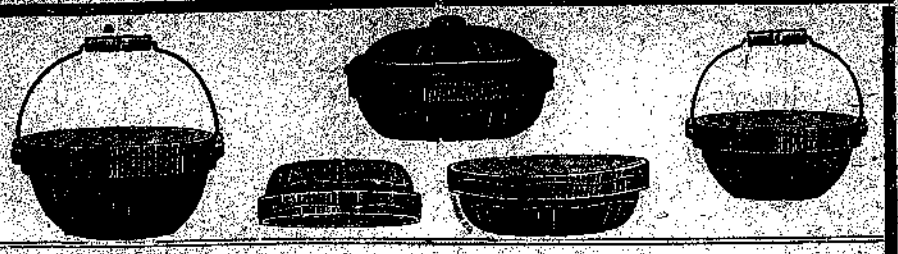
For Special Excursion Rates, Hotel and Boarding House Lists and all information, write

ROBERT MAXWELL, Traffic Manager
Charlotte, N. Y.

In effect from Charlotte June 17. Olcott Beach July 7th.
9-12

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY



A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50
All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

CHANDLER'S STORY

Who "Moggs" Was—Corporal Wing's Futile But Heroic Effort to Save the Colors of the 24th Infantry.

Editor Times:—I have been asked who Moggs was. Moggs, you know, was the one of whom I wrote in a recent sketch, as having developed from a good deal of a nuisance to the hero of Company C. "Moggs of Company C" was a character sketch. Every Company in the Army had its Moggs in one form or another. Men, who started out a little too fresh to suit the average crowd, but who in turn struck their gait, so to speak, and settled down into a good all 'round soldier.

The Company in which the 24th N. Y. Infantry participated, which began August 18, '62 with the retrograde movement from Cedar Mountain, Va., and ended September 2nd within the defenses of Washington, developed a good many heroes and this developing was done under adverse circumstances.

At that time it was considered that Pope's Army met with an inglorious defeat, brought about through mismanagement on his part and the part of his chief officers, but as time went by it became apparent that he done all that a general could do under the circumstances and that had those, who had been sent to his aid, done one-half as well as he did, the defeat would have been turned into a victory. There was more "glory" achieved in an hour's time on Lookout Mountain November 24, '63 by Hooker's army than there was by Pope's whole army during that retrograde movement from Cedar Mountain back to Washington.

Let any one say, "I was wounded at Groveton or Second Bull Run August 28th, 29th or 30th, 1862" and it doesn't signify anywhere as much as it would to say, "I was wounded at Lookout Mountain 'way above the clouds," or "I was wounded at Gettysburg, or Vicksburg or Appomattox."

The less glory in a battle the more of a hero, because the intention to do daring deeds is,—or was in that campaign,—smothered under the mismanagement of those who had it in charge.

It is a proud satisfaction to me that I carried the colors of the 24th N. Y. Cavalry at Appomattox and that there were two holes shot through the flag after we received the orders to "cease firing," but the desperate struggle of Corporal Wing of Company H to save the flag of the 24th Infantry at Graveton the night of August 29th, '62, was far more heroic. After Sergeants Bell and Hand of Company C had been shot down, Wing seized the colors but was soon wounded and surrounded by the enemy, but though faint from the loss of blood, he tried to tear the flag from the staff and conceal it about his person, but as there were too many after it it was captured by Private Northcutt of the 18th Georgia Regiment. Did the men of the 24th lose their flag through cowardice? Not on your life did they lack bravery, but through circumstances over which they had no control they were overpowered by vastly superior numbers and suffered the loss of their flag.

The number of their dead and wounded, which exceeded that of any other regiment in the army except the 2nd Wisconsin, tells the story of their bravery. Anyone who was with the regiment at that time will tell you that they were in the wide open jaws of death and that it was either stand right up to the work and give shot for shot or stand a chance to have their bones bleach on that ill fated field.

Company's E, Fulton's first company, lost at that time in killed and wounded, eight out of a total present for duty of about twenty.

I hope to in a later sketch give a list of those who were killed and wounded at that time with a brief account of the circumstances in each case.

S. E. CHANDLER.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 25, 1908.

CAPT. PRESTON'S GENEROSITY

Valuable Mementos of the Civil War Sent to Post Schenck Through Comrade F. C. Mosier.

Dear Mosher:

Not until to-night did I receive your letter of the 18th ult. It was in a drawer to which I did not have access, having come while I was away, and no notice given me.

I was very sorry to learn of your sickness, but rejoice that you were able to write the letter, from which I conclude that you were on the road to recovery. I trust you have quite recovered your normal good health again, and that this will find you young and frisky as of old.

I am sending you some material by express for the Post room, which I think will prove interesting.

There is in the package two volumes of "Pennsylvania at Gettysburg," the colored plates of all the Corps Badges, the small map of the Valley Forge Park Grounds, and some of the "Taps," reproductions from pen and ink work made by me; one for you, one for the Commander of the Post, and one (in envelope) for my friend, Darwin Styles, if living. I have heard nothing from him for so long that I fear he may have passed away. I sincerely hope not. The large blue print of the battle field of Gettysburg I send separately, as I do not like to fold it.

The books are new, and I think will be a valuable addition to the Post library. I suppose you have the "New York at Gettysburg." I am at a loss to understand why the copies of "Taps" I sent to the Commander and you were not received. Some one must have taken them from the mail.

Give to the comrades of the Post the best wishes of one who has always kept them affectionately in mind.

I was in Gettysburg last week, attending a reunion of my regiment. There were but few of the old boys there, but those that were present enjoyed the visit to their old stamping ground very much, for you know, that in addition to the regiment being present at the battle, it was stationed there in 1861. It arrived there Christmas night, 1861, and remained until the following March. The citizens had never seen an organization of soldiers larger than a company at the time of our advent. Most of the people with whom I became acquainted there at that time have departed to, I trust, that better land, but I enjoyed reminiscenses with some few I met.

Colonel Nicholson, head of the Gettysburg Commission, is an old friend of mine. He kindly drove me over the field, explaining in detail the wonderful work that the Government, under his direction, has done. Already about one million dollars has been expended, and every dollar of it has been well placed. It is a beautiful and highly instructive point to visit.

Yes, I should have been delighted to have attended the re-union of the 24th and 147th regiments. It would have been very enjoyable. I lingered at the shaft of the 147th regiment at Gettysburg and remarked to those with me of the great gallantry displayed by the regiment on that occasion.

I see my type ribbon has got over on to the red ink part. It will not prevent your reading the letter, however.

Let me hear from you when you receive the package, which I trust will reach you all right.

Yours truly,
N. D. Preston.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2, 1908.

Only a little cold in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of Nasal Catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed stuffed up air-passages. Price, 50c. If you prefer to use an atomizer, ask for Liquid Cream Balm. It has all the good qualities of the solid form of this remedy and will rid you of catarrh or hay fever. No cocaine to breed a dreadful habit. No mercury to dry out the secretion. Price 75c., with spraying tube. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

The Reason.

"Why doesn't Smith call in his family physician? Has he lost confidence in him?"

"No; the doctor has lost confidence in Smith!"—Lippincott's.

Kernology.

It is said the Democratic vice presidential candidate is not a vegetarian after all. Kernivorous, eh? Help! Police!—New York Mail.

Not a Wail For Bryan.

"Let us have the worst," says the Brooklyn Eagle. That sounds like, though it isn't a declaration for Bryan.—New York Tribune.

Candidate Sherman has been presented with a loving cup. The next thing in order is to present Candidate Kern with a shaving cup.—Omaha Bee.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss
LUCAS COUNTY. }

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

(SEAL.) A. W. GLEASON,
NOTARY PUBLIC

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Campaign Funds.

"We welcome Mr. Taft to this advanced ground," said Mr. Bryan in one of his numerous interviews since the Denver convention. The ground referred to is Mr. Taft's statement that no campaign contributions would be received from corporations. Mr. Bryan intended to convey the impression that Mr. Taft had come to that determination after the Denver convention. In that the Democratic "peerless one" is not honest. Mr. Taft is a law abiding citizen. Such contributions are unlawful, made so by a law passed by a Republican congress at the instance of a Republican administration of which Judge Taft was a part six months before the Denver convention. Be honest, Mr. Bryan, if you can!

The Final Shock.

Patient—Doctor, I don't think I can use the battery any more. Will it be necessary to shock me again? Doctor—Only once more. I'll send in my bill tomorrow.

Wise men read very sharply all your private history in your look and gait and behavior.—Emerson.

For a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

TRYING TO HOODWINK NEGROES

Democrats Pursuing Their Usual Double Faced Policy.

Upholding Disfranchisement in the South While Forming Colored Bryan Clubs in West.

[From the Baltimore Sun, Dem.]

General Winfield S. Hancock, who was the Democratic nominee for president in 1880, declared the tariff was principally a "local question"—that is to say, a Pennsylvania Democrat might be a protectionist for protection's sake, while a Democrat in Georgia or in Iowa might hold fast to the doctrine of a tariff for revenue only. The Massachusetts Democrat might be a free trader without reservation of any kind, while the West Virginia Democrat might be a free trader only with respect to commodities which were not produced by his own state. General Hancock's pronouncement was considered an ingenious evasion of the tariff issue, but it did not produce harmony in the Democratic party, and the general was defeated.

Twenty-eight years have passed since General Hancock defined the tariff as a local question upon which the Democrats of each state were free to act with regard chiefly to local interests. The principle which he then formulated seems to have been adopted by Democrats in the west in respect to the relation of the Democratic party to the negro. Last week the West Virginia Democratic convention embodied in its platform planks demanding certain qualifications for voters, designed to disfranchise many negroes. Their platform also contains a declaration in favor of separate coaches for white and negro passengers on railroads. The West Virginia Democrats not only refuse to hold out the olive branch to the negro and invite him into their fold, but they are determined to limit his political activity by a disfranchising law and to bring him under the operation of a "Jim Crow" law when he travels on the railroads of that state.

What Are the Promises?

Out in Nebraska and in Kansas the Democratic campaign managers are organizing negro voters into Bryan clubs. In Ohio no effort will be spared to secure the support of the negro voters for the Democratic national ticket. What pledges have been given and what inducements have been offered does not appear. But it is a fair inference that the managers have promised to do "something for the negro," perhaps to recognize him in the distribution of offices, if Mr. Bryan should be elected, and also to take such action as the negroes may demand in respect to the reinstatement of the negro battalion dismissed from the army by President Roosevelt for the attack on Brownsville. Last week when the West Virginia Democrats were declaring for a disfranchisement law and for a "Jim Crow" law the Democratic convention in the Twelfth congressional district of Ohio adopted a platform favoring "the enactment of laws which shall accord to all men accused of wrongdoing, whether soldiers or civilians, a fair and impartial trial and an opportunity to be heard before conviction or punishment." This apparently refers to the Brownsville incident. It may also have a broader meaning and, a more extended application and may be susceptible of an interpretation which will make southern Democrats open their eyes with amazement and possibly with apprehension.

Race Question "Local Issue?"

There seems to be no ground for reasonable doubt that the Democratic campaign managers in the west, in the effort to secure negro support for their national ticket, are acting upon the principle that the race question is only a "local issue." It is evident that the south does not approve this plan of campaign, but is powerless to check it. The Democracy of the south is in full accord with the position taken by the West Virginia Democrats last week. And yet it is assumed by those who are trying to get negroes to support Mr. Bryan that the south will act in hearty co-operation with the Ohio, Nebraska, Kansas and Illinois Democrats who are welcoming the negro into free fellowship in the Democratic party and probably promising to annul the decision of President Roosevelt in the Brownsville matter. The theory of western Democrats that the race problem is merely a local issue is calculated to give the south much concern. Many Democrats in that section may question whether it is worth while to elect a Democratic president who may open wide the door of political opportunity to the negro.

Chafin Needs an Ark.

"Never since the flood has water reached such a high tide as at present," says the dry candidate for president. Looks as if he might be swept away in the freshet.

Rattling the Skeleton.

Eugene W. Chafin, the Prohibition candidate, was born in Waukesha, Wisconsin's foremost watering place.—New York Mail.

None of the Bryan phonograph records has the speeches advocating free silver and immediate government ownership of the railways, nor have they the "great commoner's" attacks on Roger Sullivan, Colonel Watterson and Guffey. These omissions tell an important story.

Saturday
September 12

Decorated China Plate
WILL BE THE
SOUVENIR

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 P. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee

SUGARS
REFINERS PRICES

CASH

THE UNUSUAL AS USUAL

IT is very unusual for merchants that use Trading Stamps to give more than one stamp with each 10-cent purchase, but when you trade with Cash Papworth you receive extra stamps on nearly every article.

If you are not acquainted, get acquainted.

Sugar, 10 lbs. (limit, 10 lbs.), . . 54c

TEA—100 chests of unexcelled Japan Tea, equal to if not better than many of the advertised brands that sell at 60c lb., special (40 stamps with each pound), per lb.....40c

COCOANUT—1,000 lbs. of freshly shredded Cocoanut, regular 19c. lb., special .....12½c lb

CHOCOLATE—Quality brand, made from the genuine cocoa bean, half-pound package, with 20 stamps.....20c

CORNSTARCH—100 cases of Archer's perfect Cornstarch, regular price, 10c. Special, 6 packages, 25c. Per package.....5c

PEAS—500 cases of Crest Brand, extra sifted, sugar-melting early June Peas. These Peas we cannot recommend too highly, for they are swee and tender and sold by many of the exclusive dealers at 18c. a can. Special this week only—Dozen, $1.35; can.....12½c

TOMATOES—350 cases of fancy red ripe solid packed Tomatoes. These tomatoes are packed in two-pound cans, just the right size for a medium-sized family. Dozen, 80c; per can.....7c

SALMON—175 cases Owl Brand. This Salmon comes from one of the best packers of the Columbia district. It's the steak part of the fish. Packed in large one-pound cans, and $1.00 worth of stamps 20c

COFFEE—1,000 lbs. fresh from the roaster Mocn and Java blend. This coffee is sold by many of the grocers at 35c lb. Just to more thoroughly introduce this coffee we will give 30 Salt City trading stamps with each pound .....27c lb

MERRY WIDOWS—100 boxes of these delicious honey cakes, fresh from the oven.....10c lb

FIG BARS—200 boxes of delicious cakes, filled with ripe Smyrna fig filling; 3 lbs., 37c.....10c lb

SUN-RISE WASHING FLAKES—Something new; these flakes are guaranteed to save the hands, to save the clothes and to save the soap. It is packed in three sizes: No. 1 pge., 5c; No. 2, 10c; No. 4, 15c., and just to introduce these flakes to our Fulton patrons, we will give away, absolutely free, one box of Dixon stove powder to all persons purchasing a 10c package.

SOAP—Quality brand white floating Soap, equal to the widely advertised white floating soaps; 6 bars, 25c and $1 worth stamps

COTTON MOPS—100 dozen extra large Cotton Mops, 15c each and $1 worth of stamps.

TO THE PUBLIC—We kindly invite you, when in Syracuse on State Fair week, to make our Stamp Parlor on West Genesee street your headquarters. We would be only too pleased to take care of any bundles you might desire to leave with us. Also, to all persons purchasing a bill of groceries, they will receive a coupon which will entitle them to $2 worth of stamps at our Salt City Stamp Store.

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 464 Fulton, N. Y.

The Merry Widow 5c straight cigar is the best low priced cigar on the market. For sale by V. C. Lewis.

CASTORIA.
Bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

[Entered as second class matter, April 2a, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March, 3, 1879.]

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Congress, 28th District
CHARLES L. KNAPP

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. FANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

HON. GEORGE H. COBB RE-NOMINATED.

Skillful engineering at Watertown on Wednesday prevented a breach between the counties of Jefferson and Oswego, in Senatorial matters, and harmony prevails and majorities for the nominee are assured from both counties, where strife had seemed inevitable. In the nomination of Senator George H. Cobb to succeed himself in the State Senate, a man of exceptional ability and of sterling worth has been selected. His legislative record is an enviable one, and experience has made him a valuable asset to Oswego county. It is confidently believed that his pledge in his speech of acceptance that there would be no boundry line between the two counties he was called to represent, whenever his services were required, will be kept with fidelity. And given that belief, Oswego county will roll up an unmistakable majority for Senator Cobb.

BRYAN WANTS TWO MILLION DOLLARS.

The only W. J. Bryan who is first, last, and hopes to be for all time, the whole Democratic party, is calling frantically for money to boost his cause and in the same breath he declares that cause to be already won, even going so far as to give the figures. The Tacoma News says of Bryan's latest appeal: "He says there are eight million citizens who will vote for the Bryan ticket, and that if each one would chip in twenty-five cents the campaign fund would be ample. This is as near as Bryan usually gets on financial propositions. He has his estimate of Bryan votes too high by several millions, for a starter, and his hopes of their liberality are not well founded, even with the ante only twenty-five cents. The question naturally arises, what on earth Bryan wants with two million dollars in a campaign where, according to his views, a large majority for him is already certain."

DIED.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Grove C. Padgett died on Monday and the funeral was held from the home in Second street on Tuesday, the Rev. J. G. York officiating.

Mrs. A. Carey of Buffalo street has brought to the Times office a notice of the death of her cousin, Prof. W. L. Montague, an ex-professor in Amherst college. The deceased, who died on July 27, was well known in educational circles having written several text books of Grammar and languages. He was a very talented man.

Eleanor D., aged 79, wife of Mr. Owen D. Jones of Delta, died on Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Parcell, No. 201 Buffalo street, after a lingering illness. The remains were taken to Rome by Undertaker Brown on Friday and the funeral services were held on Saturday. The immediate survivors are the husband, five sons, Edward O. of Portsmouth, O., Pewertt O. of Holland Patent, David O. of this city, Renfew of Rome and Anson H. of Holland Patent, and four daughters, Mrs. Orton Shaw of Trenton, Mrs. C. L. Parcell of this city, Mrs. E. G. Rudd of Delta and Mrs. George Davis of Rome.

The Enthuso cigar makes an enthusiast out of every man who smokes one. For sale at the V. C. Lewis cigar store, 109 Cayuga street.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Advertised at Fulton, N. Y., September 9, 1908.

Fred M. Howard, L. E. Sheridan, James Martin, Simon Jeremiah, J. G. Donley, Mrs. James H. Martin, Mrs. Lilly King.

Cards, Mrs. Nettie Vine, R. 2; Miss Frances Shaw, Miss Jessie Wilson, Messrs. Dobyns & Mitchell, John W. Gruenburg.

WILLIAM E. HUGHES,
Pobtmaster.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

Women wanted to peel pears, steady work until end of season.

Fort Stanwix Canning Co.

MARRIED

Mr. Allie Dashnean of this city and Miss Gertrude Collins of Volney were united in marriage on August 15, by the Rev. John Richards.

Mr. J. Wilson Hule and Miss Josephine Baldwin, both of Volney, were united in marriage on Monday morning at the parsonage at Mt. Pleasant, the Rev. W. H. Summers officiating.

A pretty evening wedding took place at the home of Mr. Charles G. Albin of this city, on Wednesday, September 2nd, when his sister, Miss Grace Francis Albin, was united in marriage with Mr. Charles Franklin Harris of Auburn, N. Y. The Rev. Lyford S. Boyd of Weedsport was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith M. Albin, of this city and the groom by his brother, Mr. George Harris, of Auburn.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of cream nuns veiling and carried a shower boquet of white asters and sweet peas, while the maid of honor wore pink silk mull and carried pink asters.

The house was tastily decorated with purple and white asters.

After the ceremony, supper was served and the happy couple left on the 9:34 p. m. train for a short trip. They will be at home to their friends after September 20 at No. 134 Franklin street, Auburn, N. Y. Mr. Harris is a wholesale candy manufacturer and Mrs. Harris has been very popular with a large circle of friends in this city, all of whom extend congratulations.

"Fluffy Ruffles" cigars. You wonder how they are made so good and sold so cheap. V. C. Lewis, sole agent for Fulton, 109 Cayuga street.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the State of New York and all other electors without regard to past political affiliations who believe in the principles of the Republican party and endorse its policies, are hereby requested to send delegates to the State Convention to be held at Convention Hall, in the village of Saratoga Springs, on Monday, the 14th day of September, 1908, at 3 o'clock p. m., to nominate candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Attorney General, Treasurer, State Engineer and Surveyor and Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals; and also to nominate candidates for electors to fill vacancies on the electoral ticket, and transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF,
Chairman.
LAFAYETTE B. GLEASON,
Secretary.
New York, August 12, 1908.

In another column the Lackawanna calls attention to their special train service to the State Fair. This train lands you directly at the entrance to the fair grounds without change. Special train will leave Syracuse at 10.20 p. m. to return. Tickets, including admission to ground and to return day following sale, are sold for 90 cts. Ask Lackawanna agent for full information.

The Neva 5c cigar makes a delightful smoke for the men who care. For sale by V. C. Lewis

Same Old Story.

Taft talked "straight talk" to his countrymen about every issue that engrosses the thoughts of Americans today. Bryan promises a series of postscripts to dispose of tariff, railroads, currency, trusts and everything else of real importance. And then he engages in one of his melancholy searches after a "paramount issue" and finds it in the rhetorical, fustian and tinsel platitude, "Shall the people rule?"

It is the old, old story. The garb of the conservative does not sit well upon the born Crusader. Mr. Bryan has put forth a tactful, smoothly phrased bundle of generalities, and he has done so at the very moment when the mental appetite of the whole people is sharpened for strong meat and not wind pudding.

With a score of honestly disputed and important questions open, he chooses deliberately to select as the chief issue of the campaign a query to which there is absolutely no negative response—"Shall the people rule?" The people always have ruled and always will rule.—Philadelphia North American, Aug. 15, 1908.

Reciprocal Boosting.

Judge Parker is laboring for the Bryan cause in California, which recals the fact that Bryan's campaign in Nebraska for Parker kept the Republican majority in the state down to 86,000.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Sewing Wanted.

Skirts, Shirtwaists, children's clothes and shirt-waist suits made neatly and reasonably. Mrs. H. O. Vickery,
tf 118 North Fifth Street, Fulton

Copyright 1908 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

You never saw a more attractive lot of good clothes than we're ready to show you right now for Fall wear. They're clothes, and the new colors, new weaves and fabrics are as rich and varied and attractive as clothes can be.

Hart Shaffner & Marx

In addition to the new browns, grays, tans and animal colors which have been so attractive a feature of this fine line, we'll show you some fine blue serges, black cheviots and thibets, such as every man ought to have.

Twenty dollars will get you a mighty good suit; all wool, perfectly made, correct in style.....

The New Fall Hats are Here, $1 to $5

This store is the home of Hart Shaffner & Marx clothes

S. Lipsky & Son

"The house that makes good"

First Street Lewis Block Fulton, N. Y.

F. W. LASHER

BOOKS — WALL PAPER

Full Stock of School Books

New and Second Hand

Tablets, Loose-Leaf Note Books

Everything for the school at the lowest possible prices. We take your old books in exchange and allow a liberal price. Do not forget that we sell KODAKS and SUPPLIES

FIRST ST. FULTON, N.Y.

ARE NOT PLEASANT and a good fountain pen is appreciated. Designs from the most elaborate gold chased barrel to the modest plain rubber.

All pens shipped filled ready for use.

FOR SALE BY Wm. C. Morgan, 113 CAYUGA STREET

Pipe Your Home For Gas!

We carry the most complete line of fixtures in Northern New York, which we will sell at cost.

Have the steady, natural light of gas to read, sew or visit by during the long Winter evenings. No other light is so satisfactory or so cheap. A phone call, No. 198, or a postal will bring our estimate man to your door.

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Opposite Clark House

CHURCH NOTES.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Rev. J. G. York will occupy the pulpit on Sunday, September 6, at both services. Other services will be resumed as usual.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. W. L. Sawtelle, Pastor.

Services next Sunday, as usual, conducted by the pastor.

Morning service at 10:30.
Sabbath School at 12.
Junior Endeavor at 3:30.
Vesper service at 5.
Senior Endeavor at 6.

Zion Church.

Thirteenth Sunday after Trinity, Sept. 13.

Holy Communion, 7.30 a. m.
Holy Communion and sermon, 10.30 a. m.
Evensong and sermon, 7.30 p. m.

The Rev. David W. Bland of Managuez, Porto Rico, will be the morning preacher, and the Rev. Warren C. Hubbard of St. Luke's Church, Brooklyn, will preach at the evening service.

The Girls' Friendly Society will resume regular weekly meetings next week, beginning with a business and obligation meeting at the church at 7.30 p. m. on Monday.

The senior chapter of the B. S. A. meets at the parish room on Thursday at 8 p. m., and the juniors meet at the same place next Tuesday at 7.30 p. m.

First M. E Church

Rev. John Richards, pastor.

Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30.
Sunday School and class meeting at 12.
Christian Endeavor, 6.30.
Preaching at 7:30.

Praise and Testamony service Tuesday evening.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening.

The Womans Foreign Missionary society will meet Wed. afternoon at 3 oclock in the church parlors.

The Home and Foreign Missionary Tea will be held in the church parlors next Saturday, Sep. 12th, from five to eight o'clock.

If you are identified with no other church in the city you are cordially invited to make this your church home.

STATE STREET M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. F. A. Miller, Pastor.

Preaching service at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday School at 11:45 a. m.; Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.; Prayer Service Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Mary Osborne, leader.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a business meeting Thursday afternoon at 3:30 at the church. A full attendance is desired.

The Sunday School Board will meet after prayer meeting Thursday evening to plan for Rally Day.

The Brotherhood will hold its monthly business meeting Friday evening.

Excursion Rates To State Fair.

Via New York Central, Sept. 14 to 19. "All Week" and "Two-Day" Tickets. Agents will furnish time of regular and special trains, and rates from all points.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

Reduced Prices on Tungsten Lamps

These new lamps have been reduced over 10% in price making the saving in lighting even greater than before.

They consume only ONE THIRD the current of the carbon lamp, and give a better light.

Let us show you how you can save ONE HALF your lighting bills, with a better service.

Get in line now!

FULTON LIGHT, HEAT & POWER CO.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Miss Addie LaLonde has returned from Old Forge.

Mr. Charles Albin has resigned his position in the Citizens bank.

Mrs. Ellen V. Boomer is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Embley, in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Rust are spending a few days with friends in Skaneateles and Watkins Glen, N. Y

The Onondaga County Fair opened at Phoenix on Tuesday. Many Fultonians are in attendance.

Mrs. M. A. Robertson of Ocean Grove, N. J., is the guest of Mrs. E. F. Marsh and Miss Mary O. Marsh.

John Robinson has purchased through Whitaker & Lovejoy, the Bujold place, No 164 West First Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lamson and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne at Ingalls Crossing.

The Bible Study Class meets with Mrs. Forsyth, 109 Rochester street, on Monday Sept. 14, at 3.00 p. m.. Lessons Nos. 37 and 38.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rude of Oswego spent a portion of last week with Fulton friends, leaving on Monday for a weeks visit with relatives in Auburn and Cortland.

Mrs. F. T. Payne who left Fulton in July for California to spend some time with her son in SanDiego, reached her destination on Saturday, having visited many places of interest en route.

Mr. F. J. Emeny, accompanied by his two sons, Masters Brooks and F. J. Emeny, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Emeny in this city. They returned to their home in Salem, Ohio, this Wednesday morning.

Mr. A. W. Stoneburg is in Toronto, Ca.

Miss Belle Brando continues to slowly gain in strength.

Mrs. Arlon Wilbur continues to slowly gain in health.

Mrs. C. E. Wilson is convalescing from a recent serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Roy have been entertaining friends from Batavia.

Rev. Warren C. Hubbard of Brooklyn has been visiting Fulton friends.

School opened on Tuesday with a full attendance of students and instructors.

Mrs. C. M. Sabin has returned from a vacation spent with her neice in Rome.

Mrs. Bert VanBuren has been entertaining her sister, Miss Olive Putnam of Lyons.

Mr. A. J. Eller, foreman in the Times office, is enjoying a vacation for a few days.

Mrs. John Cooksley of Ballston Spa is spending a few days with her husband int his city.

Mr. A. N. Parmiter has sold property in Oneida street to Mr. John A. Gravely of Oswego.

James H. Brooks, Jr., has returned from a month's visit in New York city and Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Janet B. Kelley is spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. E. Brainard, in Syracuse.

Mr. George Cooksley of Canada, a former resident of this city, is calling upon his old friends in Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Roach of Montpelier, Vt., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Roach in this city.

House to Rent, on Third street. D. C. Draper 9-12

CLAUDE E. GUILE
Attorney and Counselor
35 SOUTH FIRST STREET FULTON, N.Y.
Over Rosenbloom's Store
Entrance on Cayuga Street

WANTED
Farm and City Property
Whitaker & Lovejoy
44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

The Canning Season

will be at its best during the next ten days. We are better prepared than ever before to cater to your needs in the canning line. We have

Cans, Rubbers, Parafine, Etc.

Plums are very scarce, so place your order at once for delivery. Let us supply you with Bartlette Pears, Crawford Peaches or splendid Tomatoes for canning. A larg line just received.

A. L. WARNER
THE CASH GROCER
Remember the Place! 105 Oneida St.

Mr. Charles Currier, Jr., of New York city, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currier, of the west side.

Mr. Emerson H. Stowell of Oswego has been elected treasurer of the New York State Forest, Fish and Game League.

Mrs. D. E. Spencer, who has been spending the month of August with friends in Rochester, has returned to her home in this city.

Our readers will find it to their advantage to carefully read the new advertisement of the Dress Cutting school in this issue.

Mrs. F. E. Boutin and daughter Helen, of Oswego, have been guests in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCormack.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Tetley of Albany will arrive in Fulton on Saturday. They will spend a week or ten days at the Club House on Pathfinder Island.

The State of New York has purchased for its use in the barge canal construction the property of Charles E. Tucker in Ontario Street for $500, and the property of Mary Parks for $675.

The Republican Nominee for Vice-President, Hon James S. Sherman, will appear and address the people at the New York State Fair, Syracuse, N. Y., Friday, September 10.

Miss Mayme Bread on Friday entertained at her home in Fourth street, the members of the party who spent August at Camp Bond, in the Adirondacks mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patterson and Miss Jessie Suydam are in New York city purchasing Fall and Winter dry goods and millinery for the W. H. Patterson store.

Mrs. Harris Rosenbloom and daughter May returned on Friday from Scroon Lake where they spent August. Mrs. Rosenbloom was so unfortunate as to sprain her ankle while at the lake.

Ex-alderman Joseph Francis and son of Chicago, Ills., have been visiting Fulton friends. Time deals lightly with the genial Joe and his interest in his former home and friends in Fulton never lags.

Two Italians with unthinkable to say nothing of unpronouncable names, are in the hospital sadly the worse for wear, as the result of an affray near Bowens Corners on Monday.

The American Woolen Company is replacing all of their one-shuttle Knowel looms on the second floor of one mill with four-shuttle Knowel looms, twelve of which have arrived and are being placed in position.

Mr. F. E. Clark of Monterey, Old Mexico, is the guest of Mr. Adelbert Ferguson. Mrs. Clark has been the guests of her mother and brother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ferguson and Mr. Adelbert Ferguson, for two months.

Oswego Times: Mrs. James Morrow of Fulton came to Oswego last week with her elegant sixty-horse power Thomas car to call on Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Norrin, and take them to the Fulton Fair. Curious to relate on the way up they picked up the lion which had just landed in the road from the balloon ascension and parachute jump.

Mr. Charles E. Myers who will be pleasantly remembered by many of our readers as the proprietor of Oak Spring Farm, is now engaged in the manufacture of high grade Havana cigars at No. 361 South Clinton street, Syracuse. Mr. Myers especially invites a trial order from box trade believing that he has an article that will please the most fastidious taste.

Letters of administration have been issued to Charles J. Butcher of Palermo, on the estate of his wife Mary A. Butcher, who died at Palermo on Aug. 21. The estate is valued at $2,000 personal and it will be shared by her two sons and two daughters: George W. Butcher, New Hartford; Charles J. Butcher, Pennellville; Ida Griffin, Pennellville; and Sarah Berggren of Syracuse.

The mortgage foreclosure case of Charles O. Peterson of Red Creek against Clinton Hawe of Hannibal is being tried before Hon. M. L. Wright as referee. The case is a very complicated one and about $5,000 is involved. The property is located near Hannibal. Thaddeus Collins, Jr., of Lyons represents the plaintiff; Charles S Kent, Syracuse, and W. S. Hillick of Fulton, the defendants.

All kinds of rosy pipe dreams come to the men who smoke the special brands of tobacco carried at the V. C. Lewis cigar store, Cayuga street.

Special values in Tablets, Whiting's Linen Stock, all sizes, ruled and plain, for only 10c, while they last, at Lasher's Book Store.

Miss Anna Harris has returned from Inlet Lake.

Miss Nettie Allen has returned from Racquet Lake.

C. S. Buck, traveling man, and a former Hannibalite, was in town last week.

Mrs. A. M. Little of Syracuse has been the recent guest of Miss Myrtis Gilbert.

Miss Daisy Thorpe of Albany was the over Sunday guest of Miss Rachael Lake.

Miss Francis McCormick has returned from a vacation spent in Oswego and Geneva.

Mrs. John Close and daughter Mabel of Norwich visited Mrs. Frank Parsons last week.

The Misses Evelza and Marjorie Abeel of Syracuse have been the guests of Mrs. Ernest Taylor.

Mrs. A. M. Eggleston leaves this week for Seafourth, Ontario, Can., where she will spend some time.

Miss Mary Blackstock has returned from her Summer vacation and is located at 413 Buffalo street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Douglas have returned to their home in Auburn, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sylvester.

D. E. Cummings of Waterville, Me., is locating in Fulton and is employed as Superintendent in the Engine Department at the Woolen Mills.

Attorney L. C. Rowe, Prohibition-Democratic nominee for County Judge, has undergone an operation in a Syracuse hospital.

Professor Briggs of Syracuse preached in the First Methodist Church Sunday in the absence of Rev. John Richards.

Charles N. Bulger of Oswego is to have his name presented to the Democratic State convention as a candidate for Attorney General.

W. P. Cary of Park street, Fulton, exempt veteran fireman, about 80 years of age, marched at the head of the column in the parade at the Firemen's Convention in Oswego last week.

On Wednesday, Sept. 16, the W. F. M. S. of the Presbyterian church will meet for the first time since vacation. The hostess will be Miss Georgia Lovejoy, No. 808 Academy street, and the leader will be Mrs. G. C. Webb.

Captain L. P. Storms of Cuba was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Gardner Friday and Saturday. At 31 years of age he enlisted, August 5, 1862, at Volney to serve three years; mustered in as private, Co. A, 110th, August 6, 1862; afterwards promoted Corporal. Discharged August 5, 1863, to accept Commission in Corps D, Afrigue. He was School Commissioner two years at Hannibal and was the first principal of the Fulton High School for two terms in the new building.

Charles B. Hibbard, who for forty years has conducted a watch-repairing and jewelry business in Pulaski, last week disposed of his business to John C. Peach, a practical jeweler and silversmith, who has for the past eleven years held responsible positions with large concerns in the South. Mr. Peach has reorganized the store and will enlarge the stock. He will also, in connection with the business, conduct a trade-shop, where engraving, jewelry-repairing and remodeling, watch-repairing, etc., will be done. Mrs. Peach was formerly Miss Emily Kelley of this city.

You ask me why I weep and moan, like some lost spirit in despair, and why I wander off alone, and paw the ground and tear my hair? You ask me why I pack this gun, all loaded up, prepared to shoot? Alas! my troubles have begun—the women folks are canning fruit! There is no place for me to eat, unless I eat upon the floor; and peelings get beneath my feet, and make me fall a block or more; the odors from the boiling jam, all day assail my weary snoot; you find me, then, the wreck I am—the women folk are canning fruit! O, they have peaches on the chairs, and moldy apples on the floor, and wormy plums upon the stairs, and piles of pears outside the door; and they are boiling pulp and juice, and you may hear them yell and hoot; a man's existence is the deuce—the women folk are canning fruit!—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

A complete line of fancy clay pipes are to be found at V. C. Lewis's Cayuga street store.

O. HENDERSON & CO.

Specials For This Week

BLANKETS

Cotton Fleece Blankets, full 10-4 size, regular price 75c, sale price, pair.....59¢

Cotton Fleece Blankets, very heavy, full 11-4 size, regular price $1.50, sale price, pair.....98¢

Bathrobe Blankets, very large and handsome patterns, regular price $3.00, sale price.....$2.00

Wool Blankets, pink and blue borders, regular price $5.00, sale price.....$4.00

O. Henderson & Co.
H. A. Waldorf, Manager
109 Oneida Street Fulton, N. Y.

State Fair Visitors
Welcome to the Busy Corner . .

WE bid you welcome to the KA-NOO-NO KARNIVAL and to the season's most complete showing of new Fall Garments for Women and Children.

We extend to you a cordial invitation to meet your friends here, have your parcels checked free of charge, walk around among the NEW FALL STOCKS and see for yourself what a saving you can make on purchases here.

Special Values During the Entire Week of the State Fair . . .

This is Central New York's Greatest Garment House and most popular Dry Goods store, and its location—right in the heart of the business section—makes it an ideal place to trade.

OUR SHOWING OF

New Fall Suits, Coats, Skirts, Waists, Hats and Children's Garments

WILL BE A REVELATION TO YOU

Every style that is new and desirable is ready for your approval. We handle the product of many of the best-known and most exclusive garment makers of America, nevertheless you will invariably find our garments lowest in price.

Five minutes in the store will do more to convince you of all this than anything we can say to you.

You are welcome to come and look as much and as often as you please, whether or not you are ready to buy.

Mrs. A. Benjamin, formerly with The Raiment, will be pleased to see her Fulton friends here.

Witherill's
Salina and Fayette Streets, Syracuse, N. Y.

The First National Bank
Fulton, N. Y.

Pays 4% on Money Left Six Months.

Pays 3% on Certificates of Deposit, No Time Lost.

Safe Deposit Boxes.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N. Y.

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
28 UNIVERSITY BL'K, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
cial attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate
...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 40 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.

Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York, 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun ns, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court, to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 16, 1907.

MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

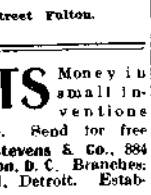
Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in the city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the



CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

Inconsistency.

"Pa, what is the meaning of inconsistency?" asked Freddy.

"Inconsistency, my son," exclaimed pa, "means a man who growls all day and then goes home and kicks the dog for barking at night."

A Reliable Remedy FOR CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm
is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts. at Druggists or by mail. Liquid Cream Balm for use in atomizers 75 cts.
Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

As to "Salomania"

The Craze For Stage Dancing and the Merits of the Respective Styles—Isadora Duncan Vs. Numerous Salomes.

On with the dance! But what shall it be—the classical dance of the Greeks as interpreted by the American girl Isadora Duncan or the seductive dance of Salome, the daughter of Herodias, as interpreted by Gertrude Hoffmann, Maud Allan, Eva Tanguay, La Sylphe or some other of the many aspirants for popular favor in this style of dancing? The craze for the dance is on. Miss Duncan and her revival of the classic style find some admirers, but it takes no expert to see that the craze is greatest over the kind of dance with which little Salome stole the heart of Herod the Tetrarch, supposing that the brutal monarch who beheaded John the Baptist to please his favorite had such a thing as a cardiac organ. Along New York's Great White Way almost every other playhouse has a Salome of some kind on the bill.

Miss Duncan with her classic following at the Criterion attracts a select audience, but the police do not have to be called out to keep the crowd away. On the other hand, the craze for the dancing of the Salome type has got so bad that they now call it "Salomania." One theater advertises a performance by the "Newest Salome," but as there is a newest Salome blossoming out every few minutes you never know exactly where to locate the very latest of the species. It has come to be a matter of doubt among theatrical managers at the opening of the season whether it is going to be possible to produce any sort of play without catering to the all prevalent taste for Salome dances. It may shock the shades of Shakespeare, Ibsen and other eminent and departed dramatists to have a Salome with her head of John the Baptist capture the center of the stage after the graveyard scene in

ISADORA DUNCAN IN A GREEK POSE.

"Hamlet" or at some convenient or inconvenient point in the unwinding of the plot of "A Doll's House," but the thing has got to be done. Such is the alarming rumor. It has also been hinted that Hammerstein at his Manhattan Opera House may if necessary alter the plots of even the most sacred and adored of Wagner's operas in order to jam in somewhere a Salome dance. Heaven forbid such vandalism, of course, but what is to be done when the dear public insists?

Given the Salome dance, which style shall be provided—the barefoot variety or some other? Most of the Salomes dance in bare feet. So does Miss Duncan, but otherwise her costumes are by no means so abbreviated as those of the most popular daughters of Herodias. She aims to introduce Greek rhythms to American audiences, to convey by her movements the emotions of the poetry of Sophocles and his great contemporaries. She has had quite a vogue in Europe, though there have been scoffers who said as to her claims to dancing Attic lore and legend, poetry and philosophy, that she would next be interpreting with her limbs such subjects as the dictionary of logarithms, the parliamentary record and the tariff. Miss Duncan refused to be "stung" by such remarks and, encouraged by her reception abroad, returned to her native heath, otherwise American soil—for she was born in San Francisco—determined to win the applause of the home public. She hopes to establish a school or cult which shall teach dancing as the Greeks taught it, not only as an art, but as "an aid to health and the correct development of children."

But, as to the Salomes and Salomania, is the Salome dance an "aid to health," moral or physical, or is it an evidence of the growth of a morbid and vicious taste? Opinions differ. A well known teacher of dancing and former master of ballet says that dancing in this country as a stage art is deteriorating. He avers:

"The younger American will accept none of the amusements which diverted his father. To forget his strenuous, nerve rocking business life he demands an equally strenuous, nerve rocking form of amusement, something that will thrill him so abnormally that his highly strung nervous organism will suffer a reaction or, more properly speaking, jerk itself into a different plane of operations.

"The average dancer would be quite content to give the public the same normal, sane, graceful dancing which captured the admiration of our grandfathers, but she dances for bread, butter and jam, and there will be no butter, to say nothing of jam, if she fails to thrill, and today in her plunge into sensationalism or sensualism she is endangering her life, her art and her reason."

The same authority remarks of Eva Tanguay's "Vision of Salome," "Her dance consists in reality of the most rapid method of crossing a stage ever witnessed and the most daring undress ever seen on a stage outside the resorts under police surveillance."

And this reminds that one actress has appealed to the authorities and the candidates for office for such laws and regulations as will provide for the suppression of the various Salomes and their "visions." She thinks the public morals are being undermined by such exhibitions, and she is herself a member of the dramatic profession, not a preacher or professional reformer. The next thing we know "Salomania" will have become an issue in the presidential campaign. The political platforms have all been made, to be sure, but there is yet time for Messrs. Taft and Bryan, Hisgen, Watson, Chafin and Debs to touch it up in their speeches.

MAUD ALLAN AS SALOME.

THE WEST POINT HAZERS.

Cadets Rossell and Weaver, Who Led in the Abusive Practices.

The penalty meted out to the West Point hazers shows that the authorities responsible for discipline at the United States Military academy are determined to maintain it at all hazards. The order issued by Secretary Wright of the war department and approved by President Roosevelt dismisses from the academy entirely the two first class men under suspension, William T. Rossell, Jr., and Harry G. Weaver. A lighter penalty is fixed for the six members of the third class implicated in hazing. They are George Washington Chase of New York, James Gillespie of Pennsylvania, Byron Quimby Jones of New York, William Nalle of Virginia, William Wellington Prude of Alabama and Isaac

HARRY G. WEAVER AND WILLIAM T. ROSSELL, JR.

Spalding of Oklahoma. They are suspended without pay and allowances for one year.

Cadet Rossell is a son of Colonel William T. Rossell of the engineer corps of the army. Weaver is from Illinois. They were considered leaders in the hazing and were punished more than the rest because of their being older men and in a sense responsible for the reprehensible practices that had grown up at the academy.

Her Objections.

Benham—Why do you object to my wearing a beard?

Mrs. Benham—It isn't the beard itself that I object to. It would be all right if you would only raise one which would harmonize in color with some of my dresses.—Bohemian.

A Deal in Gum.

Some of these little newsboys are resourceful little mites. A day or two ago a business man dropped a silver mounted fountain pen through the grating in front of a building on West Third street. They told him in the store that there was no access to the hole from the inside. He seemed to be up against it. Two newsies saw him peering down into the grating and got interested.

"I'll git it out fer you, mister," spoke up one of them, "if you'll stand the expense. It'll take about a nickel's worth o' chewin' gum."

The man said he would finance the gum scheme, whatever it might be.

A minute or two later the boy had dashed into a store and got a yardstick. He was chewing hard on an entire 5 cents' worth of gum. As soon as this was properly softened by the process of mastication he placed it on the end of the yardstick, stuck the stick through the grating until the gum met the pen and brought the pen up with the utmost dispatch.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sand Fish.

At low tide in midsummer on certain parts of the Breton coast men and boys with baskets and hoes descend the white beach to the sea's edge. They are anglers, but the fish they seek live on dry land. With his hoe each fisherman makes swiftly in the packed sand shallow parallel trenches, very close together and about a yard long. If the luck be good every scratch of the hoe uncovers three or four silvery fish, the size of sardines, that leap up glittering into the air. They must be seized quickly or at once they bury themselves in the sand again. They are called lancons. The smaller ones are used for mackerel bait; the larger, with their heads cut off, make, fried, an excellent dish a good deal like fried smelts. With daylight tides the lancons are seldom bigger than a man's middle finger, but with the night tides, when promenaders have not disturbed the sand, they run very large indeed. Then, their lanterns flashing on the beach, the Breton fishermen often capture lancons a foot long.

Cut Heads.

The Liverpool Post has been making observations with regard to the "cut heads" which are treated at the hospitals between 12 and 2 a. m. The Post says that the house surgeons have noticed a curious difference in the sexes on different nights. On Saturday nights the subjects are mostly men who have received their wages, redeemed their clothes from pawn and drunk enough to lead to a brawl. Monday night, however, is "ladies' night." The men have gone to work, and the wives have taken their husbands' best and only suit to the pawnshop, and then it is their turn to drink the proceeds and cut one another's heads. The usual answer to the question "Who did it?" is, "Another lady wot lives in the same 'ouse."

Married Paupers and Divorce.

"An odd thing about married paupers is that they like to live separate," said a single pauper.

"You know how almshouses are arranged. There's a men's ward, a women's ward and a mixed or married ward. Well, the mixed ward is always nearly empty. Not that we lack married paupers. Oh, no. But the husbands prefer to bachelor it among the men and the wives to old maid it among the women. The older our married paupers get the more vehement is their insistence on separate living.

"'She's allus a-naggin',' the octogenarian will growl.

"'Nobody can't sleep o' nights with sech snorin' as hisn,' sniffs the septuagenarian female.

"And so they separate—to all intents divorced."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Great Financier.

A man who occupied a little back room in a poor quarter of the east end of London was evicted for nonpayment of rent. He had nothing but a valise and a few clothes, and while they were throwing him and his belongings out of the house a bulky manuscript fell out of his pocket. Nobody noticed it at the time, but after he had gathered his clothes and taken his departure one of the bystanders saw the big roll of paper, picked it up and on opening it was surprised and amused to find it contained an elaborate scheme for refunding the national debt of the British empire.

Knew His Rights.

"I fine you," said the police justice, "$30 and costs."

"Y'r honor," protested Tuffold Knutt, who had been hauled up for vagrancy, "all the prop'ty I've got in the world is a plugged nickel an' me clo'es, an' they hain't wuth more'n about two bits. That fine's onreasonable. It's confistication, an' it won't never stand the test o' the fed'ral courts. I shall take an appeal, y'r honor!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Negro and the Watermelon.

A negro bought a watermelon for 50 cents and sold it a few minutes later for the same price. The purchaser changed his mind and sold it back to the negro for 40 cents. Later the negro sold it for 60 cents. How much profit did he make?—New York World.

Saves Him.

"How did Sniggsley ever get his reputation for the possession of great wisdom?"

"His wife talks so much that he never gets a chance to expose his ignorance."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Life without liberty is joyless, but life without joy may be great. The greatness of life is sacrifice.—Ouida.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Legal Notices

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.
Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs John Drew, Defendant.
To the above named defendant:
You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and, in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.
Tried to be held in the County of Oswego.
Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.
O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.
To John Drew, Defendant:
The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Stowell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 12th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.
Dated May 11th, 1908.
O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney.
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.
9-16

Notice of Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 203 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.
Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.
MARGRET A. EASTON,
10-28 Administratrix.

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.
Dated this 20th day of April, A. D., 1908.
CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 256 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.
Dated this 8th day of April, 1908.
LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
11-9

Not Good at Riddles.

A lawyer was questioning a new client, a widow, the other day, about her history. "My history," she replied, "is simplicity itself. My first was the happiness of my life, my second was goodness itself, my third"—

"Excuse me, madam," interrupted the attorney, "but really we aren't here to guess charades."

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to me at
922 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA SNOW & CO.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT

The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.

THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON."

"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908

Leave Albany, Hamilton St.,	8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St.,	5.10 P.M
" New York, West 42d St.,	5.30 P.M
" New York, Desbrosses St.,	6.00 P.M

Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.

Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.

Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.

CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. ELMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. O. & W. Station

NORTH BOUND

5.48 a. m.	Train No.	335
8.10 a. m., Daily	"	337
11.51 a. m.	"	301
3.31 p. m., Daily	"	351
6.10 p. m.	"	303
10.10 p. m., Daily	"	315

SOUTH BOUND

8.04 a. m.	Train No.	302
9.39 a. m., Daily	"	318
2.14 p. m.	"	350
5.09 p. m., Daily	"	328
7.04 p. m.	"	342
9.34 p. m., Daily	"	336

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY

Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.

Trains Leave Fulton

NORTH BOUND

*Chicago Limited for all points West	3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	11 00 "
*Local for Oswego	5 10 PM
§Local for Oswego	6 45 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego	7 30 "

SOUTH BOUND

†Express for Norwich	2 22 AM
‡Sylvan Beach Special	8 53 "
*Local for Sid ney	9 15 AM
*Limited for New York	12 30 PM
†Express for New York	7 06 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
z Sunday only
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily

Passenger rates two cents per mile. Pullman Buffet Sleepers, Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address

I. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 68 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAGE, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York physicians to be the only permanent cure.
Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer does not wait. We give proofs of cures.
Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway 566 St., N.Y.

The Companies that Paid Losses in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER

"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

ANNUAL REUNION OF "IRON BRIGADE"

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 1, 1908.

COMRADE.

You are hereby notified to attend the Sixth Annual Reunion of the First Iron Brigade, to be held in the City of Syracuse, N. Y., on Thursday, September 17, at 10 A. M., on the State Fair Grounds. The Association having designated that day as Veterans and Military Day, they will furnish us with a tent, upon which will be a banner with the words: "Headquarters Iron Brigade," and it is hoped that every one of the surviving members of the old original Iron Brigade who made that famous march in April, 1862, and which gained them the title, will make every effort to be present at this annual gathering as all the railroads of the State of New York give reduced rates to Syracuse, N. Y., during State Fair Week.

The Secretary is trying to make up as perfect a Roster of the Brigade Survivors as possible and it is earnestly requested that if you know of any member of your company or regiment living, no matter where they are, notify them of this reunion and kindly send their name and address to the Secretary at once.

Our badge is a permanent one and it can be procured of the Secretary for one dollar. It should be secured now for the supply is limited.

In order to keep up our organization the annual dues were made fifty (50) cents and are now in order. If you cannot attend please send Dues or a contribution to help pay expenses, also send your present address so that the Roster may be kept complete.

A prompt attendance is requested as business of the greatest importance to every member will be transacted. Hoping that you will assist me in my work and that you will not fail to give me an early reply, I am

Yours in F. C. and L.

B. H. SEARING,
Secretary and Treasurer.

W. D. FERGUSON,
President.

President, W. D. Ferguson, Major 24th Regiment; Secretary and Treasurer, B. H. Searing, 80th Regiment; Vice-Presidents, Harrison Stafford, 30th Regiment; Courtland Adams, 22d Regiment; William H. Peck, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; K. P. Rawson, 2d Berdans; Jacob Raab, 14th Brooklyn; Chaplain, Rev. John D. Mulford, 24th Regiment; Executive Committee,—Thomas Cole, 24th Regiment; Louis J. Bruso, 30th Regiment; John S. Fassett, 22d Regiment; Oscar C. Hayden, 2d N. Y. Cavalry; James H. Myers, 14th Brooklyn; James R. Gibbs, 2d Berdans.

Anti-Injunctions.

Attorney General Wade H. Ellis of Ohio, who was a member of the committee on resolutions of the Republican national convention, makes the following reply to the criticisms of the platform made by W. J. Bryan. The attorney general says in part:

"The charge made by Mr. Bryan that the Republican declaration with respect to the use of the writ of injunction was designed to 'deceive the laboring man' is unworthy of a candidate for president, and the further charge that this plank merely declares the existing law and will give no relief in those cases in which there has been an abuse or discretion or the apprehension of it is unworthy of any lawyer who has examined the question.

"The anti-injunction resolution is a frank, clear statement of the Republican party's position on a question on which others have been attempting to deceive labor. The sole basis of any rational complaint as to the issuance of injunctions in labor cases has been the use of the writ without notice and the long delays in some instances which have intervened before a hearing of the case.

"The present statute does not require any notice at all before the granting of a temporary order, and it is entirely within the discretion of the court to postpone to any time the judge may see fit the hearing upon the question of an injunction. The Republican plank simply declares that notice shall always be given unless an irreparable injury will result from delay, and in that case there shall be a speedy hearing provided. It will meet the approval of every right thinking man, whether an employer or an employee."

Worst of All.

Mr. Lane, Mr. Hobart and Mr. Meek had been off fishing the day before. They had gone unexpectedly from the postoffice, where they met, and neither Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Hobart nor Mrs. Meek had been informed of their whereabouts until nightfall. "And it did beat all what poor luck we'd had!" said Mr. Lane when the three friends met the next day.

"I tried to explain to Sadie that we kep' staying in the hopes of fetching home something that would show why we'd stayed, but she said we'd acted like a parcel o' yearlings and it would be one while before she'd have a hot apple pie for my dinner again and dumplings. She ran me uphill and down, I tell ye!"

"Maria spoke of my clothes," said Mr. Hobart forlornly. "She pointed out the way the dampness had cockled that coat I had on. She said 'twouldn't ever be the same again and if I knew of anybody that was going to spend summer days beating great irons and pressing out clothes for a man like me she didn't!"

"Marthy never said a word," said Mr. Meek as the other two men turned to him, but as they remarked with one accord, "That's the kind of wife to have!" Mr. Meek looked much depressed.

"The only trouble is," he added, "she hasn't spoken yet, and I don't know when she will."

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death-like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Taft and Labor.

When on the bench Judge Taft said:

That employees have a right to form labor unions.

That such unions are a benefit to labor and to the public.

That they have the right to join with other unions.

That the accumulation of a fund to aid in a strike is right.

That employees have a right to strike whenever any of the terms of their employment are unsatisfactory.

Mr. Gompers says Judge Taft is opposed to organized labor. Mr. Gompers has done a lot of talking in his time and has been a very prolific writer, but in all he has said or in all he has written he has never given organized labor a more unqualified indorsement than Judge Taft gave when on the bench.

"An aggregation of experimental malcontents and theorists," Mr. Sherman's description of the Democratic party, is a phrase that hits the target right in the center.

Honors are easy again. Every time Mr. Taft buys a new horse Mr. Bryan mounts a new hobby.—Omaha Bee.

Best Treatment for a Burn."

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequaled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

APPEAL TO CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Made by Judge Taft in Behalf of the Filipinos.

"A Great Missionary Work That Is Certain to Promote Christian Civilization."

The extension of a vitalizing Christianity among the Filipinos as advocated by Judge Taft both before his speech of acceptance of the nomination to the presidency and in that document itself has been widely commented upon in the pulpits of the United States. The voice of the clergy has given earnest commendation to the attitude of Judge Taft, who when governor general of the islands exerted the utmost influence for amelioration of the condition of the inhabitants of the archipelago, and that, too, at the cost of great self sacrifice on his own part in refusing the seat on the supreme bench, to which he was both called and commanded by President Roosevelt.

Never since he first assumed the burden of the governorship of the Philippines has the welfare of the Filipinos ceased to be close to the heart of Judge Taft. In his speech of acceptance again he reminded the American people that it is the duty of this country as a strong, Christian and enlightened nation to give spiritual as well as material aid to the distant brown brethren.

Taft's Appeal to Church.

Rev. Albert Hurlstone, pastor of Roberts Park church, Indianapolis, Ind., in a recent sermon thus spoke of Judge Taft's appeal to the Christian people of America:

"Mr. Taft used words of wisdom in referring to this question in his notification speech. His appeal is not only to his party, but it is to the Christian church of America. It seems to me that every man whose heart beats loyally to Jesus Christ must rejoice in the statement so truthfully made. Mr. Taft said: 'We have established a government with effective and honest executive departments in the Philippines and a clean and fearless administration of justice; we have created and are maintaining a comprehensive school system which is educating the youth of the islands in English and in industrial branches; we have constructed great government public works, roads and harbors; we have induced the private construction of 800 miles of railroad; we have policed the islands so that their condition as to law and order is better now than it has ever been in their history.'

"Mr. Taft is better fitted to speak on this question than any other man in the government today by virtue of his close connection with the problem, his experience and personal observation of the work being done; hence what he says will be heeded by the Christian church with intense interest.

Influence of Christian Civilization.

"More than ten years before Dewey sailed into Manila, Bishop Thoburn, our missionary bishop for fifty years in India, predicted that ere long the missionary would find an open door in the Philippines, but God alone knew how the door was to be opened.

"Now we hear Mr. Taft saying: 'We are engaged in the Philippines in a great missionary work that does our nation honor and is certain to promote in a most effective way the influence of Christian civilization. It is cowardly to lay down the burden until our purpose is achieved.' True, not do we believe that the American people will allow this to be done. The sacrifice has been made, the song of the redeemed people will ere long fill heaven and earth with gladness. The selfish are ever lonely and joyless, but they who bring the sacrifice to the altar will find the joy of the Lord arise within them."

"According to His Folly."

"'Shall the people rule?' is declared by the Democratic platform and candidate to be 'the overshadowing issue now under discussion.' It is no issue. Surely the people shall rule; surely the people have ruled; surely the people do rule." Thus Candidate Sherman replies to Candidate Bryan, and if the latter was looking for a straight answer he certainly got it. But those familiar with the mental processes of Mr. Bryan know that he would welcome no reply, but that his absurd question was asked to instil doubt in the minds of his more thoughtless followers.

Democratic Discouragement.

At the risk of calling down upon ourselves further execrations from a few of the faithful and fanatical we make bold to remark that the indifference of the South Carolina Democrats to the cause of Mr. Bryan seems to justify our prediction some months ago that the campaign would end with the Denver convention. We wish that we could be disillusioned; we wish that the Democrats of South Carolina and of the country would sharply rebuke us for saying that there was an absence of enthusiasm for Mr. Bryan.—Charleston News and Courier (Dem.).

Making or Keeping Promises.

The difference between Mr. Taft's promise of tariff revision and Mr. Bryan's pledges in the same direction is that Mr. Taft if elected will be in position to redeem his pledge, while Mr. Bryan if elected would be powerless to accomplish anything with a Republican senate arrayed against his free trade plans.—Omaha Bee.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or incurable stages of these affections, it is often successful in affecting cures.

"The Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nervine. For weak worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulæ of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated.

But He Runs on Forever.

[From the New York Sun.]

What will Mr. Bryan say
After next election day?
Mr. Bryan will insist
That he is an optimist.
Beaten three times! What of that?
He's the one great Democrat
Willing for his fellow man
To be beaten once again.

Read the Commoner and learn!
Mr. Bryan, Mr. Kern,
Sail together on this trip
In the old, oft stranded ship.
(They have quarters in the stern!)

In this antiquated craft,
While they gaze at Mr. Taft
Miles ahead—the race near done
And by Taft and Sherman won—
Mr. Bryan, ever wise,
Doubtless will philosophize
And to Mr. Kern recite
That remark, already trite,
All prepared and often sprung:
"Beaten? Yes, but I'm still young!
I can wait another four
Years, then try the race once more.
I have got this thing down pat.
I'm the one great Democrat!"

—Julian Durand.

Quite Likely.

"I didn't see you at our euchre the other night," said the bachelor.

"No," replied the young Benedict, "as far as euchre goes with me now, I consider 'home' the right bower."

"That's all right while hearts are trump, but I suppose if clubs should turn up it would be the left bower."—Philadelphia Press.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

SELF EVIDENT.

What the Man Wanted When He Got In the Barber's Chair.

The baldheaded man with four days' growth of beard on his chin entered the barber's shop and sat down in one of the operating chairs.

"Shave, sir?"

"No!" growled the man in the chair. "I want to be measured for a suit of clothes."

"This isn't a tailor shop, sir."

"What is it?"

"It's a barber shop."

"What work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Then, presuming me to be a sane man, but baldheaded, what would you naturally suppose I came for?"

"For a shave."

"Then why did you ask me if I wanted a shave when I took a seat in your chair? Why didn't you go to work at once? If some of you barbers would cultivate a habit of inferring from easily ascertained data, instead of developing such wonderful conversational powers, it would be of material aid in advancing you in your chosen vocation and of expanding your profits. Do you comprehend?"

"Yes, sir," replied the man as he began to lather the customer's face in a dazed sort of way. And he never even asked him if he wanted brilliantine on when the operation was performed.

Legal Repartee.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the pompous lawyer, assuming his most imposing mien, "I once sat upon the judge's bench in Iowa."

"Where was the judge?" quickly inquired the opposing attorney, and the pompous gentleman found the thread of his argument hopelessly entangled.—Detroit Free Press.

Don't be afraid to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. It always cures. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

BRYAN AS PROPHET FAILS TO QUALIFY

Disasters He Foretold Never Come to Pass.

OPPOSITE IS ALWAYS TRUE.

Gold Standard Does Not Slay, Nor Does It Write Future in Blood.

As a prophet William Jennings Bryan has never been a success. The calamities which he has foretold would have brought unlimited disaster to the country if they had ever been realized. But they never came to pass. The harrowing pictures which he painted were merely figments of his imagination, based on absolutely no foundation whatever.

It is well to have Americans remember that prophecies uttered by the orator of the Platte must be discounted fully 100 per cent. for all signs indicate that he feels the fates once more and is about to begin prophesying again. A male Cassandra, Mr. Bryan might by this time have learned that the forecast of evil will never be believed by those who have found that in the past his vaticinations have been but empty air.

"Driving Country to Ruin."

For instance, when Mr. Bryan was a member of the house of representatives in 1892 he was absolutely certain that protection was driving the country headlong to rack and ruin, and in his speech delivered March 16 of that year he drew the following agonizing pictures:

"Protection has been our cannibal tree, and as one after another of our farmers has been driven by the force of circumstances upon that tree and has been crushed within its folds his companions have stood around and shouted, 'Great is protection!' * * * Thus in every state, so far as these statistics have been collected, the proportion of home owning farmers is decreasing and that of tenant farmers increasing. This means but one thing. It means a land of landlords and tenants, and, backed by the history of every nation that has gone down, I say to you that no people can continue a free people under a free government when the great majority of its citizens are tenants of a small minority. Your system (protective tariff) has driven the farm owner from his land and substituted the farm tenant."

How far this picture portrays the America of today or the America of any year since he made that speech any American can answer. Even in Mr. Bryan's own state he can find an answer right at his doors, for the farm lands of Nebraska have doubled in value.

"Murderous Gold Standard."

But during the four years succeeding that speech Mr. Bryan's agitation grew no less nor did the demon which he had raised in his own imagination bide with diminished head, for in 1896 he again saw destitution threatening the country. He had a remedy for it, a panacea, a fetish which he held up for worship—free silver. Here are some of the things Mr. Bryan said would happen if the gold standard were continued:

"I reply that if protection has slain its thousands the gold standard has slain its tens of thousands." — From Speech at Democratic National Convention July, 1896.

"Do not let the Republicans beguile you about the future. The future is written in blood crushed out of you by gold."—From Speech at Erie, Pa., August, 1896.

"Ah, my friends, there is another reason why people have gone into the cities and left the farms. It is because your legislation has been causing the foreclosure of mortgages upon the farms. * * * Mark my words! If the gold standard goes on and people continue to complain the gold standard advocates instead of trying to improve the condition of the people will be recommending that you close your schools so that the people will not realize how much they are suffering." — From Speech at Monmouth, Ill., October, 1896.

But whom has the gold standard slain? What future did it write in blood? What district schools did it close? Again the condition of the country makes a calm reply confuting the impassioned orator.

Campaigning again in 1900 Mr. Bryan decided that imperialism was another danger to the country. If it were continued the Fourth of July would be forgotten by all Americans and the "spirit of '76" would become a thing of the past. Speaking at Lincoln Mr. Bryan said:

Sees Death of Patriotism.

"The fight this year will be to carry out the sentiment of that song we have so often repeated, 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee.' If we lose, our children and our children's children will not succeed to the spirit of that song, and celebrations of the Fourth of July will pass away, for the spirit of the empire will be upon us."

Is there any spot in these United States where the spirit of 1776 is dead and forgotten and the Fourth of July a meaningless date on the calendar?

One of the most ridiculous of these prophecies was contained in a speech Mr. Bryan made in support of Judge Parker during the campaign of 1904, when he attacked President Roosevelt bitterly. This prophecy had it that military despotism was sure to follow the decrease in the size of the standing army. In this speech Mr. Bryan also emphasized the fact that he was then and always would be a firm believer in the principle of free silver. He summed up his position on this question in the following sentence:

"I believe today in the principles set forth at Chicago and Kansas City (16 to 1) and shall continue to fight for those principles."

LABOR WORLD FOR TAFT.

Characterizes Him as True Friend of the Workingman.

[From the Concord (N. H.) Monitor.]

The Labor World comes out strongly in its advocacy of Mr. Taft. It characterizes him a true friend of labor and declares that the unfair attacks of Mr. Gompers will have little or no effect in alienating from him the labor world. It says: "That Secretary Taft is a true friend of labor is certain, and all the untrue, ungenerous, vicious attacks that President Gompers or any one else may make on him cannot prevent him from continuing to be the friend of the wage worker. Organized labor cannot afford to have itself split up into factions on this political issue. That President Gompers is wrong in forcing this most ominous fight is certain, and intelligent wage workers will certainly come to this conclusion."

JUDSON OUT FOR TAFT.

Chicago University's Head So Notifies Chief Bryan Organ.

To the Editor of the New York World:

I shall vote for the Republican electors because I believe, on the whole, Mr. Taft's equipment for the administration of the federal government, based on his ripe and successful experience, makes it desirable that he should be the successor of Mr. Roosevelt. Further, on the whole, the policies which I believe that Mr. Taft will carry out are more nearly those which I approve.

HARRY PRATT JUDSON,
President Chicago University.

Chicago, Aug. 12.

The Wise One.

Thin Boarder—I don't see how you manage to fare so well at this boarding house. I have industriously courted the landlady and all her daughters, but I'm half starved. Fat Boarder—I courted the cook.—Kansas City Independent.

STATE FAIR SYRACUSE
September 14th to 19th
ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit)
Running Races Four-in-Hand Races
Tandem Races

GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW IN AMERICA
Greater New York's
Mounted Police Drills
Homer Davenport's Arabian Stallions
with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER in the State
Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building
Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows

Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables
POULTRY till you can't think
CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE

FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND
40 Artists 40

Half Fair Excursions on all Roads
Ask your station agent for rates.

Send for Prize List to
S. C. Shaver, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Reding, Ga., August 27, 1906.
Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co.,
Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—
In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said, I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.

May you live long and prosper.
Yours very truly,
C. N. CORNELY.

CONFORMS TO NATIONAL PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW

This is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by

Kodol for Dyspepsia.

All Druggists

Grand Fall Millinery Opening

AT THE PALMER-REEVE CO.'S

BEAUTIFUL AND SPACIOUS STORE

September 15, 16, 17, 18, State Fair and Ka-Noo-No Week

CHARMING and Graceful Pattern Hats for this Fall and Winter, from the Style Centers of Europe and America, have transformed our Millinery Parlors into a place of gorgeous beauty. We cheerfully invite all the ladies in your town, and the surrounding towns, to visit our fine display of Pattern Hats and Millinery Novelties which will be on inspection Opening Week.

MODERATE PRICES OUR AIM

THE PALMER-REEVE CO.

418-420 SOUTH SALINA STREET, SYRACUSE, N. Y.

PALERMO.

Nearly all the district schools began this week.

Mr. Fred Hill of Albany is visiting his brother, F. M. Hill.

A number from here attended the Fair at Fulton last week.

Mrs. Maude Ridgeway spent several days with friends at Fulton.

Miss Mary Farley has returned to her school duties at Fulton.

The Grout school will begin next Monday with Mrs. Stella Gardner as teacher.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

MT. PLEASANT.

On Sunday morning at the parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Summers, occurred the marriage of Wilson Hule and Miss Josephine Baldwin. Both parties are life long residents of the Hawks District and have the heartiest congratulations of their many friends here.

Clarence Trask will attend Cornell University the coming year.

Miss Sherman was a recent guest at Mr. Hunn's.

School begins in most of the district this week. Rowlee school will begin next Monday.

The Grange is justly proud of bringing home the blue ribbon again from the County Fair. The very efficient work of some of the committee was noticeable.

Mrs. Snyder and son Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Osborne are in South West Oswego attending Pomona Grange session.

The Up-to-Dates are having either a run of luck or good management, generally conceded to be the latter. On Wednesday of last week they defeated the Brotherhood Class of the First M. E. Church, Fulton, on the league diamond by a score of 6 to 0. Perkins' star work in the box and errorless support allowed but four men to reach first base and only one reached second. Trask and Leonard Roy played good ball for Fulton. On Saturday they defeated Palermo in the best game of ball ever seen on the Mount Pleasant diamond. Palermo tied the score in the ninth inning (2—2) and not another man crossed the plate until the 14th, when Palermo scored once. In Mt. Pleasant's half, Davis and Howard each scored, winning the game 4 to 3. Trimble and F. Patrick pitched for Palermo and Perkins for the Up-to-Dates, and everybody yelled, Hurrah! with a will.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rowlee were recent guests at John Rowlee's in South Hannibal.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

GREAT BARGAIN—To close estate the house, lot and double corner lot at 419 Cayuga street is offered for sale separately or together. Investigate at once. For particulars inquire Birney Clark, Fulton, or address S. J. Kelly, Attorney, University Block, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-16*

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.
THE FULTON GARAGE.
Telephone 491.

...New Samples...

We have just received our new Fall and Winter Samples of Woolens for Men's Suits and Overcoats from which we will make

Garments to Order
$14 to $50

Fit Guaranted or no sale. Come in and look over the immense line we are carrying. No trouble to show the samples and talk the suit question over with you. There is no obligation on your part to buy.

Harry A. Allen

111 Cayuga Street Fulton, N. Y.

Local and Personal

Miss Bertha Kelly is slightly improved in health.

Miss Fannie S. Ry nolds has returned from a three weeks stay at Skaneateles.

The work of remodelling the Elks nome in First street is rapidly progressing.

Miss Grace Tucker is spending a few days with Miss Grace Hubbard in Phoenix,

Dr. N. G. Reynolds of Brooklyn is spending a few days at his brothers, C. A. Reynolds

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Draper have been entertaining Mrs. Corey of Gloversville, a sister of Mr. Draper.

"Silent Bill" and Mrs. W. H. Brackett of Oswego attended the County Fair three days.

General Calkins of Madison county was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Gilbert over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Wilcox of Pompey, Madison county, were in town attending the Fair last week.

Mrs. Mary S. Whitney and Mrs. Mattie Fitzgerald of Rochester are visiting their sister, Mrs. Carrie J. Hammond on Second street.

Mr. Leon Wells has resumed his studies in Tufts Dental college after spending the Summer vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Wells.

This Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. O. G. Hannis, will occur the marriage of Miss Myrtis Hannis and Attorney Mahlon A. Freeman of New York city.

Regular hours were resumed at the Public Library on Monday. Librarian, Mrs. H. B. Emens, has returned from a vacation trip, having visited several of the best conducted libraries in the country.

The Hon. Isaac L. Hunt has announced his candidacy for Congressman, to succeed the Hon. Charles L. Knapp two years hence. Mr. Hunt has been five times a candidate for the office, meeting with defeat each time, but he is of good courage and will try for the position once more.

The ladies of the Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will serve dinner in the church parlors Saturday, Sept. 12, from 5 to 8. The following are the committee: Mesdames Ives, Suydam, Albin, Carner, Ferguson, Fish, Goodjon, Hill, Lake, Loomis, Morrill, Morrow, Parks, Pallison, Richards, Skeel, Spafford, Ellis, Wolever, Hattie Wolever, Wells, Rosenbloom, Snow, Miss Marsh.

The W. H. M. S. of the Presbyterian church will serve the first tea after vacation in the church parlors on Wednesday evening, Sept. 9, at 6 o'clock. The ladies entertaining will be Mrs. H. A. Allen, Miss Bernhard, Miss Blodgett, Mrs. Boorman, Mrs. Breed, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Wilbur Calkins, Mrs. Perry Calkins, Mrs. Cullendine, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Cusack, Miss Foreman, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Hallock, Mrs. King, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. R. Allen, Miss Adkins, Mrs. G. Andrews. The public is cordially invited to attend the tea.

The E. H. Gato cigar comes in two grades—5-cents straight and 3 for 25c. They are sold by V. C. Lewis, 109 Cayuga street.

Women wanted to peel pears, steady work until end of season.
Fort Stanwix Canning Co.

Fair cigar dealers supplied with cigars at wholesale prices by V. C. Lewis.

"THE MAN OF THE HOUR."

At The Wieting Next Week.

"The Man of the Hour" enters upon its second engagement at Syracuse, opening Fair Week at the Wieting Opera House. This is the same company that played the piece in New York for two years and Syracuse is the only city in New York State that will be visited by this superb cast of players. The first performance will be next Monday evening. There will be special matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, beginning at 2 o'clock. "The Man of the Hour" has to an unusual degree the combination of a live and interesting subject, treated in a masterly manner by an experienced playwright and is acted by a company of superior entertainers of wide capabilities. It is a drama intensely human, which, while pointing strongly toward the right throughout, makes no attempt to reach. It tells its lesson most effectively by object lessons with strong types and telling situations. Harper's Weekly has said of it, "'The Man of the Hour' is a strong and sincere and uncommonly interesting play. Indeed one may go further and say that it is in some respects better than Mr. Charles Klein's very vigorous performance 'The Lion and the Mouse' for its characters and truthfully and less extravagently mars Mr. Klein's phenomenally successful play. It is a powerful and convincing play and it deserves success. It is admirably acted by the players of Brady and Grismers' Company." "The Man of the Hour" is a great play for the Syracuse Fair Week and will surely pack the Wieting at every performance and the management of the theatre is to be congratulated in being able to secure this great play for such an opportune time.

Seats can be secured by mailing money order for same to John L. Kerr, Manager Wieting Opera House. Prices, night: 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50; matinee: 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Made Over Prescriptions.

"There is one loss sustained by druggists that very few people know about," said the experienced clerk. "That is in the prescriptions that have to be made over, the same as clerks, stenographers, writers and artists, no matter how painstaking, frequently have to do their work over. The most careful drug clerk in existence is bound to make mistakes sometimes in measuring and mixing. He may pour in too much of some kind of liquid or sift in too much of a certain powder. In most cases the overdose would not really affect the value of the medicine, but the conscientious clerk isn't going to take any chances on murdering anybody, so he throws away the whole mixture and makes up another prescription."—New York Globe.

Legal Notice

In pursuance of an order of C. L. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Nancy R. Crosby, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber, at the law offices of Piper & Rice, in the city of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 10th day of March, A.D., 1909.

Dated this 8th day of September, A.D., 1908.
sep9-6m ARVIN RICE, Executor.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck.
Try our work for a change.

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton
West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

Manicuring Done

The work will be well done, either at No. 101 South Fourth street, or an appointment may be made to have it done at your own home. Phone 3421.

Myrtis G. Gilbert

tf Fulton, N. Y.

COMMON COUNCIL

Fulton, Sept. 1, 1908.

Regular meeting of Common Council.

Present—Mayor Quirk, Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Moved by Mr. Lockrow, seconded by Mr. Van Buren, that the tax on the 1907 tax roll of $13.00 against Arvin Rice and Thomas Hunter as executors of the Julia A. Gage estate be cancelled. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Marvin, seconded by Mr. Crahan, that the communication of the City Judge in regard to publication of ordinances, be referred to the City Attorney and the Ordinance Committee. Carried.

Alderman L. Van Buren introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That permission and consent is hereby given the Board of Public Works to macadam, curb and gutter Cayuga street between the east line of Second street and the west line of Third street, work to be done without public letting.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Marvin introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the City Clerk, City Hall Janitor and Commissioner of Charities be allowed two weeks' vacation.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Marvin introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following bills be paid from the General City Fund:

Herman Rees	$ 5.00
Guy Garrett	1.00
J. W. Youngs	5.00
F. M. Cornell	27.05
S. B. Mead	46.62
F. Roberts	1.50
Job Bennett	3.00
Mabelle Lewis	3.75
Oswego County Independent Telephone Co.	.70
E. R. Hubbard	7.90
A. B. Mason	3.00
Burbans & Black	2.25
A. P. Bradt	8.63
J. C. Hunter	1.00
Thomson & Bogardus	12.00
Banks & Co.	6.00
Bailey & Padgett	24.50
N. A. Kitts	2.50
N. A. Kitts	4.50
Monarch Typewriter Co.	.50
W. H. Harper	14.90
W. A. Harrison	1.40

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman Lockrow introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following bills be paid from the Poor Fund:

Fulton Hospital Association	$12.00
A. W. Stoneburgh	4.57
John Wilmer	5.00
J. J. Little	18.73
Mrs. I. Ingamells	6.00
D. M. Sullivan	1.10
Oswego Orphan Asylum	18.64
Charles Calkins	3.00
H. Rosenbloom	7.65
H. P. Marsh	5.00
F. L. Porter	8.20
Thomson & Bogardus	6.00
Oswego County Independent Telephone Co	.46
V. W. Shattuck	9.35
Mrs. H. Sherman	4.00

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Dwyer introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the monthly report of Commissioner of Charities A. W. Stoneburgh be accepted and placed on file.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Z. Wolever introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following places be designated as registration and polling places for the year 1908:

First Ward, Langdon's barn, Worth street.

Second Ward, Sullivan's Hall, West Broadway.

Third Ward, Hose House, Division street.

Fourth Ward, Basement Universalist Church.

Fifth Ward, City Hall.

Sixth Ward, Freeman Boat Works.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman John Crahan introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the following salaries of city employees be paid from the different funds:

GIRON, 24065
[REGISTERED]

NOTICE!

To accommodate owners of mares living in or near Fulton, we have made arrangements to stand Giron for service during the months of August and September at the stable of

E. H. Nodyne

57 S. First Street Fulton

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC CO.

Contractors and Engineers for all kinds of

Electrical Installations

Dynamos, Motors, Fans, Bells, Fixtures, Etc. Fire Proof Wiring a Specialty

Estimates Cheerfully Given on Application

J. C. KETCHAM, Manager

Telephone 243 834 Onelda Street Fulton, N. Y.

General City Fund.

C. E. Guile	$25.00
O. S. Bogardus	83.34
W. A. Harrison	60.00
L. F. Cornell	30.00
O. O. Hannis	10.41
George J. Foster	10.41
J. M. Hewitt	10.41
E. H. Nodyne	20.83
John W. Youngs	25.00

Poor Fund.

A. W. Stoneburgh	$29.17
S. A. Russell	29.17

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

Alderman A. Z. Wolever introduced the following and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the claim of Wm. C. Allen of $50.00 for injuries to horse, be settled, and the Clerk be directed to draw an order in favor of Mr. Allen for said amount when said Allen files a release of said claim.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

The following resolution was offered by Alderman Lockrow:

Whereas, City Judge Frederick G. Spencer was absent from his duties from July 15th to August 7th, 1908, by reason of ill health, therefore,

Resolved, That the absence of Judge Spencer be, and the same hereby is, excused.

Aldermen Marvin, Crahan, Van Buren, Wolever, Dwyer, Lockrow, aye.

City of Fulton, ss:

I hereby certify that the above resolutions were duly adopted at a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Fulton, held at the City Hall, on the first day of September, 1908.

Approved this first day of September, 1908.

EDWARD QUIRK,
Mayor.

Moved to adjourn.

W. A. HARRISON,
City Clerk.

Baled shavings for sale.

Just received, a carload of baled shavings. For sale by Hart, near Post Office, Second Street 9—5

For Sale---Beagle Hounds

Having more than our kennels can accommodate, we will sell eight or ten youngsters out of our champion rabbit hunter, "Wilder."

Pups from $10 up. Onondaga Beagle Club, J. A. Seitz, Manager, 423 S. Clinton street, Syracuse, N. Y. 9-9

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A large oak roller top desk. Inquire at 204 South Fourth street, Fulton.

FOR SALE—A house and three vacant lots, between Fifth and Sixth streets, on Highland. Inquire of E. T. Munger, with Porter & Co., Broadway, Fulton. tf

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Apartment with all conveniences for house-keeping at 419 Buffalo street. Inquire on premises or write E. G. Hubbard, 2525 Pacific Ave., Atlantic City, N. J.

TO RENT:—Furnished Rooms to let. Enquire of S. D. Gardner, 214 South Third street.

No necessity for an expensive vacation trip abroad when the beautiful Oswego river passes our doors and one can reach a score of beautiful camping or picnicking spots in perfect ease in one of the boats from the Manhattan Boat Livery in North

olic Library

THE FULTON TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1868 FULTON, NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1908 VOL. 41: NO. 19

You can do business BY MAIL with the

FULTON SAVINGS BANK

Easily, Safely and Without Expense

No waiting your turn at the Teller's Window.

We accept on deposit checks on New York, Albany, Boston, Philadelphia and Syracuse without charge, and will send you draft on New York when you wish to withdraw.

We are paying 4 per cent on all accounts and give you better terms than most banks do

Send for Leaflet, "Banking By Mail."

ANNUAL CLAM BAKE.

The annual clam bake of the Pathfinder boat club will be held at the Island on Tuesday evening, Sept. 22. Attorney S. B. Mead will preside as chef and he will be assisted by Deputy Sheriff J. W. Young. An orchestra will be in attendance and dancing will be enjoyed during the evening. The tickets will be $1.00 and the number is limited to one hundred. They will be on sale at the H. P. Allen grocery store.

The following elaborate menu will be served:

Roast Clams Steamed Red Snapper
Island Sauce Spring Chicken
Sweet Potatoes Irish Potatoes
Green Corn
Brown Bread Rolls
Cabbage Salad Olives Pickles
Fig Pudding Wine Sauce
Coffee

Serving will commence at five o'clock.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic State covnention is in session in Rochester and shouting and vain tumult seem the order of the exercises. The contest is between the up-state and the New York city leaders as to who shall occupy the head of the State ticket, Lewis S. Chanler being the choice of the up-state delegates and Tammany Hall leaders being in favor of a New York man, Justice James W. Gerard.

It is probable that the convention will not conclude its labors before Thursday and the outcome is uncertain.

DIED BY HIS OWN HAND.

On Wednesday Albert Kellar, aged 60, who conducted a hotel at Volney Center, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn. He had been suffering from slight mental trouble for some time and a close watch had been kept over him but upon this occasion he eluded the vigilence of his family and when he was missed and a search instituted, his lifeless body was found hanging from a beam in the barn. The man had to kneel to induce the rope to do its deadly work, so low was the beam over which he threw the rope. The widow and one son, Dr. S. D. Kellar, survive. The funeral services were held on Sunday from the late home, the Rev. A. H. Grant officiating. Interment was made in Mt. Adnah.

AERONAUT PAINFULLY INJURED.

William Coby, the 19-year-old aeronaut, who made four ascensions from the Oswego Falls Fair grounds during the last Fair, was painfully injured on Wednesday while making an ascension with his lion Nero, at the Richmond County Fair. When about 100 feet in the air the balloon caught fire and the man and beast tumbled to the ground, the lion falling upon the man and escaping without injury. The man was taken to the hospital unconscious and internal injuries are feared.

Donations to Fulton Hospital For July and August.

6 pounds of butter, 2 pounds of coffee, 3 yards of canton flannel, 3 yards of muslin, 5 tray cloths—Ladies Auxiliary; 6 supply jars, Conley Bros.; flowers for bed, Mr. Wetherby; basket of groceries, Mrs. E. E. Morrill, Mrs. A. Rice, Miss Lovejoy, Mrs. J. J. Morrill, Mrs. Farley; basket of vegetables, Mrs. Sweeney; basket of vegetables, a friend; 3 bushels of apples, a friend; cut flowers, Mr. Dumas, Dorothy Gage, Mrs. Mead; Parish Aid Society of Episcopal church, basket of groceries.

New Wall Paper, fall styles, latest [illegible] at Lasher's Book Store.

MARRIED

On Wednesday evening, September 9, at half after seven o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Hannis, in The Lewis, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Myrtis Hannis and Attorney Mahlon Albertus Freeman of New York city. The Rev. W. L. Sawtelle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the officiating clergyman and the ring service was used. The parlor in which the ceremony took place was beautifully decorated in evergreens and hydrangea blooms, the bridal party standing under a canopy of effective pinks and green. The dining room in which the bridal luncheon was served by Cateress Mrs. Wykeman of Syracuse, was elaborately decorated in green and white, the color scheme being carried out with Easter lilies and ferns and palms. Prior to and after the ceremony beautiful musical selections were rendered on violin and piano by the Misses Connell of Baldwinsville. As the bridal party entered the parlor the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was sweetly rendered by Miss Franc Lalonde. After the ceremony Mrs. Thomas Hunter delightfully rendered an appropriate selection.

Mr. Will Draper and Attorney C. E. Galle served as ushers and the groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. F. E. LaPorte, as best man. The bride entered the room accompanied by her father, who gave her away. She looked most queenly and beautiful in her bridal gown of white messaline satin over taffeta. The garnature was rose point lace and the gown was entraine. She wore a long tull veil with coronet of orange blossoms and carried a shower boquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The bride's sister, Mrs. F. E. LaPorte, was matron of honor and she wore a most becoming gown of pink messaline satin, made Princess, over pink taffeta, with trimmings of choice lace. She carried a boquet of pink roses and maidenhair ferns.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Sue and Helen Hannis. They were gowned in white chiffon silk with baby Irish lace in profusion, and they carried pink asters.

The 150 guests were received by the parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Hannis and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Freeman. After the ceremony, congratulations and luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman left on the evening train to spend their honeymoon at Lake George, Lake Champlain and in the Adirondacks. After October the first they will be at home to their friends at The Cromwell, New York city, where their apartments, all newly furnished, await their coming. The bride's going away suit was of blue broadcloth, tailor made, and she wore a hat to match.

The gifts were numerous and magnificent, cut glass, silver, linen, china, etc., showing the popularity of the young couple.

Mrs. Freeman is one of the most delightful of Fulton's young society girls, talented and womanly, and her friends in this vicinity are many. Mr. Freeman is son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Freeman of this city. He is one of the progressive young lawyers in the metropolis with a splendid future before him. He has a host of friends in this city, where he lived until his graduation from law school and took up the practice of his profession in New York. The young couple have been showered with hearty congratulations and good wishes.

Eastman Enlarging Cameras, price only $3.00 and $4.00, at Lasher's Book Store. No Dark Room required.

GOVERNOR CHARLES EVANS HUGHES

HUGHES RE-NOMINATED ON FIRST BALLOT

Bitter Fight in Convention. William Barnes Jr. Denounces Governor. Hughes Received 827 Votes; Wadsworth, 151; Stewart, 32. Upon Motion of William Barnes Hughes Nomination was Made Unanimous.

After a campaign unparalleled in the history of any political party in New York State, Governor Charles Evans Hughes was on Tuesday re-nominated for governor by the delegates at Saratoga in deference to a demand from the people. The cause of the governor was without conspicuous leadership but the anti-Hughes forces were disorganized and unable to select any one candidate acceptable to a majority. Yet throughout the fight the Hughes adherents never faltered—never feared for the final triumph of their cause. Splendid men passed in review before the convention. Root, Cortelyou, Wadsworth, White and others had staunch personal friends in the convention but the record of Governor Hughes as read by the people of the State, was too bright, too clean, too convincing to make his overthrow possible. The remainder of the State ticket measures well up and a victory for the candidate named seems certain.

(Special to The Times.)
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 15, 1908.

The situation here in Republican party is unique, phenomenal, paradoxical. Up to noon today the leaders are just as uncertain whom to nominate for Governor as they were before the convention met. Root's name has been mentioned as a compromise along with others of equal prominence, but at two o'clock this morning he said to your correspondent that as he was the senior member of Roosevelt's cabinet, he might be accused of disloyalty or insincerity to the president, should he accept the nomination. It may be though that the convention will be stampeded for Root this afternoon. It is difficult to prognosticate how the struggle will terminate. Some assert that Hughes will be nominated without a doubt. Horace K. White has refused to permit his name to go before the convention for Lieutenant Governor.

The greatest enthusiasm was manifested yesterday afternoon when the convention was called to order. As the prominent leaders entered the hall they were greeted with applause which was augmented by martial music from two bands in the gallery which swelled the din with patriotic airs.

Chairman Root's speech was a campaign text of value to the rank and file of the party and cannot fail of production of great good. It was extremely satisfying to all present. He spoke for nearly two hours, his arguments being lucid, logical and conclusive.

On Tuesday the convention reconvened at two o'clock and after considerable oratory on the part of the anti-Hughes forces balloting was commenced at 5 o'clock with the result that Charles Evans Hughes became the unanimous choice of the convention for Governor of the State of New York.

Ex-Senator Horace K. White became the unanimous choice for Lieutenant Governor, evidently having withdrawn his determination to refuse the honor.

The complete ticket is as follows:

For Governor, Charles E. Hughes of New York.

For Lieutenant Governor, Horace White of Onondaga.

Secretary of State, Samuel S. Koenig, of New York; Attorney General, Edward R. O'Malley, of Erie; State Engineer and Surveyor, Frank M. Williams, of Madison.

State Treasurer, Thomas B. Dunn, of Monroe.

Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, Albert Haight, of Erie. (renomination.)

PATHFINDER FIELD DAY.

Friday, September 18, 1908.

Menu.

Beef Croquettes Tomato Sauce
Creamed Potatoes
Sliced Tomatoes
Hot Rolls Pickles
Fried Cakes
Cocoanut Pie Cheese
Coffee

Ball game at 4 p. m.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.

On Sunday evening Burns Case, aged 85, a well known resident and at one time a prominent politician in this city, attempted to end his life with a rusty revolver at his home in West Third and Worth streets. The bullet was deflected by the unsteady hand of the man and a scalp wound was the only injury received. Mr. Case had been in poor health for some time and had become very despondent, imagining himself a burden to his friends and he was anxious to rid them of the annoyance.

H. PUTNAM ALLEN

112 ONEIDA STREET

Peaches

will last only a short time longer. We will receive fresh stock every morning balance of this week and first of next week, of

FANCY LATE CRAWFORDS

Quality is Good. Price Reasonable

We Sell Everything in Fine Groceries

Call Us On 'Phone 32

SMOKE CONSUMER INSTALLED.

The Oswego Falls Pulp & Paper company of which Mr. H. L. Paddock is president, has recently installed a modern system by which the smoke from their immense chimney is consumed by their plant and the surrounding atmosphere is greatly benefitted thereby. The company is to be commended for its effort in behalf of the general public and of the city at large.

It is to be hoped and is expected that other manufactories located within the city limits will follow the example set by Mr. Paddock's company and install smoke consumers within the near future, thus doing away with the black pall which hangs over the manufacturing portion of the city so much of the time and which finds its way into homes many blocks removed from the scene of its origin.

It is within the province of the city officials to abate the coaling up of engines on the R. W. & O. and the O. & W. R. R.'s within the city limits. It apparently gives the firemen pleasure to coal up at either station in Second street whenever they are passing and the sun will be obscured for some minutes by smoke and cinders with the passing of every train. To residents this side of Fourth street the dirt and odor are very trying. The Oswego Falls Pulp & Paper Company has made a glorious start. May their example be promptly followed by many more manufacturers.

A Reception for Rev. G. S. Coons.

The members and congregation of the Free Methodist church met Friday evening, September 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Showers, 259 South Fifth street, Fulton, N. Y., to tender their pastor, the Rev. G. S. Coons and wife a friendly reception, Sunday being the last of his two years' pastorate in this place; also to present him with a fifteen dollar suit case as a token of their esteem. Upon the lining of the case were engraved the names of the members of the church and friends, making a unanimous request for his return the coming year. Mr. Coons' patient and conscientious labors have been rewarded by many accessions to the church.

$6.00 NEW YORK EXCURSION.

The New York Central will run the annual Excursion to New York from the R. W. & O. Division on Oct. 6 and 7, 1908. Tickets good only in day coaches will be sold for morning and evening trains above dates at rate of $6.00, good to return until Oct. 16th inclusive. Through special trains will be run on Oct. 6th direct to Grand Central Station.

Folders showing time of trains and complete information may be obtained of ticket agents or by writing W. H. Northrop, General Agent, Watertown, N. Y. 16-23

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Board met on Wednesday evening and put considerable business over until the next meeting.

The sanitary garbage wagon constructed for the city by W. E. Fuller, has been completed and Timothy Flood, authorized garbage collector, is in charge.

The Board of Health has ordered the Board of Public Works to drain property in West Fourth street, between Schuyler and Gansevoort streets.

75 CENTS TO SYRACUSE AND RETURN

Every Sunday to Sep. 20 inclusive, via the New York Central Railroad. se16

10,650 rolls of new Wall Paper just received; latest patterns and colorings, at Lasher's Book Store.

FORTUNATE IT WAS NOT WORSE.

The friends of Sherwood R. Magee of the Philadelphia Nationals, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cary of this city, will congratulate the champion left fielder that he is not numbered with the slain after his exciting aerial flight from the window of his hotel in Philadelphia, Pa., to the roof of a shed twelve feet below, during the night on Saturday.

The New York Times tells the story as follows: Sherwood Magee, star left fielder on the Philadelphia Nationals, last night was attacked with acute indigestion. The attack caused him to temporarily lose his mental balance, and he acted queerly for some time. He hurled an ice pitcher at his wife, but missed her, striking against the wall in his hotel, and then leaped out of the window before the hotel porters reached him.

The crazed baseball player struck the roof of a shed and then rolled to the ground. He was taken to a hospital, where an X-ray examination was made of his leg, which was badly injured. No bones were broken, but the tendons were sprained badly. He was taken home later.

A press dispatch of Sunday, published in the Oswego Palladium, on Monday night, has this version of the thrilling event:

Grapes and ham sandwiches, eaten before retiring on Saturday night, accentuated a tendency toward somnambulism and sent Sherwood Magee, the star left fielder and batter of the Philadelphias, nearly to his death through an open window early this morning.

From the third story of the Junction Hotel he dropped twelve feet to the roof of a stable below. As it was, Magee suffered only slight injuries. The physicians at the German Hospital could not find a broken bone or sprain and sent Magee back to his hotel.

"I'll be back in the game in three or four days," Magee said tonight.

Nervous after Saturday's doubleheader and always subject to somnambulism, Magee aggravated matters by eating before retiring. As he himself said: "Green grapes and ham sandwiches always did have a bad effect on me, but I thought I would take a chance."

Magee is married and has two children. His wife, who was asleep in the same room, was awakened by excited cries from the ball player.

"Get together now, get together!" he yelled. "Come on now and pull out a homer. We've got 'em now. Sweeney's fumbled my grounder. Titus is coming in." There was a silence for a few seconds and then Mrs. Magee saw her husband leap from the window.

Mrs. Magee ran to the window and saw her husband about twelve feet below on the roof of the stable in a heap.

Magee says it was one of the most exciting games he ever played.

Lines by a Sick Poet.

Mr. William Watson, when ill in London and attempting a dinner for which he had no appetite, scribbled these lines on a scrap of paper, which he threw to his attendant:

Strange sauce that's mingled with the meat,
Strange meat that's mingled with the sauce—in vain,
I eat and, wond'ring what and why I eat,
Long for the porridge of my youth again.

—London Chronicle.

Keeping in the Spotlight.

Candidate Chafin, having fallen into the water tank out west and having stopped half a brick with his person at Springfield, will, if he is going to keep in the limelight, have to lose his diamonds or do a buck and wing with Mrs. Nation.—Minneapolis Journal.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL

New York Central Excursion

TO

..NEW YORK..

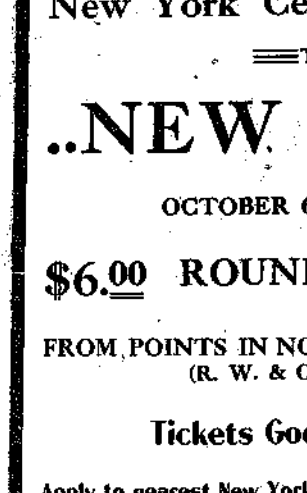
OCTOBER 6 AND 7, 1908

$6.00 ROUND TRIP $6.00

FROM POINTS IN NORTHERN NEW YORK
(R. W. & O. DIVISION)

Tickets Good Ten Days

Apply to nearest New York Central Ticket Agent for folders giving complete information, or write to



W. H. Northrop, General Agent, Watertown, N. Y.

GEORGE W. FITZGERALD.

Chicago Man Charged With Stealing Uncle Sam's Money.

A big sensation was caused last year by knowledge of the disappearance of $173,000 from the United States subtreasury in Chicago. The recent arrest of George W. Fitzgerald on charges connected with the disclosure revives interest in the matter. Fitzgerald was assorting teller in the subtreasury at the time the money disappeared, which was about eighteen months ago. He maintains his innocence of any crime and asserts that he can explain every point made against him by the detectives whose work led to his arrest. His bail bond was fixed at $50,000.

The loss of the money led to the attention of congress being called to the subject. That body took the matter up, and the secret service department worked hard on it, but was unable to fathom the mystery. Other detectives followed up clews in the case. Recent developments caused them to procure Fitzgerald's arrest. After leaving the government's employ he embarked in business for himself. Many friends have come to his support since his arrest, declaring their belief in his innocence. The loss of money from the federal subtreasuries is a very rare occurrence. The safeguards against such losses are many, and they have generally proved effective.

GEORGE W. FITZGERALD.

The Raw Materials.

"You ought to try to take life more philosophically," said the man who means well.

"I haven't the raw materials for philosophy," answered Farmer Corntossel.

"The raw materials?"

"Yep. Most of the philosophy I have seen needed a foundation of fried chicken and trimmings and an easy chair and a box of cigars and a number of other things I don't happen to have handy."—Washington Star.

Linked Eyebrows.

It is popularly believed that if one's eyebrows meet it indicates deceit. Charles Kingsley indorses this belief, but Tennyson has other ideas and poetically speaks of "married brows."

In Turkey meeting eyebrows are greatly admired, and the women use artificial means to bring the brows to this condition, and if art cannot induce thin eyebrows to grow they make up by drawing a black line with paste.

It would appear that the Greeks admired brows which almost met, and the fashionable inhabitants of Rome not only approved of them, but resorted to pigments to make up the lack which sometimes existed.

Some proverbs state that the person whose eyebrows meet will always have good luck, while others state exactly the reverse. The Chinese say that "people whose eyebrows meet can never hope to attain to the dignity of a minister of state," and in Greece of today the man whose brows meet is said to be a vampire, while in Denmark and Germany it is said he is a werewolf.—London Standard.

BOOMERANG THROWING.

The Curious Weapon of the Natives of Australia.

Some of the American sailors while visiting Australia tried their hand at the native Australian sport—throwing the boomerang. In days gone by the aborigines of Australia were very expert in the use of the boomerang as a weapon. Some of them are so still. But it is a very difficult trick for any but a native to learn. The boomerang is made of hard wood and is usually from thirty to forty inches in length. In shape it is somewhat like a scimiter or parabola, or it may have a decided bend in the middle, nearly approaching a right angle, the bend being a natural one. The breadth is about three inches, and the surface is somewhat rounded.

[Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.]
NATIVE USING BOOMERANG.

There are different varieties of the boomerang, but it is the one which can be made to turn in the air and come back to the place from which it was thrown that has become famous. This kind of boomerang, however, is used simply for amusement or for bringing down birds. In throwing the weapon it is grasped by one end and after a short run hurled straight in front. It takes a horizontal position and revolves rapidly as it moves obliquely upward into the air. After a time it curves around and comes back to within a short distance of the thrower. The war boomerang is larger and heavier than that used in hunting.

Can't Twiddle Their Thumbs.

The gorilla and chimpanzee, which belong to the higher order of apes have many points of resemblance to man, but there is one thing they can not do—that is, twiddle their thumbs. In the gorilla the thumb is short and does not reach much beyond the bottom of the first joint of the forefinger. It is very much restricted in its movements, and the animal can neither twiddle his thumbs nor turn them round so that the tips describe a circle. There are the same number of bones in the hand of a gorilla as in the hand of a man, but the thumbs of the monkey have no separate flexor or bending muscle. This is why a monkey always keeps the thumb on the same side as the fingers and never bends it round any object that may be grasped. In the gorilla the web between the fingers extends to the second joint, the fingers taper to the tips, and there is a callosity on the knuckles on which the animal rests when walking on all fours.

Going Some.

"Was his auto going very fast?"

"Your honor, it was going so fast that the bulldog on the seat beside him looked like a dachshund."—Houston Post.

Hope is the dream of the man awake.—Plato.

DENIES THAT BRYAN "COULD DO NO HARM."

Congressman Burke Says Office of President Is Infinitely More Powerful Than Congress.

Congressman James Francis Burke of Pittsburg in an address on "The Powers of the President" says:

"The American people can make no greater mistake than to elect Mr. Bryan on the assumption that he can do no harm in the face of an adverse senate. As between the executive and legislative departments of the government, the former has infinitely greater power to rule and ruin than the latter.

"Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan are wholly different types of men. Each possesses a strong individual character, which would certainly assert itself in the White House. What either of these men would do during a four years' term in the White House is causing as much anxiety among thoughtful Americans as the mere matter of the election alone.

"As a disturber of moneys the president is without a rival in the world. Through the agencies under his control he will this year disburse a billion dollars, showing the great things we are doing in adding to the unparalleled list of the world's achievements.

"In view of the fact that during the fifteen years of Bryan leadership the states controlled by his party have decreased from 23 to 12, the number of senators from 48 to 31, the number of representatives in congress from 220 to 164 and in that time the Democratic party was in control of the ground, whereas it is now, as a consequence of his teachings, a hopelessly heterogeneous mass of Populistic elements, the American people can see little prospects of a constructive policy if Mr. Bryan should succeed."

Things Bryan Would Forget.

The most important, because the most curiously novel, feature of Mr. Bryan's address is his apotheosis of the party platform. A new doctrine of infallibility is embodied in these sentences at the very beginning of Mr. Bryan's speech:

A platform is binding as to what it omits as well as to what it contains. A platform announces a party's position on the questions which are at issue, and an official is not at liberty to use the authority vested in him to urge personal views which have not been submitted to the voters for their approval.

It is natural that Mr. Bryan should disavow certain "omitted issues," such as free silver, government ownership of railroads, the initiative and referendum, attacks upon the courts and other theories which at times he sanctioned overhastily in the past. But he is unfortunate in his manner of expressing that disavowal.

A party platform is not political holy writ. The American people choose for president a man, not a clerk, to carry out the orders of a convention committee. A platform is not a prophetic code of conduct, but a summary of basic principles, to be altered, amended or enlarged according to the country's needs.—Philadelphia North American.

Union Labor Vote.

Hon. William H. Buchanan is one of the leading union men of western New York and in 1907 was the Democratic candidate for assemblyman in Chautauqua county. This is what he has to say of the effort of Mr. Gompers to turn the labor vote over to Mr. Bryan:

"I am a union labor man, and I want to say further that no man can carry the labor vote into the Democratic camp. I know how union labor men feel in this city, and three-fourths of them will stand by the Republican party because only in that way have they the assurance of freedom from the business disturbance that Mr. Bryan promises for at least four years if he can be elected. We workingmen can't earn wages if statesmen are put in office to disturb business and make trouble."

The Dress Cutting School

Cor. First and Cayuga Streets
Fulton, N. Y.

Has just received Remnants Dress Goods, from a Tailoring house in Syracuse.

These remnants are to be sold for half their original price.

School holds session from 2 till 5 every afternoon, and Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Come and visit the school and see how we draft patterns to fit the figure; no alterations necessary.

No guesswork.
No fitting of garments.
No hanging of skirts.

We teach the newest tailoring methods in the construction of garments.

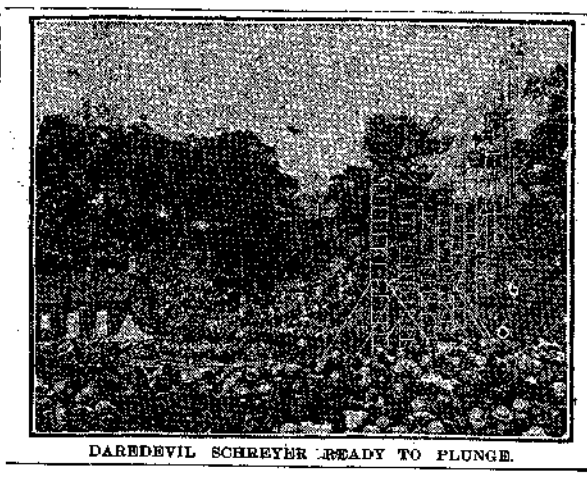
Each pupil learns on her own material, thus securing stylish clothing for herself while acquiring the ART of DRESSMAKING.



Patterns drafted to measure at a reasonable price.

Belle Corbin Mitchell, Teacher

DIVER SCHREYER TO APPEAR

Daredevil Bicyclist Will Make Plunge From Lofty Height.

For several months members of the New York state fair commission have been hunting through this and many other countries for special attractions with which to entertain crowds outside the race track inclosure. While the state is promoting an annual fair chiefly for educational purposes, to permit the people to learn about the vast manufacturing agricultural and breeding interests within its borders and to secure support in the movement for the development of these interests, due regard has been paid for the love of the American people for thrilling exhibitions.

DAREDEVIL SCHREYER READY TO PLUNGE.

When Max Schreyer, who has been winning fame abroad this year by his sensational feats, was engaged to ride a bicycle down an incline 125 feet long and leave the track while going at a speed of eighty miles an hour to dive into a tank of water ninety feet away, the commission felt that it secured an attraction of the highest order. While Schreyer is known as "Daredevil" Schreyer, he insists that he has no death defying act, and in support of his statement he says he has been performing eleven years and has given 1,600 exhibitions before more than 50,000,000 people.

The apparatus necessary for Schreyer's act has been in process of construction at the state fair grounds for two months. It is so large that it is impossible to have it portable, and in every place Schreyer visits a new structure is built. There is not a building in America large enough for the apparatus—in fact, there are only two buildings in the world suitable for it, the Olympia in London and the Gallery Machines in Paris. Schreyer has performed at both places.

The top of the incline at the fair grounds from which Schreyer will start his daring ride will be 112 feet high. It will be higher by twelve feet than has ever been built for the act. After peddling down the track Schreyer will leave the chute, part from his bicycle and end up in the tank. This exhibition will be given daily during the fair. The actual distance covered in the dive will be 150 feet because of Schreyer's rise after leaving the chute.

GREAT RACE MEETING.

Stars of the Turf to Contest at New York State Fair.

That the state fair will have this year the greatest race meeting in its history is the opinion of horsemen since the announcement of the state fair commission of the entries for the grand circuit events and the special features, which will include a trial against the world's pacing record by Minor Heir, 2:00¼, the pacing wonder of the year.

All the big racing stables of the country will be at the fair to compete for the purses, which aggregate $37,900. The entry for the stake events is larger than was ever secured for a race meeting in this country. These facts promise racing of the highest class and new world's records, for the state fair track is regarded as the fastest in the country.

In addition to the grand circuit meeting, which will extend from Monday to Thursday, inclusive, there will be a series of running horse races which will bring together a large number of stables of thoroughbreds from this and other states. Friday and Saturday will be given up to intercity Matinee, the one event of the year which the amateur reinsmen of New York, Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, Columbus, Pittsburg and Syracuse compete. The state fair meeting, it would seem, ought to go down in turf history as one of the greatest ever held in this or any other country.

Among the sensational performers entered are Allen Winter, winner of the American Derby at Readville, which netted his owner $30,000; Prince C., winner of second money in the big race; San Francisco, which took third and the Huntsman, which was fourth in the free for all trot will be seen Major Delmar, 1:59¼; Sweet Marie, 2:02¼; George G., 2:05¼; Highball, 2:03¼, and Ora, 2:05¼. Others numbering among the fastest horses of the year entered are: Amy Brooks, Spanish Queen, Jack Leyburn, Sterling M. Kinney, Margaret O., Hamburg Belle, George Gano, Jerry B. and Major Brino.

EXCURSIONS AND REDUCED RATES.

Railroads Arrange Early to Accommodate State Fair Crowds.

The railroad companies are at last awake to the full appreciation of the importance of the New York state fair. Up to three years ago they were still inclined to regard it in the light of a fair sized agricultural show, growing, but not much more than ordinary transportation facilities would be required to carry the people to and from the grounds. Then they put on a few more special trains, and the next year they increased the number of trains and added a few more excursions, but the demands for transportation were never satisfied. Last year still greater facilities were provided, but the roads were unable to take care of the people who wanted to attend the fair.

Reports came to the state fair commission from cities and villages along every railroad entering Syracuse and also from many places along branches of these roads that hundreds of people anxious to get to the fair had been left at railroad stations because of inability to crowd into the coaches or through failure of trains to stop.

Members of the commission were agreed that this was a very serious condition of affairs, especially so at a time when the fair was to make a big leap in its development by the completion of the first permanent building. There were two courses open to the commission. One was to confer with the railroad officials with the object of learning whether they were prepared to handle state fair business properly this year and the other to appeal to the public service commission for the protection of the state's interest represented in its annual exposition.

The second course was not necessary. Railroad officials from all parts of the state went flocking to Syracuse in response to a call from the commission. Were they aware that the railroads had not properly handled state fair crowds? They surely were.

Representatives of the different railroad interests stated unhesitatingly what the demand was, more special trains and more coaches to a train.

The railroad people admitted that they had not provided proper transportation facilities and gave assurance that they would be prepared this year to accommodate all of the people who desired to use the railroads in reaching the fair grounds. As evidence of their ability to handle the crowds and their readiness to prepare to do so they arranged for a greater number of excursions than have ever been put on during fair week and a further reduction in rates. Agreements were secured by the commission for stopping state fair trains at all stations and for greatly enlarging the territory in which excursions are run.

A. B. FREEMAN,
[Commissioner in charge of passenger and freight rates.]

For the first time this year there will be an excursion to the state fair from New York city, and persons at intermediate points will be accommodated. Special rates will be allowed from all points as far west as Buffalo. The excursion rate territory will be extended to the St. Lawrence river on the north and to the northern Pennsylvania towns on the south.

The local passenger agents will be notified a week before the opening of the fair of the special rates and instructed to bulletin them conspicuously.

FULTON BUSINESS

¶ We should be glad to write you about our terms and methods of handling Fulton business by mail.

JOHN T. MOTT, President
L. W. MOTT, Vice-President and Cashier.
T. P. KINGSFORD, Vice-President

First National Bank
Oswego, N. Y.

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city.

Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may instruct.

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company
Main St. West, Corner Exchange St.
Rochester, N. Y.
Resources over $21,000,000.00

Home Memories

A Good Old York State Story by
Eli Barber

Every one is reading it. If you are not, you are behind the times. Critics say it is the best story of rural life that has been written for years.

It is neatly bound in dark green and gold, contains 420 pages, and sells for $1.50.

Mention this paper and we will send you a copy at the special rate of $1.00. Postpaid.

R. G. Badger, Publisher
194 Boylston Street, Boston

A Rhymed Wedding.

According to the Mexico Ledger, John Stobie, a Williston magistrate, united a negro couple with this ceremony:

Jim, will you take Bet
Without any regret
To love and to cherish
Till one of you perish
And is laid under the sod.
So help you God?

Jim having given the usual affirmative answer, Judge Stobie turned to Bet:

Bet, will you take Jim
And cling to him,
Both out and in,
Through thick and thin,
Holding him to your heart,
Till death do you part?

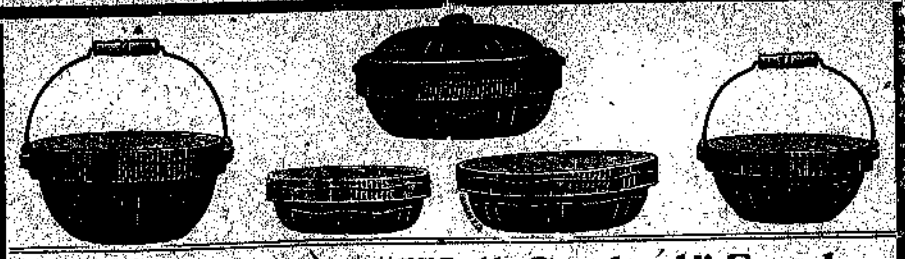
Bet modestly acquiesced, and the newly married couple were dismissed with this benediction:

Through life's alternative joy and strife
I now pronounce you man and wife.
Go up life's hill till you get to the level
And salute your bride, you dusky devil!

A Parting Shot.

Group of Shoeblacks (in chorus)—Shine, sir; shine? Seedy Masher (irritably)—No, confound you all; no. One of Them—Cut the fringe off your trousers same time, sir.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY



A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

"Cooked" and "Well Cooked" Food

Good food and a good cook are not enough to produce a good meal. Much depends on the vessels in which the food is prepared. Unless these are scrupulously clean, there will be a disagreeable odor or a taste of tin or iron, not to mention the danger of ptomaine poisoning. Many stomach troubles and other ailments can be traced back to this source. These dangers are overcome by the use of our

SANITO COOKING UTENSILS

These are specially made to reproduce the old German cooking utensils so universally used abroad. SANITO ware has a special lining which cannot crack or scale off. This lining is absolutely acid proof, and the vessels are always sweet, clean and wholesome. SANITO ware should be used for all ordinary culinary purposes. It will prove particularly valuable in preparing food for the sick or for infants.

Our Offer A set of SANITO ware consists of 6 pieces—2 bake pans (1 & 2qts.), 2 cooking kettles (2 & 4 quarts) and a 2-piece roaster. We will ship the complete set upon receipt of $2.50
All charges prepaid east of the Mississippi. For points beyond we prepay charges to the river. Safe arrival guaranteed

Handsome folder, illustrated in colors, FREE. Write today

THE MIDLAND POTTERY COMPANY
Box 231, Zanesville, Ohio

Agents should write at once for our exclusive agency proposition.

Local and Personal

Miss Alice Tucker has returned from Osceola.

Miss Martha Baggs has returned to Brooklyn.

Miss Bessie Dexter has returned from Silver Bay.

Miss Florence Doxtater continues to gain in health.

Miss Hazel Gardner will leave soon for New York city.

Mrs. Luke Clearwater and children have returned from Mexico.

A large number of Fultonians are attending the State Fair this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Youmans leave this week for their cottage at Old Forge.

Mr. F. T. Huntington of Topeka, Kan., is convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. J. M. Brown of Cleveland, Ohio, was the last week guest of his aunt, Mrs. A. Carey.

Mrs W. S. Hillick has gone to Cortland where she will spend some time with her parents.

Dr. Francis Dunn of Sheburne has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn.

Mrs. M. A. Robertson has returned to her home at Asbury Park, N. J., after a visit with Fulton friends.

Postmaster W. E. Hughes left on Monday morning for New York city, stopping at Saratoga enroute.

Miss Minnie Allen has accepted a position as stenographer in the law office of Attorney Claude E. Guile.

George Baker has resigned his position in the S. Lipsky & Son store, to accept one in the Adams express office

Miss Anna Pomphret has returned from a visit with Syracuse friends, and from a sojourn at Selkirk-on-the-Lake.

Miss M. E. Young and her trimmer, Miss Anna Clare, are visiting the eastern fashion markets for the purpose of purchasing Fall and Winter millinery.

The Misses Nellie and Elizabeth Johnston of Canandaigua have returned to their home after a visit with their aunts, Mrs. Bernard Burns and Miss Nellie Johnston.

The open season for plover, Wilson or English snipe, jack snipe, bay snipe, yellowlegs, surf birds, curlew, rail, water chickens, shore birds, duck, geese and brant opened today. The deer season also opened this Wednesday.

Mrs. A. Carey of Buffalo street was in Oswego on Wednesday evening attending the marriage of Miss Ellen B. Clark and Mr. Fred J. Case. The marriage took place at the rectory of Christ church and a bridal supper followed the ceremony.

Clarence S. Richardson who was arrested on a charge of assault and non-support sworn out by his wife, has asked for a jury trial which is set down for Sept. 17. Mr. Richardson is well known in this city and public sentiment is with him.

Ely's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine closet among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

Central Square News; Sept. 10: Mrs. Elmer McIntyre of Fulton and Mrs. Robert Oakes of Watertown visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Campbell, this week

The acreage of sugar beets in New York State this season is estimated at 20 per cent. smaller than last year's acreage. The outlook, however, as far as the tonnage is concerned, is from 25 to 30 per. cent. better per acre than the the 1907 crop averaged.

Justice George W. Seamans of Pulaski observed his eightieth birthday last week. A number of members of Post Butler, G. A. R., of which Mr. Seamans has been chaplain for several years, called upon him, and Commander Freeman H. Cross, on behalf of the members, presented the venerable chaplain with a badge of that office. Mr. Seamans is a brother of Mr. Isaac Seamans, a well known and respected resident of this city.

Before Justice Devendorf in Supreme Court last week: a decree of separation was entered in the case of Mary M. Gaffney against Thomas E. Gaffney of this city. A decree of divorce was granted to Edwin Gaffey from his wife, Charlotte Gaffey. The parties live near Phoenix and Attorney O. M. Reilly represented the plaintiff. A decree of divorce was granted in the case of Clinton Potter against Ella Potter also of Schroeppel. Attorney O. M. Reilly represented the plaintiff.

Destructive Fire at Parish.

The general store of Austin Edick of Parish together with most of the contents, was destroyed by fire last Thursday evening. The residence of E. D. Pickens, which adjoins the store, was badly damaged, but was saved after a hard fight on the part of the firemen. The total losses will aggregate about $5,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire originated in the rear of the Edick store and is attributed to spontaneous combustion.

Phoenix Fair a Success.

The Onondaga County Fair closed Friday with a large attendance and the best races of the meet. The 2:14 trot and pace was won in straight heats by Cousin Neil, owned by S. R. Frank of Oneida. In the second heat she made a new track record for the Phoenix track, making the mile in 2:15 1-4, the former record being held by Tony Barrick, b. g., by Kaiser, and also owned by S. R. Frank, of 2:17 1-4, made two years ago. It took six heats to decide the 2:27 trot and pace. This race was not finished till nearly dark, each of the three horses taking two heats.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Succeeded.

"No, sir," said the stern parent, "I cannot give my consent—at least not now. Before I will think of confiding my daughter to your care you must succeed in doing something."

"Oh, I've done that. I succeeded in kissing her last night after she had assured me that I never could until you had given your approval."

Exposeive.

"No; I've decided never to accept friendly advice any more."

"Why not? It doesn't cost you anything."

"Well, I've found out that it almost invariably costs you your friends."—Exchange.

A Neighing Cock.

Camden says the Thames was once called the Cockney, and therefore a cockney means simply one who lives on the banks of the Thames. Wedgwood says a cockney, or cockerney, is one pampered by city indulgence, in contradistinction to rustics hardened by outdoor work. There is, however, a legend, almost too good to be true—namely, that a Londoner who had never before slept out of sound of Bow Bells had occasion to go into the country and was detained all night. He was much disturbed by the lowing of the cattle, the grunting of the pigs and other sounds of country life, which he could not understand, and in particular he was frightened by the crowing of the cock. In the morning, in response to the farmer's inquiries, he said the sound of the wild beasts had kept him awake. Just at that moment the cock crowed again, and the Londoner said: "That's the one! He's been neighing like that for hours!" Since then Londoners have been called cockneighs or cockneys.

Woman the Tougher Sex.

Although men, as they run, are perhaps muscularly stronger than women, their inability to withstand the elements and their reliance upon clothes place them considerably below the so called weaker sex in the matter of unclothed toughness. Women wear clothes for ornament. Men use them as protective covering. A group of men marooned clotheless on an island in the temperate zone might be expected to die off in a month from drafts and colds and rheumatism. The health of women similarly placed would suffer little from the enforced exposure. The fact appears to be, therefore, that in everything but muscle—in vitality, ruggedness, character, disposition, brain power, etc.—woman is the tougher, not the weaker, sex.—Kansas City Journal.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, } ss
Lucas County.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.
(Seal.) A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

An Angry Elephant.

A sentinel in the menagerie at Paris has had a curious experience with one of the largest elephants. The sentinel was very conscientious and always requested the spectators not to give the animals anything to eat, which seemed to displease the elephant in question to such an extent that he several times sprinkled the sentry's head with water from his trunk. One day a bystander offered this particular elephant a large cake. The sentinel interfered, as usual, and the elephant promptly discharged in his face a violent stream of water. A general laugh ensued, but the sentinel, having calmly wiped his face, stood on one side and continued as watchful as before. Soon afterward he found it necessary to repeat his admonition, but no sooner was this uttered than the elephant laid hold of his musket, twirled it round his trunk, trod it under his feet and did not restore it until he had twisted it into nearly the form of a corkscrew. Then he gave a snort at the discomfited sentinel, as if to say, "Now I hope you'll mind your own business!"

For a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

MONSTER FLATHOUSE

Greatest Living Structure to Be Erected in New York.

TWELVE STORIES IN HEIGHT.

Will Cover a Full Block and Have One Hundred and Seventy-five Apartments—Italian Garden in Courtyard Tradesmen to Go Underground.

Rivaling William Waldorf Astor's largest apartment house in the United States, between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, Broadway and West End avenue, New York, Henry R. Francis, D. and John Sherman Hoyt have signed a contract which conditions that by Oct. 1, 1909, the largest and the most perfectly equipped apartment house in the world will be ready for occupancy. It will occupy the block bounded by Eighty-sixth and Eighty-seventh streets, Broadway and Amsterdam avenue, New York, and will consist of 175 apartments in a twelve story building and a population of at least 1,000 persons. The lowest rental will be $2,000 a year and the highest $6,000.

An electrical plant equipped with devices not now in operation anywhere will supply heat and illumination. Each apartment will be supplied with a refrigerating plant, so that "table ice" can be manufactured for individual use. There will be no cold storage apparatus as it is commonly understood, but there will be a system of refrigeration and an apparatus for cooling in summer unlike anything now in existence, says the New York World. Each apartment will contain quarters for not less than two servants. There will be four immense laundries for the accommodation of tenants, and each suit of apartments will be provided with a separate steam clothes drier, an innovation not introduced elsewhere.

The cost of the building, exclusive of the site, will be about $3,000,000.

The project takes in a tremendous scope in its general architectural features as well as in its individual plannings. The first two stories will be of Indiana limestone. Ten floors will be of buff brick with terra cotta trimmings. The building will be 350 feet long, 200 feet wide and 150 feet high. The total area in square feet will be about double that of the Madison Square Garden.

The most striking feature of this great collection of houses within a house will be the courtyard, fashioned partly after the Spanish patio or the more familiar Italian garden. The main entrance will consist of a double driveway from Eighty-sixth street. The courtyard itself is to be a rectangle of 250 by 150 feet. There will be a sidewalk dotted with entrances into the various apartments that about on the open space, a double driveway paved with oaken blocks and a central lawn, which in the summer months will be used for various forms of entertainment.

The ground floor will have four apartments especially equipped for the tenancy of physicians. They will face Eighty-sixth and Eighty-seventh streets. The remainder of the ground floor space facing the thoroughfares will be reserved for high class lines of business—bankers, florists and art shops.

Beneath the central court will be a subcourtyard lighted by skylights and gratings, and this subterranean depot will be used exclusively by tradesmen who come afoot or in vehicles. Eight service elevators will carry the supplies from the subcourtyard to the apartments of the tenants. No wagons will be permitted to enter the main courtyard. That will be reserved exclusively for carriages and those who choose to come afoot and enter the grand foyer. There will be an inclined driveway from Eighty-seventh street.

The arrangement of the apartments will be for perfect comfort and convenience. Beyond the foyer will be the parlor and the dining room, and on one side of the dining room the butler's pantry and back of that the kitchen. The quarters for the servants will adjoin. The family bedrooms will be on each side of a short corridor at right angles to the foyer. Every door in the living rooms will be of solid mahogany, and the decorations of each apartment will be after the style of Louis XVI. The floors will be of hard wood. The wainscoting of the different apartments will vary in height. Some will reach the ceiling, the wood being painted in light colors. In other cases the painted woodwork will reach only part of the way up, and the walls will be covered in harmoniously tinted silks. There will be a storeroom for each tenant in the basement.

A Palatial Pigsty.

The Pennsylvania legislature at the last session appropriated $6,000 for a "sanitary pigsty" at the Danville State Hospital For the Insane. This palace for pigs, which is now in process of construction, will be heated by steam, lighted by electricity, and the occupants will be served with "cooked food." They will not be allowed to wallow in the mire like common hogs, because there will be no mire, says the Utica Press. Every modern improvement for cleansing, ventilating and regulating the temperature will be provided. It will be a two story building, but the purpose of the upper floor is not stated. Sleeping apartments and a bathroom would be in keeping with the place. Roast pig from the state "sanitary pigsty" will be a choice delicacy, but it may be expensive.

Saturday
September 19
China Bread & Butter Plate
WILL BE THE
SOUVENIR

THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

28 East First Street, Fulton, N. Y.
Telephone 184 F. A. RUDD, Manager
IN ADDITION TO USUAL CHECKS WITH
Spices, Extracts, Cocoa, Chocolate, Tea, Coffee
SUGARS
REFINERS PRICES

CASH

The Unusual as Usual

Better goods, lower prices, better treatment, if you deal at the Cash Papworth Pure Food Shops.

10 lbs. Granulated Sugar.....52c
(Limit 10 Lbs.)

15 stamps with 1 lb. of Japan Tea Dust.....15c
75 stamps with one lb. Hung Kee Oolong Tea.....60c
10 stamps with 1 lb. Rice, red pkg.....8c
15 stamps with 1 lb. Vermicelli.....15c

LEMONS—Large, Bright, Juicy, Messina Lemons, doz.....15c

30 stamps with a No. 10 can New Orleans Molasses.....60c
10 stamps with a pkg of E. O. Corn Flakes.....10c
10 stamps with a large can Gold Cross Milk.....10c
25 stamps with a jar wafer sliced chipped beef.....25c
25 stamps with bottle prize vanilla.....25c
10 stamps with a pkg. Cash brand spices.....10c
125 stamps with a lb White Eagle baking powder.....45c
18 stamps with a lb. Combination blend Coffee.....18c
25 stamps with a lb. Combination Java coffee.....25c
20 stamps with a No. 6 Broom.....25c

FULL CREAM CHEESE
1,000 Loaves Herkimer County Cheese, per lb. 12 1-2c

25 stamps with 7 bars Cash brand quality soap.....25c
30 stamps with a pkg. Cash brand soap powder.....18c
20 stamps with a can Cash brand cloridelime.....10c
20 stamps with a can Dirt Cleanser.....10c

SWEET POTATOES
Barrel.....$2.50 Bushel....90c Peck....24c

A SAFE INVESTMENT!

A Rare Opportunity to Buy Stock in a Growing Business!

7% Guaranteed Dividend

I will guarantee to pay 7% on your investment annually. Our business will stand the most stringent test of any expert accountant and our books stand open for your approval. I will sell $50,000.00 of stock at $10.00 a share, and in return will pay you 7% interest on your investment. This Company is in no way connected with the Cash Papworth Grocery Company. I will be pleased to have you call at any time and look our factory over. For full particulars, address

C. H. Papworth Premium Co., 105 St. Marks Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

PAPWORTH

51 East First Street Phone 484 Fulton, N. Y.

The Merry Widow 5c straight cigar is the best low priced cigar on the market. For sale by V. C. Lewis.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Citizens National Bank

Of Fulton, New York

Pays

4%

Interest on Certificates of Deposit

No Time Lost

Interest begins at once and continues until date of withdrawal

THE FULTON TIMES

Entered as second class matter, April 28, 1882, at the postoffice at Fulton, New York, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

E. K. HUGHES, Editor
W. E. HUGHES, Proprietor

Issued Every Wednesday at No. 66 South First street, Fulton, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 16, 1908

Republican Nominations

For President
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

For Vice President
JAMES S. SHERMAN

For Governor
CHARLES EVANS HUGHES

For Lieutenant Governor
HORACE K. WHITE

For County Judge
WILLIAM B. BAKER

For Member of Congress, 28th District
CHARLES L. KNAPP

For State Senator
GEORGE H. COBB

For Member of Assembly
FRANK L. SMITH

For Sheriff
CHARLES W. TAFT

For District Attorney
FREELON J. DAVIS

For Superintendent of the Poor
C. A. STONE

For Special County Judge
GEORGE M. PANNING

For School Commissioner, 1st District,
WARREN C. GARDNER

For School Commissioner, 2d District
W. C. RICHARDS

For School Commissioner, 3d District
HERMAN W. KANDT

GOVERNOR HUGHES.

The renomination of Governor Hughes is a triumph for the people. More than the fate of one man was at stake during the deliberations of the convention. The fate of the Republican party of the Empire State—of the United States and perchance the fate of the National ticket hung in the balance. Whether or not Governor Hughes has made warm personal friends of the politicians during his reign, he has at least secured the confidence of the plain people and were he less a man and more an iceberg, it would still warm the cockles of his heart to know in what high regard he is held throughout this and several states by the people who finally do the majority of the voting. His nomination on the first ballot and that nomination made unanimous by the delegates at Saratoga on Tuesday, makes the opposition to Governor Hughes a dead issue to be thrown on the political rubbish heap. It is sincerely believed that his erstwhile opponents will let bygones be bygones, and with one accord they will work for the whole ticket until the polls close on election day.

A Mexican Journal, "El Tiempo," in plain English, "The Times" and the organ of Catholicism in Mexico publishes a sharp but alas, a just criticism upon the Americans resident in that country. It says "in no part of the civilized world is a course of civic virtue more necesary than in public schools of the United States, so that every American who goes abroad may understand his duties in the new country in which he takes up his abode. It is a fact that any of our poor people surpasses in good breeding the generality of Americans who come thither.

"It is strange that among the many associations which the eccentricities of the Americans bring forth day by day, as a result of their high sensibility and mental culture, aiming at futile and even ridiculous objects, they could not have thought of organizing a society for so important a purpose as polishing their manners and learning things which would redound to the credit of their nation."

An apostle of a new religion has reduced the number of commandments to seven. This would seem to be a step in the direction of Kiplin's Elysium where "There aint no ten commandments and a man can raise a thirst."

A journalistic philosopher has remarked that there is no married bliss comparable to that in which both the husband and wife are base ball fans but he forgot to add that they should root for the same team.

It would add spice and spirit to the political situation if it could be arranged for Texas and Alabama like Maine and New Hampshire to exploit a September election every Presidental year.

The handshaking stunt between Foraker and Taft has benumbed a number of prophetic predictions about Ohio and the general issue.

TWO SIDES OF ONE MAN.

The editor of the Pulaski Democrat on Sunday preached in the Congregational church in that village, taking for his text "The Life That Tells." On Wednesday he published the following "for sale" notice in his paper:

—This is promising to be a very interesting campaign and there will be many who will wish to present their views, and we have decided to give the people all sides of the question, if contributors are willing to help keep the bank account good to meet the pay roll. This is no bid for political advertising but a statement of position. "Money makes the mare go," running a printing office makes the money go.

To the plain, every day laity it would appear that "the life that tells," now and for eternity, is the one that places principle above pence; honor above dollars. An editor has no more right to lead his readers astray on political questions for a price than has a preacher on moral or religious questions. A paper whose columns do not carry to the readers honest opinions of men and matters, based upon honest investigation, is a menace to a community; a shame to the journalistic profession.

A Xantippe Outwitted.

An Englishman of Lymington had the misfortune to live in a continuous quarrel with his wife, who was a modern Xantippe and threatened in case she survived him to dance over his grave. It was her lot to outlive him, but it was not so easy to carry out her threat. The husband had the precaution to make an injunction in his will requiring his body to be buried in the sea near his residence and without ceremony. The injunction was complied with.

New Marriage Tax.

The latest project in France is a tax on married couples who have no children, the proceeds to be given to those who have large families.

I am too busy to write an advertisement this week.

This proves the quality of my work.

Wm. C. MORGAN

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

113 Cayuga Street Fulton

DIED.

Electa J., widow of the late John Boardman, died on Friday at her home in Second street, after a long illness. The funeral services were held from the late home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment was made in Mt. Adnah. One brother, George Montague and two sisters, Mrs. Emeline Westfall and Mrs. Caroline Shafer, all of this city, survive.

Mrs. H. Chaffee, wife of the late J. P. Chaffee of Gilbert Mills, died August 27, 1908, at the age of 32 years and 3 months. She leaves to mourn her loss four children, Mr. Edward Chaffee, Mrs. Sarah Bailey, Mrs. Lucy Pratt of Gilbert Mills and Mr. William Chaffee of Baldwinsville. Funeral services conducted at the house on Sunday, the 30th. Prayer was offered by Elder A. J. Wayman and the sermon was preached by Elder Snow. Burial at Mt. Pleasant.

Grace L., aged 37, wife of Ex-Assemblyman Frederick G. Whitney, died on Wednesday at her home in Pulaski after a two weeks' illness, an infant son having died soon after birth. The news of the death of Mrs. Whitney brought sorrow to her almost life long friends and neighbors in Pulaski, and throughout the county the deepest sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband. The deceased was a graduate of Vassar College and was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and of the Eastern Star. She was always very active in Congregational church work and up to the time of her marriage about three years ago, she was preceptress of the Pulaski High School. The funeral services were held from the late home on Saturday afternoon and interment was made in Pulaski cemetery. Beside the husband, the mother, Mrs. E. M. Henderson of Pulaski, and one brother, Dr. Thomas Henderson of Philadelphia, Pa., survive.

On Monday at his home, No. 222 West First street, occurred the death of Cornelius F. VanScoy, aged 58. The deceased came to this city from Fair Haven eight years ago and was employed in the Hunter Arms factory as a gun smith. The funeral services will be held from the home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and from State Street church at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. F. A. Miller officiating. Interment will be made in Mt. Adnah. The services at the grave will be in charge of Neahtawanta Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which order the deceased was an esteemed member. Beside the widow, the deceased is survived by one son, Charles R., of Watertown, and two daughters, Isabella and Louise, both of this city.

The death of Mrs. Emaline O. West, aged 87, occurred in Ogdensburg on August 26, and the body was taken to Hastings for interment beside her husband, the late William West. For several years the deceased made her home with Miss Flora Owens in this city. She is survived by one son, Dr. George West of Irving, Kan.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the Grange members, the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during our bereavement in the death of our husband and father. We are especially grateful for the flowers, sympathy, music furnished by the choir and to the pastor, the Rev. A. H. Grant.

Mrs. Albert Keller and Family.

We have just received a large line of Marsh stogies, from Wheeling, West Va.

V. C. LEWIS.

Tired of Him.

At a trial in Scotland a lady got into the witness box to be examined, when the following conversation took place between her and the opposing counsel:

Counsel—How old are you?

Miss Jane—Oh, weel, sir, I am an unmarried woman and dinna think it right to answer that question.

The Judge—Oh, yes; answer the gentleman. How old are you?

Miss Jane—Weel-a-weel, I am fifty.

Counsel—Are you not more?

Miss Jane—Weel, I am sixty.

The inquisitive lawyer still further asked if she had any hopes of getting married, to which Miss Jane replied:

"Weel, sir, I winna tell a lee. I hinna lost hope yet," scornfully adding, "But I wildna marry you, for I am sick and tired o' your palaver already."

Experiment With Lakes.

A lake at Besseln, Burma, owned by the government and stocked with varieties of table fish, brings an annual income of over $6,000. The Burma government is taking steps to utilize Victoria lake to the same way.

CLAUDE E. GUILE

Attorney and Counselor

35 SOUTH FIRST STREET FULTON, N.Y.

Over Rosenbloom's Store

Entrance on Cayuga Street

PROTEST FROM LABOR

Kind of Letters Unions Are Sending Mr. Gompers.

DISTRUST PARTY OF BRYAN.

Camden Central Labor Union Holds the Democracy Responsible For Deplorable Condition of Workers in the Southern States.

At the regular semimonthly meeting of the Camden (N. J.) Central Labor union held Aug. 18, 1908, a communication from national headquarters was received in which the work of the national convention of the dominant parties was set forth and commented upon. The letter closed with an appeal to "stand faithfully by our friends; oppose and defeat our enemies." Accompanying this communication was a request for a contribution to help make it possible to wage a successful campaign for the establishing of labor's rights. The matter was disposed of by the secretary being instructed to forward to the national office the following letter:

Camden, N. J., Aug. 18, 1908.

Samuel Gompers, Esq., President of the American Federation of Labor:

Dear Sir and Brother—We beg to acknowledge the receipt of an address issued by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor under date of Aug. 1. Accompanying this is an appeal for funds to carry out the political programme set forth in the address, in which you call upon the workers of our common country to stand faithfully by our friends. We hereby return to you both documents, not that we do not think the wageworkers should stand by their friends and defeat their enemies, but for the reason that we fail to agree with you as to who are our friends and who are our enemies. You claim to believe the Democratic party to be friendly to labor because at its last national convention it promised to do certain things if elected. For this reason you ask the trades unionists of the country to do the utmost to elect its candidates and to furnish means for carrying on its campaign.

The Central Labor union of Camden believe they have sufficient intelligence to designate who are the friends of labor and who are its foes. We take no stock in any party's promises made just prior to election when we have the record of that party to guide and direct us. We refuse to believe that any political party that has a continuous record for permitting the most degrading forms of labor to exist in states where its jurisdiction is complete can or will reverse itself when it comes into possession of the national government. Labor has found the Democratic party faithless and tyrannical in state government. By what legerdemain are we to believe it will do better when it has still greater power to oppress? In the southern states, where Bryan Democracy has been in the saddle for years and where it dominates every office from the highest to the lowest, are the places to get the party's record in its relation to the working class. Let us judge it by what it has done and is now doing in places where it is in power, and not by any promises it may make to gain our votes. The rule of the Democratic party in the south has produced conditions that rival the worst in the world. In the factories over which they have legislative control we find wages the lowest, the hours the longest and child labor the severest. Only under Democratic rule do we find peonage and convict labor farmed out by the state, with thousands of men and boys working with ball and chain, sentenced there by a Democratic official upon a trumped up charge of vagrancy. Nowhere in this broad land do you find the misery of the worker so hopeless or his poverty so degrading as you do in states ruled by the Democratic party.

Mr. Gompers, how can you ask the working class to support any party with such a damnable record? Are you so piqued because the Republican national convention handed you a lemon that in order to defeat its candidates you would foist into power a political party that for the past fifty years has never had the manhood to raise its voice in protest against any injustice or indignity suffered by the working class? The rule of the Democratic party whenever in power has been most tyrannous and degrading to labor. Upon what line of reason should the working class help a party that has never missed an opportunity to oppress it?

William Jennings Bryan, as the standard bearer you ask us to support, has never done anything to merit our votes. There has never yet occurred a crime to labor of sufficient magnitude to induce him to protest.

Mr. Gompers, the working class cannot trust a man to be high in power who is not brave enough to assert his belief in the innocence of men persecuted by parties who furnish the sinews of war to carry on his campaign. At no time has Mr. Bryan squarely faced the enemy of the working class and denounced their crimes. He has beheld the tragedies that have befallen labor with stony eyes and a muzzled jaw.

When Packingtown struck against a reduction of wages (6 $8.40 from $7.20 per week no Democratic politician raised his voice in protest. What the working class has suffered in the last few years for the sake of principle would stir the heart of Washington monument, if it had one, yet throughout it all Bryan, who stands as the champion of labor because he needs our support, has been as silent as the tomb.

If labor's friends are to be found in the Democratic party, labor would have no problem to solve and nothing to complain of in states controlled by the Democratic party. The fact that the worst blows labor is today receiving come from Democratic Alabama and by persons high up in the national councils of the Democratic party is conclusive proof that the working class has nothing to gain by supporting the party or its candidates.

Free press and free speech, the bulwark of the workers' path to a better condition, have time and again been attacked, and never once has any prominent Democratic paper or party leader raised a voice to protest. Our friends are they who stand by us continuously and are ever willing to fight our battles. Whenever trades unionism is attacked it is not the Democratic party or press that comes to our assistance, but the party and press of our class. If labor owes any allegiance to a political party it is certainly to a party composed of and guided solely by our class and not to one in which labor exploiters congregate and labor's enemies control, however much they may promise in order to secure our support. It is time for labor to awaken to the necessity of political action, but in doing so let it take no backward step or make any false moves. Respectfully yours,

CAMDEN CENTRAL LABOR UNION,
R. M. Hartman, President.
W. T. LORING, Secretary.

The sending of this letter was authorized by an almost unanimous vote. There was one dissenting voice and two members not voting.—Camden Daily Courier, Aug. 19.

MOTHERS OF BOYS

Fathers, too, for that matter, will find irresistible interest in the ultra-stylish, distinctive models of Ivan Frank's

SUITS AND TOP COATS FOR BOYS

In offering this superb line of Boys' Clothes, we do so in the full confidence that comes from knowing that they are made to satisfy—and to prove all that is claimed for them.

In every stitch they show the superior work of the skilled tailor; in every outline, the natty ideas of the high class designer.

ALSO SUITS & OVERCOATS FROM $1.98 UP

Jones' Stores

53-55 First Street Fulton

Next to Savings Bank

Pipe Your Home For Gas!

We carry the most complete line of fixtures in Northern New York, which we will sell at cost.

Have the steady, natural light of gas to read, sew or visit by during the long Winter evenings. No other light is so satisfactory or so cheap. A phone call, No. 198, or a postal will bring our estimate man to your door.

Fulton Fuel & Light Co.

48 South First Street. Opposite Clark House

Automobile Livery

High Power Light Touring Cars

First hour $3.00, each additional hour $2.00.
Half day $15.00. Day $25.00. Week $125.00.
Cars rented by the hour only, before 12 m., unless engaged for full day.
Half day means from any hour after 12 m. to midnight.
Day means from any hour between 6 a. m. and 12 m. to midnight.
Four passengers allowed. Competent drivers.

THE FULTON GARAGE.

Telephone 491.

ELECTRICITY HELPS

Reduced Prices on Tungsten Lamps

These new lamps have been reduced over 10% in price making the saving in lighting even greater than before.

They consume only ONE THIRD the current of the carbon lamp, and give a better light.

Let us show you how you can save ONE HALF your lighting bills, with a better service.

Get in line now!

FULTON LIGHT, HEAT & POWER CO.

Local and Personal

Bread like mother used to make can only be made from GOLDEN SHEAF FLOUR—sweet, nutty, healthful. When next you order flour order Golden Sheaf, made only by TRUE BROTHERS.

Miss Alice Schenck is recovering from an illness.

Miss Katherine Mackesy has returned from Syracuse.

Miss Bertha Kelly continues slowly to regain her health.

Miss Ella Cornell has returned to her home in Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Clare T. Bailey has been confined to his home by illness.

Mr. E. J. Penfield is convalescent from a very severe illness.

Mr. John MacNamara of New York city has been visiting Fulton relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Wells have removed to the Osborne house in West Broadway.

Mr. James Carroll is attending the State convention in Rochester as a delegate.

The Misses Florence and Maude Newell have resumed their studies in Syracuse.

Mrs S. R. Magee left last week for Philadelphia, Pa., where she will spend some time.

Miss Casey has resumed her duties as trimmer in the J. C. O'Brien millinery department.

Mrs. Edward F. Marsh and Miss Mary O. Marsh are contemplating spending the Winter months in Florida.

Mr. E. M. Austin, formerly with McRae & Sons, is now with The Fulton Hardware Co., No 13 S. First street.

Miss Edith Morin has accepted a position as teacher in a Little Falls School, leaving last week for her new work.

Full line of Eastman's Kodaks and Supplies, at Lasher's Book Store.

The Tintinnabulation

of the School Bell will say, "School Shoes" to almost every parent of an active boy or Girl.

Now, to cut it short, we'll say that we are showing the best school shoes that ever romped on a play ground.

Strong, but pliable Box and Gun Metal Calf. Medium or heavy Oak tanned soles. All points, where strain comes, well stayed---built to stay, but not clumsy.

A correct width, size and shape to fit growing feet correctly.

$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50

Batts Shoe Shop

110 Oneida Street Fulton

Miss Clara Hillick is at Sherburne.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson.

A son was born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs Holden Pratt.

Miss Cora Kellogg is very seriously ill with inflammatory rheumatism.

Miss Mary Bowman of Syracuse has been the guest of Mrs. A. Emerick.

Miss Sara Perry is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Huntington, in Syracuse.

Miss Imogene Paddock has resumed her studies in Dana Hall, Wellesley Mass.

Mr. James Fassell of Utica is the guest of his father, Mr. George Fassell.

Oswego county disposed of 175 hunters licenses during the month of August.

Mrs Mary Clark and sister, Miss Anna Kimber, have returned from a Summer vacation tour of the continent.

Mrs. Burr Howard on Friday attended the annual reunion of the Pulaski Democrat's correspondents, held in G. A. R. hall in that village.

Mr. Clarence Partrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Partrick, leaves this week to resume his occupation as a mechanic in the United States navy.

Miss Alice Murphy has not resigned her position as stenographer in the law offices of Mead & Stranahan, as was stated in two local papers.

Prof. F. A. Waterman of Northampton, Mass., is recovering from an attack of appendicitis. Prof. Waterman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Waterman of this city.

Veteran E. A Williams physical condition is very feeble owing to his advanced years and a fractured hip which he sustained two weeks ago as the result of a fall in his bedroom.

The Fulton Hardware Company has taken over the hardware business of McRae & Sons, and will continue a general hardware business at No 13 S. First street. McRae & Sons will conduct a plumbing and tinning business at No. 26 S. First street, their former hardware store.

Miss Mae Benson of West First street held the lucky ticket that drew the handsome mahogany music cabnet given away by A. S. Brown, dealer in pianos, organs, music &c. Miss Benson guessed the number of a piano standing in the booth at the Fair and was awarded the prize.

Mrs. Switz Conde was injured in New York city last week, by leaping from her automobile when she saw a team of horses bearing down upon the machine at a fierce pace. She was slightly strained but not injured seriously by her leap with her grandson in her arms.

The fire department was called on Sunday noon to No. 175 Second street, where a blaze had ignited from a gas range and was making rapid headway in the woodwork of the kitchen. Considerable damage was done by water which ran down into the apartments on the first floor. The fire caught in the upper flat occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mott.

It is reported that Clarence E. Pitts is contemplating removing the Prohibition headquarters from Oswego to Syracuse. The matter is in the hands of the executive committee and should they report favorably to the plan, the water wagon and the water boy will leave at once for the Salt City. It has been hinted for some time that Mr. Pitts was rather fond of Syracuse and now it is believed he will make his permanent home there.

Mr. John Reynolds is regaining his health after a three months confinement to his home with a broken hip bone.

The Misses Hazel Lamson and Clara Earnshaw spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Blakeman at Little Utica.

Mrs. George H. Fassell is in Edicott, having accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Roy Leonard and son, home this week.

Mr. Glenn Streeter has resigned his position in the H. Allen grocery store, to resume his studies in Syracuse university.

Miss Verna Hunter leaves today for Wellesley, Mass., where she will enter Dana Hall, preparatory to entering Wellesley college.

The Misses Priscilla and Choice Myers have returned to New York city after spending the Summer at their home at Oak Spring Farm.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Vesta Massey Phelps and Attorney David Page Morehouse Jr., all of Oswego. The ceremony will take place on Oct. 1.

The West side residents complain bitterly that they have been discriminated against in the distribution of the refuse cans ordered by the Board of Health, in as much as all were placed on the east side. The president of the Board says that more cans have been ordered and that the west side will receive attention soon.

W. H. Costigan, boss finisher in the Carthage Tissue Paper mill, has written friends in this city that he knew the Harry Smith who was drowned near the Victoria Paper mill ten days ago. He says that Smith had a good home in Philadelphia, Pa., and the authorities will endeavor to notify his parents of his death.

Miss Caroline B. Nichols, formerly of this city, is conducting a ladies orchestra which appears at the Grand, Syracuse, this week. In speaking of Miss Nichols, the Post-Standard says: "Caroline B. Nichols, the conductor of the orchestra, is a queenly looking woman and she wields the baton with great grace and precision."

Thursday's atmospheric conditions were unusual in the extreme and they are as yet not clearly accounted for. From 5 A. M., until late sundown a peculiar yellow tint prevaded everything, trees, houses, people, taking on the tint, and the sun was all day like a ball of fire in the sky. It is thought by some that the fires in the west and northwest produced the condition, although others contend that a cloud formation was responsible for the frightening of superstitious people.

The V. C. Lewis smoke shop has a fine line of smoking tobacco and the pipes in which to smoke it. Look over the line, if you smoke a pipe.

Try a Barry Lyndon 5c straight cigar. You will find it at the V. C. Lewis cigar store, Cayuga street.

WANTED

Farm and City Property

Whitaker & Lovejoy

44 S. First Street Fulton, N. Y.

THE

Bee Hive Store

is the place for

Good Bargains

Here are only a few of the

SPECIALS FOR NEXT WEEK

10c Toweling, per yard.....6 1-2c
Good Linen Toweling, per yd.....
.....8 1-2c to 12 1-2c
Men's $1.00 Pants for.....75c
Boy's and Girls' Hose, special value for.....10c
Men's Socks.....5c
Safety Pins.....3c
A few rolls ribbon worth from 4 to 15c. Slightly damaged at 1-2 price.
10c Cream pitchers.....5c
10c plates.....3 for 19c
China Dishes, 10c value for.....5c
Small Platters.....5c

Many More Cut Prices Not Mentioned Here.

J. H. St. Louis & Co.

24 S. First Street, Fulton

Mrs. Mary Lawler of Waldradt street is very ill.

Mr. Arthur T. Clark of Albany is visiting in Fulton.

Miss Hattie Parmalee of Minetto has been visiting Mrs. F. A. Summerville.

Miss Ada Wright has returned from Dwight, Ill., where she spent the Summer.

Hon. and Mrs. N. N. Stranahan are located in the Stevens house in Broadway.

Miss Kate Gilbert leaves on Wednesday to resume her studies in Smith college.

Attorney and Mrs. Arvin Rice left on Tuesday for a two weeks visit in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Charles Lockrowe and children have returned from a visit with friends in Wolcott.

Mrs Charles Calkins was on Saturday taken to the hospital, very ill with typhoid fever.

Meigs Wells has sold his house and lot on West Third street to John Coy of Ithaca.

Mrs. Arlon Wilbur has sufficiently recovered her health to return to her home at Bowens Corners.

Miss Goldie Parks has accepted a position as saleswoman in the Wm. C. Morgan jewelry store.

Mr. George P Wells attended the clambake in Watertown last week, given by the Shiners of Media Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. W H. Pollard and Mr. and Mrs S D Gardner attended the Pomona Grange at Southwest Oswego last week.

Mr. Anson Salisbury of Breckenridge, Wis., is the guest of Mrs. Ellen Harding and other friends in this vicinity. He will return home on Thursday.

Mrs. Hines and daughter Dora, have removed from the house in Oneida street recently purchased by C. B. Boardman, to the Patterson block.

The Earl of Albermarle high grade cigar comes in two grades, 10c straight and 3 for 25c. V. C. Lewis, 109 Cayuga street, sells them.

In Perfectos we have just received King Edward, a 2 for 25c cigar; Perfectos at 10c straight, and Elegantes at 3 for 25c. They are choice goods and to be found only at the V. C. LEWIS cigar store.

Superintendent of Public Works James J. Flynn asks that great care be taken in using city water, and that no water be wasted as the water is lower in the springs now than it has been any time this season.

The President honored the grange by selecting two of its members for the commission appointed to suggest methods to improve rural life. One of these was Dean Bailey of Cornell and the other President Butterfield of the Massachusetts State Agricultural college. Both are active members of the grange.

On Saturday, September 12, a family reunion was held at the home of Miss Mattie Vant in Oneida street, in honor of Mr. George Vant of Chicago, who is the guest of friends in this vicinity. There was a large gathering of relatives and a delicious dinner was enjoyed.

The recent fire losses to the properties of the M. C. Freeman Boat Company, the J. J. Parker engine works, and that of A. T. Mason whose dwelling in South Second street was damaged on Sunday last, have been adjusted through Whitaker & Lovejoy, with whom all were insured.

The Rev. John Richards has been asked by the official Board of Furman Methodist church, in Syracuse, to accept the vacant pastorate of that church, providing it become the pleasure of the Bishop. Mr. Richards has laid the matter before the official board of the First Methodist church in this city, the members of which are loth to stand in the way of so substantial advancement for Mr Richards. The change will mean Mr. Richards transferal from the Northern New York to the Central New York conference.

Prof. Guy F. Taylor writes The Times that last week on the property owned by the Cherokee Mica & Mining Company, in which he is an officer, a large deposit of amber or electrical mica was encountered within six feet of the surface where a tunnel was being constructed. This is the quality of mica so much used for electrical purposes. Mr. Taylor now holds the right, title and claim to the mining properties in which he is interested and expects to reap a rich harvest for himself and the stockholders and shareholders in the company.

Help Wanted—Woman for general housework in family of three adults. House equipped with all conveniences. Write P. O. Box 128. 2wk.

You are Happy and Contented

if you have had your Coal bin filled with good, bright, clean COAL and that is what HART has in waiting for you If—your bins are not filled. Ten cars have just arrived and more on the way. Not one word of dissatisfaction do we hear from our many customers.

There is a Reason

---there is nothing to find fault with. Our COAL is just what you have been looking for, and to think that you are getting it at Summer prices. All we ask of you is to exchange your cash for COAL, all sizes in stock.

Remember

we are paying 50c more per ton today for COAL than it cost us last April. We are dividing the profit with you. Is it asking too much of you to assist us with a little cash, that we may be better enabled to pay promptly for our goods? We will sell you Egg, Stove and Chestnut COAL for $6.00 per ton and Pea Coal for $5.00 per ton, delivered this month.

We shall expect to hear from you soon.

Yours Truly,

E. E. HART

Yard and Office in Rear of Post Office, Fulton

Fine Engraving

Done to Order

I have just received a full line of samples of engraved wedding stationery, announcement cards, calling cards, etc., and will be very pleased to have you inspect them and learn the prices for the work. The finest work will be done by m and the prices are reasonable. Calling cards printed from your own plate.

You will be amazed at the large stock of Signet Rings, Wedding Rings, Diamonds, set and unset: Bracelets, Watches, etc., which I am showing this Fall. It will pay you to look them over before purchasing elsewhere.

A full line of Cut Glass, Silver, China and Art Goods always on hand.

G. B. Farley

The First Street Jeweler

Robert, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Marsh, is very ill, with appendicitis threatening.

The Legislative Committee of the Chautauqua Pomona grange at a recent meeting adopted a resolution favoring Gov. Hughes' re-nomination also reaffirming its position in favoring reform legislation suggested by Gov. Hughes at the last session of the legislature and which was not enacted. Also expressing its appreciation of the efforts of Gov. Hughes for securing the enactment of the anti-gambling laws and the law creating the public service commission. The Legislative Committee of Chautauqua Pomona is made up of one member from each subordinate grange. Three members of this committee are democrats, two being present at the last session. One moved the adoption of the resolution which was favored by all members.

Lost—An Oswego Normal school pin was lost on the east side on Monday, Labor Day, between First street and the High school building. A reward will be paid for its return to Jessie T. Sutton, Waldradt Street school.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the M. C. Freeman Boat Co. will be held at the company's office, Erie St. Fulton, N. Y. on Oct 1, 1908 at 8 p. m.

L. W. Ford
Sec.

Fulton N. Y. Sept. 10, 1908. 9-23

New Attorney in Fulton.

Attorney R. J. Pendergast of Phoenix, formerly in the law office of Attorney T. E. Hancock, Syracuse, has taken a desk in the law offices of Piper & Rice.

Psychology of Broken Jaws.

It might be a bit of a strange fact, but you would be astonished to see the broken jaws which are presented at free institutions on holidays—election day, New Year's day and the Fourth of July. A great number of fractured jaws are the result of quarrels among the very lowest classes. It surprises me that the number of broken jaws is not on the increase on account of the heated newspaper discussions that we are constantly having on various topics of the day. It has been said that were it not for the mouth nine-tenths of the gossip and the mischief of the world would be prevented. And very often were it not for the mouth there would be no broken jaws.—D. B. Breundlich in New York Medical Journal.

A Perfectly Shaped Collar

Fits properly around the neck.

Try our work for a change.

Modern Way Laundry

E. D. PARK, Proprietor

Second and Cayuga Sts. Fulton

West Side Agency at W. H. Davis

The First National Bank

Fulton, N. Y.

Pays 4% on Money Left Six Months.

Pays 3% on Certificates of Deposit, No Time Lost.

Safe Deposit Boxes.

Business Cards

A. T. JENNINGS
Attorney and Counselor-at-Law
NOTARY PUBLIC
9 S. First St. Fulton, N Y

S. J. KELLY,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
7 UNIVERSITY BLK, SYRACUSE, N. Y.
Careful and prompt attention paid to all matters of legal interest.

H. P. MARSH, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE, 227-229 ONEIDA STREET
OFFICE HOURS—8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 P. M.

H. L. LAKE, M. D.
Specialist in diseases of the
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES CAREFULLY FITTED
Hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m
218 Oneida street, Fulton.

G. A. GUILE, DD. S.
GRADUATE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY.
356 S. Fourth Street
Special attention given to the preservation of the natural teeth; also crown and bridge work. Anesthetics used for painless extraction

Earl S. Brown, Successor to Brown & Hunter
Funeral Director and Graduate ...Embalmer...
111 ONEIDA STREET, FULTON, N. Y.
Store Phone, 36 House Call, 66
Night calls promptly attended from residence, 170 S. Third St.

JAMES COLE & SON,
Undertaking and Furniture
EDWARD P. COLE,
Embalmer and Funeral Director
EL. 142. Residence over store, No. 40 South First Street Fulton.

PATENTS Money in small inventions as well as large. Send for free booklet. Milo B. Stevens & Co., 884 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branches: Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit. Established 1864.

Foot Specialists.
Dr. J. B. Jones, established 1870, member Pedic Society State of New York, and Dr. L. G. Cunningham, graduate Pedic Society State of New York. 217 Montgomery street, opposite the Yates hotel, Syracuse, N. Y. Hard and soft corns, ingrowing, clubber or inverted nails, bun' as, inflamed joints, tumors, chilblain, and callosites treated in a skillful and scientific manner. Instruments thoroughly sterilized. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Oswego County Court Appointments

Pursuant to statute, I hereby appoint the terms of the Oswego County Court to be hereafter held, until otherwise ordered, for the trial of issues of fact, as follows:

First Monday in March, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in May, Court House, Oswego
Second Monday in September, Court House Pulaski.
Fourth Monday in November, Court House Oswego

I hereby designate the same terms for trial and determination of indictments, and for the hearing and transaction of other criminal business and proceedings.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term.

Terms for the hearing and decision of motions and appeals and trials, and other proceedings without a jury, will also be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except July and August, at Judge's Chambers, Oswego.

Dated, Oswego, Oct. 15, 1907.

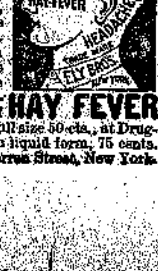
MERRICK STOWELL,
Oswego County Judge.

Surrogates Court

During the year 1907 and until otherwise ordered, terms of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Oswego, will be held as follows:

On Monday of each week, except in the month of August, at the Surrogate's office in the city of Oswego, at 10 o'clock a. m.

On the second Thursday of each month, except August, at the Court House in the village of Pulaski, at 10 o'clock a. m.



Whenever one of the days above appointed falls on a holiday the Court will be held the

CLAYTON I. MILLER
Surrogate

Mr. Bryan criticises Mr. Taft for adding to the Republican platform. In the meantime the number of "paramount issues" which Mr. Bryan subtracted from the Democratic platform would fill several large volumes.—Omaha Bee.

A Reliable Remedy for CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

HAY FEVER

GREATEST STATE FAIR

New York Plant Best Equipped in the World.

NEW LIBERAL ARTS BUILDING

Superb Structure, to Be Dedicated by Governor Hughes, Conceded to Be the Finest of Its Kind—An Attractive Week's Programme.

With a $225,000 building representing the cornerstone of the proposed $2,000,000 permanent fair grounds the New York state fair of 1908, which opens at Syracuse Sept. 14, will hold a new interest for the people of the Empire State. For the first time during the sixty-eight years that New York has laid claim to an annual exhibition the state fair will be accepted as meeting the demands of the vast manufacturing, agricultural and breeding interests of the state.

LEWIS STUYVESANT CHANLER.
(President of state fair commission.)

Since Governor Charles E. Hughes and the state legislature authorized a new state fair commission to proceed with the building of what is expected to be the most completely equipped fair plant in the world there has been a remarkable development in every department of the fair. This is seen in the entries at state fair headquarters denoting the number and character of the exhibits. Representatives of interests which have made New York the first state in the Union seemed to have joined with a rush in showing the need for the large substantial buildings called for in the plan adopted by the legislature at the last session.

The 80,000 square feet of floor space in the new building to be devoted to manufactures and liberal arts had been applied for before the immense steel girders forming the network for the stone, brick and concrete were in place. Unable to get into the new building, exhibitors turned to the wooden structures, and now they are tumbling over one another in the scramble for space out of doors suitable for exhibiting purposes.

The entries in the live stock, agricultural, horticultural and poultry departments are far more numerous than in former years. The agricultural machinery exhibit will be the greatest ever shown in the state. Commissioner of Agriculture Raymond A. Pearson has arranged the best dairy exhibit ever shown anywhere. Practically all of the large racing stables in the country are entered in the grand circuit meeting, one of the very big features of the fair. Samuel W. Taylor of New York city, who directs the horse show as a representative of Commissioner DeForest Settle, head of the racing and horse show departments, predicts that it will be the most interesting outdoor exhibition of high class horses ever held in this or foreign countries. Encouragement from the legislature seems to have sent the state fair ahead at tremendous bounds.

The most important event in connection with the state fair this year will be the dedication of the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building, with Governor Hughes delivering the principal address from the broad brick approach of the building, which will look out over a plaza large enough for 60,000 people. This will take place on Thursday, when many state legislators will be on hand to inspect the first work on the new fair grounds intrusted to a commission consisting of Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler and Commissioner of Agriculture Pearson, who are ex officio under the state fair act, and five paid members—DeForest Settle of Syracuse, A. E. Perren of Buffalo, C. A. Wieting of Cobleskill, Ira Sharp of Lowville and William Pitkin of Rochester. Mr. Chanler is president of the commission.

That Governor Hughes and the legislators will be pleased with the commission's work there appears to be little doubt. The building, a magnificent structure, finished in sand white brick and with an arched roof painted a delicate green, is located near the main entrance to the grounds. Besides being of rare architectural beauty, in admirably meets the needs for which it was planned. The great floor space, larger than that in Madison Square Garden, New York, is entirely free from pillars, and skylights extending almost its entire length make it unnecessary for exhibitors to use any artificial light. State engineers declare that there is not a fair building of its equal in the world.

Monday, the first day of the fair, has been designated "Hiawatha day," because the Ka-Noo-No Karnival, promoted annually by the Mystique Krewe of Ka-Noo-No, an organization of people who lead in the business and social life of Syracuse, opens on the evening of that day. The purpose of the Mystique Krewe is to provide for visitors to Syracuse during fair week entertainment on the order of that furnished at New Orleans by the Mardi Gras. The grand circuit race meeting opens on Monday, as do the running horse races, which will be the first held in connection with the fair. The first of the horse show classes will be called, and they will have a unique feature in a race on the mile track between four-in-hand trotting teams driven to coaches. This will be the first attempt at a four-in-hand race on a circular track with three or more teams competing.

Tuesday will be Empire State day, when loyal New Yorkers are expected to turn out en masse and show a spirit of appreciation for the great interests represented at the fair. The judging of the different departments will be in full blast, and the race inclosure will have a special feature in the $10,000 Empire State stake, one of the classics of the trotting turf.

As in past years, Wednesday will be Grange day, and the attendance will be swelled by visitors from the rural districts, always depended upon to support the state fair. A large plot of ground will be given to the use of grangers where they may hold meetings and transact organization business. When the permanent grounds are completed the grangers will have a building for their exclusive use.

IRA CHARP.
(Commissioner in charge of domestic department.)

Thursday has been designated "Governor's and Legislators' day," and Friday and Saturday will be Intercity Matinee days. The two closing days of the fair will have race track attractions in the events of the Intercity Matinee, the equal of which are seen just once a year in one city of the United States. It means the annual meeting of the amateur reinsmen affiliated with the League of Amateur Driving Clubs, which includes organizations in New York, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Columbus, Pittsburg and Syracuse. Each year one of these cities is selected as the place for holding a two day meeting, the only meeting which brings together all of the clubs. Fortunately for the state fair and for the state fair visitors, the Intercity Matinee was allotted to Syracuse and the dates fixed for Sept. 18 and 19. By an arrangement with the Driving Club of Syracuse the state fair commission was able to get this big attraction for the fair. The best trotters and pacers used for amateur racing in the country will be driven by their owners to wagons as light and as fast as racing sulkies.

For the past three years the state fair has been attracting in the neighborhood of 150,000 people annually. With the unusual features this year and the railroad companies preparing to almost double the transportation facilities the indications are that the attendance will pass the 200,000 mark.

WILLIAM PITKIN.
(Commissioner in charge of farm products.)

Minor Heir to Try for Record.

The race programme will open on Monday with the stake for three-year-old trotters eligible to the 2:25 class. Other events on Monday's card will be the 2:07 pace, the 2:13 trot and a race for thoroughbreds under saddle. The feature event of the day will be Minor Heir's trial against the world's record. Minor Heir secured at Terre Haute the world's record for the two fastest heats in a race when he won in 2:01 and 2:01¼. The week following he went an exhibition mile in 2:00¼, just one second behind the world's record held jointly by Star Pointer and Audubon Boy. As the state fair track is faster than any of the courses Minor Heir has been over this year and he is to have special preparation for this trial; horsemen say that his chances for getting the world's record are good.

AN INDIAN VILLAGE.

Onondagas Will Live at Fair Grounds as They Did Centuries Ago.

Visitors to the state fair grounds will have a chance to see how the Onondaga Indians lived in the days when their tepees were erected on the ground now covered by some of the large fair buildings. When Father Le Moyne visited Onondaga lake in 1654 he discovered salt springs and came in contact with the first Onondaga Indians he had met within a short distance of the present fair grounds.

The purpose of the Indian village which is to be conducted by the Mystique Krewe of Ka-Noo-No, the organization which gives annually the Ka-Noo-No Karnival, is to recall to the public mind Indian history and traditions associated with the ground which the state uses for its annual exposition. It will be shown how the primitive red man built fires without matches and lived before he learned the lessons of his civilized white brother.

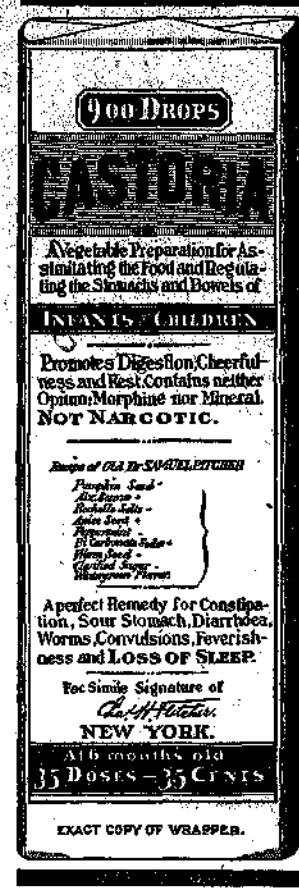
There will be the unique Indian band composed entirely of real Onondaga Indians, including some of their chiefs in full Indian costume and headdress. Fifty Indians will be seen in this production, and they will live on the fair grounds in their tepees from the beginning of the fair to the close, cooking their own food and sleeping in blankets in primitive fashion. A play will be given by the Indians, the subject of which will be "The Legend of Hiawatha."

Preparations have been fully completed for the Ka-Noo-No Karnival popularly styled "the northern Mardi Gras." This is given by the Mystique Krewe for the entertainment of state fair visitors during the evenings of fair week. On Monday evening the coronation of the king and queen of the Karnival will be seen. A grand spectacle will be furnished in the central square of Syracuse in which fifty young ladies will take part. This will be followed by a water pageant on the Erie canal, which passes through the square. The festivities of the evening will wind up with a grand ball at Turn hall, the building owned by the Syracuse Turn Verein.

ALBERT E. BROWN.
(Treasurer of state fair commission.)

On Tuesday night there will be a float parade, representing symbolically the city's industrial and commercial life, and on Wednesday there will be a parade of floats depicting history and legends of the Hudson river. The fraternal float parade of various organizations will be seen on Thursday night, and the Karnival will close on Friday night with a floral parade in which 10,000 school children will take part.

AMATEUR REINSMEN.



Syracuse Selected as Place For Big Meeting of the Year.

The leading amateur reinsmen of the country, connected with the League of Amateur Driving Clubs, gather at one place near the close of each racing season for what is known as the intercity matinee, an event which attracts unusual interest in the horse world. In past years it has been held in Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and Pittsburg.

This year Syracuse, which has a club ranking second only to Cleveland in amateur racing, was designated as the meeting place. Fortunately for state fair visitors, the dates for the meeting were fixed for the same week as the state fair, and the amateur races will furnish one of the feature events of the fair.

In these contests, which will be held on Sept. 18 and 19, the trotters and pacers, trained exclusively for the amateur sport, will be driven to four wheeled racing wagons, so constructed that a horse can draw one a mile within a second as fast as he can draw the lightest racing sulky. Owners, some of whom have invested large fortunes in their stables for the mere pleasure of the sport and without any hope of financial return, will drive. The winner in each class will be awarded a silver trophy.

Senator Horace White, president of the Driving Club of Syracuse, which will be directly in charge of the intercity matinee, has received entries from New York, Boston, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Columbus and Chicago which, with the entries from the Syracuse club, promise the greatest amateur racing in the history of the sport in this country. In order to permit state fair visitors to witness the contests between the noted amateur reinsmen the fair commission decided to crowd the programme of grand circuit races into the first four days of the fair instead of having it extend into Friday, as has been the custom.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Legal Notices

In pursuance of an order of C. I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Nancy R. Crosby, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber, at the law offices of Piper & Rice, in the city of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 10th day of March, A.D., 1909.

Dated this 8th day of September, A.D., 1908. sep-6m

ARVIN RICE, Executor.

STATE OF NEW YORK—Supreme Court, Oswego County.
Lewis N. Ostrander, Plaintiff, vs. John Drew, Defendant.

To the above named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and, in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.

Dated this 11th day of May, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.

To John Drew, Defendant:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. Merrick Stowell, Oswego County Judge, dated the 12th day of May, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Oswego, at Oswego, N. Y.

Dated May 11th, 1908.

O. M. REILLY,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office Address,
Phoenix, N. Y.
9-16

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Alice Chubb, late of the City of Fulton in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence, No. 202 E. Broadway, in the City of Fulton in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 28th day of April, A. D., 1908.

MARGRET A. EASTON,
Administratrix.
10-28

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Hon. Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against William W. Palmer, late of the town of Granby, in said County, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same, with the vouchers therefor, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Lysander, in the County of Onondaga, New York, on or before the 31st day of October, 1908.

Dated this 20th day of April, A. D., 1908.

CLARA B. RUSS,
Executrix of the last will and testament of William W. Palmer, deceased.
10-27

Notice to Creditors.

IN PURSUANCE of an order of Clayton I. Miller, Surrogate of the County of Oswego, New York, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against John N. Fulford, late of the city of Fulton, in said county, deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers therefore, to the subscribers at the residence of Luella Perkins, No. 255 South Sixth street, in the city of Fulton, in the County of Oswego, New York, on or before the 9th day of November, 1908.

Dated this 9th day of April, 1908.

LUELLA PERKINS,
MARTHA FULFORD,
Executrix.
11-2

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 625 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office. WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT

The most charming inland water trip on the American continent.

THE GREAT IRON STEAMERS
"HENDRICK HUDSON,"
"NEW YORK" or "ALBANY"
1908—Daily, Except Sunday—1908

Leave Albany, Hamilton St., 8.30 A.M
Arrive New York, West 129th St., 5.10 P. M
" " New York, West 42d St., 5.30 P. M
New York, Desbrosses St., 6.00 P. M

Steamers stop at Hudson, Catskill, Kingston Point, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, West Point and Yonkers each way.

Returning leave New York, Desbrosses St., 8.40 A. M., West 42d St., 9.00 A. M., West 129th St., 9.20 A. M., due to arrive at Albany, 6.10 P. M.

Handsomely appointed dining-rooms, with superior service, are on the main deck, affording an uninterrupted view of the magnificent scenery for which the Hudson is renowned. Orchestral music, cosy private parlors.

CATSKILL MOUNTAIN RESORT BOOK
For season 1908 will be sent you for 6c in stamps
Tickets via day line are on sale at all offices
Ticket Offices at Albany, N. Y., in our New Building, 325 Broadway, corner Hamilton St.
9-14 W. B. EUMENDORF, GENERAL AGENT

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
OSWEGO DIVISION
Trains Leave Fulton
Time at N. Y. C. & W. Station

NORTH BOUND

5.48 a. m.	Train No.	335
8.10 a. m., Daily	"	337
11.51 a. m.	"	301
3.31 p. m., Daily	"	351
6.16 p. m.	"	303
10.10 p. m., Daily	"	315

SOUTH BOUND

8.04 a. m.	Train No.	302
9.39 a. m., Daily	"	318
2.14 p. m.	"	330
5.09 p. m., Daily	"	328
7.04 p. m.	"	342
9.34 p. m., Daily	"	336

NEW YORK ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
Time Card in Effect June 21st, 1908.

Trains Leave Fulton

NORTH BOUND

*Chicago Limited for all points West	3 47 AM
†Express for Oswego	11 00 "
*Local for Oswego	5 16 PM
§Local for Oswego	6 49 "
†Ontario Day Express for Oswego	7 25 "

SOUTH BOUND

†Express for Norwich	8 22 AM
§Sylvan Beach Special	9 53 "
*Local for Sidney	9 18 AM
*Limited for New York	12 38 PM
†Express for New York	7 06 "

n Stops to leave New York Passengers.
§ Sunday only.
† Daily except Sunday.
* Runs daily.

Passenger rates two cents per mile. Full man Buffet Sleepers, Parlor or Reclining Chair Cars on all trains. For tickets and information apply to Ticket Agent or address

J. C. ANDERSON, Traffic Manager, 68 Beaver St., New York.
G. A. PAUL, Traveling Agent, Oneida, N. Y.

CANCER CURED To Stay Cured
without pain, inconvenience, or leaving home. NO KNIFE—NO PLASTER—NO PAIN
The MASON METHOD, indorsed at the International Medical Congress and pronounced by prominent New York Physicians to be the only permanent cure. Send for free booklet. Investigate to-day. Cancer does not wait. We give proofs of cures. Mason Cancer Institute, Broadway car. 34th St., N. Y.

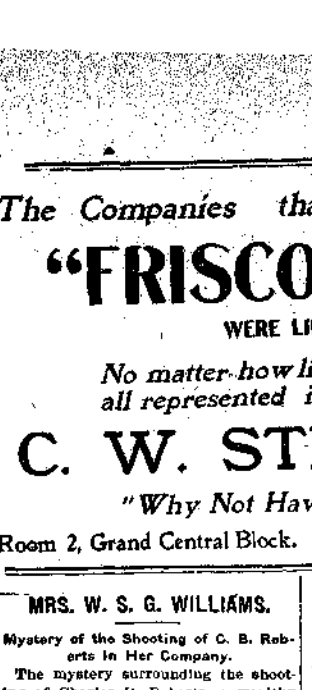
The Companies that Paid Losses in

"FRISCO" WITHOUT DISCOUNT

WERE LIMITED

No matter how limited, they are all represented in the office of

C. W. STREETER



"Why Not Have the Best?"

Room 2, Grand Central Block. Phone 64 Fulton N. Y.

MRS. W. S. G. WILLIAMS.

Mystery of the Shooting of C. B. Roberts in Her Company.

The mystery surrounding the shooting of Charles B. Roberts, a wealthy resident of Baltimore, while riding in a rolling chair in company with Mrs. W. S. G. Williams on the board walk at Atlantic City has caused the police of that and other cities to do some thinking. Society circles in Baltimore and Newport, where the families of both Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Williams are well known, are stirred by the incident, which has caused so many theories to be set afloat regarding the motive of the shooting and the identity of Mr. Roberts' assailant. Mrs. Williams and Mr. Roberts maintained that they were held up by a highwayman. The police refused to accepted this theory and went to work to unravel the mystery on the assumption that Mr.

MRS. W. S. G. WILLIAMS.

Roberts was wounded by some one who had a grudge against him and that the fact of Mrs. Williams being away from her husband and in Roberts' company had something to do with the tragedy. Mr. Williams had been in Europe and had just returned a day or two before the shooting. He proved to the satisfaction of the police that he was not in Atlantic City, however, when Mr. Roberts was shot.

Mrs. Williams accuses the Atlantic City police of ignoring the real motive of the shooting, which, she says, was robbery, and making misstatements as to the affair in order to counteract the effect of such an occurrence on the reputation of the place for good order. Mrs. Williams is a handsome woman of about thirty and belongs to a family of wealth and social standing.

MACARONI IN ITALY.

To the Working People This Food Is a Luxury.

Every one pictures the Italian as eating macaroni. What if I tell you that the Italians, taking them as a people, do not eat macaroni, and yet this is virtually true. Macaroni in Italy costs 4 to 8 cents a pound, and it is too costly for common use. It is about as accurate to say that the Italians live on macaroni as that the Americans live on turkey. Macaroni to the working Italian is a luxury. You often see young fellows on a holiday indulging in a dish in a restaurant or before a street cook stand about as Americans would eat ice cream. A customary workman's dinner is a hunk of bread broken apart and "buttered" with a few traces of tomato sauce. As for meat, it is the greatest rarity, and the only drink they can afford is water, which has the advantage of being cheap and filling. The Italians at home are not only temperate, but abstemious. Wine and beer and even tea, coffee and chocolate are forbidden to them on account of the expense. In all Italy we saw no one under the influence of liquor. So also there is practically no smoking. The government has a monopoly of the tobacco business, buys its supplies in quantities direct in America and elsewhere and charges three prices for everything. The few tobacco shops keep a piece of smoldering tow tied at the doorpost, so that patrons and passers may light their cigars by it.—Los Angeles Times.

How Men and Women Face Death.

How do men and women face death when the sentence is pronounced by the doctor? A medical man tells us his experience. Tell the man of higher type and greater intelligence, he says, that he is facing death and he begins to fight, demands a consultation, talks about going to specialists and fights grimly to the finish. Tell a woman the same facts, and she lies back to await her fate. All women are fatalists. On the other hand, tell a man that he has one chance in a thousand to recover if he will undergo an operation, and he will trust to his own strength and endurance rather than undergo the knife. The woman will choose the thousandth chance and submit to the operation with astounding calmness.—Woman's Life.

Burning With Curiosity.

A certain famous authoress who is much worried by unknown correspondents has taken her revenge in a somewhat eccentric fashion. She received a letter from a woman informing her that the writer had named her last baby after her and requesting the authoress' views on her choice. She received a thick envelope, heavily sealed, with this inscription: "Not to be opened till baby's thirtieth birthday." Now the mother is worrying herself day and night as to the contents of the envelope.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death-like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Walking Sticks.

The sixteenth century is that in which the walking stick became not merely a useful implement, but an article of fashion, dignity and luxury. In the seventeenth century it was gold headed and made of rare woods. It was a sign of leadership.

For a long period there was little variety among Englishmen in the material used for the majority of walking sticks. The "oaken towel," as it was pleasantly termed when an enemy was to be "rubbed down," shared popularity with the crab tree cudgel, which, among rural folk especially, was much valued and classic from the conflict in "Hudibras," when—

With many a stiff thwack, many a bang,
Hard crab tree on old iron rang.

Classic, too, is that stout oaken stick which sturdy Dr. Johnson, who, like Knox, "never feared the face of living man," provided himself with when he went to the pit of the little theater in the Haymarket in full view of Foote, who had announced his intention of "taking him off" on the stage, an intention which in view of the stick he did not carry into effect.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequaled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

A GREAT CATTLE SHOW

Champion Cows of World to Be Seen at State Fair.

MANY HERDS OF HOLSTEINS.

New York Leads in Best Breeds of Dairy Cattle, and Exhibition Should Attract Unusual Interest — Record Entry For Other Classes.

The New York state fair will have the best live stock show ever seen in this country. This statement, made by members of the state fair commission, might not be readily accepted by persons aware that New York has yet to give a fair of the proportions of some of the western exhibitions were it not explained that New York ranks ahead of western states in the breeding of blooded cattle.

New York has more cattle of the valuable breeds for dairy purposes than any other state. It has come to be regarded as the home of the Holstein-Friesian cattle breeding industry. Since the first of the year the purchase prices of Holstein cattle in the territory within a radius of thirty miles of the state fair grounds, which are just outside the corporate limits of Syracuse, aggregate over $150,000, according to officers of the Holstein-Friesian Cattle Breeders' association. It would appear, therefore, as though the state had about the very best location for its fair grounds, so far as the cattle classes are concerned.

As evidence that New York leads in the breeding of high class dairy cattle it is pointed out that some western states only this year purchased New York herds for experimental farms conducted by the government and found them the best dairy cattle. For the past two years New York's Holstein-Friesian cattle have been in demand in foreign countries. A few months ago a breeding establishment within an hour's ride of Syracuse shipped a herd that had been purchased for the Japanese government. When these facts are considered, the statement of State Fair Commissioner C. A. Wieting, who was formerly commissioner of agriculture, that visitors to the fair will see the largest show of Holsteins ever together at one time at any exhibition in the world, and also the greatest number of "thirty pound cows" ever shown at one time, is not surprising.

Holsteins will not command all the attention. There will be Ayrshires, Jerseys and Guernseys, besides other breeds not as common at dairy farms. The sheep and swine classes are larger than ever in the fair's history.

The entries just compiled by Secretary S. C. Shaver show that the greatest sires of the cattle kingdom will be exhibited. The herd from Moyerdale farm will be headed by King Segis, No. 36,169, the world's greatest sire of the Holstein breed at four years. He is the only sire of the breed with four twenty-pound junior two-year-old daughters. Their names and butter records for seven days follow: Bells Segis, 21.78; Pontiac Duplicate II., 21.10; Brookside Segis Korndyke, 20.98; Netherland Segis, 20.13. Other famous animals in the herd include Prilly, No. 40,082, the greatest producing cow of the breed and having a seven day butter record of 25.20 pounds and a thirty day record of 96.68 pounds; Betty Lyons Netherland, No. 69,247, the only Holstein cow that has five daughters all with records better than twenty-four pounds each; Segis Aggie De Kol Beets, No. 57,416, sired by the great Paul Beets De Kol, sire of eighty-eight officially tested daughters and the only bull of any breed that has sired a thirty pound daughter and has a sire that has sired a thirty pound daughter.

Among the world's records secured by Moyerdale is that held by Grace Fayne II. Homestead, No. 68,828, for butter producing quality at four and five years. The Moyerdale herd will include the four greatest thirty pound record cows of the breed, as follows: Betty Lyons Netherland, Blanche Lyons De Kol, Segis Aggie De Kol Beets and Grace Fayne II. Homestead.

The exhibit of Wing R. Smith from the Lakeland farm of twenty-four registered head of Holsteins is notable, because while the animals have never been shown in competition they are the results of Mr. Smith's careful selection from the best herds of the state. Mr. Smith's herd is headed by the young sire Prince Segis Korndyke. His sire is Sir Korndyke Monar De Kol, the sire of many splendid bulls and cows. Among the cows in this herd is Francsta Hengerveld De Kol, with a record of 32.35 pounds of butter in seven days and 123.19 pounds in thirty days, which, stamps her one of the truly great cows of the breed. Other cows to be shown with her are Hazel Ophelia De Kol, with a twenty-five pound record at three years old; Blanche De Kol Hengerveld, Beauty Rauwerd Hengerveld and Beauty Rauwerd De Kol.

The Stevens brothers and Hastings company will have Maid Mutual De Kol, Susie De Kol Paul, Pontiac Columbo and Pontiac Artis.

Fred Field of Brockton, Mass., will bring his celebrated bull Colonthia Johanna Lad, which cost him $8,000; also De Kol Creamette, the world's champion milk cow, that gave 10,017 pounds of milk in a hundred days and 119.7 in one day, and Aggie Cornucopia Pauline, which was the world's champion butter cow for several years.

These three cows, with seventeen others, will be the most valuable lot of Holstein cattle ever exhibited at any fair in the world.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach, liver, invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Fickleness in Penmanship.

Speaking of check signatures and forgery, a downtown paying teller remarked: "One of the most peculiar points in our business is one little commented by the public. I mean the embarrassment caused by the man whose signature is seldom the same, or nearly so, two weeks in succession.

"This fickleness is not intentional. It is in almost every case temperamental. The man guilty of it is generally nervous and not infrequently is greatly lacking in stability of character. At times you, as a layman, would hardly believe it possible that his signature on two different checks was the work of the same hand.

"Of course we come to know these cases in time, and there are always certain characteristics in a person's handwriting which the expert can detect and which go far to convince. Nevertheless the changeable signature is a nuisance and involves an added peril."—New York Globe.

Truthful Cholly.

"Cholly, have you ever loved before?"

"My dear girl, I will be honest with you. I have been engaged so many times that my ex-fiancees have perfected an organization and adopted a yell."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by E. A. Putnam.

EPICURES STUDY HOTELS.

Then They Go One Place or Another, as Fancy Dictates.

Epicures accustomed to dining in hotels and restaurants study the policy of each fashionable place and readily tell just why they go to one place or avoid another. They have their likes and dislikes, aside from actual eating, regarding the waiters, the music, the ventilation and a hundred and one other things a casual visitor would fail to appreciate.

For instance, at one restaurant only single portions are served for one person. At another, where the cooking is equally good, half portions, nearly or quite as large as the single portions of other places, are served for one person. There was a little dispute at a well known hotel over a mistake in an order of trout and chicken that made a difference of several dollars on a check for a rather simple dinner for two. It was settled "out of court," as it were, and quite agreeably, but hotel managers regret and try to avoid these mistakes, especially when the customer is a regular visitor, for they know he never forgets the details of his eating and is slow to forgive an error.

Another peculiarity of diners is as to the location of tables. Some persons cling to one table and feel aggrieved when they find another in their favorite seat. Restaurant proprietors have tried to understand this peculiarity of their patrons, but have to admit they fail to explain it.—St. Louis Republic.

Quite Clear.

Masquerader (explaining who he is supposed to represent)—I'm that fellow who fought the battle of what do you call it, you know. What's his name says all about him in his great book. You remember, every one took him for the other chap until they found he couldn't be; then they knew he wasn't. Think I look the part?—London Sketch.

Don't be afraid to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. It always cures. For sale by E. A. Putnam.

Olympic Heroes.

Cogitations Suggested by the Return of the Victorious Athletes From England—Baseball and Poetry

AMONG the Olympic athletes to whom the country is now paying tribute is the team composed of John Flanagan and Matt McGrath, hammer throwers. One never can tell which is the best man at the game. During the London Olympiad Flanagan threw the hammer 170 feet 4 inches and won the highest honors for the time being. McGrath was but a few feet behind him. After the games were finished McGrath went over to Ireland and at Dublin established a new world's mark by throwing the sixteen pound hammer 176 feet from a nine foot circle, thus beating his former instructor and winner of Olympic honors.

What did Flanagan then do but go to Queenstown and throw the hammer 181 feet 8 inches, thus breaking all previous records.

Next!

The honors to the returned heroes of the Olympic games, coming, as they do, at the height of the interest in the race for the baseball pennants, suggest the idea that the sport is to Americans a good deal what the games of their time were to the ancient Greeks. One authority indeed goes so far as to assert that baseball more truly reproduces the spirit of the old Greek athletic contests, along with a suggestion of the Roman games, than do the imitative Olympic competitions which have recently been held. The parks where the baseball rooters applaud the achievements of their respective heroes are the coliseums of today, and the ball tossers, catchers and batters are the modern representatives of the gladiators of old. They are the popular idols whom the applause of the bleachers exalts to the gods as they line out the two baggers that bring in the winning runs.

It is mighty sport, this baseball, and the money invested in and produced in connection with it amounts in the aggregate to a very sizable sum. It provides thousands of young men with incomes attained by men in professional life only after years of experience. It supports multitudes of salesmen and factory workers. It gives occupation to hundreds of newspaper writers and artists. Perhaps one of these days it will produce a poet, a real baseball laureate. Who knows? So far the promise in this direction is not flattering. To be sure, the sport has given us such epics as "Casey at the Bat," but still the real Greek classic spirit has scarcely been attained by any versifiers of the game now in sight. There is enough doing in this direction to afford encouragement, however. One day recently when the New York Americans were in luck long enough to wrest a victory from the St. Louis team of the same league a sporting writer mounted his Pegasus and under the inspiration of the baseball muse indicted the following in description of an incident in the game:

JOHN FLANAGAN WINNING OLYMPIC HONORS IN HAMMER THROWING.

Up steps Jones and hits past second.
Howell Beats an infield hit.
Stone, on whom his comrades reckoned
For a hit, must walk a bit.
No one out, and now or never
We must stand and face our fate.
Splendid! Hartzell's weak endeavor
Forces Jonsey at the plate.
Heidrick lifts a foul to Conny,
Which our baseman handles well.
Then comes on the beauteous, bonny
Play which we set out to tell.
Ferris slams a wicked whopper
Which seems headed for the sky.
Delehanty turns a flopper
As he struggles for the fly.
Then the crowd gives way to jeering
As they see the fielder fall,
But they straightway change to cheering
When he ups and cops the ball.

At this point Pegasus bolted, kicked or something, and the bard finished his tale in prose thusly:

"That made our young man a hero, and when because of his injury he was toted off the field by willing hands there was sympathy all through that vast assemblage of 2,500. All that was needed were a little sneaky music and a light effect to make the ascension of Little Eva look like an added starter."

STATE FAIR SYRACUSE
September 14th to 19th
ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit)
Running Races Four-in-Hand Races
Tandem Races

GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE SHOW IN AMERICA
Greater New York's
Mounted Police Drills
Homer Davenport's Arabian Stallions
with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER in the State
Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building
Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows

Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables
POULTRY till you can't think
CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE

FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND
40 Artists 40

Half Fair Excursions on all Roads
Ask your station agent for rates.

Send for Prize List to
S. C. Shaver, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.

"STOKER GEORGE GUELPH."

The Prince of Wales and His Turn at Feeding Furnaces on Shipboard.

The Prince of Wales had a number of novel experiences on his visit to Canada to take part in the Quebec tercentenary and during his cruise across the ocean and return on the "mystery ship," the Indomitable. One of these experiences was his trial of his skill as a stoker in feeding the fires which kept the great ship going on her record trip across the Atlantic. After the future ruler of England had helped stoke the fires he went on deck with a shovel still in his hand, and a photograph was secured of his highness while holding this symbol of honest toil. In the stokehold he wore as stoker's kit a white suit, white headgear and white gloves. His turn as stoker lasted about half an hour.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AS A STOKER.

Wants All To Know—

Roding, Ga., September 12, 1906.
MESSRS. E. C. DE WITT & CO.,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:—Yours of the 6th to hand. In reply will say, most assuredly use my letter in any way you see fit for the benefit of the suffering. I will answer all correspondence as to my own case. I recommend KODOL to all I hear grumbling about their stomachs, and have bought many their first bottle. All that is required is a trial of KODOL. It talks for itself.

Yours very truly,
C. H. CORNELL.

Kodol for Dyspepsia.

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

CONFORMS TO NATIONAL PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW

Digests What You Eat

All Druggists

The Cash Grocery Store offers you the

Choicest Brand of Coffee

To be procured at 25c per pound

It is the "Wise Owl" brand and is put up over the signature of A. L. Warner.

We are offering a choice breakfast bacon for your pleasure.

A new line of all desirable breakfast cereals has just been received—all of the old favorites and many new ones.

